

Wizard 66

Chapter 66: Type 5 Black Snake and Intermediate Defense

During the year 1007 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar, Month of Northern Wind, Fred was almost able to get down from the ground, which made Levi feel much more at ease.

The incomparably expensive sacred medicine did not go to waste. Sometimes, the church was still relatively reliable and not completely useless.

The possible enemy that Levi had been on guard against had not come for several months.

This made him a little puzzled. Had they already forgotten about him?

For a moment, Levi was a little confused.

On the other side, purchasing the Scarlet Warhorse was also on the agenda now that Fred had recovered.

At the end of the month, Fred's friends also sent over the five Scarlet Warhorses that Levi had bought.

As soon as they arrived, Levi tried to tame them with his Beast Taming Technique, which reached its maximum level.

With the Wild Heart, although he did not share telepathy with them, unlike with the three brothers, he could quite understand why these Scarlet Warhorses were so difficult to tame.

With Levi's current Beast Taming Technique, he used carrot and stick methods to tame a Scarlet Warhorse. Soon after, he successfully tamed the others.

"That's all. It's not too difficult. The curse of the Blood Rage Tribe is just an excuse for incompetent horse trainers."

While Levi had Little Milan and the others prepare the iron needed to forge the horse armor, he also began to purchase more horses.

With the income from the Forging industry and the vast amount of money he had plundered from Knight Bernard's house, it was enough to last Levi for a long time. Now, Black Water Valley was flourishing.

The year 1007 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar, the Month of Winter, had arrived.

The cold wind pierces the bones, bleak and sad.

The enemy Levi had imagined had not arrived, and he did not plan to wait any longer.

He wanted to take the initiative to attack. The reason why he had such confidence was naturally because of the increase in his strength.

That's right, Levi's Black Snake Breathing Technique was at the fifth level.

[Black Snake Breathing Technique: Level 5 (1/30000). Special Effect:

Intermediate Defense]

The Black Snake Breathing Technique was challenging to cultivate. Levi's only excellent breathing technique had finally reached the fifth level, and he achieved an "Intermediate Defense" Special Effect.

Correspondingly, the black gas produced by Levi's Black Snake Seed had already spread from his arms to his head and neck. He estimated that once the Black Snake Breathing Technique reached the sixth level, it should apply to his upper body, similar to Iron Mountain.

However, it was already enough for now. After all, Levi's upper body was protected with heart-protecting plates, chain mail, and leather armor. Unless one was an expert like Iron Mountain, one could not penetrate these defenses and cause severe damage.

With Levi's current "Beginner Speed" and "Beginner Vibrosensing," it would be tough for ordinary knights to attack Levi unless they were knights who specialized in speed.

All in all he it defense. strength _ snepd_ or even a rare attrihlltp like Percentinn

Levi was already far superior to ordinary people.

In this era, there should be no one like him who cultivated so many breathing techniques at the same time, and all of them had been cultivated to the fourth level!

Levi's four-dimensional attributes were not just the combined effect of four different types of low-level knights.

This was a qualitative change!

"Now, if I meet Iron Mountain again, I don't need to use poison or the help of the three brothers. I can easily hammer him to death and crush him! And Iron Mountain's strength was already considered rare in the Bird of Death's Voice.

Besides the Five Shadows of Death, only a few people were stronger than him." "Besides grand knights like the Five Shadows of Death, I'm not afraid of anyone

"Even if a real grand knight were to fight me, with my methods, it's still uncertain who would win. Hold on; that sounds a little too arrogant. Escape is the best strategy when we see a grand knight."

Besides the Black Snake Breathing Technique, Levi's Man-Faced Spider

Breathing Technique and Siren Breathing Technique improved slightly. His Golden Cross Slash had also improved, while his Forging and Pharmacy skills were slowly enhanced. After all, Levi did not have time to waste on the last two life skills lately.

Now that everything was ready and Fred had recovered, Levi did not want to hide in his territory and wait for others to assassinate him.

Why not take the initiative to assassinate others?

As for the target of the assassination, Levi had already thought of it.

The first was the stronghold of the Bird of Death's Voice in Icewind City.

No matter who had commissioned the Bird of Death's Voice, since he had been messing with him repeatedly, he had to be prepared for Levi's revenge.

Apart from the stronghold in Icewind City, there were other strongholds on Iron Mountain's map. However, they were too far from Levi, and many were outside the kingdom. He planned to visit them one by one when he had the chance. The Bird of Death's Voice could experience the feeling of being targeted!

The best way to solve danger was to eliminate the enemies who could threaten his life!

Levi had arranged the matters of the territory. Although Fred could not fight now, it was not a problem for him to maintain order in the region.

He also transferred the control of the three brothers to Fred and ordered them to obey Fred in the next few days. That way, if anything happened in the territory, Fred could activate the three brothers to solve it.

Levi had refined bags of Man-Faced Spider Breath and a small bottle of Man-Faced Spider Tears in the shelter. He also brought a few Man-Faced Spider's Kiss. These poisons could save lives at critical moments. As a result, Levi's Pharmacy skills increased quite a bit.

After making all the necessary preparations, Levi put on the white wolf mask and left the shelter under cover of the night, quietly leaving Black Water Valley.

With Levi's speed, he arrived at the familiar Icewind City in a few days. It was winter, and it was snowing heavily. Many people were frozen to death on the road, but no one collected their corpses. Levi frowned. These people seemed to be refugees.

"Was there a big war somewhere recently?"

Levi had been engrossed in cultivation recently and had no idea what was happening outside. He did not immediately go to the Bird of Death's Voice's stronghold in Icewind City but came to Shining Tavern.

In the middle of the winter, a beautiful woman wore little clothes to attract customers to the tavern.
The gatekeeper looked at the white wolf-masked man and handed him a glass of dark beer.

"Drink this glass of Snow beer.. I hope you have the Snow Knight's courage and travel safely alone!"