Wizard 795

Chapter 795: Strength Breaks All Techniques! (7)

Of course, that was assuming Levi could get out.

"With my current realm, Frostmourne forged with luminant gold is indeed not enough. It's time to forge a better weapon for myself.

"From the looks of it, this disciple of the Letney Family shouldn't have died in a wizard's hand. Otherwise, this storage bag would have been taken away long ago."

After confirming that there were no other clues, Levi left and asked Leon to continue leading the way.

The twisted and deformed skeleton in the tree hole was silent until the caterpillars surged over again and the vines covered the tree hole again…

In the end, Levi followed Leon to a plain filled with fog. In the fog, he could vaguely see some buildings. The outermost area was the huts of mortals, and inside were the residences and wizard towers of wizards. In the center, Levi saw a towering wizard tower.

From the outside, there were five floors in the wizard tower. Some more particular wizard organizations usually used the number of floors in the wizard tower to show their status.

The fifth floor might be the tower of a Fifth-Circle Wizard. If this secret realm was an Intermediate Wizard Organization, then this place seemed to be the core of the entire secret realm.

"Master, there's… so much food inside. I want to kill all of them… and eat them all…" Leon looked at the wizard tower greedily.

Levi patted Leon's head, and Leon rubbed Levi's hand affectionately.

"Then come with me to take a look. Since some things only dare to hide in the dark and play tricks and don't dare to face me directly, we'll take the initiative to face them."

Levi's bones crackled. He tilted his head and held Frostmourne in his hand. He stepped into the fog and headed for the wizard tower.

Along the way, the walls of the mortal residences were dark and damp. They were covered in colorful mold and were sticky.

Levi carefully paid attention to all the details around him. He did not waste any more energy to destroy the surroundings.

After the previous battle, he roughly knew that this secret realm might have been interfered with by some kind of strength. It could be an array or an illusion.

In short, the answer might be in the wizard tower.

From the surrounding fog, the laughter of women could be heard. Through the laughter, it was as if one could see the enchanting, plaintive, or cold faces of women.

"Roar!" Leon hugged a Beauty Centipede that was charging at Levi. It opened its mouth and swallowed the centipede whole. The centipede struggled with its legs.

More and more weak Death Falls pounced at Levi, who was wrapped in the Death Ember Power, like moths to a flame.

Levi looked at the annihilating fallen monsters and suddenly felt confident.

"Are you afraid?" Levi grabbed a monster that pounced on him. This monster had a lizard-like body and insect-like thin wings on both sides. There was a crown-like thing on its neck, and colorful scales shone.

"This… looks a little like the Nightmare Lizard in the Dream Dragon Breathing Technique inheritance diagram, but that Nightmare Lizard doesn't have a crown or such a gorgeous body color."

This was one of the few monsters in the fog that did not have a human head. Like the Crimson Netherworld Sparrow, it should be an ordinary transcendent creature. The five Dragons' dignity in Levi's body was activated and swept towards the strange lizard's mind.

The lizard's mind was blank. Five terrifying dragons of different shapes but all high and mighty were watching it from an indescribable distance.

Without much effort, the strange lizard quieted down. It wailed in fear and begged for mercy.

Levi knocked this lizard out, tied it up, and put it in Alice's ring.

"Even if it's not a Nightmare Lizard, it probably has the Dream Dragon bloodline."

Levi dripped blood into Rowling's crystal ball.

[Unknown transcendent lizard bloodline 67%, Unknown Dragon Clan biological bloodline 4.3%...]

"Looks like there's no database in the crystal ball, but there's a high chance it's a Dream Dragon."

Wherever Levi passed, the weak Death Falls quickly died and turned into gray crystals.

He didn't know how many he had killed. Leon didn't even want to eat anymore. He told Leon to keep the rest.

Owens' hundred-strike record paled in comparison to Levi's.

His Intuition swept across the mansions and small wizard towers. Some timid figures were hiding among them. Perhaps they were Death Falls or something else. However, they were beginning to be afraid...

Levi arrived at the bottom of the largest wizard tower and the fog broke.

Someone was standing there. It was someone who looked exactly like Levi.

Levi smiled. He smiled back.

Levi stirred, and so did he.

Levi sighed in his heart. Recalling the process of being teased along the way, the moment he saw this fake Levi, an unknown anger burned.

Hellfire wrapped around Frostmourne and turned into a flaming sword. Levi's body quickly expanded until he was the tallest existence on this plain apart from the wizard tower!

He spat out a mouthful of sulfurous air. Endless flames cleared the fog around the wizard tower.

He looked down at the tiny fake Levi.

"You do this too."

The terrifying World Extinguishing Flame Sword was wrapped in the black Death Ember Power and the grayish-white Destruction Sword Qi. The two forces, black and white, spun and coiled like yin-yang fish.

"Fuck it!"

Boom!

The fog on the plain seemed to have been torn open by a furious god. Sunlight penetrated and illuminated the fake Levi's face.

This face seemed to be constantly changing. There was Levi, Lehger Leo, Rose, Lady Whitewater, and the face of an unfamiliar man…

In the end, its appearance was finally fixed.

It became a face that Levi had seen before, expressionless and hollow-eyed.

Dense Death Falls surrounded him like locusts, blocking the sunlight.

Boom!

The flames collided with the darkness.

The wizard tower collapsed in a huge quake.

Levi looked at everything that had been reduced to ashes and the distorted face.

"Extreme Fire Ancestral Wizard."
