

World Plot 1041

Chapter 1041: First Red Star - First Trial: Dinosaur Hunt

As soon as the original residents of this world saw the gates were wide open. Those who were warriors decided to run out as if they were in a race. Most of their female beastmen stayed in the city as they saw their partners out. Everyone from Asher Light's group left together and decided to do the first trial together. Accompanying their lovers as they go hunting in pairs which startled everyone, after all, it is quite rare for a female beastman to be strong. The last lineage of strong female beastmen is the family of Snow Leopards. This is the bloodline of the first founder, Xuebao.

In the current era, it is rare to find female beastmen fighters. Most of them helped in household-based occupations and some were even healers. So it was quite a surprising sight for them to see a group of couples hunt together. What they didn't know is that each member of that group can be considered a fighter.

There is nothing that can be said about the heirs as they had the most powerful bloodline in their race. Amber Dawn used to be an assassin herself so fighting was never her weakness. Asher Light and Conri Lycaon were trained to be stable and strong at all times. They were destined as future kings or leaders of their own race. Carnelian Dawn used to be an heir as well so his abilities are quite similar to the other two.

As for Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru, this couple used to be extremely famous for their strength. They become Archbishops of the former Templar Temple after all. No one can deny they are powerful hunters and slayers.

Though the couples or warriors had gone to the forest field outside the city, each person had a dedicated perspective. A surveillance spell cast by Great Elder Tuya to keep the participants of the trials to be watched by them and the audiences. Each audience focuses on the couple they supported. Like Baishi and Leafy who choose to watch the three couples whom they had just become friends with.

Leafy remarked, "I expected them to do this! Obviously, all of them are experienced in fighting, especially the eldest couple (Esther and Yoru)."

"They shouldn't have any problems for the first and second stages. The verdict would be based on the last stage." Baishi, the white lion beastman said. "The last stage is making them experience the life their partners had in the past. From childhood to the current timeline."

The green-haired youth named Leafy said, "Indeed. It was like showing your life history to the other person. Only at the end when you choose to interact and find each other does the illusion end. Even for us, it was quite hard."

"Don't worry. They should be alright. If they even hide a secret from one another what's the point of having their soul connected for a lifetime and beyond." The white lion, partner beastman of Leafy, Baishi said.

Outside the Main City...

Mayonaka Yoru shared the map he had created himself and also the one he received from the patrol team after requesting it. After learning his strength and friendly attitude towards the original residents of this world, the Aborigines didn't hesitate to give him a copy of the map of the world beyond the City Gates.

The Map of this world is different from Earth which had a greater size for water instead of the land. This world is connected by a few bodies of water scattered on it. There is even a sea and countless rivers and lakes. There are some terrains marked with a certain Insignia which signifies which tribes own that territory. The danger zones were also indicated on the map with red shade and also the routes they can take to reach the location

Mayonaka Yoru warned, "I've prepared the same map I got from the Patrol Team. This map is legit as it was similar to the part of this forest I had gone to yesterday."

"I've also added some territorial areas in which dinosaurs live. I've differentiated the route that is dangerous to take. This is because of the existence of the Savage Beasts. These beasts are extremely dangerous. Not only do they love to eat meat, but they are also territorial as well. Especially avoid the T-Rex. This kind of savage beast is not only strong but also cunning. They only eat meat and would target anything it entered their line of sight. This can't be defeated alone. Run away as soon as you meet one." Esther Dawn said.

Mayonaka Yoru looked at his younger brother and said, "Its strength is three times our race in our beast form. Unless necessary don't confront it head on."

"I will keep that in mind." Conri Lycaon said.

Esther Dawn suggested, "If you want to target a sizable one. Pick the ones from the herbivore class. The only disadvantage against them is those who herd. Pick one who is alone or separated from their group. Return as soon as possible as blood attracts carnivore beasts. You may go now."

The other two pairs separated from Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru as they venture into the territory of their target. They wanted to catch Triceratops. It's a herbivore dinosaur and quite big in size. This one moves in herds but as long as they steal one and run away they should be able to do it. As for Asher Light and Amber Dawn, there isn't much of a problem as the girl can recognize what kind of dinosaur it was at a glance but they had forgotten the opportunist physique of their protagonist self that gives both a blessing and tribulation.

Asher Light asked, "Amy, what do you want to catch? A big one or a small one?"

"Better to catch a mid-sized one. How about a Stegosaurus? I will stop its movement with wood and you kill it." Amber Dawn suggested

Asher Light nods, "Sure. That thing usually moves on its own. Even if it had a company we can just pull it away from its group."

Unknown to them a huge bird-like figure was encircling above their heads at a certain distance. It's a Pterodactyl hiding in the clouds waiting and looking for prey.

The other couple is not good either. Though it is nice that Conri Lycaon who is always calm is with Cernelian Dawn, this brat had always been fearless at almost everything except towards elder siblings. Or else why would he yell at Leafy and quarrel with him at their first meeting?

Cernelian Dawn said, "Conri~ how about that bird-looking dinosaur? Let's go catch it. What was its name? Bui... Buitreraptor!"

"That's a Carnivorous one. Didn't our brother say to stay away from it?" Conri Lycaon said.

The youngest of the Dawn siblings stated, "But I don't remember the other Dino except for that, Carnotaurus, Confuciusornis, and Tyrannosaurus."

"How come you only remembered all Carnivorous dinosaurs? And the last one is the most dangerous of all of them combined. Sigh~ what kind of dinosaur you want to catch I'll try to match it with one of the herbivore types." Conri Lycaon asked.

"Can't we get one that tastes like a premium rare kind of chicken?"

"Sweetheart, how can I know they would taste like chicken?"

"Leafy said that Dinosaurs called Pterodactyl taste like one!"

"That is also a Carnivorous one. Well, let's try catching one. Find one that is a bit smaller and not an adult one. Let's climb up the mountain. Tell me if you are tired I can carry you on my back." Conri Lycaon said.

Carnelian Dawn grins at him and swings their hands holding each other like an excited child. He had always wanted to be like this with someone. But after he lost his original memories and only had Athan Vladimir's memories of suffering for years. He longed to stop yearning for family and love. He had gotten used to betrayal and being used as a tool. Only his memories as Carnelian returned that he realized that he had his own family and a man whose fate is connected to him. He never felt more blessed than right now.

The interaction between the siblings in their group before and after they separated was streamed live and watched by everyone in the city. Leafy who felt guilty about his loose mouth felt a headache when he heard the conversation between Conri Lycaon and Carnelian Dawn.

Leafy mumbled, "I..."

"That's your fault. Who told you to babble about a Pterodactyl tasting like the most delicious chicken in existence? Now Conri is being dragged away to catch such a thing." Baishi said. "Don't you know how hard it is to catch a flying beast?"

"I'm sorry. I didn't expect he would remember it!!" Leafy said. "But are they going to catch one?"

"If that little one asked, of course, his mate can only find one to catch for him. Don't worry. If he is the little brother of Mayonaka Yoru then he should be a Snow Wolf as well. Those types of wolves are strong in particular. They should be fine. Plus they were told to look for their brothers if they got in danger." The White Lion Baishi said.

"I'm not too worried about this pair. I think Asher and Amber are in danger instead. Haven't you noticed the shadows from above? It would be great if those are just clouds as it looks like."

"Stop saying those things. Those are just clouds. Stop being paranoid." Leafy said.

Baishi said, "But everyone knows that Pterodactyls love to hide in the clouds before diving down to their prey. I should have warned them about it."

While these two were worrying about their new friends, Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru finally found their prey. They were lucky to find a lone Triceratops eating alone in the bushes of wild cherry. Based on its size alone it's almost an adult as not all its horns were fully grown.

Mayonaka Yoru asked his lover, "How should we kill it?"

"Kill it in an instant. Just target its brain and it would die on its own. Stop its movements, I'll do the killing." Esther Dawn said as he pulled out a dagger.

"I will do as you wish, Este-chan!~"

Mayonaka Yoru once again used his metal strings to retrain the Triceratops. When the movement of the dinosaur was halted it didn't end up like those Agilisaurus. It struggled with all its might and even broke the metal string. The former Archbishop had to turn into his werewolf form and personally pushed it down.

GRRRR~

Esther Dawn took the opportunity and stabbed the dinosaur on its head and it instantly died with a hole in its brain. This couple finished their hunt faster than the other contestants. Yoru froze the dead Triceratops and pulled it with them. With the body of the dinosaur frozen the scent of blood was concealed and so the problem with the scent that attracts the other beast was no longer a problem.

Mayonaka Yoru said, "Should we go back now?"

"I want to find the others first." Esther Dawn said.

Chapter 1042: First Red Star - Savage Beasts

Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru had captured their own prey. They made the decision to seek for their younger siblings. The size of their prey is ranked in the first stage of the trial, not who returns to the city earliest. Pulling a dead dinosaur in ice was no trouble for Mayonaka Yoru, who had reverted to his Beast Shape. After all, he is an adult werewolf.

He can even demolish a large structure with a headbutt.

They searched for the other two couples as his Luna sat on his back. Mayonaka Yoru sought to follow their scent and climbed the mountain as well. The two had no idea why their younger siblings had ascended the mountain.

With a dark expression Esther Dawn said, "Isn't this the one on the way to the mountains? That's the territory for the Pterodactyls. Aren't those Carnivorous Bird-type Dinosaurs?"

"If their opponent is on air those guys would be in a bind. Should we climb up too?" Mayonaka Yoru said.

Esther Dawn said, "Leave our prey and run up the mountain. Even if someone stole it we can just capture whatever is on the way."

"Don't worry. Even if they capture it I've put my Elemental qi in the Ice. It can only be melted by me. Not even fire can melt it." Mayonaka Yoru said as they left the frozen Triceratops and ran up to the mountains to find those hard headed siblings of theirs.

Esther Dawn said, "I've already warned them not to target carnivorous dinosaurs."

"Don't worry. We can find them. Hold on tight, I will increase my speed." Mayonaka said while Esther Dawn hugged his lover's neck as the running speed of Mayonaka Yoru increased.

Meanwhile, Asher Light and Amber Dawn found their prey. They saw a small group of Stegosaurus. They immediately hid and observed them from their hiding place. Among the three Stegosaurus Dinosaurs in front of them, two are big and one is small.

Asher Light asked, "Which one should we try to catch?"

"The small one. It's not like we can pull the big one back to the city. We don't have enough strength." Amber Dawn said.

Asher Light asked, "Should we try summoning a familiar?"

"What should we do if there aren't any concept of summoned creatures in this world? Are we allowed to explain it?" Amber Dawn said.

Asher Light said, "It would be better if Conri or Brother Yoru is here. We can ask for help pulling it back. Should I go at it now?"

"I will drag it out quietly. You kill it in an instant." Amber Dawn said, preparing to control the trees and plants in the vicinity to silently capture the baby Stegosaurus.

Little tree roots from surrounding trees began to move. The Stegosaurus were aroused and peered around, but all they saw were swinging tree roots and branches. They assumed the tree was simply growing and opted to ignore it. It started eating again. Amber Dawn used her wood powers to quickly trap the Baby Stegosaurus. She covered the Dinosaur's mouth before it could squeal.

Asher Light and Amber Dawn were overjoyed that they had grabbed their prey without drawing attention to themselves. They drew away from the two adult Stegosaurus as they snatched their infant. When a darkness dropped above their heads, the Holy Son had already drawn his sword and was going to slaughter the Baby Stegosaurus. Amber Dawn initially mistook it for clouds, but as she glanced up, she saw a flying Pterodactyl plummeting down at them, exactly targeting their baby Stegosaurus.

"Look Out! Danger!!!" Amber Dawn screamed as he pushed Asher Light.

CAAAWSSS~

Amber Dawn's eyes widened in shock and immediately pushed Asher Light on the path together with her. They can only watch as the Pterodactyl took their prey away.

