

Wizard 748

Chapter 748: Level 14! (2)

"Lord saint, you're wrong. The Seven Gods live in the astral world and are also trapped in the astral world. The next era will be extraordinary. I'm sure you know that. Let's not talk about anything else. Just look at the blue frost in your Evernight Kingdom. It's not like you haven't solved it yet, right?" The saint smiled and said.

"Are you mocking me?" Caroline's eyes were cold. Everything in the room instantly froze and turned into frost.

The saint's body shone with milky white power, resisting the power of ice.

"I'm not mocking you, Lord Saint. I'm just stating the facts. Our Church of the Seven Gods is facing a serious crisis. Only by joining forces can we deal with the next enemy. After we eliminate all the enemies, the seven families will compete for Nora's position as the master with our own abilities," the saint said solemnly.

Saint Caroline was silent for a moment. She gently played with her silver hair.

"I'll think about it," she said.

The saint left in satisfaction.

He had been entrusted by Saint Ye Lin to rope in the other Churches and face the upcoming crisis together. Needless to say, the Church of Earth had always been on the same side as the Heavenly Father and the Mother of Earth.

As a result, in many legends, these two were a couple.

Caroline looked at the saints who disappeared and pondered.

Currently, the saints of the seven major churches had all descended, although the seven saints had not fought with each other so far.

But everyone knew very well that the saint of the Church of Storm was currently the strongest.

In other words, the Saint Groudon.

Generally speaking, the strength of a saint was related to the god they represented.

Among the Seven Gods, the Lord of Storm was currently in the limelight. It could be seen from his title. After all, he controlled three "God Authorities" at the same time: Wind, Thunder, and Ocean.

With that person's personality, there was a high chance that he would not agree to work with Ye Lin.

After all, the relationship between the Heavenly Father and the Lord of Storm was rather ordinary.

However, just as Ye Lin had said, the Church would no longer be the only protagonist of the Nora plane in the coming era.

"The Multidimensional Plane, the wizards, and those existences in the Forsaken Land of the God."

Currently, the strongest saint, Groudon, could already suppress all enemies in the world after decades of growth. However, according to the grading standards of wizards, he was only at level 5.

Any high-level wizard organization in the wizard civilization could destroy him.

As for the other saints, most of them were only at level 4.

If a saint wanted to grow up completely and truly become the representative of the gods in the human world, it would also take time.

This was why the gods had begun to plan in the early stages of the Dark Wave.

However, these were not what Saint Caroline was most concerned about.

She just wanted to find her mother.

The former Queen of the Kingdom of Evernight, Elsa.

Although she was the saint of the Snow Goddess, the personality that belonged to her in her body was still there, and this personality was still the dominant one.

She had never seen her mother since she was young. She knew that her mother had left her because of the Church.

Therefore, her attitude towards those old women in the Church was not very good.

"Mother should have gone to the Wizard World. I can vaguely sense that Mother is still alive," Caroline muttered.

Molten Kingdom.

Located in the southernmost part of the Seven Kingdoms Continent, it was hot and dry all year round. The hot wind swept through everything, making people unable to raise their spirits.

Eternal Fire was the only god in this kingdom.

Legend had it that the Eternal Fire was an inextinguishable flame.

According to the first chapter of Eternal Genesis, "Before the universe was born, the first light was born in the endless Land of Darkness. This light came from the original fire, which was also the Eternal Fire."

Therefore, the Eternal Church firmly believed that the Eternal Fire was the oldest god in the astral world.

He had witnessed the rise and fall of the ancient gods and the evolution and change of many civilizations.

The legendary Undying Bird was a Mythical Creature born from the Eternal Fire. Therefore, it inherited a portion of the Eternal Fire's divinity and had the characteristic of immortality.

The headquarters of the Church of Eternity was located at the end of Skyfire Avenue in the Holy City of the Molten Kingdom.

A majestic red church stood there. There was an endless stream of believers in red robes who came to worship the Eternal Fire.

One day, a handsome young nobleman arrived at Skyfire Avenue. He wore a hat and stopped by the side of the road. After a moment's observation, he found an alley and entered.

At the end of the alley, there was a dilapidated mansion. As the door slowly opened, an old man appeared at the door.

"Earl Johnson, you're finally here," the old man said. "Let's go in and talk." The young noble said calmly.

In a quiet room in the mansion.

"Although the plague has been resolved, our mission has been completed. The Church of Holy Light has suffered heavy losses this time. You should be satisfied, right?" the young noble said.

"Have you investigated the background of that Miracle Doctor Watson?" the head priest Elkeson asked.

"It should be a wizard. As for who he is, we're still investigating. Every time he appears, the place he appears is very random, and no one has seen his true appearance. I guess he should be a wizard from a city in the south of the Peacock Kingdom. He might be a famous Flower Knight in the history of the Emerald Kingdom," the young noble said..
