Chapter 506: Transcendent Perception and Heavenly Wind Heart! (2)

In the end, in Hogg's words, this matter became a collusion between the head priest and a few Secondary Blood Clan members. They were killed by the members of the Holy Dragon Knights led by Hogg at the cost of their lives.

Regardless of whether the Church believed it or not, there were no other clues at the crime scene.

The power of Hogg's family in the Church was not small, so this matter passed.

Of course, family scandals could not be made public. The Church only silently changed a head priest, and this matter did not leak out.

Otherwise, it would definitely not be beneficial for the Church of the Dragon God to maintain its rule if the majority of the believers knew what the head priest had done.

Chaos among the Blood Clan in various regions was becoming more and more frequent, and the Church of the Dragon God didn't have time to waste on a closed case.

As long as they confirmed that the Blood Clan nest was destroyed, the Church would be at ease.

On Dragon King Mountain.

A half-naked teenager was sitting cross-legged on the majestic dome of the temple at the peak of the mountain.

His body was strong and well-proportioned. His long black hair draped over his shoulders, and his bronze skin emitted a metallic luster. His eyes seemed to be made of gold, and there was an inextinguishable golden flame burning in them.

His name was Dragon.

He was the reincarnated Dragon King saint of this generation.

In the current Church of the Dragon God, other than the four Dragon King Apostles who had been cultivating in seclusion on the Dragon King Mountain for hundreds of years, dragons who were only in their teens were already the strongest.

This was the power of a reincarnated saint. His power came from the King of Ten Thousand Dragons in the astral world. As long as he grew, he could continuously become stronger and finally reach the limit of Strength that this human body could reach. He would help the Church of the Dragon God tide through this calamity and complete his mission perfectly.

"The Blood Clan nest outside Myriad Dragon City isn't an ordinary Secondary Blood Clan nest at all. It's a true Primary Blood Clan nest. No matter what, Hogg is no match for the Primary Blood Clan.

"Someone else killed the Primary Blood Clan. However, who could it be? A legendary knight hidden in this world? Or a random wild wizard passing by?" Dragon muttered to himself.

He didn't blame Hogg. Although he knew that Hogg wasn't telling the truth, Hogg's loyalty was clear to all. His faith was incomparably firm.

He was just curious.

There were not many existences in this world who could kill the Primary Blood

Clan.

"Forget it. As long as it doesn't hinder me, why should I be so conflicted?"

Gods who lived in the astral world were not omnipotent, and they had no way of knowing everything in the human world.

Most of the time, the God of the astral world needed an agent from the lower realm, which was the prayer of the church, to know what was happening in the human world.

A wizard named Sauron once said, "The so-called God is just a wizard who has more knowledge and is closest to the truth."

Therefore, most wizards did not believe in God. Instead, they believed in the knowledge that wizards created themselves.

Without thinking about these trivial matters, the dragon continued to cultivate with his eyes closed. He was bathed in the mountain wind and morning dew. With the world as his blanket, he was not strong enough. Now, he still needed the protection of the four Dragon King Apostles.

When he truly became a saint, he would rule the world again.

He would fight openly and secretly with the six old opponents who had competed or cooperated with him for countless years. He would fight to the end with the transcendent existences who swarmed over and converged here.

He was a dragon.

No matter how the world described dragons, there was one adjective that could not be avoided:

Powerful!

Holy Brilliance Calendar Year 1037, Month of Wheatfield.

Levi rushed back to the Emerald Kingdom.

Along the way, he traveled to several countries and collected some breathing techniques.

Unfortunately, good things like the Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique or the Gray Destruction Cross Slash were never seen again.

Of course, it was not completely fruitless. Levi had at least obtained a shallow-grade breathing technique. Moreover, he had cultivated this breathing technique to the limit during the journey.

This Perception breathing technique was called the Rain Toad Breathing Technique. The Special Effect was also a simple Vibration Perception, far inferior to the Human-Faced Owl.

Therefore, Levi used the Rain Toad Breathing Technique as a material to break the limit. He fused the Human-Faced Owl Breathing Technique and the Heavenly Eagle Breathing Technique and mutated them. After breaking the limit, he cultivated them to the limit.

Levi—

Heavenly Owl Breathing Technique: Level 8 (Maximum). Special Effects: Transcendent Perception, Spider Sensing, Favored By The Night, Heavenly Wind Heart.

The Heavenly Owl Breathing Technique was mutated from the Human-Faced Owl Breathing Technique and the Heavenly Eagle Breathing Technique.

Therefore, the Heavenly Eagle's top-notch vision was also integrated with the Human-Faced Owl's Top Perception.

At this point, Levi's Transcendent Perception was finally born!

[Transcendent Perception: You have extraordinary vision, hearing, and perception of vibrations on the surface of your body. You can investigate everything in the range of your Perception through multiple dimensions and layers of perception.]

Basically, the perception effect after this mutation was similar to what Levi had guessed.

From the initial Vibration Perception to the integration of hearing and vision Perception, it became the current Transcendent Perception.

Levi's perception was increasing exponentially.

Of course, what surprised Levi the most was the other Special Effect.

[Heavenly Wind Heart: The Heavenly Owl is the son of the sky and the wind. You have a portion of Heavenly Owl's talent for wind element affinity. Your speed of cultivating wind element-related spells and Meditation Arts has increased significantly. This Special Effect cannot be upgraded.]

"The effect of this Heavenly Wind Heart should mainly come from the Heavenly Eagle behind the Heavenly Eagle Breathing Technique. In this world, most eagle-type transcendent creatures are favored by the sky and the wind. They are mainly wind element affinity. After fusing and mutating with the Human-Faced Owl breathing technique, I accidentally activated this characteristic.."