"What the hell!? That's ours!!!"

What they didn't expect is that this Pterodactyl was about to fly away when it heard Asher Light's complaints and threw the baby Stegosaurus towards them.

CAAWS~

"What the fuck!?"

THUD!!!

In astonishment, the two avoided, and the tossed dinosaur was half dead. Who wouldn't want to? How high was it when it was flung from the sky to the ground? A section of its body had broken open, allowing blood to stream. It didn't take long for the aroma to become more powerful. The Pterodactyl didn't even stop there, and the enraged bird-like dinosaurs began assaulting Asher Light and Amber Dawn as they fled. They were caught off guard as it dove to the ground and attacked them.

"Ah!! This crazy dinosaur!" Asher Light yells in annoyance.

Amber Dawn also didn't look in a good mood and retorted, "Why did you even scold it!? Now it has changed its prey from the Baby Stegosaurus to us..."

"Who would expect it to even understand me?!" Asher Light said.

Amber Dawn said, "Enough talking! Run to the mountain peak. We must catch it off guard and kill it!"

"Sweetheart, you're so fierce!" Asher Light cheered. He ended up receiving a pinch on his waist as he run away.

Pinched! Aaahhh~

At the Mountain Peak...

Conri Lycaon and Carnelian Dawn were gazing about for their objective when they realized they had ascended the incorrect mountain, which was thought to be devoid of Pterodactyls for some reason.

Carnelian Dawn pouted at their situation, "This is already the same Mountain Peak on the map. How come there aren't any Pterodactyls on here?"

Carnelian Dawn was the one who held and preserved the map supplied by Esther Dawn all this time. Conri Lycaon was unconcerned and let his lover play with him. He also anticipated seeing a lot of Pterodactyl nests on this mountain, but it was much more barren than he imagined. Instead, the terrain at this summit appears to be excessively dry, and the aroma is revolting and nauseating as if he had entered the country of the dead.

Carnelian Dawn stepped on something and tripped.

Ahh!!

Conri Lycaon immediately helped him up and said, "Are you alright? Let me see if you are hurt?"

"I'm fine. I just tripped on something. Just what the hell tripped me!" Carnelian Dawn shouted when he saw the dirty white head form in his palm and gripped the creature that had caused him to fall. It seems to be a skull, but neither of them can identify what sort of skull it is.

GYAAA!!!

"A bone! A head bone! It's a skull!! What the fuck why is something like this here!?"

Carnelian Dawn screams in astonishment and terror. Even though he had murdered innumerable creatures from their Original world previously, he had only seen corpses, never immaculate bones like these. When they took another good look around. They spotted several mounds of bones spread over the region and quickly recognized the threat that this mountain peak posed to them.

"So many bones... Are these all dinosaur bones!?" Carnelian murmured.

Conri Lycaon who knew more was frowning as he investigates the bones on the ground and sees how clean it is from the flesh. Clearly, the flesh on these bones was gnawed until it was clean, and only carnivorous dinosaurs or savage beasts do such a thing. But based on how minimal the presence of other Creatures in this land, he knew that it was most likely the latter instead. This made things even more dangerous for them.

Conri Lycaon felt something was wrong and asked his Luna for the map. "A'Lian, lend me the map."

"Okay. Here is the map!" Carnelian Dawn said.

As soon as the map ended in Conri Lycaon's hands I read it. His face turned whiter as it went. Even Carnelian noticed that something was wrong with his lover.

Carnelian Dawn asked, "What's wrong, Conri?"

Conri Lycaon's palm suddenly covered Carnelian Dawn's lips and motioned for him to be silent. The young Werewolf king is taken aback when he sees where they are on the map. They weren't in the mountain ranges where the Pterodactyls live, but rather on a solitary peak in the map's red zone. One of the lands ruled by the ferocious beast king. It was here that King Tyrannosaurus Rex lived and fed.

Conri Lycaon assumed his Beast form, and a massive White Wolf resembling Yoru's Beast Form appeared. The only difference is that his fur has some navy blue accents. He persuaded Luna to climb on his back.

Confused, Carnelian Dawn asked, "What's wrong, Conri?"

What they didn't realize was that the vicious beast that owned this territory had long been aware of their presence. It didn't attack them right away and instead examined them from a distance because it had just finished feeding. This Savage Beast had treated them as emergency food and was studying the two as they approached his cave when they abruptly stopped their movements and were clearly ready to flee. The King Tyrannosaurus Rex became agitated and emerged from its hiding place.

GRAAOOOOO~!!!

Carnelian Dawn's face turned pale as he recognized the dinosaur that appeared before him and Conri, "HOLY MOLY!!! WHAT THE HELL... A TYRANNOSAURUS REX!!!"

Conri Lycaon bolted as soon as the Tyrannosaurus Rex, which rules over this mountain summit, emerged. He flees with all his power, his Luna, Carnelian Dawn on his back. Despite their speed, the T-Rex clearly had no intention of letting them go and running after them.

The two couples flee from danger; one is being pursued by an adult furious Pterodactyl, while the others are being preyed on by the King of Savage Beasts, a Tyrannosaurus Rex. Everyone in the audience who was watching the fun was taken aback. How did the four kids get the King of the Sky and the King of the Land after their butts?

Everyone in the city was baffled, even Great Elder Tuya and Keylan Light, who felt his temples throb excessively from witnessing such a disaster.

"One is an adult Pterodactyl and the other is the King of Savage Beast, a T-Rex. How can these brats bump on them just like this!!"

"That Pterodactyl is an incident. The T-Rex those two got lost in his territory no wonder it was very angry. That Savage Beast treats anything that enters its land as his food. Those two would be chased unless that Savage Beast is killed."

"What should we do? Should we help those children!?"

"But it is forbidden to get involved in the trials!"

"But they are in danger!!!"

While the other warriors are contemplating whether to help or not, a huge white lion runs out of the gate carrying a young man on its back. It was Baishi and Leafy.

"That's Warrior Baishi and his Mate, Priest Leafy! Are they going to save those guys?"

"I saw them in the restaurant eating together at the Dinosaur Restaurant last night. Maybe they are friends?"

"Idiots! What are you still looking at!? That's a Savage Beast. A Savage Beast! The one in our history!!"

"Are you still going to watch the children fight it on their own!?"

The warriors screamed, not agreeing with the remarks. They all dashed back to their own homes and grabbed their weapons. In a matter of minutes, the majority of the city's soldiers had fled to defend the children and chase the Savage Beast. Tuya, the Great Elder, did not stop then as the Beast God warned him of another problem on the opposite side of the forest. In the opposite danger zone, a few young warriors who had lost their dread of Savage Beast planned to hunt them down, just as Founder Xuebao and Founder Meizhou had done previously. They desired fame, which led to their deaths.

Chapter 1043: First Red Star - Special Visitors

While the Trials in the Primitive World continue and everyone who came for the Mateship Ceremony is busy completing their tasks, the situation in their Original World has also changed. Kenan Light, the Devil, had finally become a Devil God, and his abilities were now on par with Keylan Light, the God's messenger in their world.

Refugees seek assistance from the Genus Academy's territory. These refugees were all accepted with the permission of Headmaster Cassius Ambrosia and Instructor Fenrir Skoll. The refugees were instructed to enter the Academy one at a time, carefully entering the barrier that separates the Land of the Genus Academy from the earth beyond its barrier.

Since Luther D'Arcy and Randall Ruid were not present, Luciel Dawn and his wife, Thana Daybreak, as well as the other Instructors of the Genus Academy from the ordinary class, were tasked with leading this duty. Today they had an experience that no one could have predicted. One of the refugees about to pass through the barrier surrounding the Academy suddenly howled as its body passed through.

Geyyaa~

His skin dried and his eyes turned crimson and lifeless in front of everyone's eyes, just like those undead creatures under the control of the Devil Kenan Light. This person was obviously not human, as its body was reduced to ashes in just a few seconds after touching the golden barrier that surrounded the Academy.

"What the... He is an undead!!!"

"Summon all the priests and activate the Purification Domain. There must be a lot more like this among the refugees!!" Luciel Dawn commanded.

Thana Daybreak also commanded her clan and said, "Kill anyone who tries to escape. Treat all those who try to run away as enemies!!"

"As you command, Earl!!!"

The refugees were terrified by the uproar. Who wouldn't suspect that an undead lurked among them? They didn't want to be killed by this hidden threat, but no one dares to stir up more trouble on the line. They also heard the order to kill those who attempted to flee the line. As expected, some people attempted to flee but were killed by noble vampires from the Daybreak Clan.

Some priests were stationed under the command of the former Cardinals' disciples and activated the Purification Domain as instructed. Some priests who had joined the Keylan Light's wings had a significant increase in strength. This is because of the blessings Mikaela bestowed on the believers of his messenger, Keylan Light.

What happened here was reported to Genus Academy's Headmaster and Instructor Skoll. Their reactions are still as calm as usual, and they didn't even flinch when they learned that Kenan Light, the devil, is targeting the academy. This simply means that he had nearly conquered everything except the Genus Academy's territory.

Instructor Skoll said after hearing the news, "Don't worry. They wouldn't be able to go inside. You already saw what happened when it tried to do so."

"B-But Lord Skoll... Would the effect still be the same if a huge number of monsters came attacking the barrier? Can it hold up?" The man who reported what was happening to the Genus Academy asked.

Headmaster Cassius Ambrosia spoke, "It won't go down as long as I am still alive. Don't worry."

"Thank you for such a piece of good news. This subordinate shall take his leave now."

The messenger was overjoyed when he heard this. The barrier that protects the Genus Academy does not appear to be similar if it has a connection with the Headmaster. Everyone in the academy knows that the Headmaster should be someone as powerful as Instructor Fenrir Skoll. They had hope that they would be able to survive because they had these two men with them in such a disaster.

A few moments after the messenger had left...

Cassius Ambrosia and Fenrir Skoll were eating dinner. The meat for tonight's dinner is made from dinosaurs and was made into steak by Fenrir Skoll. This couple always acts as if the impending destruction of the world has got nothing to do with them.

The headmaster suddenly asked, "If I have to stay here until the time I can leave, are you going to stay with me, A'Xia?"

"Of course. I will be with you until the end and leave together with you, Baby." Fenrir Skoll responded with a doting smile. This is a smile full of affection and gentleness that is only meant for his love.

Back to the Primitive World...

Loud commotions were heard from far away. Especially seeing an Adult Pterodactyl and a Tyrannosaurus Rex, most of the dinosaurs and beasts in the forest had run away. But despite the other prey all around them, these two overlords were focusing on the two couples.

Asher Light complains while running away, "What's wrong with this stupid bird!? Is it going to chase us to the peak!?"

CAAWS~

As if hearing Asher Light's words, the adult Pterodactyl shrieks at them and its diving attacks had gotten more frequent as well. The couple noticed it and Amber Dawn couldn't be helped by glare at Asher Light not knowing whether to get angry or cry.

Amber Dawn said, "Don't talk anymore!"

"Wu~ Okay!" Asher Light said.

They became aware of something happening in the path ahead of them. Some tall trees in the distance are falling, and some small, mid-sized dinosaurs and animals are fleeing the mountain peak. They knew something from on high was causing such a commotion.

Amber Dawn used plants and trees to fall from thousands of miles away and saw her younger brother as a white werewolf on Conri Lycaon's back. They appear to be fleeing as well, and they emerge from the mountain peak. She stretched her vision and was astounded to see a live Tyrannosaurus Rex appear before her eyes. She yelled on the spot, startling Asher Light and the pursuing Pterodactyl.

"T-REX... Why is a Tyrannosaurus Rex chasing after Car and Conri!?" Amber Dawn exclaimed.

Asher Light was dumbfounded by what he heard, "Isn't that the king of Savage Beast?? Why is it chasing after them!?"

