

World Plot 1341

Chapter 1341: Vearth - Return to the Nether System

Hei Jue and An Liang were waiting for the God of Void and the company that accompanied him back to Vearth inside the Throne Room of the Nether System, where they had bid farewell to the previous planet. Ever since Ye Xiajie's complete resurrection, the throne room has undergone changes.

There is now a pure white throne next to the black one in the throne hall, which formerly had only one black throne. Black and white interior design has replaced the previous trend of all-black interior design.

The instant Hei Anjing got back to Vearth, he felt weak and drowsy. This higher realm's qi and air are heavier than those in previous realms, therefore weak souls would be readily crushed by the qi's pressure. Hei Anjing, being an incomplete soul, would be more impacted by it than previously, particularly now that he is merely a soul.

Ye Xiajie panicky caught his wife in his embrace. "Baby!? Are you alright?"

"I'm alright. It's just that my vessel is not here, and I feel sleepy again," Hei Anjing said.

Hei Jue, with a frown, said, "Go to the core region and let my brother rest. Uncle Mo and Sovereign Ruler Shen are waiting for you there."

The God of Void bowed his head, realizing that his brother's personal visit to his domain had to have been the result of some sort of event. Void and Darkness are its enemies since Void is the God of Creation and Life. Their areas influence each other even though they are not adversaries.

Ye Xiajie carried his wife away and told the commander of the wardens, "I will call you when it's time to leave. For now, you may rest."

"Yes, Milord (Lord Ye)!" Chief Warden Lou Wuye and Warden Yun Ming saluted as everyone watched their backs disappear in the darkness behind the throne hall.

After transforming back into his former self, Kyle Reen assumed the appearance of a light-haired Elven God. Next to him stands the just ascended Sea God Lanyu, who is suffocating from the atmosphere of this royal hall and nervously scanning his surroundings. The qi and air of this place captivated the recently ascended Evil God Nameless and his apostle, Wang Xingmo.

Elven God Reed gave a salute to the new Lord God of the Nether System, An Liang, and the God of Space, Hei. Ye Xiajie regained his royal sovereignty after completing his resurrection. Thus, he became the owner of the Nether World rather than the Lord God of the Nether System.

This area became entirely his as he expanded his Void Domain to encompass the whole Nether World and turned into a rift within the abyss.

As a result, An Liang, his adjutant, becomes into the Lord God, managing the Nether System on his behalf. Similar to how Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun's pupil Cao Xinsheng manages the God System on behalf of his masters.

"God System Staff, Kyle Reen greets the God of Space and Lord God An!"

Sea God Lanyu bowed like the Elven God but said nothing. Wang Xingmo and Nameless likewise bow down, acknowledging these two as high-ranking gods in this area.

Hei Jue Light, the God of Space, nodded and let his husband conduct the conversation. Touching his monocle, Lord God An Liang looked at the few who had gone back to Vearth with his master.

Lord God An Liang said, "Hm. The white staff, Kyle Reen, you may return to the God System using the Teleportation Portal at the entrance. Bring this newly ascended one with you."

"Yes, Lord God, An!" Kyle Reen responded with his greatest courtesy.

Everyone is aware that, despite his happy appearance, Lord God An Liang is actually a wicked god who works directly for the supreme deity of void and darkness. He is even more respected than Lou Wuye, the Chief Warden, who is supposedly the God of Void's right-hand man.

Lord God An Liang said, "A'Ming, please send these two at the entrance. The Nether Guards and other wardens might mistake them for prisoners."

Warden Yun Ming nodded at his superior and approached Kyle Reen and Lanyu. "Follow me, the entrance is this way." After a while, he left with the two following his steps.

In actuality, Lord God An Liang was more fascinated by the recently born malevolent gods who return with them. It dawned on him that these two were bound by an enduring soul pact. Similar to a marriage contract, but more brittle because it is the kind that can be shattered with sufficient force and qi.

"A former mortal and a demon. The classic pairing. Hello, welcome to the Netherworld. This is the other half of Vearth, which is handled by the Nether System. Most Evil Gods are affiliated with us. The other half is called Sanctuary and is handled by the God System, where most ascended gods work.

