Chapter 837: Legend of the Crimson Dragon Emperor, Praise the Emperor! (5)

Anyone who swore an oath in front of Excalibur would indirectly acknowledge Levi as their master.

Of course, to succeed, this kind of oath had to be sworn by the person who took the oath and recited the corresponding oath, supplemented by a specific Sword Acceptance Ritual. Therefore, it had to be an intelligent race that could speak.

In addition, just like many contracts, the person swearing the oath could not be much stronger than the sword master. Otherwise, the oath might lose its effectiveness and backfire on the sword master.

"After the Truth Magic Mirror, Teatime Round Table, and Excalibur, only the Holy Grail of Immortality is left... The Holy Grail of Immortality, Diuxis, was refined by the Immortal Banyan Dragon. I wonder what it does...

"The Truth Magic Mirror is for knowledge management, the Teatime Round Table is for organizational communication, and Excalibur is for the loyal management of the members... It was obvious that Sauron had created this series of special treasures to establish a transcendent organization...

"Initially, the Ancient Saint was the experimental subject of Sauron's grand plan to use the plane as an experimental field.

"These treasures should have been left behind for the former Initial Ancient Saint. If the Initial Ancient Saint's development went smoothly, he might have already established a bloodline path completely different from that of a wizard and established a powerful transcendent organization.

"However, he still failed, and these treasures became ownerless.

"It wasn't until this plane convergence that I accidentally discovered the entrance to the human world. These treasures are all mine... No, it should be said that these four treasures are fated with me. They should belong to me!

"Of course, I won't take Sauron's treasures for free. I have the proficiency panel. My research on the transcendent path of the bloodline that is different from that of wizards is above this world. I'll fulfill the dying wish of the Initial Ancient Saint... To a certain extent, my goal of establishing the Dusk Holy Temple and the Twilight Knights is the same as Sauron's."

Holy Brilliance Calendar Year 1105, Month of Flowers.

Year 74 of the Great Expedition.

Time passed quickly. Another three years passed.

Three years was a long time for the Ancient Saint plane.

Especially for the Crawlers.

They had personally witnessed a brand new unified Ancient Saint Empire ending the city-state secession and the situation of vassals standing tall on this continent in a supreme manner.

The new country was called the Ancient Dragon Empire. Be it the Feathered People who soared in the sky, the Sea Crawlers at the bottom of the sea, or the Lizardmen on the continent, everyone was an Ancient Dragon Descendent. They were one family.

Including the Feathered People and Sea Crawlers, there were a total of 24 Ancient Saint experts in the Ancient Saint Empire.

Among them, 20 Ancient Saint experts established the “Empire Senior State Assembly.”

The Senior State Assembly was the highest authority in the Ancient Dragon Empire. They jointly managed all the large and small city-states in this country. The city lords of all the city-states had to be responsible for the Senior State Assembly and would regularly go to the capital to report their duties and undergo assessments.

The seats in the Senior State Assembly were not unchanged. If a new Ancient Saint was born, he could also join.

However, he needed to head to the Initial Square and swear a Divine Sword Oath under the statue of the Initial Ancient Saint to declare his absolute loyalty to the Initial Ancient Saint and the Ancient Dragon Empire.

The absolute ruler of the Senior State Assembly, the great dictator, was the Initial Ancient Saint.

He was also called “Crimson Dragon Emperor” by the Senior State Assembly and their subjects, “Inferno Divine Emperor,” “Immortal,” “Master of the Ancient Saint,” “Messenger of the Holy Snake,” “Protector of the Inferno Throne”...

It was rumored that all the Ancient Saints of the Senior State Assembly were created by the Initial Ancient Saint. They were the strongest warriors that he had used his powerful bloodline power to create!

Currently, the Holy Snake was in a deep sleep, and no one knew when it would wake up. Therefore, they had absolute loyalty to the first Ancient Saint since the creation of the Holy Snake.

Outside of the Senior State Assembly, the Four Dragon Kings were independent of all the political structures of the Ancient Dragon Empire and were only responsible for the Initial Ancient Saints. They were like loyal angels of the emperor, monitoring everything in the world. Whether it was the Ancient Saints of the Senior State Assembly or ordinary subjects, no evil could escape the Dragon King’s eyes and would be brought to justice!

The Four Dragon Kings were the Feather Dragon King of the Yintis Mountain Range, the Mosasaurus Dragon King of the Southern Sea Abyss, and the Winged Dragon King of the Ancient Dragon Continent. The last one was the human incarnation of the Initial Ancient Saint. He had no name and called himself “Nameless Ancient Saint.” He walked alone on the ground and silently protected the citizens of the Ancient Dragon Empire.

It was rumored that the Initial Ancient Saint treated every Ancient Saint and citizen equally. He was silent, had a stern appearance, was kind-hearted, hated evil, and was like a master and father.

For thousands of years, the reason why he had never appeared from the legendary era until now was because he had inherited the will of the Holy Snake. To prevent the subjects of the Ancient Dragon Empire from being troubled by the evil gods from beyond the heavens, he sat alone on his Inferno Throne. With his powerful strength, he protected the fragile Ancient Dragon Empire and fought against the evil gods.

Only at a critical moment that concerned the life and death of the Ancient Dragon Empire would the Initial Ancient Saint rise from the Inferno Throne and use the flaming sword in his hand, which was enough to destroy this world and turn his enemies into ashes!

"How selfless is this? How loyal is this? Praise the Initial Ancient Saint, praise the Crimson Dragon Emperor!"

In Black Stripe City, Old Kane held a copy of The Legend of the Crimson Dragon Emperor in his teary hand and told the little Lizardmen below the stage the story of the Initial Ancient Saint.

"I knew it. Initially, Ancient Saint Lord did not abandon us."