A massive white wolf jumped out in front of them. Conri Lycaon and Carnelian Dawn stared at Asher Light and Amber Dawn, and Amber created a wood vine and wrapped it around Conri Lycaon's body in an instant. Asher Light hugged her, grabbed the vine, jumped on the back of the white wolf, and rode him as well. When he saw this, the Pterodactyl attempted to turn around and chase them down. The Tyrannosaurus Rex chomped it alive and ate it because it didn't notice the Savage Breast King chasing it from behind.

Caaws~ Crunch. Caw! Munch! Cracks~

Despite eating a Pterodactyl, the vengeful Tyrannosaurus Rex still chased after the other four.

Graaww~

Asher Light looked disgusted when he saw the scene of that annoying bird dinosaur being eaten like a chicken drumstick by the Tyrannosaurus Rex.

"Woa~ so savage~ look at all that blood dripping!" The Holy Son commented.

Amber Dawn ignored her lover and asked her younger brother why the T-Rex is chasing them. When he heard this question, Carnelian Dawn felt guilty. It was his fault that they bumped into this vicious beast.

"What happened? How can you bumped with a savage beast?"

"Ah~ I wanted to eat Pterodactyl as Leafy says it is much more delicious than an ordinary chicken. He climbed up the mountain trying to find a small one but I read the map wrong and entered the Red Zone where the Tyrannosaurus Rex lives instead of the Mountain Ranges where the Pterodactyls Nest is located. It saw us and chased us leading to the current situation." Storiied Carnelian Dawn.

"You guys are really..."

Amber Dawn looked helpless at her younger brother while staring at her boyfriend. They both act like children who do not consider the consequences of their actions. If they wanted to do something, they would do it first, regardless of whether it was good or bad. Most of the time, it was disastrous. For example, being pursued by a Tyrannosaurus Rex for trespassing in his territory by an enraged Pterodactyl.

Asher Light asked, "What's done is done. What should we do next? Any plans for it, Conri?"

"Find brothers and fight the T-Rex. The more people on our side the better. I don't want to bring the T-Rex near the town as that... is quite rude for the original residents. At least with Brother and Esther, we should be able to think of a new plan." Conri Lycaon said.

Carnelian Dawn blinked innocently and stated, "Isn't this trial on live broadcast? Doesn't that mean everyone from the City already knew our situation?"

"That's right. Let's ask for help with the warriors. The more the better! This T-Rex is the most powerful savage beast in history. We cannot defeat it on our own." Asher Light said.

Conri Lycaon said, "I'll head near the City but not directly. Brother should have noticed the commotion by now."

They continue to escape from the savage beast chasing after them. They would be lucky to bump into Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru who were also on their way in their direction and join them.

Meanwhile on the side of the forest...

A section of the forest has been destroyed, with massive craters and numerous fallen trees. In addition, three adult Tyrannosaurus Rex are dead in the circle. In the center, a man dressed in a white Taoist robe had his hand soaked in Savage Beast Blood. Even his sleeve and robe were stained with blood. Despite the fact that his face is hidden behind a veiled hat, his current appearance is heavenly defying.

This man calmly ripped three adult Savage Beast Kings apart, leaving the T-Rex barely recognizable. There are some death warrior beastmen not far from the crater. One was even eaten in half, leaving only his upper body. Others lost a limb or two, such as an arm or leg. Only one was unharmed, but he appeared traumatized by the scene of his group being surrounded by three Savage Beasts and would have been eaten alive if it hadn't been for this man in a white robe riding a large black jaguar with golden spots.

"Is this the strongest animal in this place? It's not that much different from a rabid dog." The white robe man said. Sniffing the scent of rust on him made him frown and mumbled, "Now I smell disgusting thanks to these useless things."

Unlike Hei Anjing, the smell of blood did not excite the man. Instead, he is disgusted and disdainful of it and because of the scent he wanted to change his clothes right away but realized he couldn't because he can only control water elements to clean his robes. The black jaguar shook his paw and a pillar of light fell on the man, instantly drying his clothes as if the sun had dried them for him.

The black jaguar said, "Do you want to go back to your nephew's house to take a bath first before the second trial?"

"Hm. Better take a bath. I want some stew for dinner." The man in the white robe said.

The black jaguar nodded its head and accepted the food order from the white robe man. "Good back and take a bath. I will the prey over to submit and start cooking."

The white-robed man simply took a step forward and vanished. He clearly did not teleport, but he is so fast that no one noticed him leave. The black jaguar suddenly glowed golden and transformed into a man with aureate shade irises wearing a white gold robe a few seconds after the white robe man left. Unlike the man in the white robe, this individual did not conceal his face. When Great Elder Tuya and Keylan Light arrived, they were taken aback by how holy and gentle this man appeared, particularly by the sacredness of his aura. It is visible to everyone.

Keylan Light was one of the few people who had seen Ye Xiajie in person. Mikaela showed him the true appearances of Fenrir Skoll's, Randall Ruid's, and Luther D'Arcy's souls. Only Cassius Ambrosia's soul is hazy because it was incomplete. He was surprised to see a man with a face so similar to Ye Xiajie's, despite the fact that his aura is completely opposite of his menacing aura.

"Lord God Ye?" Keylan Light calls.

Chapter 1044: First Red Star - First Trial Ends

Keylan Light's voice echoes in the silent yet destroyed area. Even the Great Elder Tuya looked at him with a stunned look. She didn't expect to recognize this man whom she couldn't see through no matter how many times she tried to look. They had watched the Black jaguar transform into this man and know that Jaguar has another person by his side wearing a pure white robe hiding his face behind the veil of his hat.

The man with gold irises turns around after hearing such a familiar name yet it doesn't seem to be his name either, "Who are you? Why do you know my brother's name?" The man asked. This person happened to be Shen Siwang. The brother of Ye Xiajie.

Shen Siwang's handsome face flashes a gentle smile, but Keylan Light notices that this joyful smile appears to be fake, despite the fact that it feels sacred as if meeting a Holy God. Keylan Light was speechless and didn't know how to respond. An unknown pressure fell on their bodies, and the culprit could only be the smiling man in front of them.

Ugh!~

"This Sovereign had asked you a question and you only need to give an answer to survive," Shen Siwang said, his voice relaxing like a breeze but causing suffocation for Keylan Light and Tuya.

This Sovereign God of Light may appear friendly and amiable, but he is even more tempered than the Sovereign God of Darkness. At least Ye Xiajie would openly express his dislike for someone, but with this person, he is clearly a two-faced man. He conceals his thoughts and plans behind a friendly smile, making others forget what kind of man he truly is.

The two God's messengers were too weak to withstand the pressure of his aura. Even bystanders who had been badly injured by the distance had fainted from it. Of course, Shen Siwang is unconcerned about what happens to others. He and his wife initially came here to complete one of the tasks for the Marriage Trial.

He and his wife had been married for hundreds of years, but it wasn't the same as Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing, whose souls were entwined. They share their abilities and domains, as well as the unique trait of immortality as long as the other half is alive. The couple also desired that their souls be bound to avoid the tragedy of one leaving the other for reincarnation or something.

Shen Siwang looked at Tuya and Keylan Light with a fake smile on his face when suddenly the Beast God, Shou, and Elemental Light God I, Mikaela appeared before him on their knees. The Beast God and the Elemental Light God are just Lesser Gods in comparison to a Sovereign God who rules the God System and their worlds are just one of the few under his control. They barely made the cut to enter Vearth.

"This servant greets the Esteemed Lord of Vearth!"

When they saw their Gods on their knees, Keylan Light and Tuya also knelt and lowered their heads. It is a being that can't even allow their Gods to meet at equal eye level, what is more about them? They must not make direct eye contact. It's no surprise they're struggling to breathe right now.

Keylan Light's thoughts, 'W-What did this person say just now? He called the Sovereign God of Void his brother. They are brothers?'

Shen Siwang spoke, "Be at ease. My wife and I just came to complete our Trials of Marriage. Xia said, he and Xiao Jing'er had completed their Mateship Ceremony in this world so we came over to do that.

Well~ there is also my wife wanting to taste what a dinosaur is like when cooked. Our eldest grand-nephew was also born here so we kind of want to check it out?"

"Would the Sovereign like for us to prepare your Mateship Ceremony?" The Beast God, Shou asked.

Shen Siwang said, "That's true. I also don't want to have our Ceremony with mortals. Let me ask my wife. Until then we will join the fun of your Trials."

"Respected Sovereign, can this little one ask a question?" asked the Elemental Light God, Mikaela.

Shen Siwang asked, "Are you going to ask why we appeared near the place of your messenger? It's nothing much, my brother asked to watch them in our free time. The World Eater is on the move after all and he still needs these children to come back so he can bring home Xiao Jing'er's soul fragment."

"Anyway, the problem with World Eater would be resolved by us just focusing on protecting your worlds. That thing isn't interested in worlds lately but in my little nephew's soul fragments. Enough of this topic. Go bring those kids back. One died but it's not our fault, right? My wife saves them thinking they are the kids Xia asks us to watch over. Well with lots of people coming over, they should be okay. There is only one lizard over there anyway."

"I'll go back now. I still need to cook food for my wife."

He only waves his hands and places the chopped parts of three Tyrannosaurus Rex in his space before returning to the City and starting to cook. The four felt relief in their hearts as soon as Shen Siwang left. When you're in front of your superiors, it's always awkward or too serious.

Sigh~

"That was a bit scary. I know that Powerful Gods are capable of entering other worlds but this is the first time I met the rulers of God's System where our universe is included into. No wonder that respected one in white robes feels familiar. Since he is Lord Hei's relative then the familiarity can be explained." The Beast God said.

Great Elder Tuya asked, "Shou, what should we do? Are we going to the Esteemed ones in the trial?"

"Let them be included but on the final ranking, they must be remarked as special cases. Mikaela and I will personally prepare the Ceremony for this pair. You guys will focus on the children." Beast God Shou said.

Mikaela spoke, "Since death in this trial is not supposed to happen I will revive the ones who died in this incident. You will have to explain it."

"They are too arrogant. Savage Beasts aren't simple dinosaurs. They are vicious and deadly. They should be considered failures for this trial so no more accidents shall happen." Great Elder Tuya said.

Keylan Light said, "I will heal the rest of them."

This side's situation was resolved. Meanwhile, a huge white wolf carrying three men runs down the mountains on the other side of the forest. Tyrannosaurus Rex enraged, destroyed all trees along the path. He would never let go of his prey until they were caught.

GRAAOOO~

BAM! THUD!

Countless trees were being felled as a result of the T-mindless Rex's pursuit of Conri Lycaon and the others. Amber Dawn was throwing knives at the T-Rex as they fled, which enraged the dinosaur even more, but such attacks had no effect on it.

Amber Dawn complains, "How is its skin that metal knives don't even leave a scratch on it?"

"Sister, it doesn't even have wounds from running through those trees. It must have very thick skin." Carnelian Dawn said.

Conri Lycaon suggested, "Add elemental qi in the weapon and coat it. Use the same technique Instructors taught us before."

Asher Light realized what he wanted to see and borrowed a small knife from Amber that had been sprayed with holy elements. He aimed for the Tyrannosaurus Rex's eyes, but the T-Rex dodged. The small knife still leaves a scratch under the dinosaur's eyes, but such an assault only makes it angrier and increases its running speed.

Amber and Carnelian Dawn looked at Asher Light with blaming gazes and, "You made it worse!"

"What's with that half-hearted targeting!?" Carnelian Dawn bellowed.

Amber Dawn said, "Conri, run faster! It speeds up!"

Tsk!

Asher Light said, "I didn't know it would be effective."

At the foot of the mountain, Esther Dawn, Mayonaka Yoru, Leafy, and Baishi were waiting. Some adult warriors from the city came to join them in a fight. Conri Lycaon and the rest felt relieved. seeing such a big crowd.

Carnelian Dawn calls happily, "LEAFY!!!"

"Run this way! We need to surround it!" Leafy said.

