

World Plot 1331

Chapter 1331: First Grey Star - Calamity of the Sky

For the residents of this gray star, Mo Xuejing paid for a year of peace. It was plenty for all the creatures of this star to come together and form a single body, finish preparing, and send those incapable of fending off into the darkest region this world has ever known—the water.

The palace beneath the sea was the gathering place for common people and other species with feeble bodies from different races.

Everyone else had assembled here to survive and fight the last battle this earth had to face, with the majority of those gathered being elderly and helpless children.

A small number of knights and warriors of various races are sent to guard the castle; however, this is really a small contingent, since the main force was assigned to battle alongside Lu Shang and the world's heroes on the front lines. This time, Lanyu, the new God of the Sea, emerged from the water as well and rose to the surface.

He took up this role of guarding the waters from the previous ancient god who had adopted him.

Invaders aboard spacecraft are invading on their planet with the goal of destroying it from above the oceans and the land. Lu Shang and Sea God Lanyu had already turned back the first wave. The warriors of the land were led by one, and the warriors of the water by the other.

Every ship that was in the line of sight was mercilessly shot down, and anything that emerged from the sky was considered a target.

There is no need for the invaders to relax. They do not run on life; they run on energy. Like machines, they will continue to exist for a considerable amount of time as long as they have enough energy.

The few waves of invaders that arrived were merely scouts, which is why Lu Shang and the others defeated them with ease. However, the soldiers' inflated egos were caused by these meager fortifications. Although Lu Shang is a great person in these soldiers' eyes, he is not as powerful as Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing, who made the distinction between a deity and a mortal clear to them.

Instead, Lu Shang maintained his modesty and simplicity. For this reason, despite his strength, he and Leica are not seen by the others as divinely defying.

As a result, as soon as their egos were aroused, they began to despise Lu Shang, who had told them to retreat when their adversaries were fleeing.

Frontlines, in the sky above.

This time, the battleground is in the skies. The only people who can fight above ground are those who can fly; everyone else can only provide support from below. Because they value independence, most wind elemental users do not belong to any organizations or factions. They are mercenaries for the most part, moving merely to make money.

These individuals lack clear leaders and have a variety of viewpoints. They detested being restrained.

Lu Shang commanded, "Retreat! Don't pursue the enemies!"

Most warriors retreated after some hard headed ones turned deaf ears at Lu Shang's command and flew around to chase the monsters who were running away.

"What are you guys doing!? The commander said to retreat!"

"No. We can't retreat! These monsters must all die. We are stronger than they are!"

"That's right. We are stronger in the sky!"

"Defeat them all!"

Lu Shang, who was floating in the distance and observing the rebellious moguls who had disobeyed his commands, was approached by a retreating warrior. He did not appear irritated. Instead, his expression stayed solemn and composed. But he gave the fools the death-stare treatment.

Lu Shang said, "Ignore them. Leica, tell others to prepare for the big ones. They are coming down."

"Sure. I'll inform the people below to create a space below and beware of impact," Leica said as he pulled on his strong tie on his hands. The other end of the strings had a specialized bell with different sounds. Each sound gives a different command. Those at the command center below, upon receiving the command from above, had read the next order on the ground and in the sea.

With soldiers from the mermaid, siren, and fisherman races behind him, Sea God Lanyu stood solidly above the sea. These soldiers are fewer in number than those on land, but they are more formidable at sea. Anything that approaches the ocean will be dragged beneath and killed if marine life deems it their enemy.

After receiving the next command from the Supreme Commander at the vanguard, Sea God Lanyu read the next order.

Sea God Lanyu said, "Open an area of empty space on the sea. Targets will begin to fall on the ground. Anything that fell from the sky that isn't from this world starting now will be enemies. Kill on sight!"

Those idiots who pursued the retreating foes were apprehended and executed, seemingly in response to Lu Shang's plans. At least ten enormous golem hands descended from the sky, squeezing and seizing everything they judged to be a target. When those wind elemental users disobeyed Lu Shang's orders, they were caught in the enemy's line of sight and were unable to flee. Experience exclusive tales on mvl

The mongrels' painful screams before their deaths reverberate in the skies, and those who saw the golems' descent and the scene of their deaths come into view. Ten times bigger than the golems emerging from the Ruins of Time are the enormous golems in front of their sight.

"How can it be this big!?" A warrior at the frontline mumbled while trembling. Those who were beside him aren't any different. The size of this giant golem made humans look like ants.

Lu Shang's calm voice resounds in the vanguard. "Don't flatter. Be afraid, but never stop. You may tremble, but never let go of your weapons. Believe in yourself and always remember that the moment you lose courage, your wife, family, and loved ones will die the moment you fall."

"Once you calm down, follow me. I will lead you to victory!"

Lu Shang's statement restored the courage of all the warriors in the vanguard. Lu Shang boldly stood in front of them. He is not their leader, nor is he a member of their family. He is prepared to guide them for the benefit of their planet. Even though he is several decades younger than them, they were nevertheless in awe of his towering, straight back.

"Such a dashing commander. Fearless and powerful. Like a war god."

"War God."

"The war God will open the path!"

"Follow the War God and fight!"

"Drag the enemies to the ground. As long as they fall, we will win!!!"

Leading the Vanguards, Lu Shang gave the order to encircle and bind the hand. Leica, meantime, is observing from a distance. The warriors in front of him had their bodies attached to his strings. The red string would save them if they found themselves in a life-or-death situation. Leica and his team just made sure that the lives of those leading would not be wasted.

Pull them away from the danger if you can. They would not lose so easily as long as the major combatants survived.

Su Jin, Mo Yuhan, and Lu Ming are all on standby. They could only emerge when it was most advantageous for them to do so, as one of their secret weapons. They will only be permitted to emerge when the most powerful wave of adversaries has entered the territory of this world.

Mo Yuhan watches the battle in the sky with fidgety hands. "I also want to fight like Instructor Lu. He looks so amazing~"

"You can't come out. The waves coming out are just scouts and pawns of the enemies. They aren't the main force. If you fight now and get tired, what will you do when the real one descends? Bear with it," Ji Yoonjun said.

Mo Yuhan said, "I know. My brother says that if I don't know what to do, I should follow the commands of the seniors."

"That's good. If only you could see what is beyond those clouds, you wouldn't dare speak out at this moment," Doctor Hei said.

Ji Yoonjun glared at Doctor Hei.

Lu Ming frowned and asked, "Is there something beyond the clouds?"

Su Jin appeared perplexed. He may use any body of water as a medium because he is a lesser god of the water. Since clouds are composed of water, he was able to manage them in order to see above the sky through the dense cloud cover. Countless spaceship bigger than the golems falling in their world materialized in front of his sight as they entered the beyond this realm.

There were innumerable spaceships and creatures all around them in the area above their star. He is afraid just of the sheer quantity.

Pukes~

Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan didn't expect Su Jin to react like this. His face turned pale white as he was trembling. His whole body is shaking and fear shows on his face.

"Xiao Jin? What's wrong? What did you see!?" Lu Ming asked.

Su Jin stuttered as he trembled. "Many... Enemies... Big spaceships. Hundred times... Larger than...

the giant golems being dragged down. Countless enemies... surrounding the... whole... planet."

Mo Yuhan exclaimed in shock, "Are you for real?"

"Junjun, this is bad! Those guys are doing something." Doctor Hei, who had shared his senses with some creatures of the sky to spy on the enemies, picked up something. He had taken control of these creatures after he enchanted them with his pheromones.

Ji Yoonjun asked, "What is it? What did you see?!"

"Chains...? Long and big ones. There are also nails at the end," Su Jin said.

Doctor Hei's face turned dark. "They are trying to nail it in this world and drag it away forcefully!!!"

Ji Yoonjun instantly flew above and reported these findings to Leica, as Lu Shang was busy fighting in front. As expected, Leica turned serious upon hearing this news.

Leica said, "So the attack on the front is a distraction. Ask Su Jin and Doctor Hei to find the exact coordinates of those falling nails. It mustn't fall on this planet. Create small groups of elite split up to these coordinates and destroy those nails and chains. Inform Lanyu on the sea as well! I will inform Shang when he returns.

You personally lead this team. Choose those who are strong enough to destroy the nails."

"Yes, Celestial Lord!" Ji Yoonjun returned to the land and went to find the Heavenly Guardians and the protagonists. He chose to lead them for this urgent mission.

Every elite warrior and hunter that was available had shown up in the tent in the back. With the exception of Lu Wangle, who transformed into an egg, the Heavenly Guardians had assembled. The leaders of their generation, including Ye Jingya, Ye Jingli, Lu Wei, Mo Banyue, and Xue Keiran, had also assembled. Additionally, Mo Yuhan, Lu Ming, Su Jin, and Doctor Hei had arrived.

Along with Fu Zin, the royal family had also arrived, including Wang Xingmo, Second Prince Wang Xingju, and the late king Wang Xingyun.

Ji Yoonjun leads the meeting: "The situation on the vanguard is stable. Unfortunately, the invader made a discreet move against this star. They wanted to take away this world. Once this star is taken away from the current galaxy, it would be considered a lost star and become a free for all for those interstellar races to grab.

When that happens, the owner of this world would change and everything in it would become a prize for the winner."

"That means everything in this world will become a slave for the one who takes away this world," King Wang Xingmo asked.

Ji Yoonjun answered, "Yes, that will be the end result. This world, after all, lost its protection after the Heavenly Laws were killed. It became a free planet without a head. It can be taken away if no one stops them."

"What should be done?" Ye Jingya asked as he noticed the seriousness of the situation. It seems that this calamity of the sky involves the whole being of the world.

Ji Yoonjun said, "Doctor Hei and Su Jin can find the coordinates of the falling nails. Destroy the nails and chains before it falls on the land. As long as they get a grip on this world, they wouldn't be able to drag it away."

"We must move as fast as possible. But how big is the nail that needs a lot of people to destroy it?" Former Minister Fu Zin asked.

Ji Yoonjun answered, "As thick and big as the former Tower of God, for this we will need the help of protectors of danger zones. Lord Leica had called them already. We can bring them away anytime."

"Where are they?" Heavenly Guardian Mo Xinyue asked.

Ji Yoonjun said, "Some are hiding under the sea, and the others blend in the forest. The sky whale will help with the one that fell on the water."

"Let's split up into four groups. Find another who can communicate with Su Jin and Doctor Hei from afar." Heavenly Guardian Xian Wu.

Ye Jingya said, "I can do it. Allow me to be one to communicate with these two lads."

"Then I shall support you, Yaya!" Heavenly Guardian Mu Zang.

The last one to raise its hand was, unexpectedly, Wang Xingju. "I can communicate without my familiars, regardless of distance. I can summon a few lesser demons."

Chapter 1332: First Grey Star - Despair

Wang Xingju's father, the king, was taken aback and surprised that his son had such a strong black affinity from birth. Ultimately, it is said that the Royal Family possesses a natural liking for light. That is what the citizens of the capital are aware of, anyway.

"Is that an ability that man on the tower gave you?" Wang Xingmo asked with a gloomy face.

The Second Prince shook his head and said, "N-No. I was born with it. It's just that... My affinity is darkness. I didn't... tell anyone about it.

I trained in the Tower of God before."

"How is that possible? Our royal family's affinity is light," the former king, Wang Xingyun, said.

Wang Xingmo said, "You're wrong, A'Yun. The real elemental affinity of the royal family is darkness. Only you were born with an affinity of light. I'm also a dark elemental user. The summon I signed with is Nameless."

Read latest chapters at mvl

"That one who is always beside you? You've signed with a high-class demon. What did you give him for him to accept serving you?" Ji Yoonjun asked.

Wang Xingmo answered. "I promised to give him my soul after death."

"WHAT!!!" Second Prince Wang Xingju and Former King Wang Xingyun exclaimed in disbelief.

Ji Yoonjun remained calm after receiving the answer and pushed through with the plan. "I see. Then you can ask him to help you destroy the target."

"Yes. He said he was willing to answer all my requests," Wang Xingmo said.

Wang Xingyun shouted, "Big brother!"

"Sit down, Xiao Yun." Wang Xingmo said he remained composed the whole time. The sudden reprimanding tone from the king made his young brother and son calm down. "You do not seem to care about my case. Are you used to it?"

"We had no care about what mortals do in the span of their lifetime. Moreover, giving your soul to him meant eternal life. He doesn't seem to have any intention of eating you in the first place."

This time, Wang Xingmo quickly spun around to face Nameless, who had been silent all along. But this time, he smiled at Wang Xingmo, as though he did not want to conceal his feelings.

"In exchange for calling me over, you can accompany me in my eternity. You're loveable and likable. So until the end of your life in this timeline, all of your wishes shall be fulfilled by me, by all means of the contract you signed with me, with your soul as a prize," Nameless said.

Wang Xingmo responded, "Can you help me save this world then?"

"Yes, if that's your wish," Nameless said as he held Wang Xingmo's hand and kissed the back of his hand. They looked so close at the moment—the kind of closeness one couldn't interfere with.

Second Prince Xingju asked, "Is he serious?"

"Demons who signed contracts can't go against the contract. He is serious," Ji Yoonjun said. "Then we shall do as we plan. I can't leave the battlefield. So I will direct you guys from here. I have connections to all plants; as long as you have something like that with you, I can contact you.

