

World Plot 1291

Chapter 1291: First Grey Star - Three Calamities

Everyone ate together while Ye Jieye finished preparing a massive seafood feast. Being able to enjoy food prepared by Ye Jieye, who was regarded as having attained the pinnacle of all cooks in this realm, made even the guest, Heavenly Guardian Fei, feel fortunate.

A long table was set for the guests and the other hunters who accompanied them, aside from the table reserved for the Ye family and the other gods.

Nevertheless, the Ye family can only be joined at a different table by Lu Shang, Leica, Ji Yoonjun, and Sea God Lanyu. This group, in contrast to the boisterous group, would always eat politely, even before the tastiest food. The two tables' differences are comparable to heaven and hell. One is filled with serene images of the two cubs eating with their uncles and getting fed by their parents.

There was a struggle going on around the long table, even between sworn brothers like Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan, who were pushing one another to consume more. Doctors Hei and Guang even somewhat pilfered food using their special powers.

Mo Yuhan said, "Let go! That's my squid!"

"My squid, your ass! The one who touches it owns it! Your name isn't on it!" Lu Ming retorted.

Mo Yuhan rebuked, "Stupid! Who will put your name on food!?"

"That type," Lu Ming pointed at Doctor Guang, who was using some kind of sauce to write Guang on the large piece of grilled salmon and crab. Because the hunters were afraid of going home untreated, they couldn't move the ones with Guang's name.

Mo Yuhan's lips twitched at this scene. "Are you for real?"

"Brats, eat fast if you can! There is less and less to eat. Nom. Nom. Nom," Heavenly Guardian Fei said while a huge grilled abalone was in his hand.

"Ah! Senior, why are you eating with us? You should at least eat with the instructors," Mo Yuhan said.

Swallowed.

"Don't ask for the impossible. Do you think I can eat well at that table? If I really join, I will only look like a beggar among the nobles and princes," said Heavenly Guardian Fei as he buried his face inside the clam.

observing the elders using a knife and fork while eating, and then observing others who are eating with their hands encased in rubber gloves. This scene is comparable to the distinction between dining at a quick food chain and a restaurant with a star rating.

Doctor Hei said, "That is true. The aura of the guys on the table is on a different level. They don't even chew with sounds."

"Only someone as shameless as Doctor Guang can eat with them. He used to be the only one looking like a famished person among the well-mannered ones," Lu Ming said.

Doctor Guang pouted, "Who cares about my face if I can eat in heaven?"

"Wua~ how thick is your face, brother?" Heavenly Guardian Fei asked.

Lu Shang spoke, "Oi. If you are done eating, come over and report what you came for!"

"Y-Y-YES!" Heavenly Guardian Fei said.

Heavenly Guardian Fei joined the small table after the meal when coffee and tea were served instead of the dishware, and a dessert tower. Lu Shang and Leica, on the other hand, went back to teaching the hunters they were responsible for, who had been itching to go out of the backyard and go hunting. Along with them, Ji Yoonjun and the two cubs departed.

Ye Jieye could only serve himself and his wife, but he did serve the other two some of his favorite milk tea. Since he was born, Sea God Lanyu has been accustomed to sipping human beverages. His eyes glowed with surprise and excitement as the hint of peppermint and milky sweetness reached his tongue.

Sea God Lanyu commented, "Hm. This is delicious. It's sweet and minty."

"Is that so? Drink more. There's a lot~" Mo Xuejing, as a sweet lover, is friendly to those who have the same taste as him. As for the stupid fish that offended Jim before, he is being ignored.

Ye Jieye said, "Serve your own. Also, say what you came here for. You came looking for us, right?"

Heavenly Guardian Fei continued to watch out for Mo Xuejing. The horrific event of being battered and nearly unconscious persisted in his dreams as nightmares. This is why this dumb fish would recoil the moment Mo Xuejing set eyes on him.

Flinch!

"Are you okay? You're twitching," Sea God Lanyu asked worriedly, as he didn't know the circumstances of this mermaid and Mo Xuejing.

Pfft!

Mo Xuejing almost choked on his milk tea when he heard what Sea God Lanyu had just asked.

"Hahaha~ he is a fish. It's normal for him to twitch when nervous," Mo Xuejing said with a sarcastic tone.

(TT v. TT) Heavenly Guardian Fei's thoughts: 'What to do if the bigshot hates you?'

Ye Jieye said, "Speak. Stop wasting time."

"Yeah! There are actually a few huge colored lightning bolts that destroyed the walls of the trench and blocked the entrance of the danger zone, but at some point, they were removed as well," Heavenly Guardian Fei said.

Sea God Lanyu recalled the colorful lightning that struck his head during his tribulation. "Oh, those lightning bolts are my fault, I suppose. Don't worry, it won't happen again."

"I see. Then what happened to your coral dome? Why was it replaced by a castle? The huge pearl is still here, though. There are also huge changes in the ocean. I've noticed that the pollution caused by the Evil Octopus God is gone," Heavenly Guardian Fei said.

Sea God Lanyu frowned when Cthulhu was once again mentioned. He recalled that man's last moment before he disappeared into nothingness.

"The Evil Octopus God is no more. There is no need to find him."

Feeling the melancholy aura around the gorgeous man who looks more beautiful than he is, Heavenly Guardian Fei realized that whatever happened to the Octopus Emperor was something that involved this person.

Heavenly Guardian Fei asked, "Excuse me, Senior. Can I ask you, might you be? Please pardon my rudeness for asking. If you mind, there is no need."

"I am Moray Eel God, Lanyu. Little fish, how can you forget about this old man?" Sea God Lanyu said.

The Heavenly Guardian of Anairam Trench Danger Zone underwent a series of changes in his expression and finally stood up, looking at Sea God Lanyu in disbelief.

"You're lying! The Moray Eel God's appearance is scary. How can you have such a beautiful appearance? Ouch!"

Sea God Lanyu controlled the water and gave the sand sculpture fish a hydro blast. He almost flew out of the bubble.

Mo Xuejing commented, "This stupid fish is a masochist. Did the beating I gave him to awaken him or something?"

"Hahaha~" Ye Jieye couldn't help but laugh at his wife's words.

Heavenly Guardian Fei, who was crawling back to the table, soaking from top to bottom, overheard what Mo Xuejing had said and couldn't help twitching once again.

"For you to come to find us specifically, something must have happened in the capital. Say it. What is wrong?" The God of Void said.

Ye Jieye turned cold once again when he faced the others aside from his wife. He is usually expressionless unless he is in front of his wife, brother, and family.

Heavenly Guardian Fei dried himself and sat back on his chair. He answered the God of Void's question. "The Ruins of Time. A continuous glitch in the seal has been happening for a while now. Your grandparents can barely block it anymore."

"The seal is weakening. But why? That seal could have existed for a few more years," Mo Xuejing said.

Ye Jieye sipped his black coffee and said, "That's normal. After all, a god was born in this world. So the world energy in this star has greatly lessened; this energy is what supports the seal, so without enough energy, the effects of the seal would weaken."

"So I... is it because of me?" Sea God Lanyu asked. Beside him, Heavenly Guardian Fei was stunned. He didn't expect that when a sea creature becomes a true god, it would become a gorgeous being like the Moray Eel God.

Ye Jieye said, "To say it's your fault is not entirely correct. The former Heavenly Laws are corrupted. To summon black-colored Leifa, he almost emptied the energy of this world. The awakening of Lu Ming and Su Jin also affected it as they gratefully absorbed the world's energy to get stronger. But for those two, it is an inevitable one.

They are the ones who are tasked with defending this world from the incoming calamity. If the ocean van chooses not to get involved, the disaster will happen on the lands."

"That calamity, in the Venerable's words, does it have something to do with the Ruins of Time?" Sea God Lanyu asked.

Ye Jieye said, "Yes. That thing was something brought here by an outsider. The Tower of God is also another, but the thing in that place is interested in this world, so you can ignore him."

"What about the calamity that involves the sea? Is it that Octopus before and this one's ascension?" Mo Xuejing asked while pointing at Sea God Lanyu.

Ye Jieye's attractive face broke into a loving smile as he played softly with his wife's hair. His ruby eyes radiated love and adoration, giving the impression that dog food is being forced upon those who watch.

"My baby is smart. That's right. The calamity that involves the waters is gone. So next is the land, and the last one is the sky," Ye Jieye said.

Sea God Lanyu and Heavenly Guardian Fei frowned when they heard about the two incoming calamities in this world.

Heavenly Guardian Fei asked, "Does the Lord know anything about the calamity that involves the sky?"

"The land and water will flip, and everything in space will fall, regardless of whether it is a living or non-living thing. Chaos will once again fall in this world," Ye Jieye said. He didn't mention the exact details because that is against fate, and he had no intention of getting involved with it. Giving them clues with a riddle was already a great help for him.

Ye Jieye added, "Don't worry. For the gods, these calamities are just ordinary scenes for you. Since you ascended, even if this world dies, you will continue to exist."

"How about mortals?" asked Heavenly Guardian Fei with a horrified premonition that the answer would not be a good thing.

Ye Jieye said, "Nothing will happen to the mortals. You will just return to the origin, and a black hole will eat everything."

The couple's faces turned white in shock and disbelief as soon as these words were spoken. It is said that bliss is ignorance. They are unsure of what to do when confronted with the reality of the future.

Discover hidden stories at m,v l'e-NovelBin.net

Heavenly Guardian Fei asked, "Venerable Lord, is there a chance for the mortals to solve this? Please tell us anything that can help us resolve these calamities."

"You guys are doing well right now? The Protectors for the Calamities of the Land have been made. Though a bit incomplete, you can at least survive the incoming disaster," Ye Jieye said.

Sea God Lanyu asked, "How about the last calamity? Can they survive?"

"Mortals can't do it on their own. Only a God can hold on to a falling sky. If mortals can't do it, make a god. Even a demigod will do. Even if you help, you are just one person. Maybe if your ancient god is still alive, you might survive all calamities.

That one seems to be a natural god, born as a God King. Okay, I have said enough." Ye Jieye said, then held his wife's hand and said, "Baby, how about a small stroll over there to help you digest what you ate?"

"What if I got tired in the middle?" Mo Xuejing asked with a teasing smile.

Ye Jieye said, "Don't worry. I will carry you if you get tired. Shall we go?"

"Sure. I wanted to move my body a bit," Mo Xuejing said.

Disregarding the other two, the couple went on a date together. Both Heavenly Guardian Fei and Sea God Lanyu were astounded to learn of the disasters plaguing their world.

Chapter 1292: First Grey Star - Those who remain, those who leave and those who return home.

The pair parted ways with one another and strolled around the central area while holding hands. The ocean's center is black as usual, but that does not bother this couple in the slightest. The two of them compare the sight of the larger-than-life aquatic creatures to strolling through an aquarium tunnel filled with fish and other marine life. A few fire wisps can be seen circling.

They like fireflies in the sea. It gave the serene landscape of the trench yet another lovely touch.

Mo Xuejing asked, "A'Ye, why do I feel you are trying to spend all your time with me lately? Are you going somewhere else?"

"It's not like that. But as you know, both you and I are not in our real bodies. You can exchange yours with Chaos anytime, but my real body is inside Ruins of Time. If the seal broke, then I have to be in my real body to come out. During those times we will be separated," Ye Jieye explained.

This tale was told to Mo Xuejing by Grandpa Mu. That the gods that occupy that spooky black tower in the capital are the ones who gave him his current body, and that only his husband's soul had managed to escape the ruins. If what Ye Jieye told him is true, then there is an explanation for this man's neediness.

However, the man's acts also left him with an unexplained sense, as though something in his heart was causing him anxiety.

"Is that really all?" Mo Xuejing asked. "Actually, my intuition is giving me a different kind of feeling, as if a warning is about something that involves you. A'Ye, you won't do anything dangerous, won't you?"

This man's brief silence gave Mo Xuejing even more cause for concern. Silver and red clashed at each other's sight as the couple gazed into each other's eyes. The tableau was interrupted when the God of Void bent down to kiss Mo Xuejing's scarlet lips, even though the atmosphere between the two of them was still a little uneasy.

"I will come back alive. It's not that dangerous. Don't worry," Ye Jieye said.

Mo Xuejing said, "Coaxing me with a kiss wouldn't do! Come here, explain it properly!"

He fled without alerting his spouse, who was acting like a child, and pursued him. The dark underwater realm resounds with the sound of the God of Void's laughter. On the outside, he appeared unconcerned about Ye Jieye, but a voice in his heart was telling him not to believe him. This individual had no regard for his life.