Well, you might not understand it at all. I will have someone to send you to the Guidance Hall; newly ascended gods were sent there. That new sea god will also go there."

Just as Lord God An Liang is about to call a servant, Wang Xingmo has spoken.

"You look interested in us at first. What's with the sudden change in mind?" He asked.

Ever since they had walked through that unusual door—which connected places without even requiring a space corridor—Wang Xingmo had been watching everything. Rather, it makes direct connections to other locations. In theory, this method is a god-level spatial transfer. He had also observed that these two gods were family to the two Sovereigns, and that they treated this area like home.

Hei Jue's resemblance to Satan's wife suggests that they are related by blood.

This man, who is related to him by blood, showed no interest in us, much like the wife of Satan. His unwavering gaze faltered only in the direction of his kin. This man, mild-mannered with a false smile, is not like the others. Rather than the Elven God and Sea God, he seemed interested in the two of them.

Lord God An Liang smiled, looking at Wang Xingmo, entertained. "A proud and stern demeanor. Observant yet looks indifferent and blends with others auras to quietly watch a farce as well as a hidden majestic arrogance of looking down on anything. Are you a former King or Emperor in the world you came from, little one?"

Feeling the tension building up in the hall, Nameless immediately pulled Wang Xingmo back behind his back. This obvious protection gesture made Hei Jue raise an eyebrow.

Nameless bows his head and apologizes for Wang Xingmo's question. "Please forgive him for his manners. I shall make sure it never happens again, Venerable Lords!"

Hei Jue said, "A demon protecting a human in a life-and-death situation? Is this little one your other half?"

"Your other half?" Wang Xingmo mumbled, obviously unable to understand the meaning of these words.

Hei Jue completely lost interest when he heard Wang Xingmo's words. "I guess he is not."

"Evil Gods are more powerful than ordinary Gods; your qualifications to work in the Nether System are enough, but we don't pick ones who haven't passed the assessment yet. That's why you had to enter the Guidance Hall to learn about this realm. As for the one with you, he can't live in Vearth yet as a demigod.

Staying in such a place with pure qi under God-level will make them explode," Lord God An Liang explained.

Nameless frowned and said, "He can't stay with me."

"He can, but only for a week. More than his vessel wouldn't be able to last. An outer region had been created for cases when he ascended and brought a family member with cultivation below the god stage. You guys can stay there until you successfully help him become a true god. You can't stay in this place for too long. This is within the territory of the Abyss.

Unregistered ones will suffer a lot. I will have someone send you out as well," Lord God An Liang said.

Chief Warden Lou Wuye stepped up and said, "I can send them out on my way."

"Oh, you're on break. Then I will leave them to your care, Chief Warden," Lord God An Liang said.

Wang Xingmo and Nameless looked over the entire area as they departed with Lou Wuye. At least they could view the outside environment, even though they were not allowed to freely explore the entire palace. In the Nether World, the evening is longer, and a wisp of fire that appears to be alive is seen flying around. The light in this palace came from this wisp of color fire.

However, what attracted their attention were the individuals dressed in attire resembling that of Yun Ming and this figure known as the Chief Warden. The only difference is that those men were hearing cries, pleading, and cursing while keeping watch over and carrying victims in chains. Wang Xingmo frowns more the more he observes. However, Nameless appeared to be in awe of this location.

Being a devil, he is susceptible to human emotions and sins. He dared not destroy anybody so pure as Wang Xingmo's spirit; instead, he wished to conceal them.

Wang Xingmo knew that this Chief Warden used to wear the vessel of Lu Shang and knew his relationship with Satan.

Wang Xingmo asked politely, "Is it alright for me to ask what this place is?"

"This is the Nether Realm where the Nether Prison is located. It's a place where sinned gods are imprisoned and punished. Wardens like me oversee them. Those people you see dragging people are wardens, likewise the ones being dragged are prisoners. The prisoners you are seeing are the weakest of kinds. They are merely gods and high gods who broke the rules of Vearth.

