Chapter 875: Dark Ancient Tower! (2)

Xavier and Levi looked at each other.

"Alright, I didn't expect Wizard Newt to be so afraid of the Rose Witch... That's why men need to be alone to be carefree! Come, let's continue drinking!"

Xavier held a witch with exposed bronze skin. She had a hot figure and seemed to have cultivated some kind of charm spell. Her every move, frown, and smile were naturally charming.

In the Wizard World, some wizards who were in the brothel industry, whether they were witches or wizards, would cultivate charm spells and sex spells to better serve customers.

Of course, these charm spells were not worth mentioning in front of the succubus. Therefore, in ancient times, before the prohibition order was issued, some powerful male wizards would raise some female succubus as their pets for fun. Similarly, some female wizards would also raise male succubuses.

The coquettish witch sat in Xavier's arms, her full chest rubbing against him.

"Levi... I don't want to drink anymore. I can't drink anymore. This 500-year-old wizard wine has made me dizzy. I'll go and sleep first."

After saying that, Old Xavier couldn't wait to carry the extremely charming witch into the house and start their connection...

"The wine of the Wizard World is terrible. It still can't compare to the wine of the human world."

Levi took out the Lion King's Spirit and gulped it down.

Next to him, the witch who accompanied him to drink was already drunk. She was in the mood and touched Levi's thigh seductively, but Levi slapped her away.

Levi looked out the window. The sea was calm and the sky was dark with stars.

"It's been a long time since I've been so relaxed. Eh... what's that?"

The distant skyline flashed with the light of a meteor. It tore through the thick clouds and fell into the sea ahead with a tail flame.

Levi instinctively used Spiritual Perception, but he realized that the light seemed to be able to block Perception. Not only Spiritual Perception, but even his Nightmare Perception was useless.

"What's that?"

His heart skipped a beat. He pushed away the accompanying witch beside him. The witch fell to the ground with a thud. After waking up, she looked at Levi sadly and did not dare to say anything.

Levi came to the surface of the sea.

His Perception covered a radius of dozens of kilometers and he realized that some wizards were rushing towards him.

Levi's intuition told him that these wizards were here for this light.

"Could it be some kind of magical extraterrestrial ore?"

Many of the rare mineral materials in the Wizard World were not produced by the Wizard World. Instead, they fell into the Wizard World from outer space, which was the Land of Darkness, for some coincidental reasons.

For example, the Heavenly Fire Meteorite Iron that Levi had obtained previously was born like this, so it was very rare.

Levi happened to need to refine divine weapons—Golden Snake, Scarlet Dragon, and Sky Dragon.

Thus, after hesitating for a moment, he went to search for the place where the extraterrestrial item had fallen.

There was no reaction from Danger Perception, which meant that it was not a dangerous item.

At this moment, an object emitting dazzling starlight was floating and sinking in the sea.

If one were to take a closer look, they would discover that this was a miniature starry sky-colored pagoda.

The small pagoda was divided into nine levels. Its surface was pitch-black and ancient. There were also scratches, burn marks, and other signs of wear and tear. It revealed the aura of endless years.

Levi was the first to arrive because he was relatively close to the light but did not rashly go up and take it.

He only watched from afar. This thing could isolate Perception, so it was not an ordinary item.

"Is this a wizard tower? Or an ordinary tower-shaped Wizard Tool?" Levi was puzzled.

With a thought, he released Tyrant III.

After Tyrant III appeared, he quickly swam towards the small tower and quickly arrived in front of it.

"Pick it up."

Levi ordered.

As Tyrant III was putting it away, a water pillar suddenly spewed over. The violent impact blasted Tyrant a hundred meters away and he fell into the sea.

A pale-faced wizard in a green wizard's robe appeared. He looked at Levi with an unfriendly expression. "I accidentally left this treasure here. If you leave now, I can let this matter go."

"I'm sorry, I thought it was an ownerless item. Since it belongs to you, please take it." Levi smiled without hesitation.

"Thank you, Your Excellency."

The wizard smiled. After saying that, he went straight to the small tower.

Levi did not stop him.

He put away Tyrant and quietly watched as that guy used the Wizard's Hand spell to grab the small tower and put it into his storage space.

However, there was no reaction from the storage space.

"What the hell? I can't put it into my storage ring?" The green-robed wizard's expression changed.

Levi sneered inwardly.

He had seen this thing fall from the sky like a meteor. How could it belong to the green-robed wizard?

However, out of caution, he did not dare to easily take the unknown.

After all, he didn't even know what this thing was used for. Was it a trap?

He could use that guy as a guinea pig. If it was really something good, he could snatch it.

"It doesn't look like I can put it into an ordinary storage space. I wonder if Alice's ring can be put in. I don't think it works either..."

Although he could not accept it, the green-robed wizard could not bear to give it up.

He took the little tower and left quickly under Levi's watch.

The small pagoda in his hand flickered in the night, making him look like a lighthouse.

"That treasure has been snatched away by that green-robed wizard. Don't let him escape. Everyone, chase after him!"
