Chapter 631: Long-Armed King Kong! Turmoil in Riptide City! Beasts in the Ancient Forest! (5)

In the end, Emperor Mu had a slight advantage, and Dinos was sent flying, rolling on the ground in a rather embarrassed manner.

"Not bad, it seems both of you have improved."

A voice rang out, and both Dinos and Emperor Mu revealed surprised expressions.

"Sir Levi!"

They saw Levi descending from the sky. His cultivation was still at the second circle, with no apparent difference from the last time. However, the current Levi exuded a more serene and composed aura.

"Let's not talk about it. Don't use your second-circle wizard abilities, just rely on the strength of knights to have a friendly match. Let me see the gap between you, who has broken through the legendary constraints, and me!" Emperor Mu clenched his fists, eager to try.

On the other side, Dinos felt the same way. He knew he wasn't Levi's match, but with Emperor Mu joining, they might have a chance against Levi, who had broken through the legendary constraints.

"Sure, both of you, come at me together."

Levi smiled faintly, not refusing the challenge.

"Are you sure? Both of us together? My Golden Spine Bone has completely fused with me. Even a second-circle wizard might accidentally be broken through by me. Be careful." Emperor Mu warned.

"Bring it on." Levi made a beckoning gesture.

"We won't hold back." Dinos gripped his golden greatsword, and Emperor Mu, with his fists covered in Golden Spine Bone, charged toward Levi.

Levi flexed his muscles. To keep a low profile, he pretended to exert his full strength, probably using only ten percent of his power.

Then, boom!

Levi struck with a palm. Emperor Mu staggered backward, nearly falling.

At the same time, Levi caught Dinos's greatsword strike, clapped the greatsword away, and unleashed the power of Golden Revolving Slash.

Dinos's tiger's mouth cracked, blood streaming out.

Levi directly took the greatsword, flicked his finger, and the greatsword shot towards the wall where Emperor Mu was slammed into.

Emperor Mu's Golden Spine Bone transformed into a bone shield, blocking the greatsword attack. He was sent crashing into the wall of the training ground.

"Cough, cough... You're truly a monster. Is this the strength after breaking through the legendary constraints?" Emperor Mu admired.

"Yes, keep it up."

Levi encouraged.

"Sir Levi, what wind brought you here?" Old Golden Lion walked out of the castle, his face pale.

"Sir Lyon, you don't look too good. Is something wrong?" Levi inquired.

"No worries. Last time, when we joined forces with the Wham Family to attack the Al Hidd Family, that guy Lehman played a trick on me. I got injured, but I've mostly recovered by now. Lehman is injured too, no better than me." Old Golden Lion chuckled.

Levi thought, “Your injuries don’t look like minor wounds; it seems like a severe blow to your spiritual force could cause such injuries.”

"I came to the Yellow Earth Continent for some business and plan to stay in Lion King City for a while," Levi said.

"That’s very welcome," Lyon chuckled.

He was currently lacking a second-circle wizard like Levi.

In reality, Levi also wanted to leverage the strength of the Golden Lion Jostar Family to deal with Lehman.

Relying solely on himself was still somewhat dangerous. However, if he hid within the Golden Lion Jostar Family, during the next battle against the Al Hidd Family, he could seize the opportunity to assassinate Lehman.

After a brief greeting with Old Golden Lion, Levi temporarily left Lion King City and headed to the ancient forest.

With his current strength, he could probably easily penetrate the ancient forest.

It was time to collect those transcendent creatures to avoid unforeseen circumstances.

In the ancient forest, the primeval forest here was dense with towering trees, and occasional roars of terrifying beasts echoed.

This was one of the forbidden areas in the Yellow Earth Continent, where first-circle transcendent creatures often appeared, and even second-circle ones could be occasionally spotted.

At the center of the ancient forest, there was a steep rocky mountain.

Cracks of lightning permeated the dark clouds above the mountain, and lightning struck the summit from time to time.

Under the mountain, some transcendent creatures were gathered, bowing down before a powerful figure bathed in thunder on the mountain's peak.

Among these creatures was a three-horned dragon king, resembling a house-sized beast.

At the mountain's summit, a bipedal flying dragon with wings of wind and thunder danced amid flashes of lightning.

In the distance, beneath a concealed array, a wizard wearing a black robe with freckles on his face, his complexion flushed, was leaning against a robed witch with rose patterns. They watched the beautiful creatures dance in the thunder.

"This is the Wind Thunder Winged Dragon, a rare transcendent creature that combines wind and thunder attributes. Its bloodline is noble, possibly the last of its kind in the Endless Sea. Such a beautiful and miraculous creature."

"No wonder you seem so taciturn. You appear to be an appraiser on the surface, but in reality, you're a researcher specializing in transcendent creatures."

The witch gazed at the male wizard beside her, his captivating eyes reflecting the image of the Wind Thunder Winged Dragon. She was fascinated.

"A dedicated man is truly handsome," she thought.

She loved wizards who were cultured, honest, and appeared weak but had some peculiar hobbies.

Compared to her master, the Flower Knight, who only liked macho men, she appreciated the wizards in the Wizard World who lacked what she considered masculine beauty..