You will leave as a group, one at a time. Does everyone understand?"

"Yes!"

The God of Void, who hurriedly took his wife to the small world, checks around the mansion right away to find the two systems, Zhi Yang and Zhi Yue, while those on the gray star are still fighting for their lives.

The God of Void came inside the small world palace holding his wife in his arms.

"Yue! Yang! Come over here this instant!"

His shout echoed throughout the entire mansion, and as Ye Jieye had tucked his wife into their bedroom to lie down on the bed, the two systems that had been called in came with this family's two cubs.

"Father, what happened to Dad?" Ye Jingxia asked.

Ye Jieye frowned. "I don't know. He suddenly feels dizzy. Yue, Yang, check on him. If there is still a problem, we must leave this world immediately!"

Despite their desire to speak, the two cubs ultimately decided to remain mute. After all, their father is more significant than the individuals in this world. They found it to be depressing. They would never risk their father's life.

Zhi Yue went to check on the unconscious Hei Anjing right away. The fact that Lord Hei's soul was sound gave him a sense of relief. His vessel is the issue. It appears to be waning as this body's lifespan is being reduced. Furthermore, as it is the application of Divine Laws above all gods, none can stop it.

The God of Void asked, "How is it?"

"There is no problem with Lord Hei's soul. It's just that his soul hasn't fully healed and is slowly healing. He needs more sleep and rest. It's just that." Zhi Yue hesitated to tell the situation of Lord Hei's vessel to the Lord God.

The God of Void was a bit angered, but the sudden pause in the words of Zhi Yue. "What is it? Say it properly."

"That... Lord Hei's body seems to be weakening fast. It's the punishment from the Divine Laws," Zhi Yue answered.

As expected, the God of Void's face turned darker when he heard about the punishment of the Divine Laws. That was a punishment even he couldn't go against.

"What do you mean by punishment? What happened while I'm away!?" Ye Jieye shouted in rage.

The Lord God's roar made Zhi Yue wince. Others find the pressure of the God of Void's aura to be oppressive. His aura expanded with his unexpected wrath. This time, even the two cubs began to tremble next to their father, who was complaining in his sleep.

Groans~

The sound from Hei Anjing had instantly calmed down the God of Void, and his aura dispersed almost immediately. Ye Jieye turned to look at his wife, only to see him frowning in his sleep. He sat down at the edge of the bed and whispered to his wife.

"Sleep. I'm sorry, I'm noisy. Rest, baby."

Hei Anjing's breathing became calm and rhythmic only when he clutched Ye Jieye's hand.

The God of Void looks at the two systems only after he is certain his sweetheart is asleep. Naturally, he asked them to respond to his query beforehand.

This time, it was Zhi Yang who spoke up. "Master, gave the people of this world a prophecy. Unlike the Lord God's situation, his body is truly his in this world, and Mo Xuejing was reborn as part of this world. His current body can be said to be a part of this world. So when he chooses to speak of the future, it would be deemed against the divine laws.

Moreover, to give the aborigines of this world a longer time to prepare, the Master cast a world spell under the time category."

"Lord Hei's compatibility with time elements is the worst. Even for gods, it's impossible to force themselves to use the elements they have no compatibility with. But thanks to the privilege the Trial of Marriage has given you two, sharing abilities and power is allowed."

"This resulted in Lord Hei overusing and once again going against the Divine Laws and changing the whole fate of this world. According to the world database, most people in this world are destined to die. He even awakened the hidden ability of the bloodline Lu Wangle possessed."

Zhi Yue added, "Milord, Lu Wangle almost died. To extend his life, Lord Hei can only awaken his bloodline. There aren't supposed to be any phoenix descendants in this low-tier world. A lot of things affected this world, and everything that is happening in this world is not supposed to happen. All those restrictions were placed on Lord Hei by the world.

Unless this world is saved, he might not wake up, and he will continue to sleep until his mortal vessel passes away."

The God of Void listened to the explanation of the two systems in front of him for a while before speaking. He had no idea that his limitations on himself would be more severe than those of outsiders because of the birth of his wife's soul fragments in every universe.

"Lu Wangle? He shouldn't have cared much and allowed that mortal to die." The God of Void mumbled and then asked, "He will wake up when the world outside has stabilized, is it?"

"Yes," Zhi Yang answered.

He asked one more question, "How long can his body last?"

"If Lord Hei doesn't use his qi, 50 years; if he uses it one more time, just a decade," Zhi Yue said. "I'm sorry. I had no ability to cure the pain caused by the punishment from the Divine Laws itself. But this is better; the sooner the soul of Lord Hei returns to his original body, the sooner his soul will stabilize."

"I see." The God of Void kissed his wife's forehead and gently removed the hand that held him. He looked at his children and said, "Xiao Jing, Xiao Xia, look after your dad. Father will clean up the things outside."

"Xiao Jing will stay with dad!"

"Xi Xia too! Stay with Dada and Gege!"

After ruffling the hair of his children, Ye Jieye prepares to leave. The two systems come out of the room with him and silently follow him as he walks away.

"Prepare for a world repair. I might actually destroy it since I am pissed. Also, if you see a man who looks like me but has a strong aura of gluttony on him, don't allow that man near my wife, whether it is in this world or in the future worlds," the God of Void said.

The two systems knelt down and saluted, "Yes, Lord God."

"Let's go."

They all three left the small world behind. As the citizens of this tiny realm fretted over Hei Anjing, Ji Yoonjun's plans was coming to end. God-grade Beast Kings and humans have to cooperate. The Aurora Glaciers Danger Zone was where the Ying-yang Snake that was only heard and not seen had emerged.

With the help of Sea God Lanyu, the Sky Whale leaped out of the water, destroying all the oncoming nails surrounding the land on the sea.

Another nail was ready to fall on the Mountain Ranges when Heavenly Guardian Xian Wu and his enormous hammer, along with an Electric Eel Dragon, leaped out of the Milky Way River. Before the nail touched their world's surface, they destroyed it.

The Nightmare Beast, assuming the shape of the biggest dinosaur, stood behind the Heavenly Guardians Mu Zang and Ye Jingya, who were waiting somewhere in the Death Forest. When they saw the approaching target, they cooperated to take it out.

After Ji Yoonjun finished his first plans, the invaders discovered their scheme was exposed when they observed that the nails they had thrown at the entire world they sought to take away were being destroyed simultaneously.

{This. World's. Aborigines. A. Bit. Smart.}

{Subject A. What. To. Do. Next?}

{Use. Everything. This. World. Must. Become.

Ours. Our. World's. New. Source of Energy.}

Instead of giving up as was predicted, the invaders intensified their attacks on the planet. This time, they finally released their main force and intensified the nail attack. Cyborgs comprise this fleet's main force. These are human-shaped robots, or humanoid machines. However, much like mortals, they have more advanced weapons and more potent vessels.

Becoming overrun by robots is the last thing a world like this gray star, which is a daydream, should encounter.

Lu Shang, at the forefront of the gray star, sensed the approaching threat before anybody else did. The worlds under their control are dispersed after they served as the warden of the Nether Prison. He had witnessed conflicts in future worlds where the outcome of a fight may be significantly impacted by a small particle cannon.

He senses the same threat that this world's most potent technological machines are.

"RETREAT! RAISE THE BARRIER AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL!"

A dazzling line of light descended from the sky shortly after Lu Shang's instruction was given and an elemental barrier encircled every living thing on land and in water. It lunged in their direction. Explosions occurred, and everything outside of the barrier was slashed and charred in half. That energy cannon takes one hit to shatter the barrier itself. The scene astounded everyone on the planet.

"How is that possible?! Just one attack. Our greatest barrier was destroyed just like that!!" This sight filled the early inhabitants of this earth with hopelessness.

Chapter 1333: First Grey Star - Swiftly Resolved

The aborigines of this world noticed the gap in strength between the two sides when their barrier against their adversaries' energy cannon was destroyed and a group of strong cyborgs entered the gray star. Devastation and hopelessness were the things that five cyborgs carrying spacecraft brought with them when they arrived on gray star.

These cyborgs were fitted with little energy cannons, and their sole objective is to murder everyone they come across. So they began to fire their energy weapons against this world's aborigines. Innumerable tall nails have also fallen from the sky and embedded themselves in their surroundings.

As the Heavenly Guardians made repeated attempts to destroy it, an increasing number of them plummeted from the area beyond the sky of their worlds.

The majority of humans were unprepared for the indiscriminate murdering of the cyborgs, therefore Lu Shang and the other elite warriors from various worlds attempted to vanquish the cyborgs. Regretfully, these humanoid robots differ greatly from the previous golem attacks on this planet. because this cyborg was strictly adhering to the duty assigned to it and possessed its own intelligence.

The aborigines were hardly able to defend themselves when a bloodbath broke out between the two sides.

In the gray star, innumerable explosions, war cry, dead, and never-ending fights began. The four genuine gods are trying to safeguard the star, but they are truly losing. Ultimately, three of these actual gods are unable to summon their full power, while the fourth is a newly created god who possesses very little divine essence.

The heroes of this realm, Lu Ming, Su Jin, and Mo Yuhan, have long yearned to take up arms. With the world's blessing, their adversaries can hardly defeat them, and with time, their strength grows.

Even if divine creatures have entered the conflict, they are hardly able to stop their adversaries' other energy source.

Along with the Heavenly Guardians and all other fighters who wished to protect their earth, enormous white and black flood dragons, a tyrannical rex, a massive Electric Eel Dragon, a gigantic whale in the sky, and a few more monsters blessed by the Sea God also battled the adversaries to death.

Unfortunately, as time went on, the disparity in strength only became more apparent. Particularly cyborgs, machines never experience fatigue. Furthermore, they would not give up until their missions were completed. Some mortals had become so hopeless in the midst of the struggle that they were unable to raise their weapons. They are overly worn out.

They fight nonstop, in the air, on the sea, or on land, and they do not know why they have to endure this kind of suffering.

Some are confined to observing the adversaries murder their allies. The attacks of their foes cause those who used to laugh, eat, and live with them to perish. Their elemental spells are hardly able to stop their attackers' tiny energy cannons. Ultimately, it was so strong that it could easily breach the barrier composed of their elemental qi. The majority of warriors in this situation felt powerless.

The healers and physicians in the back had already begun to pray for their rescue from an unidentified deity. Many doctors had fallen, and after a brief respite, they would have to move around again to save lives. They can hardly keep up with the treatment and curing of the injured.

The most necessary resources were gathered in less than a year of preparation, but even so, there is still a clear personnel shortage as the number of injuries rose sharply once the cyborgs arrived.

"Those who got burns gather in this corner. Those who were suffering from cut wounds were moved to this side, and the fatally injured ones were moved to the center for Doctor Sen to heal."

As the hospital fills up for the injured, the groans and screams of those in agony reverberate throughout. This was made in the same year that Mo Xuejing gave it to them. The aftermath of the battle can still be felt from this location because the foundation of these structures was designed to be the strongest. Among the aftermath that these people experienced was the earthquake.

Rumbles. Rumbles.

"Ah! Earthquake! Aaahhh!"

"Low your heads down!"

"Protect the patients!"

A part of the ceiling fell, which some warriors destroyed as they protected the doctors and healers despite their wounds.

"Thank you..."

"It's... okay, hiss!"

"Your wound opened. Let me stop the bleeding!"

"You guys... should escape... to the sea. It's safer... there. Cough!"

The doctors and healers turned a red eye to these words. They also wanted to leave, but their conscience would not allow them to leave behind these patients.

"No, I won't leave. I'm a doctor. It's my duty to save people's lives!"

"I won't leave either. There is no one waiting for me anyway!"

"Me as well!"

"It's better to save people!"

"We can't give up!"

Doctor Sen took a look at these courageous young medical professionals. The majority of the fighters had fled, and several of the more experienced physicians and healers had yearned to get away. He was incensed just to think of how they put their life ahead of the sufferers'. The majority of medical professionals were still young, and there were very few elders left.

The list of injured individuals is nearly infinite and keeps growing. Nevertheless, those in the lead keep fighting.

"You guys are great. You are heroes yourselves. We don't know what kind of ending we will get, but... Until the end, let's work hard!" Doctor Sen said.

"Yes!"

On the frontlines, most warriors were injured and covered in blood. Even the divine beasts were badly wounded, but they still continued to fight.

Having been drenched in blood himself, Ye Jingya is supported by Heavenly Guardian Mu. They were in fact injured in an explosion, but they declined medical attention so they could recover on their own. These robots are too strong. They were unable to vanquish even one, not even with cooperation. There are only five of them, and Leica and Lu Shang personally blocked three of them.

The Lu Ming generation, together with Mo Yuhua and Su Jin, held back the other one. Regarding the last one, the guardian beasts of their danger zone collaborated with the celestial guardians to keep it occupied.

"There are only five of these bastards. How come we cannot kill at least one?" Heavenly Guardian Mu Zang cursed.

Heavenly Guardian Mo Xinyue said, "We must find its weakness. Our children were doing their best to give us time to rest."

