

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

chapter 121-130

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

The school day passed normally, listening to the lessons, solving problems, handing in the work and homework to each respective teacher.

As someone who has lived for the second time, it would be a dishonor not to be at the top of school grades in my second life.

Although with the experience gained in my previous life, it is very easy for me to follow student life, especially in the part of schoolwork.

I don't know yet how the -Mystery of the Womb- works, I should have lost my memory. After my eyes lost the light I should have appeared in a world and crossed a river.

That river must have washed away all my experience in my past life and left a pure soul to enter the circle of rebirth, or maybe I should have drunk a soup from an old woman on the edge of a bridge that would have all memories and experiences washed away and discarded.

But since I didn't graze swimming in a river or before crossing a bridge I must have drunk a soup and only opened my eyes in a new body.

Thanks to the shock and trying to speak, my newborn voice exploded into an intangible scream and saved me from the spanking that every newborn should have as a welcome to life.

Perhaps because I was an already formed soul, I kept my eyes open trying to see and understand everything around me until I was tired and fell into an inevitable sleep.

So whenever I was awake the one I recognized as my mother was always by my side, as well as who I thought and she is my older sister and the other women in the house.

I have never seen a father, but having a family, even if it is a single parent, is already a great gain for someone orphaned.

My growth was healthy, and always protected in the arms of my mother, who, only on small occasions, lent me to be carried by the one I learned was my aunt and letting me be touched and caressed by my cousin and my sister.

That's how I grew up, quickly learning the language, struggling to support myself with my short legs, until I could take small steps and then start running.

Something that mom didn't like at all, since shortly after I got on the ground I started running away from her...

Everything would be fine if I didn't have memories, but I just wanted to get away from the shame of being cleaned and changed, as well as being breastfed.

So, potty training and eating by yourself, even if Mom cried and wailed, were things I had to learn to do quickly!

And that's how the eternal combat between my mom and me appeared, with mom always trying to catch me in her arms and me running, avoiding it for as long as I could.

Homeschooling life and playing with my sisters and cousin (also Aunt Odalis' daughters) are things I did with a smile despite having the soul of an adult.

And bathing with mom and Aunt Kaleria are things I did with a blushing face because I had the soul of an adult...

Thinking about all these years, I can say that I have had a fulfilling life which keeps a smile on my lips now.

And why do I think about this now? well...

"A thousand Golden Crystal Coins for your smile and all the stars in the sky for your thought"

"Huh? Hehe~ I accept the Golden Crystal Coins, but, even if you lower the stars... I won't tell you~"

"Xifia~ flirting with your best friend's girlfriend is not okay~"

"Fli... Flirt.. I'm not flirting with the girlfriend of.. Magen is not my best friend!"

"And Dianeira, in any case I would be boyfriend, not girlfriend" the positions must be reaffirmed.

"Uhnmm~ I don't know, the way you look, it looks like you're the girlfriend~

Besides, you don't have to think much to know what our Vremya is thinking about. She is looking at a drawing of a baby on the blackboard and dreams about when he will have a child~"

"I wasn't thinking that..."

"Vremya with a baby..." A soft, low voice was heard behind me.

"Tikshna... what are you thinking?"

"I... I'm not thinking with Vremya having a baby..."

"It's obvious that you're thinking about it..." xN

"Uguh..."

"Isn't it Vremya's future wife who has the baby? Professor Vitale has just made it clear that Pais cannot give birth to babies."

The professor of Biology in the study of the human body is a Pais (male) named Eve and lastnamed Vitale. He has no Familiar, he is one of the very few men in the human kingdom who did not manage to awaken a Familiar, but instead of surrendering to being a Pais protected by the kingdom he decided to study.

The Vitale family is a low-ranking noble family that is associated with my family. Or actually to the pharmaceutical industry of the Corinth family.

Being a man and not awakening a Familiar is not bad at all in this female-dominated society. Although his fate could be transformed into a Marriage Contract.

As necessary for pharmacology, the study of the human body is very important. Professor Eve Vitale is one of the few experts in this biological field who studies the Anatomy and Physiology of the Human Body.

There are very few Biology classes on the human body and you can only specialize if you study at the Academy hospital as well as at Professor Dhanvantari Eir's School of Medicine.

Then the last biology class was taught by Professor Eve and it was about human reproduction...

Professor Eve explained to us in broad strokes and in a general way about the Reproductive System, the Sexual Act, Fertilization, Gestation, and Childbirth.

As it is the first class, only the topics on the surface were touched, leaving Professor Eve an index of the topics that we will see in the second half of the school year.

And even though everyone here is the son of nobles, the girls were very enthusiastic about learning and the boys were shy with blushing faces.

As a two-life soul I wouldn't blush for these classes, though it only made me think of the mystery of life.

And from what I learned today in this class, and the common knowledge of the world, was Leif's comment next to me that only my wife could have the baby.

Although it is common knowledge that humans in this world have three genders, the truth is that there are only two, male and female.

Whether Ria came to this world to get into mischief with women and managed to evolve them into Nari Woman and Nira Woman is a separate matter.

But only women can get pregnant! Not men, women. Only women!

But despite the fact that I repeats it to me many times, there is something wrong...

"huhuhu~ I have the knowledge that Vrem..."

"Dianeira!, Ahem... Aren't you going to training already?" I could feel a demonic whisper in my ear as I heard the voice and words of this Black-bellied Archer.

Begin with. How did she find out?

By now, I feel like everyone knows about it inside my body.

I unconsciously put a hand on my belly.

"Will not Vremya join us?"

"No, I have something to do, and Professor Rudelle said that you have to train the fight without my assistance or my auxiliary magics.

"I'll go to the bathroom first, Say goodbye to Magen for me"

Keeping calm I started to store my school supplies in my backpack. But with my eyes I transmitted signals to Dianeira of anger and asking where she found out.

Anyone would think that without Magen my surroundings would be more peaceful, but no. Although my fake girlfriend went to the bathroom after Professor Eve walked out the classroom door, the chaos around me doesn't ease one bit.

"Great, guys, let's go to the bathroom too!" Kjell stood up cheerfully and said.

Leif and Freyr started stockpiling their school supplies as well and got up.

"Okay, Destan, are you coming?" I said looking at Destan who still has a flushed face.

Let's go... The blush on the faces of Leif, Kjell and Freyr has already disappeared, why you are still blushing about sex education?...

But seeing the blush on the Isekai boy's face, I subconsciously activated my spatial power and the status window appeared before my eyes.

But what caught my attention was Destan's square of thoughts.

The real world is very different from the RPG video game, by the way, what is the daughter's name?...

And then who is the father of the daughter, does Vremya marry Magen in the end?

But they are not just fake girlfriends....

... And...

So....

... But

"AHHH!"

"Vremya!"

"Be careful..."

BOOM~

"Ara~ now how are you going to deny it Xifia~ "

*POM*Door Opening Loud Sound*

"I'm back YOOO!"

"Hey? What are Xifia and Vremya doing on the ground?"

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

After waiting for some time under the shade of a tree in the parking lot of the Academy, I heard the voice of my date.

"YOOO Vremya~

Hey? Why do you have such a red face?"

After what happened in the classroom, I can't get all these things out of my mind. Because of Destan's stupid thoughts, I stumbled towards Xifia and dragged her to the ground.

Luckily, Xifia's agility and dexterity are high to make an agile movement and thus make me fall on her and not hurt me.

I have to say that any girl would fall for one who sacrificial move of a boy who did the same thing that Xifia did.

Although the reward for her sacrifice came instantly when I kissed her on the lips when we fell to the ground...

Xifia's lips taste fresh yet warm like the sun in the morning.

Since this accidental event caused by Destan's strange thoughts, I have felt my face burning even after pouring water on my face when I went to the boys' bathroom.

"Nothing! And what's that YOOO coming for?"

"Your girlfriend says a lot -YOO- I thought you'd like that~"

"Forget that. You're late..."

"Sorry, it's hard to get rid of my group, we had to plan and get everything ready for our trip tomorrow. And I had to sneak away so that Sera wouldn't see me go out with her brother~"

"Sera knows we're going to get out"

"BUU~ so why did I try so hard to escape without her noticing me, that explains why she seemed to avoid laughing..."

By the way, why in the parking lot? Aren't we going to go to the secret forest cabin?"

"Will you ask me out on a date at a cabin?"

Come on, open the door of your vehicle"

"But the marbled meat is already in the frozen closet of the cabin..."

"Perfect, I can eat it afterwards ~ Let's go quickly, I only have an hour and a half to two hours free before they ask for my location and come to pick me up. Do you want to continue talking here?"

"Fine, well, I understand... you always so bossy~"

"Hum~"

"By the way, you haven't told me why you have a red face..."

"Noting!" I got into Liana's vehicle after she opened the door for me, ignoring her question.

How he may be thinking about those things in class. And if he is going to think about that, why don't he think everything complete, not by small sentences!

Very rarely does Destan think about things related to the story of this world in the RPG-style video game of his world.

And when he thinks of the Lore of his video game, he only thinks of the unnecessary and not what is really needed from the main Lore! Neon Isekai boy, here we are fighting an invading alien race!!

¿But... the Vremya of his video game has a daughter?...

I can't stop thinking about it, and I feel my face burning...

I shook my head to clear myself of unnecessary thoughts.

"All the stars of heaven for your thoughts"

"Ehhhh~ that's what you tell everyone?"

"Ains~ since you entered the Royal Academy nothing impresses you anymore.

Where is the innocent and pure Vremya~"

We travel for a few minutes to the south of the city until we reach the Vig Fysan district, it is almost eight o'clock in the day or on my 24-hour clock it is almost sixteen o'clock or four in the afternoon.

"Pleasure District?"

"It's not what you think! There is a good restaurant in this district with a variety of sea and land food"

"Great, it's hungry now~

Hey!"

My body shuddered, as I looked down, I saw Liana's hand on my thigh.

