Chapter 705: Legendary Wizard Tool (4)

From the looks of it, it had been some time. "Sigh, this market is gone," Levi lamented. "Forget it, let's go to the next one."

Levi had no choice but to leave.

He felt more and more that the wizard civilization might usher in a new era after this long war.

Holy Brilliance Calendar Year 1076, Month of Harvest.

Black Pearl Island.

This place was famous for producing a transcendent creature called the Black Pearl Shell.

The Black Pearl Shell could be used to make some Wizard Tool, while the Black Pearl was used as an ingredient to make potions.

Therefore, some nomadic wizards gathered here early on to find Black Pearl Shells in the nearby bottomless abyss to sell for money.

As time passed, the Black Pearl Market was formed.

Of course, with overfishing, the Black Pearl Shells were almost extinct now.

Speaking of which, one of the main ingredients of Levi's third-circle meditation supplementary potion was the black pearl.

Levi put away the Flying Shark as he approached Black Pearl Island.

Where there were many people, one would not show off their wealth. Although this Flying Shark was a standard airship, it was not something ordinary wizards could afford.

"Low profile."

Levi did not hide his cultivation level. A Third-Circle Wizard was neither high nor low in the inner sea region.

If it was revealed, at the very least, he could avoid being scammed by some small fries.

In the sea near Black Pearl Island, wizards flew around from time to time, which made Levi overjoyed.

It seemed that this wizard market had not been destroyed by the dark wizards.

Levi's arrival did not attract anyone's attention.

Not long after, Levi landed on the island. It wasn't that he didn't want to fly.

Instead, he realized that after stepping onto the island, there seemed to be a no-flying array here that did not allow him to fly. It was very strenuous for him to fly.

"Black Pearl Wizard Market."

Levi studied the sign in front of him.

The entire wizard market was under a dome that was flowing with water.

"A large-scale array. Judging from the energy it emits, it should be at the fourth-circle level... This market is not small."

With an array, it meant that wizards could not enter and exit as they pleased. They had to enter and exit at the entrance of the array.

There were two wizards guarding the entrance. They were both Second-Circle Wizards.

"Senior, you need to show your identity token to enter the market. If you don't have a token, you can spend 300 Aether Stones. Our market can help you arrange it," a Second-Circle Wizard said.

Third-Circle Wizards were considered strong in the Black Pearl Wizard Market, so they naturally had a good attitude.

"Can't I use my membership card?" Levi asked.

The wizard guarding the door smiled bitterly and shook his head. "The membership card is already in the past. We need an identity token now. This is the rule above. I hope senior can understand."

"I am a nomadic wizard who lives in seclusion in the outer sea region. I am new here and indeed do not have a token. I will have to trouble the two of you."

Levi took out 300 Aether Stones and registered his information with the wizard guarding the door. He also promised on the contract slate that the information could not be faked, or his soul would dissipate.

Levi naturally had nothing to fake. The information he gave was all true.

However, on the official side, he was dead. He did not know how this place would be dealt with.

He was perturbed.

Not long after, the wizard guarding the door came over with a smile.

"Senior, this is your identity token. In the future, this will be your identification card for entering and leaving the Black Pearl Wizard Market.

Please keep it well."

"Can I only enter and exit the Black Pearl Wizard Market? What about the other bazaars?" Levi asked.

"You'll need to specially set up new identity tokens at the other markets. According to the rules, identity tokens can't be used across the board.

"Every market and organization needs a specific identity token and is responsible for the identity tokens they give out.

"If there are dark wizards among them, wizard organizations or markets will also have to bear joint responsibility. That's why we asked you to register and swear a poison oath," the wizard guarding the door said helplessly.

"Thank you for telling me." Levi put away the identity token and the grand array opened in front of him. Then, he stepped inside and entered the grand array. Instantly, it became lively.

There were all kinds of sounds of hawking, chatting, and fighting in the arena.

"Just collecting the fees to apply for the identity token will make the leaders of these markets or organizations dizzy. There's no justice."

Levi sighed in his heart.

Of course, it was understandable. Maintaining the operation of the market also required a fee. This grand array was constantly consuming Aether Stones.

It was only natural for them to charge some fees.

The Black Pearl Wizard Market was very big. Levi looked over and saw a small coastal city that had white as its main color.

Surrounding the island were circles of wizard towers.

This small city must be the slum of mortals and low-level wizards in the market.

As for those wizard towers, they were the residences of higher-ranked wizards.

Levi wandered aimlessly through the Black Pearl Market.

He planned to take a look at the Black Pearl Market first. If the cultivation resources here were not bad, he would temporarily settle down here and seek a better place to go in the future.

"Senior, you're new here, right? Do you need a guide? One Aether Stone, I guarantee you'll be satisfied." Suddenly, a young and sweet voice sounded from behind Levi.

A plain-looking witch said with a smile. She had a good figure and Levi couldn't help but take a second look at her and almost underestimated her.

"Sure, show me around this place," Levi said calmly..
