Chapter 641: New Change in the Interface! Scarlet Dragon Breathing Technique! (3)

This power swept through and completely shattered the strange woman's face.

"I'm so hungry..."

This time, the woman completely disappeared.

There was only a gray crystal left on the spot, and the ground was covered in dust.

Levi looked grim.

"The power of Death Ember can restrain the creatures of the Ashen World."

"This creature just now can't communicate normally at all. How can I summon it with this iron coin?"
Levi was depressed.

Levi looked at the crystal core on the ground. His intuition told him that the crystal core was most likely useful, but he did not pick it up.

The Ashen World was filled with strangeness. It was his first time here, so it was better not to bring anything with him.

If not for the fact that Spider Sensing had no danger warning so far, Levi would have left long ago.

He had a feeling that with the power of the Death Ember, he should be able to leave this world at any time.

Levi wandered around Lion King City.

He looked at the Golden Lion Castle.

This majestic building was exactly the same as the one in the real world, except that it was even more dilapidated and aged. It was covered in ashes.

In the castle, there were two burning bonfires. From the position of the bonfires, they seemed to belong to the Old Golden Lion and another third-circle powerhouse in the family.

"These bonfires are the vitality flames of the living beings in the real world.

The stronger one is, the greater their vitality, and the brighter the bonfires."

Levi only looked at the Golden Lion Castle from afar and did not approach it.

When he wanted to approach, his hair stood on end. Spider Sensing had alerted him.

"There's a terrifying existence in the castle. It seems to be near the two bonfires... This world is really strange. Let's quickly try the summoning skill and retreat."

"From the things on me, I should have come to the Ashen World with my physical body, not with my consciousness.

"I wonder if the people from the original world can see me now?" Levi suddenly fell into deep thought.

From the looks of it, all the buildings and dead things in his original world had appeared in the Ashen World.

As for those living beings, they were bonfires or embers that decorated the Ashen World.

Levi remembered that there was a wizard who was about to die next to him.

Now, in his wizard tower, the bonfire seemed to be about to extinguish...

After wandering in the city for an unknown period of time, Levi used the power of the Death Ember to kill many strange existences that were hostile to him. He called them Ashen Monsters.

After his test, among the many methods he had, whether it was spells or ordinary physical attacks, none of them could cause effective damage to these Ashen Monsters. The effects of these attacks were often weak or simply ineffective.

Only the power of the Death Ember Breathing Technique could completely kill these monsters.

An existence that could appear on a coin was indeed extraordinary.

After killing many Ashen Monsters, Levi finally encountered a relatively normal-looking existence in a small village in the suburbs of Lion King City.

It was a swordsman in armor leaning against the windmill alone.

The swordsman's sword was stuck in the side. He rested his chin on his hand and looked ahead, as if he was thinking.

Levi's Spider Sensing was fine, so he asked, "May I know where we are?" The swordsman looked up, his eyes meeting Levi's.

He seemed to have not spoken for a long time. After a moment of silence, he said with slight unfamiliarity, "This is Windmill Village, foreigner."

Levi realized that the other party also had gray eyes.

Could it be that he was also a possessor of the power of Death Ember like him? He had unintentionally come to this Ashen World.

Or was this the Ash Creature mentioned in the Ember Call?

Windmill Village did not seem to exist in the real world.

Of course, there was also a possibility that it had once existed, but it was drowned in the dust of the original world's history and appeared in the Ashen World.

Levi tried to take out an iron coin. At the same time, the power of the Death Ember in his body flowed throughout his body, ready to attack at any time.

Once this person was hostile to him, the power of the Death Ember would erupt and kill him.

So far, other than the dangerous existence of the Golden Lion Castle,

All the Ashen Monsters Levi had encountered were no match for him.

Basically, it could be concluded that the power of the Death Ember had a great restraining effect on the existence of the Ashen World.

"Foreigner, hiring the strongest Gray Swordsman in the Windmill Village. One iron coin is not enough." The swordsman smiled and shook his head, but he did not make a move.

Levi tentatively took out two iron coins.

"Foreigner, don't hide it. How much money do you have? Take it out," the swordsman said with a smile.

Levi hesitated for a moment before taking out two copper coins and two silver coins.

The swordsman nodded and said, "One silver coin for each attack."

At this moment, Levi smiled and asked, "How do I know if you're worth this price?"

What a joke. The vitality of a Third-Circle Wizard could only be synthesized into one silver coin. This thing was not cabbage.

"I see that you're also carrying a sword on your back. I believe you're also a swordsman, right? Why don't the two of us spar? I'll let you know that it's definitely worth it to spend one silver coin to hire the Gray Swordsman Owens of the Windmill Village!"

The swordsman who called himself Owens stood up. His rusty armor made a scraping sound. He seemed to have sat here for a long time, causing his armor to rust.

He pulled out the rusty sword and said..
