Chapter 695: The Dao of Humanity! (3)

"It's really uncomfortable to stay in the capital," Denise muttered to herself.

Ever since she learned that the disappearance of those legendary knights in history might have something to do with the Church, she felt a sense of urgency after she advanced to a legendary knight.

Her goal was to stay away from the Church and find a quiet place to cultivate peacefully.

She gently wiped her precious armor and scimitar.

This was a set of equipment, the Immovable King Armor and the Flying Yaksha Blade.

It was the last masterpiece of the Golden Warhammer Master that she had spent a lot of money to buy at the auction. It was also the masterpiece that she was most proud of in her life!

Although she did not understand the meaning of Immovable King and Flying Yaksha, it didn't matter. The words Golden Warhammer carried a lot of weight. According to unreliable news, Master Golden Warhammer might have already passed away.

After all, 60 years ago, he was already famous in the human world. At that time, he was already a Master. This meant that he was probably around 50 years old when he became famous.

Now that time had passed and he was more than a hundred years old, even a grand knight's life was almost coming to an end.

It had to be known that in this era, due to famine, plague, natural disasters, and man-made disasters, the average lifespan of mortals might be less than 40 years old.

When Denise was traveling around the seven kingdoms, she had once come into contact with a legendary knight of the East Pole Empire, Hogg.

The family of Knight Hogg was once the famous Ash Knight of the East Pole Empire.

From Knight Hogg, she learned something else that shocked her.

Knight Hogg had once received guidance from a peerless expert. It was precisely because of that expert's guidance that he was able to breakthrough to the legendary knight realm.

That expert killed the powerful Primary Blood Clan as easily as slaughtering chickens and dogs.

That expert had already cultivated the path of knights to an unprecedented level.

He had broken the shackles of legendary!

This greatly shocked Denise, who had just advanced to legendary and was quite proud of herself, and further confirmed her guess.

A legendary knight was not the peak of the path of a knight!

Denise asked Knight Hogg how she could find this senior.

Hogg only shook his head in an unfathomable manner and said, "Senior is elusive and never reveals his true form to the world.

"It is impossible for one to meet senior. If fate is on your side, you can naturally meet him.

"However, if you want to find an opportunity to break through the shackles of a legendary knight, my answer is on the sea.

"Follow Storm City and walk forward on the sea to find the Giant Whale. Enter the Devil's Sea. You might gain something there."

Knight Hogg's words were deeply imprinted in Denise's heart.

"The answer is out at sea."

In the mysterious and vast outer sea region, there was an unknown secret hidden there.

Legend had it that due to the convergence of the Heavenly Spheres that was rarely seen in ten thousand years, many creatures from foreign planes, such as the Blood Clan, blue frost, werewolves, and sea monsters caused some disasters on the sea, began to appear.

In the human world where wizards were extinct, these things caused a lot of trouble for the Church of the Seven Nations.

Some Evil God Churches also appeared one after another.

On the Seven Kingdoms Continent, there was the Church of the Moon God, the Death Society, the Werewolf Brotherhood, and so on.

In a city near the outer sea region, a faction called the Holy Snake Guild had also appeared.

It was said that this faction believed in a god from a different plane.

The believers of this god were some Lizardmen and Nagas. They had already infiltrated the outer sea region and caused a lot of panic.

Therefore, Denise might indeed face some risks if she went to the outer sea region.

However, this could not stop her.

"I must find the place that Knight Hogg mentioned, the Dreamland of Knights!" Outside the window, the moon was cold.

Ten years ago, the City Lord of Flower City, Baron Levi, passed his title to his son, Baron Reed, because his life was coming to an end. He traveled alone. Currently, Baron Reed was in the castle, munching on a piece of bloody bread.

The so-called Baron Reed was Andrew.

It was just to prevent the residents of Flower City from being suspicious.

As the war between the dark and righteous wizards broke out, Andrew hadn't mailed a letter to Levi for a long time. He had accumulated a lot of breathing techniques.

Although he could not mail them over, he still helped his master collect breathing techniques in various ways as usual. This had become Andrew's habit. It was hard to change.

The next day.

When Andrew was reading the latest documents as normal, the sheriff rushed over.

"City Lord, a murder happened in the city last night. It's suspected to be caused by dark creatures."

Now that the human world was attacked by unknown monsters, everyone was already used to it.

Be it the Blood Clan, werewolves, undead, Ghouls, etc.

The Church classified these horrifying creatures as dark creatures.

"I'll go take a look."

Andrew's expression was serious.

In the past few years, under his governance, Flower City was one of the cities with the least attacks from the dark creatures in the Peacock Kingdom. Storm City was the same.

However, it did not mean that there were none. Occasionally, some ignorant monsters came to Flower City to cause trouble and were killed by Andrew.

If Andrew couldn't win, he would summon the Blood Knight and Black Knight.

The two of them had both broken through the legendary barrier and were top-level powerhouses hidden in the human world. There was nothing they couldn't solve..
