

Wizard 541

Chapter 541: Survival in Chaos, Hundred -Eyed Demon King! (2)

Levi looked at the sky. At this moment, he deeply felt how insignificant he was.

"Strengthen the defensive array of the Black Fire Island and advance to become a Second-Circle Wizard at the same time!"

After Levi returned to the Black Fire Island, he began to refine a new array.

The array he was going to refine this time was not the zero-circle array. He was going to try to refine the Shadowless Maze Array! A real first-circle array.

Holy Brilliance Calendar Year 1039, Month of Beginning.

The fourth year of the Great Expedition.

The Hundred Beast Berserk Witch went to an ancient wizard ruin and broke one of the seals, releasing a terrifying demon that could make the entire Endless Sea tremble.

The high-level demon lord on the 108th level of the Abyss, the Hundred-Eyed Demon King Tidus, was also known as the Destruction Light and the Multi-Eyed Heavenly King.

This was a demon lord whose strength was equivalent to a peak-level

High-level primordial soul wizard, who was also an eighth-circle wizard.

Of course, that was its peak strength. Now, it might have fallen, but its strength was still terrifying.

Tidus was just one of the demon lords from the last invasion of the Abyss civilization into the Wizard World.

In the last invasion war, the wizard civilization paid a painful price to repel the Abyss Army and killed and severely injured dozens of demon lords. Tidus was one of them.

The one who defeated Tidus was the Tower Master of the Star Tower, the Ninth-Circle Wizard, Morsor.

Tidus was different from ordinary demon lords. He might not be particularly strong, but he was extremely difficult to deal with.

The troublesome thing was that Tidus could only be sealed and not killed. This was because of the Hundred-Eyed Demon King's special ability, Immortal. Once he died, his true soul would return to the abyss and be reborn among the beholders in the Abyssal Plane.

In history, this demon lord, who was comparable to the Son of Destiny, had been killed dozens of times by all kinds of experts. In the end, he made a comeback again and again.

Therefore, Mosor chose to use a ninth-circle spell, the Gargamel's Great Seal, to seal Tidus in an ancient wizard ruin. He hoped that through this method, he could permanently trap him in the Endless Sea and prevent him from being reborn.

The Gargamel's Book of Seals was a famous ancient wizard who was extremely good at sealing spells. The fifth-circle Wizard Tool Levi saw was a replica of the Gargamel's Book of Seals, the ninth-circle Divine Soul Artifact of this ancient wizard when he was alive.

After sealing the Hundred-Eyed Demon King, the Star Tower sent people to guard this sealed place to prevent the seal from being unsealed and bringing disaster to the Endless Sea.

However, the Star Tower still underestimated the strength of the Hundred Beast Berserk Witch. She defeated the four high-level wizards guarding the sealed land alone and even used a ninth-circle spell scroll to forcefully tear open the Gargamel's Great Seal and release the Hundred-Eyed Demon King.

All of this was part of the dark wizards' plan.

With the Hundred Beast Berserk Witch's cunningness, it was impossible for him not to see that the Hundred Beast Berserk Witch was using him.

But so what? As long as it could bring destruction, that was enough.

The purpose of the existence of the Abyssal Civilization was destruction and slaughter.

If wizards were a group of self-interested people who would do anything to pursue the truth,

Demons were a group of thugs who were born to destroy the world and pursue extreme violence and killing.

In the Multidimensional Plane, more civilizations had been destroyed by the Abyss than those colonized by wizards.

Destruction was far easier than colonization.

The appearance of the Hundred-Eyed Demon King also meant that in the Endless Sea, there was another chaotic and evil faction in the original dark and righteous wizard camps.

Although this might backfire on the dark wizard, in the eyes of the Hundred Beast Berserk Witch and the others, the benefits outweighed the disadvantages.

Not long after, the ancient wizard ruins where the Hundred-Eyed Demon King was located became a forbidden area of the Endless Sea called the Hundred-Eyed Demon Territory.

Under the corrosion of the demon lord's demonic aura, which was even more terrifying than nuclear radiation, many low-level sea beasts or wizards were contaminated and turned into monsters. They began to spread in all directions with the ancient wizard ruins as the center.

The Star Tower had sent many high-level wizards to exterminate the monster nests. Unfortunately, as the lord of the 108th level of the Abyss, although Tidus was not as strong as he was at his peak, he was not an ordinary high-level wizard.

In the end, these high-level wizards returned in defeat and almost stayed in the demon nest.

The situation outside was getting more chaotic by the day.

At the same time, Area 9 was not much better.

Whale Song Island launched a wizard war against the Sighing Sea Breeze. The Sighing Sea Breeze suffered heavy losses. Sage Mason was severely injured and escaped. The other wizards and apprentice wizards in the wizard tower either died or ran away.

After Sighing Sea Breeze was also attacked, the other wizard organizations formed the Self-Defense Alliance of Area 9, which had arrived late. They gathered all the remaining Strength forces of Area 9 in the Second-Circle Wizard Organization Monsoon Tower.

The Star Tower also took the opportunity to dispatch Riemann, the supervisor of Area 8, to guard the Monsoon Tower and integrate the white wizards of Area 8 and Area 9. They gathered together and were commanded by Riemann.

In this way, the white wizards in Area 9 finally managed to withstand the first few waves of aggressive attacks from the dark wizards.

The situation outside was getting worse and worse. The Black Fire Island was peaceful for the time being.

On the Black Fire Island.

Levi had refined his first first-circle array, the Shadowless Maze Array..