The two that remained behind, however, were still reflecting on what they had heard about the disasters. Fei, the Heavenly Guardian, is doing fine. He only knew that the couple defies heaven in terms of power, therefore, he takes what they say to be true. However, the sea deity Lanyu became a true deity and awoke.

Even though he is stronger than the pair put together, he was aware that they might be outsiders. Perhaps they did not care about these tragedies, but then again, they did not care about other people's lives either.

Would an immensely strong person assist an ant in resolving their issues? That is just not realistic. Someone might approach, but that is a one-in-a billion chance, unless they are really bored. Judging by the detached way Ye Jieye observes them, he would not intervene until his wife specifically requested it.

He was aware that Ye Jieye's horse was the fearsome black dragon that devoured the Heavenly Laws of this realm. The horse has much greater strength than he does.

Heavenly Guardian Fei asked, "Senior, if the calamities are real, what should we do?"

"Make preparations. The Calamity of the Land is about to happen, even though it's a bit late. Making the two chosen stronger should be prioritized. I will help the one inside the Ocean Pearl. You guys must help the other one; you must find the catalyst that will awaken his power. I'm the God of Sea, so helping the one on the Ocean Pearl is my duty.

The other one, you must find a way to help him get stronger. He should already know how to awaken his full ability," Sea God Lanyu said.

Heavenly Guardian Fei said, "Indeed, if I am not wrong, the Lu Clan's main element is fire. Among the danger zones, there is only one that fits him.: Active Volcano Island, but that place... I don't want to go there to become a roasted fish."

"Where are you going? I have chosen you as my successor. You cannot leave the ocean without my permission!" Sea God Lanyu stated.

The silly fish... I mean, mermaid, look at the sea god Lanyu in disbelief. His expression is almost indescribable, as if seeing a fish flying in the sky. Explore stories at m,v l'e-NovelBin.net

Heavenly Guardian Fei asked, "Senior, I'm half-human, and you chose me as a successor? Can you just choose the one inside the pearl? I'm too lazy to move unless necessary."

"I can turn you into a dried, salted fish right now if you don't agree," Sea God Lanyu said.

Heavenly Guardian Fei said, "Why choose me? I'm lazy and a criminal that killed my own clan. Also, I am a bad person who will take away anything that I find amiss, though I was beaten by Lord Mo, his daughter is indeed too pretty. I wanted to dress her up. I don't want to become your successor!"

"So the real reason why you don't want to become my successor?" Sea God Lanyu asked nonchalantly, which caught the stupid fish off guard.

Heavenly Guardian Fei said, "My goal is to become a shut-in salted fish. I don't want to work hard!"

Snort!

Sea God Lanyu had grabbed him by the tail and hauled him for harsh training against Heavenly Guardian Fei's wishes. His goal was to instruct the indolent brat on how to cultivate divine qi and activate it in order to become a demigod. He did not chose to flee from training, despite the foolish fish's constant complaints, which are limited to verbal expressions.

Heavenly Guardian Fei enjoys making jokes, yet he is aware of how terrible the three calamities are. Nor did he want to pass away without having given it his all. Thus, despite his verbal complaints, he took the necessary actions to become a demigod.

Sea God Lanyu had grabbed him by the tail and hauled him for harsh training against Heavenly Guardian Fei's wishes. His goal was to instruct the indolent brat on how to cultivate divine qi and activate it in order to become a demigod. He did not chose to flee from training, despite the foolish fish's constant complaints, which are limited to verbal expressions.

Heavenly Guardian Fei enjoys making jokes, yet he is aware of how terrible the three calamities are. Nor did he want to pass away without having given it his all. Thus, despite his verbal complaints, he took the necessary actions to become a demigod.

Before the Ye family and the other hunter returned to the capital...

Lu Shang assembled the remaining four individuals who would accompany them to the danger zone of the Active Volcano Island. They have authority to assist the brats, but they are not allowed to eliminate the danger zone unless it poses a threat to their life. Leica, on the other hand, opted to watch the other Su Jin, who had been asleep the entire time.

Mo Xuejing said to Leica after glancing at the Ocean Pearl not far from them. "I had a feeling that the boy inside was about to wake up. Have the rest yourself, Leica."

"Yes, Lord Mo. Please leave it to me," Leica said as he slightly bowed his head in respect to his master. He had a feeling that even though Mo Xuejing hasn't merged with Loed Hei completely, his soul has been very similar to his master's, and it seems that Lord Hei is about to wake up soon too.

Ye Jieye said to Lu Shang, "Though we won't get involved with the things in the capital directly, it should hold things for a while. Help that brat get stronger sooner or you might not have any place to return anymore."

"I will definitely do my best!" Lu Ming said.

Lu Shang bowed his head and saluted. "Yes, Milord."

He glanced at Mo Yuhan beside them and said, "Don't waste what my wife has given you. It can be said that what he gave you is more powerful than the blessings your friends had received. Just don't lose control over it or you will turn yourself into a human popsicle."

"Yes, I will train hard," Mo Yuhan declared.

Ye Jieye also gave Ji Yoonjun a glance. "You might have a mission, but don't overwork yourself."

Similar like Leica and Lu Shang, Ji Yoonjun merely lowered his back out of politeness and remained silent. Gods of his rank normally could not encounter sovereigns such as the one before them. He works in the God System, although he has not even met the Lord God of that system. He was unsure if this opportunity was fortunate or unlucky.

Ye Jieye had already gone back to where his family was when he looked up. He observed Doctor Hei bidding him farewell by waving his hands. They had no idea when they will cross paths again.

Sea God Lanyu also arrived to bid them farewell. Given that the pair is gods, he extended the utmost civility by sending them some foods and elements that are only available in the ocean as gifts—more like an offering.

"I will try to prepare as much as possible for that day. I wish the Venerable Lords a peaceful journey."

"You know. You can also choose not to get involved," Mo Xuejing said with a teasing smile yet a cold gaze.

Sea God Lanyu chose not to mention the lord's cold gaze and said, "This world he used his life to protect, I want to try saving it for the last time. After that, when I meet him again in the future, I can happily tell him that I saved our former home once."

"Well, do as you wish. Do your best to struggle. Gods are meant to go against the heavens in the first place," Mo Xuejing said, moving his gaze from this newly born god to his beloved husband and children. "The gifts are nice. I will keep this in mind." Looking at his pups with delight, he examined the gifts from Sea God Lanyu as though he were opening a new box of toys.

Ye Jingxia and Ye Anxia even played like a ball with a night pearl the size of a human head.

His eyes, as always, convey that only these three people are able to maintain eye contact with him. As though they were the only people who could make him move and the only ones permitted to exist in the world he is in. Ye Jieye eventually called upon Roi, the Black Dragon, to help them surface the sea and make their way back to the capital.

Those left behind cast a slightly sorrowful glance at their leaving figures.

Mo Yuhan said, "They're gone. I wonder what happened in the capital."

"Don't worry. No matter what is happening in the capital, once the lords are there, the situation should stabilize for a while. Even so, you guys need to complete your mission as soon as you can. They have no responsibility to protect this world after all," Leica said to Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan.

The sea deity told Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan about the three disasters. They became aware that the tranquil world they had been living in had changed after hearing the news. When they faced the Evil

Octopus God, Cthulhu, they were fully aware of their disparity in strength. Ants and mortals fighting godlike monsters were the same.

If they wish to save this world and their loved ones, they must become stronger.

"We will get stronger as much as we can! Instructor Lu Shang, please make us stronger!" Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan said as they bent their backs before Lu Shang.

Lu Shang said, "That's good. Then I will train you as much as you wish to die."

The expressionless face of their instructor broke into a smile of amusement. This man is an excellent leader and trainer of soldiers, having served as the Chief Warden and War God guarding the Nether System. Simply put, individuals who underwent training felt as though they had gone through hell more than once. The two brats felt a shudder creep up their backs as they saw Li Shang grinning.

They felt a momentary regret for the words they had just said.

Lu Shang looked at his lover and said, "I will be back. Take care of yourself while I'm away."

"I should be saying that. Obviously, no one in your group can cook at all. Good luck with that," Leica said.

Lu Shang said, "They can at least barbecue things. Putting some meat over fire should be enough."

"At least, put in some condiments. Sigh~ take care," Leica said as he bid them farewell.

After some time, Lu Shang and Ji Yoonjun moved out of the water and toward another dangerous area, carrying the two bats behind them. With Su Jin within the Ocean Pearl and Heavenly Guardian Fei undergoing rigorous training, Leica and Sea God Lanyu were the only ones remaining. To complete their own tasks, the two parted ways.

Chapter 1293: First Grey Star - Arriving at the Active Volcano Island

Arrival at the Active Volcano Island

There is a significant difference in distance from the Anairam Trench to the capital city, the danger zone, and Active Volcano Island. Compared to the latter, the former is closer. Therefore, even though Lu Shang and Lu Ming's party set out earlier than the Ye family and his group did, the later group reached their goal first.

A few hundred meters above the surface is a floating island called the Island Volcano. After floating up a few hundred years ago, this island never came down from the sky, so anyone who wanted to visit it had to be able to fly. It is a section of land or underwater volcano that the deranged ancient god unintentionally erupted.

Their little island had arrived safely thanks to the two brothers Lu Ming and Lu Shang's use of wind components. There are several lava monsters that live there and consume lava and magma on a daily basis. The entire island is shielded from the outside world by a thin barrier. Lu Wangle, the ancestor of the Lu Clan, is the proprietor of this dangerous area.

This is also the birthplace of his flame lion. Flame lions can only be found at this location. That is a beast that consumes fire and lava, after all.

Of the four, Mo Yuhan was the most taken aback by the volcano's landscape but also felt a little intimidated by it. After all, he used to be weak against fire and is now an ice user.

However, his ice ability had considerably changed after Mo Xuejing (Hei Anjing) gave him an Ice Frost ball made from Eternal Ice; at the very least, only a special fire like dragon breath or phoenix fire can readily melt his ice. For regular ice such as this one. His ice would take a long time to melt. Regarding his fire phobia, that was merely his old instinct coming back.

A group of volcanoes of various sizes that make up the Active Volcano Island are encircled by lava and magma. Occasionally, these volcanoes would blow up. However, the Lu Clan had long noted that the volcanoes might erupt at a specific time, so they do not just blow up at random. Because they are members of the Lu Clan, Lu Shang and Lu Ming were fully aware of this.

As the heir to guard this hazardous zone, Ye Jieye also knew, at least, who the previous Ye Jieye was.

The sound and sight of exploding volcanoes, lava streaming down the sides of the earth, and a few creatures swimming in the lava like they were taking a bath in a hot spring. This island has fewer flora because the majority of it is covered in lava and is still burning. Because the monsters in this area had fur or magma covering their skin, they blended in nicely on the island.

Mo Yuhan commented, "This place is amazing as always and so freaking hot." Steam billowed from him like melting dry ice. Unlike other ice elemental ability users who would have passed out as soon as they arrived on the island, at least he was only feeling the heat.

Lu Ming said to his sworn brother without saying his words. "Yuhan, you look like a steaming pot of soup."

"What did you say!? Grr~" Mo Yuhan said.

Lu Ming laughed at him upon seeing the steam get thicker as his mood flared.

Pfft! Hahahahaha~

The two brats, who act like silly kids playing around, are ignored by Lu Shang and Ji Yoonjun. They sensed the distinct and potent presence of fire as soon as they set foot on the island. They recognize this presence instantly since it is the soul wisp of a legendary monster.

Ji Yoonjun said, "Lord Lu, this... this familiar presence of fire. Is it the Nirvana Flame?"

"A bit similar, but it's too weak to be considered a real Nirvana Flame. At least, an embryo. Though it seems to be dying, there is nothing in this world that could support its group," Lu Shang said as he finally grabbed his younger brother's back collar, almost choking him in the process.

Choke! Cough. Cough.

Lu Ming said, "Big brother?"

"Stop playing around, especially you, Yuhan. There is something on this island that can confront your ice. Hold the remnant ice frost orb from Lord Mo. It can protect you at certain times," Lu Shang said.

The two young men's expressions changed to serious ones the instant they heard Lu Shang's statements. Something special and potent must be needed to be able to melt Mo Yuhan's mutant Frost Ice.

Ji Yoonjun said, "Stay on guard. Especially Mo Yuhan. You and I will most likely be its first target. After all, you are ice and I am a wood elemental user."

Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan both nod in accord. Mo Yuhan continued to grasp the frost ice sphere in his hand while Lu Shang inquired. However, they had no idea where to go; only Lu Ming knew the location of the item he was looking for in this location. However, the group's two gods sense a distinct fire emanating from the largest volcano.

Lu Shang asked, "Where to go?"

"The voice that is calling me is coming from the tallest volcano. How weird; why do I feel that it's at the peak of that volcano?" Lu Ming said.

Naturally, when Lu Shang and Ji Yoonjun heard what Lu Ming had to say, they were certain that this child's chance was to create a Nirvana flame embryo in this dangerous area. It is merely that the flame of Nirvana is not only special. It also has purifying properties. This flame has the power to harm the Chief Warden, an evil god.

Lu Shang looked over his inventory of extra robes and gear. He has a space inventory in his soul, much like all gods. He keeps some of his lover's clothes safe in there, as well as extra outfits, robes, armor, and weapons. Black robes from the Nether System are able to block the majority of the effects of hell flames.

The Netherworld, the domain of the God of Void, is a haze of hellfire that burns inmates who attempt to break free from the Nether Prison. They can stand close to this stunning but incredibly hazardous obsidian flame as long as they do not come into contact with it because the warden's outfit shields them from the hell flames.

He pulled out the backup uniform fit for a regular warden. Despite the robe's basic black color, the materials used to make it are unique to low-class worlds such as this one. He donned the armor and robes of his chief warden and delivered a few to the three. He declined to put on his helmet.

Mo Yuhan and Lu Ming were astounded to see three black robes materialize in Lu Shang's hands out of nowhere. Another explanation astonished Ji Yoonjun. He is astounded to see that they are borrowing warden outfits from the Chief Warden of Nether Prison. It can not quite match the upgraded Chief Warden's clothing, but it can certainly put out the phoenix flame.

Lu Ming said, "How did you..." He didn't completely answer his question when he noticed Lu Shang's cold eyes. This means the one in front of him is the god living in his brother's body.

Chief Warden Lou commanded, "Wear to block the flames. Return it after we leave." He once again returned the control to Lu Shang.

Mo Yuhan knew that in the bodies of Lu Shang, Leica, and maybe in his cousin and cousin-in-law's bodies, God inhabits. So sometimes the demeanor of these people would change. Lu Ming can differentiate his brother from the holy one in him almost instinctively.

Lu Ming politely lowered his head and said, "Thank you, Lord."

"Is that the Venerable Lord inside your brother? He can even bring this out of thin air," Mo Yuhan whispered to his sworn brother.

Ji Yoonjun immediately wore the black robe over his clothes and said, "Stop wasting time. Wear the robe over your clothes. This robe is special; it can protect us from fire, lava, and magma. It's not something in this world."

Like Ji Yoonjun, Mo Yuhan and Lu Ming put on the slender black robe that they were holding after giving it some thought. The temperature surrounding them dropped significantly as soon as they put on the robe, and they felt as though their own temperature had returned to normal. Mo Yuhan's white smoke stopped.

"This robe is amazing. Don't tell me this is what God's wearing?" Mo Yuhan asked without any meaning at all. His tongue spoke these words without thinking, but when he saw the small smile at the corner of Ji Yoonjun's face, his face turned a bit panicky. It seems that his random guess was the correct one.

"For real?" Lu Ming asked.

Ji Yoonjun said, "This is a uniform that I don't possess. A special robe with the effect of blocking all kinds of flames in the world. What clothing do you think it is?"

"Block fire. Is it because of that opportunity I got? Is it that dangerous?" Lu Ming asked.

Lu Shang said, "Yes, it must be dangerous if he lends us these robes. Okay, let's get going."

The three continue their journey and head to the tallest and largest volcano on the island. They still need to hike the tallest volcano and go to the peak.

Meanwhile, the other group that was flying back to the capital city...

Only his master, his master's spouse, and his master's offspring were carried by Roi. And the other hunters, well, they rode on the back of their own flying mount. Though it is a beast like a bird that hunters purchase for long distance travel, these birds were nonetheless slower than a dragon. Mo Xuejing dozing out in his husband's arms. The two cubs bravely play tag on the dragon's massive frame.

In Mo Xuejing's dream, he suddenly woke up in a world full of mirrors. Even, though the scenes on the other mirrors are completely blurred, I still looked around the bizarre realm. Stay connected with m-v
I|e'-NovelBin.net

Mo Xuejing mumbles, "Where the hell am I?"

As he moved about, he saw that, one by one, the mirrors were disappearing. Before Mo Xuejing, there were just two mirrors left, and this time, what was visible to the naked eye was shown to him. The scene in the mirror startled him. An apocalyptic scene is shown in the first scene. The world around him is in ruins while he carries their children and holds his husband's hand.

Upon closer inspection, he recognized these ruins.

Big flying stones dropped from the sky, destroying every building, and the region was littered with dead bodies, smoke, and flames. In addition, there are several creatures approaching from all sides. In addition, he sent the bodies of every Guardian of Heaven, including Mo Xinyue, his grandpa.

The terrifying experience overcame Mo Xuejing to the point where she almost fainted. Besides, he recognized a lot of faces from the scattered bodies. Lu Shang, Leica, him, and his spouse engaged in combat with the animals. Apart from them, there is just that weird guy wearing a black cloak who is standing next to him, smiling threateningly.

Mo Xuejing saw the man in black robes emerge rapidly and stand in front of him, as if he were actually seeing the action. stroking his cheeks tenderly, as though he were the most valuable person. Suddenly, he heard the man talking.

{Wait for a bit longer. After I kill 'him', you shall become mine.}

Mo Xuejing emerged from the mirror, feeling as though his soul was being sucked out. Mo Xuejing was afraid of what he had just seen because the scene kept replaying in the right mirror. He covered his face and noticed that his hands were shaking.

"Who the hell is that?" He mumbles, fear hidden within his words.

Chapter 1294: First Grey Star - Glimpse of Future, which to choose?

The feeling would not last long after settling down, but Mo Xuejing had personally witnessed and experienced it. The earth nearly turned black from the intense smell of burning flesh and blood staining it, and the world's ruins, where every living thing was dying one by one at the hands of monsters emerging from the Ruins of Time.

Brutalized bodies are hardly recognizable as humans. Houses and structures made by humans are deteriorating into heaps of rubble and stone. An even more terrible scene than the end of the world. It is a fading star, the world is coming to an end. He thought things were too real when he saw the lifeless bodies of his grandfather, Mo Xinyue, Grandpa Mu, and Grandfather Lu.

It was intolerable; it was too much.

He overheard his spouse advise giving up on the world. His children were staring at their families' corpses with lifeless eyes, treating them like strangers. Suddenly, his heart felt icy. In addition, there is the unexpected appearance of the man, whose cloak and black hood obscure his face. His heart went particularly cold and scared at what the stranger had said.

This is because he is very accustomed to hearing that man's voice. That was his beloved's voice.

Mo Xuejing took a time to settle down. He was taken aback by how quickly his racing heartbeat would settle down. It seemed as though he had nothing to be afraid of. At last, he summons the bravery to glance into the right mirror and take in the scene.

Mo Xuejing mumbles to himself, "What the hell are these mirrors?" His hand had automatically reached for the other mirror. He must have an innate understanding that what is reflected in that mirror is indeed one of the truths.

[A/N: I think this Mirror World scene is familiar. One of Hei Anjing's abilities explained this before in one of the former arcs.]

He was drawn in and saw the scene playing out inside the mirror, just like with the first one. When Mo Xuejing opened his eyes, he saw the sight he knew so well—his own residence in the capital. minimalist room in black and white. Simple furniture and a ton of books on the floor. This is a little different from how he remembers it—he stared at his hands. White, long, and slender fingers.

In fact, he thinks that his body now feels a little cozier than it does now.

His long silver hair fell silently above his chest as he glanced in the mirror. He experienced some head aches when he attempted to pull it. It was at that moment that he realized this long silver hair was his. That is hardly feasible, though, because only his eyes were silver and he had black hair.

He recognizes that the body he is in is the one Chaos is using—that is, his actual body—when he turns to face the glass windows that connect to the veranda.

"This is..."

He sensed, for some reason, a powerful aura emanating from the distance that included aspects of time. Through his thoughts, he was able to expand his divine consciousness and see the scene where a variety of strange beasts had taken over the entrance to the Ruins of Time. They were not special in the sense that, unlike other monsters, they were not perfectly round.

It resembles something that can change into a variety of shapes.

He was about to assume that the dungeon would go on when he sensed his husband's eerie, familiar vibe. The power Mo Xuejing had over his current body vanished the instant Ye Jieye walked into the room. He was confused as the unfathomable wrath welled up in his heart.

'How is this possible!? How in the world can I hate the only person I love in this world!? This can't be! I don't believe it!' Mo Xuejing's thoughts at this moment, unfortunately, regardless of how he tried to take over the body, became useless. It was beyond his means, as if something powerful were preventing him from doing so.

Mo Xuejing felt his lips move against his will and spoke hurtful words he could never say to Ye Jieye.

"Oh, are you here to fulfill your promise? This is new. Our forgetful God of Void, who had left this lord alone in that darkness for a whole millennium, has now learned how to keep his promise. But don't you know that keeping your promise to me means breaking your promise to him?"

He heard Ye Jieye respond. "This promise might be in conflict with my promise to my other half, but this is the only way to save this world. He might only be my wife's soul fragment, but his wishes are all for me to fulfill. He didn't want his clans and relatives to die on this plane. The only way is to stop it from the inside. I need to return to my real body."

His lips moved once again, and Mo Xuejing heard the words that came out of his mouth. "Because he can't do it, you came to meet secretly and asked me to do it. How sure are you that I will do it for you?"

A melancholic smile appeared on Ye Jieye's handsome face, and he answered, "Because you hate me, that's why you can do it."

When Mo Xuejing heard Ye Jieye's comments at this precise moment, for whatever reason, he hesitated a little in his heart. However, this uncertainty had been overshadowed by his intense loathing.

His lips mumble, "Indeed. I guess it's time for this play to end. I had enough playing family pretend with you. Meeting my cubs was enough repayment for it, though. Then, as you wish..."

.net

Mo Xuejing suddenly felt an extremely bad premonition in his heart when he heard the words that came out of his mouth.

'No. No... S-Stop. I don't want this at all!'

Mo Xuejing felt his right hand begin to move, and no matter how hard he tried to stop it, it continued. However, he had noticed his right hand shaking the entire time. With warmth in his hand, Mo Xuejing met Ye Jieye's adoring gaze. He saw that his right hand had stabbed his husband in the chest as he looked down. He can even feel that the corner of his lips is slightly upturned.

A tingling pain gathers at the corner of his eyes, yet not even a single tear falls.

Mo Xuejing noticed his expression when the room door slammed open. as snow-white. Pain, anxiety, and incredulity were all distorted on his face. Mo Xuejing matched the expression of himself he was seeing and believed he had lost his soul at that very time. Before this scene vanished, Mo Xuejing's final memory was of his own voice, screaming in pain.

"NO! AAHHHHH!!!"

However, a brief scene that ultimately included two couples holding each other and embracing Ye Jingxia and Ye Anxia in their arms followed that agonizing moment. Instead of Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing's existing looks, their actual bodies serve as the couple's faces. But now, not only was the globe spared, but the couple's story had a happy ending as well.

However, Mo Xuejing had long since turned into an observer at this point. He is now the Mo Xuejing who combined with someone else to become a new version of himself, not the Mo Xuejing in the photo.

He was hurled out of the mirror once more. On this occasion, Mo Xuejing opened his eyes to see the white world with the white leaves of a half-dead tree. A little table with dessert and tea dishes that looked familiar. He saw this incredibly beautiful man, Hei Anjing, in front of him once more.

Hei Anjing spoke with a bit of amazement in his voice. "You are not bad. To be able to use one of my abilities regardless of control. No, maybe it's the ability showing it to you. That recognition ability of mine is truly uncontrollable. It's a bit annoying to be suddenly pulled into that realm.

Were you surprised?"

"That world of mirrors? Is that what you called the realm?" Mo Xuejing said as he stared at Hei Anjing with a scrutinizing gaze. "It's not you controlling things by showing me those scenes. If yes, then you have quite an annoying personality."

"Hah? Hahaha~ is that something for you to say? Have you forgotten that you are me? Chaos is also us," Hei Anjing said.

