Chapter 746: Mortal Barrier! (5)

This was a powerful divine bird that was as famous as the Undying Bird. It had unparalleled speed. If the Jade Dragon was the Multi-element Green Light, then the Aurora Bird was the Eternal Aurora.

It was said that when the Aurora Bird used its full strength, even that light could only follow behind it.

At this moment, a white light suddenly lit up around Elsa. She was almost one with the vast snow mountain. Her body emitted a sparkling white light before disappearing without a trace.

One of the most mystical aspects of the Aurora Bird Breathing Technique was invisibility.

Immediately after, a snow thread suddenly came from the snow in front of them.

"Invisibility? What a petty trick."

The bald wizard's eyes flickered. This was a cantrip that could see through common low-level invisibility spells.

However, the bald wizard was shocked to discover that his Spell Eye was actually unable to see any traces of the other party.

"Hmph, with the snow thread, I can still find your tracks, unless you can step on the snow without leaving a trace."

The bald wizard snorted.

He smashed his fist in the direction of the snow thread.

However, he realized that he had missed her.

"The speed of your body tempering technique is too slow."

A cold female voice came from behind. Then, a spear flashed with white light and pierced through the air towards the bald wizard. Ice crystal armor condensed behind the bald wizard.

"Extreme Ice, go!"

The power of the Evernight Spear was concentrated at one point, relying on its terrifying speed and penetrating power.

Crack!

The ice armor shattered.

The bald wizard cried out in pain.

Splat! Blood flowed out.

"You actually broke my Ice Armor?"

The bald wizard's expression was ferocious.

In the next moment, more and more snow threads appeared around him.

There seemed to be many Elsas running around.

It made it impossible for the bald wizard to tell where the real Elsa was.

"Ice Light Slash!"

Accompanied by a gorgeous beam of light,

The bald wizard's head had already fallen to the ground.

The next moment, his corpse disappeared from the spot.

Taking advantage of the chaos, a figure rose into the air and quickly left the battlefield.

At night.

Somewhere in the Silver Dragon Snow Mountain, in a deep crack in the ice cave.

Elsa leaned against the ice wall, panting.

"Using the Life Seed at a high burden consumes too much of my stamina."

She frowned slightly. At her heart, a beautiful white divine bird was quietly lying dormant. It looked as tired as her.

"Unknowingly, I've been in the Wizard World for so long, but I'm still a First-Circle Wizard. Sigh..."

Elsa ate food and drank potions to replenish her strength.

She took out the bald wizard's storage bag and checked it.

"There are actually 2,000 Aether Stones... This is great. I can buy some more meditation supplementary potions. It's enough for me to cultivate for some time and strive to break through to a senior first-circle wizard as soon as possible.

"Eh, what is this? Ice... body tempering technique?"

Elsa looked at the blue slate in her hand, which was emitting a cold aura.

She took a closer look. This was not a slate, but some kind of solid ice that could not melt. There was a powerful body-tempering technique recorded on it.

Ice Body Tempering Technique, by Frost Faction wizard, Ice Fist Wizard Mellon.

After reading this body tempering technique, Elsa looked rather excited.

"No wonder that baldie's body is as strong as a legendary knight. He's a rare body-refining wizard. My Aurora Breathing Technique focuses on speed, causing my physique, defense, and strength to be relatively weak.

"If I have this body tempering technique, my body's attributes will be even more comprehensive, especially my defense.

"Coupled with the spells of the School of Ice, my strength will soon be comparable to the top senior first-circle wizards.

"It's a pity that there's no other way after the legendary level. Otherwise, the Aurora Breathing Technique would be very promising. When my wizard level advances to the second -circle, my breathing technique will be dispensable."

Elsa sighed. This was the predicament of the path of knights.

The next day.

Elsa, who had recuperated, walked towards the White Bear Tower.

In the distance, she saw that half of a white steeple had already been broken. Broken walls and ruins were scattered all over.

"Teacher!"

Elsa arrived at the empty White Bear Tower.

There were broken corpses everywhere, like broken ice sculpture parts.

These were all wizard corpses that had been frozen by powerful ice spells and then smashed to pieces.

"Senior sister..." Elsa looked at the cracked witch's head in front of her. This was the senior who had brought Elsa to the Wizard World back then.

"Polar Cave!"

Anger gathered in Elsa's heart.

She knew that the outcome of the battle between the White Bear Tower and the Polar Cave had been decided.

Her organization had been destroyed.

The inheritance of the organization, including the storage bags on the dead.

Even the herb garden in front of the wizard tower that was planted with ice-type medicinal herbs was empty.

This was the war between wizards, cruel and bloody.

Elsa did not find her teacher's corpse. He must have been completely destroyed or captured.

"This is not a place to stay for long. I shall leave first. Teacher, senior sister, I will avenge you."

Elsa swore in her heart as her figure disappeared into the vast snowfield and mountain range.

Her companions had already passed away. She was the only one left on the road..