After being imprisoned and cleansed with fire, they will be thrown out after a few hundreds of years."

"The real deals are being burned underground while being alive and unable to die, all for eternity, until their souls were burned into nothing and were devoid of reincarnation. If you want to know more, go to the Guidance Hall; all information about Vearth is taught there."

Those unfamiliar with the hallways felt lightheaded, as they had changed several times. They met a young man on their way out who had a far more polished majesty than Wang Xingmo had developed in his entire life. It resembles an emperor and a king meeting each other.

Chief Warden greets the young man who is carrying a boy in his embrace. "Lord Qinjing, Young Lord Jingmo, Wuye greets."

"Uncle Wuye, are Dad, Father, Xiao Jing, and Xiaxia back?" The God of Time, Ye Qinjing, asked politely. He had always treated the direct subordinates of his parents as uncles.

Chief Warden responded, "The Lords are in the core region as Xiao Jing and Princess Xia, the disappeared the moment we return here. I don't know where they went."

"I see. Then we'll go ahead now. I saw Uncle Yun on our way here. He should be waiting for you at the entrance."

With these remarks, Ye Qinjing—carrying his younger brother—walk away. Given that the two men were strangers, he did not even assign them to accompany the Chief Warden.

After a few footsteps were heard, their form vanished from that weird hallway that unnerves Nameless and Wang Xingmo. Lou Wuye identifies the two men after noticing their inquisitive looks.

"That one is the eldest son and youngest son of Lord Mo and Lord Ye, the God of Time, Lord Ye Qinjing, and Young Lord Ye Jingmo. Ye Jingxia is the second eldest, and Princess Anxia is the third princess."

"In this world, is it possible for two gods to bear children?" Nameless asked.

Chief Warden answered, "No, you have to go to the lower realm and find a world that allows men to give birth. There are countless worlds like that, as it is almost impossible for gods to have an heir in this realm; their aura is too powerful to bear an heir in the upper realm."

Nameless and Wang Xingmo exchanged gazes as they realized this. Considering how dissimilar their races are, they have long since given up on starting their own families. It appears like nearly anything is achievable these days. If even men can give birth, creating their own family should not be impossible. Their hearts were now full of hope and desire; as for its contents, only they knew.

Meanwhile, in the core region of neither system...

Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing scowled at the remnants of the ruin; the fact that it is only now beginning to be restored indicates how much damage was done here for it to remain unrepaired. Hei Anjing's actual vessel is still intact on the bed Ye Xiajie made for him. Simply put, the enormous World Tree that was erected in the middle of the area appears somewhat charred and bald.

The pair witnessed Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun healing one another not far from the center. It was obvious that their altercation with a prominent person was the cause of this appearance.

The closer Hei Anjing got to his vessel, the more awake and focused he felt, despite his little sleepiness. He requested that his husband travel closer to Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun right away. The God of Void scowled in recognition as he observed the purplish aura devouring the flesh of Mo Baojun's arm, which was sealed by his brother's light aura.

"Uncle Baobei! You are hurt!" Hei Anjing said with worry imprinted on his face.

Mo Baojun glanced at his nephew and said, "It's not much. Don't worry."

Ye Xiajie extends his hand, removing the purple glow that was consuming Mo Baojun's skin, flesh, and blood. Sovereign Ruler of Life and Death, Mo Baojun's wounds began to heal instantly as soon as he removed the purple aura, thanks to the healing power of the Light God.

Shen Siwang startled when he realized what his brother had done. He also made an attempt to get rid of the purple glow, but his hands kept getting consumed and scorched. It would just never stop growing as it consumed his wife's flesh and blood. All he could do was seal it.

Sovereign Shen Siwang asked, "Xia, do you know what that aura is?"

Instead of the God of Void, the one who answered was Hei Anjing, who was now leaning on his body in his soul form.

"The World Eater's Aura of Gluttony," Hei Anjing said.

Ye Xiajie said, "That bastard came here!"

Chapter 1342: Vearth - Karma between Hei Anjing, Ye Xiajie, Hunluan and Tun Shizhe.