Mo Xuejing was startled and said, "Then that perspective... was it his point of view?"

"Isn't it obvious? I don't know why he made it so you will experience his side like that. Did he want you to stop him? Sounds a bit ridiculous for an existence made to hate our beloved," Hei Anjing said sarcastically. Obviously, his relationship with Chaos is not that good.

"Don't forget. Chaos is the same as you. It's just that... Anyway, I suggest you don't stop him. Unless you let him feel it with his heart, he wouldn't understand anything. Only when he felt it for himself would he wake up in reality." Hei Anjing left behind important but unfinished sentences because he did not want to finish them.

He also purposefully shifted the subject of their discussion. He wanted to express that Chaos's hatred is stronger than Mo Xuejing's, his soul fragment, and that this makes him feel more like a unique person.

Mo Xuejing's breathing was not as normal as he thought of the scenes he had experienced in that mirror realm.

"Precognition of the future. That means what I have seen is...!" Mo Xuejing asked.

Hei Anjing said, "It's a possibility in the future. There are two paths shown before you. You just have to choose." A melancholic smile with hidden means appeared on his beautiful face and added, "Or you can let him choose, you might get disappointed though. Well, forget about it. Remember, once you choose to merge with me, you and I shall become mine.

The memories Chaos had hidden from you, you will get it back by then. This will be the last time we will meet. Because the next time we meet, you will already cease to exist and become a part of me."

Mo Xuejing gradually becomes aware of reality. He was a little taken aback by Ye Jieye's adoring red eyes. He adores his sweetheart's eyes. Whether it was this deep crimson, which is darker than fresh blood, or the darkness filled with stars and galaxies. He adores these eyes, despite their distinctiveness, because they are a part of him.

Ye Jieye smiled and leaned down to kiss his wife's forehead. "Good morning, A'Mo."

"Hm. It seems to be afternoon though. Yawns~" Ye Jieye's arms were around Mo Xuejing's waist from behind as he sat up straight. A sight to remember is the gorgeous reddish-gold sunset that is setting. He had no idea how long he would be able to live in such bliss.

"Are we near the capital?" Mo Xuejing asked.

Ye Jieye responded with a hug and said, "Soon. It's still a bit far as I asked Roi to lessen the speed so the rest can follow without being left behind."

The two cute cubs, Ye Jingxia and Ye Anxia sat down in front of their daddy with innocent grins on their faces.

"Daddy, Xiao Jing wants to eat ice cream!" Ye Jingxia said.

Ye Anxia hugged her brother from the back and said, "Xiaxia wants it too!"

With a smile, Mo Xuejing assisted his kids in straightening the creases on their clothing. He appeared to be holding a large bowl of ice cream with a flip of his palm. In the small world, it was stolen from the refrigerator. There were also four spoons placed on it.

"Okay. Let's eat together!" Mo Xuejing said.

The cubs appeared happy and eager to give the ice cream bowl a hug. Sadly, their father had to give them back the bowl. They were aware that their father would not part with it. Eventually, their father was feeding their dad while holding the large dish. Ye Jingxia, being the older sibling, feeds his little sister in the same manner as their father does.

In their household, bonding like this already happens frequently.

With the exception of their father and older brother, the majority of their family enjoys sweets. They will still share dessert with the family, though. The only things that Mo Xuejing wished to preserve were these serene and joyous times.

Ye Jieye, after all, asked his wife to use his lap as a pillow and dozed off, the two brats laughing on top of him. Mo Xuejing observes his family having moments like these. He briefly remembered the contents of his dreams, though, and realized that ultimately he still had to make a decision. Simply put, Mo Xuejing had already made up his mind when he opened his eyes, much like Hei Anjing.

Simply put, nobody was aware of his choice.

Chapter 1295: First Grey Star - Night at the Capital City

Capital City

When the Ye family and the other hunters in their party reached the main city, it was already getting dark. Since none of the residences have any lights, the majority of them appear surprisingly deserted. Not even the street lamps remained. The only light available to the knights on patrol is from the torches they hold in their hands.

The majority of their group was confused because the city had altered drastically since they had gone. The nation's capital now has the appearance of a deserted town with a spooky aura.

Mo Xuejing said, "What happened to the city? Is the situation worse than we thought, and this place got abandoned?"

"It doesn't seem like it. They must have first sent the citizens out of the city. It seems that the situation in the dungeon area is bleak for them to send people away. Let's go find the old men first," Ye Jieye said.

Suddenly, the other hunters who were with them wanted to go. Before returning to their tribes to report, they wanted to see how their family was doing. Ye Jieye was traveling with his family straight to the location of Heavenly Guardians Mo Xinyue, Lu Wangle, and Mu Zang. The only place they can locate people is the makeshift encampment close to the Ruin of Time Dungeon.

Mo Xuejing had given them the person to leave. "Go. Report to the clan after you find your family."

"Yes, Heirs. Thank you very much!" They collectively responded.

After giving these two masters a salute, the six hunters from the Mo and Lu clans parted ways. Of the six, half had gone into the country of the Mo Clan, and the other half had traveled toward the Lu Clan. Regarding the Ye family, they went straight to the location where their ancestors' auras had congregated.

They bid Roi, the black dragon, to soar toward the battleground. There is a lot of fighting in the wide space at the dungeon entrance. The only light sources on the ground were torches, but this was purposeful because the creatures in this wave are light-sensitive. This time, the monsters are fewer in number but larger in size, with a homogeneous shape.

These creatures resemble large humanoids more than golems, yet they move more quickly toward areas of light.

With each stride these monsters took, the ground beneath their feet trembled. There are just six enormous black-and-white creatures this time. There is a scene when you labor really hard and then, once a gigantic monster is beaten, you are faced with an even more irritating circumstance.

After taking their time to fight one of these enormous monsters, the hunters and knights watched as it died and exploded into a plethora of miniature humanoid monsters. Like the earlier group of monsters, they are cursed, and many of the men battling these creatures were taken by surprise once more. Another batch of infants and elderly adults litters the battlefield.

Ye Jieye and his kin observed from above, merging harmoniously with the dusk sky. Except for his crimson, which was similar to his master's, Roi's shade of darkness and the camouflaging effect of flying in the middle of the night made everything else melt in the darkness.

Mo Xuejing frowned as he saw the situation under them look chaotic. "Are those monsters from the Ruins of Time? They look a bit..."

"Distorted. Monsters born in distorted timelines look like that. They are parasites that live by eating time. Their whole existence only follows the laws of time of where they came from. This kind of monster shouldn't be killed one at a time.

Once only a single one is killed, it would split up like that just now," Ye Jieye said as he knew about these creatures when he accidentally fell in a distorted space timeline before. Those ruined timelines are filled with these kinds of creatures.

Mo Xuejing said, "What is the correct way to kill them then?"

"Kill them all at the same time. The laws of time meant stability and equality. So regardless of how many monsters there are, it would never be an odd number. There will always be an equal timeline of past and future, and it is directly proportional to the number of people in the present.

There were too many people on the battlefield, and it gained the ability to propagate because of it," Ye Jieye said.

Mo Xuejing said, "You mean there would be fewer monsters if there were only a few people in this area when the first batch of monsters came out?"

"Yes. Based on the number of monsters at each wave, the first batch must be more or less a hundred. But they keep increasing the number of fighters, which leads to monsters multiplying as well to balance out things," Ye Jieye said.

Mo Xuejing said, "We should help them."

"Wait for a minute. Let me stop your time for a bit. So that you wouldn't get affected by the laws of time in this place."

Even though Ye Jieye is not the God of Time right now, the God of Time, Ye Qinjing has granted him some power over time because the God of Time is his eldest son. His history was shielded by the God of Time itself, so no one could just alter it. His realm of time had turned into a blessing. Ye Jieye and his small family were encircled by a golden-black atmosphere.

This prevents Ye Qinjing, the God of Time, from having any further power over time.

"Okay, play as much as you want," Ye Jieye said with a doting smile.

One huge and two small leapt from the black dragon with his consent and fell free from an incredible height. However, none of these three appear afraid; in fact, one of the cubs giggles as they fall. They landed squarely on the battleground. A blue-white phoenix materialized on their foot just before they impacted the ground, slowing their descent before vanishing once more.

Ye Anxia brought these blue-white phoenix flames to life. It can carry weight for a few minutes until it crashes.

While Ye Jingxia and Ye Anxia fell among the throng of little monsters and flew across the field on the backs of their blue-white phoenix flames, Mo Xuejing fell in line with one of the towering giants. She will always have this flame phoenix as long as she has enough qi.

One giant and the three around suddenly turned into ice and fell to bits as soon as they entered the conflict. It did not break up into smaller monsters since Mo Xuejing's ice altered the monster's characteristics entirely. As he destroyed every creature in his path, Ye Jingxia's eyes shone with crimson light. All along, he was laughing like a small madman.

The young princess, meanwhile, resembled an attacker who was far away and could fly. It soared on the back of the pale white phoenix, flanked by smaller phoenixes hardly bigger than sparrows. When a monster on the battlefield was about to kill a human, she would give the command to attack. She would even carry a few dying individuals to a secure location.

She did not immediately enter the combat, unlike her father and older brother, because she was aware of how little control she had over divine qi given her size.

As anticipated, the battlefield had essentially stabilized by the time these three entered the fray. Some knights decide to leave the area where Mo Xuejing had emerged and assist in dragging their wounded allies from the battlefield. This Mo Heir affected his surroundings with most of his strikes.

They were nearly crushed on the battlefield due to their compatibility with ice elements, which is worse than feeling numbness in their bodies. Fortunately, their allies pulled them out of Mo Xuejing's assault range.

In addition, ice covers half of the battlefield. There were pieces of a broken creature inside one quarter, and there were burn and freeze marks on the other. Ye Anxia is assisted in eliminating the monsters she had attacked and chained by the other knights and fighters in the vicinity.

Because of Mo Xuejing's extraordinary power, the Heavenly Guardians and the King were quick to recognize his presence. Two little beings can be seen aiding humans in their battles against monsters in both the sky and the ground. It looks like it would not take them long to defeat this group of creatures.

Heavenly Guardian Mo Xinyue said, "That's... Xue'er!? Are they back?"

The heavenly guardians who were temporarily resting, after all, had been fighting nonstop for days and barely had a rest. Plus, they are finding a way to solve this situation. This is the third wave in a month. They are losing not only in resources but also in people. The dead count just continues to increase with each monster wave.

Then they witnessed the two content cubs engaged in combat on the battlefield. With a joyful expression, Ye Jingxia tore the monster limb by limb, resembling a small monster. Thankfully, this monster is bloodless and has no internal organs, despite his charming yet terrifying appearance. Once they took a specific level of damage, they vanished.

The little monsters strewn around the field were absolutely overwhelmed by him.

The giants, for the most part, were bound by Mo Xuejing's ice. He could have melted these creatures into thin air with the touch of his finger. He perched atop a frozen mammoth, his chilly stare apathetically surveying the field. Anything that got close to him would freeze. It seemed as though an Ice God had entered the world of mortals, freezing everything in his path.

Ye Anxia, the young princess, is encircled by bluish-white birds and appears to be a tiny angel, giving them orders to eliminate her adversaries. Occasionally, the bluish-white flame would reduce the target to ashes or cause it to solidify into ice, much like her father had done with the giants. The escaped creatures from her brother's territory were all she was aiming for.

This unprecedented display of total subjugation stunned and astounded everyone. Three days had passed since they had finished the second wave of monsters when the third wave of creatures materialized out of nowhere.

Heavenly Guardian Gu commented. "Amazing. As I expected of Satan's children, they are like little monsters themselves."

"Your grandson is also very powerful. He had completely dealt with most of the giants and defeated them. I'm more surprised that the curse from these monsters doesn't seem to affect them," Heavenly Guardian Xian Wu said.

Doctor Sen, who noticed the faint golden-black film covering the body of Mo Xuejing and his children, suddenly said, "Maybe Satan had a means to prevent a curse from affecting them. If this is true, then this wave would be suppressed by them."

Mo Xuejing and their two kids captured the amazement in Wang Xingmo's gaze. Ye Jingxia and Ye Anxia are more affected, as he feels like killing Mo Xuejing when he looks at her. He did not see a massive black dragon carrying a man with the same crimson eyes as the dragon peering down on him from above until Names whispered that Ye Jieye was watching from the skies.

like a prehistoric deity ignoring his own creation. harsh and without emotion. It was as though everything that was happening before his eyes was entirely within his power. Read new chapters at m_v-l'e|-NovelBin.net

Mu Zang and Lu Wangle, the Heavenly Guardians, were searching the area for their grandson. Up until a massive, black dragon drops out of the sky, gets smaller, and vanishes into his owner's clothing. Like an immortal, Ye Jieye hovers down in the center of the battleground.

