

Wizard 776

Chapter 776: The Witch's Family (3)

Levi calculated that if he bought the finished product from the Thunder Dragon Family, the cost would be ten times higher than the cost of refining it himself!

Even after deducting the cost of labor and time, the Thunder Dragon Family was still making huge profits.

"They're not giving ordinary wizards a way out. They're forcing everyone to buy their potions."

Helpless, Levi left indignantly.

He swore that when he had the strength, he would definitely think of a way to destroy the Thunder Dragon Family. They were simply a tumor in the Wizard World, even more hateful than the dark wizards.

"Now, I can only head to the Star Sea."

The higher he went, the more Levi could feel how serious the problem of resource monopoly and uneven distribution in the Wizard World was.

It was not without reason for the dark wizards to start a war.

Under the fixed structure of the Wizard World, those with benefits monopolized everything, and it was difficult for ordinary wizards to climb up.

The giant ship left behind by Sauron had already decayed.

All of this needed to be changed!

Blood and sacrifice were inevitable.

"Sigh..."

All the unwillingness turned into a sigh.

Levi, who had run into obstacles everywhere, finally arrived at the Star Sea.

Which was also the Sea of Six Towers.

The current six towers were the Seven Waters Steeple, the Witch's Family, the Ocean Abyss Alliance, the Letney Wizard Family, Lilith's Cabin, and the Hurricane Steeple.

The Seven Waters Steeple was famous for building ships, the Witch's Family only accepted witches and was good at pharmacy, the Ocean Abyss Alliance was said to have many masters of the Sea Clan's bloodline and could tame sea beasts, and Lilith's Cabin was relatively ordinary and had no special features.

The four above were basically all from the Ocean Faction.

As for the Hurricane Steeple and the Letney Wizard Family, one was from the Storm Faction and the other was from the Lightning Faction. The latter was the only organization in the form of a wizard family among the six towers. It was said that it had a very long history and had once produced a demigod-level Grand Wizard.

Other than these six towers, there were many other large and small wizard organizations in the Star Sea.

In fact, Levi's original intention was not to enter the Star Sea so early.

This was the playground of the strong. He was only a mere third-circle wizard. He could barely contend with a fourth-circle wizard by relying on his path of knights.

In the Star Sea, although he was not at the bottom, he was not considered high-level either.

However, he could tell that the resources he needed now could only be found here.

It would be a waste of time to find it in the inner sea region.

In the boundless sea, Levi sat on the Flying Shark, feeling the rich elemental energy.

"The elemental energy in the Star Sea is several times that of the outer sea region. It's indeed a holy land for cultivation." He could not help but praise.

Below him, there were islands arranged like stars.

These were the private islands of the wizards who lived in the Star Sea. They were not cheap. Basically, the people who lived on these islands were Intermediate Wizards or even primordial soul wizards.

Other than these small private villas, there were also some giant islands in the Star Sea.

There were wizard markets or cities on the island, and Levi's destination was here.

"Speaking of which, Old Xavier seems to have come to the Star Sea. I wonder how is he now?" As Levi muttered to himself, he arrived on a huge island.

This island was called 'Nether Island', and it was one of the twelve islands that guarded the Star Sea.

On these twelve islands, there were twelve giant wizard cities, known as the "Twelve Wizard Cities".

Nether Capital was one of them.

Now that it was in a state of war, these cities were more strict with the identity of outsiders.

Before Levi could enter the city, he was stopped by the guards.

However, there was nothing in this world that money couldn't solve. If there was, it was because there wasn't enough money.

In the end, Levi managed to obtain the Identity Token by relying on his money.

The Nether Capital had set up a fifth-circle no-flying array. Other than the respected high-level primordial soul wizards, other wizards could not fly here.

This was also to make it easier to manage and prevent some wizards from escaping quickly after causing trouble.

There were all kinds of wizards on the streets, as well as mortals who were wizards' servants, slaves of other races, and even some knights and guards.

Levi needed potion materials, so he went straight to the largest potion shop in the Nether Capital.

"Witch's Family."

This potion shop was probably opened by the Witch's Family in Nether Capital.

After Levi entered, he found a beautiful witch reading a potion book.

She noticed Levi's arrival, but she did not take her eyes off the book.

"If you need any potions, you can tell [Little Witch]," she said as she read.

"I'm Little Witch Kelly. Mr. Wizard, may I know what potion you want to buy?" A little girl, who was about the size of Levi's palm, was flying in the air. She had a bow tied around her neck and was wearing a loose black wizard robe. Behind her, a pair of wings as thin as a cicada's wings were flapping rapidly.

"As expected of the Witch's Family. There's actually a servant like the little fairy." Levi's heart skipped a beat.

During the ancient wizard era, little fairies often acted as butlers for wizards, taking care of medicine gardens, wizard towers, and all aspects of daily life.

They were efficient and very powerful. Although they were small, they had already mastered powerful “fairy spells”.

However, due to the over-capturing of this species, these little fellows were rarely seen in the Wizard World.

The Flower Fairy mentioned in the cantrip [Flower Fairy’s Tear] that Levi had learned as an apprentice was a type of fairy.