Sovereign Ruler Mo was shocked by the startling outburst from the God of Void, which is now happening before his eyes. Mo Baojun was one of the people who detested this man. Ever since his husband, Shen Siwang, has selected him as his eternal partner and other half, the God of Void would act petty towards him, always full of venom, and despises him so much.

Their relationship was like water and oil, and they had been at odds for countless centuries. No matter what, they just could not get along. But if anyone else was aware of the nature of the Void God it would be Mo Baojun.

Unexpectedly, Mo Baojun was rendered speechless by what he saw. The God of Void he knows is the notoriously cruel, haughty, and aloof God of Void. Now, he felt ridiculous seeing Ye Xiajie stroll around clicking his tongue like a cat whose tail was stepped on. Mo Baojun turns around to look at his husband and nephew, wanting to ask if the fool before him is truly the God of Void.

"Is this thing truly your husband, Xiao Jing'er? It wasn't swapped or anything?" Mo Baojun asked in bewilderment.

Hei Anjing responded, "Pfft~ No, that is him when he is flustered and annoyed."

"Definitely him. Haha~" Shen Siwang said.

Observing his stunning wife's expression of disbelief, Shen Siwang laughed. They had facial paralysis, like other Mo Bloodline descendants, but they only revealed to their other half-bad beloved that they were just like any other complex emotional person. This is especially true if a pure Mo bloodline possesses his parents' abilities.

It was said that among the Mo siblings, the youngest had everything their lineage could provide, the second daughter had perfect beauty, and the eldest had unmatched intelligence. It can be claimed that Mo Baojun is the strongest of those who employ the Mo Bloodline, but he possesses the greatest amount of the bloodline's shortcomings.

Of all the Mo family members, he is the most cold-hearted and unsociable. As a result, people who were not related to him felt alienated from him and avoided him.

Mo Baojun does not care that people ignore him, but the average person would be saddened. This is because he is most loved by his parents and siblings, thus, he did not give a damn about what outsiders thought of him. That was, until he encountered Shen Siwang, a strange divinity. The origin of the Mo family is uncertain.

According to their father, he was born into a lonely void and later discovered the planet Vearth, where he eventually met his future wife.

When they initially met, Mama Mo would constantly gripe about how heartless their father had been and how she had been mistreated by being disregarded. It was not until Mama Mo saved Papa Mo and they fell in love that they could finally get along. Due to her orphan status, Mama Mo chose to follow her husband's name and had no connection to her previous monarchy other than her surname.

After receiving three children, they were content.

This is already a marvel for a god, as gods seldom ever have children. Before Hei Anjing and Ye Xiajie discovered the gods can propagate in the lower realm worlds, Hei Anjing was the sole descendant of the Mo Clan after his parent's generation. But now after Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun were married, the couple had two boys together. Mo Wanyi and Shen Yaolan are their names.

They are the God of Dreams and the God of Magic that exist today.

Shen Siwang and Hei Anjing were both amused by the look on Mo Baojun's face. He was aware that his uncle and his husband were not at all friendly toward one another, but it wasn't hatred. They also had a history together, one in which Ye Xiajie accidentally killed his uncle because of the scheming of a few Old Gods that serve the God of Light.

His Uncle Baobei had long since dealt with those individuals following his resuscitation.

Additionally, Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun were the first to go through the Trial of Resurrection and successfully complete it. For this reason, Hei Anjing promptly tracked down his uncle for the details of the Trial of Resurrection after Ye Xiajie was killed by the Ye Gui Race, which ultimately contributed to the current circumstances.

The God of Void died twice, after all, and his soul bits are more elusive. For this reason, Hei Anjing traveled to the lowest worlds for a few hundred years or more before gathering all the necessary resources and bringing Ye Xiajie back to life.

On the other hand, Hei Anjing's soul has suffered greatly over the hundreds of years of reincarnations. For this reason, he nearly died in order to fulfill the final requirement of the Second Phase of the Trial of Resurrection.

Now that the Final Phase of the trial of resurrection has begun, it is now his husband's job to find his soul fragments, and these soul fragments were the ones that went missing when he committed suicide while he was still known as Snow.

