

Wizard 65

Chapter 65: Beginner Vibrosensing and Spider Sensing

[Man-Faced Spider Breathing Technique: Level 4 (1/20000). Special Effect:

Beginner Vibrosensing, Spider Sensing.]

"Good heavens, the Man -Faced Spider Breathing Technique also has two Special Effects?"

Levi could not help but be shocked.

He placed his thoughts on the proficiency panel.

[Beginner Vibrosensing: Every hair and inch of your skin will become your eyes. They can capture the subtle vibrations of gases, liquids, and solid objects from all directions. The current sensing range for gases is ten meters. The sensing range for liquids and solid objects will increase accordingly.]

"How powerful! What a heaven-defying ability!"

"This Man-Faced Spider breathing technique should be the most special breathing technique I've seen so far," Levi muttered in shock.

Such an ability was beyond his imagination.

He closed his eyes and placed his hand on the shelter's wall.

The hair on his back stood and brushed against the wall.

In an instant, Levi's mind was filled with various noises.

There was the sound of snow rabbits grazing in the bushes, gophers digging holes and a breeze blowing across the grass.

Boom!

This information entered Levi's mind, allowing him to sense the movements from above without even having to check.

Levi laughed out loud, "This is heaven-defying! This is the true transcendence."

This breathing technique was more precious than all the others he had obtained before, except for the Black Snake Breathing Technique!

This Special Effect is too heaven-defying!

The Red Spider Knight was too weak. She did not have the strength to use this Special Effect.

However, this Special Effect was given to Levi. If he reencountered Iron

Mountain, he could easily predict and use his high speed to dodge Iron Mountain's attack based on the airflow fluctuations caused by his opponent's punches and movements.

"Too powerful! This is amazing! I can't believe this breathing technique belongs to me!"

Levi could not help but slap his thigh.

"Oh right, there's another Special Effect."

Levi continued to look at the second Special Effect.

[Spider Sensing: You have an intuitive sense of danger. This sense can alert you, help you avoid risk, turn misfortune into good luck, and avoid calamities. However, this sense is only general and not accurate. This Special Effect cannot be levelled up, but its accuracy will increase as your strength increases.]

Levi looked at the introduction of Spider- Sense on the interface. "My goodness! Isn't this a superpower?!"

Wasn't this similar to Spiderman's Spider-Sense? Of course, it could be a low-end version.

Even so, Levi was still excited.

The two special effects of the Man-Faced Spider Breathing Technique were the kind he believed to be at the transcendent level, abilities that exceeded the imagination of ordinary people.

Red Spider Knight did not deserve to possess such a powerful breathing technique.

With these two heaven-defying Special Effects, Levi's strength increased drastically.

"As expected, cultivation should be inclusive. All techniques can be learned as long as one is determined!"

Levi was excited.

"Right now, I don't have any more breathing techniques. Next, I can consider auctioning off more bloodline breathing techniques at the Shining Auction. The quality doesn't need to be too high; just the shallow level is enough."

After all, Levi's shallow breathing technique could be mastered in a few months, and he could master several in a year.

As for non-bloodline breathing techniques, Levi did not consider them. They were too expensive and unnecessary. On the contrary, the Bloodline Breathing

Technique, which others thought was useless, was the most suitable.

After upgrading the Man-Faced Spider's Breathing Technique, Levi went to the bear pen to test his moves with the three brothers.

Levi used earplugs to block his ears and a mask for his eyes to lose hearing and vision.

"Come, you three brothers, attack together, but be gentle."

Levi was worried that he would not be familiar with it the first time and be accidentally injured by the three brothers.

Seeing this, Little Fatty, eager to spar with Levi, roared and rushed towards him. He slapped his paws, and the other two brothers attacked Levi from all directions.

Just like that, Levi, who had yielded his sight and hearing, faced the attacks of the three Giant Bears of the Northern Territory, whose skills were comparable to knights.

Levi muttered in his heart, "Left."

Although his vision was dark, he could still sense the attack from the left using the fine hair on the back of his hand and face. He circulated his Frost Wolf Breathing Technique and Siren Breathing Technique to the maximum level and dodged the attack from Little Fatty. Then, his palm, which was covered in black gas, pushed Little Fatty away like Tai Chi.

Little Fatty, who lacked time to brake, crashed into Little White, who was rushing over from the other side. Little White fell to the ground. The two guys were dizzy. They did not imagine their master could beat them up with his eyes closed.

Levi jumped high and dodged Little Gray's attack from behind. He then kicked his butt.

Bump!

Little Gray landed on the ground like a wild goose, sliding forward for some distance.

Levi laughed out loud, "This feels great! "

He stood with his hands behind his back like a martial arts grandmaster.

Opening his arms, the mountain wind blew. He sensed the sound transmitted in the wind and the aura of all things in nature.

Although he could not see, this was the first time he felt so familiar with this world.

After bidding farewell to the three brothers, Levi stretched his muscles.

"Let's continue. The Black Snake Breathing Technique is slightly away from the fifth level. I'll get a rest once I've reached the fifth level."

In the past few months, Levi's cultivation had almost reached the limits of his body. Without the secret medicine, a lot of nutritional support, and Levi's strong willpower, he would have become a lunatic long ago.

A disciplined life was highly fulfilling.

After three assassinations, Levi could not take it anymore.

All he wanted now was to become more powerful and take revenge quickly.

He had to teach the Bird of Death's Voice a lesson.

The Month of Harvest passed quickly. Up until now, the Black Water Valley was peaceful and quiet.

At the end of the month, the doctors also received good news.

Sir Fred, who had been in a coma for several months, woke up.

Levi stopped cultivating and came to Fred's side.

After this severe injury, this knight seemed to have aged even more.

In his early fifties, his black hair had already turned white, his lips were pale, and his vitality was declining even faster than an ordinary knight on the decline.

Even though Levi had bought the sacred medicine from the church and saved Fred's life, he knew that Fred's strength as a mid-level knight was no longer present.

Fred smiled bitterly, "It's good that you're alright, Young Master. It's good that you're okay. Otherwise, I'm afraid I'll be chided by your father when I see him." Fred's rough palm held Levi's big hand, and he could not help but mutter.

"Fred, I'm very well. From now on, you only need to be responsible for recuperating. I hope that one day, you can accompany me to witness the rise of the Black Snake again and make our enemies.... Pay for their sins!"