Hellfire simply snapped his finger, and all the demons around him were engulfed in a black flame, burning them to the ground and leaving not even ash in their wake.

Suddenly, Mo Xuejing burst into a radiant smile that stunned everyone around, even the people in his Mo Clan. The Mo Clan's heir is actually notorious for having a blank countenance and never smiling, so people were taken aback when they saw an expressionless, stoic man grinning. It was only to his dismay that he saw his husband's peculiar response to burning the local monsters.

He asked worriedly, "A'Ye, is something wrong?"

"Later, I will tell you," Ye Jieye whispered as he kissed his wife's phoenix-shaped eyes with gentleness.

The two cubs have reunited with their parents. They were not angry with their father for burning their toys right away, even if they were a little miffed about it. They saw that there were other uncles who were hurt nearby.

Chapter 1296: First Grey Star - Translated Passage of words.

The king, Wang Xingmo, and the Heavenly Guardians had a lot of trouble dealing with the third wave of monsters that emerged from the Ruins of Time. They had hardly had time to relax after fighting nonstop for a month. Over time, these creatures' curses had an impact and caused great suffering for those who dared to oppose them.

Thank goodness, the Ye family made a comeback that evening and assisted in taking out the monsters till the third wave had passed. With the blessing of time, Ye Jieye bestowed the curses of time upon his wife and children when one of the Ye Family members slew a monster from the ruins, adding to the family's immense power and prowess.

Everyone had gathered at the palace after the monsters were defeated, and most had obeyed the royal order to leave the city. Thus, the majority of city homes are vacant. The majority of the Heavenly Guardians' clan was transported away, and this includes their palaces. To rest, they began congregating in the palace.

But in actuality, monsters prevented Ye Jieye and his family from even being able to close their eyes and go to sleep before they returned.

Ye Jieye looks closely at the entrance to the ruins and the seal. His somber expression suggested that he was troubled internally. He did not turn to face his wife until Mo Xuejing grasped his hand.

Mo Xuejing said, "You keep looking at the dungeon. What did you find out?"

"The seal is already useless at this point. I can hold it back for a bit, but that itself would only hold on for three months before the entrance completely opens. When the seal on the door disappeared and the door to this dungeon opened, the Calamity of the Land would begin," Ye Jieye said.

Mo Xuejing was previously aware of the three disasters. He was so rather taken aback to hear that had they not returned, the land's disaster would have occurred sooner. There are now only three months left for all land-dwelling races before the dungeon's creatures emerge.

Heavenly Guardian Mu Zang, who was standing beside the couple, overheard their conversation and asked, "What is the calamity of the land you are talking about? Does it involve these ruins of time?"

"Yes, Grandpa Mu. This dungeon itself was the cause of the land calamity. As for further information, we should change places. There are too many you need to be treated in this place," Mo Xuejing said.

More victims of the battle were discovered as the king and the heavenly guardians surveyed the area. Looking at Ye Jieye and his family were the majority of these men. After all, they were their rescuers. They had seen firsthand how easily these four individuals vanquished those creatures. That is the extent of the Ye family's authority.

That is when those hunters came back, along with the two doctors who had parted ways with them. Having been welcomed into the abandoned homes of their own relatives, it appears that they moved to the most populated neighborhood. After learning about the situation from one of the city's patrolling guards, the two doctors just took everything they needed to recover.

Doctor Guang said, "Boss! You are really here. I wanted to ask about the situation, but..."

"Do your job first. I will tell you the details afterwards. Hei, support your brother with the palace doctors and healers. Save those who were fatally injured first. As for the situation, just keep them alive. We will be back soon after understanding the situation better," Mo Xuejing said.

Ye Jieye commanded the hunters who returned with them. "You guys will be the only ones on guard duty tonight. You observed the dungeon entrance from a distance. Never approach that place without my permission. As for your family, you can ask around. I can assure you that they are definitely safe.

Your next mission will be given in the morning. Understand?"

"Yes, Lord Ye!" They collectively answered.

The six hunters that Lu Shang had trained gave a salute to their commander. Their capabilities and talents had risen significantly after spending most of the month hunting under the surface of the water. Their lives were altered by the encounters they had with gods and demigods.

In the palace, the hall of thrones...

There it was in the entryway, the unexpected round table. Only individuals who are well-known for their standing and strength are permitted to attend the gathering in this room. Unidentified, Wang Xingmo, the present king's weird knight, unlocked the hall's door and welcomed his monarch and the occupants.

This shadowy figure, whose face is never seen, does not even bow to his own master; nevertheless, as Ye Jieye went by, he abruptly bowed his head.

Even Wang Xingmo was astounded by this. He has never before seen this arrogant monster of his lower head in front of anyone. He was unaware that Nameless had bowed to Ye Jieye not just here on Earth but also to the one in the Tower of God in addition to Satan. Nameless does not even lower his head to acknowledge Chaos or Mo Xuejing in spite of this.

Although Nameless's conduct shocked Wang Xingmo, he refrained from asking him why outright. Ye Jieye, on the other hand, only glanced at Nameless before walking past. Rejecting or not acknowledging his salutation. The door was closed once everyone had gone into the hall, leaving only a few knights standing watch outside.

Mo Xuejing passes food for his husband and children around the table. He pulled his two cubs into the corner to serve them dinner, reasoning that this was not their home and that they needed to have a lengthy talk. Regarding the Heavenly Guardians, Ye Jieye, King Wang Xingmo, and his enigmatic knight stayed seated at the table.

Heavenly Guardian Mu Zang spoke first to his grandson. "Xiao Ye, did you return because you received the message from that stupid fish?"

"Yes. There are some circumstances that have happened in the ocean, and it took a while for things to calm down. We only left when the one who was supposed to protect the ocean had awakened. There is a new god in the sea," Ye Jieye said.

When the King and the Heavenly Guardians learned about gods, they were taken aback. Even though this universe is full of celestial beings, the majority of them are only demigods. There are no true gods. There is one, but it is the deity of evil. They knew Cthulhu, the evil god of the ocean.

Heavenly Guardian Lu Wangle asked, "God? A real God. Not just a demigod with divinity, a real one that had ascended?!"

"Yes. He is the one who solved the calamity of water. The evil of God of the Ocean is gone. This new Sea God will rule the waters for a while. He is also the one who told us about the three calamities of this world." Ye Jieye used Sea God Lanyu as a cover to inform the mortals about the calamities. He had no intention of helping after all.

Heavenly Guardian Mo Xinyue asked, "Is this calamity of water involved in the destruction of the entrance of the Anairam Trench, danger zone? If so, the lightning Xiao Fei had reported might have something to do with this."

"We actually found some finds about the colored lightning in the royal library, but most of those texts are ancient and can barely be read. A short translation was made of the inscriptions hidden in the royal library of the palace. The Royal Family's inscribers translated a passage from the library that involves the said lightning Heavenly Guardia Fei had reported.

This is what they had found out." King Wang Xingmo passed a paper on the table. Written on it was the short translation made by those old men in the forbidden library.

On the paper, a few written sentences were found. It says,

{When a being's divinity reaches the highest peak of power in this world, the heavens give down a tribulation for him or her to survive. This tribulation is a trial of whether one has the ability and willpower to transcend. During the tribulation, the sky, regardless of where it is, will gather black clouds, followed by the rumbling of the sky and colorful lightning flashing within the dark clouds.

The Heaven's Trail. Only those who are fated will survive. Once a divinity survived the tribulation, he would be welcomed by a pillar of light, receiving the blessing of the heavens beyond. Becoming a true God. If he fails, he will be gone forever and will never be able to reincarnate. [He can only return to the nothingness and the void.]

The Heavenly Guardians were scowling as they read the text. They found it hard to accept that anything like this was real. It appeared as though the heaven's secret was disclosed. Ye Jieye was the only one who did not panic. Regarding the enigmatic knight known only as Nameless, he behaved as though he were a shy boy, even going so far as to seat across from Ye Jieye at the table.

Ye Jieye asked the current king. "Are the ones who translated these words still alive?"

"How did you... No, you must have known the reason for their circumstances. There are six old inscribers who translated these paragraphs. Half of them died, the other half is in a coma. Can I ask the reason why they ended up like that?" Wang Xingmo asked. Though he already had an inkling of what might have happened, he still needs to know the truth.

Ye Jieye said, "Don't you know that the heavens of this world are arrogant?" This sentence sounds like a joke or something irrelevant. But for those who understand, Ye Jieye's words at this moment were nothing but truth.

Heavenly Guardian Xian Wu asked, "What do you mean?"

"If your secrets were dug out and it was did by someone who is completely weaker than yourself, how would you react?" Ye Jieye asked.

Doctor Sen answered, "Punish them? Oh, I understand now. The heavens had punished them. What they had translated is the secret of the heavens. Something only those with divinity are supposed to know. That's why those who made this letter ended up like that!"

"The heavens secretly shall not be revealed. This is a truth that most beings follow. Those who break it can only be punished. They should have waited for a while before trying to translate this passage. If they had translated this after the birth of the new sea god, then they wouldn't have suffered as such," Ye Jieye said.

Heavenly Guardian Gu commented, "What do you mean? It seems to me that you are saying that the heavens had died after the birth of the Sea God."

When Ye Jieye heard Lao Gu's words, he just smirked. But everyone felt a shiver down their spine at such an unusual expression of Satan. They appeared to have discovered an unusual thing that could endangered their lives.

Heavenly Guardian Lu Wangle exclaimed, "Are you for real?" Find adventures at m_vl|e-NovelBin.net

"Is this true? Can you tell us what happened during the Calamity of Water? You should have experienced it, right?" Heavenly Guardian Mo Xinyue asked.

"I can tell you what happened, but it will take a long time if you want to know the details," Ye Jieye said.

Wang Xingmo said, "That doesn't matter; we have some time now, thanks to you and your family's intervention."

"Well then, this is indeed something you might need to know. Very well, I will tell you everything, including the three calamities this world had to experience."

Ye Jieye briefed them about the events of the previous month in the water. In addition, he recounted to them Cthulhu's past and revealed his true identity as the Ancient God. In addition, there is the animosity between Cthulhu and the Sea God Lanyu toward the skies. He also talked about the three calamities that were hanging over them, particularly the Calamity of the Land.

After all, this is something they should know. All that exists on this star is its creator, and only it can decide the fate of the world. Additionally, he told them about Mo Yuhan, Lu Ming, and Su Jin's new identities. Fei, the Heavenly Guardian, decided not to inform them of his circumstances. Before all is in order, no information regarding the next Domain Lord should be withheld.

Chapter 1297: First Grey Star - Born inside the Dungeon.

When the meeting in the throne hall of the palace ended, it was already daybreak. Too much was revealed all at once, and most of it was stuff that most people would want to vigorously dispute. The majority of living creatures are rendered powerless by the three global calamities and disasters.

Despite their lack of presence during the calamity of water, they were aware of the existence of the malevolent god Cthulhu.

Everyone experienced things that had a significant impact on the former, which happened to be the human species, after learning the truth about the Ancient God and the animosity between him and the skies. The Ancient God had initially answered the pleas of his followers and safeguarded the ocean. Simply put, human avarice knows no bounds.

The more they profit, the more they will stop at nothing to achieve their goals.

The believers' veneration for the ancient god gave way to a desire for more. One could argue that the number of devotees to a single ancient god is overwhelming. Without faith or divinity, a god's power would run out, particularly on a star of this lower class. If the skies had supported the ancient god, he would not have been impacted by the negative feelings of humans.

Sadly, this little star's heavens are conceited, haughty, and self-centered. His goal was to become this world's sole legitimate king. So he rejoiced in watching the Ancient God gradually become tarnished by wicked human desires until he was corrupted. The old god had become a fallen and changed into an evil star in order for him to lose his divine powers.

The corruption left the Ancient God reduced to a mere shadow of his former self, just when the heavens believed he would finally be able to strip the Ancient God of his authority. It is basically leftovers. All of the Ancient God's divinity was bestowed upon the Moray Eel, Lanyu, his final adherent.