The God of Void asked his brother, "Why did that bastard come here? Why did he go to my domain? Does he want to die?"

"He wanted to take away Xiao Jing'er's vessel. We're lucky I was here and took Hei Jue's shift that day as he needed to pick up his daughter. If not for the God of Origin and the God of End helping, that man would have successfully taken away Xiao Jing'er. Be sure to thank them. The God of End was badly injured.

Almost half of his body was eaten by that man." Mo Baojun as he can still remember how his arms were eaten multiple times before Shen Siwang arrived to seal that disgusting aura of gluttony.

"That man's aura, it's gluttony, is it? My question is why he looks so much like you. Even though he can't command the void, he can control the darkness to blend with it. If he is a World Eater fragment, how come he has such intelligence? I thought that the World Eater is just a mindless, insatiable being," Mo Baojun said.

He asked too many straightforward questions that left Ye Jieye unable to say anything. The more he tries to hide, the more Mo Baojun's face turns cold.

Hei Anjing spoke to ease the tension in the area.

"Uncle Baobei, I can explain that for him. Unlike me, he didn't have many of his memories of our first life," Hei Anjing said.

All three knew what he meant when he talked about his first life. After all, the God of End disclosed his true identity to him at the very end of the Second Phase of the Trial of Resurrection.

Hei Anjing motioned for his spouse to join him at the table. He could temporarily appear even while he was in his soul form and still inside the range of his original vessel. He would have to sleep for at least five hours to get the three soul bits his husband had managed to successfully gather. The God of Void approached him, held him for a brief while, and then laid him down on his lap.

A hug enveloped him from behind. Acting like a coquettish lion towards his tamer. Mo Baojun gave the God of Void a contemptuous gaze, but he was ignored.

Shen Siwang and Mo Baojun waited for him to say something. A portion of those memories were seen by Ye Xiajie thanks to Ye Jieye, this soul fragment, sharing that part of memory with him. Thanks to this, the God of Void could at least comprehend his relationship with Hunluan and how things ultimately worked out, even though it was incomplete.

Hei Anjing started saying, "As you all know, I am Hunluan, yet I am not. It can be said that I am a part of him, but the real Hunluan and the real World Eater had died with him. At least that's what you guys have heard. Not even the Origin and the End knew what Hunluan had done. I haven't remembered every memory he used to own, but I know what he wanted to do but not everything he had done.

He allowed himself to be eaten by the World Eater and used his soul to cause explosion that affects the soul, but this is not to kill Tun Shizhe but to free him from the effects of Chaos energy in him."

"The existence of Chaos is everything. He is the most powerful existence even beyond the power of the Origin and End. He has the ability to create and the ability to destroy everything in existence. It's just like his name implies, he is Chaos. He is the source of disorder and confusion. He can never be the source of stability.

The existence of Divine Laws was created by him to restrain himself."

"Being beside Chaos or him just existing means endless disarray, endless war, endless death, and endless suffering. The Gods born in a natural sense like the Origin and the End will always be born as a pair, like how Uncle Shen is born as a light and A'Xia as darkness, like how my dad is the God of Judgement and my father is the God of Punishment. For one to exist, everything must be in balance."

"But when Hunluan was born, he was alone. He can create chaos, but there was no one to pacify him. The Origin and the End were afraid of his ability growing and locked him up within the Abyss. He was so lonely as a child. He felt jealous of his parents and of everything in existence. Thus, he created someone to live by his side.

That is Tun Shizhe, his world."

"Unfortunately, Chaos' ability is too powerful and the world is too weak. In the end, he got affected by himself. All negativity in existence was poured in him. The World started to yearn, to desire, and to be greedy. He wanted Chaos for himself, but Origin, the End, and everything wanted to separate them. Thus, the evil in him was born.

The standing between Hunluan and Tun Shizhe is a gap he can never fill. After all, the former is his creator, and he is just a creation."

