Wizard 834

Chapter 834: Legend of the Crimson Dragon Emperor, Praise the Emperor! (2)

After Levi's test, with this protective force field, those offensive spells with attack power below 30 Cas would have to be hit several times in a row to break the force field.

There were very few third-circle spells with attack power above 30 Cas.

In other words, even if Levi did not have the skills of a knight, he could still be invincible against ordinary Third-Circle Wizards with just this perfect Heavy Water Barrier!

"In addition, the Thunder Snake Spell is also about to reach level 9. As for the Fire Dragon Tribulation, the cultivation of innate spells is much slower than ordinary spells."

The Divine Tower spun around in the center of the magic ring. On the first floor of the Divine Tower was the innate spell model representing Fire Dragon Tribulation.

Under normal circumstances, a talent spell model should be branded around the Gas magic ring.

However, because Levi had the Divine Tower, he directly imprinted the talent spell model on it.

This way, it was more convenient for him to use it than on the magic ring, and its power was also a little stronger.

Ever since Levi stepped into the third-circle, his mental strength had increased by 40 points. However, the Divine Tower didn't change much. The key was still that Soul Artifact fragment.

"I still have to continue researching the Purification Elixir."

One Saint Fruit was enough to stump a hero.

Other than the Saint Fruit, he had already gathered all the other potion ingredients.

As for the Three Arts of Wizardry, Levi's Pharmacy was already at the third-circle senior level, while his Array and Weapon Refinement were at the maximum of level 5, which was the peak of the second-circle. He still lacked an opportunity to break through.

Levi would personally refine a third-circle Wizard Tool, alchemical creatures, or a third-circle array.

However, Levi did not have the blueprints for these two items.

"The Book of Cypher only has the first volume. I don't know where the other volumes are. What a pity… Oh right, I wonder if Otharos has any array blueprints in his knowledge base?"

Thinking of this, Levi took out the Truth Magic Mirror and asked, "Otharos, do you have arrays or alchemical creatures blueprints here?"

Levi wanted to take this opportunity to modify Tyrant II again and turn it into a third-circle alchemical creature. At the same time, he wanted to break through his Weapon Refinement skill.

"What are alchemical creatures?"

"Forget I asked."

Levi had forgotten that Otharos was an ancient antique. At that time, there was a high chance that there was no School of Alchemy, let alone alchemy knowledge.

"However, there are some arrays, but not many…" Otharos said.

"Which array blueprints do you have? Let me take a look." Levi's heart skipped a beat.

This magic mirror was still useful.

Lines of characters began to appear on the surface of Otharos the magic mirror.

The position that Sauron had given Otharos back then was actually a prop for the inheritance of knowledge. If he wanted his descendants to pay the corresponding price, they could obtain a certain amount of knowledge.

After Mobius the round table recognized Levi as its master, the magic mirror later submitted to Levi, so many functions were now available to Levi.

"Eye of Green Flames, second-circle attack array… Sea Emperor's Protection, third-circle defensive array… The Glory of the Four Kings, third-circle comprehensive array…"

There were hundreds of arrays listed, ranging from low-level to high-level.

"As expected of the Truth Magic Mirror created by Sauron. It's not much, but there are hundreds of arrays." Levi was overjoyed.

Now that the unification of the Ancient Saint Plane was nearing its end, he planned to build his base here. This would definitely include the corresponding shelter array.

The entrance to the Ancient Saint plane also required a higher-level array to protect and conceal it to prevent others from discovering it.

"What price do I have to pay for the Glory of the Four Kings?" Levi asked.

"Ordinary knowledge and some low-level knowledge can also be exchanged with soul power. This can maintain the daily operation of the magic mirror. As for Glory of the Four Kings, it's a special knowledge that requires you to provide knowledge of the same value."

Levi took out the Book of Cypher and said, "There are many low-level arrays recorded here. It should be more than enough to exchange for this array."

"Yes, as long as it's valuable transcendent knowledge that doesn't exist in the magic mirror's knowledge base, it can be used as a bargaining chip. As the holder of the magic mirror, you only need to record the knowledge in your memory. The magic mirror will naturally determine the value of this knowledge and decide if you want to trade."

He heard that Levi began to record the array blueprints on the Book of Cypher into the Truth Magic Mirror one by one.

After recording 13 first-circle array blueprints, the Truth Magic Mirror said, "It's enough."

Then a rush of information flooded into Levi's mind.

It was the array blueprint of the Glory of the Four Kings.

In the array knowledge base of the Truth Magic Mirror, the knowledge recorded by Levi appeared.

Seeing this, Levi's heart thumped.

"The magic mirror can be used as the Dusk Holy Temple's knowledge management system… The Truth Magic Mirror can gather all the knowledge between members through the Equivalent Exchange of knowledge. This way, the knowledge in the Truth Magic Mirror will increase. No matter what organization it is, knowledge management is the most important."

Many large wizard organizations had their respective knowledge management systems. Usually, they were held by a special Wizard Tool. Members had to pay a corresponding price to obtain knowledge of the same value—for example, the Tower of Merit in Riptide City. The corresponding price for knowledge was merit points.
