Chapter 963: Gargamel, Fourth Talent! (1)

Ancient Saint plane.

Emperor's Palace.

Logically speaking, the effect of the Lovers Rune should be relatively powerful.

After all, this rune involved the legendary luck attribute.

Luck might seem simple, but it could actually touch some very high-level rules.

As far as Levi knew, there were spells that could increase luck in the Wizard World.

However, most of them were related to astrology, prophecy, and wizard fields that few wizards were involved in.

Even most primordial soul wizards might not be able to touch this aspect.

Relying on the Rune Language, Levi could learn it at the fourth-circle stage.

Of course, the exact effect was unknown.

It was different from other attributes such as strength and speed. It was very difficult to measure the changes in the luck attribute.

It was just like some games in his previous life. When he added points to the character, he would give the character full luck. However, when he actually used it, he realized that... There seemed to be no change.

This was also the reason why Levi was not interested in Lovers Rune.

However, now that his spiritual force was sufficient, he might have to fight against a group of fifth-circle or even primordial soul experts in the Dark Ancient Tower in the future.

Levi felt that instead of learning some conventional Rune Language, he might as well take a more unconventional approach and try his luck.

It was fine if this thing was useless. If it was really useful, then its use would be great.

After half a year of hibernation, he had already engraved the [Lovers Rune] on the proficiency panel.

Levi-

[Lovers Rune: Level 1 (1/1000). Special Effect: Aries Constellation Power (Level 1)]

..

[Power of the Aries Constellation (Level 1): the Rune Language communicates with the Aries Constellation. The power of the stars will increase your luck. The current luck increase is 10%. In addition, your personal charm and fertility have also increased.]

"Luck increased by 10%... The problem is that I don't know how much my initial luck value is. If I'm not a chieftain, then this increase is better than nothing."

Levi felt helpless.

What made him even more speechless were the two attributes, 'personal charm' and 'fertility'.

Personal charisma was still acceptable. At the very least, if this was useful, he could use it to manage the team and increase the cohesiveness of the Knights, making them even more infatuated with their commander.

However, Levi felt that his fertility ability did not need to be improved anymore. It was just that he did not have a suitable target to use it.

"Let's first test if luck is useful..."

In order to test this, Levi created a series of cards similar to the card drawing game in his previous life.

He set up a fixed card pool and the number of precious cards.

He also set the card release rate at about 10%.

If luck was really effective, as long as Levi drew enough cards, he would be able to get lucky.

From a data point of view, his card drawing rate should be more than 10%.

That's why.

He really began to use this stupid method to test his luck.

This session lasted for three days and three nights.

He kept recording the data of the card draw and pulled out the cards with all his might.

Finally, he calculated the card rate.

"Eleven percent... The change is too small. I can't tell if it's because of the Rune Language or if it's a random deviation. Forget it, I'll just treat it as the Rune Language's blessing to give myself some psychological comfort."

A Level 1 Lovers Rune only increased his strength by 10%. Levi was determined to continue working hard.

If it was the same as the Chariot Rune and the Strength Rune, then the power increase should be the same as those two.

Theoretically, the Lovers Rune at level 7 should have a 60% increase in luck. At that time, it should be a little more obvious.

In the following period of time, Levi even stopped cultivating for a while.

Using half a year's time, he focused all his energy on the Lovers Rune and raised it to level 3.

Then, his luck increased by 20%.

Levi went through another three days and three nights of card drawing tests.

In the end, according to the data, his success rate reached 12%.

"Still not obvious... I haven't drawn enough cards, and the sample data isn't big enough, but I can feel it... This kind of luck attribute is still quite useful."

"Moreover, the cultivation speed of the Lovers Rune is much slower than the previous three. I'll slowly work on it in the future. This should be a late-stage rune."

Levi did not waste any more time on the Lovers Rune.

He placed his hand on the Klein Crystal.

[Spiritual Force: 215]

[Spell Power: 10750]

"In two years, I have condensed five drops of spiritual force dew. This speed can be said to be fast... However, I am still lacking. According to my current cultivation speed, I would need about 120 years to reach the perfection of 510 dew. Including the advancement time, I might need 130 years to reach the fifth-circle realm... However, I haven't taken any meditation supplementary potions in the past two years of cultivation, so my cultivation speed can still increase by a lot."

According to Levi's plan, he wanted to advance to the fifth-circle realm within a hundred years and enter the primordial soul realm before he was four hundred years old.

This kind of cultivation speed had actually far surpassed more than 90% of the Children of the Elements.

After all, he only spent one-third of his time on the path of the wizard. The other two-thirds were occupied by the path of knights and the Three Arts of Wizardry.

To him, this speed was just right.

The speed at which he advanced in the realms was also completely compatible with his state of mind and other aspects. It was not the kind of cultivation that was greedy and rash, leaving behind a lot of hidden dangers.
