

Wizard 923

Chapter 923: Successful Potion Concoction! (3)

Legend had it that the temple of the succubus queen floated above the pleasure water in the sea of pleasure. She spent her days having fun with those servants of desire. It could be said to be paradise...

"It's a pity that Master is too weak. Otherwise, that place would definitely be the paradise for his cultivation."

Miraya cleared her mind and made up her mind.

She took off all her clothes and lay on the bed.

In order to help her master, she had to hold a sacrifice ceremony for the succubus queen.

This kind of ritual consumed a lot of her origin strength, so she had never mentioned this method to Sorrett.

However, under the powerful influence of the Scarlet Contract, all the scarlet servants would be considerate of the Scarlet Dragon regardless of the consequences.

Master's mission was comparable to an oracle.

On the ceiling above Miraya's head, there was a mysterious array outlined by purple blood. In the middle of the array, there was a pattern. In that pattern, one could vaguely see a sacred and licentious woman wearing a blood-colored crown.

This was the god of all succubus, one of the strongest existences in the Abyss.

The Lady of Pleasure, Menas!

She was an existence that even the gods of the astral world were rather afraid of.

Now that the ritual was ready, there was only one last step left.

Miraya opened her mouth and blew gently. Purple smoke filled the air and enveloped the room.

Miraya gazed at the ceiling in a daze as the crimson dream that represented joy descended upon this place.

A majestic and burly figure seemed to appear on her body. It was wrapped in Hellfire and its scales overlapped, emitting endless pressure...

In her dream, she smiled sweetly and her voice became more and more hurried. These voices finally converged into a sacred chant that could not be blasphemed, echoing in the room.

"The great succubus queen."

"Eternal joy incarnation."

"The supreme Lord of Perverted Sins."

"The Mistress of All Life's Desires."

"Your servant, Miraya Millins! I pray for your pleasure!"

Outside the house.

Algerta gently leaned against the wall. Levi, who was constructing a spell model, also came and stood there quietly with a strange look in his eyes.

"How strange. What did Sister Miraya just recite?" Algerta said softly.

"She should be learning a foreign language from a secret existence... Let's go."

Seeing that Miraya was fine, Levi left calmly.

On the bed.

The weak Miraya waved her hand and covered herself with a thin veil.

She stood up. She was a little unsteady and her legs were weak.

"Hiss... As expected, sacrificing to the queen requires a huge price."

Miraya had never offered a sacrifice to the queen before, and this was her first attempt.

"Fortunately, it worked."

In her hand was a sealed test tube container.

There was only a pitiful fingernail amount of liquid inside.

The liquid was a dreamy crimson color. It was crystal clear and emitted a strange fragrance.

So much so that Miraya herself had the desire to open it and taste it.

"This won't do. I have to send it to Master as soon as possible. He said that this thing will only be useful within a day." Miraya flapped her purple wings and left the bedroom in an extremely weak manner.

The pattern of the array on the ceiling had already dissipated. It seemed that Miraya had washed it clean after the sacrificial ceremony.

Levi's seclusion place.

"Master, it is ready." Miraya's weak voice sounded.

"Give it to me," Levi said and removed the array.

Miraya pushed the door open and entered. Panting, she placed a test tube in front of Levi.

"Master, this is the Crimson Water... I'm too tired. If there's nothing else, I'll go back and rest." The succubus clutched her chest and said.

"Yes, you've worked hard. Although these potions are for wizards, you can also replenish your stamina and make up for your deficit after taking them." Levi handed her some potions.

Miraya was touched. Sorrett only knew how to have fun with her, but he never gave her any potions.

In this aspect, Master was still the best... He had her in his heart!

Her tail swayed. She had just experienced extreme pleasure and her enthusiasm had yet to subside.

"Anything else?" Levi asked.

"No... no more." Miraya smiled and left.

"Fortunately... Otherwise, I would have to let Lord Cang satisfy her."

Lord Cang was simply an old lizard in heat all year round.

Levi shook his head. Be it the transcendent creatures in Alice's ring, demons, fur clans, or Lizardmen.

Whether they were intelligent or not, it made no difference to Levi that they were not human.

He put away the Rowling Crystal, which displayed his latest data.

All kinds of Unknown Dragon Clan bloodlines fluctuated between 15% and 18%.

As for the human bloodline, it was as high as 90%!

"I've been doing this for so long, but there's still 90%... The path to ultimate lifeforms has a long way to go."

With the Crimson Water, Levi's Succubus Potion ingredients were complete.

He chose an auspicious day. After taking a shower and changing his clothes, he went to the Pharmacy laboratory.

"Although the amount of Crimson Water is small, the quality is relatively high. I only need one drop for each alchemy. This should be enough for me to refine three times. If I succeed once, I will definitely make a profit.

It would be even better if there were one or two extra portions. My Succubus Potion has to be sold for at least a million Aether Stones, right?

This increases the success rate by 30%. It's not something trash like the Deepwater Potion can compare to."

During this period of time, Levi had also learned from Miraya that the Crimson Water was not something that could be obtained just because one wanted it.