"As the darkness filled the world's heart, his desires for more power greatly increased. He found out that the fastest way to get stronger is to consume everything. Thus Gluttony was born. But this is a power beyond his control. He started losing himself and in the end slowly but surely ended up getting mad. He became a pure evil with half-sanity.

Sometimes he would lose himself, and when he regained his rationality, everything had been done and was not something he can remember. He had killed, killed, and killed until Hunluan found him."

"To Hunluan, Tun Shizhe is his other half, but to the eyes of others, Tun Shizhe is nothing but a failure that cannot even be called a God. When Tun Shizhe started to lose his mind more frequently, Hunluan could hardly cover for him. In the end, the Origin, the End, and the others wish for Tun Shizhe's death.

But Hunluan couldn't do it, thus he gave all his emotions to Tun Shizhe every time he killed him, wanting to make him feel emotions at least, but that attempt is a failure."

"Tun Shizhe would never die unless the Chaos disappeared forever. Thus, they started fighting, killing one another, but both are immortals with just their bodies alone. I still haven't remembered yet how Hunluan did it, but he used his soul as a catalyst to shatter the soul of Tun Shizhe. He killed most of the corrupted part and let the rational one enter reincarnation."

"The World Eater fragments that only know how to eat are the corrupted parts and the rational parts are the sentient ones. A soul like Xia and that man who called himself Tun Shizhe are the rationals. They had been reincarnated as another being without connection to the World Eater. But once they started to merge their ability of gluttony, insanity would once again emerge.

A'Xia is the strongest among the rational ones. It can be said that he had become the World Eater's Core."

Hei Anjing's explanation left the other three dumbfounded. They couldn't believe that Ye Xiajie, who is supposed to be the God of Void, was the main soul of the World Eater.

Shen Siwang said, "How is that possible? Xia was born with me. How could he become the main soul of the World Eater!?"

"I don't know. I can't remember. Maybe, like how Hunluan had hidden from me to be reborn as Snow, he must have done something for the God of End to make him use that part of Tun Shizhe to create the Void. Or maybe Hunluan did something for the God of End not to realize whatever catalyst he used to create the God of Void is a part of Tun Shizhe.

The only one who knows the truth is that old man." Hei Anjing said.

Mo Baojun asked, "Then why does that man want to take your vessel away? Is it possible to revive Hunluan?"

"No, after I was reborn as Snow, the chaos power had already shattered, thus Hunluan would never return. Because he is me without power, yet not me as I am born as a new being. The fact that I don't have chaos energy in me makes me different from him," Hei Anjing said.

"All I know is that among the rational soul fragments of the World Eater, that man you met possessed all the memories of Tun Shizhe before he had gone crazy. So his obsession towards Hunluan will never fade. He is also the strongest soul fragment after A'Xia."

Chapter 1343: Vearth - Falling Back in Slumber

The karma between Hunluan, the God of Chaos, and that interloper who shared Ye Xiajie's face, as well as the God of Void and Destruction, was too great. Given that this relationship dates back to a time when ancient gods such as the Origin and the End initially appeared, it is difficult to ignore.

Hunluan, the God of Chaos, and Tun Shizhe, the World Eater, have a particularly close bond that culminates in a horrible finale.

Ye Xiajie, who is denying his status as a member of the World Eater in his heart, could not help but shake while embracing his cherished wife after telling Mo Baojun and Shen Siwang the past of the guy who assaulted the Nether System Core Region.

"That's not me. I refuse to believe that the World Eater is connected to me. My ability to devour was something I got after merging souls with Ye Gui and Xia Jieye. It wasn't my ability in the first place!"

The God of Void spoke, but his declarations come off more as justifications and denials. The first God of Void, Xia Jieye, is known to have left behind a residual spirit, which became Ye Gui, Xia Jieye, before he passed away and reborn as Ye Xiajie, the system's owner. Still, the two Sovereigns remained silent, watching him without responding with a word.

Hei Anjing was the only one who gently persuaded him with words of affection and trust.

Hei Anjing said, "He is not you. I believe you. You are Xia, my A'Xia. No one else, and never be someone else."

