

Wizard 835

Chapter 835: Legend of the Crimson Dragon Emperor, Praise the Emperor! (3)

"How do you set these prices? Are there any unified standards, such as Aether Stones?" Levi asked.

"As the owner of the Truth Magic Mirror, you can perfect the knowledge management system of the magic mirror as long as it doesn't violate the Principle of Equal Exchange. However, some knowledge is very difficult to measure with Aether Stones..." Otharos said.

"I understand."

This Principle of Equal Exchange was a hard standard. It was the first rule when Sauron created this Wizard Tool. Even Levi, as the owner of the magic mirror, could not get knowledge from it for free.

"If other people want to exchange knowledge from you, what do they need to do?" Levi asked.

"First, they need to obtain your authorization authority. Then, recite the incantation [Mirror, Mirror...] silently. Finally, pay the corresponding price and they can obtain knowledge from it."

"Understood." Levi understood.

When the next meeting was held, he would tell this incantation to the official members. Then, if they encountered new knowledge that they could not use, they could exchange it for some useful knowledge from the Truth Magic Mirror.

As for the knight's techniques that Levi had developed himself, such as "Blood Qi Wings" and "Introduction to the Bloodline Dharma Body", they could also be transmitted to the knowledge base of the "Truth Magic Mirror" and obtained by the other members at a price.

This could form a virtuous cycle, utilizing collective power and wisdom.

Putting away the magic mirror, Levi was even more excited about Excalibur and the Holy Grail of Immortality.

The Glory of the Four Kings that he exchanged for this time belonged to the kind of large-scale array that was built on markets or wizard organizations. There were a lot of materials that needed to be used.

Moreover, this was an ancient array. As time passed, the array might have been updated. The materials needed were either gone or there were new substitutes.

On the one hand, Levi asked the Ancient Saint Empire to send people to search this small plane. On the other hand, he planned to look for it in the Witch's Family when he returned to the Wizard World.

Whether it would work or not, he would give it a try. This array was also an extremely powerful and special array among the third-circle arrays. It was not much inferior to the fourth-circle array. After it was completed, there should not be a need to upgrade the array for a long time.

It was formed by the combination of the four third-circle arrays, "King of Earth, King of Fire, King of Wind, and Glory of the King of Water."

Therefore, an array had four forms. The King of Fire's killing attack could release up to 99 third-circle Burning Faction spells at the same time. Even a Fourth-Circle Wizard would be in danger of dying if they did not escape quickly, let alone a Third-Circle Wizard.

The King of Wind mainly attacked with wind blades. It was similar to the King of Fire and complemented each other.

As for the King of Water and the King of Earth, they were for defense and control.

All in all, this array could be used for both offense and defense. It was very powerful. If it was successfully refined, it would not be a problem for it to become the Dusk Holy Temple's protective array. It was just that the materials were not easy to find.

"Next, I'll go meet that person in the sea. If I don't resolve it, it will always be a hidden danger."

Levi called Ancient Saint Skybreaking over and asked him to lead the way as they flew towards the South Sea.

A few days later, Levi and Skybreaking arrived at the seaside.

"Lord, the Mosasaurus Empire's territory is just ahead," Ancient Saint Skybreaking said.

"Let's go and take a look." Levi stepped in and searched carefully with Intuition.

Not long after, a wave suddenly rose on the surface of the sea. On the wave, a Lizardman with an indigo body, webbed fingers, and scales held a bone fork and said angrily, "This is the territory of the Mosasaurus Empire. Invaders, if you go any further, the great Vast Sea King will tear you into pieces."

This Lizardman was a sea crawler. In fact, he was also transformed from an ordinary Lizardman. However, like the Sea Clan of the Endless Sea, sea crawlers had adapted to the marine environment, but they could still live on land for a period of time.

"Go and call the Vast Sea King out. You're just an unknown person. You don't have the right to talk to us," Ancient Saint Skybreaking said coldly. The dignity of an Ancient Saint surged towards the Lizardman.

The Lizardman's expression changed, and he fiercely said, "Just you wait." Then, he dejectedly crawled into the sea.

In the depths of the sea, a city stood there.

This was Blue Sea City, a city ruled by the Vast Sea King and the capital of the Mosasaurus Empire.

A tall, blue-scaled Lizardman with a crown on his head was having fun with a group of Lizardwomen in the palace. The Lizardwomen wailed one after another, clearly unable to take it anymore.

"Your Majesty, something bad has happened. The experts of the Ancient Saint Empire are here..." Outside the hall, the guard's voice sounded.

"Which Ancient Saint is it?" The Vast Sea King stopped his frisky games and asked coldly.

"Ancient Saint Skybreaking seems to have a Fire Lizardman. I wonder if it's the Hellfire Ancient Saint..."

"Hmm?" the Vast Sea King's expression changed. A pitch-black, simple, and ordinary-looking sword had appeared in his hand.

"Come, follow me to take a look." The Vast Sea King's voice was like thunder. Not long after, the other Ancient Saint experts of Blue Sea City also rushed over.

"Your Majesty, they probably want us to surrender..." An Ancient Saint said with an ugly expression.

They had long heard that the Wind God Empire had been taken down. During this period of time, these Ancient Saints had been in a constant state of panic, afraid that they would be found.

"What's there to be afraid of? With His Majesty around, we don't have to worry," another Ancient Saint said.