Chapter 579: Aether Stones! Nameless Thousand-faced!

As for wizards, Levi's spiritual power had already reached 56 points.

In the past period of time, he had obtained the formula for the second-circle meditation supplementary potion from Huffman as he wished and officially began the refinement of the meditation supplementary potion.

Now, among the pharmacists under Huffman, there were very few

Second-Circle Pharmacists who were qualified to refine this potion.

Usually, it was personally refined by Third -Circle Pharmacists like Huffman.

Because meditation supplementary potion materials were relatively precious, the military could only hand these materials to more confident wizards to refine. Otherwise, the failure rate would be too high, and the military would feel heartache.

With the military's supply of materials, Levi's Pharmacy experience increased rapidly.

Before long, it was accompanied by level 10 Pharmacy.

Levi's Pharmacy level had already reached the level of a second-circle senior pharmacist, officially surpassing Grimm.

The success rate of the meditation supplementary potion was more than 80%.

This way, other than the potions that he had submitted, Levi could still use one or two of them.

It was completely enough for his daily cultivation.

With a stable channel for meditation supplementary potions, Levi's cultivation speed was guaranteed.

Levi had just advanced to the second-circle a few years ago, but his spiritual force had increased by five points. This speed could not be said to be fast.

From the looks of it, he could become a second-circle senior wizard before Levi turned 60.

Then, before the age of 70, he would reach the limit of a second-circle senior wizard and prepare to advance to the third-circle.

All of this could not be done without the support of the elemental affinity Special Effect brought about by the Knight Breathing Technique.

Levi's theoretical idea of knights and wizards helping each other back then was successfully put into practice, and reality proved that it was practical.

Now, the two paths of knight cultivation and wizard cultivation were progressing in an orderly manner.

The Proficiency of the second-ring spells that he had mastered before was also slowly increasing. This was all painstaking work, so Levi was not in a hurry.

At the same time, Levi also began to look for second-circle defensive spells that were suitable for him as his defensive field.

He now had 60,000 merit points, so he could completely afford to buy a top-notch second -circle defensive spell.

After mastering the second-circle defensive field, Levi planned to start his own experiments on spell synthesis.

If the path of spell synthesis could work, in the future, he would try not to waste money if he could avoid buying spells. He would just use low-level spells and synthesize them.

In the past, Levi never left the city. He stayed at home all day to concoct potions.

Among the Three Swordsmen, Tommen had also successfully advanced to become a second-circle pharmacist and a Second-Circle Wizard. It could be said to be a double blessing.

This also meant that Huffman had another general under him.

Huffman's performance was improving year by year.

The huge reward that originally belonged to him was beyond his reach. This made a supervisor in the Upper Riptide extremely anxious.

In a luxurious mansion in Upper Riptide.

A handsome and tall Third-Circle Wizard in a white robe was walking around his house. As he listened to his subordinate's report, his expression became even uglier.

This was one of the five supervisors of the Tower of Pharmacists, Healing Hands Rex.

"Huffman, this little dwarf, entered the Tower of Pharmacists as an unaffiliated cultivator, but he can actually ride on top of me, Rex. Now, many people in my family are gossiping about me behind my back, saying that I've wasted my family's cultivation and can't even compare to an unaffiliated cultivator."

Rex's wizard family was the Fifth-Circle Wizard family in the inner sea region, the Thunder Dragon Family.

This was a wizard family that was very rare in the Endless Sea. They were mainly from the Lightning School of Thought.

The Thunder Dragon Family had a huge business. At that time, in order to develop the family's status and connections in Riptide City,

This family had paid a considerable price to let their family's fifth-circle expert, Thunder Spear Sorrett, defeat many competitors and enter Riptide City as the deputy commander.

Then, he arranged for Rex to be the supervisor of the Tower of Pharmacists.

Relying on the power and status of supervisor Rex and deputy commander-in-chief.

The Thunder Dragon Family had also made a lot of money and was constantly taking root in the inner ring sea.

But over the years, with the rise of Huffman, Rex's position as the top supervisor of the Tower of Pharmacists had been seriously threatened.

His family was very dissatisfied with his performance over the years, which put a lot of pressure on Rex.

"Lord, there's no need to be angry. The reason why Huffman rose to prominence was purely because of luck. He has accepted several good pharmacists over the years.

Just Grimm and Levi alone had increased Huffman's mission completion target by 8%.

"Especially that Minotaur Levi. He's very talented in Pharmacy and his efficiency is very high. He's now the treasure of Huffman. It looks like he wants Levi to be his successor," an assistant said.

"Of course I know. The problem is, how do we solve it? I sent Old MO to deal with him, but he came back safe and sound. There's still no news of Old Mo. He probably died in his hands. Levi hid his strength. He's definitely not as innocent and honest as he looks!" Rex said.

"Lord, in my opinion, since Levi is not out of the city, if we want to get rid of Levi without anyone knowing, perhaps we can ask Lord Thunder Spear to move his fingers and get rid of a mere Second-Circle Pharmacist. Wouldn't it be easy?" The assistant suggested.

"Do I have to trouble Thunder Spear for such a trivial matter? Do you think I'm not embarrassing enough?" Rex frowned.

"This is also for the benefit of the Thunder Dragon Family. Thunder Spear shouldn't refuse, right?"

"No, the second-in-command of Riptide City is about to be transferred out of the position of commander-in-chief. Next, we have to choose the official positions from the two deputy commanders. If we let Thunder Spear take action at this time, if we don't deal with it properly and expose it to our competitors, our family's efforts will be wasted. This method is not appropriate. We have to think of a solution ourselves," Rex said.

"By the way, I remember that Old MO said that he had a teacher called Nameless Thousand-faced. He was the boss of an assassin organization and claimed that he had enough money to kill even Third-Circle Wizards. He should be quite strong. Take Old Mo's token and ask him for help. I don't believe that he can't deal with a pharmacist." Rex seemed to have remembered something and asked quickly.

"Boss, that Nameless Thousand-faced is very expensive..."

"It's fine. Go and invite him. It's just money. I have plenty of it. If possible, I'd like to hire him as my personal assassin and reach a long-term cooperation to clear some obstacles for me," Rex said.

"Alright, Boss, I'll give it a try. That Nameless Thousand-faced has a strange personality. I'm not sure if I can invite him."

"Just go and do it. If you can't do it, think of another way."

Rex gradually calmed down as he watched his subordinates leave.

When Thunder Spear election was successful, other than the couple who were busy cultivating in seclusion to break through to the seven-circle, the Thunder Dragon Family would be in control of Riptide City..