Conri Lycaon ran after the instructors and into the crowd, where he reverted to his human form and joined the others. The group rushes to Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru's location.

Esther, who hit Carnelian and Conri as soon as they met, gave them a head bump. Leafy and Baishi told them everything.

Carnelian: (QAQ)

Conri: (O_O)

Esther Dawn scolded the two, especially his younger brother, "Didn't I tell you to target the Herbivorous ones!? Why did you decide to catch a Pterodactyl? Just because it tastes like chicken!?!"

"Owiee~ I'm sorry~ Wuwuwu~" Carnelian Dawn got scolded badly and was frightened seeing his elder brother enrage.

Mayonaka Yoru didn't scold his brother much but said, "Don't spoil your Luna too much. If you must check the place or whatever it is first and never put you two in danger."

"I apologize. It won't ever happen again." Conri Lycaon said.

The hunting team, which is quite friendly towards Mayonaka Yoru, approached them and informed them of the plan once more.

"Brother Yoru, help us restrain it as much as you can."

"We can help too." The rest of the group said.

"Let's all do it together!"

The adults left a few warriors who can help restrain the dinosaur. This is a Savage Beast who is well-known for its power. People must work together to restrain its movement so the rest can kill it.

"This beast was taunted well. It fearlessly runs towards us as expected of a Savage Beast. I will give a signal and restrain it as much as you can."

All of the warriors hiding in the bushes jumped on the Tyrannosaurus Rex. Others control the elements to restrain the T-Rex, while some bite its legs and tail. Ice elements, wood elements, and other stringed weapons had all wrapped around the Tyrannosaurus Rex's limbs, forcing it to fall on its back and completely restrain it. The image of the Giant being captured by smaller creatures flashed through my mind. Everyone had worked flawlessly together to catch it.

GRRRAAAAOW!!

When the Tyrannosaurus Rex was apprehended, the chief warrior severed its head, and it died with a roar! Everyone applauded. This is a new chapter in history in which the people of their new generation demonstrate their ability to capture a Savage Beast as written in history.

Leafy and the others can only stand there and watch as the rest of the warriors begin butchering the Savage King Beast. The warriors were working well together, each doing their own thing, such as draining and gathering blood. Skinning and cutting the meat into pieces. Conri Lycaon and Carnelian Dawn cannot use the Tyrannosaurus Rex as prey for the trial because it was killed as a group.

Baishi said to Conri Lycaon and Asher Light's pair, "It's not too late. You should catch another prey. The first stage priority isn't the size of the prey but for you to catch one for your partner. Stealing captured prey is also not allowed, just catch whatever you can see on the path."

Esther Dawn gave them a stern warning and said, "You can only hunt at the foot of the mountain. Don't climb up anymore!"

"We understand!" The four responded after once again separating from the group. Leafy whispered some locations in which they could catch a mid-size dinosaur.

Baishi asked the older couple, "I saw you capture your prey and it was frozen. I think someone stole it just now and brought it back to the city. Since there is almost no one in the city after we all left no one saw they stole it. Do you need to catch one?"

"To use the prey we caught they must first melt my ice. If they could, that is~..." Mayonaka Yoru said with a meaningful smile.

Chapter 1045: First Red Star - Second Trial: Cooking (I)

Main City's Open Area...

The majority of the warriors who had gone to hunt for the trial had returned, including Asher Light and his group. They returned with frozen Sinoceratops, which resemble a massive mutated hippopotamus, as well as an Iguanodon. It's a dinosaur with a bile mouth and a spiked thumb. Only Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru were not bringing any prey with them.

When Esther Dawn and his partner approached, a couple not far away looked especially nervous. They clearly have a guilty look on their faces after stealing something that isn't theirs. Mayonaka Yoru gave this couple a meaningful full smile, causing them to immediately avoid their gaze.

Conri Lycaon frowned as he noticed this exchange, "Are they the ones who stole your prey, brother?"

"Yeah. Don't worry they will have a problem when it comes to weighing prey. Preys covered in ice aren't allowed to enter the Weightings Scale." Mayonaka Yoru said.

Esther Dawn said, "You guys should also enter the line. We will enter right behind this pair of thieves."

"Don't they know it's common sense to not be able to lift someone's ability on something even if they have the same element?" Asher Light commented.

Leafy commented, "Most people don't know as it is rare for people with the same element to be on one team. It would be redundant doing so after all."

"Let's go, Leafy. We need to help with the weighting."

Baishi turned around and nodded to the couple of Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru. They will notify those in charge of weighing the stealing problem. After all, this is against the rules. They separated from this group and joined the Great Elder and Keylan Light to assist with the task of weighing each prey. This is for Ranked to see who got the heaviest and largest prey to give to their future mates.

On the stone stage, Great Elder Tuya and Keylan Light once again took the attention of everyone in the area. They once again become the host after returning to the city as they were told to do so.

Great Elder Tuya said, "The time limit for hunting is finished! We would like for the couples to bring over their prey to be weighed. Of course! You cannot bring it covered in ice. It must be only the body of the dinosaurs and no other elements are to be added. It will be inspected by our volunteers here so be warned."

"We have also found rule breakers during the first trial. Some even tried to hunt a Savage Beast and almost lost their lives. It was only thanks to the kindness of the Visitor Gods that they were able to survive. They were attacked by three savage beasts and some were even eaten from the spot. If not for the blessing of the Elemental Light God and Beats God that they wouldn't be able to survive such an ordeal." Keylan Light said.

A lot of the warriors noticed some couple who were kneeling on the ground dazed. Even though they survive and revive the trauma they got from that event would haunt their life for so long.

Great Elder Tuya announced, "Line up! We will begin weighing!"

Even Asher Light and Amber Dawn, Conri Lycaon, and Carnelian Dawn, as well as the other pairs, began to fall in line, as the other pairs could only drag their prey with them. Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru, who were not pulling or carrying anything, made the others look at them puzzled. They both stood purposefully behind the couple who had stolen their prey. Even now, the couple was nearly in tears because the ice covering the Triceratops was not melting.

The couple who stole Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru's prey are Elemental users of fire and ice, which is why the male warrior took the prey Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru had left behind. He was confident that he or his chosen female could melt the ice surrounding the Triceratops. As a result, no one in the couple complained about their prey being stolen.

Who would have thought that this ice would be so thick that neither fire nor the same ice element could melt it? They had a bad feeling when they saw the original owner of the prey return to the city with no prey or anything on them, especially when Mayonaka Yoru gave them a scheming smile. The couple was aware that the owner of the frozen Triceratops was aware of what they had done. Nonetheless, they refused to give up.

The line moves forward, and it's finally time for the thief couple to weigh their prey. They were unable to melt the ice no matter what they tried. In the presence of Leafy and Baishi...

The thief couple is terrified.

The white lion, Baishi, "Please remove the ice in your prey. It cannot be weighted with it covered in Ice."

"C-Can we try... I mean it's just Ice?" The warrior beastmen between the couple said.

Leafy said, "Do you not understand the rules!? No other elements are to be included! Melt it. Or maybe that prey isn't even yours that's why you can't melt it. Did you steal it somewhere?"

Upon hearing the word steal, the couple panicked even more. Especially when almost everyone in the line was looking at them. They felt embarrassed when people were shouting at them.

"Is that Triceratops not theirs?"

"No wonder. This dinosaur is quite big among the mid-size herbivorous dinosaurs. I remember that man, he is a Hyena in his beast form. There is no way he can defeat such a dinosaur alone."

"Moreover, his female beastman didn't even come with him to hunt. How could their prey be covered in Ice?"

"Does that mean they stole it or something?"

"But that's against the rules..."

"That's cheating. No wonder they couldn't even melt the ice."

"Then who caught that Triceratops?"

Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru approached the thief couple. As soon as the other couple noticed them they knew they were busted. Especially with Mayonaka Yoru smiling at them.

The former walked towards them and grins, he touched the iced Triceratops and said, "Thank you for bringing our prey back to the city. I left it covered in ice on the mountain road as we heard that our brothers were being chased by a Savage Beast. You are so kind to bring it to the city for us."

"I... We... Did not..."

"What are you saying!? That Triceratops is ours!!! We caught it!!" The Female Beastman said.

Esther Dawn spoke, his voice was cold and apathetic, "Yours? If it is yours then... melt the Ice! Didn't you know that casted elemental techniques can only be undone by the one who cast it? You seem to be an Ice Element user. I will believe it's yours, if you melt the ice before our ice, if not we will assume that this is the prey we lost as someone stole it during the commotion."

The murmurs of the audience and other participants grew louder as they caught a glimpse of the couple. They decided to leave because things were not going well for their side. But no one expected a man named Mayonaka Yoru to melt the ice around Triceratops before everyone else. He even appears to be amused by them.

Mayonaka Yoru said, "Oh my~ it melted~ it seems this was our prey whom we lost in the mountain?"

"This prey... It seems like they are the real owners. Did you steal it? That's against the rules of the trial and the laws of our city." Baishi said.

The couple was not like an insect in the pan, they wanted to escape but couldn't as they were being blocked by someone from all sides.

"We just... pick it up."

"We thought no one owns it!"

"We're sorry!!" The couple ran away after that. They choose to give up the trial after this event.

Everyone had a negative attitude toward the couple. Stealing is against hunting laws, and it would not be surprising if they were severely punished for it. Everyone knew the couple had a guilty conscience after they fled, but they chose not to pursue them because they still returned the prey to Mayonaka Yoru and his partner.

"There are people like that in the city. yoru, we apologize for them."

"Come on, Chief. It wasn't even your fault. Don't apologize. Moreover, our prey returned to us after all. There is no need to pursue this problem further." Mayonaka Yoru said as he still treated these kind beastmen friendly as he knew they would be a rotten one among the good ones no matter where.

Some warriors from the hunting team approached this pair and discovered why they had to leave their prey unattended for so long. Their siblings are in jeopardy. How could they have brought their prey with them as they searched for their family? It was these types of beastmen who would take advantage of this opportunity to steal from others, especially a scavenger like a hyena.

Since this farce was completed, the flow of the line has become smoother than before, and the ranking was decided quickly. The adult Triceratops, as expected, lost the weight ranking. Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru were given the opportunity to select their ingredients and tools for the second trial first.

The Great Elder Tuya said, "The First Trial has ended. The Second Trial shall begin. For the next trial, you guys need to cook the prey you have caught yourself. The extra Ingredients can be picked from this side. It will be according to the ranking of which Ingredients to use. If you have spare ingredients with you then you can also cook it."

"Give us a small plate or a few bowls to taste. It would be judged by how tasty the cooked food was and who would rank first for this trial. Those who can't cook an edible dish would be considered a failure. Let's begin." Keylan Light announced.

Those who did not achieve a high ranking were only given a lighter and some wood to start a fire. Each couple claimed a corner and started a bonfire. Esther Dawn wasn't a great cook, but his lover, who had been a bachelor before they met and is a natural foodie, is. Yoru did the majority of the cooking, with Esther assisting with the ingredients.

Yoru: Pudding, washing the vegetables, and making a salad. Leave a bit of lettuce.

Esther moves without speaking a word.

Yoru: Pudding, do you know where did I put the pot?

Esther looked around and picked a pot to be given to his partner. They work together quite well even if one of them can only assist.

On Asher Light and Amber Dawn's side, the holy son is the type to wreak havoc in the kitchen, whether chopping vegetables or lighting the fire. Amber kicked him out of the kitchen after he wasted an entire plate of vegetables and cut the chopping board into pieces, and he was told to remove the fruits and peel the skin.

Thud! Bang! The chopping board and vegetables are no more.

"Ash, get the hell out of the kitchen!" Amber Dawn yelled.

Asher: Wuwuwu~ (QAQ)/ [I didn't do it on purpose.]

