

Wizard 431

Chapter 431: Unpredictable Human Hearts, CityDestroying Battle, Certification Successful! (2)

Either way, Levi had whale lungs, so he could stay in the water for three days and three nights and still be fine.

Not long after, two wizards in black flame-patterned robes appeared on the surface of the sea, floating in the air.

"Hmm? Did he go into the sea? He must be a helper that old woman Lola had invited. He even said that he was here to be certified as a pharmacist. I've long heard that Lola was close to the Gray Tower's Marlene. This person must have been sent by Marlene." Doug sneered in his heart.

Initially, he wasn't sure, but Levi actually left the hotel upon sensing his arrival.

What did this mean? This meant that Levi was up to something.

If the other party had nothing to hide, why would he run?

He must have a guilty conscience!

This was Doug's logic.

In fact, he had no intentions of killing Levi. After all, the latter was an official wizard of the Gray Tower, which had a newly advanced third-circle wizard. In addition to the protection of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council's Act, it was not wise to kill a first-circle wizard.

He just wanted to bring Levi to Lord Claur so that Lord Claur could find out if Levi was a subordinate of the Lush Forest Witch.

It was rumored that the relationship between the Lush Forest Witch and Master of Flames wasn't good. In reality, the two were not just on bad terms. They were already fighting both openly and secretly. They were just short of fighting in front of everyone.

"Forget it. I just need to know that there's something fishy with the other party. I have to inform Lord Claude and make preparations in advance. The arrival of this person means that the Gray Tower might interfere in the upcoming matters. We have to be more vigilant. After all, the other party is also a third-circle wizard organization." Doug's voice rang in his companion's mind.

The other first-circle wizard, Sindert, transmitted his voice, "That's right. Even if this person is really here to be certified as a pharmacist, we have to keep an eye on him at this juncture. Otherwise, it's easy for something to happen. No matter what, being careful will not go wrong."

Although this bay was not big, it was very deep. Doug was a wizard of the Burning Faction, so he didn't master any spells that would allow him to dive into the deep sea. Ordinary diving potions could not help a wizard with a weak physique like him withstand the huge pressure of the Deep Sea. Moreover, the power of the Burning Faction's spells was greatly reduced in the sea, so he definitely could not follow Levi in.

Although his companion, Sindert, was from the Ocean School of Thought, he would be easily ambushed by the other party if he went alone. Therefore, Doug thought for a moment and sneered, "Let's wait for a while. Let him stay in the sea. I don't believe that he won't come out.'

The bay was not big. If Levi appeared on the surface of the sea, he would be detected by Doug and Sindert with their Perception spells. They did not believe that he could stay in there for a day. It would mean that he had already left the harbor.

Then...

The sun rose and the surface of the sea was covered in golden light.

On the ship, Doug and Sindert looked tired.

They had been using their Perception spells for an entire night, but that damned Levi really did not seem to have come out of the Deep Sea...

"Could that person be a mixed-blood of the Sea Clan? Or has he already left? Maybe he has mastered some kind of profound spell to conceal his aura?" Sindert was puzzled.

"Let's go! Don't waste time. That person has probably left," Doug said.

"Aren't we going to wait a little more? Do you want me to go down?" Sindert hesitated for a moment before saying.

Doug thought about it and said, "Forget it, let's not wait anymore. Now that that bitch Lora has found an ally in the Gray Tower, we have to be prepared. Let's not care about him for now. A first-circle wizard can't do anything. We're not worried about him, but the Gray Tower behind him."

"Alright, let's go."

The two first-circle wizards communicated with each other through voice transmission, and then quickly left.

In the Deep Sea, Levi detected that the two had already left the range of his snake tongue.

Still, he was not in a hurry to surface. Instead, he pondered in the dark seabed. 'What did I do? Why are they hostile to me? It's inexplicable.'

Levi felt somewhat wronged. His two-meter-tall body leaned against a huge rock on the seabed. In a fit of anger, he smashed an unknown sea beast that passed by in front of him with a punch.

"This is really too much. I didn't do anything and I was targeted for no reason. Is there still justice? Is there any law? It's all my fault. I'm not strong enough and I'm too kind and approachable. I made those people think that I'm a pushover. Doug, the Hot Wind Harbor Wizard Alliance... You guys really deserve to die."

Levi's heart was in a gloomy mood as he reflected on his recent actions. Then, he gave up on reflecting.

"I'm not the one in the wrong, it's them! I have to figure out what's going on first before deciding if I should continue with the pharmacist certification. The certification can be done at any time, but I only have one life."

Levi stayed in the Deep Sea for another day and waited until the third day when he was supposed to be registered as a pharmacist. He was not in a hurry to get the pharmacist certification because he was not sure about the Lush Forest Witch's stand.

According to Ms. Marlene, although the Lush Forest Witch looked cold, she was kind-hearted. The green elves were also the easiest to interact with among the three major elf races.

But now, Levi was not sure. The people from the Hot Wind Harbor Wizard Alliance were hostile toward him, so he did not dare to get his pharmacist certificate for the time being.

As such, he was not in a hurry to go to Hot Wind City. Instead, he stayed in the sea while sensing the situation in the city..