And so the skies plotted again. He desired for Lanyu, the Sea God, to fall like the Ancient God. Like the Ancient God, he is incredibly unlucky. Lanyu lacked desire. He simply waited for his lord to awaken while guarding the ocean in silence. His desire meter is at its lowest point, and he finds satisfaction effortlessly.

Lanyu had no relationship with the other living things since his only duty was to safeguard the ocean. He can live alone for as long as he pleases and is more of a hermit.

Relentlessly, the heavens decided to use one thing that could have an impact on the moray eel in order to entice him. In order to better defend the water and soon meet his lord, he spoke to the moray eel and asked him to become one of his apostles. Because he is still too young, Lanyu cannot recall what happened to his lord.

He was unaware that his lord had saved him from certain death due to corruption. The shrine of the Ancient God is turning into a polluted place. He was thrown out of the sanctuary at the last moment by the ancient god to keep him safe. However, this also caused the Ancient God to become an evil god in the end.

Who would have guessed that heaven would persevere? Becoming an apostle of God is equivalent to offering your entire life to your god. Thus, when Sea God Lanyu assumed the role of apostle of the heavens, he shut down Moray Eel's memory of the Ancient God and imposed limitations on him, preventing him from leaving the ocean's center.

The ancient god had given Lanyu his heart, and the heavens truly desired to take it away. However, this heart was sentient. It only stayed in Lanyu's body, and it would fight back if someone attempted to steal it from her. The heart would decide to kill itself and scatter all divine power if the skies really did act. The heavens could not take this divinity away once it occurred.

Thus, the sole option was to turn Sea God Lanyu into a fallen being. In other words, to turn into a Cthulhu-like malevolent god.

He declared that the Evil Octopus God had emerged from his slumber. Though his mind may be damaged, the former Ancient God is still able to remember his last follower. The Evil Octopus God used the final remnant of his will to swear he would never hurt or kill the Sea God, which caused the heavens to set up a protracted battle between Cthulhu and the Sea God Lanyu.

Your next read awaits at m v|l-e'-NovelBin.net

While one is making every effort to kill, the other is making every effort to defend. That is the true nature of the relationship between the two sea gods.

This ultimate conflict between the two gods and the ascent of the Sea God Lanyu are seen as water-related disasters. Anybody below the god level can be instantly killed by an ascending god's tribulation. The ocean's poisoning was also brought on by Cthulhu's demise. Thus, the majority of life in the Anairam Trench's central portion had perished. Millions were also the number of marine creatures.

The Heavenly Laws (Domain Lord) unexpectedly perish in the Calamity of Water, although outside interference—such as that of Ye Jieye, who gave the order for his dragon to devour the Heavenly Laws—caused it. The world's laws would have collapsed in disorder in the absence of the Heavenly Laws.

The animals restrained by the heavens had all begun to loose their bonds, and the planet's qi had considerably diminished. This caused the seal surrounding the Ruins of Time to slip, allowing more unidentified monsters to emerge and wipe out every living thing that existed outside of their world.

The second disaster was now about to befall the land's inhabitants due to the weakening of seals on the door, leading to a different dimension. That means that when hell broke loose on the surface of the dungeon known as the Ruins of Time, the Calamity of Land would officially begin. This is the significant information that Ye Jieye shared with King Wang Xingmo and the Heavenly Guardians.

Heavenly Guardian Mu asked, "This Calamity of Land, is it when the door of the Ruin of Time completely broke? Does that mean the seal would be broken in the future regardless of what he does?"

"Yes, even the barrier placed around it can only last for three months. This is a calamity that the people of the land are required to undergo. As for the final calamity, I will only tell you the details once you survive the second one, okay?" Ye Jieye said. Everyone responded with silence to his question.

Silence~

Only when Mu Zang sighed did the quietness in the hall break. Then he looked at his grandson, who still looked indifferent, as if this calamity had nothing to do with him.

"Xiao Ye, when do you plan to return to your real body? Have you found a way to?"

With Mu Zang's query, Ye Jieye became the center of attention for everyone, including Mo Xuejing. Ye Jieye seems unconcerned by the multitude of eyes on him. Well, save from that one look from his sweetheart. He gave an involuntary flinch, realizing that he had to give his wife an explanation.

Ye Jieye said, "I will go back to my real body in the third month. I suggest you guys complete your preparations before the end of the third month. To cancel the overall curse on everyone, you guys must defeat all monsters at the same time. That's the only way to rebound the curse. Your current method is too crude. On the battlefield, monsters can also mutate your knowledge."

"We will keep that in mind," Wang Xingmo said.

Ye Jieye said, "We flew here all day. Let us take the rest of the night. Don't worry about the dungeon. It would be quiet for three whole months. Good night."

He got up and moved toward his family, his wife and children. After dinner, Ye Jingxia and Ye Anxia had been asleep for a while. The little cubs are too tired after their voyage back. Despite his expressionless face, Mo Xuejing was a touch late, even for someone who does not usually stay up late. Ye Jieye tenderly strokes the area beneath his wife's eyes.

Ye Jieye whispered, "Sleepy? Don't worry. We can go back and sleep now."

"Are we going back to the Mo Mansion?" Mo Xuejing asked.

Ye Jieye said, "No. I have a mansion under my name in the city. We will go there."

"Okay, let's go," Mo Xuejing said.

Following their good-bye for the evening, the pair departed. Additionally, as the palace is someone else's residence, they declined to stay there. A grandiose hidden mansion was built inside the city limits, hidden from view from the city by towering trees. Ye Jieye escorted his wife to their chambers to rest as he gave the two systems orders to clean the mansion.

The couple stayed in the master bedroom, and the two cubs were put next door.

In the master's bedroom...

As the pair lay in bed about to drift off to sleep, Mo Xuejing suddenly awoke and stared at Ye Jieye's red eyes with his wide silver eyes. For some unknown reason, the God of Void became anxious. He does not know why, even though he did not do anything wrong, watching his wife look at him with such intense intensity makes him feel anxious.

Ye Jieye asked, "What's... wrong?"

"You still haven't told me why you keep looking at that dungeon just now. The others might have forgotten about it as you intentionally didn't let them remember about it, but you can't hide from me," Mo Xuejing said.

At this very time, Ye Jieye was reminded of his other half, Hei Anjing, by the narrowing phoenix-shaped eyes of Mo Xuejing. If his Jing'er thought he was keeping something from him, he would look at him like this. Ye Jieye answered truthfully after noticing the way his eyes and lashes curled in a way that gave the impression of a smile but actually gave him the chills.

Gulps

Ye Jieye said, "The problem is nothing much. Maybe because my real vessel is inside that dungeon, the control of the dungeon on me is stronger than the rest. My control over fire has greatly weakened just now. Something in that dungeon is restricting my abilities, especially within the certain range where the door of the Ruins of Time is located."

"Weaker? In what way?" Mo Xinyue asked.

Ye Jieye answered, "I can hardly call fire elements to follow my command. The hell flame I called in that split moment was almost gone. Thankfully, I cut off my qi immediately, or else everyone in the area would be burned to nothingness."

"How can a dungeon take control over you? You weren't born there," Mo Xuejing said.

Ye Jieye paused for a moment before confessing. "A'Mo, I, Ye Jieye, was born inside the Ruins of Time. Didn't the old man tell you? Only my soul comes out with the help of my other grandfather. My real body is still there."

What Mo Xuejing heard astounded him. This was not what he had expected. Ultimately, the information that Satan was born in a dungeon was kept a secret. Some of the others would most likely be unable to tolerate it if they found out. Particularly for a unique dungeon such as the Ruins of Time, only creatures are born in the dungeon. Nobody is aware of what is actually concealed there.

It must have been packed with monsters similar to those that emerged during the dungeon glitches, though, judging by the creatures that managed to escape from it. Distorted, shaped, and randomized curses are powerful and deadly. People who were viewed as inferior to others found it difficult to accept individuals who had greater strength than they did.

They were also unable to accept the malevolent God who resides in the Tower of God for the same reason. He has the ability to wipe out the entire human species, which is why mortals fear him.

Chapter 1298: First Grey Star - Upset

Mo Xuejing was taken aback. He was not sure if he had forgotten about it or if he just assumed that everything was normal because Ye Jieye had been acting as though he was here outside of him the entire time. Who would ever know that the dungeon is where Satan is born? After all, he was raised outdoors with a makeshift and temporary vessel.

"Confess. What are the other things you haven't told me yet? Grandpa Mu just asked, When are you coming back to your body? Are you really going to come back inside!? There is a lot of unknown danger inside!" Mo Xuejing said as he sat up. Ye Jieye followed him and looked a bit helpless against his wife's anger.

Ye Jieye tried to coax him with a hug and said, "Okay. I will tell you everything. Don't get angry. Anger is bad for your health."

"Stop talking nonsense and spill everything!" Mo Xuejing said as he crossed his arms above his chest, looking serious and a bit irritated at his husband.

Ye Jieye hugged his wife but was slightly pushed away. Mo Xuejing's anger seems to be real this time. Since he can't hug him, holding on to his waist is also alright.

"You recalled the first tragedy in the Ruins of Time?" Ye Jieye asked.

Mo Xuejing frowned, but he also knew what his husband was talking about. "You are saying the one that involves our parents and your other grandfather, Ye Jingya."

"Yes. That's the first attempt of exploration for the Ruins of Time. The exploration was led by Grandfather Ye. My parents and your parents had all volunteered as well, and they thought that since the scouts all come out safely, the place must not be dangerous. Unfortunately, that is just their wishful thinking. A lot of fierce monsters come out of the dungeon, and they are being chased as well.

In the end, everyone who came inside was stuck after Grandfather Lu shut down the door with his own hand. He made this choice because, as a Heavenly Guardian, his duty entails putting the majority before the minority," Ye Jieye said.

Mo Xuejing said, "This is also the heart wound of our grandfathers and caused them to hate each other, especially my grandfather and grandpa Lu."

"Yes. This is also the reason Grandfather Mu left the capital. Actually, they didn't even know that my dad was pregnant with me at that time. They only knew through the short-space communication between my two grandfathers, Mu Zang and Ye Jingya. But even that was cut off when Grandfather Ye separated my soul from my body and brought it away with the black dragon's egg," Ye Jieye said.

Mo Xuejing couldn't believe that his husband's body and soul were separated as soon as he was born. His vessel remained inside the dungeon, growing without any soul in it. Is that strange? How can a vessel continue to exist without a soul?"

"Is your body... does it still exist? How long have you been outside? Can you still even return?" Mo Xuejing asked, but the worry in his time is something Ye Jieye couldn't ignore.

Ye Jieye pinched his wife's cheek and said, "It's still alive. My soul connection to my original body isn't cut off. Like you, my current body cannot be considered real flesh as well. It's more like an empty puppet vessel. Once it is destroyed, my soul will return to its original body."

For Mo Xuejing, the term demolished set off a reaction in his heart. Fear, grief, and rejection were all that were on his mind and in his heart. He refused to acknowledge that his husband's return to his true form was the only thing standing between them and the salvation of this earth.

Mo Xuejing was trembling as he grabbed the clothes of Ye Jieye above his chest. "Can't you just not come back? Let's wait for the seal to open inside and go inside together."

"A'Mo, if I choose that option, a lot of people would have to die. This includes your grandfather, my grandfathers, and our family. Is that okay with you? One of us must stay here to block all the monsters before I come out. Only you can do it? My children might also fall in danger, as even I am unsure what the hell is inside of that dungeon.

I..."

Mo Xuejing's silver eyes tear up for the second time. If not for the moisture that soaked Ye Jieye's pajamas, he would not have heard the quiet cry. The God of Void is utterly powerless in the face of his beloved's weeping, much as Hei Anjing is terrified to behold the scene of his other half's death.

"Baby, please... I'm begging you. Don't cry like this. You crying without a sound makes me feel a stabbing pain in my heart. Please don't cry. I'm wrong, okay?"

Ye Jieye attempted to kiss away his sweetheart's tears. Unfortunately, it does not appear to be ending anytime soon. All Ye Jieye could do was cozy up to his wife. The God of Void was really at a loss for what to do at this point.

After crying for far too long, Mo Xuejing eventually felt tired and drowsy. In his sleep, Ye Jieye heard him whispering phrases.

"He is right. You are indeed cruel to yourself, and I hate this side of you too."

The God of Void looked shocked. He was aware of what Mo Xuejing had said. It appears that at least one meeting between him and Hei Anjing occurred in secret, and that his significant other was already aware of his plans regarding Chaos. He inhaled deeply, as though attempting to get rid of whatever was lodged in his throat. Either way, the weight on his heart did not lessen in the slightest.