"Just when is this hell going to end!?" Mu Zang said, already starting to feel that they couldn't survive this calamity at all

Ye Jingya comforted his wife and said, "I haven't seen these monsters in the Ruins of Time, which means they are the ones connected at the core of that world. I'm more surprised that Lu Shang is capable of fighting three with his lover. He is indeed powerful!"

Watching as Lu Shang and Leica engaged in simultaneous attacks and defenses while encircled by three cyborgs was everyone there. One rode the weakness, parrying and attacking, its visage expressionless. Leica would hold back and allow his buddy more time to keep a careful eye on the adversaries. They assisted one another and collaborated.

Leica asked, "Darling, have you found the weakness of these things?"

"A little bit more... I need to see more," Lu Shang said as he found a small hole in the nape of these cyborgs.

He was aware that these devices contained a button that might be used to initiate self-destruction. The majority of people who create this kind of sentient object would leave a flaw so that if the creature betrayed its creator, they would also be murdered. That was the answer he had been searching for the entire time.

Lu Shang exclaimed, "Found it! Honey, restrain them for me!"

"Okay! Yizhi, awaken!"

Leica caught these cyborgs by using Yizhi, his crimson string, and its strongest restraint abilities. It is a power that can even hold gods and devils in check, but without divine backing, it is only a somewhat more powerful version of the string. Even without divinity, he can hold these things in check for at least three minutes with Yizhi's help.

Lu Shang has exactly three minutes to eliminate these cyborgs.

Using needles that appeared in Lu Shang's hand out of nowhere, he twisted his wrist to throw them at those small holes in the nape of the cyborgs.

{The self-destruction function had been activated. Loading the self-destruction sequence program. Initiating... Once the self-destruction is activated, everything within hundreds of meters will be affected by the explosion. Beware!}

Lu Shang shouted, "Retreat hundred meters away from these three cyborgs!"

"Eh? What? Why?" Mo Yuhan asked and was slapped to the ground by the cyborgs that caught him off guard.

Lu Ming scolded him, "Stop fooling around, Yuhan!"

Su Jin observed what Lu Shang was doing as well and imitated it. He activated the concealed self-destruction procedure with a water needle. He pressed that hidden button, instructed the Sky whale to take them away, and soared away as soon as he heard the cyborg's alarming ringing sound.

"Run, it's going to explode."

The other group copied the other two and focused on the button that was hidden. The sequence of self-destruction was initiated by every cyborg. All of the targets fled a hundred meters away from the cyborgs, but two of them, not including the three in Lu Shang and Leica's group, were unrestrained and pursued the fleeing targets.

{Self-destruction sequence activated! Target locking had begun. Chasing after the target for a group explosion.}

"Ah! It's chasing after us!" Mo Yuhan said.

Su Jin said, "Yu-ge, stop it. Freeze its tracks!"

"Damn! Ice Storm!" Mo Yuhan tried to block the path of the cyborg, but as something suicidal, it didn't stop its tracks even after losing an arm from his attack.

"Persistent!" Lu Ming used Nirvana Flame on it, and it barely melted.

Mo Yuhan said, "Ah! We can't escape!"

Ji Yoonjun was about to walk when all of a sudden a strong aura materialized behind him, making him shudder. He was startled to see Ye Jieye when he turned around, followed by Zhi Yang and Zhi Yue.

"Venerable Lord Ye?"

When the God of Void eventually arrived on the scene, he saw humans fleeing from humanoid machines with a disorganized core. The cyborgs and all of their adversaries from the invading side, along with Lu Shang and Leica, turned their backs at his arrival.

Ye Jieye looked at the scene indifferently and said, "Too messy. It's better for it to disappear." He raised a hand and snapped a finger.

All of the adversaries and foreigners that were in the area were instantly engulfed in black flames and quickly reduced to ashes. This scene is so magnificent that it left everyone in a state of shock. The intruders' use of nails and cyborgs against humanity was concealed by a stunning hue of obsidian flames.

They were spread out by the powerful breeze and transformed into ashes as a result of their impacts. A silence fell over the place.

A lot of people recognized Ye Jieye and looked at him in disbelief. There is only one person in this world who can control such a powerful and deadly black flame.

"Satan?"

"It's Lord Ye Jieye!"

"Lord Satan had finally returned!"

"We are safe!"

"We survived!"

Lu Shang, Leica, and the rest flew towards Ye Jieye and saluted him. Some mortals even kowtowed towards his majestic return.

"Welcome back, Lord Ye!"

"Welcome back, Lord Satan!"

As Ye Jieye glanced above and moved through the clouds and skies, he ignored their greetings. gazing dangerously and with a chilly, piercing stare at the intruders of this star. As they observed the haughtily attractive figure in the sky, silence fell.

"Calamity of the Sky. Invaders. How stupid. You shouldn't have existed in the first place. Causing my wife to be punished by the divine laws, you shall not be forgiven."

The universe was filled with the sound of his chilly words and voice, and the sun's light was obscured by a dreadful black aura. The land below and the cosmos beyond the sky grew dark. The aura of the God of Void was heavy on everyone. Ji Yoonjun, Leica, and Lu Shang sensed it too and collapsed to the floor with the others. They were knelt down.

The world's mortals could feel themselves being crushed to death and had long since kissed the ground beneath their feet. The planet had moved to shield everyone inside the star, feigning that the terrible aura that killed them was what killed them.

The darkness grows beneath everyone's eyes, consuming everything in its path, including the sun, stars, and clouds, as it advances into the heavens and beyond. As a massive area of darkness emerges from the gray star and approaches the intruders, they stare in horror. They made an attempt to flee, but sadly, this darkness is harsh and unforgiving.

They were all devoured alive till there was nothing more.

It hushed the gods of the region. When the strong evil god appeared, the celestial beasts of this world trembled violently. As the darkness moves backward from space and toward the shadow of the man they named Satan, even the world itself grows silent. Ye Jieye flipped a hand and recreated it, the sun and moon devoured by the Void before had once again appeared.

Peace and light, which everyone had long yearned for, had once again returned to the world.

Ignoring his own gaze, Ye Jieye wanted to hurriedly return to the small world to check on his wife. He threw a spell scroll of resurrection to Zhi Yue.

Turning blind eye on the gaze on himself, the God of Void said before disappearing, "The rest are your own tasks." The clean-up was left to Lu Shang and Leica as always.

Chapter 1334: First Grey Star - World Restoration and Resurrection

Ye Jieye unexpectedly showed up and saved the mortals from the coming calamity. Though he arrived suddenly, he had a powerful and imposing presence. However, he appears looking mainly annoyed and angry. His wife's life expectancy was reduced as a result of these misfortunes. However, everyone heard him mention how his wife was sleeping through all of these global catastrophes.

This was the reason this apathetic God of Void directly intervened.

It was Ye Jingya who started the questioning. They do not know what to ask first, although they have a lot. Although they previously knew that Mo Xuejing was a god, does Ye Jieye now become even more of a god in light of what he just witnessed?

"Child, can I ask? Is my grandson a god? What are you guys?" Ye Jingya asked.

Lu Shang looked at him and nodded. "Yes, he and Lord Hei are one. I, Leica, Ji Yoonjun, and Lanyu are also Gods. The difference between us is that Sea God Lanyu is a True God. He can go beyond this world. He is someone originally from this world.

Lord Ye and Lord Mo were soul fragments of True Gods beyond this world. They were reborn with their mortal bodies and can be considered a part of this world. But after merging with their original souls, they become an existence that is born here and beyond this world. They are incarnations of Gods and had just recently awakened."

"I, Leica, and Ji Yoonjun are also God, but these vessels are not ours. He signed a contract with the real owners of these bodies, and when it is time for us to leave, they will wake up to occupy this body again. As for Lord Mo and Lord Ye, they will be able to stay here until their mortal vessel reaches the end of their lifespans."

Leica added, "We are actually not supposed to be directly involved, but since the Sovereign made a personal move and chose to save you, then your world will need to be upgraded. What you have experienced already is beyond the level of what this world is supposed to experience. But first we should repair the destruction in this world. Yoonjun, you may begin."

Ji Yoonjun gave a nod of his head and used his divinity as much as his vessel could hold. The wooden bow he was holding changed into a tall, exquisite-looking wand with a stone in the shape of an emerald rose attached to one end. He assumed his true shape for a short while, and his current look is quite different. He had long, pale blue hair.

His features were smoothed with a beautifying effect, and his ears turned slightly pointed. He appears to be an elf from a fantasy realm, and the wand he is holding is a seedling of a world tree.

Everyone could help but gasp at this sudden transformation, especially Doctor Hei, who never expected that Ji Yoonjun was not even of a human race.

Leica mumbled, "So he is an elf. No wonder the energy of wood elements is too powerful in his body. An Elven God, that is quite rare."

With his eyes closed, Ji Yoonjun began to chant, and the wand he was holding began to light. Once the chants were finished, he tapped his desired spot on the ground, and many vines and tree branches quickly grew around the area. It cleared the contaminated air and water and restored the charred land and forest. Ji Yoonjun's spell allowed the world to be fully restored.

This was a miracle that everyone had personally seen. They watched as the world they lived in was restored, and it seemed much more vibrant than it had before—as though civilization had returned to a prehistoric period devoid of modern technology. Ji Yoonjun stumbled after restoring the ecosystem of this world because he had utilized too much divinity while in human form.

Before he could fall, Doctor Hei grabbed him right away.

"Junjun!?" Doctor Hei called.

Leica checked Ji Yoonjun's pulse and said, "He is alright. He just needs a good sleep after using power beyond his current mortal vessel."

"I'm alright. Let go of me," Ji Yoonjun said as he stood up with Doctor Hei's help.

"Don't overdo it."

"I didn't even use half of my original power. This vessel is just too weak. I'm okay now," Ji Yoonjun said.

On the other hand, a second look around saw that the world was restored. The broken parts of the land were patched up by plants or tree roots. The burned areas had been fertilized, and greenies started to sprout from them, hiding the black spots they used to have.

Sea God Lanyu, who went ashore, witnessed the whole scene and wasn't surprised by what Ji Yoonjun had done. He had done the very same restoration to the sea he was born into. It's just that the effect of Ji Yoonjun's spell is much more powerful on the land, as he is a wood elemental god.

"The Venerable Lord had interfered. Is the calamity completely over?" Sea God Lanyu asked.

Lu Shang said, "It is. The task of repairing the world was left to us. By the mercy of the God of God, those who died during the calamities shall be revived."

Everyone was once again dumbfounded. What did these gods just say? Reviving people? Is it a resurrection like the one in the legend? There are a lot of them who lost a loved one, a family member, a friend, or a comrade in these disasters, but there is no one to blame. These are disasters that are even beyond the control of the world and not something mortals can get involved with.

Many of the people in the crowd knelt before these divine figures as I told them about the resurrection. They were appreciative of them acting to save the world. They not only worked to rebuild the world in which they lived, but they also had plans to raise the dead from the time of disaster. They honored the two venerable gods who remained hidden while bowing to the other four gods.

"We give our most heartfelt thanks to the divine beings who gave mercy to us little ones!"

"Thank you for the miracles bestowed upon us."

"We revered the gods for lending us a hand."

These bowing mortals surrounded the four who remained standing, and they did not lose their cool. This type of scene is commonplace for them as Gods. Zhi Yang and Zhi Yue, on the other hand, had long since assumed their avatar forms after giving Leica the spell scroll of revival. They left the rest to the wardens and other gods, but they wanted to see how their rulers were doing.

Zhi Yue handed Leica a magic parchment, which he unscrolled.

"This will need us four to activate. It's a spell scroll created by Sovereign Ruler Mo Baojun."

The other three nodded their heads and placed their hands above the scroll, which gave off a glow of golden shade.

{Engr've on this parchment art the laws of life and death sign'd by the authority of the sov'reign god of life and death. Und'r this auth'rity, we sacrifice a part of our divinity and asketh this auth'rity of a moment of resurrection. Alloweth all the beings yond kicked the bucket in this w'rld beest reviv'd and returneth to this pool of time.

With the blessing of the sovereign god of life and death, we call upon the avatar of the god for a resurrection!}

Translation: [Engraved on this parchment are the Laws of Life and Death, signed by the authority of the Sovereign God of Life and Death. Under this authority, we sacrifice a part of our divinity and ask this authority of a moment of resurrection. Let all the beings that died in this world be revived and return to this pool of time.

With the blessing of the Sovereign God of Life and Death, we call upon the Avatar of God for a Resurrection.]

A powerful surge of holy light comes out of the parchment and the Avatar of Mo Baojun appears outside the gray star. A Humongous figure of the Sovereign God Mo materialized from space and gently reached out to this world with a pair of hands holding the little star within its gentle grasp.

Once the silhouette of the Sovereign Gods appeared, even the Gods like the Chief Warden and Warden Yun Ming had to kneel before its presence. This is a Supreme being that holds the same position as the God of Void and Lord Hei. But this is just a mere fraction of Mo Baojun's aura; under the laws of life of death signed with his permission, this avatar activated the resurrection spell on this world.

Numerous luminous figures descended from the sky and gently touched the ground beneath everyone's gaze. These creatures perished in the course of the three disasters. The four gods' sacrifice had caused the Parchment to fully awaken as well. The moment those who had lost someone returned alive to their side, those who had lost someone else wept instantly. This is yet another gift of a miracle.