"Oops, I'm sorry, my hand came down by itself, hehe~"

"..." we continue arguing.

The Vig Fysan District, despite being early you can see all kinds of people walking everywhere.

Although it is the second time I have come to this Tourist District, I am still impressed by the variety of races in this world.

See all kinds of girl-beasts, such as girls with cat ears, girls with dog ears, girls with bunny ears, girls with feathers, girls with scales...

"... I have not seen of the race of the sea"

"Had you already come to the Vig Fysan District?"

"Mm! With Nerissa"

"How bad... I thought I was going to be your first time~"

"Liana, why are you always talking with your double entendre? Where did you learn that from?"

"Huh? Vremya understand?"

"How can I not understand!" In my past life I studied in public school the first school years, how can I not understand the double meaning and the albur things!!

After a moment, we arrived at the front of a restaurant with a sleek façade. Although I wanted to say elegant, I would say exaggerated and explain better.

It is a building that is six stories high and has an architecture with geometric shapes, it looks like an abstract painting. Although the good thing is that it only has one color and that is white.

I had already seen it the first time Nerissa brought me to the tourist district, but I always thought it was some kind of hotel not a restaurant.

If you get used to seeing it, you can say that it is elegant...

"And do we have a reservation? If it's so elegant, maybe they won't let us in without a reservation..."

An elegant woman opened the door on my side of the vehicle, Liana handed her the vehicle and taking me by the arm led me to the entrance of the restaurant.

But obviously I wasn't wrong, this is a hotel!

"Good morning Young Master Liana"

"Liana?" I looked up at Liana and she just smiled at me.

A well-dressed young woman came to greet Liana with a slight bow.

The young woman seems to be very professional and gives the air of being the Hotel Manager.

"Hello Manager Nana. I'll be in my Penthouse. Please have the kitchen send two portions of stuffed fish fillet..."

Liana began to order different dishes of food. Then, when she finished, she directed me towards what appears to be some elevators.

She doesn't even introduce myself to the manager of the place or ask myself if there was anything else I wanted or if the dishes were enough...

"This place?" Liana pressed a gem into the wall and a sliding door opened showing a small room. After entering, the door closed. Liana ran a Token across a board and I felt the floor move.

"It's called Elevator, my Penthouse is located up to the top floor, you didn't expect us to go up stairs, did you? The Elevator is a device that was invented to be able to reach high places and go down into deep wells..."

"I know what an Elevator is! I'm asking about this place referring to this Hotel, you told me it's a restaurant and it's not!" I pulled away from Liana's arm and stomped on the floor to show my disagreement and crossed my arms.

"I didn't lie to you. The first floor, on the right side is the restaurant. But I don't want to eat with you in public and there's no need to ask for a private box if I have a place of my own."

Ding~*

The sound of a soft bell rang, and the elevator door opened gently. Looking outside I could see a room now elegantly arranged. But the strange thing this time is that it looks a lot like the style of my house.

"This is it?"

"Huhu! How is it going. You like it? Its decorated it in a style similar to your Villa, but with a few different slight touches"

Out of curiosity I entered the living room, moved my legs and began to walk observing my surroundings.

Although the materials and decorations are the same as at home, it is true that it has its own style.

"Why did you decorate your place just like my house Liana?"

"When this building was built, each special room had a unique and original interior design. Envoys from the other kingdoms and important people have stayed here.

But when I found out that this Penthouse used the same materials as those used inside your Villa, I asked Mom to reserve it for me."

"So you didn't decorate it like that on purpose?"

I was about to ask for help and walk away from a pervert~"

"Hey! Anyone would say it's romantic"

"No! Anyone'd says it's scary!"

"But..."

"There are no buts!

And why did you want a hotel room with the same design as my villa... Don't respond"

"Ugh!"

"Do you have drinks?" I arrived in the kitchen with Liana and asked her.

"There are only common drinks like juices. and alcohol"

"Juice is ok thank you"

Liana opened the small frozen room and came out with three bottles of liquids inside. I took a couple of glasses and sat down on some high benches in the central kitchen island.

I've known Liana for years. The Alfina family is a commercial family with only a simple noble title that is not transmitted by inheritance.

It grew little by little as it was a caravan that was born by trading between the new settlements that were being formed about a hundred years ago.

It seems that Liana's great-grandmother had a lot of brains for business and also a lot of luck managing to create a large commercial company.

The Alfina family transports wine back and forth within the human kingdom as fish and seafood from port cities and towns near the sea to towns and cities in the interior of the continent.

They also transport grains, cereals, and other agricultural products, as well as meat from poultry animals.

The Alfina family has also traded with the allied kingdoms, selling daily necessities to the kingdoms of the Beast clans and buying meats from them, as well as selling cereals, fruits and vegetables to the wood elves and buying fabrics, jewelry and luxury products from them.

The Alfina family's caravans go all over the place and give the Adventurers of the Adventurers Union a lot of Jobs.

They are a really important family in the economy of the Human Kingdom, that's why each matriarch of the Alfina Family is granted a noble title but the other members of the Alfina family are actually Civilians like Liana.

So the Villa where Liana and the Alfina family live is in the same area as my house and that's how one day Liana came home when we were about six years old when her family and my family signed an agreement on the transportation and distribution of medicinal materials as well as potions and medicinal pills.

Liana started coming home to play and became best friends with Sera and me, although she almost never got along with my sister Vasilisa.

But then when my sister and Liana entered the Academy at age 11, Liana stopped coming home very often and only went with my sister occasionally.

By the time I wanted to ask why, I began to receive news, from my younger sister, that Liana had gotten into trouble with this girl or that girl.

Then I deduced that Liana might be homosexual and liked girls, but apparently my sister wasn't Liana's type, so they were still just best friends.

But there were times when Liana would flirt with me and that would cause me to fall into confusion.

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

In my hands I hold a cold glass full of juice. As the condensation of the water forms droplets throughout the glass, I wonder why the droplets form outside the glass and not inside.

My nails clinked against the glass as I used small wind currents to evaporate the water condensation droplets.

Meanwhile, Liana opened a bottle of wine and poured herself some wine into a glass. From the golden-blue liquid emanated a soft smell of sweet alcohol.

The grapes of this world give a blue juice when squeezed, so the wines of this world have different shades of blue depending on their quality.

The flavor of the wine is sweet and fruity and for the palate of the ladies it is very exquisite.

Even though I've been banned from drinking alcohol, it's not like I haven't taken it on the sly.

Beer does not exist in this world, which is the saddest thing...

Liana after pouring herself her glass of wine, walked towards me and crossed an arm around my waist.

"How about I take you to see the house"

Although the materials used for the interior design of this Penthouse are identical to those used in my house, the design of the kitchen is very different. But I think it's the design focused on the guest and not on the servants.

Since there is a large island in the center of the kitchen in the shape of a diamond and there are benches on two of the four sides, it is easy for Liana to hug me from the back.

"Liana..."

"How about I show you the Master Bedroom ~ ..."

"Yiii~"

Where are you touching!?"

Liana's hand on my waist began to go down to my thighs as she pressed herself against my back.

"I'm just testing the softness of the fabric of your clothes"

Looking down, I could see Liana's fingers leaving fingerprints on the skin of my thigh.

"Liana, please sit here.

To begin with, this was a Date, first you had to walk, go see a play, I don't know.

But you brought me quickly to eat and not at the restaurant but at your own home, that's not a date..."

Point to the bench in front of me.

"But... I..."

"Okay, we can do that later, but since we're here we can talk right now ..." I said, still pointing to the bench in front.

"Fine..." Liana had only to let go of me and sit on the bench on the central kitchen island. She also drank the glass of wine in one gulp.

Although Liana maintained her usual façade, with that nihilistic smile and her typical flirtatious movements of a playboy, or playgirl. In her eyes I could see nervousness, shyness, and fear.

"Before we get to the main point. I would like to understand something.

Why did you suddenly stop going home to play with me?"

"Huh? I..." For a moment the smile faded from Liana's face and her eyes seemed to go out. Then his eyes closed a little and a fake smile began to appear on her lips.

"And don't lie!" I said out of the blue, tapping my glass of juice on the table and leaning my body forward in Liana's direction.

My knees were close together and my feet together on a lower bar that serves to support my feet. Ready to pounce on Liana if she starts talking nonsense again.

"Ehh.. heh..." The fake smile on Liana's mouth froze and with a sigh a soft and real smile appeared drawn on her lips.

Liana poured herself another glass of golden-blue wine and took another drink.

"... I heard my parents talk about an arranged marriage... It doesn't matter with whom..."

You know I've always been very good at math, and I have the talent to lead a company.

When my Summoning Ritual was completed and I managed to sign a contract with a Familiar, my family was very happy.

You know I'm the first in my family to have a Familiar.

The Kingdom gives a hereditary noble title to a family that has two lines of successors with Familiar summoned.

Then, if I managed to give birth to a child who, at the age of eleven, will also invoke a Familiar, my family will finally be able to have a hereditary noble title, and not just a noble title for life.

The Castle has been demanding much tribute with every lifetime title of our family and when it was my turn to succeed my Mother's office, the family would have to hand over a quarter of our property to the Castle..."

"Iiissss! A quarter, that's too much!!" Take a deep breath. I didn't know that Liana has a marriage arrangement...

Due to the war, all nobles must contribute to the Royal Castle to maintain logistics, equipment, etc.

Although there is no longer a King (woman) in the Castle, they still call it tribute.

The Alfina family has not existed since the time of the Hero Queen nor has it made a great contribution to the Human Kingdom, they are purely merchants.

But since Liana's great-grandfather, there seems to be an obsession with acquiring a Title. And I wouldn't be surprised if since Liana acquired a Familiar, the matriarch and the elder leaders of the Alfina family now do everything they can to get the much-desired Hereditary Title.

Why do those who manage to sign an invocation contract with a Family Member obtain a title of nobility? Because of the savior of this world!