Find more chapters on m_vl|e-NovelBin.net

There was new information concerning the impending disaster that the palace had posted. All the hunters, fighters, and warriors were asked to join the royal family's knights in the capital. Every town and village that the messenger could reach received this decree. This is the land peering over their heads in preparation for the tragedy.

Ordinary people were alarmed by the news of the Calamity of the Land, and the majority of these men are incapable of fighting. They decided to relocate away from the capital city, which is supposed to be the starting point of the tragedy, in order to avoid becoming a burden. Most of the fighters, hunters, and warriors from all those cities and villages made the decision to head to the capital.

Some opt to shield the common folks who are traveling throughout the globe. They specifically desired to ask the God of the Sea for temporary assistance.

The source of the knowledge on the recently born sea god is unknown. Nonetheless, in the three months of planning prior to the catastrophe starting, nearly every person in the country became aware of his presence. Numerous individuals attempted to enter the Anairam Trench.

After learning that people had entered the ocean, Heavenly Guardian Fei built more coral homes outside and allowed them to stay there for a while. Make sure there are no signs of conflict and that the region remains stable.

Humans quickly became well-suited to life in the sea. They began to get along with other seafaring Sentient races, including the fishermen race. Humans were first terrified of the seafaring species, but as time went on and both races began to pray to the sea god in order to seek his protection, humans began to get along with them.

While the ancient god, Sea God Lanyu, granted wishes for certain people, he at least ensured the safety of the humans who were temporarily residing in the water. His disciples would do the heavy lifting; he would not even need to reveal his face. He did not intend to engage in direct human interaction.

In the Core Region of Anairam Trench...

Leica was waiting for Su Jin, who was sound asleep inside the ocean pearl, with patience. Occasionally, he would converse over the phone with his sweetheart, who was going with Lu Ming into the other danger zone. Unlike their supervisor, these two had a subsystem that gave them the ability to interact with the other hosts or the main systems. It lacks the consciousness of Zhi Yang and Zhi Yue.

Like a cellphone, it is only a tool for communication.

I am currently on a video call with Lu Shang.

Leica asked, "You've been there for a month. Have you found it yet, What does Lu Ming need?"

[We found it. It's just that... it gains a spirit. It's a mere wisp of a Nirvana Flame, but gains sentient. It refuses to accept A'Ming without a fight. [So they can only fight one another.]

There's a sound of multiple explosions from Lu Shang's side. Leica didn't know how much destruction was being done in the area where the other group was.

Leica said, "It seems you will need to take a while. I don't know if the news has reached you, but there is a message from the capital city saying that the Calamity of Land will arrive three months later. A month has already passed and there is still another two months left. Even so, you can inform the others about it. Also, tell Xiao Ming that Xiao Jin is waking up soon.

If I saw it correctly, he should be waking up within this month."

[I will inform A'Ming about this. Are there other tasks from the Lord?] Lu Shang asked.

Leica shook his head. "For now, none. But I'm having a bad premonition, so as soon as Xiao Jin wakes up, we are returning to the capital city. You guys should also hurry up things on your side."

[I understand. I will inform the rest about this. Honey, I miss you.] Lu Shang said.

Leica smiled and said, "I miss you too, darling. See you soon."

[See you soon.]

Leica drank his coffee and gazed at the Ocean Pearl floating above him as the lovers' call ended. He notices that Su Jin's elemental aura has significantly increased and that the water elements from the pearl have significantly decreased.

Leica mumbles, "It seems when he comes out, he will become a demigod, at least. But for an E-Class star, the increase in gods is a bit weird. This world is giving me creeps."

On the other side of the call is Active Volcano Island.

After hanging up with Leica, Lu Shang turned to see the two young men, Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan, engaged in combat with a fire phoenix that had manifested. The majority of this phoenix's shape was made of fire, and he had no physical body. Compared to a true divine phoenix, this physical form is much weaker and more transient.

Ji Yoonjun did not shoot his arrows straight at the Nirvana Flames; instead, he remained at Lu Ming's side, aiding Mo Yuhan in their struggle. He would only unleash one when the two were in danger, which is why the sentient flame attacked the two who were attacking him rather than him.

CAAWWSSS~

When a massive ball of flame suddenly appeared, Mo Yuhan decided to dodge rather than block it. Once, when he attempted to prevent it, he nearly became human charcoal. Unless he really accumulates the ice elements to make a thick barrier of ice, his ice will barely be able to block it.

"Ah, fuck! It's just a small flame. How can it be this powerful?" Mo Yuhan complained.

Mo Yuhan was not like Lu Ming. The latter's bloodline is endowed with fire elements, thus he did not need to put out the flames. Even though his skin would not physically burn, he would sense heat all over it. There is no wound, but there is pain.

"You look like the weakest in his eyes. Of course, it would attack you," Lu Ming said.

Mo Yuhan said, "Shut up! If I had enough time to gather enough qi, I would be able to reach that damn flame!"

"Isn't that the reason why it's attacking you without letting you rest?" Lu Ming said.

The Phoenix Flame became a little irritated with the two because they continued to argue during the fight. A small phoenix of pride, he would never let mankind treat him with such disdain. He is not to be looked down upon by mortals, even if he is simply a wisp of a phoenix soul.

CAAAAAAAWSSSS~

Chapter 1299: First Grey Star - Time is running out.

On the top floor of the Tower of God...

When the waves of monsters were finally vanquished, the night had finally grown silent. The third wave of monsters was solved more quickly than the previous two waves combined. The solution was found in just two nights, the second of which saw the Ye Family return. The third wave of monsters would probably endure longer than the preceding waves if the Ye Family had not arrived in the city tonight.

Giant-type monsters emerged from the space rifts for the first time at that point.

Tun Shizhe examined the hidden moon in the dusk sky this evening. Tonight there was no source of light because the moon was covered. It was only natural for him to notice his wife's reappearance, given his connection to the God of Void. Given that the man had yearned to complete his soul the instant his wife gathered everything for him, he could be the God of Void's fragmented soul.

This lonely god muttered in the darkness. {You keep on making him cry. Even so, his love for you is solely for you. That's why it's unfair to us whose origin is the same as yours. Half of us have already gone crazy, while you continue to live in happiness with him as you forget the sin we committed, we had gone crazy because we couldn't receive a single glance for him and ended up hurting him more.

Even though all of us are just the same and a single entity. Only you receive his smile. Isn't that arrogant of you? At the very least I won't stop without fighting. If you can get his love, so we do.}

The night was silent and calm as it had been before. With a few exceptions, the majority of people have gone to sleep or rest.

Wang Xingmo and the Heavenly Guardians used the three months to rally as many people as they could and to inspire them to fight for their lives. All races on the land must strive to survive with the Calamity of the Land hanging over them. The gods' willingness to assist still relies on how they are feeling.

Ye Jieye appeared indifferent to the impending end of the world as he spent days with Mo Xuejing and his children. They engaged in games and relished the opportunity to spend time as a family. Mo Xuejing had already come to terms with the fact that his husband had to go back to his former body. His mood had been low lately as a result, and he began to drink more wine at night.

Ye Jieye was powerless to stop him, but none could.

Ye Jieye had to take his wife back to their chamber every evening since Mo Xuejing had sobbed that night. Mo Xuejing could not even go back to his own room since he would be inebriated the entire night.

With empty bottles all across the living room, Mo Xuejing lay on the table with his eyes closed, appearing to be asleep despite a faint flush on his cheeks.

Seeing the living room littered with empty wine bottles, Ye Jieye couldn't help but sigh helplessly. He summoned the two systems in their humanoid forms.

"Zhi Yue, Zhi Yang, come out."

"You called, Master (Lord God)!" Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang appeared in their human forms and saluted.

Ye Jieye said, "Clean up the living room and disperse the scent of wine. Also investigate the movements of that man in the tower. There is no need to get too close. Just tell me what he has been doing these days."

"Yes, Lord God." Zhi Yang responded with a question.

Zhi Yue is different. He had a strong curiosity from the beginning. "Master, that man in that tower. Why do I feel you and him are the same? But he is definitely not you. I don't know where this contradictory feeling is coming from."

Ye Jieye was checking on Mo Xuejing's condition, so he took a while to respond to the small system's questions. Apart from excessive alcohol consumption, the latter had simply dozed off and had no further consequences.

"He is a world eater fragment. But unlike the other world eater fragments that only know how to devour, that one was sentient and is no different from a god. He is dangerous for you, especially Zhi Yang. Because your source is me, he would definitely notice you. Just watch further than Zhi Yue," Ye Jieye said.

The two systems exclaimed, "A world-eating fragment!?"

Zhi Yue said, "Why does the Master not kill him? He wouldn't definitely try to hurt Lord Hei like the ones in the former worlds!"

"Not him. He is different from the rest of the fragments. At least he wouldn't hurt Jing'er, this I'm sure of. He might want to kill me instead. Either way, I need him to be alive. I will be away from Jing'er after I leave this body.

He can protect Jing'er while I'm away," Ye Jieye said as he carefully carried Mo Xuejing in his arms. He walks out of the living room and climbs up the stairs to go to the master's bedroom to rest.

After Ye Jieye left the first floor, Zhi Yue tugged Zhi Yang's sleeve with imprinted confusion on his face.

"A'Yang, what does Master mean? Do you understand what he is talking about?"

"I think he is saying that there is a connection between the world eater and the master," Zhi Yang said.

Zhi Yue exclaimed, "Impossible! The World Eater had been killed even before the Lord God was born as the God of Void. It's impossible for them to have connections. Moreover, it's the End who created the Lord while the World Eater is created by the God of Chaos. There is no connection between the two."

"I don't know. That's just how I perceived Master's words just now. I might be wrong," Zhi Yang said.

Zhi Yue said, "Of course, you're wrong. There is no way it's correct. Because if your words are right, then doesn't that mean that Lord Hei and the Lord God were enemies who killed each other?"

The two systems' masters had long since gone back to their chambers, while they were arguing over Ye Jieye's remarks and tidying up the premises. Ye Jieye carried his wife back to the bed to sleep after giving him a bath to get rid of the last of the wine smell. Mo Xuejing's expressionless visage would only seem subdued and serene while he was asleep.

Mo Xuejing had been in the worst mood as he slept lately. Sometimes he would groan as if in tears. Ye Jieye felt bad for telling him about going back to the Dungeon because he looked so miserable.

Sigh~

Ye Jieye sighed, bringing down his body temperature with wet towels on his wife's face. His sweetie prefers to sip on cool, sugary drinks rather than alcoholic ones. He hardly ever drinks wine. His favorite tea is milk tea, and he also enjoys frappes. He will only drink wine when he is feeling down, as though to block off the thoughts he can not figure out what to think about.

Mo Xuejing occasionally experienced tears falling on his cheeks while he slept, as though he was having a bad dream.

"Maybe I shouldn't have told you about it. In my eyes, you and Chaos are the same. You are both part of his soul. I can't bear to ignore one of each of you. I'm willing to accept all punishment after all your souls have merged, okay? Don't cry anymore.

Whenever I see you cry, I truly do not know what I must do," Ye Jieye whispered as he held his wife's hand, kissing his fingers and revering his very presence in his life.

Hei Anjing is a light in the darkness of this terrible god's existence. He was born into a world of nothing, so the light was something he had always desired but had never imagined possessing. He could no longer withstand the gloom on his own until someone like Hei Anjing entered his life as the only source of light.

.net

If he lost this light, he feared he would be left in the dark and might go insane enough to wipe out everything.

Meanwhile, in the mansion under Chaos' name...

Chaos was staring up at a dark, empty sky. There was not even a moon to enjoy the scenery, nor stars to gaze upon. All that was left was an unending expanse of darkness. Nobody knows what he is thinking while sipping wine and staring out into space.

"Soon enough, I should be able to kill him with my own hands again. But why... Why do I feel reluctance to think that his figure would have to disappear even for a short while in this world? Am I sick again?" Chaos mumbled as he drank a full cup of red wine and served another for himself.

"It would be better if the main soul overtook Mo Xuejing and stopped me. I truly couldn't stop myself from hating that man. The memories of pain and agony in that dark world. The anticipation and expectations that were never fulfilled. Just remembering these scenes is enough to fill my heart with hate. How come there is a small part of it that wants to change?

I don't know what I want anymore." Chaos mumbles.

Everyone had their own circumstances and thought that even so, the future would remain unchanged unless they made a difference that would reverse the destined fate.

