

Wizard 816

Chapter 816: Mother Nest's Will, Blood Qi Transforming into Wings (3)

As soon as these bugs appeared, they began to gnaw at the protective shield. The sound of friction on the protective shield spread into Sky City.

Boom!

Light flickered on the defensive barrier.

All the bugs were shattered into powder.

At this moment, all the wizards in Sky City understood why the Legendary Wizard Lord had suddenly changed directions.

A terrifying monster had locked onto Sky City. If they returned now, they would undoubtedly expose the Wizard World to them.

The wizard civilization, which had already experienced the Great Expedition and civil war, could no longer withstand the invasion of external enemies.

Inside the super-giant worm's body, there were strange-shaped buildings covered in mucus. Many strange monsters were gathered around a church-style building in the center.

Over there, there was an aberration wearing gorgeous wing membranes and had a crown antenna on its head. It sensed the supreme will and let out an unknown loud voice.

"The mother nest's will is watching us. Children of the mother nest, follow me!"

In the human world.

Deep at the bottom of the sea of the outer sea region.

Levi rested there for half a month.

This time, to get rid of the damned Fire Elemental Spirit, he had done everything he could.

This beast, I have to conquer it in the future. As my slave, it burns fire for me every day and acts as an engine for Tyrant II to relieve the hatred in my heart, Levi thought.

"I wonder where that guy went? Logically speaking, with the saint of the church around, there shouldn't be any big trouble... right?"

Levi rose.

While recuperating, he also reviewed his battles over the years.

The battle with the Blood Flame Demon Wizard proved that Levi could win against an ordinary fourth-circle wizard of the Burning Faction.

Levi had already understood the system of contrast between the knight realm and the wizard realm.

A normal single-dimensional knight without a cheat.

Level 11 Legendary versus First-Circle Wizards, level 12 Bloodthirst versus Second-Circle Wizards, level 13 First Transformation of the Blood Source versus Third-Circle Wizards, and level 14 Second Transformation of the Blood Source versus Third-Circle Seniors.

Ordinary single-dimensional knights should be comparable to ordinary fourth-circle wizards after level 15 Third Transformation of the Blood Source.

Of course, this was only theoretical. Because the knight system was not perfect yet, ordinary knights, like the Ancient Saint, could not fly, nor did they have the complete spell system like wizards, which could deal with complicated situations.

Therefore, the overall combat power of a knight was still weaker than that of a wizard. The Bloodline Divine Weapon that matched the Wizard Tool could only appear in the Blood Source realm.

Before this, knights could only use weapons and bloodline power forged by mortals to deal with enemies. At most, they could master some powerful combat techniques, but they were still weak compared to spells.

Levi was strong because of the Nine Swords Asura Bloodline Dharma Body, Six Dimensional Polygonal Attributes, and Mutated Fused Super Legendary Quality Breathing Technique. These were exclusive to Levi's "cheat", which allowed him to kill wizards above his level.

"A knight's methods are still single-handed, and how to fly is also a problem. Other than a few breathing techniques that can fly, many knights with strength, defense, and physique, such as the Black Knight, who is a Bloodthirst expert, have not mastered the ability to fly. They can only jump up and hit wizards, but their height is also limited..."

"When I return to the human world this time, I'll study the way to fly as a knight. I can imitate the Blood Beast Breathing Technique's blood wings and see if I can develop a way to turn blood qi into wings. This way, as long as the blood qi in a knight's body is abundant enough, no matter what kind of knight it is, after reaching a certain realm, they can at least master the ability to fly short distances."

In this transcendent world, it would be too tragic if they could not fly. They would be played to death by wizards using flying spells and long-range spells.

"Let's return to the Dusk Holy Temple first."

Levi stepped out of his hiding place and soared into the air.

When Levi returned to Dusk Island, he found that everything was normal on Dusk Island.

He used Perception to check. Other than the trainee Knights who were cultivating, the only official Knights on the island were the Black Knights.

Black Demon Temple.

The Black Knight was thinking about a combat technique that he had just created.

He racked his brains but failed to grasp the crux of the matter. He frowned.

"What are you worried about?"

Levi's voice rang out.

The Black Knight suddenly woke up and realized that a familiar face was standing in the hall with a smile. Beside him was an unfamiliar golden-haired burly man.

The Black Knight smiled bitterly and said, "I've been researching a sword skill recently. Since you're here, commander, please give me some pointers."

"Tell me about it," Levi said.

The Black Knight explained his difficulties to Levi.

After listening, Levi gave him some pointers.

What troubled the Black Knight was that he realized that his sword skills could not perfectly fuse with his bloodline power. This way, he could not unleash the power of his bloodline power.

Levi's suggestion was to refer to the thoughts of the Bloodline Dharma Body. He took out a book, "Introduction to the Bloodline Dharma Body", and handed it to the Black Knight.

"Here are some principles, techniques, and knowledge of the Bloodline Dharma Body that I compiled. They are all very basic. You also cultivate the Bloodline Dharma Body. Study this book carefully. When the Blood Knight and the others return, you can show them.

"By the way, this book is limited to official members and some talented core members. When the Dusk Holy Temple's knowledge management system is built in the future, these will require corresponding contributions," Levi said