These mortals were forced to bow down before that enormous figure in the sky. The Mo Clan felt a little more comfortable with the sacred figure of Mo Baojun above the sky.

Xue Keiran, the wife of Mo Banyue, whispered to his husband, "Husband, don't you think this God looks a bit like our son, especially that cold demeanor."

"Shss. Wife, don't speak. It's rude," Mo Banyue whispered back but those who heard their conversation noticed the Sao resemblance between their descendant and the holy being.

Sovereign God Mo Baojun's avatar had spoken, "F'r a special case due to the inf'rence of an outside force to this dram star, i hadst resurrect'd coequal those who are haven't kicked the bucket because of the outside variables, but only f'r those with valorous m'rits.

Those who is'tn't lacking valor karmas won't reviv'd, especially f'r those who aren't w're killed by the god of void whose soul wouldst nay longeth'r existeth. This situation shalt nev'r hath happened in the future."

Translation: [For a special case due to the inference of an outside force to this little star, I had resurrected even those who died because of the outside variables, but only for those with good merits. Those who had bad karmas weren't revived, especially those who were killed by the God of Void, whose souls would no longer exist. This situation will never happen in the future.]

After serving its purpose, the enormous figure vanished, and those who comprehended what he was saying glanced around right away. For people like Mo Xinyue who lost their partners, this is especially true. Heavenly Guardian Lu Wangle's rebirth was proceeding as predicted, and the sovereign God's kindness allowed him to be restored right away.

His late wife, who passed away from the same illness as Mo Xinyue's partner, is holding his hand.

Lu Wangle laughed and said, "Do you miss us? Hi, Brother Ye, Everyone~"

"Darling, don't joke around in such a serious situation," his wife warned.

Mo Xinyue's wife smiled at his husband and said, "Old man, I heard you made my beloved grandson suffer. See how I will clean you up when we get home!"

"Lao Po1! You... You are truly... Sobs~" Mo Xinyue cried as he hugged his wife, whom he had lost for a few decades already.

What a joyous reunion! At last, all of the Heavenly Guardians together with their mates had come back to resemble their childhood selves. Lu Wei and Mo Banyue were ecstatic. Regardless of their age, they were overcome with happiness upon witnessing their fathers' comeback.

In the throng, similar incidents frequently occurred, however, some people were not brought back to life. Like the father of Wang Xingmo and Wang Xingyun killed by Tun Shizhe in the Tower of Gods or the barbarian race and the other nobles slaughtered by the God of Void. These people's souls were either devoured by these wicked gods or spent an eternity in hell.

Lu Ming and Mo Yuhan's parents were hugging each other at the other corner of the area. However, Su Jin had no parents at all, being an orphan. All he could do was observe the family gatherings around him with a detached smile until Lu Ming invited him to his family and made him a member of theirs.

Sea God Lanyu, Ji Yoonjun, Lu Shang, and Leica had all observed these kinds of reunions in the sky with calm demeanors. They would have some lethargy as a result of using the divinity aura excessively, but since they followed all divine laws and employed an artifact instead of breaking any, it was not a serious enough concern.

Chapter 1335: First Grey Star - Together Again

Ye Jieye kept watch over his sleeping wife, waiting for him to wake up, while everyone else was in a joyful mood, celebrating the reunion of people who had come back to their lives in the small world ruled by the God of Void and the God of Destruction. He took action on his own to ensure that his spouse would wake up early.

The man on the bed was soundly asleep, appearing to be simply resting, with his eyes closed. His actual status was only known to those who were waiting. The God of Void is seated in the chair next to the bed, watching over him while gripping his wife's hand.

The two systems had actually returned him to the small world currently hovering over their cubs, who had ended up taking a nap with their dad.

Ye Jieye didn't even look at the floating small moon and small sun. He just asked, "Have you finished the business outside?"

System Yue responded, [Everything had been cleaned up. [From the Resurrection Scroll from Milord, an Avatar of Sovereign God Mo had descended.]

"Did he say anything else?" He asked. Even though he and that tyrant don't get along well, as his wife's uncle, that man can be considered a relative of theirs. He wouldn't ignore his words as long as it were necessary.

System Yang answered, [Sovereign God Mo didn't say anything. He just activated the Resurrection personally and did nothing more. [Maybe Lord Hei had asked him to come.]

"Plausible. That tyrant is only soft towards my brother and my wife," the God of Void said. "Yue, why is Jing'er not waking up? You told me as long as the things outside are resolved, he will wake up."

When System Yue examined Lord Hei's soul, she discovered that it was not in this body at the moment but appeared to have momentarily returned to Vearth, the location of his true body. It is possible for Hei Anjing's soul to temporarily emerge, even though he was unable to awaken in his actual vessel.

Vearth, Core Region of the Nether System...

With his vessel lying under the tree with silver leaves, Hei Anjing's soul is currently seated on the table facing his uncle, Mo Baojun.

Mo Baojun sips his tea before looking at his nephew. "How are you feeling, Xiao Jing'er?"

"Except for feeling sleepy sometimes, everything else is fine. Don't worry too much, Uncle. I've already lost the weakness of our bloodline. I should be safe regardless of what happened," Hei Anjing said.

Mo Baojun said, "I'm not worried about it. You are smart most of the time, except when that fool (Ye Xiajie) is involved."

"Uncle still dislikes A'Xia. Can't you two get along?" Hei Anjing said.

Mo Baojun snorted. "Let's not talk about that fool. The appearance of the World Eater Fragments had been frequent already. There are those who have eaten a few small stars, which is not a problem; the problem is that they are..."

"Insatiable. Those are corrupted fragments. It's better for them to be destroyed instead," Hei Anjing said as the look in his eyes turned melancholy, as if remembering something in the past he didn't want to remember.

"Xiao Jing'er, you..." Mo Baojun eventually lost interest in inquiring about his origins and previous life, but he still wanted to know. I mean, really, does anyone need to ask? Currently, he is just his cherished nephew, regardless of whether he was formerly known as Hunluan.

"You should return. I just resurrected those mortals as you wish. I allowed it because that is a world that manifests a corrupted world fragment, and the changes it causes are something beyond what that world could bear. We aren't supposed to get too involved with mortals," the Sovereign of Life and Death, Mo Baojun, said.

Hei Anjing said, "I know, Uncle. That was just a request of my soul fragment. That's to you fulfilling his last regret. He had fully merged with me. My soul started feeling faster because of this."

"Hm. I will go back now. A'Xia might get too worried if I remain in my slumber for too long. See you again next time, Uncle Baobei," Hei Anjing said with a smile of affection he showed only to his family.

Even Mo Baojun, who always had a chilly expression, had a soft expression in his sapphire eyes. He watched the child's figure slowly disappears as he kissed his forehead. His soul had returned to that mortal body, where he needed to stay for a while. Shortly after the soul of Hei Anjing departed, two presences materialized in the Core Region.

They appear to have come over in a hurry only to miss the person they were hoping to see.

The God of Origin spoke, "Xiao Mo, hast Hunluan left already?"

Translation: [Xiao Mo, had Hunluan left already?]

Mo Baojun slightly nods his head as an answer. He once again takes his cup and slowly sips the tea in his cup.

The God of End had spoken, "Hunluan wonneth't wanteth to meeteth us."

Translation: [Hunluan won't want to meet us.]

Mo Baojun said, "Give him some time. We don't even know if he recalls his first life. But based on how he left before you two arrived, he might have remembered something for him to avoid you two."

At this point, the God of Origin and the God of End, who frequently engage in unpleasant contacts with their son Hunluan, were muted. Their child was angered by their parents' numerous transgressions, which led him to battle the World Eater and even decide to die by himself in order to vanquish the malevolent entity.

This couple was unable to refute Mo Baojun's statements in the slightest because of the distressing events that had occurred in their family.

Back to the Small World

Hei Anjing gradually awakens within Mo Xuejing's body. The Divine Laws that had been punishing his body had suddenly stopped, when he had fully merged with the pieces of his soul that remained in this realm. After that, his hair stopped spreading, even if a portion of it had turned back.

When he opened his eyes, the room was dimly lit. He was hugged from the right by his huge body and from the left by two little, plump arms. It appears that he had awoken during the night. On the king-size bed with him was his spouse Ye Xiajie and their two cubs. His silver eyes are deep with satisfaction and a small smile at the corner of his lips.

He turns back and appropriately covers his two cubs with blankets before reaching out to touch his husband's face with his hand. The man, with his eyes closed, was abruptly awakened by the icy touch of his fingers, despite his soft and cautious touch. Hei Anjing was cradled in the palm of a somewhat larger hand, and a gentle mouth planted butterfly kisses on the tips of his fingers.

A hoarse yet raspy voice spoke full of tenderness towards the God of Destruction. "Baby, you are finally awake."

"Hm. I am. So don't worry anymore," Hei Anjing said as he clasped his fingers with his beloved's hand. Their fingers entangled with one another as he was pulled closer to the God of Void, his waist collapsed with another arm. He was hugged tighter in the man's embrace.

Growls~

The silence was broken by Hei Anjing's tummy growling for food. He had been asleep for days and hadn't eaten much since he woke up.

Hei Anjing whispered, "My love, I'm hungry. I want some braised beef with noodles and some steamed egg custard."

The arm that wrapped around his waist rubbed his flat tummy gently. The God of Void narrowed his eyes a bit as he chuckled. "Since my baby is hungry, then I can only cook. Let's go to the kitchen, baby."

"What about Xiao Jing and Xiaxia?" Hei Anjing asked as his husband stood up and carried him horizontally within his embrace.

Ye Xiajie kissed his lips and said, "They missed their naps this afternoon. They shouldn't be waking up soon. Let them sleep longer."

He walked to the kitchen after carrying his wife away. The two systems that were dozing in the kids' arms merely shook a little before going back to sleep. They decided that it's better not to get in between a couple who hasn't met for a long time.

Ye Xiajie moves around the kitchen while sporting an apron. Hei Anjing waits on the kitchen table and observes. With a sly smirk, he observes his husband's tall build, straight back, long legs, and firm buttocks.

Ye Xiajie said, "Baby, even though I can't see you behind me, your stares are tingling. Are you seducing your husband?"

"Maybe or not," Hei Anjing said, narrowing his eyes as his lips upturned.

Ye Xiajie asked, "Baby, why did you return to Vearth just now? It's dangerous to move in soul form alone."

"I met Uncle Baobei. I've asked a favor and thanked him. Since it seems we cannot stay in this world for too long, it would be unfair for our families here. I have had Uncle Baobei revive their dead partners," Hei Anjing said.

The God of Void asked, "How are you feeling? Is the punishment from the Divine Laws severe?"

"No. It stopped spreading after I woke up. But this body is too weak and with my soul incomplete, it just can't stabilize. At most, I can only spend another century with you here. I've also checked, and three soul fragments isn't enough to allow me to live a lifetime in any world. At least 2 to 3 more soul fragments are needed so I can awaken naturally as myself," Hei Anjing said.

"Also be careful of that man I met in the space corridor. I don't know how many fragments of your power he had eaten, but his soul is powerful. Beware of him at all times."

"Don't worry about him. He won't harm you," Ye Xiajie said

Hei Anjing shouted, "But he will harm you!"

"Sigh~ okay, I will be careful. Don't be angry anymore. You're not fully well yet," Ye Xiajie said as he placed bowls of braised beef noodles and two plates of side dishes each for them. A plate of shrimp dumplings and boiled eggs.

The world they currently inhabit as well as certain species that live in their own small world were used to make the ingredients. The imperial shrimp were grown in their backyard, and the beef came from the rainbow cows that were used in the past. As for the shrimp, those were golden royal shrimp, rich in elements of light that heal the soul and body, and they lived in the holy pond.

The boiling eggs turned out to be phoenix eggs.

Hei Anjing began to eat with joy. He enjoys cooking a lot, and even though his spouse does not cook as well as he does, it is still the greatest in his opinion. This is a man who, until recently, seldom ever cooked or ate. In the past, a guy burned down their mansion and caused the kitchen to explode simply because he wanted to boil water for tea.

Although gods do not need to eat at all, the God of Void acquired cooking skills for his benefit.

"Hm~ delicious! I really love your cooking. It's the best, A'Xia!" Hei Anjing said while eating.

Ye Xiajie smiled at him, served him some eggs, and said, "It's more delicious if you eat some eggs with noodles."

"My love to eat eggs too~," Hei Anjing said as he gave half an egg of what he had bitten to his husband, who was feeding him.

In their own small world, the couple relished their time together in this manner. The Ye family had finally emerged to greet the others who were waiting outside after three full days inside. The Lu and Mo Clans eagerly awaited their return, particularly when they eventually noticed Mo Xuejing and Ye Jieye arriving. The parents of both families were freed from concern.

Nearly everyone in the world revered and prayed for the pair as gods as a result of the disasters. Ye Jieye took his wife and children back to Numen Town and their tree house because he was annoyed. The people would not be so eager as to kneel and pray with them as subjects, at least not in this village. They quickly resumed operations at the restaurant, which grew livelier with Hei Anjing there.

Chapter 1336: First Grey Star - A Regular Day in the Treehouse Restaurant

Numen Town, in the Ye Family's Treehouse Restaurant.