"Hm. You're right. I am Jing'er's Xia and no one else," Ye Xiajie said as he slowly came out of his current state and calmed down.

No matter how the couple interacted, Mo Baojun and Shen Siwang said nothing. They keep a silent watch on their loved ones and do not get involved in their decisions or choices.

Mo Baojun approached his nephew and said, "Xiao Jing'er, your soul is still incomplete. You can't always materialize your soul or it might leave a sequela. Take a rest; you need to take your time healing. Only when your soul is half solidified can you do as you wish, albeit in a controlled manner."

The Sovereign of Life and Death moved his softened gaze from his nephew to the man hugging him, morphing his gaze into a cold one.

"He needs to sleep. Incomplete souls are more fragile than complete ones. You should understand my words, don't you?" Mo Baojun said to the God of Void.

Ye Xiajie finds it annoying that Mo Baojun is speaking to him in this manner, yet this man's lips tells the truth nonetheless. Souls that are incomplete are very brittle. He would never dare risk his safety by placing his other half's soul at danger.

The God of Void looked at Jing'er's smiling figure and kissed his forehead with longing and deep love within those crimson irises. "Your uncle is right. Jing'er, it's time to sleep. I will stay by your side until you fall asleep."

"Um, I actually want to see our children before falling asleep. I've seen Xiao Jing and Xiaxia. If possible, I want to see Xiao Qin and Momo before entering my slumber," Hei Anjing said.

Ye Xiajie said, "I will ask Wuye to bring them over."

Abruptly, there was a voice from beyond the core area. The duty of assuming command of the Nether System in the absence of the God of Void fell to Lord God An Liang. Nonetheless, An Liang and Ye Xiajie did not need to treat one another like superiors and subordinates because they are close friends.

Nevertheless, unlike before, An Liang decided not to intervene at the highest level of the Nether System after he had once betrayed his friend in order to protect his daughter. He will now obtain permission before entering the Core Region.

{Xiao Ye, Xiao Qin came over with Xiao Mo to see you. I leave them to you.}

"Okay. Thanks for the hard work," the God of Void said.

{Don't worry about the Nether System and focus on Xiao Jing first. Leave the rest to me.}

Ye Qinjing and Ye Jingmo materialized in the Core Region with a wave of their hands. Uncle Shen and Granduncle Mo, their parents, were seen by the two. When they arrived, their father was grinning, and the two met eyes in his soul. Ye Jingmo flew in the direction of Hei Anjing, wriggling out of his older brother's grasp.

"Daddy~"

Hei Anjing happily hugged his youngest son and smiled at his eldest with the same affection as he used to look at the baby in his arms.

"Xiao Qin, come over and see dad," Hei Anjing said.

As the adoptive son of these two men in front of him, Ye Qinjing had never received any different treatment from the Mo, Ye, or Hei Clan. He welcomed his granduncles and moved over to his parents before giving Hei Anjing, who was only in his soul form, an embrace.

Even though he is not physically there, he still feels the same sense of comfort that these arms provide for him when he is in his father's embrace. Upon seeing the reunion of the family, Mo Baojun and Shen Siwang made the decision to quietly part ways.

"Father, Dad, how are you doing? Where are Xiao Jing and Xiaxia?" Ye Qinjing asked.

Ye Xiajie rustled his son's hair and said, "We are doing fine. Don't worry. Thanks to what you did before your dad woke up early. As for your siblings, they disappeared somewhere as soon as we returned. You can look for them later."

"Xiao Qin, we found you a nice place. It wasn't big enough, but it's a small dimension full of resources and useful time elements to grow," Hei Anjing said as he glanced at his husband, asking him to give every time he took away from that dimension.

Ye Xiajie's fingers snapped, and a few hills of Time Ore materialized behind Ye Qinjing. After selecting one, he was pleased with the ore's purity. To evolve their divine laws, named gods with a selected element required the element's pure resources. Even on Vearth, time elements are scarce. Ye Qinjing has received everything from the God of Void and the God of Destruction.

