Chapter 634: Alice's Dream-traversing Ring! Seals Knight!

"Ah, how can I accept this?" Levi's mind stirred.

"My Wizard Tool has been around for quite some time. Back when I was a transcendent animal scholar, I used it. However, after I released those transcendent animals, the Wizard Tool has been idle. I happen to need money now..."

Newt spoke seriously, and then, seemingly out of nowhere, a ring appeared in his hand.

"This is Alice's Somnambulist Ring. It used to be a fifth-circle Wizard Tool, but due to certain reasons, it's now only a fourth-circle Wizard Tool. Alice was my great-grandmother. She was also a transcendent creature scholar and named many transcendent creatures that are well-known today. Unfortunately, she ultimately died at the hands of her beloved transcendent creatures." Newt spoke with complex emotions.

He needed money now to advance to a Fourth-Circle Wizard.

In these turbulent times, this would enable him to stand firm and better protect himself and Rose. His pride prevented him from seeking refuge under Rose and the Sword Flower Tower, and he wanted to rely on himself.

Levi looked at Alice's Ring, and Newt opened a spatial portal, revealing the scenery inside.

Levi gazed at it; this ring was like a mini secret realm with mountains, plains, lakes, forests, and sky.

"This ring possesses a large space with dimensions of five kilometers in length, five kilometers in width, and three kilometers in height. Inside, creatures can soar in the sky, swim in the lakes, and run freely on the ground. Various terrains and forests inside provide diverse environments for transcendent creatures, along with a variety of elemental arrays, allowing creatures with different elemental affinities to thrive."

Levi felt the elemental power inside that was no less than that of the outside world, confirming Newt's words.

It was said that more advanced transcendent creature houses could absorb elemental power from other planes through powerful high-level arrays, nurturing their internal spaces to resemble heavenly realms.

"I wonder, Lord Newt, how much are you selling it for?" Though Levi was tempted, he had to inquire about the price. If it was too high, he needed to save some Aether Stones for his own cultivation.

"Although this ring has dropped to the fourth circle, the actual space is still much larger than Minnie Miaomiao House. So, my asking price is 400,000 Aether Stones," Newt stated his price.

"Four hundred thousand..." Levi quickly calculated in his mind. He thought for a moment and then asked, "Can you tell me why the ring dropped in grade? I need to understand this; otherwise, if it drops to the third circle, paying 400,000 for a third-circle Wizard Tool would be a significant loss."

"Because I couldn't supply the Aether Stones needed for the internal space array of this ring. The inner world of this ring relies on spatial arrays to transform Aether into the elemental powers of Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water, creating a small plane. You can think of it as a low-level legendary mage's semi-plane."

"At first, this spatial array was complete and could draw Aether power from the external world without needing Aether Stones. However, the internal spatial array has deteriorated over the years. Now, the efficiency of drawing external Aether power has greatly decreased, causing the volume of the space to slowly shrink. I can only rely on Aether Stones to compensate, but as an ordinary Third-Circle Wizard, my funds are insufficient to support the consumption of this Wizard Tool. This is indeed a drawback of this spatial Wizard Tool. I don't want to deceive you, and if you don't want to buy it, that's fine," Newt explained.

"So, does that mean if the spatial array is repaired in the future, there's a chance for this Wizard Tool to restore to a fifth-circle grade?" Levi asked.

"That is correct. Moreover, this Wizard Tool itself has growth potential. It was refined by a high-level primordial soul wizard friend of my great-grandmother. If you, in the future, can upgrade the core array inside by injecting more Aether Stones to expand the space, then this Wizard Tool has the potential to become a Soul Artifact. At that time, the space inside might be comparable to some small secret realms. Of course, to upgrade the core array inside, you'll likely need a fifth-circle array wizard or even a sixth-circle one.

Such array wizards are not common in the entire Endless Sea," Newt explained.

Wizard Newt's greatest strength and weakness were both sincerity. He straightforwardly explained the drawbacks of the Wizard Tool to Levi, letting Levi know that he was sincere.

"By investing a thousand Aether Stones into it each year, along with the Aether power drawn by the array itself, you can roughly maintain the current size of the space," Newt said.

"Alright, I'll buy this Wizard Tool, but we need to sign an agreement," Levi said. Newt nodded.

After that, Levi gave 400,000 Aether Stones to Newt. Newt provided Levi with the spell and removed the spiritual force imprint from the ring.

Although he didn't get Minnie Miaomiao House, Levi obtained an even better ring. For Levi, this was an unexpected joy.

Of course, this also meant that Levi's Aether Stone assets were now reduced to only a hundred thousand. However, a hundred thousand was sufficient for his cultivation. After all, the biggest spender, potions, had been mostly covered by Rex. Most of the potions Levi needed for his cultivation no longer required him to spend money.

The immediate priority was to cultivate his breathing technique and establish a comprehensive and recyclable transcendent creature bloodline library for himself.

With this ring, it would greatly benefit Levi's future cultivation. He valued the long-term benefits more than the immediate gains..