The lives of individuals who had survived the three disasters had returned to normal since then. The Royal Family had abdicated, but the capital, which had been devastated during the catastrophe, had been restored. They started using democracy and chose a president in place of continuing the monarchy.

King Wang Xingyun and the Heavenly Guardians constituted the majority of the presidential contenders. As for King Wang Xingmo, as soon as the misfortunes were over, he vanished out of nowhere together with that creature known only as Nameless. Despite their best efforts, Wang Xingyun and the previous second prince Wang Xingju were unable to locate them regardless of where they searched.

Once, they questioned Mo Xuejing and Ye Jieye about them.

They told them, "They wanted some time together; after all, they are now free of everything that holds them down. You won't be able to see them, as they wanted to let you find them."

In the end, Heavenly Gu comes as a surprise winner of the presidency. He is dependable and articulate. This is because the other Guardians of Heaven turned down the role. Wang Xingyun and Fu Zin, his sweetheart, went back to Somatic Town so they could carry on their Night Market operation.

Former Second Prince Xingju, on the other hand, now had a purpose in life after winning the vice presidential election.

He began considering his options after his father vanished, the royal dynasty deteriorated, and his uncle showed no desire in holding public office. Sadly, all he had was the capital's populace, who had witnessed his genuineness and abilities during the conflict.

He is forced to stay underwater with the others in order to support the crowd's stability while the warriors are engaged in combat on the front lines. In addition, he developed several friendships with the races that were in hiding from humanity.

The majority of races began to accept and respect one another equally with him acting as the intermediary. If the strength and loyalty of Heavenly Guardian Gu amazed others, Wang Xingju was selected because of his extensive network of friends and connections with various races. After the catastrophe, civilization on the gray star continued.

As usual, business is booming at the treehouse restaurant. Hei Anjing was in the kitchen preparing meals, while his husband Ye Xiajie was serving them. The two brats, on the other hand, played in the Death Forest and brought Oreo with them.

"Boss Lady, another serving of seafood hotpot here, please!"

"Okay, I heard it!" Hei Anjing shouted from the interior of the restaurant to the kitchen. "My love, another serving of seafood hotpot."

"Noted!" The God of Void replied from the kitchen.

"Oi! Who ordered the cola chicken wings and beer!? I can't remember which table! There are too many of you. Can't you just serve yourselves?" Hei Anjing complained.

Hahahaha~

The regular patrons were accustomed to it and understood that the boss lady was joking and that he would continue to serve food as his work required. Naturally, there are still ignorant people who are unaware that the proprietors of this modest eatery are deities who took advantage of humanity.

Sometimes, certain hunters would arrive at the restaurant starving, and their poor mood would make them act surly within the establishment.

"Hey! Give us first that serving! We're starving!"

"Waiter! Give us as much as you can! Hurry!"

Without regard for the other customer who ordered that meal, a man took the plate with the beer and cola chicken wings from Hei Anjing and began to eat. They snatched the meal with such force that they even shoved Hei Anjing. They were unaware that the other patrons were staring at their group as if they were walking corpses. The eyes surrounding them are scornful and icy.

Hei Anjing, the attractive waiter, was grinning like a celestial being.

The throng began to murmur. These are, after all, frequent patrons. They were used to seeing guests from the village behave like despots in the dining room. Those men's endings were not happy ones.

Murmuring inside the restaurant replaced the boisterous voices from before.

"Oh, another group that doesn't know what death is."

"Forget it. It's also kind of fun seeing these people suffer."

"God! Don't they know where they are!? They truly aren't afraid of death."

"Don't they know where they are?!"

After placing another order on the table, Hei Anjing reappeared, having vanished elsewhere following the theft of the chicken and beer he was carrying. This time, he carried a large basin of chicken as he walked up to the new customers' table. It resembles a little mound of chicken wings.

"New customers, why don't you eat more? It's service," said Hei Anjing with a business smile, yet the mirth within those silver eyes cannot be ignored.

The ones on the table felt lucky and happily ate the chicken wings. Hei Anjing served a dozen more basins of chicken wings on this table until they became full. But just as they wanted to stop eating, Hei Anjing placed another pile of chicken legs on their table.

"No more. Burp! So full!"

"It's delicious, but... Ugh! There is no more space in my stomach."

"Sadly, I wanted to eat more, but my stomach couldn't."

"No more chicken! Give us beer!"

But Hei Anjing turned a deaf ear to their request and still placed the basin of chicken on the table. This time with more force and an angelic smile.

"What are you guys saying? You can only eat and can't stop until I allow you to," Hei Anjing said.

"What the fuck are you...!!!?????"

The attractive waiter gave the man who wanted to leap out and yell at Hei Anjing a pat on the shoulder, and he sank backward into his chair helplessly. His legs and butt were immobile due to ice that appeared out of nowhere. The other three attempted to jump out as well.

One man ended up like the first, while the other two were fastened to the wooded wall by tree branches that snagged their arms and legs.

"What the hell is this!?"

"Fuck! Let us go!"

"You better let us go or else..."

Hei Anjing, with his arms crossed, looked at this group with a mischievous smile, but this time his eyes were cold and indifferent.

"You wanted to eat, so I serve you as much as we can. We haven't cleared up our food warehouse yet. There is also a vegetable garden and barn in the backyard. You only ate chickens; there is still beef, mutton, pork, and seafood in stock.

You said to give you as much as we can, right~" Hei Anjing said as he gestured to the sentient treehouse to keep feeding the four fools who wanted to push him while working.

"Treehouse, continue feeding them, you can't stop until I say so," Hei Anjing said as more tree branches appeared inside the restaurant. It started grabbing chickens and force-feeding the four hunters in this group.

For the rest, Hei Anjing offered them a complimentary portion of a unique pudding as payment for these miscreants interfering with their meals. Regarding the bunch of obnoxious patrons, they had passed out, their stomachs swollen like balloons and chicken wings stuffing their lips.

With a scornful stare, Hei Anjing motioned to the tree branches to take away all that these obnoxious folks possessed. Before being ejected from the restaurant and into the street, they were stripped naked by the tree, revealing just their underpants. A few villagers said nothing but pointed at them.

For hunters who are unaware that this humble treehouse is home to two gods in the flesh, this scene is very typical in their community.

The gods in this restaurant are generally kind and do not take human lives lightly, but they also punish those who dare to wreck havoc in their domain. Customers who have offended the chef are still free to leave the restaurant on foot, but those who have offended the boss lady were dumped like trash outside.

While sorting through the items, Hei Anjing discovered only a few gold coins and inferior ingredients that were insufficient to even cover the cost of the chicken they consumed. Legendary ingredients are used in everything this restaurant serves. The majority of its elements are only available through auction.

However, these divine spouses regularly consume meals fit for a god; they even went so far as to provide legendary dinners to the general public. They are well-known not just in this village but also in other cities because of this.

"How useless! They can't even play for one plate of chicken wings. Hmp!" Hei Anjing said.

Then he was given a sudden hug from behind while the old clothing were burned like trash. Those items were torched by a black flame that left no ashes or residue in its wake.

"Who made my baby angry again?" The one who comes out is the chef and big boss of the restaurant, Ye Jieye.

Snort!

"Those men pushed me! I'm only punishing them for that," Hei Anjing said.

Some customers immediately backed up the boss lady and said, "That's right, boss. It's those blind fools who started it first!"

"I saw it. They not only stole someone else's meals but also pushed the boss lady!"

"That's right. The punishment serves them right!"

"Yeah! It's karma!"

The God of Void narrowed his eyes at the men in their briefs on the street. After hearing his wife was pushed, his heart was filled with anger.

"Roi! Throw those trash bags outside the village. They are completely banned from entering the village."

ROOOAAARRR~

There was a roar from the dragon outside the restaurant's doors. After some while, a massive black dragon appears out of the sky, grabs the four obnoxious men, and launches them outside the settlement.

It is also common to see a tricolored phoenix-dragon hybrid and a black dragon flying above the hamlet, but no matter how many times the hunters and villagers saw these two exquisite mythological creatures, they were unable to take their eyes off of them. After all, these are the mounts of the gods.

After this event, the restaurant's operations restarted. The restaurant is closing at 9:30 p.m. as normal, and no one is in the restaurant at this moment. Surprisingly, some visitors continue to arrive. Lu Ming, Lu Shang, Mo Yuhan, Leica, and Su Jin are those people. But this time, a different pair with stunning characteristics led them instead of Leica and Lu Shang.

One wears ordinary village clothing, like what Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing wear. These two are the Chief Warden, Lou Wuye, and Yun Ming, using an upper Avatar to remain in this mortal realm. As for their former vessels, they were returned to the original Lu Shang and Leica.

Chief Warden Lou saluted with Yun Ming, "Greetings to the Lords!"

"You guys are back. How is it? Was the world repaired properly without errors?" Hei Anjing asked with his usual playful smile.

Yun Ming responded, "Yes, Master. The world was fully repaired, and there were no errors. Except that this star still doesn't have a domain lord, everything else is fine."

"Hm. That silly fish hasn't taken over this domain yet?" Ye Xiajie asked.

Hei Anjing commented, "Little Blue had it bad. That stupid fish is born with a goldfish 's memory." The Lan in Lanyu means Blue in chinese.

Like Mo Xuejing, Hei Anjing detested Heavenly Guardian Fei because even after assuming control, the God of Destruction still did not like that foolish mermaid who had threatened to destroy his babies. Regarding this foolish mermaid who refrained from taking part in the three tragedies, she was undergoing her rebirth to become the new domain ruler of this realm.

The world had supported his rebirth ever since he had gone to sleep.

Hei Anjing said, "Let's talk again later. For now, let's eat dinner." Then he glanced at the three brats, Mo Yuhuan, Lu Ming, and Su Jin. "You three go grab my children back for dinner. They are in the usual place."

"Leave it to me, brother!" Mo Yuhan said.

Lu Ming said, "Let's go. It will be annoying if the sun completely sets."

"Maybe they are in the river again. Let's go and return as soon as possible," Su Jin said.

When they got their assignments, the three went. Though they were not as strong as their younger brothers, the genuine Lu Shang and Leica are nonetheless regarded as peaks of strength. They had been visiting to receive training from Chief Warden Lou and Warden Yun Ming alongside their siblings. The souls of two gods had departed their bodies, transforming them into demigods.

Ye Jieye looked at Lu Shang and Leica and said, "You two. Go to the kitchen and serve the meals. Those brats would be returning soon. Also, the old men would be coming over tonight since it's the weekend."

"Yes, sir!" Lu Shang and Leica said.

As for the other four, they remained in the restaurant, and after clearing up the table, a long table was placed in the center by the treehouse.

Chief Warden Lou asked, "Milord, Lord Hei, how long are we going to stay in this world?"

"Not for too long, at least a decade more. As soon as that stupid fish takes over, we shall return to Vearth," the God of Void said.

Hei Anjing said as he looked at his hair, which only had a few portions of silver color and most of it had turned black. "This body can last at least that long, I suppose."

"If you feel uncomfortable, we can return anytime, Jing'er," Ye Xiajie said.

Hei Anjing smiled and said, "No need. A decade it is. Let the children bid their farewells properly. After all, they wouldn't see those mortals again after ascension."

"Master, Lanyu said he would go back with us together with Ji Yoonjun," Warden YunIng said.

Hei Anjing said, "That's no problem. How about that mortal with pheromone ability?"

"Answering to Lord Hei, Ji Yoonjun had trained him well, and his vessel as well as his soul had reached God level. He should be able to enter Vearth with no problems," Chief Warden Lou answered.

The God of Void said, "Register him to the Nether System. His ability isn't compatible with the God System, as it falls more on charm talent than his ability."

"Yes, Milord!"

After a while, Ye Jingya, Ye Jingli, Lu Wei, Ye Zang, and the two cubs went back to the restaurant with the group of brats. Although both of these spouses lived in separate homes in the hamlet, they would regularly visit the restaurant on the weekends to spend time with their families, particularly Ye Jieye and his family. The evening began with a festive dinner feast at the Treehouse Restaurant.

Chapter 1337: First Grey Star - Last Gift

As more time went by, people began to forget the tragedy that the three tragedies had brought about. The mortals began to move on and live peacefully again. They even began to lose faith in the reality of heavenly beings who had assisted them throughout the dreadful catastrophe.

It was the ninth year, almost the tenth, since the D-Day invasion by extraterrestrial invaders. This world began to change from a semi-fantasy-modern one after incorporating the technologies left behind by the broken golems in the gray star. From the world of E-class to that of D+-class. The advancement of civilization on Earth has been aided by the involvement of numerous gods.

Modern technology artifacts are being used by hunters to improve their elemental energy-wielding skills. Despite their usefulness, these gadgets would prevent one from progressing toward increasing their affinity for elements. However, this artifact represents a new extension of life for people with average compatibility with elements.

Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing observe directly the advancement of the mortals. By then, the only thing that has not changed is their little treehouse restaurant.

Hei Anjing said, "Humans are truly smart creatures. They enhanced their strength and started to fight against the odds without any help from their elementals or divinity. If this continues, this world will no longer possess natural beings after being suppressed by the progression of technology. In the end, they will be the ones destroying their own."

After all, the source of this world is nature, and without it, it will slowly die."

