Chapter 886: Sudden Wealth, Undying Bird Fruit! (1)

Endless Sea.

Pharmacist Association Headquarters.

In the vice president's wizard tower.

While he was researching, Triss, who was wearing a black pharmacist uniform, wore a Wizard Tool that looked like a pair of glasses. It had a mature charm to it.

"Let Anya train with Levi and let him see how an ordinary person grows with his hard work and caution. This is also a good thing. With him and Levi around, even if there are ordinary Fourth-Circle Wizards, there's nothing to be afraid of.

"We can also take this opportunity to build a good relationship with Levi and become friends. In the future, we can also take care of each other during our journey as wizards."

That was Triss's idea to bring Anya into the operation.

Triss was once someone's wife. However, when Anya was still very young, her husband went on an interplane trip in search of a breakthrough opportunity. In the end, he met with an accident in a foreign land and never returned.

Since then, Triss has remained single and has not found a partner.

To a primordial soul wizard, a companion was just some spice for a lonely wizard. They had a gully in their chest and had seen the wider scenery outside the Wizard World. They had higher aspirations.

Triss arranged for Anya to stay in the Nether Capital and have her subordinates secretly raise her. After Anya fulfilled the conditions, they arranged for him to become an external wizard of the Witch's Family.

Anya was also extremely talented. He had a double affinity for underground fire, which gave birth to bronze. He was suitable to cultivate in the Bronze School. Furthermore, he had a second special talent, Bronze Blood. This allowed him to have an extraordinary affinity for metal elements. With the help of Triss, he embarked on the rare path of the Bronze School.

In Area 7 of the outer sea region.

Anya took the potion and recovered his spiritual force and spell power, preparing for the next round of spellcasting.

He somewhat understood why his mother had asked him to participate in this operation.

"I'm the offspring of two primordial soul wizards. I have both a double affinity talent and a Second Talent. I have had no worries about cultivation resources since I was young. I don't have to waste time looking for resources. I also have the personal guidance of a fifth-circle wizard butler.

"I thought that I was already a genius for becoming a peak third-circle wizard with three talents at the age of 250. But now, it seems that I'm just a frog in a well.

"Levi came from a desolate place in the human world and was of knight origins. He had only switched to wizardry halfway. Up until now, he had only cultivated for more than a hundred years, but he is already a third-circle senior wizard. Moreover, he is cultivating both body tempering and spells. At the same time, he is also a pharmacist... and has third-circle alchemical creatures. If he had not bought them, he would still be an alchemical wizard.

"On him, I see the shadow of Deep Blue Sage Luther. Although his background and his talent are average, he has great luck and perseverance. (Note: Luther is the Child of Chaos in the previous chapter.)

"A person like Sir Levi must have endured all the hardships in the world to reach his current status...

"In this aspect, I'm inferior to him. After all, in this chaotic era, the only person he can rely on is himself... The reason why he can achieve what he has today is all because of his hard work!

"Anya, you're not working hard enough!"

At this moment, Anya felt as if his soul had been sublimated.

"Mother, so you've already seen through all of this."

Anya could think of a long and inspirational legendary novel with Levi as the protagonist.

At this moment, his heart was touched.

"Third Talent, Copper King's Tribute!"

Anya's blood began to boil.

Behind him, a red cave with a diameter of about ten meters appeared, emitting endless red copper power.

A giant knight that seemed to be made of red copper rushed out on a red copper warhorse with a red copper greatsword in his hand.

Then, the giant knight rushed into the battlefield and stabbed a Third-Circle Wizard to death.

This was Anya's most powerful move.

"So handsome." After Lily, Rose, and the rest heard Anya's voice transmission, they immediately dodged and saw the shocking scene.

"I'm afraid that the liquefaction of spiritual force is about to begin for Sir Anya." Rose felt this terrifying power.

"Where did Sir Levi go?" Violet found that Levi was no longer on the battlefield.

"Sir Levi, I wonder what my move is like... Eh, where is he?" Anya's competitive spirit was aroused, and she wanted to show off in front of Levi.

Suddenly, a strange laugh came from behind.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk. Three innate spells. All of them are attacks, and there's not even a single defense. You're too arrogant... I wonder how someone like you managed to survive until now?"

A black sun traverses the sky above Anya.

Third-circle innate spell—Black Sun Tribute!

Anya's Wizard Tool, which was his robes glowed, and his third-circle protective force field was activated.

"Oh no, a dark wizard is using concealment spells to ambush Anya. He has just cast so many spells. Can his spell power keep up?" Lily was shocked and worried for Anya.

Boom!

Anya's fourth-circle Protective Wizard Tool blocked Black Sun's attack unscathed.

This was given to him by his mother, Triss. It could release a fourth-circle defensive spell to automatically protect its owner when facing a sneak attack. It was an expensive item worth hundreds of thousands of Aether Stones on the Nether Capital market.

"Damn rich people, damn descendants of the big families! Damn it, it's worth it to take one away before I die... The future Endless Sea will definitely have Black Sun! Long live Adam!" His eyes were fanatical.