The Hero Queen is the first human to sign a contract with an otherworldly being and acquire the first Familiar.

Not only did she bring cultivation methods to every race in the world, but she also allowed everyone to have the opportunity to contact beings from other worlds to sign a contract.

Unlike the other realms where they have their own ancestral ways of acquiring power and strength, the human race is very weak physically and spiritually. The Familiars gave the Humans the opportunity to stand on the front lines without fear.

Although there are combat professions in the Union of Adventurers such as Warriors, Mages, Archers, etc. Achieving great power is very difficult. So it is very rare for them to acquire a noble title and lands to rule.

"But what does that have to do with you hurting girls (niras) everywhere?"

"Cough... I didn't hurt girls..."

Okay, don't look at me like that...

Because my parents wanted to betroth me, and I had feelings for someone else, it occurred to me that I could ruin the marriage contract if I wasn't a good prospective wife..."

Liana looked away trying not to look at me and her face became blushing.

But he quickly turns to look at me.

"Why are you looking at me like this?"

"Are you stupid?"

"I'm not stupid!"

"I'm not going to say anything about how old you were when you started acting like that..."

But, and after so many years without announcing your engagement. Why did you keep acting like this?"

"Why..."

I..."

"What did you want to do with Thea?"

"I didn't want to do anything...."

"And those friendships you get together with"

"Don't scold me anymore..."

"Ains (sigh)

A girl (Nari) who behaves like this, as you just said; is not a good prospect. How could I trust you?

People who are like that don't change..."

After I stopped talking, I could see how Liana's body trembled almost imperceptibly. Her gaze went down to her glass of wine, and it seemed that her eyes were beginning to shine like water.

Won't she start crying, will she?...

"I don't want to marry anyone but you.

Vremya, I've always been in love with you."

Liana raised her face and fixed her eyes on mine. It seemed like tears were about to fall at any moment.

Liana now had a serious look. But her hands were now holding the cup tightly.

Liana, literally, has just confessed.

At least she is not like Ragna's lunatic who only take without asking. But I certainly didn't expect it from Liana.

Now that I think about it, has someone proposed to me?

Uh... this Magen, but that was only because of Professor Rudelle... well, I'll give points to Magen just for that.

But now what do I say?

Now Liana's eyes see me as a puppy waiting for the decision that would change her life, adopt or abandon.

I left my juice glass, now empty, on the white marble of the central kitchen island. I got up from the bench with a little jump and walked towards Liana.

In less than ten seconds my hands took Liana's cheeks and my lips sealed her lips.

I could feel Liana's stiff body at first and then her body began to relax, and Liana began to respond to my kiss, first softly and tenderly and then she began to penetrate between my lips with her tongue.

After a short-long time I parted my lips from hers and a liquid silver thread hung between Liana and me.

By this moment, Liana's position sitting on the bench had turned towards me leaving our bodies facing each other. Liana's hands had landed on my hips.

"Fine, I'll give you a chance, but with the first failure of yours, I'll kill you!" I gave her the most serious look I could give Liana. Looking her straight in the eye.

"EHHH!~ But you have a girlfriend, and Sera..."

"It doesn't matter! Do you want to or not?"

Besides, if you really want to be with me, you will sign a contract, and only I will be your only one for you, as you be my Familiar!"

Liana will have no choice, the heart mark is very powerful and it's like signing a master-slave contract.

Unless Liana surpasses my spiritual power on a grand scale, she can never get rid of me. And the heart mark may be set up so that -little Liana- never stands firm with anyone but me.

And with the skill -GPS- I will always know where Liana is. So it's like she's always in my hand.

"A contract?..." Liana's hands went down from my hips to my thighs.

But Liana made a puzzled face as if she thought the meaning of my words and as if I didn't notice the movements of her hands.

"Okay, okay. I accept..."

"AHHH! What are you doing, put me down"

"HAHAHAHA Great. At last, Vremya is my girlfriend~"

"Stop going around! and I be boyfriend!!!"

"HAHAHAHA~"

I thought Liana lowered her hands to my legs because she was a pervert. But when she said the word -accept-, she got off her bench and She easily lifted me into the air.

Then she started jumping and circling around the kitchen.

"Come on! I'll show you the Master Bedroom~"

"Wait! I haven't accepted that yet, put me down."

"HAHAHAHA"

"Stop laughing..."

Ding~ Ding~* Ding~*

Liana was already on her way to a staircase that led to a second floor when the sound of a soft bell was heard.

Liana stopped and asked, looking towards the elevator door.

"Who is it?"

"Silly, didn't you order food? Bring me down to receive the food." Liana reluctantly lowered me complaining.

"Tsk, I should have asked for them to be delayed..."

When Liana was heading towards the outside of the Penthouse in the direction of the elevator. Something abruptly changed the atmosphere.

WUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUU...

"Vremya! What's going on?" Liana screamed from below as she watched me fly.

"It's the earthquake alarm!! Liana, have your hotel manager evacuate guests!"

"Alarm? Earthquake? What's that??"

"Just do as I tell you!"

"Vremya! Hold on!! Damn!!" Liana turned around as she said a few things to the boy who brought the food.

The boy, although puzzled, ran to the elevator and went down quickly. Maybe I should remind the city administration to teach that in case of emergency the elevators should not be used...

Liana took the cart that contained our food to the house, but for my part, I soared higher into the sky to have a view of the city.

Then, a golden sparrow appeared next to me. Quickly grab the piece of paper in her claws.

[Vremya. Are you testing the alarm from the underground sensors?]

There was nothing more to it than this question. But I knew who the sender was when I met the golden sparrow.

[No. Attack, Vig Fysan District]

I replied quickly, folded the piece of paper, and wrote the name of the headmistress of the Royal Academy. A pure white sparrow appeared, took the paper, and disappeared after flying a few meters.

"Vremya!" Liana came out of the house and shouted at me from below.

I sent one of the three projections of little fairies floating beside me toward Liana. The fairy circled around three times, throwing small specks of light on Liana.

After three laps the fairy disappeared. A new fairy appeared next to me and Liana began to float.

"ah, AH, AH! What did you do to me?" Liana started kicking in the air and I thought it was very funny.

"Calm down, I just gave you some Fairy Dust so you could fly, feel the energy I lent you, try to control it and make it take you to me," I explained to Liana.

As Liana began to spin and grope as if swimming, I saw sparrows begin to appear on the main street of the Pleasure District.

The National Guard began to mobilize quickly and people were bewildered. No one knew what was going on except the National Guard.

Women in armor of mail and plates with long spears went to every store and business to explain. Some people listened to members of the National Guard, but others seemed unimportant.

"Vremya, what's wrong?"

"We are under attack"

"Why don't we go down to the street?" Liana said a little uncomfortable as she was floating at a great height.

"Nn. We can't even know where they're going to come from..." I Shake my head. I've taken ten breaths since the alarm started sounding.

Then, a light shone in the sky and a blue dome covered the entire city.

"This..." both Liana and I and everyone below was surprised.

With this sample now everyone is sure of what is happening.

As we looked at the blue energy dome, a few dots quickly appeared and grew larger as they fell in the direction of the city.

POOM POOM POOM POOM POOM POOM POOM POOM

Eight large objects the size of houses crashed into the city's force field. They looked like closed cocoons, dark gray and black, with black tentacles that moved strangely.

With the impact, the people below in the streets began to get scared and now they were following the instructions of the members of the National Guard.

"Vremya..."

"It's not over," I said, now with my eyes open to spatial perception.

The impact had semi-obstructed the view of the sky filling the air with dust and bits of strange objects. But behind them came some flying beings.

First, some small units appeared, but in large numbers. I mean small because the creatures that appeared behind in my vision are much larger.

By the time the dust was accented, these small units had already arrived and slammed into the city's energy shield.

With my normal sight and my spatial sight I could appreciate its shape, it is about two meters in size, like a larva, with two wings with membranes that look fragile and thin but the surface of its skin is covered by chitin as well as the entire body of the creature.

They have a worm-mouth-shaped opening in the front with many sharp teeth and on the underside of their body they appear to have a spear-like protrusion with a finger-like joint and a sharp claw. It is also dark gray and with black tentacles sprouting horribly from its body.

"Scourge Zerg..." I muttered as I watched as they slammed into the city's energy shield.

"Drwgynen Explosives!"

"The Aliens are attacking us!!" Liana next to me, now she was as stiff as a board, she exclaimed in surprise.

As I finished writing on more pieces of paper, the ground below us began to shake and the people on the street screamed.

My white sparrow took the letters just as a hole opened in the square in front of the great statue of the Hero Queen.

I flew quickly towards the square, falling like a glider. Thanks to my control of the air, I reached the square in less than half a second.

I sent all my little fairies flying and toasting fairy dust in the area where I had already found the tunnel saving the people in the square from certain death by falling.

"AH!"

"Mom!"

"I'm flying"

"..."

A series of exclamations could be heard as I used the air current to pull all the people out.

In the half-second later, the hole in the ground rapidly expanded and the entire ground of a section of the square sank into the void.

And in the next second, a wave of Zerglings gushed out like ants coming out of the Anthill.

"{Tornados!}" From my hands flowed mana cyan, and three twisters-wind were born instantly, keeping the ants, Zerglings, in the anthill.

The tornados were large and injected with a lot of fairy wind element mana and space energies.

It looked like there were three blenders ravaging the aliens trying to get out of the hole in the ground. But, although my tornadoes kept the aliens at bay, there were some that escaped from the net due to the large number.

But thanks to my timely attack, I gave enough time for support to arrive. Around the pit they have begun to gather Adventurers as well as Summoner Warriors and began to hunt down the Dune Runners.

But the Zerglings weren't the only thing coming out of the tunnel. Roaches began to spit their corrupt acid at my Tornados, drowning the tornados and managing to disintegrate.

Spears that seemed to be made of dry branches were also heading in my direction. But thanks to my wind control I dodged them easily and directed the spears towards the walls of buildings where there were no people who could be in danger.