"It's alright. Among the Heavenly Guardians, the Mo, Ye, Lu, and Mu remained unaffected by the technology. They instead increased their affinity with their elementals, making them real elementalists when that time came. At least this world wouldn't completely die. Humans are greedy, and without it, they wouldn't be called humans," Ye Jieye said.

Hei Anjing mumbled, "Desires bring forth greed. It's the source of human strength and also their weakness. As long as everything remains balanced, they should be alright. It seems that stupid fish is about to wake up, and when he does, it will be the time for us to leave."

"Indeed, even though we haven't stayed that long in this world, spending time with you is my greatest happiness," Ye Jieye said as he hugged his wife from behind.

Right now, the two were standing on the second-floor balcony of their treehouse, gazing up at the nighttime sky and the dazzling light far off. Neither elementals nor spells are necessary for humans to live in a light environment at night in the modern period. Their home was dim until they turned on the electricity.

The two sovereign gods continue to be observers of this world's development and do not participate in it. Had it not been for the prearranged catastrophes a decade prior, they would never have come to light. Simply put, since their primary souls, Mo Xuejing and Ye Jieye had too much karma in this realm, which they could only atone for once they combined.

They were therefore forced to assist the mortal inhabitants of this planet in surviving the disasters.

Abruptly, the God of Void recalled the Star Fall Garden—a hazardous area he had unintentionally consumed. Since it is one of this planet's supplies for materials needed to keep this world running, he had to bring it back.

Ye Xiajie extended his right hand, and a powerful aura of greed and evil collected there. Though a little taken aback, Hei Anjing maintained his composure in the comfort of his beliefs. He saw as his spouse extended this force beyond the community, nearly engulfing an eighth of the entire planet. An ancient island with glimpses of divinity emerged in the sky as the black aura subsided.

Hei Anjing asked, "What is this, A'Xia?"

"Do you remember that one time when I totally lost control over the power of devouring? To keep my mind sane, I had to eat anything within the vicinity. Above the Tornado Mountain Ranges is this danger zone, the Star Fall Garden. I accidentally ate it. But it seems that the real reason I lost control was because of that bastard controlling this fragment of gluttony from the shadows.

He truly made countless traps to annoy me!" Ye Xiajie said as he kept thinking about that bastard that possessed his real face. He is annoyed by how he was fooled by that bastard many times in this world.

Hei Anjing frowned. "Maybe you should stay away from him. I feel that his malice towards you is too strong."

"I know. He is jealous of me. After all, among all of us, it was me who you have chosen," the God of Void said as he tightened his embrace to the slightly cool body of his wife.

Because his sweetheart had a low body temperature from birth, he was typically chilly than others with normal body temperatures. His brother informed him that all people of Mo Bloodline have this type of body. Perhaps because their physical body temperature is affected by the ice elementals' intense love for them.

He was not concerned about it because the only negative effect was a little lowered body temperature.

Hei Anjing smiled and allowed himself to be hugged. "Of course, there is no one else but you."

Everyone in the vicinity was confused by the unexpected arrival of the Star Fall Garden while the pair flirted on their own balcony. Many individuals even leave their homes to gaze at the garden that floats overhead. Gradually, the floating island with the old garden on top of it rises above and even beyond the sky.

There are experts who know exactly what this garden-filled island is. With a reverent, old aura emanating from their mansion's roof, Heavenly Guardian Mu and his spouse Ye Jingya gazed out over the garden.

Mu Zang mumbled, "Isn't this the Star Fall Garden danger zone that disappeared before? How come it would appear above Numen Town like this?"

"Instead of asking how it's better to ask the one who brought it out, it seems it had something to do with our grandson," Ye Jingya said as he looked at the silhouette of the couple flirting on the treehouse balcony.

Ye Jieye gazed at them and nodded their heads, as though nothing had changed in their expressions. By making this gesture, he is indicating that he was the one who brought the island out and that they would get the remainder. They are unable to intervene in this matter and can only watch as the couple enters their home again.

Mu Zang's head began to pound upon seeing this scene. He could not help but wonder why he brought it now, how and when his pious grandchild took this hazardous zone.

"Sigh~, why do I feel these kids are doing us a favor? After all, among all the current clans, only our four clans will benefit greatly in this danger zone," Mu Zang said.

Ye Jingya frowned as he understood something: "Right now is almost the end of the ninth year after the three great calamities. We are about to enter the tenth year, which is considered a decade."

The current state of affairs with Mo Xuejing was previously known to the Ye, Mu, Mo, and Lu clans. It was reported that after giving them prophecy and defying the heavens to buy them some time, his physical form was severely damaged by divine retribution. Mo Xuejing gave them one year of rest before the last disaster struck, in return for his long life.

Consequently, he has lived a significantly shorter life while being healthy for all these years. That was the divine retribution he got for lending them a hand. Since this is a punishment that even God fears, not even Ye Jieye can stop it. Punishments imposed by the laws of divinity, this is a rule that even Gods had to follow.

Over the previous nine years, the four clans have consistently spent time with the Ye Family, realizing the limited amount of time Mo Xuejing had. since they were aware that this family would only live for a limited time in this world. After the world is saved, the Ye family truly has the option to reside in this star, but they decide to stay here until Mo Xuejing's vessel naturally ends.

Mu Zang's mood turned helpless and sad, realizing the state of the situation. "I see. It's already time for them to leave. I guess as gods from the other realm, they aren't meant to stay here forever."

"Don't be sad. I at least will be with you until the end. I promise you, my wife," Ye Jingya said as he held Mu Zang's hand tight within his.

The nation was rocked by the uproar that the island of Star Fall had reappeared. That day, a large number of hunters and experts congregated in Numen Town. Sadly, Ye Jieye built a wall to keep strangers out of the village as soon as he released the Star Fall Garden, so they were unable to enter.

Thus, the guests—which include Wang Xingju, the vice president, and Lao Gu, the president at the moment—can only wait outside the town.

Many hunters from the town had been to the floating garden since the sun had risen the following morning, but they were unable to pass through the closed gates. All of the hunters and experts from their town are gathered by Mu Zang and Ye Jingya in the middle of their territory. They described the circumstances there.

Everyone discovered that Satan had given them this island and that they had to wait for him to awaken in order to set foot on it.

Additionally, this information was disseminated to others outside the town. As time went on, many of them lost track of Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing's divine identities. Some people do know, but nobody is brave enough to tell others. So many of them whined when they learned they would have to wait for Ye Jieye to wake up.

Those who had spoken were hushed by the president and other senior authorities who were aware of Satan and his wife's true identities. Most of the hunters outside the village have silenced themselves since the president has endorsed Satan.

When the clock strikes 6 a.m. At last, Ye Jieye had come out. Chief Warden and Warden Yun brought over Lu Ming and his entourage, which also included Lu Shang and Leica. Along with them were his two children, their dog Oreo, and the two mythological beings reduced to small sizes. A gorgeous chicken and a black snake are currently perched on Ye Jieye's shoulder.

Ye Jingxia and Ye Anxia, meanwhile, cheerfully followed in their father's footsteps while donning relaxed attire reminiscent of medieval robes.

Ye Jingxia was wearing a light blue robe and shorts on his body. Making it look like a little ancient immortal. On the other hand, Ye Anxia is wearing a knee-length, fluffy white robe with wide sleeves. With her hair tied up in a bun with white butterflies, she now looks like a little fairy. Everyone couldn't help but gasp at these cute clothes.

The chief warden had given Lu Ming, Su Jin, and Mo Yuhan warden robes to wear. This time, they received it after receiving the Lord God's approval. Now that it was theirs, the three could do with the black robe as they pleased, even dyeing it a different color. Lu Ming so dyed his a rich red-god hue and wore it carelessly over his hunting attire, exposing most of his chest.

Regarding Mo Yuhan, he altered his robe to a pale gray color with a cloud design. He only dyed it with a few motifs without making any other changes. He now has the appearance of a young farmer lost in the contemporary world. Su Jin's robe was changed to a blue-green color and resembled Lu Ming's, but unlike the latter, he wore it appropriately, covering his neck like a devout young master.

The same robe was also provided to Lu Shang and Leica, but they modified it to become a combat uniform with a contemporary look. Therefore, it is still modern style apparel, save for the materials. For this reason, unlike the other three young men, they did not draw much notice.

Yun Ming and Chief Warden Lou, on the other hand, were dressed in pure black robes with an ancient style and similar color. With Lou Wuye donning an armored helmet and Yun Ming donning a veil, they concealed the majority of their features. They even had a jade token on their waists, shaped like a drop of blood.

People only felt suppressed by the jade itself because of the word 'Nether' inscribed on it. As soon as Ye Jieye appeared, these two saluted properly.

Looking indifferent, Ye Jieye peered at the crowd in front of him and said, "You've gathered faster than I expected. That's good. After all, this is our last gift for you mortals."

Chapter 1338: First Grey Star - Star Fall Garden

The Last Gift. This is the final favor that the Gods of Destruction and Void have left for us humans. Only the older guests who were able to identify them realized that the floating garden was a treasure trove and that it was the final gift their gods would bestow upon them. This implies that the gods will soon depart from mortal life and let humans to resume their lives without divine protection.

Ye Jieye said, "Inside this garden are countless treasures you wouldn't find in the other danger zones. A treasure for extending longevity. An unbreakable artifact. An item that can revive someone. Inside anything is possible. Beware!

Inside the garden are not only opportunities but also dangers. Only the worthy can get the treasure."

"By the way, this garden will disappear after a week. It would reappear every five years in this place, at the same time and day. Make sure to remember this day. Okay, you are free to go inside. The gate is now open!"

The majority of the villagers had gone straight to the floating island. Those with the ability to fly took off as soon as they received the all-clear. However, a few of you remain. The majority are Ye Jieye's relatives and associates. Chief Warden Lou and Warden Yun Ming, their two deputies, are still with them. In actuality, they were awaiting their further orders.

Surprisingly, Wang Xingju, the vice president, and Heavenly Guardian Gu, the president, also stayed for their people; they permitted them to proceed instead. Ye Jieye was instructing Warden Yun and the Chief Warden to take care of his kids. They can let them play in the garden for as long as they like, but they have to come back for dinner.

"Wuye, you and Yun Ming can let these two do as they wish, but grab them back for meals, or Jing'er will get angry if they miss their meals," the God of Void said. "For the others, you are forbidden from leading help; this is an equal opportunity for everyone. If someone kills to steal, you may execute it on the spot."

"Yes, Milord!" Chief Warden Lou Wuye accepted his master's orders.

The God of Void glanced at Yun Ming and said, "You may discipline the children if they do wrong."

"Please leave it to me, Lord God," Yun Ming said.

Lu Ming and his entourage likewise greeted Ye Jieye intimately, with Lou Wuye and Yun Ming following the example of their young lord and small princess. Only the government official and the oldest members of his family were still alive.

Ye Jieye turned to face his parents, in-laws, and grandfathers.

Mu Zang said, "You can speak with the government first. We will go and see Xiao Mo first."

Ye Jieye nods and says, "He should be awake by now. Do join him for breakfast."

After giving his son a quick touch on the shoulder, Ye Jingli, Lu Wei's wife, follows him to the restaurant. Along with a smile and a few hellos, his in-laws entered the eatery.

The only people who stay outside with Ye Jieye are Wang Xingju and President Gu. Clearly, they have a question concerning the floating garden. President Gu greeted him and then inquired what he wanted to ask, remaining as direct as ever.

"Lord Satan, is it possible for me to ask if this ancient garden is the same as Star Fall Garden in outer space, or is it different?" President Gu asked.

Ye Jieye responded quickly and said, "It is and yet not. The former Star Fall Garden had been destroyed in space. I found its fragments and just patched it up. When I'm bored, I throw a lot in it. Well, those toys are not useful for me, but they should be useful for you mortals. So it can be said that this is a different garden from before with the core from the original one."

"Does Lord Satan know what destroyed the original Star Fall Garden?" President Gu asked.

Ye Jieye said, "No. In space, in the land beyond this world sky, there are more existences that are unknown to you. It's something the weak can know. Only those who become deities will be able to understand. Just like the invaders 9 years ago, they are just one of the trillions. There are more out there that you don't know.

I only made a move because the domain protector of your world hasn't been born yet. Normally, it is the authority and mission of the domain lord to protect his own star. Your former protector is greedy and kills his alter ego, leading to his own destruction. The three calamities are the result of his doing."

"Venerable Lord, I would like to ask who this garden will be authorized to. If you don't have someone, the government can look after it," Wang Xingju said.

The young guy, who had grown so much in the last few years, caught the God of Void's eye. He is no longer the naive prince who agrees to give his soul to a malevolent deity. However, he is an amazing man who has the power to affect people just with words. He is obviously being groomed by the present president to be the next leader.

"This ancient garden can no longer be considered a part of this world. It has already become a small world that possesses its own laws. I've already left a guardian to it. Old Gui (Turtle)..." An old man wearing ancient brown robes appeared from the earth and materialized behind Ye Jieye, immediately kneeling for him.

"This servant is here, Venerable Lord!"

With the assistance of Hei Anjing, this Old Gui—the Earth Turtle who lived in the heart of the Death Forest—was able to become a god, albeit unintentionally. He is now able to construct a human body clone in addition to his own since he attained godhood. This island is his turtle shell fragment and where Star Fall Garden currently stands.