By the time the third month of the interim peace arrived, the capital city had become the home of many fighters from every race. Some races identify as hermits, including dwarfs, elves, humans, and even beastmen. They were forced to come together in order to fight for what they believed to be vital due to the impending tragedy in the world.

They were welcomed to the city by Wang Xingmo. While occupied with their own duties, the Heavenly Guardians even called upon their subordinates to defend their future. Elderly hunters and fighters had also arrived. Some rendered immobile by chronic injuries made the decision to defend those outside the capital.

It would not be shocking if some monsters managed to get out of the city and start killing people.

Lu Wangle, Mu Zang, and Mo Xinyue stood in the distance, surveying the surroundings, while Wang Xingmo and the rest conversed with the other warriors. Even with foreigners coming over to play about with them, they wanted to maintain the stability of the city. In their capacity as the Heavenly Guardians' delegates, Heavenly Guardians Xian Wu, Gu, and Sen were meeting with the other races.

Lu Wangle, the Heavenly Guardian, glanced around and noticed a small group of his clan members. The fathers all stayed to fight, even though the majority of them had sent their children out of town with their dads. The partners and children they send out will be in danger if they do not fight here. Even young men like Lu Ming and Lu Shang are the age of are willing to stay.

Only minor children were compelled to depart with their father.

The Mo, Gu, and Mu clans had the same outcome. The children must stay behind for the benefit of future generations so that even in the unlikely event that they are all forced to die in this city, their lineage will still be carried on by younger people.

Heavenly Guardian Lu Wangle mumbled, "I know that Shang and Ming aren't back yet from their opportunities, but where is Xiao Ye? Has he sent his children away? My great-grandchildren are still babies."

"They're at the mansion. I don't know what is happening, but... suddenly their whole family had come to territory. I heard Xiao Ye wanted to meet Lord Chaos. I don't know if Xue'er wanted to return to his real body. If he does, then that means his full strength will return," Heavenly Guardian Mo Xinyue said.

"It's just that Xue'er's expression doesn't feel right. Does he already know what Xiao Ye needs to do to return to his body?" He asked this question to his friend, Mu Zang.

Heavenly Guardian Mu Zang said, "There is no other choice. Xiao Ye can only stop most monsters from the inside. Or else there will be nothing but tragedy waiting for us here."

"It's really hard to leave the fate of this world to our children. It's just that we are already too old to stand in front and fight with them," Heavenly Guardian Lu Wangle said.

Heavenly Guardian Mo Xinyue rolled his eyes at Lu Wangle. "Are you saying that while looking like a teenager that is at least the same age as your grandsons? How shameless!"

"You two are the same as well," Heavenly Guardian Lu Wangle retorted.

Heavenly Guardian Mu Zang snorted, "This body of this age is the easiest to fight against numbers. We needed stamina in this war."

Chapter 1300: First Grey Star - Su Jin's Awakening

Anairam Trench's Core Region

Leica had been waiting a long time for one of this world's chosen ones to awaken from enlightenment. Abruptly, the placid Ocean Pearl drifting in the waves began to tremble, sending ripples through the surrounding water. Following the shaking, the pearl developed a break and a brilliant, golden light.

"He is finally about to wake up. That's good. With his awakening, he should be able to help Xiao Ming capture the Nirvana Flame Spirit," Leica mumbles as he watches Su Jin come out of the pearl that turns to dust and return to the land, mixing with it. The dust had traces of divinity, which greatly enhanced this area.

Su Jin opened his eyes slowly. They were now a deep blue color, like the crystal-clear seawater. His appearance changed somewhat as well. With the white, silky skin and ethereal beauty that only sirens and mermaids possess, he now has the appearance of a mermaid. Even his hair had taken on a sapphire hue with prominent water element highlights.

Right now, the Su Jin is united and one with all of the water in the world. He can now breathe underwater without effort. It did not surprise him that the only person grinning at him was Leica. He moved toward this gentle, older brother figure.

Su Jin spoke, "Brother Leica, thank you for protecting me all along. Even though I can't speak, the water told me everything that was happening around me. I've become a Deity of Water, but I'm only a demigod and not a real God like Lord Lanyu."

"I understand. There is no need to explain further. How are you feeling?" Leica asked.

Su Jin sensed the elemental qi coursing through his body and the removal of the previous limitations. Most limitations on this world's population were lifted after Roi, the Black Dragon King, consumed the Heavenly Laws. Everybody's faith and might had been restrained by the haughty laws of heaven, keeping someone from becoming more powerful than themselves.

His desire for total control prevented everyone from progressing, including his apostles' potential.

Su Jin answered, "I feel unexpectedly refreshed. That's weird. Before I feel something is preventing me from reaching the peak of my potential. But that slight push from Lord Mo, loosen those chains and help me destroy them. It took a while for me to absorb all the energy."

"You were having a hard time before as the Heavens was preventing you from going against its control. Now that it's gone, you have successfully become a demigod. Congratulations!" Leica said.

"Thank you, Brother Leica."

Su Jin was pleased with her compliments. He was much more useless than the average person in his previous life, and everything about it seemed false. Only after his rebirth did he have the strength to battle beside Lu Ming, whom he adored.

As they conversed, the water shifted and swirled, creating a doorway that let Sea God Lanyu and Heavenly Guardian Fei pass through. He can teleport to any location on the ocean using water as the medium because he is the God who governs all of the water in this world. Sea God Lanyu, dragging his slothful student along, sensed the cherished child of water waking up and went to see how he was doing.

Sea God Lanyu said, "Good work, child. This is a present from the ocean to you. Accept it."

He handed Su Jin a weapon. It is a wand that has crystals of pure water incorporated in it. Its length makes it appear more like a trident because it is as tall as Su Jin. He can also be shielded from attacks by fire and electric elementals by a robe composed of scales and a thin veil formed of material that resembles water.

The robe belongs to Heavenly Guardian Fei, while the wand was gifted by Sea God Lanyu.

Heavenly Guardian Fei said, "This robe is made from my scales. It can block any fire as long as you input qi in it. Well, the infamous black fire owned by Lord Ye is impossible to block, so don't try it at all."

"Child of Water. I will leave the protection of the land to you and your lover. Remember, what you can control isn't only water. All liquid in all forms can be controlled by you except for special mutations like the ice of your friend. That one is under someone else's jurisdiction even for me; it's impossible to control the ice with a higher god's blessing. May fate be with you," Sea God Lanyu said.

Su Jin saluted and said, "May fate be with you. Thank you for the gifts. Sea God and Heavenly Guardian, sirs."

"Survive, brat," Heavenly Guardian Fei said.

Su Jin said, "Yes, I will do my best."

"Go. Your other half needs your help," Sea God Lanyu said as a few flying whales appeared from behind them.

These unique whales are descended from a mutant whale race, blessed by the sea deity Lanyu. They have the ability to fly. Leica and Su Jin returned on the flying whales.

Leica said, "May fate be with you. Be free. Water is more powerful the purer your heart is."

"Thank you for the advice, Senior!" Sea God Lanyu said.

Only then did Su Jin and Leica take off on their flying whale. The whale surfaced and leaped from the water. Although the sight of the flying whale startled some, they understood that this particular species of whale is one that is dedicated to the sea god. The mortals could only bow their heads in respect upon seeing it. Some claim to have seen Su Jin, as well as his sapphire eyes and hair.

He was worshipped by those mortals as the God of the Sea's servant and Prince of the Sea.

On this day, a massive flying whale was sighted. They watched it make its way to the Active Volcano Island, a floating island that was surrounded by lava, magma, and flames. Meanwhile, at the certain summit of the tallest volcano on the floating island.

At the top of the volcano lies a massive crater, but the hole in it is only slightly larger than it was previously, and a tiny wisp of crimson-gold flames from a special flame known as the Phoenix flames or Nirvana Flame blocked it.

Even if this flame's effects were a hundredth of those of a genuine Nirvana flame, this flame can nevertheless be regarded as holy by mortals. It possessed divine qualities and the capacity to purge everything bad in the world. Among all the fires in the world, this one is on a god-level.

After being compelled to use the last of the ice energy in the Frost Ice Orb he received from his cousin, Mo Yuhan was enlightened.

Lu Ming, on the other hand, had at last arrived at the spot where the wisp of Nirvana Flame was floating—one meter from the volcano's center. The flames in the shape of a Phoenix was glaring at the helpless Lu Ming for every step he takes.

{Why are you so desperate, Mortal? Your body cannot hold on to the effects of my flame. You can control me and will just burn yourself, which would only result in being a pile of ashes,} The fire spirit said. {Your wind elements are already top-notch. I can see your connection to that wind deity watching over you. It must be thanks to him that you can control such a deadly wind.}

Lu Ming was startled for a bit and glanced back at his brother before looking back to the phoenix flame in front of him.

He asked, "You can see through my elder brother?" .net

{No. Whatever is inside him is a lot stronger than I am. It's impossible to see through. I can just see the wind spirits reverting to him. Such reverence of elemental spirits are only for Gods above them. He is extremely powerful.

Much stronger than the Wood Elemental God standing beside him.}

Lu Ming smiled as if he thought of a way to scheme the fire spirit in front of him. "There is someone else stronger than my brother. Unlike him, my cousin is a fire user like me. You might like him, but he might not need you. His flame is so much more powerful and deadly than you are."

{Impossible! My flames can even contend with the true Phoenix fire. No ordinary mortal flame can defeat me.}

"What are you talking about? You see my brother, right? Does he look like a full mortal to you? Moreover, the one I'm talking about is someone even my brother respects. His flame is extremely special. It even has a unique color," Lu Ming said.

{What is the color of that flame you are talking about?}

Lu Ming smirked, "If you come with me, I will tell you about it!"

{Hmp! You are lying as if your brother will even follow someone else's orders. Don't you know how powerful he is?}

Then they observed Lu Shang taking Ye Jieye's call. Everyone in the vicinity could see the subsystem's live video call capability, and Ye Jieye's face appeared on a thin screen that resembled a holographic projection. Everyone in the vicinity, even the fire spirit Nirvana Flame, could see Ye Jieye's attractive face.

[Shang, I will be away for a while. Look for Leica and come back to the capital to protect my wife and children. The Ruins of Time is about to open.]

Lu Shang fell on one knee and responded, "Yes, Milord!"

Ye Jieye abruptly ended the brief call from the other end without waiting for the others to finish speaking. Everyone in the vicinity was surprised by the information in this call.

Mo Yuhan exclaimed, "The ruins of time are about to open?! Isn't there still supposed to be a month more?"

"We are already in the third month," Ji Yoonjun said.

Lu Ming was stunned and said, "The third month already! I... I didn't notice."

"The time on this island moves slower. So you just felt that a month had just passed when in reality two months had gone by. I can feel Leica and Su Jin are about to come over. We will leave as soon as they arrive," Lu Shang said.

Mo Yuhan looked at his friend worriedly, as he still hadn't taken away the fire spirit that could strengthen his fire elements.

"But Ming still hasn't..."

"It's okay. Maybe it isn't for me. Big Brother, how long would Brother Leica and Xiao Jin take to come here?" Lu Ming asked as he chose to give up the Nirvana Flame wisp who didn't want to come with him.

Lu Shang was aware of the pride a fire spirit had. They would not simply come over to be tamed so readily, despite the fact that they were just as temperamental as Ice Spirits. Among the other elemental spirits, their temper is the shortest. Furthermore, he observed the fire spirit's shocked expression at seeing the Lord God.

The Lord God is in possession of the most exceptional and singular flame in existence, despite not being the God of Fire. The Hell Flames are the world's deadliest and hottest fire. Additionally, their next prison will be built on the same basis. It is comparable to a fire that can destroy the soul of a god.

"They should be arriving soon. Treat your injuries and prepare to leave immediately upon their arrival," Lu Shang said.

Watching the humans, who had been harassing him for days, suddenly give up like this, the Fire Spirit remained silent. He truly had a strong affection for the boy Lu Ming; of all the boys he had previously met, he had the strongest compatibility with him. The truth is, he was frightened of the apparition that had suddenly materialized before them.

There is a fierce fire all around the man that could swallow him up. That individual is genuinely in control of that hazardous black flame. Do they really require him at all?

The existence of Ye Jieye's Hell Flame made the Nirvana Flame feel insignificant. Against someone that strong, a small wisp that is not even a true Nirvana flame would be of little use. That man also possesses a strong aura of darkness, which is the origin of the Hell Flames and allows them to burn eternally.