Then, in the Zergling wave, Hydralisks and Roaches began to emerge.

A dwarf with a beard and very muscular brown hair lunged with a large, heavy axe with a great leap and thrust the axe into a Hydralisk and split its head in half. But a Roach spat out of his gray acid.

I quickly conjured a bubble to protect that dwarf who had just raised a large and heavy shield in preparation for the Roach's attack with acid.

I also used the moment to conjure mana bubbles with space blessing to all the adventurers who had come to fight the alien invasion.

The bearded dwarf smiled at me and gave me a thumb.

Alongside him more began to appear – Tank Warriors – and arrows and other attacks began to be released from behind.

A war began in front my eyes and my heart began to beat rapidly, and my brain began to secrete adrenaline. My perception of space kept the whole place under my attention. Sometimes I threw wind blades and sometimes I released magic bubbles.

Liana had long since appeared next to me and was holding a magic staff in her hands as she threw all kinds of magic like fireballs, ice balls, electric shocks like balls.

The Liana Staff is long, about two meters, it seems to be made of a tree branch that, although straight, has a smooth curve.

The magic staff is colored from a very light wood, almost looking like it is made from a light brown girl's hair.

At the top of the cane the wood of the branch expands and opens like a crescent moon. In the center is a white gem from which emanates a clear milky light and is supported by the wood of the Staff.

The entire staff glows in colors according to the magic that Liana is using. Orange for fire magic, blue for ice magic, purple for lightning magic.

Liana also has the ability to place mana bubbles. It's the first time I've seen Liana fighting alongside her Familiar. The staff not only aids her in her magic, but has also given her a sky blue mage outfit with stars emblazoned on the bottom.

And so, Liana, Me, and a lot of people of many different races, like girls with cat ears, girls with dog ears, girls with bunny ears, very big girls with elephant ears, tall girls with small winged ears with long horns, girls with bird wings, beautiful girls with long ears attacking with bows.

Sure, there are men too, but they're elven archers, dwarves, and dwarves who attack with magic in close combat and weapons like maces and axes.

There are also some men and women with gray skin in different shades, some even gray become infinitely close to black, but they are very tall and have red or blue eyes. They attack with a magic I had never seen.

There are also people who appear to have fish scales, as well as aquatic features on their face and body. Many different thinking species are fighting together against invading corrupted insects.

While keeping my eyes on the Adventurers and Summoner Warriors who might be in danger. I also cast auxiliary and support magics. As the time of battle went on, more and more people had flower crowns on their heads and fought more frantically against the waves of Zerglings, Roaches, and Hydralisks.

Then a series of flashes made me look up and I could see many violet phoenixes with electrical currents flying and attacking the invading aerial aliens.

I could also see how a huge phoenix stood in the air and a beautiful blonde-haired woman stood calmly on the phoenix.

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

Many phoenixes with violet lightning and thunderbolts were hunting down the Scourges that were still left in the sky preventing them from crashing into the city's force field.

And even with the arrival of the Mutalisks, several lightning phoenixes descended on the Vig Fysan district and began attacking the aliens that came out of the hole in the ground.

"Liana, help evacuate the wounded" With the arrival of Mom's phoenixes the aliens' pressure on us decreased.

Changing my strategy to support, together with Liana and others, we began to take the injured Adventurers and Summoner Warriors to the main street away from the Hero Queen's square.

Although I could see that Liana trembled at times, she behaved in a professional manner. Liana could control her magic for support, and together with other Adventurers we have managed to evacuate the wounded.

Thanks to my healing magic and the sacred fire of Sera's phoenix I can prevent anyone from dying from injuries.

But something inside me was telling me that it's not over yet.

In the Sky, Mom was still fighting the waves of flying aliens, and now next to her was another blue phoenix helping in attack and defense.

"WoW~ Aunt Miroslava and Aunt Kaleria are really powerful. They can summon shadows of her Familiar without limits"

"Mm" I nodded.

When you reach a level of agreement with your Familiar, you can call Familiar Clones. A Summoner Spirit Master can create two to dozens of shadows of the Familiar.

Taking the case of Magen, she can now generate an extra shield apart from her Sacred Shield and protect someone with this extra shield, but that's an ability of her Aegis Shield.

When Magen reaches the level of Spirit Master Summoner, she can easily generate two to dozens of shadows of the Sacred Shield with at least three-quarters of the total power of her Aegis Holy Shield Familiar.

And each Shield Shadow will have all the abilities of the Main Shield.

In the case of a type of biological Familiar like Tikshna, when she reaches the power of a Spirit Master Summoner, she will be able to summon two to dozens of shades of Nandi, the Divine White Cow of Fertility.

And what about concept types? Well, all Familiars are unique individual entities. If someone signs a contract with the fire element, they will be a Familiar of a Fire Elemental, not the fire itself.

There are no Summoner Warriors who sign a contract with a concept such as "Life" or "Death". But if they have a talent with these concepts, they will sign a contract with some "Goddess of Life" or some "Angel of Death" or another entity with these powers.

And in the Main City of the Human Kingdom there are no lack of Great Spiritual Masters Summoners.

But even so I feel strange, the headmistress of the Royal Academy has not appeared even though she is one of the first people to understand the alarm and she wrote to me the moment the alarm sounded.

There's also our lead teacher Rudelle. Who is the youngest Spiritual Saint Summoner in all years.

In the Imperial City there cannot be only my family...

CLAC CLAC* CLAC* CLAC* CLACK*

"Wow~

At last these arrived; -Silberrinnen-"

Liana exclaimed when the sound of galloping horses began to be heard.

Looking at the source of the noise, I saw the legendary cavalry of the Human realm. The Legion of the Silver Knights – Ritterine Silebar – or the name given to it by the people -Silberrinnen-. Each member of the Order of the Silver Knights is commonly referred to by people as -Silberrin-.

In front of me I recognized the leader whom I have not seen much lately.

Each rider wears a beautiful and elegant silver-colored plate armor, silver armor covers the vital parts of each Knight and is not an armor that covers the entire body. They wear a diadem on their foreheads that covers their heads with a pair of silver wings on each side. Each rider looks like an Athena goddess and rides the world's powerful and beautiful horse, The Legendary Pegasus.

and at the forefront goes the most powerful Summoner Warrior of the Royal Academy and Leader (Interim still) of the Ritterine Silebar Order, Ingrid Athenahotep.

When the Cavalry arrived near us, each Pegasus spread its wings and flew over us heading straight for the aliens.

Ingrid gave me a look and a nod. Although it didn't look like it, I could see a trace of joy and concern in her eyes when she saw me.

"BAH~ The Silberrinnen are always late as always..."

"Not even three minutes have passed yet..."

"BAH~ Each Silberrin is more conceited than the last, especially its Leader.

Although I have to admit to being jealous of her Dubrawennen."

I gave Liana a white eye and continued to help with support magic and healing magic. My little fairies worked endlessly conjuring spells of all kinds.

I have to thank the mysterious spatial energy in my body that gives me a unique ability of perception. If it weren't for my view of the white world, I wouldn't be able to properly coordinate my magics and my mentality would be exhausted faster.

Each little Fairy is just a representation of my power as Fairy Queen that I was taught by ancestor Keira, the Hero Queen, to have precise control over my fairy magic and is a very good technique for multitasking.

You can say that every little Fairy of Light is like a little me, but you can also say that every little Fairy is like an extra hand. I've just learned how to project a third fairy and thanks to that I can continue to conjure up to four spells at the same time and thus maintain a support over dozens if not hundreds of Adventurers and Summoners Warriors who are fighting against aliens.

Although a cavalry platoon has just arrived, I have no problem buffing them as the Lightning Phoenix and Water Phoenix have helped a lot by removing a lot of pressure on me.

As I watched as Ingrid and her Silver Knights cut the Dune Runners in half and calmly fought the Zantar (Roach) and Slothien (Hidralisk) easily, light blue phoenix landed on my shoulder.

"My dear daughter, I have seen how you fought, the aunt is very proud of you. When you return home tonight, I will reward you~" Aunt Kaleria's voice came from the small light blue phoenix on my shoulder.

"What do you mean by reward!? Kaleria, don't go doing something bad to my son!!" Just as my aunt stopped talking, another small phoenix now violet landed on my other shoulder.

I recognized Mom's voice in the little violet phoenix and felt a tingle pass through my body from one shoulder to the other.

The small violet phoenix was attacking the other small sky blue phoenix with lightning.

Although the lightning only passed through my body and did not hurt me at all, it tickled me that almost froze me in the air.

"Son! What are you doing in the Vig Fysan District? Shouldn't you be in school??"

"AH... Mom I..." I think I started stuttering.

"Is it the voice of Aunt Miroslava and Aunt Kaleria? Hello, I'm Liana~"

"Little Liana, what are you doing here, Ara~ are you on a date with Vremya of my family~?" Kaleria said with a playful tone as she used water to counter the lightning. My aunt's control is very strong; she hasn't wet me with a drop.

"That's right, I asked Vremya out and he accept. And now Vremya has agreed to be my Girlfriend!"

"I am a man (Pais)! So, I'm the Boyfriend not the Girldriend!! Why do you all say that I am the grilfriend?" Although the language in this world is different from my previous world, there is also a clear definition in the genders of speaking.

Although time is short in the existence of three genders, and hardly any grammatical genders have appeared for Nari-Women, the grammatical genders for men and women are already very well defined. What an insistence on continuing to label myself with the word for Girlfriend.

"Son, what did you say?" My heart stopped. I unconsciously responded to Liana's statement confirming her statement...

I turned to see Liana with my mouth a little open, scolding her why she doesn't get rid of the stupidity. But then, the sky instantly darkened, and a huge thunder echoed throughout the city.

Looking up, the peeling sky with just a few clouds now looked like a raging sea covered by dark clouds.

