Chapter 618: Raging Hellfire Burns My Lotus Body! Time for Revenge! (4)

"I can actually hide my realm?"

Levi looked at the level 3 Hermit Rune and was pleasantly surprised.

The research on the Hermit Rune had begun when he had just advanced to the second-circle.

However, at that time, the Hermit Rune was only at level one.

To him, there was basically no effect, so he had never paid much attention to it.

But now, after the Hermit Rune advanced to level 3, there was finally a qualitative change.

Needless to say, Levi had learned the Hermit (Rune Language) Rune for the sake of concealing his figure and aura.

Hidden realm. Wasn't this the standard for protagonists in novels?

With this skill, many protagonists in novels could pretend to be pigs to eat tigers.

Of course, to Levi, this skill was more useful for him to keep a low profile and cultivate.

After all, if a Child of Chaos cultivated faster in the future, it was inevitable that some people would suspect that they had obtained a huge opportunity or treasure. At that time, there would be trouble.

Therefore, Levi could lower his realm when it was not necessary. When it was needed, he could just show it all.

Levi's Spirit had reached 72 points.

This meant that as long as his spiritual force did not exceed 216 points, none of them could see through Levi's invisibility and realm disguise.

As for Third-Circle Wizards, their spiritual power range was 101 to 200 points!

In other words, unless it was a Fourth-Circle Wizard, it was impossible to see through Levi's Hermit Rune.

"So strong. Unfortunately, level 3 is the maximum."

Levi sighed inwardly.

He solidified the Hermit Rune on his body. Then, he, the clothes on his body, and his aura all disappeared from the wizard tower. He walked to Algerta, who was humming and cooking.

Algerta didn't notice him at all.

With the enhancement of the Hermit Rune, Levi disappeared from the perception of others in all aspects, not only in terms of vision. He was now an invisible person with no sense of existence.

"This ability... I might as well be a thief."

"That's not appropriate. Although I'm not a gentleman, I can't always do sneaky things.

"Any evil will eventually be brought to justice, and I'm no exception. If I do too many bad things, I'll fail.

Levi, you have to work hard to be a good person!"

Levi advised himself.

About five minutes later.

The effect of the Hermit Rune disappeared.

Levi revealed himself.

"The invisibility effect only lasts for five minutes... But most of the time, it's enough.

"Moreover, there are no restrictions on the effect of concealing one's realm. It's normal."

Levi muttered to himself.

"Everything is ready. There's only one chance left."

Levi looked in the direction of Upper Riptide and his heart turned cold.

Now, it was time for the roles to change.

In the blink of an eye, a year passed.

Holy Brilliance Calendar Year 1052, Month of Wheatfield.

Riptide City, Upper Riptide.

Rex's mansion.

Rex, who had always been high and mighty, now looked like he was apologizing.

This was because opposite him was a handsome middle-aged man with a face as sharp as a knife.

This man was wearing a purple lightning wizard robe, and there was a Knight's longsword hanging from his waist.

He stood there as if he was the center of the world.

He was one of the few Fifth-Circle Wizards in Riptide City.

Thunder Spear Sorrett.

The most outstanding genius of the Thunder Dragon Family in the past thousand years. He was a dual-elemental affinity person. Apart from that, he also had a second special talent, Thunder Heart.

In fact, it was this second special talent that allowed Sorrett to advance to the fifth-circle in just 500 years.

However, this big shot was not in a good mood.

The reason was well known.

Sorrett had failed in his competition with the Blue Dragon Lady.

Part of the reason for his failure was because of this disappointing junior, Rex.

"You're useless. You wasted so many resources of the family for nothing. Not only did you not do your job as a pharmacist supervisor well, but you also implicated my election," Sorrett couldn't help but scold.

Rex didn't say a word. His position in the Thunder Dragon Family depended entirely on his father, a Fifth-Circle Wizard.

However, this status was useless to Sorrett, who was also a fifth-circle cultivator.

"If it weren't for the fact that the Blue Dragon Lady found out the things you did, how could I have lost to her? I've been careful for so many years, but I was implicated by a piece of trash like you. I hate you!

"Moreover, it had been many years since you brought profit to the family. "After the unanimous evaluation of the clan, your subsequent support of the clan's resources will all be suspended.

"If it weren't for your father, I could kill you right now."

Sorrett said mercilessly.

"You're on your own. The Thunder Dragon Family doesn't raise cripples."

Rex was left in a daze.

Gan walked out of the house, not even daring to breathe loudly.

"Lord..." he said softly.

"Gan, who do you think I'm working so hard for?

"Isn't it for the Thunder Dragon Family?

"Just because I lost for a moment, they're so heartless?

"All those stupid things I did? Wasn't it for the family? Now it's my fault?

"He couldn't compete against the Blue Dragon Lady, and now he blames me for it.

"Ridiculous. Ridiculous. So this is family."

Rex smiled hideously.

"Am I the one at fault, Gan?"

"Lord, it's not you," Gan hurriedly said.

"I think so too. The family is in the wrong. It's Huffman, it's Levi!" Rex suddenly realized..