Something unexpected happened on Conri Lycaon and Carnelian Dawn's side. Carnelian Dawn, who the audience thought was silly and careless, appears to be a culinary expert. He directed Conri Lycaon to cut the meat into strips, cubes, or mince it. He even moves around the kitchen with far more ease than Mayonaka Yoru. Everyone was surprised because no one expected this clumsy child to be such a talented chef.

Carnelian Dawn said, "Conri, I want a striped slice of meat, cube-shaped ones, and a minced one. I also want to make some sausages but time is running out. Well, let's make some beggar chicken since I failed to catch a Pterodactyl. Dig a hole for me!"

"Just tell me anything. I will help with whatever you need, A'Lian." Conri Lycaon said.

Chapter 1046: First Red Star - Cooking (II)

The Second Trial finally begins. After all the prey were weighed, the couple went to the warehouse according to their rankings and took whatever ingredients they needed for cooking. Each couple has three types when it comes to cooking. Either one of the couples is able to cook, both couples are able to cook and neither of the couple can't cook. The last pair is quite hard to handle and they can only cook their prey over fire with salt and honey.

The second trial feels like a food variety show in which the participants are judged by the food they cooked. Thankfully the criteria for it don't seem strict as long as the food is edible they would be able to pass.

This is the time for the future mates to show that they can feed their warriors. Most female beastmen would do their best to cook the best meals and favorites of their partner. In this trial, the female beastmen or their other halves would try their best to please their partners. As long as they get a hold of their future husband's stomach they should be able to get their attention and love. Of course, there are some couples in which even the warriors do the cooking. These men were collectively known as henpecked men.

Henpecked husband ranked 2 in the Trial, Mayonaka Yoru. He is now cooking a Dinosaur steak for his lover. Even prepared a few appetizers and side dishes before the man. Serve a glass of red wine to fit the meal he made with the meat of the Triceratops.

Mayonaka Yoru ate dinner with his Luna and even asked for his comment for that night's meal, "Este-chan, how is it? I cooked it to your liking. Medium Rare Dinosaur Steak."

The scholar looking at a young man gracefully wipes the corner of his lips and lifts his plate. "Another plate, please." Esther Dawn said.

Upon hearing this response, Mayonaka Yoru couldn't stop grinning as he served another plate for his Luna. Not far from them Keylan Light and Great Elder Tuya were enjoying such delicious steak. They couldn't even open their mouths and raise a number sign of 10. In most food contests this is a perfect score.

Keylan Light said, "This is quite delicious."

"You are such a great cook, Sonny!" Great Elder Tuya said after swallowing whatever is in their mouths during the tasting. The pair was kind enough to cook a plate for each of them.

Henpecked husband ranked 3. The man was kicked out of the kitchen by his future wife after destroying the chopping board and wasting vegetables she asked to be cut. He can only join the other warriors who were in the same situation as them. Looking at their partner from a distance with puppy eyes.

Asher Light stares at his girlfriend, "Amy~ I promise I will not destroy the kitchen anymore."

"No. Stay there. Don't bother me when I'm cooking!" Amber Dawn said.

(QAQ)

A few while later Amber Dawn asked, "What do you want to eat? I will make it for you but don't enter the kitchen. What will you do if you cut your fingers? Or if you burn yourself, just stay away for a while." Obviously, worrying about him being hurt as he moves carelessly in the kitchen. But she still asks what the latter wants to eat, obviously willing to cook for him.

A bright smile appeared on Asher Light's face making him look like a real holy son. "Amy~ I know you love me! I want some braised dinosaur with eggs, BBQ, and then some Egg tomato soup as well as a large serving of white rice!"

After a few hours, the requested dishes were all served on a small table. Eating besides Asher Light were Keylan Light and Great Elder Tuya. They weren't like Asher Light who looks like he is wolfing down his food. But it is clear on their faces that the meal was satisfying and delicious.

Keylan Light said, "You will be a good wife in the future."

"You have a bright future ahead of you. You two have passed the Second Trial." Great Elder Tuya announced.

Amber Dawn and Asher Light were the second ones to pass. They wanted to check on the last couple, Conri Lycaon and Carnelian Dawn but when they saw how busy the pair were, they couldn't help but think 'Just how many dishes do these two plan on making?'. But like other dishes, the cuisine this pair is cooking is varied... There's a burger, macaroni, shawarma, crepe, pancakes, and more. It was as if they wanted to cook all kinds of dishes that are possible to make with all their ingredients.

In the end, Keylan Light and Tuya decided to check on them last and look at the other pair. There are many decent pairs among the participants but there are also some who barely made it. When they tried to eat an almost charcoal-flavored roasted chicken, they almost failed the pair that cooked it.

"I'm sorry. I'm still learning. The fire was too strong so it got burned but the inside should still be edible."

The partner of the female beastmen ate the roasted chicken with a smile, "Miaomiao, you've improved! You've worked hard."

"I... I will definitely make some food that doesn't burn next time. I promise. I will practice more."

Seeing the sweet interaction between the couple The two judges looked at one another and exchanged a nod. They can see that the warrior thinks the food is edible even though it was half burned. At least the chicken itself was cooked well, except for its burned skin.

"You two passed well. Good job, child!" The Great Elder Tuya said with a smile.

The nervous female beastman was so delighted that he hugged his fiancée. Because of the age gap between the two of them, his partner would always dote on him but the female beastman wanted to do something for his partner and thus he started cooking. But his practice was too short and the Trial for Mateship had suddenly begun. After his partner asked him whether he wanted to try doing the trial with him, he was hesitant at first but seeing his lover's pampering gaze he decided to try it.

His cooking was already at a normal stage but because he is a bit nervous and conscious of the trial that his roasted chicken burned a bit. He wanted to cry but didn't want to make it hard for his protector so when he heard from the Great Elder Tuya and Lord Keylan Light then they passed not only the first and second stages. He was extremely glad that they made it.

After checking the rest of the couple, they finally ended up checking on the last couple, Conri Lycaon and Carnelian Dawn. Thankfully, they finished cooking and made a few huge pots of various soups, main dishes, side dishes, and desserts. Keylan Light and Great Elder Tuya were dumbfounded at the sight of so much food.

Keylan Light asked, "Didn't you make too much!?"

"Not much. I still don't think it's enough but we wanted to give our thanks for saving us this morning and made a lot for everyone to share. I hope the brothers, uncles, sisters, aunts, grandpas, and grandmas as well as the children like our cooking. Thank you once again for saving us!" Carnelian Dawn said.

Conri Lycaon said, "Please don't be shy and get what you want to eat. Let's eat dinner together."

The warriors in the audience cheered. It was indeed quite hard to watch others cooking and eating without having the same thing they've been drooling at the sight of food from the open field and were delighted to hear that they also got some food from the participants. Seeing this, the rest of the participants also made more and shared with everyone. At the end of the Second Trial, a huge dinner feast with everyone in the city had been enjoyed for the whole night.

It didn't take awhile for someone to start partying, even bringing out wines, beers, and liquors which made the evening more boisterous and joyous. Everyone enjoyed the dinner at the end of the day resulting in some drunkards laying on the ground asleep and their partners having to be dragged back home. It was such a funny sight to see countless warriors being dragged back home by their mates like a sack of potatoes being dragged on the ground.

During the evening party, it was announced that the final stage of the trial would begin tomorrow and the passing participants were asked to gather outside the Illusion Forest in which the final stage of the Trial would take place. After receiving the instructions, venue, and time, they all continue to enjoy the party.

Meanwhile at the Ancestral Village...

Shen Siwang was busy in the kitchen making some stew as his wifey had requested. He also made all the other favorite foods of his beloved and ate at the former house where Hei Anjing and Ye Xiajie live as Xuebao and Meizhou. The place is completely maintained and after the two wardens cleaned it up for the Lord, the place became somehow livable.

Warden Lou and Warden Yun didn't join their two Superiors on their dinner date. They had to go back to their former place to make dinner for themselves as well. They were only here to give guidance to the two esteemed lords after they passed their Lord God's message to his brother. In the end, they can only stay here until the two Venerable Lords complete what they came from.

After all, the two wardens, weren't that close with their Lord's brother and Lord Hei's family. There are subordinates of the two but this is the first time they were tasked to serve the two. Since there was no relationship between them It was quite awkward to speak a word or respond to the couple. Sovereign the Tyrant God was a lot scarier than Lord Hei.

At least Lord Hei would smile at them even though mischievously but Sovereign Lord Mo Baojun rarely smiles. Even in front of Sovereign Ruler Shen Siwang, the expression on his face doesn't change at all. Of course, the reactions of the two wardens didn't escape the eyes of the two, and felt that this pair was a bit too nervous.

Shen Siwang flashed a big and gleaming smile. Seeing a Sovereign Ruler like this the two wardens felt they had suffered a mind block. They forget to even respond or react upon hearing those words of Shen Siwang.

"Too stiff! Go back home and rest. There is no need to stay by our side all the time. You also came here to investigate something, right? Go ahead and complete your main tasks. We will call you if we need you." Shen Siwang said.

Mo Baojun also spoke and said, "Be careful. Tracing the trace of the World Eater is quite dangerous no one knows when his fragment would appear. His fragments had their own mind but move accordingly to their obsession. In short, they cause madness everywhere they are in." They wanted to stop possible world destruction caused by it and gathered more information about it. The world eater is the enemy of their bosses after all.

Chapter 1047: First Red Star - Despair of the living

In the original world of vampires, werewolves, and humans.

Kenan Light is the destined world villain. It has finally decided to make a move. Only the territory under the control of the Genus Academy remains standing, with the exception of a few desolate lands. The rest of the land had become desolate, making it a haven for the undead. Those who died during the undead invasion had been transformed into undead. Under Kenan Light, the number of undeads now surpassed that of the conquered population of the land he had invaded.

In the world today, the undead outnumber the other races. The Genus Academy Academy is the only remaining sanctuary. The domain within it was shielded from everything outside by the golden barrier. Furthermore, since the invasions of the undead troops led by the Devil, Kenan Light, pollution has not only affected the land and water, but even the air has hints of miasma, which is poisonous to the other races.

At the black castle of bones...

He had never been able to sleep since he became a devil. Countless souls, he had devoured, continued to whisper near his ears, causing confusion in his mind. His desires are almost limitless. He can only eat and eat in order to maintain his sanity. However, there was no cure for such a problem. Either he is killed and dies forever, or he continues to eat and devour everything in his path. As if life were mindless and insatiable.

Kenan Light, the devil, sits on the throne of bones, surrounded by countless corpses. He'd eat and eat until only the bones were left, and these bones would give birth to another undead.

Munches~ crunched! Munch!

"No matter how much I eat I don't feel full! I'm so hungry. I'm so hungry!!! Argh! It's not enough. Not enough to eat!!!" Kenan Light yells and his voice echoes in the quiet throne room. "No matter what it is! I need to eat it!"

Kenan Light was reminded of Genus Academy. Only this location remains among all of the land's territory. Those who have escaped his troops' pursuit seek refuge in this location as well. The only living place on the planet. He had already conquered the rest of the land.

"One place left. As long as that land falls as well, I will be the king of this world! Attack Genus Academy. Continue until the barrier disappears!!!"

Since that day, undead attacks on Genus Academy had become more common. But regardless of the rank of the devil tasked with the mission, whatever Kenan Light this devil had sent to the Genus Academy will all just melt upon contact with the barrier. The Devil was enraged by this outcome and nearly lost control.

Back to Genus Academy...

The undead beyond the barrier are terrifying the people inside the barrier. There are far too many to encompass the entire domain of the Genus Academy. Since the undead attacks on the barrier have become more frequent, refugees from the outside have stopped coming in.

Only those who had survived realized that there might no longer be any living people or beings beyond the barrier and that everything had been turned undead.

"There are too many undeads! How can there be that much!?"

"Is there no one living beyond the barrier? Would that barrier be able to protect us until the end?!"