The next instant, a huge web of lightning appeared tearing apart all of the flying aliens eliminating literally their entire flying unit in an instant.

The entire main city of the darkened human realm was now illuminated with the infinite lightning emanating from the dark clouds. The Imperial City now seemed to have become a Disco-Den.

"Congratulations Liana, I wish you the best of luck, and if you survive you will be welcome to join the Corinth family hehehe~ Vremya I will go and take care that your mother's lightning does not fall into the city and harm innocent people." The little light blue phoenix on my shoulder disappeared.

And looking at Liana's face, she now seemed to be lost looking at the lightning-filled sky with a pale face.

It seems that she barely noticed that she dropped the beans.

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

"Silly~"

"I..."

"Go kill Zerglings... Ahem, Dune Runners!" I shook my head and sighed.

But this small event aside, in my spatial perception I still detect a large number of alien units inside the hole in the ground.

It's just that they go out in an orderly manner and have a formation and don't behave in a chaotic way. In this way, a balanced and prolonged battle between our allied forces and the aliens is still maintained.

In the sky, despite Mom's large-scale attack, when I focused my eyes on the direction where the aliens' flying units were coming from, I barely managed to see two huge meat balloons with vines falling and swaying in the wind like those of a tall tree.

Although it is a large-scale and coordinated attack, such an attack is not enough to shake the foundations of the Human Realm's Royal Capital. It's strange.

"Mom, between one and two o'clock in the capital there are huge meat balloons with many Scourges"

"Mm! Leave it to Mom.

When its finish here, I want you to go straight to home, no, I'll ask your older sister to come and pick up you."

Mom said in a sentence. Although it's rare for her voice to come out of a small phoenix on my shoulder, but I could feel her icy annoying voice.

Unlike my aunt's little aqua blue phoenix that escaped, Mom's phoenix took flight and turned towards an area with a dense amount of Dune Runners and attacked with thunder and lightning.

In the sky, the giant violet phoenix of lightning disappeared in an instant in thunder and reappeared outside the mana dome that covered the city. Afterwards, Mom flew her phoenix towards the direction of the Giant Flying Meat Balloons.

But watching Mom leave, I suddenly felt that something was wrong, and not counting the fact that Mom didn't ask me how I knew where there were flying enemy units at such a long distance...

On the front lines of combat, thanks to the help of the Shadows of the Lightning and Water Phoenix and the Silver Knight Platoon. It seemed that victory was on our side.

Little by little, the allied units are pressing the aliens towards the hole, preventing more people from being injured. At this point, my auxiliary and support skills are no longer necessary.

Thanks to my quick movements and the help of many other Summoner Warriors of the healing type and people with knowledge of -First Aid- the injured people have been rescued from danger.

Those who were not so badly injured have returned to the battlefield with their combat weapons despite protests from the support classes.

"Human Girl, You are very powerful, I have never seen a girl with healing skills who is good at fighting, HAHAAAAHA"

The long-bearded Dwarf Tanke was laughing loudly after recovering. A Screaming Mantis attack hit him in the back, skewering a spear that looks like a dry, rotting tree branch.

Although after so many years of fighting aliens there are already potions available to avoid poisoning by the attacks of these alien creatures. But, even so, having a "spear" buried in the body is not something that anyone can bear and then talk like nothing and laugh.

"Please, if you are surrounded by enemies and you can't take cover in all directions, use the jump you entered with again and escape..." I said still channeling healing magic with extra holy fire. Ignoring the fact that they call me a girl.

"Never! The Warrior Leap can only be used to enter combat, not to escape!!"

The Dwarf with the Shield and the Heavy Axe exclaimed in a loud and powerful voice. It seems that he wasn't injured and even that, if it weren't for the arrival of Mom's phoenixes that eliminated a large number of Dune Runners, maybe he would be a pincushion now.

The hydra... -Screaming Mantis- are like a kind of worm with two blades for hands. But on their torso, they grow spines like a porcupine, and they can make long-range attacks by shooting these spines.

The school in Alien Biology classes teach us that this unit – Screaming Mantis – has approximately four thousand muscle fibers, comparing it to the muscle fibers in human biology which are approximately 600 is a huge difference.

The Screaming Mantis has a height of approximately three meters with elite units that can reach four meters. And they are named for their blades like those of a mantis and when attacking with their spines, the muscles seem to screech along with the sound that the spines make when they break the air.

"Stop jumping! The wound is going to open..." But, although he doesn't have four thousand muscle fibers, this Dwarf is as crazy as the aliens and already wants to get back into the fight.

"Girl, let him. Dwarves would rather die in combat than flee from fighting." A "Man" with bandages in his hand said to me as he pushed the dwarf back on a simple bench and continued to bind him up.

Despite being an older man, he has a calm demeanor, but he looks very young for his age. If it weren't for my perception, I would be fooled by this man's age. Although she doesn't dress as -Fashionable- as the other young men, she gives the feeling of being like a professional mature adult woman from my previous world with a lot of life experience.

He is part of a group of -Doctors- and seems to be some sort of teacher in medicine. He coordinates other young people to help heal the wounded.

The sound of an emergency siren once again broke the calm already gained.

All the people froze for a moment and then turned towards the direction of the source of the sound. Because of our location, the siren's volume was low, but even so, the sirens are designed to be heard throughout the city.

I stopped heading towards Liana and got up more in the air, reaching a good height. My translucent insect wings and from which multicolored light emanated flutter behind me.

I can climb to a high altitude without worrying about lack of mana or being seen under my skirt...

Thanks to Ria and the magical abilities of the Succubus, there are ways to create darkness as a kind of censorship in the real world. Ria calls it Absolute Zone Magic. But I think that name is just a perverse joke by Ria.

So no matter how good others' eyesight ability is, they will never be able to see below the line of my skirt~

Liana could see why she just put her hand inside my skirt and that breaks the censorship magic...

I had barely reached the height to be able to look in the direction of the siren's sound when a wave of tremor passed through the city and an explosion from the ground swept through the Royal Castle.

GRRRRRRRRRRRR-OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOSSHHH

A loud roar, so loud that it dulled the emergency siren, came from the cloud of the explosion of dust and dirt.

The roar was so powerful that the wind wave quickly blew away the dust and a huge creature seemed to come out of the ground on the side of the castle.

A huge worm roared and swung hitting one side of the castle knocking down a large part of it. Then the huge worm dived back into the ground leaving only a huge mouth open like a large tunnel.

Then a large number of alien units sprouted from the mouth of the huge worm, not only ground units but also aerial ones causing a huge commotion in the center of the city.

BOOOOOOM

POOOOOOM

Another piece of the Royal Castle was torn down. This time, the time between the alarm and the appearance of the huge worm was very short.

"Shit" I couldn't help but curse.

The attack is fatal, I don't know how many people have died now in the Castle...

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

This time, the -Powerhouses- hidden in the city actually appeared.

A huge tree suddenly rose up at the spot where part of the Royal Castle had collapsed.

The roots of the tree, as well as the branches, began to attack the aliens and they tried to capture the two Goliaths, but the huge Mammoths were very powerful and with the flapping of their heads they could cut the roots and branches of the tree with their fangs, as well as with their upper appendage blades.

From the Royal Academy appeared a giant, golden person. She had womanly features on her beautiful face, as well as on her body under a robe that looked like that of a Buddhist Monk. The woman's long hair was tied in a bun like a sphere with two chopsticks holding it.

But the giant woman seemed to be made entirely of gold, not only her skin but also her robe and hair. Like a huge statue made of pure gold that shines with a golden light.

Next to the woman also appeared a huge blue tabby wolf with one horn on its forehead from which it emits lightning. The wolf seemed to walk in the air and as it ran towards the Royal Castle its horn attracted the lightning and thunder of the dark clouds seeming to increase its thunder power.

Many other superpowers were also appearing throughout the Royal City, some staying in points without moving, but in guard mode.

Also many Summoner Warriors called their Familiars in all the streets of the city preparing for an imminent fight. Those who were near the Royal Castle entered the combat immediately.

The huge thunder wolf and a huge cat that seemed to be made of shadows were fighting a huge mammoth while the golden woman was fighting the other huge mammoth. The big tree seemed to want to entangle the huge Nydus worm and shut its mouth to prevent it from vomiting more aliens.

But it seemed impossible to get to shut the mouth of the huge worm.

From the south of the city, a large cavalry of Pegasus appeared soaring through the sky of the city. It seems that this time they let out a large part of the Silver Cavalry.

In front on a larger Pegasus horse and equipped with more glorious armor is a young woman who is 90% similar to Ingrid, but this woman has a more expressive face, although she now shows a serious look at the moment.

In the sky of the Royal Academy a large blue phoenix appeared, although it is not as large as that of mom and aunt it is of a considerable size, next to it rose a phoenix of orange and gold fire a little smaller. But, although they were together with other students and teachers with their own Familiars, they did not leave the Royal Academy.

It seems that the principal ordered them to stay on guard at the academy. And the same thing happens in the Civil Academy.

A great accumulation of feelings hit me like a wave raising my desire to run directly to the battlefield in the Royal Castle.

Especially when I saw a blade attack soaring into the sky like a geyser. I could recognize Destan's attack. The boy looks like he was near the Royal Castle and is now fighting.

I flapped my wings in the direction of the Royal Castle but Aunt Kaleria's phoenix stopped me.

"Vremya, it's very dangerous now. You can't go..."

"But..." I tried to complain, but it stopped me in my tracks.

"You can't!

You don't feel it now, but there are very strong presences among the aliens. Any attack from those presences can cause you a lot of damage and even kill you."

Right at this moment, the energy shield protecting the city flickered and disappeared as if the power had been cut off.

So, thinking Kaleria's words, I focused my spatial gaze on the Nydus worm. From the destroyed part of the Royal Castle, five -Drones- appeared, the workers' unit of this invasive alien species.

