Chapter 804: Divine Weapon Family, Panel Interface Changes! (3)

Rose also told Levi to be careful and not get involved in this matter.

It was said that not only Lehger Leo's father, but even a primordial soul wizard of the Letney Family was furious.

After all, Lehger Leo's talent was not bad even in a wizard family. He was only 150 years old, but he was already a third-circle senior wizard. He had mastered two innate spells, and it was certain that he would become a Fourth-Circle Wizard in the future.

At the same time, the Rose Witch also expressed her fear of the Nightmare World in the letter. She felt that one day, she would be pulled into that terrifying nightmare and disappear from the Wizard World, never to see Newt again.

Rose Witch did not dare to tell Newt about this. That would only mean that another pitiful person would be worried about her.

Therefore, she could only communicate with Levi to alleviate her anxiety.

Levi could understand this. The Man-Faced Spider alone was enough to give them a hard time.

It was hard to imagine how many powerful existences there were in that unknown and terrifying Nightmare World.

The disappearance of the Dreamland Steeple, the disappearance of the Ashen Lord in the Ashen World, and the invasion of the Ashen World, turning the Ashen World into an apocalyptic wasteland...

All of this seemed to have something to do with the Nightmare World.

Levi wrote back that there was no point in being blindly afraid. When wizards encountered difficulties, they should not be afraid and had to face them bravely. All fear was caused by insufficient strength.

The Rose Witch's current plan was to wait for the Flower Witch to return. On the other hand, she had to work hard to improve herself and advance to a higher realm as soon as possible.

Levi walked out of the wizard tower and took the potions he had refined during this period to the Witch's Family.

Suddenly, he felt a few streams of light flying over his head.

As far as Levi knew, other than primordial soul wizards, only the enforcers with special privileges could fly in the Nether Capital.

"Looks like something happened."

Levi murmured in his heart.

He watched as the stream of light left and arrived at the Witch's Family.

The little witch, Kelly, was sleeping on top of a thick book.

Celia, on the other hand, was reading. She smiled when Levi arrived.

"Your Excellency Celia, I saw enforcers flying over. Did something happen?" Levi asked. If Nether Capital was going to be finished, he had to prepare to escape in advance.

"It's nothing serious. I just heard that an enforcer killed a disciple of a large family in the Nether Capital yesterday and escaped overnight," Celia said.

"Wow, to commit murder in the Nether Capital. Does this person want to die?" Levi said in surprise.

After all, Nether Capital was a city guarded by more than one primordial soul wizard.

"That's right... It's said that the disciple of the family who was killed was a core disciple of a sixth-circle wizard family in the Star Sea who had a primordial soul wizard. He was extremely talented and was a third-circle senior. He was not far from the fourth-circle. He even received the [Truth Oddity—Water Dragon's Song] from the primordial soul wizard. For some reason, this news of obtaining the Truth Oddity was targeted by people with ulterior motives. Now, he has nothing. It's too tragic. If he digests the Truth Oddity and combines it with a breakthrough potion, he should be able to advance to the fourth-circle."

Celia felt a wave of pity. To her, although she was a disciple of the House of Witches, she was too far away from a legendary thing like the Truth Oddity.

"What? Truth Oddity? There's actually such a thing in the Wizard World now?" Levi was shocked.

He had also heard of the Truth Oddity. It was said that it was a natural thing born from the will of the truth, so the wizards called it the Truth Oddity.

This Truth Oddity had endless uses. The most direct and brutal use was to increase the probability of breaking through when a wizard advanced. Moreover, this could be superimposed with the breakthrough potion!

It could be said that with Levi's current talent, he did not even need to prepare a breakthrough potion to have a 100% success rate when he was a low-level wizard. Even ordinary Children of Chaos had a high chance of success.

So far, the Truth Oddities could be divided into six categories: Earth, Sky, Morning Star, Bright Moon, Bright Sun, and Legendary.

The higher the quality of the Truth Oddity, the higher the probability of breaking through, and the higher the realm it could be used for.

For example, Earth and Sky could only work on low-level and Intermediate Wizards. It had little effect on high-level wizards.

But even so, the Truth Oddity was still the most precious thing in the Wizard World. It could be said that there was no other.

If a wizard could digest the Truth Oddity, other than increasing the probability of breaking through, they could also slightly improve their elemental affinity talent and increase the power of their spells.

It was said that some Truth Oddities could even give birth to a wizard's talent for ordinary people without talent, giving birth to a special second talent for some wizards.

This was a real item that could change one's fate. Those who could obtain it were all the children of luck, the protagonists of legendary novels.

However, there were very few Truth Oddities. They required luck to be born, and many of them were non-renewable resources.

It could be said that after such a long period of development and plundering in the Wizard World, even the lowest-grade Truth Oddities were extinct in the Wizard World.

There were only some Shadow Realms that had yet to be discovered or secret realms that had been lost for a long time. There might also be a few Truth Oddities.