"I don't want to die. I truly don't! If the Ancestors of the three races are truly powerful, why aren't they doing something about that devil?!"

"Such a thing shouldn't have existed at all!"

Under Kenan Light, the undead had grown so powerful that they could remember when they were still humans. Most of them were betrayed or sacrificed by others just to survive, and just thinking about it made them even angrier and despised living in their hearts. As if asking, "Why should I die when you can live inside that barrier?" With such a lingering question, the undead's hatred for the living is dependent, and they worked harder to destroy the barrier surrounding Genus Academy.

They would be able to exact their revenge as long as the barrier fell. Only the Demon King, Lemuel Elon, didn't get his entire human memories as Kenan Light specifically sealed his memories as Cardinal Lemuel. This is because this man died for love, which is completely different from the rest.

Fear had begun to grow in the hearts of the living. Even though the barrier remains, they couldn't help but wonder what would happen if it suddenly vanished one day. Students stopped going to school because they were afraid, and most of their parents chose not to leave the house they were given. They are still terrified. This fear may worsen in the future, resulting in a massive disaster.

At the mansion...

Instructor Fenrir Skoll and Headmaster Cassius Ambrosia had heard from other teachers that the majority of the students had stopped coming to school. The two systems in their humanoid forms, Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang, are the ones who broke the news to them.

Zhi Yue was the first to report, "My Lord, Lord Cassius, the students had stopped coming to their classes. It seems that the parents of the students were all afraid that most of them had started to fear that the barrier would fall and the whole place would be razed by the undead."

"Some Instructors had also resigned from their posts and stayed at home locking themselves inside. There are also a few reports of suicides inside the territory. The beings of this world had started breaking down emotionally. Should we help eliminate those things outside?" Zhi Yang asked.

Cassius Ambrosia became lost in thought; he wanted to say something but remembered that he is forbidden to become further involved in this world if he wishes to leave this place with Fenrir Skoll. He finally decides not to say anything and simply stares at Fenrir Skoll.

Fenrir Skoll, on the other hand, is unconcerned about the world. Even after being resurrected as the God of Void, his emotional level for others other than his wife and family was almost non-existent.

"Continue to just watch. Do not get involved anyway the barrier will not fall as long as we are inside. Since most students had stopped attending school and then forgot about teaching, let everyone else in the academy get back to their place and wait. Wait for their saviors to return. Their trial should be ending soon. They will be back and by then they will fight for this world to continue existing." Fenrir Skoll said.

Zhi Yue said, "But my lord..."

"If you want to help, go ahead. But let me give you a warning if this world chooses you to become its new savior then... You can never leave until it finds a new one to protect itself. Take your leave." Fenrir Skoll finally sends them away.

"Yes, Milord!"

Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang comprehended the Lord God's words and left the mansion without complaint. They realized that if the two lords made a move, this world could be saved, but that Lord Hei's soul fragment could never detach itself from this world. To avoid this, they can only wait for the return of the world's true protagonists. Lord Cassius Ambrosia will be set free as long as they save the world through their actions.

After the two systems took their leave, Cassius Ambrosia looked at his lover and asked,

"Are we cruel, A'Xia?"

"We are not originally from this world. It is the world's fault for trying to restrain you and preventing you from leaving. If it had not chosen to do that I would have made a move to clean up this world unfortunately, it wouldn't let you go. So I can only watch this world die for your sake. Between the world and my love, you would always be the top priority no matter what." Fenrir Skoll said.

Meanwhile within the territory of the Genus Academy...

There aren't many people loitering along the road or in other areas. The majority of them chose to stay inside their homes and almost not live at all. Only a few people who came to work on their farms can be seen walking around, but the area is already desolate in some places.

A young man, unshaven and dazed like a beggar on the road, was looking beyond the barrier somewhere near the barrier's edge. His eyes were lifeless and dull as if he had long lost the will to live. Darius Rueden is a former cardinal. He'd been like this since he was forced to live by Lemuel Elon. Nobody knows what he wanted other than to watch the undead beyond the barrier.

After warning him not to leave the barrier, his disciple would abandon him there. They even placed restrictions on him, preventing him from leaving Genus Academy's territory. His Disciple understood why his master was acting this way; his master desired to see Lemuel Elon, who had been transformed into undead by Kenan Light following his death.

Even a fleeting glance was enough to bring Darius Rueden's eyes back to life. Even if Lemuel Elon had turned undead, he could never be mistaken for anyone else. But, as if the other side was aware of their master's existence, the Commander of that undead never appeared near the Genus Academy even once. Nonetheless, his master, Darius Rueden, waits. Waiting for someone who will never return to his side.

Sometimes there are some people who can hear Senior Darius Rueden murmuring nonstop saying, "Lem, where are you? I'm here. I will wait for you here to pick me up. I will wait for you here until you come to bring me home. Lem, I'm here. I will always be here, Lem~"

Even though Darius Rueden's figure was a lonely and sorry sight in such a place, no one attempted to console him. Because he had lost everything and even his sanity since Lemuel Elon left his side to sacrifice himself for his survival. Waiting for that one person who will never come back to him.

The undead keep attacking the barrier. It would create ripples in the golden light but never leave a hole or crack. Instead, the pile of ashes from the burned undead grows higher and higher until it reaches the height of a small mountain outside the barrier. Even though there are those who are still waiting for their loved ones to return. The other living beings continue to hide in their house in fear.

At the Dawn Family's Household...

Luciel Dawn and Thana Daybreak were informed that their children were leaving somewhere to reconnect with their souls and gain strength. Only by becoming stronger would the possibility of surviving this calamity exist. This couple had no idea where their children had been taken; all they knew was that Keylan Light, the founder of the Templar Temple, had left with them.

Luciel Dawn and Thana Daybreak wished the children would not return to their hearts. If they are currently in a safer place than here, they should stay there because they have realized that their world has already become a living hell for those who are still alive. Undeads occupy their former lands beyond the barrier. Even the earth outside had become desolate. There isn't even a living grass to be seen in this dry and infertile landscape.

Thana Daybreak knows that their world outside the barrier is already under the control of Kenan Light. All the former living beings had been eaten and turned into undead.

"Darling, do you think your brother wanted to do all this right from the beginning?" Thana Daybreak asked.

When their parents were still alive, Luciel Dawn remembered his younger brother, who used to be innocent and smile. Unfortunately, the village was attacked by werewolves and vampires, who occupied their land and killed everyone who had previously lived there. His younger brother even witnessed the murder of their parents with his own hands. But who would have predicted that his younger brother would not only cry but also smile in despair at that moment?

"Maybe at that time he had become broken from the inside ever since that day and wanted to destroy this world that made him feel all the pain." Luciel Dawn mumbled.

After watching the death of his loved ones, Kenan Light chose to hate the world and embraced all the negativity that can help him reach this goal. This is the original source of his ambition or maybe it changed in the end or not.

Thana Daybreak was confused and didn't understand her husband's words, "What did you say?"

"No. It's nothing. I no longer know what Kenan had been thinking ever since we lost our parents. I also don't know what he truly wanted in the end." Luciel Dawn said.

Chapter 1048: First Red Star - Illusionary Forest (I)

Their domain had already been nearly conquered, unbeknownst to the protagonists of their world. The only reason their world still exists is due to the kindness of outsider gods like Fenrir Skoll and Cassius Ambrosia, who protected the last land of the living while also refusing to make any further moves because this is a world with no connection to them after all.

Gods are territorial beings. They would not intervene to save the domain of another God unless the former is a close friend or loved one. Because of their overwhelming power and authority, Gods and Goddesses are rarely sympathetic to others and regard mortals as no more than insects.

This is particularly true for an Evil God such as the God of Void. He used to destroy worlds and the only ones he now repairs are the ones his wife destroys while playing. The remainder would be saved or ignored depending on his mood.

Hei Anjing, the God of Destruction, can only destroy the world, so when he destroys one, he has no idea how to restore it. He accidentally destroyed countless worlds while working as an Executioner for the God System, forcing his Uncle and Shen Siwang to work their disciples to death just to repair it. Because of these occurrences, Hei Anjing's name became synonymous with the word destruction.

Fenrir Skoll and Cassius Ambrosia live together in the mansion but have no intimate interaction other than holding each other's hands, hugging, and sleeping together. Kisses on the forehead are also uncommon because Cassius Ambrosia lived in the modern world with little skinship with others. He also had a slight aversion to skinship, and he felt awkward around Fenrir Skoll at times.

The Lord God understood his situation and did not force any more intimacy than his wife could bear. Instead, he stayed by his side 24 hours a day, seven days a week, serving and spoiling him as before. Even though Cassius Ambrosia is only a soul fragment of his wife's entire soul, he has never treated him differently than Hei Anjing has all these years. Finding him in all worlds, unconditionally loving him despite... He would occasionally hurt him.

This is the part of his life he despises the most. While preparing some baked snacks in the kitchen Zhi Yue suddenly appeared and saluted respectfully to his lord. Fenrir Skoll didn't even turn around upon the latter's arrival.

"What do you need? This Deity is busy."

"Master! Yue doesn't want to turn a blind eye. I'm sure A'Yang had already noticed it as well. Something weird is mixing with your aura." Zhi Yue said as he noticed the dark elements around his master which used to not have any shape had turned into dragons coiling around him.

This aura gives off a completely different vibe than just darkness or the void itself. It is also capable of devouring anything. It gives those who look at it an eerie feeling as if it has sucked away their souls, even for an artificially created existence like Zhi Yue.

Fenrir Skoll cast a quick glance at Zhi Yue before returning his attention to the freshly baked macaroons in the oven. He made sure to keep that strange aura around him at bay, and it vanished as if it had never existed. Zhi Yue, on the other hand, kept his distance from his loved one because he felt that thing wanted to eat him no... I was hungry for everything.

Fortunately, it was under his Lord's command.

Zhi Yue panicked, "M-Master? T-That thing...! That tried to eat me just now."

"I can make it spit you out even if it eats you. If you don't want to get eaten don't stare at it for too long making it notice your presence." Fenrir Skoll said. "It's under my control. Do not ask further. Go back."

"Y-Yes, Master." Zhi Yue said as he walked away from the kitchen.

Before walking out the door, he looked worriedly at his master, a frown on his face. That aura is right now. If he's not mistaken, that thing is alive; it wasn't just a simple aura, but a living aura devoid of intelligence, similar to world qi, but for some reason, it listens to his master.

Fenrir Skoll's eyes turned a deeper red, unbeknownst to him. The darker his eyes become, the angrier he becomes. A wriggling small black dragon shrieked in pain within his grasp. This aura enraged him for allowing Zhi Yue to notice their presence.

The God of Void whispered coldly, "Brainless things! Which of the word 'Hide' did you fulfill!? Useless!"

Shaaaa~

He destroyed the devouring power that manifested. It simply lost its ability to manifest itself in visible form, but this power remains. Then he resumed what he was doing in the kitchen as if nothing had happened.

Primitive World, the next day...

When morning came, all trial participants had gathered in front of the Illusionary Forest. Great Elder Tuya and Keylan Light, as expected, await them at the gates. Outside the gates, one can see the rainbow-colored mist inside the forest, but the trees and paths are barely visible. However, there is a light-like pillar in the center of the Illusionary Forest which was their goal and designation.

When Great Elder Tuya saw that all of the participants who had passed the second stage of the trial had gathered, he began issuing warnings and instructions for the final stage of the trial.

Great Elder Tuya says, "Since everyone is already here we shall begin the final stage of the trial. In front of you is the Illusionary Forest, upon entering this forest together as a couple you will be able to see everything that one has experienced in life. This includes your thoughts and feelings for one another. Everything would be revealed and nothing would be hidden. It will be based on whether you are willing to accept each other."