Drones carried a strange device, but anyone who saw it in my previous world would recognize it as a generator. But not just any ordinary gasoline generator, a science fiction power generator, like the one that would go on a mother spaceship.

You don't have to be very smart to connect the deactivation of the city's protective energy field with the aliens stealing a black technology power generator.

Turn to see the hole below in the Vig Fysan district. Looking in the direction Mom left and seeing the Nydus worm that came out right after Mom flew away.

It was all a coordinated attack to steal something.

These planned actions of the aliens now show that there is a mastermind behind it that is controlling the aliens and making attack plans.

The Royal Castle, or that old Traditio guy can no longer deny the evidence that the aliens are coordinating.

Although there is a Familiar who appears to be an Earth Elemental strengthening the city's underground right now so that no other holes or Nydus worms can appear, it now seems counterproductive.

The huge worm vomited a large wave of alien units launching a third -Jungle Cutter- preventing Summoner Warriors from going after the Drones that are frantically fleeing towards the jaws of the Nydus worm.

Although the headmistress of the Royal Academy and her golden monk woman tried to prevent the power generator from being stolen, the third Ultralisk blocked her.

Then, inside the mouth of the Nydus worm, a new alien unit appeared. A creature that evokes a mix between an insect and a reptile with a segmented body like that of an ant.

Its body is bulky like that of a bee with a two pair of insect wings on its back. It has a large abdomen attached to its upper body, so it looks like a slim waist.

It has two pairs of long, thin legs like that of a spider with multiple joints and on top of its body it looks like that of a "person".

It has all the characteristics of aliens, its dark gray surface with black tentacles coming out like parasites. Chitinous armor that protects its body in key places, but the -human- part of the insect body can give anyone nightmares.

Although it looks like a person, the color of the skin is not that of a human and it has insect antennae on its head that seems to have membranes instead of hair and instead of arms and hands that look like the claws of a reptile.

For a moment, the creature seemed to sense my gaze and turned in my direction. Although my sight in the white space world lacks color, I can feel that the creature's eyes, which are two pairs of eyes, are completely black.

The creature looked at me and opened its mouth and gave a loud cry that covered the entire city. Many people covered their ears instinctively and seemed to have a headache.

Those closest to them, in the Royal Castle, seemed to have been stunned for an instant. The Powerhouses immediately woke up and protected those who were still stunned.

Because of the distance, the Queen's cry almost did not affect this place, but one could feel a wave that could attack the soul.

My aunt Kaleria positioned herself in front of me blocking the mental attack but I could still feel the attack. Just thinking about the strength that was still left from being so far away I could imagine the mental impact of those right near it.

After giving that mental attack cry, the creature turned around and the Drones followed it inside the Nydus worm.

This time the worm Nydus closed its mouth on its own initiative and buried itself back in the ground without worrying that there are still a large number of alien units in the city.

I don't know who gave the order, but the silver cavalry rushed towards the huge hole in the ground to chase the worm. But even I know that it will be a lost chase.

From the coordination and the plan of attack and theft, I can guess that the aliens have planned an escape route. Maybe they've even set traps.

Thinking about it, I took out a piece of paper and quickly wrote sending the message to Professor Roselle.

"Auntie, we have to go and help. The threat you felt may have already escaped, but now there are many wounded in the castle." I said trying to convince my aunt Kaleria to go to the Royal Castle to help.

"Mmmm... Fine, but stay close to me." This time Aunt Kaleria didn't try to stop me.

"I'm going too!" Liana ran over and screamed. It seems that the fairy dust is exhausted and no longer flies.

Nodding, I sprinkled more powder on Liana and pulling her hand I flew towards the Royal Castle. In the Vig Fysan District everything was under control and I was able to leave calmly.

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

"Hey~Destan! Do you need help?"

Reach the vicinity of the Royal Castle. The Water Phoenix of Kaleria went to support the attack of the three Ultralisks, as well as tens or hundreds of small Water Phoenixes supporting in various locations.

I arrived when Destan is with a group of Kingsguard fighting waves of Dune Runners and Zantar Snigill on one side of the Royal Castle.

The Royal Guard is a higher level in power than the National Guard, but this armed troop is based under the protection of the Royal Castle and members of the Royal Family.

Although obviously there are no members of the royal family and according to history there never have been. Legally, the Hero Queen never had descendants. If I didn't have my ancestor Keira Caryatid's Diary, I'd believe it.

Although they are not much Summoner Warriors, the National Guard as the most powerful Royal Guard has no ordinary people.

Next to Destan are Warriors with Shields that help resist attacks, as well as very powerful speargirls and a couple of Mages launching fireball attacks and earth walls.

If it weren't for these women of the Royal Guard, Destan wouldn't survive. Although he, it's the MC and the protagonist's aura along with the plot armor should save him in a moment of danger and increase his power with an illogical Powerup...

"Vremya! You are here. Can you buff us? We are almost exhausted..." Destan doesn't have to ask. I'm pretty much already casting support and auxiliary magics in chain.

Looking up at Destan's head where wreaths of flowers fall, I can still see that golden areola like a soul ring.

Since my relationships with the girls are confirmed, the force of attraction of Destan's golden ring stops attracting the aura in the girls. Aura that I call -Luck-.

MCs are people who say they are full of luck and are children of the world. But to me they are just special beings who have been given a blessing of steal luck.

Although it seems that MCs or Heroes are people who cannot die until their destiny is fulfilled. But if their luck runs out, it is obvious that they will die.

It seems that that luck-stealing blessing is not a blessing that was bestowed upon him by the Goddess of this world. It is as if the very nature of the MC is something beyond the power of the Gods.

Ignore Destan and what's going on in his head. I don't even want to see his status window anymore, lest he run into any more strange thoughts...

Buff the Royal Guard and other nearby Adventurers and Summoner warriors is hard. Maybe I should start practicing spell with area effect. While each auxiliary magic allows me to buff three individuals at once, with the amount of people now fighting it is still complicated and repetitive.

Liana since we arrived has begun to attack with her magics helping the two magical girls of the Royal Guard.

Now it's just to suppress this mob of alien units that have lost their leader. Since the Nydus worm left it seems that the formation has been lost and all the aliens have lost their minds and only attack in chaos and guided by an instinct.

But that does not mean that the danger has passed, there are a large number of ground and air units.

Liana is very powerful, and as the daughter of the richest merchant in the human kingdom she is recognized. Although part of her fame is chaotic, but I think that after today she can improve her image.

On Destan's part, by fighting with the Royal Guard he is gaining fame. After today, he will have more support and the Athenahotep family will take better care of him.

A man with direct melee attack abilities is unique and surely many groups and families will want to earn him. Maybe they bring him marriage commitments, and many girls chase him.

GUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUU...

PUUM BOOM PLAAST

A loud growl, and the sound of a huge body falling was heard. Looking into the distance, one of the giant Jungle Cutters has fallen.

The people around celebrated the victory with joy as they saw one of the giant invading aliens fall. With a powerful enemy removed, motivation and confidence in the warriors rose and they attacked the enemy insectoid units with more forces.

The huge golden woman is now free to help the others to eliminate the other two Ultralisks. Making movements with her hands like mantras and prayers, the golden woman again conjured shadows from dozens of hands and attacked and captured the other giants.

With the increase in power, Familiars can increase in size. Leaving the size of the - Susano- as something common among the Powerhouse.

With the headmistress of the Royal Academy free after defeating the greatest Ultralisk, the fall of the other two is only a matter of a short time.

Little by little the victory began to be more visible on the human side, all kinds of colored lights, arrows and attacks with sharp and blunt weapons.

After a while, flying from one location to another with a pair of water phoenixes to use auxiliary and support magic I was starting to feel tired.

Kwwiiii~

While flying and casting spells like a vending machine. The song of a bird echoed in the sky above me.

The dark clouds in the sky parted in a ring letting in a huge violet Phoenix, then countless lightning and thunder attacks began to fall directly attacking all the alien units.

The phoenix was heading towards the already nearly defeated Jungle Cutters, but suddenly stopped in mid-air. Then it started flying in my direction.

"I think you're in trouble~" my aunt's voice came from the two phoenixes that have been following me all along.

"Ah? But..."

"Vremya! What are you doing here?"

I command you to go straight home!!"

"AHHH!~" Mom made a movement with her hand and no matter what I did, I flew straight towards her.

In a short time, I was now standing on Mom's thunder phoenix. There's a feeling that you're on a soft but firm carpet.

The phoenix flies in a stable way that makes it not look like you are on a bird in flight. And although their feathers up close look like metal blades, under my feet they don't seem dangerous.

"Hello Vremya son~" a soft and melodious voice came from the phoenix's beak as she turned her head to look at me.

"ehh, Hello... phoenix?"

"You can call me Mom~"

"BAAH... Vremya, don't listen to Fulmina"

"Miroslava, don't collapse the bridge after crossing! I have raised Vremya the same number of years as you, I am like her mother!"

I've learned in classes that when a Summoner Warrior reaches a certain level, the Familiar begins to show signs of consciousness.

"BAAAAH... You better go and get rid of those two Jungle Cutters."

"It doesn't seem to be necessary, Roselle with the help of little Rudelle and Melaina can fix it. and Kaleria is there. Besides, there is that old tree to protect the castle"

Just after that, Fulmina, the violet lightning phoenix stopped talking. The roar and noise of a falling body was heard.

"Wow~ they took their time to defeat three Jungle Cutters" Aunt Kaleria's voice came from the side and when I turned around I could see my aunt on her blue water phoenix.

"Hello..." I greeted the phoenix just in case waving my hand in greeting.

"Hello, dear Vremy~" a soft and melodious voice came from the semi-open beak of the blue phoenix.

From the tone of her voice, she seems to be the calm, homely older sister type. Unlike the voice that comes out of the peak of the phoenix of lightning that sounds more like that of a wild girl.

"hehehe~ It seems that you finally meet Fulmina. Let me introduce you to my phoenix, her name is Muirne and she is a well-behaved girl, unlike others..."