After all, he had grown considerably larger to become a divine turtle.

Ye Jieye gestured for the old man to stand up and introduce him to the government. "His name is Old Gui. He is a Divine Turtle God. The turtle race has been an animal synonymous with longevity. He is the right choice for the guardian of that Star Fall Garden. Every five years, at the same time and day, he will pull out this Ancient Garden from some space corridor.

He didn't need permission from anyone as he would just follow my order until all the treasures in the Ancient Garden were depleted."

"The treasures can be depleted?" President Gu asked in surprise.

The God of Void said, "All things have a lifespan unless you become an eternal being. Don't worry, it can last for at least a few Epochs."

[A/n: Epoch is equivalent to 1,000,000 years.]

The two mortals were too shocked to contain their gasps. They have never heard the term "Epoch" used in casual conversation before. However, an Epoch means nothing to a Sovereign God such as the God Void, especially as Sovereigns are immortal unless they are slain. The people who had been waiting outside had left the restaurant after their chat. Hei Anjing was with them this time.

He had just finished his breakfast. Hei Anjing yawned and walked straight over to embrace his hubby.

"Husband, I'm bored~" Hei Anjing said while hugging his beloved.

As predicted, the stifling air around Ye Xiajie only becomes less intense when Hei Anjing is there. A rare, kind smile emerged from the corner of his lips, and even the normally apathetic depths of his eyes were filled with gentleness.

"Does Baby want to go to the Ancient Garden or somewhere else with just the two of us?" The God of Void asked while helping his wife braid his long silver hair. As if he had done it multiple times, his movements were smooth and fast.

Hei Anjing smiled as well, "Let's go to the orchard. I want to plant an herb garden in the center of the Death Forest."

"Okay. After sending our family to the Ancient Garden, we can head to the Death Forest afterwards," the God of Void said.

The sweet interaction between the couple is too sickeningly sweet, and everyone around at this moment feels like a melon-eating dog with so much dog food to eat.

In a while, Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing accompanied their families at the gates of the Ancient Garden. President Gu and Wang Xingju didn't linger, as they knew it wasn't their position to stay behind with this big family.

The Star Fall Garden's towering gates were in front of them, with a misty cloud covering the top of the gates. It seemed as though the gate's magnitude alone proved that large beings have always existed.

The others are set to enter the garden after saying goodbye and leaving. Hei Anjing spoke again.

"Dad, Father, Father Lu, and Daddy Ye, you guys should head to the center of the garden. There is a pond in that place full of ice lotus flowers with divinity. Eating a lotus seed would allow one to conceive children regardless of age. We might not be able to accompany you until the end, but I won't allow you to remain without an heir who will take care of you in the future."

"The Ice Lotus Seed is capable of cleansing the body and soul. It would help you reach at least Deity class and extend your life span longer. Grandfathers and Grandpas should also eat it as it also has longevity effects. It's something only those who possess our bloodline can farm. It's exclusive only for the four clans to use," Hei Anjing said with a smile.

Xue Keiran and Ye Jingli find it unpleasant since he seems to be saying goodbye early. They were aware that Mo Xuejing would not survive into the ninth year and that Ye Jieye would probably die with him. Additionally, the mere thought of these two fathers losing their sole kid will shock them beyond belief. They nodded at their kids and remained silent despite their anguish.

Tears formed the corners of the two couples' eyes as they walked into the old garden.

Heavenly Guardian Mo and his partner, as well as the other four elders, comforted them.

"Xue'er, don't mind your dads too much. They will be able to accept it in the end. Just give them more time," Mo Xinyue said.

Hei Anjing said, "It's okay. I know why they feel like that. Unfortunately, I am unable to change it anymore. Why don't I stay for a few more years even as a spirit?"

"No! I won't allow you to compromise your soul state for this reason. Jing'er, I'll get angry. Stop this talk." The God of Void was the first one to reject these suggestions. Staying in spirit form makes one fragile and would greatly weaken the soul. For an incomplete soul like Jing'er, that situation is deadly for him, and he will never agree to it.

Hei Anjing pouted and said, "Hmp! Okay, I won't. How can you scold me?"

"Baby, I'm not scolding you. I'm just worried about you," the God of Void said, trying to coax his wife.

Hmp!

Their elders found amusement and solace in seeing the young couple interact. They will be OK until the very end if they can get along this nicely.

A week was spent exploring the Ancient Garden. The floating antique garden vanished instantly after seven days, and everyone inside was ejected from there, wherever they might have been. People began to descend to Numen Town from the skies. While some people perished within, others were given the chance to grow stronger. With whatever they had taken from the Star Fall Garden, everyone was content.

Everybody in this star would respect the Star Fall Garden as a treasure land even in the future, as it has evolved into a divine land that appears in their universe every five years since that day.

Chapter 1339: First Grey Star - Domain Lords of the Gray Star

The Star Fall Garden is a globally recognized landmark. It was regarded as a sliver of land that the gods had called home, a treasure island. It had innumerable riches and resources from both heaven and earth, including certain sentient plants and animals.

They referred to the Star Fall Garden as a God's Garden and promised to keep spreading the word about it until everyone on the world knew about it. This was how they treated those who were able to visit and benefit from it.

Many people flocked to Numen Town's entrance, hoping to visit the rumored treasure island; sadly, Star Fall and the Ancient Garden were already in use for the year. Those guests left with dejected looks on their faces when they were informed that it would return in the ensuing five years.

The first group of individuals to be fortunate enough to explore the Star Fall Garden returned home with treasures that enhanced their strength, gave them an advantage over others, or even allowed them to tame animals or plant companions to aid them in their everyday tasks. The lives of those who inhabit this gray star go on as more time goes by.

The Ye family discovered two followers who, although only mortals, had received expert training in combat, hunting, and cooking.

When the God of Void and his family depart from this life, these two will be referred to be the Apostles of the Ancient Gods. Six months later, Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing, along with their cubs, returned as a family to the dangerous areas of this world after the treehouse restaurant was given to their two disciples.

They would occasionally stop by the main city to see the Lu and Mo Clans or pay a visit to the Mu Zang and Ye Jingya in Numen Town.

Apart from the fact that Mo Xuejing's silver hair gradually turns black as the tenth year goes on, there are no other noticeable changes in this household. Everyone knew why it was happening and occasionally felt sorry to see Mo Xuejing's stunning silver hair turn black. The exquisite argent's fading tint indicates that his life is slowly coming to an end.

The Ye family will eventually pass away when his hair completely goes black.

In the middle of the Tenth Year, Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing, along with their kids, made their final trip to the capital city and received joyful news: Ye Jingli from the Lu Clan and Xue Keiran from the Mo Clan were expecting a child. The two Sovereign Gods were pleased to learn of the existence of these unborn offspring, who were siblings of Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing in this planet.

One is, after all, born into a world of darkness and emptiness without a family, and the only people who can be thought of as his relatives are his alter ego—the God of Light and Creation. The only son of the God of Judgment and Punishment is the other. Despite never having his own sibling, he had cousins. They were thrilled by the unexpected appearance of these two unborn children.

Regretfully, they would not be able to meet them when they were born because of Hei Anjing's circumstances. That was the scenario, at least, until he begged his husband to let them stay an additional six months.

This caused the couple to have a little argument until the God of Void acceded to his wife's requests. However, Ye Jieye made the decision to temporarily reside in the main city until the birth of their siblings during the first half of the eleventh year. They declined to use additional energy, thus onlookers would always see Ye Jieye carrying his wife while he was able to walk alone.

It is not that the God of Void is preventing his bride from walking on her own, in actuality. Simply put, Ye Xiajie's longevity has already been greatly extended, and he can willfully pause time for six months. That is because of him. Hei Anjing is unable to move or breathe on his own because his mortal body has quit working.

It was also because Heavenly Guardian Fei Jue had not yet awoken from his sleep at the end of the Tenth Year that Ye Jieye had granted his wife's request. Ultimately, in the absence of a domain deity guarding this tiny star, dimensional beings and extraterrestrials would once again make use of it. They decide to hold off on waking him up for six months.

Eleventh Year, second week of June.

Main City

in the Ye Family's Illusionary Mansion. While the brilliant sun was out in the middle of the day, a light rain started to fall from the heavens. The earth became chilly due to a strong wind, and the world's greenery cheerfully swayed in the early spring rain. Actually, this was a significant day for the Mo and Lu Clans. It is the day that Xue Keiran and Ye Jingli will give birth.

Members of the Mu, Ye, Lu, and Mo Clans, the four major clans, crowded the main city hospital. Six elderly men and the two husbands of patients were waiting outside the emergency department.

Like bees on a circular rotor, Lu Wangle and Lu Wei were ambling in front of the emergency room door. Mo Banyue and Mo Xinyue were sitting in front of the door, menacingly glaring at the closed door as though they were going to bite someone who emerged from it.

Mu Zang found the two buzzing bees that were circling bothersome. The fact that his son was inside giving birth made him anxious enough, but the father and son together made him feel much more uneasy. None of them was sufficiently calm, even with the comfort of his husband, Ye Jingya.

Ye Jingya said, "Can't you guys calm down? Didn't Xiao Xue say that Jingli and Keiran were healthy and would give birth safely? Calm down."

"But Brother Ye, I..." Lu Wangle speaks as he walks around.

"Annoying!" Mu Zang said as he shot up from his seat.

Ultimately, Mu Zang became enraged and struck Lu Wangle and Lu Wei in the heads. The two are now clutching their heads while crouching on the ground. Mo Xinyue and Mo Banyue winced at the scene and reluctantly turned their heads away from the emergency room door as Mu Zang glared at them.

Hmp!

Mu Zang snorted in the corridor that was suddenly covered in silence. Ye Jingya silently cheers in his heart that his wife is the strongest. All of a sudden, the whole world shook for a moment, startling everyone.

Rumbles~

"What is happening!?"

The brief earthquake is followed by the cries of two newborns. Unexpectedly, both of the newborns were female. After Ye Anxia, these are the next females to be born into this world. The startling surprise pleased everyone.

Meanwhile, above the sea...

Somewhere in the ocean, the wide waters of the world split up, with Sea God Lanyu coming out of it and waiting above the sea.

Sea God Lanyu mumbled at the scene, "You're finally waking up, my stupid disciple of mine."

A giant golden-hued clam emerges from the shattered water from the lowest depths of the ocean. A lofty beam of light descended into it. A sleeping mermaid with long, golden-blue hair and a golden-white fishtail is visible when the clam gently opens. Finally, Fei Jue, the last surviving mermaid to descend from the monarch, awoke to become the Domain Lord in charge of this gray star.

The environment trembles as if embracing him when he awakens. For him, every flower—whether on land, in the sea, or in the sky—had blossomed. Towering trees bowed in his presence, and the entire sea sang in anticipation of his coming. When Fei Jue opens his eyes, his water elements turn into holy water, his blue irises have a gold lining, and he transforms into something akin to a True God.

Since he is now a God King, he truly possesses greater power than Sea God Lanyu, who is simply a True God.

The cultivation strength of a God King is possessed by the weakest Domain Lord. They have their own star, which explains why. The planet itself is the source of their strength. Simply said, unless the globe or star they dominate is updated, their strength will remain at this level. As opposed to unrestrained gods like the Sea God Lanyu, who has an infinite peak and can travel anywhere in the world.

Sea God Lanyu smiled and welcomed the birth of the new Heavenly Laws of this gray star.

"Congratulations on your awakening Domain Lord Fei. This gray star is now under your rule."

"Master, I... did I become a God just like that?" Domain Lord Fei said in bewilderment.

A voice in his head introduced itself as the global core before he passed out. It promised to share their souls as one in return for allowing him to evolve. It convinced him that everything was in his hands and that he did not need to do anything. Fei, the Heavenly Guardian, accepts and nods off.

Ji Yoonjun and Doctor Hei emerged out of nowhere. They have seen the new Heavenly Laws born into this star. They had been on stake out waiting for this very time, under the authority of the two Sovereigns. Upon opening his eyes, Domain Lord Fei Jue established a lasting link to this world.

"Congratulations! Under the orders of the Sovereign Lords I am here to bestow to you their gift," Ji Yoonjun said as he presented an exquisite wooden box that emits the scent of a world tree.

Domain Lord Fei Jue found it difficult to take his eyes off the little, blue, golden orb within the package when he opened it. His eyes were full of longing as he cautiously reached out of the orb. He sensed strongly that something about this ball was deeply connected to his soul.

Sea God Lanyu asked, "Senior Reen, what is this orb? I feel comfortable looking at it."

The name of the God in Ji Yoonjun's body is called Kyle Reen, a world hopper that works for the God System as a 'Stabilizer' of the world. He is a Highgod from Vearth.

"This star's world core. His only family," Ji Yoonjun said.

Fei Jue, an orphan, felt deeply about this orb without anyone having the ability to explain it to him. He cut off a portion of his index finger, letting droplets of his golden blood land on the sphere of gold. The orb blazed brightly and floated in front of him after it had sucked in his blood. The sphere vanished as the light dwindled, and in its place stood a merman with golden hair and a tail.