"We also know that not all of you will be able to accept what you see. I prepared a temporary imprint here. This will bring you outside as long as you decide not to continue the trial anymore and everything you have seen inside will be erased. All you would remember is your choice to fail the trial and go home without any more partners as you didn't accept each other in the end." Keylan Light drew a few imprints of the teleportation circle and pasted them on the bodies of the participants. "This imprint can be activated by thoughts and we who were watching over the forest would also activate it if we deemed that you failed that trial. Keep this in mind."

"The goal in this final stage is the Flower Garden at the center of the Illusionary Forest. Just bring back one of the flowers from that place and come out. Only the. You would be considered passed for this trial and the preparation for the Mateship Ceremony will be prepared by the whole city." Great Elder Tuya said as he controlled the gates to the forest to be opened. "Go inside once you are prepared. Let me warn you. You will be separated inside and must find each other first before heading to the center of the forest together. I wish you all luck!"

There were a few couples who were hesitant. After all, no mortal is without a secret. This trial will now expose everything in their lives to another person. Even Asher Light and the rest of the group were quiet; this Illusionary Forest is a strange place, and no one wanted to be the first to explore it.

Seeing them like this, Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun, who were acting as bystanders, didn't want to waste time.

Mo Baojun, whose face was hidden under a veiled hat, said to his husband, "Hubby, let's go. The sooner we finish the faster we can go home. I don't know if something happened at home while we were not around."

"Okay, Wifey!" Shen Siwang wraps his hand around his wife's waist and escorts him inside the Illusionary Forest under everyone's eyes. They had never seen a couple this brave in years.

Asher Light and the others, on the other hand, were staring at each other. The words spoken by that couple reminded them of their surroundings. Kenan Light's ambition will not be stifled simply because we are not present. They must complete this trial as soon as possible so that they can return to their world and defeat the devil. The connection between their souls would allow the couple to share their qi, allowing them to feel their partners' states and include their thoughts. These skills were useful enough during the war.

Esther Dawn said, "Let's go inside. We cannot waste any more time."

"If we get separated, stay calm on your own. Find each other and we will meet at the Flower Garden at the Center of the Forest." Mayonaka Yoru said.

"Please be careful!"

"Until we meet again!"

They only entered the Illusionary Forest as a group after that. With them taking the lead, the other couples decided to enter the Forest and complete the trial. As expected, the rainbow mist gradually fades and opens a path as soon as one enters the Illusionary Forest. This path is similar to a row of mirrors, with each mirror displaying a memory of their partners that they must view before they can see each other.

Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun saw this scenery first because they were the first to enter. They did not split up like the other couple. The Illusions in this forest had no effect on them because they were Gods, but a portion of their memories were being read and displayed on the surface of the mirror.

*The first time they met.

[Shen Siwang was the sole observer of the world as the Ruler of Vearth. There is no God System or Nether System at this time. Vearth is a simple world that only Gods can enter and inhabit. The Mo Family appeared in Vearth, and even Shen Siwang was perplexed as to where they came from. He was looking out the window, only to notice something interesting in this world.]

[A massive Saint Bernard-like dog beast was walking with a sleeping young man on its back. Shen Siwang couldn't stop laughing at this sight. The young man was obviously there to walk the dog, but this sight changes everything. The scene abruptly changes when some evil Gods attempt to kidnap the sleeping young man, but the dog refuses to give up its master and bares its fangs to these uninvited guests.]

[Shen Siwang had predicted that the young man would be terrified when he saw the scene.

When the sleeping young man awoke, an unusual situation occurred. A glint of coldness and boredom flashes within those beautiful eyes, revealing a pair of aquamarine eyes to the world. Shem Siwang hadn't seen such fearless eyes in a long time. He was unconcerned about the situation because he was used to it. Suddenly, this young man turned to face him; from the young man's point of view, he only needs to look at the heavens, but from his point of view, this little one is directly staring at him.]

[A God like Shen Siwang was taken aback by this scene. Those pairs of irises with sky and sea colors stared at him. As if these eyes can see through everything, including the creator of this world himself.

This young man reminded me of Mo Baojun when he was younger. "Old man God, please stop watching and lend me your assistance," he said.

Shen Siwang only realized at that point that this young man, among all his creations, can sense his presence and pinpoint his exact location for some unknown reason. That was Shen Siwang's first visit to Vearth, as well as his first meeting with his wifey, Mo Baojun.]

Shen Siwang couldn't help but laugh at their first meeting's amusing scene. Mo Baojun is still quite young at the moment. He is extremely lazy, and his family could not bear the thought of making him. Even their dog would carry him during its walk to give him sunlight.

Shen Siwang asked, "I remember this. Little Bernard was surrounded by your kidnappers. He even hid you under him not letting those things take you away. Actually, I was still confused about how sure you are to know that I am around. All this time I've been thinking about how my fear wifey knew I was looking at you. Can you please tell me?"

"Your soul is too bright. In my mind, I saw two suns and your soul is the brightest and the warmest. It was glowing gold more so than the sun yet it wasn't burning hotness but warmth which makes me even sleepier and relaxing. I just feel that you are there and call out to you." Mo Baojun said.

Shen Siwang realized how annoying his soul is after hearing this. He couldn't even stay with others because he burns them unconditionally. His burning soul had no effect on his brother, Ye Xiajie, Mo Baojun, or the Mo Family. His soul is hotter and brighter than the sun as the God of Light, and he had always assumed he would be alone for eternity until he met Mo Baojun.

Hugging his wife and kissing him, Shen Siwang said, "Wifey! I always knew you were my Soulmate. I love you so much!"

Chapter 1049: First Red Star - Illusionary Forest (II)

Still Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun's point of view...

A new scene appeared in front of their eyes. This time, it's the scene of Shen Siwang's birth. Unlike the other Gods, Created Gods such as Shen Siwang and Ye Xiajie did not have a childhood. They were born with their current adult appearance. When Shen Siwang was first created, he was already aware of the existence of his alter ego, Xia Jieye (Ye Xiajie). However, the God of Origin informed him that his brother would never be able to leave the Void unless someone else took his place or found another being who could help him bear the existence of the Abyss.

At the time, the God of Light was only a Holy God in appearance, and he is more emotionless than the God of Void. This is because almost everything he desires is available to him or can be obtained by him. Everything he desired was within his grasp, which only added to Shen Siwang's boredom. He had destroyed more worlds than he had created. If it weren't for the fact that he is the embodiment of the Light, his actions would have earned him the moniker "Evil God."

The scene shifts from Shen Siwang's mundane life to his meeting with Mo Baojun. Because of the creation of something to connect the worlds and universe with Vearth as the Central Region, their entanglement has become more common. They've been through ordeals comparable to what Hei Anjing and Ye Xiajie are currently going through. In the end, they become irreplaceable in each other's lives.

Mo Baojun did not blink as he watched these scenes. These are some details from his husband's past that he had previously only heard as words. He was finally reminded of how valuable his presence was to Shen Siwang after seeing it with his own eyes. He is his life and the reason for his existence.

"I am immensely grateful for the fate of letting you meet me that day. Shen Siwang, you were the sole warmth that was meant to be mine. In the very beginning, you are destined to be with me." Mo Baojun said.

Shen Siwang couldn't help but laugh with delight and joy. He drew his wife into his embrace, thinking that this trial was quite interesting. He was terrified of informing his Baobei about his past self. Because he was well aware of how much of a jerk he was at the time.

"Shall we continue walking and watch how our lives pass toward our current timeline."

"I'm lazy. Carry me on your back, hubby." mo Baojun said.

Shen Siwang took a knee and let his wife climb on his back before continuing on their way to the end of this trial. On their way, they observe all of the events that have occurred in their lives. Some were too old and almost forgotten memories, some were pleasant memories they would never forget, and some were tribulations they had endured that were filled with sadness and regret, but they were able to persevere. The rainbow mist had vanished by the time they arrived at the Flower Garden.

They were now greeted by a fantasy flower world populated by fairies who cared for the various flowers that could never be considered common florals. Shen Siwang made flower crowns out of blue hydrangeas she found among the sea of flowers. Shen Siwang carefully placed his newly made flower crown on Mo Baojun's head after his wife's hat had vanished at the entrance to this forest. The Tyrant God's aquamarine irises complement the blue hydrangea flower crown on his head.

They only took their leave when another couple had reached this place and came out of the Illusionary Forest ahead of everyone else.

The perspective of Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru...

Unlike the first couple, these two were separated, as were the other participants. Esther Dawn can barely see his path through the Rainbow Mist. Instead of calling out his lover's name, he walked around the rainbow mist, trying to find the right path. Before him was the same scenery made of mirrors and memories. Esther Dawn walked the path that was left open for him because she had no other options. He wanted to ignore the mirrors on his way, only to return to them when he heard his lover's familiar voice.

Esther Dawn was taken aback by the flashback to his lover's past. Werewolves with white hair walk in all genders in a beautiful hidden place within the snowy mountains. This is a happy clan that has remained hidden from the other tribe. They have the same characteristics as his lover, including white hair and wolf eyes. The Tribe of the Snow Fenrir.

An extinct tribe that was only mentioned in books and stories.

It once existed in reality, and this is where Mayonaka Yoru came from. He noticed a small child holding an even smaller boy. This young man with a joyful smile on his face is his lover's younger version. Conri Lycaon is the shy baby who is holding his hand.

Life in this tribe is simple and clear. They hunt in the morning while the tribe cooks or cares for their cubs. It was a peaceful scene because this tribe was separate from the other werewolf tribes and only lived in the land, with no interaction outside the tribe. It was because they needed to pray to their Gods without being influenced by others.

This tranquil scene was shattered by his uncle, Kenan Light, his father's younger brother. He can still see his uncle's obsession as he orders the annihilation of all Snow Fenrir. Even the cubs were spread thin, as Mayonaka Yoru and Conri Lycaon ran through the blizzard. Even snow werewolves would be greatly weakened by running in the blizzard at such a young age. Conri Lycaon had a fever, and Mayonaka Yoru did everything he could to keep his younger brother safe. He began hunting alone at such a young age.

However, during the winter season, prey is scarce, and many predators attempt to hunt him as well. Even if Conri Lycaon's fever didn't go away, he'd bring home a small rabbit or an unripe fruit for his younger brother. Mayonaka Yoru was distraught; he didn't want to lose his only younger brother, so as soon as the blizzard stopped, he walked around with his brother on his back, looking for a tribe to take him in.

Unfortunately, no other werewolf tribe wanted to bring in such a curse as a hunted tribe.

They refused to accept the two brothers. Just as Mayonaka Yoru and his younger brother were about to perish in the blizzard, a large black shadow appeared in front of him.

Asking him, "Do you want to live?"

"I don't care about myself! Can you save my younger brother!?" Mayonaka Yoru asked as he stood in front of his younger brother even though he was trembling in fear due to the huge difference in strength between him and the shadow before himself.

"Courageous and loyal. Very well, this king will take you in both!"

The huge shadow jumped into them before Mayonaka Yoru could react, and he lost consciousness. The original Fenrir Skoll was the one who saved them. He was hunting alone for his tribe because he is the strongest and fiercest warrior. He checked on the Snow Fenrir's old territory after hearing about their extinction and found it decimated by humans. He immediately killed all human priests and knights and burned the Snow Fenrir Tribe's remains.

The Snow Fenrir Tribe's demise is inhumane. They were skinned and had their fur removed, despite the fact that their hearts and eyes had been removed. He can only burn these werewolves to ashes so they can return to Earth, preserving their last dignity. Then he followed the faint traces left behind by the Mayonaka brothers as they ran...these traces are too small for humans to notice, but they can't be hidden by another werewolf like him. He followed the traces and kept an eye out for the brothers in the distance.

He wanted to assess their personalities before accepting them. After all, another werewolf tribe is unlikely to accept an outsider tribe unless... It was approved by the werewolf king.

He observed the slightly larger young cub leave. He thought he had abandoned his sick brother to fend for himself until he saw him return covered in wounds, holding a small rabbit in his mouth. His white fur was soaked in blood, and a beast had left bite marks on his small body, but he still returned to feed his brother.