"Kaleria! You want to fight!!" the lightning phoenix shouted.

The advanced level of consciousness that these two phoenixes have is impressive. The rank that a Summoner Warrior must reach must be very high to have her companion already awake to this level of consciousness to speak as if were a normal person.

"Ahem~

You always take war as something unimportant.

But again thank you for your help Boier de Ljosborg, Miroslava Corinth and Kaleria Corinth..."

Professor Roselle approached us in the air standing in the golden palm of the giant monk woman. She began by thanking and then asked about Mom's goal that she pursued.

"Hello~" Say hello to the huge golden statue.

"Mm," no surprise to me, the golden woman nodded her head. Her eyes looked at me and she seemed somewhat cheerful.

But after a great fight against giant alien units the golden woman looks a little scruffy, her hair is a little tousled with strands that came loose from her hairstyle and her Tibetan Monk robe seems to be torn and torn on one side.

My teacher Rudelle's thunder wolf and other high-level Summoner Warriors continued to clean up the straggling aliens.

It seems that now I have to greet all the Familiars -Adults- that I know.

I raised my head and thought:

Do I have to say hello to the giant tree as well? ...

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

The battle was over, the invasion was stopped, and the aliens were driven out. The victory of the human race against the alien invasion is absolute.

But those who know the truth now have dark faces and fury between their eyebrows.

Perhaps ordinary tourists who come to the Capital of the Human Kingdom believe that the City is impregnable, but among the important and high-level visitors from other kingdoms they saw or understood that something really happened and it was not a victory.

And the faces of the high command in the Royal Castle are now so black that it looks like they are of another race.

The aliens played with the humans in this short battle, they came up with a plan and every important objective was completed.

To a certain extent it can be said that I helped. Although the aliens' plans were to get Miroslava Corinth out of the city, perhaps with a hail of attacks so that mom would leave on her own initiative, but with my participation in sensing the location of the -Overlords- I only accelerated the process.

But it is understood that, for aliens, Mother is such a powerful person that only a large-scale attack aims to lure her in. Pull the tiger out of the mountain to steal the cave.

The attack on the Hero Queen's Square, in front of the statue of Keira Caryatid, the founder of the kingdom of Ljosborg, was to attract attention.

At least with the earthquake alarms placed in the city, many lives have been saved. To my surprise, although many people were seriously injured in the Royal Castle, no one died.

The reaction time since the second alarm sounded was very good. Although they would never have imagined that the aliens' main target was the precious generator of energy.

So for a while now the -Butler- of the Royal Castle has been shouting and complaining to everyone.

If it weren't for the other officials of the castle, perhaps this oldthing Eunomia Traditio would have already revealed something.

There are people from the other realms, who, although there is currently an alliance against the alien invasion, does not mean that there are no conflicts and some factions would like to see the mockery of the human kingdom.

Since what is coming are adult things, and I don't want to get involved in it, I thought I would leave, but...

"Go straight home, it can still be dangerous, and the alert has not been lifted..." Mom said to me as she summoned a lightning phoenix shadow of a size phoenix can take me to fly to home.

"Hey, but... there are still people who need help..." Although I didn't want to stay with officials and politicians, it doesn't mean that I go home to lock myself up.

Also, as a doctor, I have to stay and help in the treatment of the wounded...

"No buts, go to..."

"Miro, let little Vremya help with the wounded, you know his fairy magic is great for treatments..." Professor Roselle tried to convince my mother, but obviously she just wanted to ignore the claims of the castle butler.

"In addition, my daughter is leading teams for the rescue and protection of the healing team..."

"Your daughter is 23 years old, Ros!"

"That's a problem?..." Roselle winked at me.

I think that more than the wounded, the director of the Royal Academy is concerned about something else.

But in the end I couldn't win, so I only have plan B. I still have something to do with Liana.

"I'll be back now. You don't have to send a shadow to take me, Liana will accompany me," I said as I headed to the place where Liana was trying to maintain a sense of invisible presence.

"AH? Me?" Liana showed a nervous look.

Unlike her nihilistic and carefree attitude about the feelings of others, when she is in the presence of the headmistress of the Royal Academy is when she displays a puppy-like sense of submission.

Especially now that there is not only Professor Roselle and other family leaders and officials, and my mother too.

Liana seeing herself looked at by everyone, suddenly straightened up like a soldier and didn't know where to put her hands.

My mom just stared at her and raised an eyebrow. My aunt just covered her mouth and laughed softly.

Many people know of Liana's family as the richest family in the human realm and having a relationship with me, me being part of one of the most powerful families in the human realm, leaves many present with endless thoughts.

But learning from the things -good- in Liana's personality, I simply took her hand and pulled it to start flying away forget everything.

"Vremya go straight home!

Liana, you'll take care of my son, just accompany him to the home entrance and leave..."

"Mom is fine~" before Liana answered, I replied.

"That's not the address of the house!"

"I left my backpack in the Vig Fysan district, I'll go get my backpack and then go home~" It's not a lie, but apart from going to get my backpack left in Liana's Penthouse I will go for two other reasons.

"Lordling Corinth, you can't fly in the Imperial City..." Someone behind me yelled at me, but before I could speak my mom did it for me.

"And what does it matter? Alien creatures sprout from the ground like weeds after a rain, for my son to go through the sky is safer. And not denying that we are still in a state of emergency..."

I'm glad someone pulled Mom's AGGRO.

I took Liana's hand and flew fast before Mom noticed us again. The main reason why I returned to Liana's hotel is that thanks to the interruption of the extraterrestrial insects I was unable to implant the heart tattoo in her belly.

The fact that we have an attack on the city today is not going to prevent my sister and Liana from going out on a mission. Most likely, more missions will be requested in the coming days and many teams at the Preparatory level will go on missions.

Maybe even my team will go on missions soon.

Flying is definitely the most efficient and fastest method of transportation. In a short time we returned to the hotel and landed on the patio or terrace of Liana's Penthouse.

The view from this height is very beautiful and you can see the whole city. It's a pity that it's now full of smoke towers, a few fires, and lots of strange insect corpses.

"Weren't you coming for your backpack? What are you doing?"

Liana looked at me strangely. Because the direction I took was towards a cart. Yes, the one where they brought the food. I am a person who respects much the sacred foods and I do not like to waste anything.

"Are you kidding? This food cannot be wasted. What have I always told you for wasting food

I'll take it all, but it's true, I need my backpack..."

I took the cart and threw it with me towards the table island where we were before. My backpack was left on the bench next to where I was sitting.

I just opened the backpack and started packing the dishes.

As came ready to eat, all came on their respective plates. Some are broths, pastes, creams that could be dried. But none of this worries me. My Succubus magic has a branch of seals.

Ria always says that her magic specializes in chaos. But it has a very advanced magic system in seal magic. It was Ria who passed the sealing magic to Keira, it seems that Ria's husband is the one who is a specialist in sealing. I understand that Ria's husband's main planet is sealed by him to protect his world.

Sealing an entire planet, that must be a very high level of sealing magic. And that's what I would think simply. If what sealed was not only his planet, but the entire solar system...

With a simple wave of my hands and a little energy I was able to seal the food and store it in my space backpack.

"Ready?" Liana asked when I closed my backpack.

"Oh~ so hurried you are to take me home... and I thought you would do anything to stay here longer..."

At this time, many sparrows of all colors and form arrived. Dozens of letters or more than a hundred came into my hands.

Although I recognized many sparrows, there were so many that I didn't have time to read them. But there was a blue and white frost sparrow that caught my attention the most.

I opened my backpack again and placed all the letters to read a moment later. But the note of the ice and snow sparrow had to be read at the moment.

[Miroslava said you went to the Vig Fysan district. I'm on my way, where are you exactly?]

Damn. I don't have much time.

[What do you mean, Miroslava? Call Mom, Mom

I'm in the hotel-restaurant that high you once promised me to bring, but it never happened]

After sending the answer. Look at Liana.

"What does Vasilisa want?"

"She comes to get me, she was just asking where I was"

"Ehhhh. Then I'll take you downstairs to wait for her."

"Wait. Liana, all can say that our relationship has been confirmed in front of my mother.

But you have to answer me now..."

I grabbed Liana by the arms and pushed her back in the direction of the Penthouse living room making her sit on a sofa.

"What do I have to answer?..." Liana had a look of surprise, but she let herself be pushed and sat down on the sofa.

With my hands on her shoulders I leaned forward and looked Liana straight in the eye.

"I told you, starting a relationship with me is like signing a contract and I have to be sure that you accept all the terms..."

I have to let you know my conditions. Maybe this is a world dominated by women, but I'm a straight, patriarchal, capitalist man and I'm not going to let my women have a relationship with other people, even if that other person is a woman too.

There are also other conditions, but they are more superficial and are only to be filled in the contract.

Obviously there is no contract to sign. But I have to be sure of the wishes of Liana and other girls. Now I can print the heart tattoo on whoever I want actively and no longer just passively when making love.

"Vremya, I swear to you that I only want to be with you and I will only be with you forever..." Liana placed her hands on my waist and said without looking away.

In spite of all my absurd closures, She accept them all.

So, sitting on Liana, I placed my hands around her neck, my knees on either side of her on the couch.

As I made the movements to mount on Liana, my Succubus tail unwound from my left leg and danced a little behind my back, hidden from Liana's eyes.

"Forever is a long time, I hope you don't regret it..." I said to Liana with my face already very close to hers.

Liana pulled forward to kiss me as her hands hugged my waist. As I was not yet completely seated on her, I strapped my tail between my legs and put it between Liana's clothes.

Then while I accepted Liana's kiss, with the fusion of our saliva a link of lust and love was made.

Moment in which from the tip of the heart in my tail it landed on Liana's lower belly. Guiding the magic of Succubus it is easy to implant a mark of slavery in a victim when the victim accepts it.

