Chapter 686: Bug Luminist! (1)

"My tower!"

Clay was furious, smoke practically coming out of his seven orifices.

He was out there fighting with people, only to find out that his home had been stolen.

After calming down, Clay chanted an incantation.

His body split into three.

Transforming into three smaller venomous spheres, one large and two small.

In a moment, these venomous spheres coalesced into three identical clones of Clay.

Innate spell, Venomous Doppelganger!

This was an innate spell Clay had created by combining his Venom Body and the water duplication spell from the Ocean School of Thought.

Relying on the powerful regenerative ability of the venomous microorganisms, he created two identical clones, each with half the strength of the original.

Of course, this inevitably weakened his own strength, but surrounded by attackers, he had no choice.

With the power of the venomous doppelgangers, he was more than capable of dealing with the third-circle wizards from the two rival families.

The enraged Clay had to deal with the body-refining wizard in front of him first.

The flaming sword struck the venomous sphere Clay had transformed into, splitting it in half.

The venomous sphere split, and Clay's laughter echoed from within.

"If that's all you've got, you might as well die."

The venomous sphere quickly approached Levi, transforming into a venomous spear in Levi's hands, its tip gleaming with a cold light.

Clay had mastered the Venom Body to an extraordinary level, capable of transforming into various weapons at will using his spiritual force.

Boom.

As the sky resonated with a loud noise, Levi turned into a blood fog, diffusing in mid-air, his laughter echoing from within.

"Petty tricks."

Clay's eyes emerged from the venomous sphere.

"Interesting. If you're willing to hand over your body-refining techniques, I might give you a painless death later. Otherwise, a myriad of poisons will invade your body, and the suffering will be, tsk, quite exquisite..." Clay was not alarmed but rather delighted.

Being a venomous body-refining wizard himself, he had a profound understanding of the body-refining path.

The wizard in front of him undoubtedly shared the same background.

"Well, that's exactly what I wanted to tell you." The blood fog enveloped the venomous sphere.

"What are you doing?" Clay's shocked voice came from within the venomous sphere.

"Eating you." The blood fog rolled, revealing Levi's ferocious face.

Black venom and blood fog entwined, clashed.

Every crimson particle forming Levi's blood fog body infiltrated the body of the venomous microorganisms.

At the same time, the venomous microorganisms continuously devoured the blood fog.

Within the blood fog, electrical currents occasionally surged, thunder filling the air.

Clay's painful screams echoed from within, "You actually electrocuted me!"

Levi and Clay fought tenaciously, their battle taking place on a microscopic level.

To bystanders, it seemed like a mass of blood fog and a cloud of darkness constantly merging and absorbing each other.

Before long, within the enveloping blood fog, a somewhat diminished venomous cloud struggled to emerge. It transformed into a black streak of light, rapidly moving away from the blood fog.

Clay's somewhat pale face appeared, and his entire countenance seemed to have aged considerably.

That cursed blood fog had nearly drained his stamina.

The blood fog also contained potent toxins, wearing away many of his venomous microorganisms.

Seeing the relentless pursuit of the blood fog, Clay quickly summoned back his two clones, merging them into his main body.

Then his figure began to solidify, transforming into a dark demon crafted from obsidian.

A third-circle defensive field materialized.

The blood fog outside the field was blocked.

The demon chanted an incantation.

Innate spell, Water Screen Prison.

A cage materialized in the heavens and the earth, imprisoning Levi's transformed blood fog within.

The blood fog collided inside but couldn't break through.

Clay breathed a sigh of relief, sneering, "In the end, my skills prevail."

The water ball formed by the Water Screen Prison continuously contracted, compressing the blood fog.

Eventually, within the blood fog, Levi's figure became visible.

He felt the inexhaustible compressive force from all directions within this water sphere.

He seemed like food vacuum-sealed in plastic, the pressure making his bones creak, and blood appeared to seep from his body surface under the high pressure.

"No wonder he's a Dark List powerhouse."

Levi watched the scene without panic.

He sucked in water, rapidly expanding his size. His Bloodline Dharma Body behind him, empowered by the Nine Swords, continuously attacked the cage formed by this innate spell.

Crack, crack.

Before long, under Levi's immense strength, the Water Screen Prison was shattered.

Clay's expression changed slightly. The spell power within him circulated, and the second Water Screen Prison took shape.

However, this time, Levi wouldn't give him another chance.

The Great Black Sky Curtain unfolded and swept directly toward Clay.

Clay dodged, and simultaneously, sharp spikes protruded from the surface of his demon body, seemingly emerging from the water ripples.

Hundreds and thousands of black poisonous spikes shot towards Levi.

Crackling sounds echoed as these spikes were blocked by the Great Black Sky Curtain. Even those that weren't blocked couldn't pierce through Levi's defense.

The giant descended like an overwhelming force, striking towards Clay.

Clay's venomous body transformed into a black giant shield, resisting above his head.

Bang.

The giant shield cracked, dispersing into venom that merged into his body. Levi directly blasted Clay underground, creating a deep crater upon impact..
