Chapter 901: Death of the Black-Eyed Crow! (4)

They were looking for medicinal herbs, ores, transcendent creatures, and other resources from the bounty missions of the holy temple. They were going to the holy temple to exchange for cultivation resources such as knowledge, secret medicine, and guidance from legendary knights.

On this day.

Outside the Ancient Saint Plane, faint flames tore through the sky and fell into it.

This flame passed through the clouds and finally appeared in the sky above the southern sea.

The Vast Sea King hugged a group of burly but curvaceous Lizardwomen in his arms and was about to make out.

There was a loud slap.

It was as if something had smashed the roof of the Vast Sea King's palace.

Tiles and stones flew everywhere.

The next moment, a pitch-black object smashed into the center of the palace.

The Vast Sea King was shocked and instantly could not take it anymore. His expression was sullen.

"Damn it, what's going on now? Where are the guards? Eh, what's this?" The Vast Sea King suddenly discovered that this thing was not an ordinary meteorite, but a pitch-black small pagoda.

The small pagoda had a total of ten floors and was emitting a dazzling light.

"This looks like a treasure..." The Vast Sea King's eyes lit up as he hurriedly got someone to lift this thing.

"Treasure, can you speak?" After the lesson from Excalibur, the Vast Sea King had learned his lesson.

After a while, no one answered.

"Your Majesty, why are you talking to inanimate objects?" the Lizardwoman asked in confusion.

"What do you know? This is a treasure. Guards, collect it for me..."

A month later.

On the island where the entrance to the Ancient Saint plane was.

Bo Gang was guarding this place conscientiously.

He sat at the array core of the King of Earth grand array and watched as the three Cave Wizards outside the grand array tried to break through.

"How many batches of people have died... I almost forgot." Bo Gang was expressionless.

So far, none of those humans had successfully entered the grand array.

The wizards seemed to have taken out some array items and were chanting.

"They want to break the array?" Bo Gang was alarmed.

After the wizards were ready, they sent the array items into the grand array of the Glory of the Four Kings.

The operation of the grand array seemed to have started to stagnate, and its power had decreased.

"It seems like it's the array wizard that Master mentioned. I have to get the four Ancient Saints over there to prepare to deal with the enemy."

Bogan quickly disappeared from the altar.

When he appeared again, he was already in the temple of the Ancient Saint Plane.

Four powerful Ancient Saints were cultivating in the four directions of the temple.

The Mountain Giant and the Ancient Saint had already exchanged greetings, so they were very familiar with each other.

"Are there foreign enemies who want to invade the Ancient Dragon Empire?" An Ancient Saint asked.

"That's right. It's three humans. I don't know their strength, but they shouldn't be stronger than Ancient Saints. Be prepared to deal with the enemy." After Bo Gang finished speaking, he hurriedly went out to preside over the array.

At this moment, in the array.

The three almost eyeless pale wizards were wearing the same black magic robe. They were the "Cave Wizards" mentioned by the Church. They came from a Level 5 Cave in the Forsaken Land of the God. The Cave Lord was a Fifth-Circle Wizard.

The Cave Lord ordered them to explore the world outside the Forsaken Land of the God and they accidentally discovered this island. If not for an array wizard, they might not have been able to discover that there was another world on this island.

"Be careful. Although this is a third-circle array, its actual power is not inferior to some fourth-circle arrays because it's a combination array.

"I observed for a while. The array in the direction of Earth should have an earth attribute transcendent creature guarding it. It's relatively dangerous there. Let's try our best to go around it...

"However, the more this is the case, the more it means that this array should exist to protect some important resources. I suspect that this is the secret realm entrance of a certain wizard organization.

"The wizard who set up this third-circle array has a very high level of arrays. He's probably not weaker than me... And the resources consumed to build such a huge array are also extremely terrifying."

Among these three Cave Wizards, there was a Fourth-Circle Wizard and two Third-Circle Wizards. One of them was even an array wizard.

It was precisely because they had array wizards that they were bold enough to barge into the grand array.

Boom!

At the King of Fire's array, fireballs fell from the sky one after another in an extremely dense manner.

"I'll do it!"

With a thought from this Fourth-Circle Wizard, his fourth-circle innate spell raised a huge black umbrella.

The innate spell, Sky Umbrella!

The fireballs landed on the black umbrella, causing it to tremble.

"Hurry up and enter the next water element array. The attacks there should be weaker. I won't be able to last long here," the Fourth-Circle Wizard said.

Under the guidance of the third-circle array wizard, they arrived at the King of Water's array without mishaps.

This seemed to be a world of water. Suddenly, a stream of water attacked them, binding one of the Third-Circle Wizards and dragging him into the water.

The Third-Circle Wizard had just escaped the restraint of the water current.

A terrifying hurricane blew over from the surface of the water, accompanied by wind blades.

Puff! Puff! Puff!

In an instant, the Third-Circle Wizard's protective force field shattered and he was cut into pieces. It was a tragic sight.

"Akasha!"

The other array wizard had an ugly expression.

"There's no time to mourn. We can only move forward now, or he'll die in vain," the Fourth-Circle Wizard said.

In the end, with the help of the array wizard and the powerful strength of this Fourth-Circle Wizard, they finally passed all the arrays.

They looked at the teleportation portal protected by the array and heaved a sigh of relief.

"As expected, this should be the entrance to a secret realm."