I could feel my essence enter Liana's body softly and naturally. Although Liana felt something, but the feeling is like a caress.

After the kiss, I separated from Liana a little by making my body back. My tail had already been hidden again. It's not that I don't want others to find out. But I'm still a little embarrassed to show them that I now have a weird demon tail.

"Ehhh~ Vremya, it's not that I don't want to, but your elder sister is coming, and I think if she catches us doing it will be very bad... maybe I won't survive..." Liana said as she began to lift her clothes in her stomach.

"Dummy... it's not that. Look..." I said as I held her up blouse with one hand and with the other hand I ran my fingers gently over her firm, white belly and over a barely noticeable tattoo of a heart.

"What is it?" Liana, following my gaze to the place where I touched her, realized that a tattoo had appeared on her skin.

Women's World: I am the man with the most OP auxiliary class

"Try to feel with your heart.

You can close your eyes to concentrate.

Gently guide your mana to your belly, to the mark of the heart..." I explained to Liana in a low voice.

Even though I'm sitting on Liana's legs, I tried not to move and hold my body with my knees so that all my weight didn't fall on her.

My hands, which were held around her neck, stood still, stopping the movement of my fingers that were fiddling with her hair just now.

Liana listened to me, closed her eyes and seemed to concentrate. But I could still feel the movement of her hands on my waist and hips.

Also, even though I had my butt up, I could feel something hard underneath me. My practice in the -Arts of Seduction- can understand the sexual and physical attributes of a person, even if they have layers and layers of clothing.

According to Ria, the Succubus can -smell- the sensuality of a -Nun-. So even without feeling it completely. From the small moment we kissed while implanting the heart tattoo on Liana's belly, I could feel her entire body and attributes.

Also, although Liana hasn't reached the level of harassment that Ragna physically reaches with me, she has made me feel involuntary or purposely her -Member-sometimes.

Of course, in the past I could not detect all of Liana's -measures. But now in my mind I can draw an idea of her body with all the data projected into my imagination with a margin of error of less than a centimeter, so, in the files in my mind, Liana's folder is in the bottom if I decide to organize each person-folder by -size-.

And it's not that this ability makes me proud... I don't even know why I'm thinking now about Liana's physique or the size of her member...

And it's not that Liana is -small-, seventeen centimeters of three and a half centimeters in diameter is already above average and many men would summarize it.

And I think about that again...

"... It's like, I feel like you're in front of me. I know you're in front of me, but I feel like I'm feeling which direction you're going in without seeing you?

Do I explain?"

"Hehe~ I understand you, this is a heart mark skill. I can feel exactly your location with a tiny margin of error. And you can feel what direction I'm always going

'Not only that, but we can also communicate freely on a spiritual level. We can talk within each other's hearts and thus keep in communication, although the expenditure of mana is somewhat heavy at our level' "

"Ehhh, I felt like I heard you, but you didn't move your mouth!

Is that telepathy?"

"Something similar, but on a spiritual level and not just mental...

And most importantly, I can share my power with you no matter where you are. As long as I get stronger, I can even lend you my power, even if you're in a space other than ours.

There are also many other uses that you will discover over time~" How can I make your body not react to anyone other than Me.

But of course, I'm not going to say this thing, to anyone. Manipulating other people's bodies and thoughts is something you always want, but you don't want that to happen to you.

And it's not like I'm taking advantage of the power of the Succubus slavery mark... No one has this level of control activated. No Sera, No Ragna, and No Mom...

I'm not worried about anyone... Mom may have a partner, but she has never wanted to tell us who our -Father- is. Perhaps her pregnancy is of the "Seed Bank", the kingdom organization that receives and administers the seed -Donated- by the Men of this world for the reproduction of the human Race.

Aunt Odalis bought the best seed for the birth of her three daughters from the same donor. That's why the sisters look very similar and Sera and I look like Vasilisa and the three of us look like Mom.

But obviously there is something wrong with this theory. Since mom discovered that she was pregnant with Sera used magic to freeze her pregnancy, so the pregnancy was not expected and that means that she must have had a physical relationship with someone.

The heart mark also has a birth control. And most importantly: I can regulate my cycle!!

I'm a man! How can I have a -Lunar Cycle- like women!

Although Mom gave me a potion to regulate my period, I didn't know it until a few months ago. But I can't go and tell her that I don't need to take the contraceptive potion anymore because I already have a magic to control and regulate my hormones. I would have to explain the Succubus magic, and that I can use it because half of my blood is Succubus and that makes me like a demon of lust, which would make me Slu...

Also the heart mark helps in many other ways. And those with the mark can use some of the Succubus' combat skills, as well as regulate their body to keep it healthy and young.

If you become a Succubus slave you can get rid of some of the mortality and live many and many years with an ever-young body. It wouldn't be unreasonable for many women to accept the deal without thinking about it with only the gain of having a young body forever.

As long as I don't die, my spouse will live forever. The dream of everyone and of many who fight only to achieve immortality can be said that I have already obtained it since I was born.

"Then I must also be able to share my strength with you?"

"Well, yes, but..."

"Great!

So I don't have to worry when you go on missions in the future and I can help you when you're in danger. This heart mark of yours is really cool and very powerful!" My face went dark when I heard Liana...

I mean. I'm the one who worries the most about you and my sister being in danger, Liana, or I wouldn't be so worried to look for the opportunity to implant the heart mark in you!

I was even thinking of giving me to you for free and easily...

On second thought, all of my relationships were with me being pushed down. It's never me taking the initiative!

Something is wrong with this world!!

"Ahem~ yes, but now I'm not the one who goes on mission, but you and my sister. Remember, if something happens at any time in your mission tell me quickly and I will lend you my power."

"Ehhh... it's not that bad, our hunting group -Magic of the Sacred Phoenix- is the best in the first grade, and even one of the best in the second grade groups. Nothing will happen to us"

Are they group called Magic of the Sacred Phoenix?

Well, it doesn't sound bad... I even forgot what the name of my group is...

"Fine, but remember, pride can lift you up so high and make you fall very hard. Don't underestimate the danger out there. You just saw how dangerous aliens are."

"Fine, fine, I hear you... nothing will happen to us, and we will protect ourselves~

By the way, now that I think about it. Does Sera have one? Vasi?..."

"Do they have one what?"

"You know, a heart mark like that" Liana looked down at her stomach.

"Ahem... I..."

"Twik Kiiiiiii~" The chirping of a bird was heard from the sky.

"Bird?"

"I think it's your elder sister..." A cold air began to be felt, dropping the temperature rapidly.

"AHH!!" I jumped from Liana's body.

"I'm leaving!"

I'll write to you in a while....

... Mmmm Mck*~"

I had planned to leave quickly. But it would be a bit selfish to leave, just like that. And it's not that I'm afraid of Vasilisa...

So before I left, I leaned over and gave Liana a quick kiss for a couple of seconds.

"Well, I'm leaving... I'll write to you in a while then! Good luck tomorrow!" After the soft kiss, I gave Liana a smile and wished her good luck.

Surely tomorrow they will leave very early and before dawn. And it is not likely that I will be able to go out to say goodbye to Sera and Liana's group tomorrow.

Taking one last look at Liana still sitting on the couch. I gave her a nod with my hand and took flight.

Liana also responded with a smile. At all times the pink on her face did not disappear. I could always feel the temperature of her body and the aroma it gave off. And not because of the battle we just had.

As a man I can understand her mood. Such a struggle would make anyone look for a way to vent. But it's a shame that I can't help her figure it out.

The alien attack ruined our -date- and surely in Liana's mind she is still swearing the aliens. But she is also very happy with how things turned out.

Another skill of heart marking is that it makes me understand the mood of my partners.

In Liana I feel happiness, joy, hope, desire, lust...

Many emotions that can be within the feeling of Love.

I have not detected negative or selfish emotions. At least it confirms to me that the words and feelings that Liana expressed to me today are real and honest.

Perhaps her way of preventing the marriage arranged by her relatives was in a stupid way, but I understand her intentions. Also, when her family finds out that Liana is in a relationship with me, they couldn't be very happier.

Surely the elders and leaders of the Alfina Family will support Liana's relationship with me and bring a huge dowry to my family.

But the union of a family with the title of Boier nobility with the richest family in the human kingdom will awaken dark thoughts from other factions. But I'm not afraid. Mom is very powerful!!!

So I will forgive Liana for her sexual debauchery and of course there will not be a next time. If she is unfaithful to me, I will punish her!

And forgiving her for that is one thing. She still owes me a punishment for putting my little sister in a world of perverse magazines and novels. Especially that of NTR.

"What have you been doing!?"

"Huh?"

A cold, anger voice woke me up from my thoughts.

Looking in the direction was a beautiful and elegant Phoenix of Ice and Snow. The light blue and white feathers shone like mirrors of ice and water giving a blue aura against the rising orange of the evening sun.

About the beautiful and elegant ice phoenix. A beautiful young girl was standing in an elegant and imposing pose of a beautiful woman president.

Although she had a soft smile, her eyes showed anger.

"ahem~ Vasi, Hello..."

"I asked what you were doing!"

"Ah hahaha~ I was just chatting while I was waiting for you hehehe~

Let's go home I'm hungry~"

"Vremya! It won't work with me this time!" Oh no! My sister has used -Elder Sister Majesty skill- and tries to fight against my -Younger and Cute Brother ability-

"But I'm really hungry~" channeling attack!

"I don't believe you..."

grrrr~ stomach growl

"... Okay, let's go home. But this is not finished!" Vasi waved her hand, and one strength drew me to her.

"Hello..." Try to deflect the topic by giving the phoenix a greeting. But though she did not answer me, there seemed to be a gleam of joy in her sapphire eyes.

My feet landed softly on the phoenix of ice and snow with my face flushed and my two hands on my stomach...

Even if I said I was hungry, it wasn't a lie.

I had been fighting and using a lot of fairy energy and Succubus energy in the fight. But my stomach growls...
