Chapter 505: Transcendent Perception and Heavenly Wind Heart! (1)

From these two breathing techniques, it could be seen that the Inferno Dragon Family that Hogg belonged to was once a family of knights who had given birth to legendary knights.

However, the East Pole Empire was too far away from the Emerald Kingdom. This legendary knight named Ash Knight was too unfamiliar to Levi.

Levi also remembered that the instruction manual for his Rowling Crystal had mentioned a legendary ninth-circle creature, the Ash Dragon.

"If I'm not wrong, the Infernal Dragon mentioned in the Infernal Dragon breathing technique should be related to the Infernal Dragon. Either the two are the same kind or the Infernal Dragon is a superior existence of the Infernal Dragon."

As the Infernal Dragon breathing technique was on the same level as the Red Lotus Breathing Technique, the Infernal Dragon itself should not be much weaker than the Red Lotus Dragon.

The next day.

Not long after obtaining the Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique and the Gray Destruction Cross Slash, Levi successfully imitated them.

After that, Levi spent a day mastering the Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique and the Gray Destruction Cross Slash.

Gray Destruction Cross Slash: Level 1 (12/1000). Special Effect: High Speed

Power (Level 1)

After confirming that emulate could be cultivated, Levi returned the sole copy of the breathing technique and sword arts inheritance book to Knight Hogg.

Although he could use his strength to take away the original copy and make the knight Hogg angry but not dare to say anything, that would definitely not sit well with him, and there was no need.

In any case, the techniques could also be cultivated using Emulate.

Perhaps Levi could gradually release some clues and rent the breathing techniques of the major families at a high price. After Levi succeeded in emulating, he would return them.

Of course, such a thing had to be done in secret, and it could only be done at different times. Different brokers would do it in his place and contact him individually.

Otherwise, some observant people would definitely suspect why someone was secretly collecting fake copies of the breathing technique inheritance diagrams of the various large families.

The reason given by the collector of the breathing techniques might not be enough to convince them.

In that case, Levi would not have to worry about the breathing technique inheritance diagram anymore.

The secret medicine needed for the Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique was similar to other Dragon Clan breathing techniques. The ambergris was its main ingredient.

In this mortal world, only Earthly Dragon Beasts could produce ambergris.

He couldn't help but mourn for the Earthly Dragon Beast. Perhaps in the mortal world, the Earthly Dragon Beast wasn't the only beast with the Dragon Clan's bloodline.

However, during the long process, the other wild beasts were all killed by the knights' secret medicine. Only the powerful Earthly Dragon Beasts that could give birth to several children survived until now.

Most of the ambergris used to make the secret medicine came from Leviathan and the Crimson Fire Dragon Lizard.

According to his research, an existence like the Inferno Dragon should have fire element affinity. Therefore, Levi finally chose to use the ambergris produced by the Crimson Fire Dragon Lizard to make secret medicine for cultivation.

With his current realm, he might not even need two years to cultivate the Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique from zero to the maximum of level 11.

At that time, wouldn't it be wonderful to mutate and fuse the Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique and the Undying Bird Breathing Technique?

"Now, there's only the most difficult breathing technique left." Levi sighed.

As for the other Gray Destruction Cross Slash, this sword skill was similar to the Golden Cross Slash.

The Golden Cross Slash progressed step by step from Vibration Force to Ripple Force and Revolving Force.

In short, the Golden Cross Slash was a wide-ranging sword technique that sought to maximize the user's strength.

As for the Gray Destruction Cross Slash, there was only one technique for exerting strength, and it was called High Speed Power.

This was a sword technique that pursued the speed of sword skills. In the world of martial arts, only speed was invincible!

When the user could cultivate the power of high speed to the limit and cultivate the Gray Destruction Cross Slash to the maximum.

Then, the power of high speed could transform into the indestructible Gray Destruction Power that could destroy everything!

What was Gray Destruction?

In an instant, countless cross slashes were slashed out, enveloping the target and completely annihilating it, turning it into dust.

Even a tiny speck of dust in the air would be cut into countless pieces by the impenetrable high-speed cross.

In theory, if he was fast enough, he could slash out enough cross slashes.

The Gray Destruction Cross Slash could become a true "Atomic Slash".

Of course, even the creator of the Gray Destruction Cross Slash was far from reaching that realm. It was just a guess.

"What a powerful sword skill. It's not inferior to the Golden Cross Slash at all! It has an extremely high growth limit!"

Similar to the Revolving Force, the latter was theoretically powerful enough. The Revolving Force could penetrate an entire world. If the former had a terrifying speed, the Gray Destruction Power could destroy and turn everything into dust!

Levi embarked on the journey home.

Knight Hogg could not leave the Church of the Dragon God for the time being. The relationship between his family and the Church was complicated, and it was not easy to leave just because he wanted to.

Furthermore, Knight Hogg had a strong belief in the King of Ten Thousand Dragons.

Although Levi did not have faith, he respected the beliefs of others. In this era, faith was innocent.

In the days that followed.

The knight Hogg accepted an investigation from the headquarters of the Church of the Dragon God.

Hogg told the emissary from the headquarters about the Blood Clan who had wreaked havoc in Myriad Dragon City and the results of his investigation.

Due to the contract he had signed with Levi, he had changed his words to avoid exposing Levi's identity.

In fact, from the beginning to the end, Hogg did not know Levi's true identity and appearance..
