Chapter 99: Breaking the Limit! (2)

The next step was how to deal with him. The enemy was in the open, while Levi was in the dark. He had to use this advantage well and deal with the enemy more securely.

Although he had the Frost Giant Armor, Levi was already very confident.

However, it was not wrong to play it safe.

Soon, the auction began. The auctioneer did not waste any time and began to auction the items individually.

Levi also wanted to see if he needed anything in this auction.

Then, the third item surprised Levi.

The beautiful auctioneer called out, "Red Pig Breathing Technique, the ancestral bloodline breathing technique of the Red Pig family that was destroyed a hundred years ago. The starting price is 20 gold coins, and each increment must not be less than 1 gold coin."

Before Levi could bid, the Earl of Silver Mountain in the VIP seats made a move.

"30 gold coins."

His voice was charming to hear.

Levi frowned. This was a basic Bloodline Breathing Technique. Why would the Earl of Silver Mountain want it?

Could he be a collector of breathing techniques?

"40 gold coins." Naturally, Levi wanted to take it down.

This Red Pig Breathing Technique was a strength-type breathing technique. He was just short of a strength-type breathing technique to break the limit of the Giant Rhinoceros Breathing Technique. He could not miss it.

As soon as he finished speaking, everyone's attention was on Levi.

"Who is this ungrateful brat? He dared to compete with the Earl of Silver Mountain for the breathing technique?"

"Probably a foreigner who didn't know he was the Earl of Silver Mountain." Levi wore a mask and was fearless.

Ultimately, he could finally make a move after bidding with the Earl of Silver Mountain.

The Red Boar Breathing Technique, which was not worth much, was sold for 100 gold coins and was eventually bought by Levi.

The Earl of Silver Mountain was indeed noble.

Even though he was humiliated by Levi, he sat there calmly, not using his status as an Earl to intimidate Levi.

Although the Earl of Silver Mountain was rich, the breathing technique was only for his collection. He still had to save the money for the Leviathan Armor auction.

"Very good. There shouldn't be any problems with breaking through the limits of the Giant Rhinoceros Breathing Technique."

Levi was in a good mood. He had gained quite a lot from the start.

However, his happiness did not last long before a bigger surprise drowned it.

The auctioneer came up with a small tray.

She lifted the black cloth covering the tray.

A dim blue light came from the tray like a blue flame in the dark auction hall.

Levi looked over and saw a dark blue stone the size of a walnut with countless tiny holes.

The stone's surface was full of holes, emitting wisps of dark blue mist. Looking from afar, it was like a blue flame rising.

"This is a gem from the Evernight Kingdom in the far north: Frost Heart."

"This gemstone is stunning. It is extremely cool in the hand. It would be like holding a piece of ice in the hot summer. Extremely comfortable."

"Moreover, this gem seems also to help people maintain their clarity and calmness, which helps cultivate breathing techniques. However, this effect is relatively weak."

"No matter what, the starting price is 30 gold coins. It would be a loss not to buy it. It would also be a good gift to your lover."

Levi was excited. This was not Frost Heart!

This stone with holes all over its surface and emitting a faint blue mist was the Core of the Undead recorded in the Spirit Exorcism Manual!

This was the most crucial casting material for Seal of Hell!

With this, Levi could cast the Seal of Hell.

He had to get it. No one would not stop Levi from getting the Core of the Undead.

He was already prepared to fall out with the Earl of Silver Mountain.

However, there was silence.

Dead silence.

No one was interested at all.

"What on earth? This eerie gem? Who dares to take it?"

"Ominous! I feel an ominous aura from the stone!"

"Wait a minute...I think I've seen this thing before. Damn it, this is something inside the Snow Demon's body! How can your auction house sell such things?" Instantly, the knights below sucked in a breath of cold air.

Although most people here had never seen the Snow Demon, it was notorious in the Evernight Kingdom.

Even though there were no traces of Snow Demons in the Emerald Kingdom so Far.

However, everyone's fear of what they thought was an "evil spirit" had penetrated their bones.

Therefore, no one bid for it after hearing it was an item from Snow Demons.

Only Levi, who did not believe it, called out the base price alone.

Levi was in a good mood. It was the right decision to come to this auction. A breathing technique book and the Core of the Undead were both items that he urgently needed.

It was a worthwhile trip.

Next, Levi quietly waited for the Leviathan Armor that he had consigned to be carried to the booth as the final item.

"Everyone, I'm sure everyone has been waiting for a long time." "Next, the heavyweight work of this auction will be on the stage!"

"The Leviathan Armor is an invincible battle armor that represented the strongest forging technology of this era, forged by Master Tyra, the Golden Warhammer, a genius Blacksmith Master who reappeared after spending half a year forging thousands of hammers with painstaking efforts!"

The shiny armor was so dazzling!

Everyone held their breaths!

"The starting price of this armor is 200 gold coins! Each increment must not be less than 10 gold coins! Now, let the auction begin!"

In an instant, the atmosphere of the auction was ignited entirely.

“210!” “230!”

“240!”

“400!” Sharktooth Knight looked at the excited nobles and shouted.

He had only brought 1,000 gold coins with him this time. He did not have much left to spend now. He looked at the Silver Mountain Knight.

The Silver Mountain Knight said calmly and elegantly, “500.”

Sharktooth Knight gave up.

After all, he could bring the Golden Warhammer Master back to Montenegro Mountain City. He could then ask him to forge another piece for him. Someone from the ordinary seats called out a price, “550.”

Levi thought 500 was the maximum, but he did not expect many wealthy people to be present.

Ultimately, Silver Mountain and the rich man in the ordinary seat began to bid. They won the Leviathan Armor at the sky-high price of 1000 gold.

"How rich." Levi was happy to see this.

In this auction, excluding the cost and the handling fee of the Shining Tavern, he had earned a net profit of 600 gold coins.

After the auction ended, he went backstage to get the Red Pig Breathing Technique and the Core of the Undead he had longed for before leaving quickly.

On the third day, the aftermath of the auction was over.

Only then did he change his appearance and become Master Tyra, the Golden Warhammer.

He rushed to the Shining Tavern and got his share.

On returning to the hotel, he knew someone was following him through his Perception. Naturally, it was the grand knight.

Then, a smile appeared on his face. He changed his route and headed out of the city.

"Come on, big guy. I've prepared a big gift for you.."
