Chapter 817: Mother Nest's Will, Blood Qi Transforming into Wings (4)

"Understood. Oh right, commander... who is this knight?"

"Hello, you're the Black Knight, right? I'm the Golden Lion Knight, Dinos! Our commander told me about you." Dinos smiled. His golden hair fluttered in the wind.

"So it's Sir Dinos. I've heard about you from my commander. I heard that you're the descendant of the Lionheart Knight. I've heard a lot about you!"

The Lionheart Knight was a legendary knight even earlier than the Black Knight. He had been famous for a long time and was the idol of the Black Knight when he was young.

"I'll be cultivating in the human world from now on. Please enlighten me," Dinos said.

"Not really. We've improved on each other. I see that you've also broken through the shackles of legendary. You've reached the second step of knighthood at such a young age. I'm impressed," the Black Knight said humbly.

Levi interrupted them and asked: "What are the Blood Knight, Divine Light Knight, and Knight Hogg doing now?"

"The Blood Knight traveled the seven kingdoms in the human world. Now, the dark creatures in the human world are too rampant. He couldn't stand it anymore, so he used this method to cultivate and sharpen himself. The Divine Light Knight went to the Peacock Capital. It seems that something happened to his family. Knight Hogg has always been in Myriad Dragon City."

Levi nodded and said, "Send someone to summon them back. The Seven Kingdoms Continent is not safe from now on. Try not to go there as much as possible. In addition, our Dusk Holy Temple will be moving soon. We need to make some preparations."

"Understood. I'll get right on it."

After letting the Black Knight and Dinos get to know each other, Levi left Dusk Island alone.

"Now, the only official member of the Twilight Knights is Emperor Mu. I wonder where he went."

Levi sighed and headed in the direction of the seven kingdoms.

Storm City's Shining Tavern.

Levi listened to the recent changes in the world.

In the past few years, the plague continued to erupt in a small area. It was as if a strength was controlling the progress of the plague.

The seven churches also displayed their abilities and tried their best to find the source of the plague.

So far, there did not seem to be any results.

In short, the plague had become a normal phenomenon.

Although it happened from time to time, it did not cause many deaths. Gradually, everyone was already used to it.

This made Levi feel like the culprit behind the plague was boiling a frog in warm water.

"That existence must be secretly accumulating strength, so he doesn't dare to be too high-profile. He's waiting for an opportunity."

The existence Levi was talking about was naturally the Father of Plagues. He had been defeated by a Legendary Wizard and might have left a backup plan in the human world.

Except for the plague disaster.

Recently, the sudden drought in the Tuva Empire and the forest fires dealt a heavy blow to the Tuva Empire.

This was undoubtedly related to the Fire Elemental Spirit. With its strength, it was no joke to be able to travel thousands of miles in the bare land.

Levi guessed that the Fire Elemental Spirit should have been defeated by the Church.

Otherwise, the disaster that that guy brought to the human world would not be as simple as a drought or a fire.

"In other words, that saint from the Church of Storm is actually able to contend with a level 5 Fire Elemental Spirit. This should be because of the Sealing Sacred Object... Otherwise, the speed at which these saints improve is a little terrifying."

Levi felt a lingering fear in his heart. He felt that his advancement was fast enough.

However, he realized that those saints were even more exaggerated than him.

"Sigh... Is this the God's power?"

He muttered to himself.

No matter what, from the looks of it, the problem of the level 5 Fire Elemental Spirit should have been resolved safely. Levi was relieved.

After all, he didn't want the human world to be destroyed by that guy.

Except for the plague and drought.

In recent years, some evil cults had appeared more and more frequently.

Some time ago, in the Peacock Kingdom.

There were traces of the Wilderness Brotherhood's activities again.

This restless organization that believed in the Lord of the Wilderness was the same as the White Lotus Society in his previous life. Once there was a chaotic world, they would start to appear and rebel.

The last time the Wilderness Brotherhood appeared was during the period of Montenegro Mountain's rebellion before the demise of the Emerald Kingdom.

All kinds of evil sects had emerged. This meant that other than the Seven Gods, some other ambitious non-orthodox gods were also about to start intervening in the war of faith.

"It's getting messy."

Levi pondered.

He had to quickly finish exploring the small plane where the Ancient Saint Empire was located.

With the Divine Weapon, Levi felt that he should be able to unify the three empires.

He would move the Dusk Holy Temple into a small plane and let the Knights and the natives explore the plane together to make use of the resources.

Levi would then be able to sit on the sidelines of a small plane and watch the fierce battles between the monsters and Gods.

On the other hand, he was doing his own thing and farming happily. Occasionally, he would go out to pick up scraps and reap the benefits. Wouldn't that be wonderful?

On the other side, in Flower City, life was peaceful. Levi left after giving Andrew some instructions.

In the outer sea region, Levi's figure descended on the deserted island that connected to the Ancient Saint Plane.

Sensing its master's aura, a pile of rocks suddenly took shape, forming Bo Gang's figure.

"Well done. Thank you for your hard work."

With Bo Gang guarding this place, Levi was very relieved.

He stepped into the altar and disappeared.

When he appeared, he was already in the dilapidated temple.

Everything seemed to be no different from when he left.

Black Stripe City.
