Chapter 604: Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water—Four Elements Combined! Great Fusion! (2)

If he could succeed, even a shallow breathing technique could be cultivated step by step to the final Primordial Ancestor realm.

Every breathing technique, regardless of its quality, represented an evolutionary path.

A thousand breathing techniques could give birth to a thousand Primordial Ancestors.

In this way, Levi would have a true army of primordial creatures.

And he, who had fused the advantages of thousands of breathing techniques to become an ultimate creature, was undoubtedly the supreme leader of these monsters!

The leader of the Twilight Knights, Levi, was also the unquestionable “King of Monsters”!

On this day, outside Levi’s mansion.

An uninvited guest arrived.

He had long sensed who it was through Perception. He got Algerta to open the door.

After Algerta opened the door, he discovered a handsome-looking White Robe Wizard smiling.

"Lord, why are you here again?"

Rex smiled and looked at Levi.

Levi came out to welcome him respectfully. "You must be Lord Rex, right? I've heard a lot about you!"
"That's right," Rex said. "Lord, why are you looking for me?"

"There is something."

Levi's heart skipped a beat. Why was this villain looking for him?

In the guest hall.

Algerta served Levi and Rex tea before leaving silently.

"Mr. Levi, you must be a disciple of a hidden wizard family, right?" Rex asked.

'Why is Lord Rex asking this?' Levi did not answer directly.

"I'm fine. I'm just feeling emotional. Sir Levi is young, but he can achieve such achievements in the path of wizards and the path of Pharmacy. Even as a disciple of the Thunder Dragon Family, I can't do it at your age. I'm inferior."

"You flatter me, Lord Rex. I'm not familiar with you. May I know why you're here?"

"Why don't we get straight to the point? After all, be it Lord or me, we have endless work to do every day," Levi said with a smile.

Levi was not afraid of Rex alone.

After all, he had killed a Third-Circle Wizard before.

Rex's realm might be stronger than the Thousand Faced Knight's, but it shouldn't be much stronger. After all, he was a pharmacist, and he wasn't as good as regular wizards in the study of wizard spells.

"Sir Levi is a straightforward person, so I'll make it short. I admire your Pharmacy skills.

"I've checked. The organization you were in, the Gray Tower, has been unregistered. It's equivalent to extinction.

"And you don't have a family. It must be difficult for you to survive in Riptide City.

"Our Thunder Dragon Family is considered a reputable wizard family in the inner circle. I wonder if you're interested in joining our family and becoming a family pharmacist?"

Rex was used to being arrogant and despotic. In the beginning, he was thinking about how to destroy Levi.

However, from the looks of it, Levi was not weak. He had mobilized Old MO and the Thousand Faced Knight, but they had not killed him.

Since that was the case, if he couldn't win, he would rope him in.

Others couldn't win him over, so they had to fight him again. Rex was the opposite.

This had something to do with his personality since he was young.

A person like him came from a good family. He was born to think that he was superior to others and would not care about others.

Anyone who encountered a problem did not want to solve it but wanted to solve the person who raised the problem.

Now that this path was obstructed, he wanted to think differently.

As soon as Rex finished speaking, another wizard came to Levi's tower.

"Rex, you b*stard, why did you come to my pharmacist's house?" Huffman's short stature exuded a powerful aura that soared into the sky.

Ever since he found out that Rex seemed to be messing with his excellent employees, Huffman would often send people to keep an eye on Levi.

Unexpectedly, Rex did not change his mind and sneaked into his employee's house.

Huffman didn't care about anything else and rushed over.

Rex frowned.

Huffman appeared in the living room.

He looked at Rex and sneered. "Rex, don't think that I don't know what you're thinking. I advise you to focus on the right path. You're a disciple of a big family, yet you keep competing with me in shameful ways."

Rex smiled. He didn't seem excited at all.

"Huffman, my friend, why are you so nervous? It's not like I'm secretly dating your wife.

"Oh... I forgot that you don't have a wife. After all, who would like a halfling?" Rex said sarcastically.

Huffman sneered. "A piece of trash like you can only gain an insignificant sense of existence by humiliating others' background and appearance.

"After all, even with so many resources, you can't compare to a mere halfling like me. I'm proud to be a halfling.

"I won't use spells and potions to forcefully change my appearance. I'm not like you, who was born ugly and old. You still have to use beauty potions to change your face."

Halflings were a humanoid race. They were no different from humans, except that they were a little shorter.

They were similar to the Hobbits of the Wizard World.

"Oh, oh, Huffman, don't be agitated. I mean no harm. I just feel that you always seem to have some prejudice against me," Rex said helplessly.

Huffman sneered and stopped wasting his breath on Rex.

"I'm here to see what kind of person this excellent employee that you value so much is." Rex shrugged, looking harmless..