This man had the purity of a deity and the beauty of a mermaid. Though more attractive and mature than Fei Jue, his features were similar. Fei Jue generates powerful alpha pheromones and exudes an atmosphere of refinement and nobility, even if he may appear somewhat androgynous.

The man opened his eyes revealing golden blue irises that matched Fei Jue. He suddenly smiled and reached out to hold Fei Jue's hands and kneel in front of him.

{The dram one who is't gaveth his ev'rything f'r mine own birth is anon mine own life, mine own heart and mine own ev'rything. I am thee and thou art me. We art one and shall beest the supp'rt of one anoth'r until the endeth of this star, our lifespans.}

Translation: [The little one who gave his everything for my birth is now my life, my heart and my everything. I am you and you are me. We are one and will be the support of one another until the end of this star, our lifespans.]

{If 't be true thee concur i shalt followeth thy nameth and beest hath called fei, can thee giveth a nameth, jue'r?}

Translation: [If you agree, I shall follow your name and be called Fei, Can you give me a name, Jue'er?]

Fei Jue, a former mortal, is not meant to know the Ancient Language of Gods, but following his rebirth, he underwent a complete transformation to become the entity in front of him. His remarks were immediately comprehended by him, and he gave him the name that came to him.

Fei Jue smiled and said, "Your name shall be Haixin. The Hai is a part of the word ocean and Xin with the meaning of heart."

{I shall now be called Fei Haixin. Your family, your lover and your other half who will rule this world like me.}

Chapter 1340: First Grey Star - Farewell [End]

Elven Highgods Reen and Hei, as well as Sea God Lanyu, greeted the birth of the two new Domain Lords. He manifested into an actual entity with a body once the world was given a name and a body. With the awakening of Fei Jue and Domain Lord Haixin, this planet is now whole again. This little gray star is now stabilized with Fei Jue existing as the Heavenly Laws and Haixin as the world.

Haixin met his two front-row gods. Even if they are not as strong as the other four, they nevertheless have a higher status than them. Ultimately, these two function as officers from the Upper Realms, in contrast to the Domain Lords, who are subordinate to the City Lords.

Domain lord Fei Haixin said, {Greetings to the Senior of Vearth and congratulations for ascension, child of the Ancient God Cthulhu.}

Sea God Lanyu and Ji Yoonjun returned the greetings.

"Thank you for giving birth to him and I, Lord Haixin," Sea God Lanyu said.

Domain Lord Haixin said, {Cthulhu was an unlucky child. His former other half is a crazed one. But ever since he found you, regardless of his sufferings, he has been happy. I will leave him in your care. Sometime in the future, when you wake him up, come visit us.}

"Yes, we will," Sea God Lanyu said. Obviously, this Domain Lord knew about his plans to leave the world.

{We still have to create our temple. We will see the sovereigns and celestial wardens when they take their leave. Excuse us!}

With that, the ocean had engulfed Fei Jue and Fei Haixin; the split in the sea disappeared together with the pair, and everything else returned to normal.

Ji Yoonjun looked at Sea God Lanyu and said, "Make your final preparations for our departure. We were told to leave in a week."

"Yes, Senior Reed."

Before departing this planet, Sea God Lanyu wiped up his remaining karma by going back to the ocean. He will have to prepare plans for his apostles, who will take his position and stay on this star to safeguard the ocean. Even if he were to become a god, this sea is the source of his origin, so he had to make arrangements to leave things in capable hands.

Along with Ji Yoonjun, who continued to stare at Doctor Hei, they flew back to the capital city. He wanted to ignore the doctor, but the way his feelings influenced his pheromones infuriated him.

"Talk. What is it that you need to say?" Ji Yoonjun said.

Doctor Hei asked, "Are you leaving this world?"

"My mission to stabilize this world is complete, and Su Jin has completely replaced the original Ji Yoonjun and become the real protagonist. This identity is no longer needed and shall be erased with time," Ji Yoonjun answered.

Doctor Hei asked, "Can't I go with you?"

"You can, but with your current cultivation as only a deity, you wouldn't be able to stay in the upper realm. I suggest you only ascend when you reach your godhood with both soul and body, becoming a true god like Lanyu," Ji Yoonjun said.

Doctor Hei held his hand and said, "Wait for me, okay? When I also ascend, I will help you gather points to wake up your brother."

Ji Yoonjun remained silent, but he held onto the doctor's hand for a little while before releasing it again. A god finds it difficult to love a mortal. Ultimately, there is a significant disparity in their lifespans. However, Doctor Hei was pleased with this reserved god's muted reply.

Back to the main city...

Everyone was ecstatic to see the two princesses of this world after their birth. Ye Jingli and Xue Keiran's husbands were unable to allow other people to hold their daughters. The Lu, Ye, Mu, and Mo clans were all pleased with their new heirs. Ye Jingli and Xue Keiran were not permitted to leave the hospital for three or five days.

Upon the return of the new heirs, the elderly men got ready for a feast in celebration.

Hei Anjing and Ye Xiajie made the decision to say goodbye during this festivity. They had invited distinguished visitors from the government, and everyone had come to their celebration. Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing eventually approach to smile at their siblings as everyone is having a great time in the open courtyard.

At this moment, Hei Anjing's body is barely able to move, and Ye Xiajie is limited to carrying him. Their family was unable to hide their sadness when they spotted them approaching. They were aware that their time was running out.

Ye Jingya asked, "You are leaving now?"

"Yes, Grandfather. We extended our stay for another half a year, and Jing'er can no longer hold on. We must ascend now before it's too late," the God of Void said.

The God of Destruction also smiled at them and said, "Don't be sad. We had spent enough time together, and I am happy until the end. Moreover, you guys need to live long for you to look after our siblings. Their existence is the beginning. In the future, more females will be born. As for how to accept them, I will depends on these two girls."

A sun and a moon emerged from the twilight sky under everyone's eyes. These two transformed into a pair of humanoids. Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang are their names. There is a direct connection between this enormous space portal that sprang up in the sky and Vearth's Nether World. Chief Warden Lou, Warden Yun Ming, and Oreo were below the door carrying Ye Jingxia, his lord, and Ye Anxia, the little princess.

These two had developed during the previous ten years. Ye Anxia developed into a stunning young girl, while Ye Jingxia is currently a teenager.

Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang bowed their heads and said, "Sovereigns, the door to the Upper Heavens is now open."

Everyone's eyes were on them. They were standing in front of the door in the sky when Ye Xiajie set down his wife and took his hand. A little while later, a couple more faces that were recognizable emerged in the same vicinity. Beside him, Doctor Hei, Ji Yoonjun also materialized, standing with them and had red eyes that gave off the impression that he had just completed crying.

Lanyu, the Sea God, also surfaced. On this day, Wang Xingmo and Nameless finally appeared, together with the lost previous king. Nameless appears to have made the decision to ascend and transformed into a truly evil god. His soul-mate Wang Xingmo also turns into an evil god's evangelist.

Wang Xingyun and Wang Xingju are startled by the arrival of their brother and father.

"Big Brother!" "Father!"

Unfortunately, Wang Xingmo did not say anything when the two called at the same time. In his mid-twenties, Wang Xingmo's time had come to an end. At this point, he signed his Nameless contract. Regarding his previous mature appearance, it was a fabrication intended to spare him from being viewed as a monster. But now that they are going, there is nothing to hide.

Looking at the unchanged young appearance of Wang Xingmo, Wang Xingju, and Wang Xingyun, who now look older than him, they were like his uncle and brother in appearance.

Nameless, let Wang Xingmo speak with his family for the last time. The latter hugged the two and said, "You guys had changed and grew up well as I wished. I want you not to miss me. After all, I am a dead person from a long time ago. If not for Nameless, I would not be here now. It's time for me to accompany him like he did to me.

You two don't need me anymore."

Wang Xingyun and Wang Xingju both broke down in tears. They would never forget about this man who gave up all to save them from torment and keep them safe in the night, even after they had grown up and had their own family. They did not find out about his suffering and sacrifices for them until after they split up.

Wang Xingju walked towards Nameless and said, "Are you going to be good to my father?"

"He is mine. Of course, I will be good to him," Nameless said.

Wang Xingju said, "Then I will believe you. I've watched how you stayed by my father's side regardless of the situation. I leave him in your care."

"Leave it to me. Just live in happiness for Momo's sake," Nameless said.

Wang Xingju nodded his head and said, "I definitely will!"

In Ji Yoonjun's case, Lu Ming, Su Jin, and Mo Yuhan were all around him, along with Doctors Hei and Guang. They said goodbye to this kind god who had been secretly keeping watch over them the whole time. Regarding their instructors, they were informed that there was no need to say goodbye because they will cross paths again in the distant future.

"Please take care. You can leave Xiao Jin to me!" Lu Ming said.

Ji Yoonjun responded, "I know. You guys take care as well."

"Wuwu~ when we ascend, I will look for you; we will definitely ascend in the future!" Su Jin said.

Ji Yoonjun said, "Okay."

"Take care," Mo Yuhan said.

Ji Yoonjun nods his head at the others and finally looks at Doctor Hei, who becomes silent all of a sudden. Doctor Guang saw Ji Yoonjun looking at his brother and nudged him.

"Hey! He is looking at you!" Doctor Guang said.

Ji Yoonjun said, "Don't cry anymore. You look ugly."

"Can't you say anything good to me before you leave?! We won't be able to see each other for too long..!!!????"

Before he could finish speaking, Ji Yoonjun kissed Doctor Hei. Knowing that Ji Yoonjun was actually about to leave for good, Doctor Hei gave him a deep kiss as the former began to cry. A tiny green sprout appeared in Doctor Hei's hair beneath everyone's gaze and adhered to the hair like a hair clip. The World Tree is gifting you with this. a gift from Kyle Reen, an Elven god.

Kyle Reen gives Doctor Hei a gentle wipe of his tears after they kiss.

"You really look ugly."

"Shut up, I'm going to hit you!" Doctor Hei retorted.

The Eleven God said, "I gave you my essence. So regardless whether you ascend or die, your soul will come to me. So don't cry anymore."

"Okay, I will find you. I will definitely find you!" Doctor Hei said.

Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing also concluded their sides as the two said their final goodbyes. The majority of the Mo, Mu, Lu, and Ye families' direct descendants appeared to be on the verge of tears.

Hei Anjing said, "Once we shed this vessel, it will be returned to you. A minor blessing from the Elementals of Ice, fire, space and darkness will be given to everyone of the four clans."

The elders started saying one by one:

"Take care of each other!"

"Never let go of each other's hand!"

"Support one another until the end!"

They received goodwill from the elders. The rain ceased for them and the two domain lords nodded their heads in their way. Accepting their presence, the other gods and Sovereigns give them a nod.

It is finally their moment to go. Ye Xiajie finally ascended gently while holding his wife's hand firmly and entwining all ten of their fingers. The others trailed behind this couple, with each step creating a cloud that served as their steps.

Upon arriving at the center of the road, the two Sovereigns saw their mortal vessel shaven and scattered like ashes across the world; it swiftly soared towards the four clans, instantaneously infiltrating their bodies and amplifying their abilities.

Their gaze was fixated on the silhouettes of the two couples floating in the sky, rather than the alterations to their bodies. By this point, the majority of the gods—including the cubs—had transformed back into their god selves and had significantly enhanced their look and presence to the point of immortality.

The leading couple clasped hands with one another. The taller one is dressed in a black, antique war robe with a purple fog design on it. As though the robe were composed of a vast galaxy filled with stars. With a black crown perched atop his head and long, black hair flowing loose behind him, he had a strong, imposing back.

He turns slightly, and his downcast eyes show unearthly red eyes, as if the color were blood itself. His face exudes a seductive quality that makes one want to disappear into the shadows and never return to the light.

Next to him stands a short man with a head dressed in pristine white ancient robes that shimmer with snowflakes that cling to his sleeves and robe ends. This snow appeared to be alive and to be circling their monarch. A white crown rested over his head, and his long, light brown hair was braided with ice strands to keep it in place.

He is the most attractive person they have ever seen. It was not an androgynous beauty; rather, it was an unadulterated, unreachable beauty that alone belonged to the guy standing next to him. When he grinned, his phoenix-shaped eyes narrowed beautifully, and a playful touch lingered at the corner of his lips.

The immortals turned around and said their final warning to humanity before they, like a couple, went through the door in the sky.

"Change cannot be halted, but never forget the core of your origins. Once the Origin is forgotten, only destruction awaits in the end for the ones that lost their beginning," the God of Void said.

The God of Destruction added, "This is our last warning. Origin is Life, End is Death. Don't forget about your beginning. Chaos will always be present. The End is undecided and the process is in your hands. Farewell~"

The Gods entered the skies through the door, and the humans watched as they departed this planet. Zhi Yang and Zhi Yue were the last to enter, and their job was to shut the door behind them. The entire gray sky was alive with the words of the gods on this particular day. Some people comprehend it, while others choose to ignore it or become afraid of it.

Since President Gu knew the true significance of the warnings, his government was one of the terrified parties.

"Technology cannot become the focus of our world where elementals are born together with us. Elements are our origin; we must never forget about them," President Gu mumbles, realizing that most changes in the past eleven years only involve the progression of technology from the alien race. But thanks to the warnings of the two sovereigns, it wasn't too late to make some changes along the way.