

Wizard 697

Chapter 697: The Dao of Humanity! (5)

"He's not even fully grown yet. He's causing trouble and eating people in my territory. If he doesn't die, who will?" Andrew said.

"He's still a child. What's wrong with eating a person?" Gill's expression was ferocious as his three-meter-tall werewolf true form appeared. His terrifying King Kong Wolf Claws emitted a cold light.

"Marshall, do you mind if I kill this overconfident Secondary Blood Clan?" Gill asked. He was afraid that this Secondary Blood Clan was Marshall's subordinate, so he had to ask.

"Walter, I don't mind. You can do whatever you want. I still have something on, so I won't accompany you."

Marshall had a bad feeling. A mere Secondary Blood Clan dared to barge in here. He had something to rely on.

Marshall transformed into a bat and quickly left the place.

Boom!

Walter turned into a black afterimage and hit Andrew, sending him flying.

The Snow White Witch and the Black Bone Wizard continued to enjoy themselves.

Not only did they enjoy themselves, but they also used spells from time to time to spice things up. For example, summoning an ignorant skeleton to play a threesome...

Walter alone was enough to deal with a Secondary Blood Clan hothead.

Andrew also revealed his Blood Clan's true form and fought with Walter. The red and black lights collided, and the air billowed.

Andrew retreated strategically as he fought.

Suddenly, the sound of horse hooves could be heard from afar.

"Huh? The Blood Knights are here?" Andrew looked over and saw a handsome silver-scaled white horse approaching on the snow.

On the back of the horse, a female knight in light armor held a scimitar. Five-colored light flowed on the scimitar.

In front of the female knight, there was a young werewolf running wildly.

"Father, save me! Someone wants to kill me!"

The young werewolf shouted.

Gill, who was fighting Andrew, looked at the little werewolf. The female human might was about to catch up to him.

In his rage, he flung Andrew away and leaped high into the air. The light from his King Kong Wolf Claws cut through the night sky.

"Die! t,

He only had seven wolf cubs. He had brought two out to train today, but he did not expect one to die.

His seven wolves turned into six wolves.

If his wife found out, she would definitely not let him babysit in the future.

"Flowing Light Slash!"

The female knight's scimitar flew across the sky, and a pair of illusory five-colored wings spread out on her back.

Five-colored light flowed on the Flying Yaksha's scimitar, turning into a five-colored stream of light.

Boom!

The shockwave from the collision swept out.

Gill flew backward and looked at the female knight with a grave expression.

"Legendary?"

Other than wizards, only legendary knights could withstand his attack.

"Human, don't force me."

Gill said coldly as a black aura wrapped around the werewolf's true form.

Unexpectedly, the female knight opposite him did not say a word and directly rushed over with her war horse.

The five-colored saber beam collided with King Kong Wolf Claws.

Sparks flew everywhere.

"Roar!"

The wolf fur on Gill's body turned into steel needles that scattered in all directions.

Ping!

Andrew thought that the Blood Knights had arrived.

Unexpectedly, it was a legendary Imight whom he did not know.

Werewolf Gill became more and more courageous as the battle progressed. The little werewolf hid at the side, and there was still human flesh at the corner of his mouth as he smiled cruelly.

"Father, don't beat her to death. I want to enjoy her beautiful body first before eating her."

On the other side.

It was as if he did not expect that the battle outside had not ended after so long.

The Black Bone Wizard, the Snow White Witch, and a pale male noble walked out.

These three were the strongest people in this group other than Gill.

The pale male aristocrat was a ghoul, and this mansion was also his lair.

Ghouls were also dark creatures from other dimensions. Now that the Dark Wave had revived, they were gradually waking up.

"Gill, do you need our help?" The ghoul noble sneered.

"Get lost!" Gill roared. It was a great humiliation for him to be suppressed by a legendary knight.

The ghoul shrugged and continued watching the show.

The Black Bone Wizard hugged the Snow White Witch.

"That was a wonderful feeling." "Yeah, it's just too short."

"Do you mean the duration? Or my length?"

"Both. "

"Ahem, let me capture this Secondary Blood Clan. It's not bad to be my wizard slave."

The Black Bone Wizard stopped looking for trouble and chuckled.

He chanted the Death Sect spell to summon the skeletons.

The black door opened, and skeleton warriors in strange clothes crawled out, emitting a sinister cold aura.

"Go, take him down."

The Black Bone Wizard said casually.

Andrew's expression changed slightly, and he quickly retreated.

"Human knight over there, retreat first," Andrew shouted.

The knight Denise looked at Andrew. She didn't expect a Blood Clan to care about her.

From the looks of it, that Blood Clan was also from the human camp. This was strange.

However, she also knew that if she continued to fight, the odds would be against her.

How could she have thought that she would chase a werewolf to the monster's nest?

She shouted, and her five-colored wings emitted bursts of five-colored divine light, forcing Werewolf Gill back.

The strange horse under her also quickly retreated. Her teacher in the distance also came to receive her.

"Denise, don't find trouble like this next time. You can't kill all the dark creatures. Your life is more important," the teacher said.

"I know, Teacher. But I saw a little girl being grabbed and eaten by an ugly werewolf. If I don't do anything, my conscience won't be clear." Denise was a little helpless..