Chapter 734: Ancient Saint! (3)

However, for the outer sea region where the faith of the Seven Gods Church could not radiate, the titles were quite uniform.

The Forsaken Land of the God.

It meant that it was a barren land abandoned by the gods. There were dangers everywhere, and there was no future. Darkness enveloped it, and it was filled with ominousness.

In the early era of antiquity, the book “Nora’s Geography” was left behind by the ancient Geography Master Wegener.

He called the earliest continent the Nora Continent, which was also known as the “Land of Man” and “Land of Fertility”.

Wei Ge Na also obtained another term from a native who was isolated from the world. Those natives called this continent the “Ancient Pan Continent”!

Ancient Pan.

In the local language, it meant “ancient, primitive, chaotic, and open”.

In short, from the knowledge of the Wizard World, the human world in the early ancient times was far larger than the human world Levi had seen.

However, with the outbreak of the ancient war and the pressure of the gods,

Sauron, who had already advanced to legendary, led the wizard civilization and engaged in a protracted war with the angels of the Seven Gods.

In this war, the legendary forbidden technique and the power of the Seven Gods were used for a long time.

The continental plates began to become unstable. In the end, after the earth-shattering battle that almost reconstructed Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water, the continent fell apart and continued to disintegrate.

And the appearance of the sub-dimensional portal node was very likely related to that battle of gods.

In short, the elemental power of the human world was constantly thinning, but the sub-dimensional portal was constantly expanding on its original foundation. Gradually, it relied on the human world to form its own ecological layout and also became a paradise for sorcerers.

The sorcerer civilization, which was no longer in conflict with the gods, quickly conquered the sub-dimensional portal and became the ruler of this place after conquering natives like the Sea Clan.

Furthermore, they relied on this to explore other planes and become a new civilization that was comparable to some of the older and more powerful civilizations in multiple planes.

The Seven Kingdoms Continent in the human world became the last remaining land of the Seven Gods.

The Seven Gods and wizards did not interfere with each other and did not interact with each other until they died of old age. It was considered peaceful.

Thinking about it, it was normal. The human world and the sub-dimensional portal were two dimensions of a big ball.

The subspace was the sphere outside. Inside, there was a bubble-like Realm of the Unbelievers.

These Realm of the Unbelievers might only be the size of a secret realm, and the area might be similar to the territory of a lord in the human world.

The largest Realm of the Unbelievers was the Endless Sea. From the current detection of the Wizard World, the size of the Endless Sea should be equivalent to the sum of the Realm of the Unbelievers of the other large sects. It was countless times larger than the Seven Kingdoms Continent.

However, because most of them were oceans and there were very few landmasses, the area that could be used for wizards' cultivation was relatively small.

In fact, Levi guessed that the sub-dimensional portal should be an extension of the human world or a place where the projection was magnified. This was because he realized that every time he teleported to the human world from the Endless Sea, he would appear on the sea.

Did this mean that the Endless Sea was actually an extension or reflection of the overseas land of the human world?

The area of the outer sea region was much larger than the Seven Kingdoms Continent. No one knew where the border of the outer sea region was.

The Endless Sea was also much larger than the other Realm of the Unbelievers.

Was all of this a coincidence?

Perhaps, in the ancient era before the appearance of wizards, before the appearance of the Seven Gods' faith,

The so-called human world and the sub-dimensional portal were originally one. However, for some reason, these two dimensions began to separate. Some rose, and some sank.

This part of history had long been buried in the endless river of time.

Perhaps it could only be seen in the myths and legends of some ancient races.

"I wonder if the Sea Clan knows this part of history? The Sea Clan existed before the wizards descended on the Endless Sea. They should have lived there since ancient times. It's also possible that they're an ancient race from ancient times."

Levi pondered.

If there was a chance, Levi wanted to explore the borders of the outer sea region and see if there were other isolated continents and other civilizations on the other side of the sea.

At this moment.

Accompanied by rumbling waves, Bo Gang and Tyrant II each brought a group of struggling Lizardmen and Nagas to the island where Levi lived.

These Lizardmen were all beaten up and covered in wounds. At this moment, they looked at the middle-aged man sitting cross-legged on the huge rock in front of them in fear.

The tall Lizardman chief prostrated himself on the ground and placed his staff on the ground.

"Esteemed Ancient Saint Lord, we have no intention of disturbing you. We are only offering sacrifices to the Lord Holy Snake. We didn't know that you were sleeping in this volcano."

The chief used the language of the human world.

Levi stared at the chief, who did not even dare to breathe.

"The Dark Wave's resurgence has intensified. Even the Lizardmen have come out," Levi muttered in his heart.

Franken's monster manual also had an introduction to the Lizardmen.

This was a race that was widely distributed across many planes. Together with the Nagas, they were known as "crawlers".

It was said that this race all believed in a supreme existence called the Holy Snake. It was said that it was a huge snake that surrounded the entire plane. It was a little like the Black Snake with a Candle, the family emblem of the Levi family. No one knew what the relationship between the two was..
