

World 749

Chapter 749: Xuan Qiao_1

Above the border of Lei Nation, the two camps of the Divine Wood Sect and Mountain Shaker Peak had already set up their battle formations. A dozen-meter-tall, green giant, wielding Wind Thunder, was striking down at a terracotta yellow mountain range.

Boom, boom, boom!

Accompanied by earth-shaking tremors, within the camp of Mountain Shaker Peak, at the front of a central stone house, Ji Dingjin was respectfully standing by a man and a woman.

“Alpha Wood Soldiers certainly live up to their reputation. In the past, Hun Yuan led the Five Elements Taoists to dominate the three territories, and they were among the ‘Seven Unique Outsiders’. They had a great reputation in the East Land. It’s a pity that they went on a doomed path and ended up in the realm of the dead.”

The male cultivator had a handsome and imposing appearance. Adorned in a golden Taoist robe, he was discussing the tactics while pointing at the green giants of the Fixed Mountain Battle Array that were attacking them.

“The Five Elements Sect has splintered, and the unlimited power of the Five Elements Taoists will never reappear.”

The other individual, a cold, beautiful female cultivator in a golden robe, also commented. Her eyes were of a peculiar sky-blue color, clear and pure like jade.

“All thanks to the clever tactics of Mr. Zhao from your palace. If it were not for his solitary journey to the Eastern Wilderness sixty years ago, which resulted in the fragmentation of the five veins of the Five Elements Sect after the death of Hun Yuan, this territory would probably still be under their rule.”

Ji Dingjin spoke respectfully. Even after Hun Yuan's death sixty years ago, the Five Elements Sect had so many Golden Core Cultivators that they could still suppress any other sect in the Eastern Wilderness.

If the Five Elements Sect hadn't split, the Back to Sky Valley would probably still be subordinate to them, serving as their alchemy institute, while Mountain Shaker Peak would just be their labor force for mining.

By consolidating the power of Eastern Wilderness, Zhou Shengqing might have already reached Nascent Soul Formation.

To prevent the emergence of a Nascent Soul Cultivator from the Five Elements Sect after the death of Hun Yuan, and to plunge the Eastern Wilderness back into chaos, a large sect in the Eastern Yi Territory sent a Zhao Clan Golden Core Cultivator to the Eastern Wilderness. Together with Back to Sky Valley, Mountain Shaker Peak, Snow-blowing Palace, Liu Jia Mountain and other sects that had been suppressed by the Five Elements Sect for hundreds of years, they secretly prepared to rebel against them.

Meanwhile, during the rebellion, the Zhao Clan cultivator didn't forget to sow discord within the Five Elements Sect.

Under internal and external pressures, not long after the death of Hun Yuan, the Five Elements Sect, led by Zhou Shengqing and Mo Douguang, split.

The two factions of the Five Elements Sect started fighting fiercely, and with the addition of the provocations from other sects in the Eastern Wilderness, the battle lasted for twenty years.

Although peace was restored later, the once dominant Five Elements Sect declined and no longer held the absolute power to suppress the entire Eastern Wilderness.

"Uncle Master Zhao was not ruthless enough. After the ceasefire between the Five Elements Sect and the Divine Wood Sect plus the Golden Cliff, if you could have led your four sects to attack the weakened Five Elements Sect again, perhaps the Five Elements Sect would no longer exist in the Eastern Wilderness now."

The man in the golden robe, watching the Alpha Wood Soldiers constantly attacking the Mountain Shaker Peak Battle Array, said something that made Ji Dingjin twitch at the corner of his mouth.

After the ceasefire between the Five Elements Sect and the Divine Wood Sect plus the Golden Cliff, Uncle Master Zhao did propose to launch an attack on the weakened veins of the Five Elements Sect with all the four sects under his lead. But the four sects only had a few Golden Core Ancestors, and they feared that even if they won, two or three of their sects would be completely destroyed by the counterattack of the Five Elements Sect.

After weighing the pros and cons, they all rejected the proposal.

Mainly because after the Five Elements Sect split, with the absence of an absolute superpower, the situation in the Eastern Wilderness had become balanced to the satisfaction of all the four major sects.

Everyone was recruiting disciples and growing in their own territories. With sufficient resources, there was no need to enter life and death battles.

“In the past, our ancestor intended to do so and had persuaded Mr. Nan of Liu Jia Mountain, but unfortunately, the two Golden Core Cultivators of Back to Sky Valley and Snow-blowing Palace were too conservative. But it’s not too late now. As long as your palace gives the order, we, the Mountain Shaker Peak, will definitely respond to all your calls and step on the Five Elements Sect.”

Ji Dingjin flattered the man in the golden robe with his words, as if the latter was someone of high status.

“I’m about to reach the Core Formation, but my Master said my state of mind is not indifferent enough and I could be troubled by a Heart Demon during the Core Formation. Since Ji Zhenshi came to find me, I thought I could just come to Eastern Wilderness and cause a bloodbath to forge my supreme Taoist heart.”

The indifferent and cold words of the man in the golden robe made it seem like there were no cultivators in the Eastern Wilderness whom he deemed worthy of attention. His words exuded arrogance, ignoring everything in the Eastern Wilderness.

“All the cultivators of Mountain Shaker Peak are willing to follow your command.”

Upon hearing his words, Ji Dingjin could not hide his joy and casually handed over the jurisdiction over the two thousand cultivators here to the young man in the golden robe.

“Three hundred disciples of the Dao Palace have laid the formation of Golden Bridge Battle Array, they can take action.”

At this moment, the cold female cultivator in the golden robe spoke. In front of her, there were exactly 300 Qi Practitioners in golden masks and armor, each holding a Golden Halberd, kneeling neatly in a square in front of the man in the golden robe.

“The Alpha Wood Soldiers will rest for about the time it takes to burn a stick of incense after every ten rounds of attack. It’s because of the three thousand cultivators on the opposing side, only one thousand are disciples of the Divine Wood Sect, and if they continue to bombard, these disciples will lose too much Spiritual Power.”

“In a moment, when they open up the Fixed Mountain Battle Array, the other side will definitely think that you are going to counterattack. But relying on their huge number of cultivators, the Divine Wood Sect will definitely not fear and will certainly respond.”