Chapter 582: Level 6 Black Devil Blade! Sword Control? (3)

"Lord Rex? Why would he do that?" Levi asked knowingly.

"Because he did the same to me," Huffman recalled the past, but his short body

Exuded a fierce aura, like a little demon in the abyss.

Huffman talked about the past.

Levi could not help but sympathize with Huffman.

That was because Huffman back then was basically the same as him now.

People like them, who had no background, would be schemed against and retaliated against by Rex if they touched his interests.

However, Huffman had successfully endured it. He had also worked hard like Levi and finally became a Third-Circle Pharmacist, obtaining his current status.

"Do you want me to tell the Tower Master about this?" Huffman asked.

"Forget it. Let's not alarm the Tower Master. Besides, I don't have any evidence. It's just a wild guess. The truth might not be what we think. Thank you for your kindness, Lord Huffman," Levi said.

Halfman nodded. "Indeed."

Huffman hesitated for a moment before finally taking out a scroll from his storage bag.

"This is a third-circle spell scroll. It's very precious. I originally made it for my future son, but considering that I don't have a wife yet, I'll let you use it first. You've worked diligently for so many years, so it's worth this Third-Circle spell scroll," Huffman said.

Levi was overjoyed and looked grateful.

"Thank you, Lord Huffman! I'll work harder on Pharmacy!"

He took the scroll respectfully and hurriedly promised.

When he returned home, Levi took out the scroll Huffman had given him and was delighted.

This was a pleasant surprise.

This third-circle spell scroll was so precious that if it was in the Tower of Merit, it would cost tens of thousands of merit points.

Most importantly, spell scrolls were always in short supply at the Merit Shop. They would be exchanged as soon as they were put on the shelves.

After all, this was a weapon that any wizard could use to fight above their level. There were no side effects. For some rich low-level wizards who needed to frequently carry out dangerous missions, this was undoubtedly a life-saving weapon.

Levi had to admit it.

Huffman was too generous today. He was not a qualified capitalist!

It was obvious that Huffman was also panicking.

He was also worried that Levi would really be killed by Rex.

The problem was that even though he knew Rex was playing dirty, Huffman had no countermeasures.

Right now, he could only barely protect himself. He was still far from fighting Rex and the Thunder Dragon Family behind him.

Even if he went to complain, who would believe him and Levi without evidence?

It was even possible that the superior who was supposed to seek justice for you was Rex's man.

If you went to complain, you would be courting death.

This was the stark reality.

Levi was satisfied that Huffman had gone this far.

Such a boss was a qualified boss!

The spell scroll that Huffman gave Levi was an attack spell.

The third-circle spell—Ice Finger!

It could condense a terrifying ice attack. Under the Ice Finger, Second-Circle Wizards basically had a slim chance of survival. Third-Circle Wizards, if they were not prepared, might also be seriously injured.

This was the most powerful spell that Huffman, a Third-Circle Wizard, had

With this third -circle spell scroll, the uneasiness in Levi's heart was somewhat removed.

However, this was not enough.

He was not sure when the enemy would attack him.

He wanted to increase his strength as much as possible before that.

"First, master the second-circle defensive field. Second, cultivate the Golden Snake to level 13 as soon as possible. Third, cultivate the Black Devil Blade liver to level 6."

Levi had thought of these three as the fastest way to improve his strength.

There was no need to mention the defensive field. With an additional layer of defense, Levi would be safer. Stacked Armor Style would never be wrong. As for the Golden Snake and the Black Devil Blade, they were not far from advancing.

These two skills could greatly increase his strength and might even allow him to fight against a Third-Circle Wizard.

Early in the morning.

Levi got up and hurried to the Tower of Merit. He spent 8,000 merit points there in exchange for a top-notch second -circle defensive spell.

Second -circle spell, Earth Spirit Shield.

This was a spell of the Earth School of Thought. Its defense was strong and had the level of a Grade A defense.

And Levi's Underground Fire Dominator.

When Levi cultivated to the limit, his actual defense level should be A+ or even

S.

Once it reached the Grade S standard, it meant that this second-ring spell was almost at the level of a third-circle defensive spell.

After obtaining the spell, Levi began to construct a spell defense model and cultivate it step by step.

Time passed day by day.

In the blink of an eye.

Three months had passed.

Levi realized that the neighbor who was hostile to him had not only not attacked him.

Occasionally, when they brushed past each other, they would even greet him amicably. If not for Spider Sensing, Levi might really have thought that they were good neighbors.

Levi decided to play along. He would stall for as long as he could.

He pretended not to know anything and continued to socialize with his friendly neighbor.

In the dark, they were crazily cultivating spells and breathing techniques.

Through chatting, he also learned that this neighbor's name was Will, and he was a Second-Circle Wizard.

Of course, this was definitely the other party's fake name. Levi did not know who his actual identity was.

Unless he had the ability to lock onto his true identity through his membership number..