The little cub was not supposed to survive, but it was Fenrir Skoll who slowly cured him so that he could survive in the end while his elder brother was away. When he saw him in despair, he was rejected by the other werewolf tribes, who eventually picked them up and returned them home.

The Fenrir Tribe is the most powerful and numerous werewolf clan in the entire race. This is due to the fact that there is no color distinction in this tribe. You will be welcomed into the tribe as long as the king accepts you. Mayonaka Yoru awoke in a warm tent, his wounds all healed. He looked around, hoping to spot his younger brother. He pounced on the female fox who was monitoring Conri Lycaon's fever. Mayonaka Yoru didn't bite her but drew his younger brother in closer to himself.

This vigorous movement opened his wounds and caused the bandages around his body to bleed again, despite the fact that he kept his younger brother behind him, protecting him at all times. The female doctor, who is also a werewolf, couldn't help but be pleased that such a young cub is so responsible. He is tenacious and devoted, brave and dignified. He can lower his head for his brother and was willing to put himself and his loved one in danger just to survive. He has the making of a king.

"No wonder, the King brought him home. He is such a good cub." The female werewolf in her human form mumbled.

"Don't be afraid cub. In this place you are safe. The king brought you back home so you and your brother will be protected by the whole clan as our new cubs. Come here, let's treat your wounds again. Your younger brother will be fine as well as his fever has gone down and only needs to take a long rest to fully recover."

Mayonaka Yoru observed the female werewolf in front of him without immediately approaching her. Since birth, he has had the instinctive ability to detect danger and malicious intent in himself and others. He approached the female werewolf only after he was certain she was telling the truth.

"Smart. You are truly smart for a cub. No wonder you can survive in the snowstorm and protect your brother at the same time. Cub, you did well. You did your best. Don't blame yourself."

While being treated, Mayonaka Yoru remembers the deaths of his parents, friends, and tribe members that night vividly. They were slaughtered by special humans dressed in strange robes. His tears fell as he remembered how his mother, father, and uncles had protected them just so they could escape. His elder brothers and sisters also stood in the way of the humans taking them away. He also wanted to take the other young cubs with him, but they all sacrificed themselves so that he and Yue could survive. After all, they were born with the purest Snow Fenrir bloodline.

Tears flowed, but Mayonaka Yoru did not howl as all other cubs would have in this situation. He was still afraid of approaching his younger brother and could only cry silently making him look even more pitiful.

Even the normally composed Esther Dawn couldn't keep his tears from falling when he saw this scene. What a tragic past. If he were Yoru, he would have despised all the humans who had killed off everyone important to him. It's no surprise that during some missions, Yoru would even assist other teams in the Templar Temple and watch them perish. At first, he was also treated the same way, but in the end, they still ended up being together.

Esther Dawn mumbled, "Thank you. Thank you for bringing Yoru to my side. Oh, God thank you..."

Chapter 1050: First Red Star - Illusionary Forest (III)

Just as Esther Dawn witnessed a part of his lover's past that he was never told about. He had no idea that Mayonaka Yoru was also watching his childhood memories. Esther Dawn's childhood can be described as happy. He is the son of a loving mother, a strict but loving father, and upcoming younger siblings.

The only thing he didn't know about his mother and father was their identities. Thana Daybreak, Esther Dawn's mother, is a noble-ranking vampire. She is only one of the blood race's high-ranking vampires. The Daybreak Clan also had ties to the Progenitor of Blood, who transformed the only Duke-ranked Vampire Lord. This is why her lineage has a pureblood component, as does Duke Luther D'Arcy's.

But because human marriage to other races is illegal, the Dawn Family can only flee. Furthermore, Luciel Dawn is a Cardinal, which means he holds a high position and power in the Templar Temple. They would never allow such a person to be with someone of the opposite race.

In the end, the Dawn Family's happy family was shattered. Their home was raided by the Templar Temple. Despite his best efforts to protect his family in the aftermath of his wife's capture, Luciel Dawn can only surrender himself to do so. With a Cardinal Class like Luciel Dawn threatening self-destruction, Kenan Light had no choice but to let go of his elder brother's family.

But would such a cunning snake let go of a vampire from his Templar Temple who had mated with a human? Certainly not! He left an order to kill his elder brother's wife. Thana Daybreak was forced to leave after purchasing a home and leaving all of her money to her children.

She didn't want her children to be pursued alongside her. Even though they are half-breed, they are inferior in the eyes of humans. They were despised, but not to the extent that other races were.

Even so, living without a guardian is difficult for two young human children. It didn't take long for their so-called relatives to take away Thana Daybreak's inheritance. They would have taken the mansion if they hadn't been afraid of being thrown in jail. Finally, the Templar Temple discovered Luciel Dawn's children and had them tested for their affinity with Light Elements. They had high hopes for the siblings because they were the children of the temple's most powerful cardinal in its history.

They did not fail, and the eldest son was born with a strong affinity for light elements. Esther Dawn was forced to flee with them in exchange for the safety of his younger sister, Amber Dawn. Esther had no idea at the time that the soul inside Amber Dawn's body was his younger brother's soul, not his sister's.

Esther Dawn was bullied by the other children when he entered the Templar Temple as a half-breed. He will fight back, but if there are too many of them, he will get beaten up even if he wins in the end. He meets Asher Light during his training. Because they were both orphans, they got along well. They become best friends, only to be divided by their future jobs. As the high-seated Holy Son, Asher Light was placed under the tutelage of the new Pope after the founder announced his death. Kenan Light, his uncle who destroyed his family, became a disciple of his friend.

During the time they were looking for a new job, their friend drifted. Esther Dawn entered the pool of missions alone, while Asher Light began his training as the Holy Son. He wanted to drown himself in a mission and forget about his problems. He keeps fighting, killing, and going on endless hunts against the other races. In those missions, he was on his own.

He would return wounded and pale, but all of his missions were completed, even if some of them were lethal.

He rose to the position of Archbishop solely through his own hard work. He aspired to Cardinal Class, but that position allows him to be closer to his uncle. He wanted to assassinate him, but the Cardinal Positions had been filled by Kenan Light's subordinates, and no one else could take it.

Finally, his long-forgotten friend approached him again. Asking him to use him is necessary, and he would lend his assistance in achieving his goals. Asher Light, his friend, despised his teacher. Though Kenan Light treated him well, he is aware of what his teacher did to the family of his friend, Esther Dawn. As a result, he couldn't bring himself to trust his teacher.

Why would you trust someone who destroyed his own elder brother's family? Why would you harm your own family, regardless of the reason?

There was usually a reason for it. First, there's Envy. Envious of your brother's possessions.

Second, there is hatred. Why would you want to see someone happy if you despise them? Of course, you'd want to ruin the happiness of the person you despise. Asher Light understood that it was both for his teacher. Initially, his teacher lacked talent.

His power is entirely derived from outside assistance. Like the Snow Fenrir's fur and their ice hearts. Consuming the hearts of the Snow Fenrir was said to grant one the power of light or ice elements. Light elements would gather around the Snow Fenrir fur as long as it was worn by someone, making it easier to wield light elements. This is why Kenan Light annihilated the Snow Fenrir. He wanted all of these artifacts to be his alone and for his use only.

Esther Dawn only joined Asher Light's entourage after swearing that he would help him kill Kenan Light. It wasn't until they started working together that their old friendship was rekindled. However, there is still a significant difference in status between the two, and they must continue to act as subordinates and masters in front of the others.

Finally, the meeting of Esther Dawn and Mayonaka Yoru played out in front of his eyes.

You intended to murder his former self. He didn't want to believe he fell in love with a human when his heart was fluttering. The same human race that wiped out his tribe. So he schemes and plots against Esther Dawn on multiple occasions during their missions together. Esther Dawn would almost die under his plots at times, but she would always survive.

Mayonaka Yoru mumbled, "I really shouldn't have done that. Even though he is the nephew of that old bastard, deep inside I didn't believe his family was destroyed by that old bastard. I also knew he was attracted to me but I kept pushing you away..."

Mayonaka Yoru can only observe Esther Dawn's hesitation to approach him. Coming over to heal his wounds when they are in deep sleep and even wrapping a blanket around him in missions where he tried to kill him. Then the scene he didn't want to see flashed before his eyes. The night he plotted against Esther Dawn.

Mayonaka Yoru had always assumed that his lover didn't know that the drug was from him because he sent his wine with an aphrodisiac. The mirror scene is played, as is the little priest he sent to give the drugged wine to Esther Dawn. He notices his subordinate trembling in front of Esther Dawn, who was holding the wine and smiling calmly. He had already consumed half of it when he realized it was laced with drugs. Unfortunately, Esther Dawn has complete control over his expression. Despite the aphrodisiac's effect, his face remains expressionless.

Esther Dawn asked, "This wine... Archbishop Mayonaka told you to present it to me. It's from himself?"

The little priest knelt before Esther Dawn, knowing that Archbishop Dawn had noticed that the wine was tainted, and begged for his life.

"Your Excellency, Archbishop Dawn! Please forgive this little one; I am being forced to do it, and I did not want to do it," the little priest said. "A-Archbishop Ma—," he says.

The priest's mouth was suddenly covered, and a wine bottle was pushed into it. The remainder of the wine bottle's contents were forcefully fed to the little priest. Esther Dawn, who was staring at him coldly, whispered something that surprised the little priest,

"This Lord knows... that you like your boss. Maybe it's painful to see him so taken with me. His denials were painful to hear, yet he didn't give you a single glance~"

The little priest could no longer keep his true feelings hidden and glared at the beautiful man in glasses before him.

"Y-You... You know... Hahaha, this is crazy! You knew everything and let everything unfold. Those scenes where you were almost half dead but still survived, did you do that so Lord Mayonaka would feel distressed? You are too calculative. I really want to let the Lord see your true face!"

"The person I fancy is only one, but my patience is dwindling. If he couldn't make a decision in the end, I am... willing to let go. After all... I am someone no one is meant to love after all. A human from that same race he should have loathed with all his being. Maybe... In the first place, I shouldn't have given my heart away..." murmured Esther Dawn.

If Asher Light saw him like this, he'd have trouble believing it was Esther Dawn. Esther Dawn, he knew, was a strong-willed man. A person who kept his back straight even in the face of death. Daring and tenacious. Not someone in such a distressed state, as if they had had enough and were about to give up.

After all, the effects of the aphrodisiac were doubled by the little priest, who collapsed on the ground groaning with misty eyes. He wanted to see this man in a drunken stupor, disgusting his beloved lord. Who would have guessed it didn't bother him? He can only stare at Esther Dawn and do nothing else. Suddenly, the little priest's hired man entered the tent on time, and the little priest believed he would be saved.

"You're here... F-Finally! Go... Go rape that bitch!!"

Who would have thought that the hooligan would smirk at him and salute towards Esther Dawn?

"Your Excellency, Archbishop Dawn. This servant is at your service!"

When the little priest saw this scene, he couldn't help but become terrified. What he had feared had become a reality. He could only watch as the cold-faced Archbishop looked at him and said,

"Do what you're supposed to do? Don't mind me..." Esther Dawn said as he opened a new bottle of wine and pulled out a book.

While the hired hooligan was undressing in front of the little priest, he realized what was about to happen. His lord only ordered that a wine with a slight paralytic effect be sent to Archbishop Dawn. It was up to him to change it to an aphrodisiac. He wanted to humiliate this man, whom his lord is secretly in love with. Who could have predicted that he would be the one to suffer such humiliation in the end?

Esther Dawn stood there indifferently watching as the little priest was pushed to the ground and raped. It was almost as if the person he was watching wasn't even human. Only then did the little priest realize who he had offended. He shouldn't have touched him in the first place. He can only watch as Archbishop Dawn blends into the darkness and vanishes. Nobody knew what had happened to him.