He had access to all the resources for time elements, supported by Mo, Hei, and Ye Clan. Even so, he has a hard time finding a reliable source of funding given how uncommon it is. Finding a reliable source of resources to increase his power would not be an issue if the dimension his parents mentioned was home to this kind of ore.

Ye Xiajie asked, "Is it useful to you, Qin'er?"

"Yes, Father! These ore have enough purity. After using some spell circle to purify it further, it would be a great help to me. What are the coordinates of this dimension?" Ye Qinjing asked.

Seeing how happy his son is, the God of Void, who recalled some parts of the dimension destroyed by him, made this father a bit guilty. He also killed most of the aborigines of that dimension. Thankfully, he didn't kill the main core of the place, or that dimension would be in ruins now.

Ye Xiajie told his wife the coordinates, who instantly opened a portal that connected to that dimension, but he pinched the leg of his husband for what he had heard.

Hiss! The two young gods were stunned by the interaction between their parents.

"What's wrong, Daddy?" Ye Jingmo asked.

Hei Anjing smiled at his children and said, "It's nothing. Your father had done something annoying, so Daddy pinched him." Then he held his eldest son's hand and said, "Xiao Qin, your father was careless and destroyed a part of that dimension. Use this star core and bring a repairer with you to help repair that place. You can send all the cost of repair to the Nether System."

"Thank you, Dad!"

With great delight, Ye Qinjing took hold of the high-star core. That is an A-class star core just by looking at the red shade. It indicates that it is the star core of an A-tier world, and with this, he will be able to retrieve and rebuild the unowned dimension star that his parents are giving him.

Hei Anjing smiled at his eldest son and glared at his husband. "You know that dimension is something useful to Xiao Qin; how can you cause havoc in that place?"

"Baby, I'm wrong. It wasn't me who caused all the ruins. It's Roi! he caused the aborigines to explode themselves just to try to kill him," the God of Void explained. Unfortunately, his wife didn't buy it.

The two young gods slip out while their parents are fighting. The proportions that matched Ye Qinjing's time factor thrilled him. As the God of Time, he can use it to construct a physical domain. Upon seeing his older brother's new toy, Ye Jingmo became intrigued. Despite being a young god, he was aware of the concept of materializing the domain.

Though their primary territories are distinct, Vearth is Sovereign Shen Siwang and Sovereign Ye Xiajie shared territory.

The Abyss was the principal dominion of the God of Void, who possessed all the darkness in the universe. He expanded just enough to include the Netherworld, which is home to the Nether System. The primary source of light, the greatest sun, contains the God of Creation's personal temple. He expands his sanctuary to include the God System, much like Ye Xiajie did.

Their domains are said to be the largest that have ever existed.

Somewhere outside the Netherworld.

Ye Jingmo, who was carried away by his elder brother, asked, "Dage, are we going to play? Let's bring Erge and Meimei."

"Sure. Let's go look for them. Dad and Father are busy, so let's take our leave," Ye Qinjing said.

Ye Jingmo had always been obedient. As long as there is a book in his hand, he can be bought anywhere and is interested in almost everything.

Back to the Core Region of the Nether System...

Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing took a while before noticing that their children had left. After fighting for a bit, they started flirting and finally remembered their children, but when they turned around, there were only them around.

"Where did they go?" Hei Anjing mumbled.

The God of Void said, "They must have gone to that dimension. There shouldn't be any danger with Qin'er with them. The leader of that place is not that powerful anyway. Qin'er is already a celestial. He wouldn't have a hard time overtaking that place."

He continues speaking as he sees his wife's drowsy form, where Hei Anjing is dozing off and likely to doze off at any moment. Ye Xiajie begins to feel terrible, seeing how fragile his wife's soul is; after all, he was the one who had to kill himself as Snow in order to liberate his wife from this state.

Hei Anjing noticed that his beloved stopped talking and noticed the worry within those crimson eyes. "Don't worry. My soul is unharmed. It's just that it's still too weak. My love, I need to go back to sleep. I don't know if I will wake up in the next world.

Always be careful, even if that is my soul fragment. Don't let him hurt you. As I myself am not even willing to harm you. Remember, you are the most important and my everything." He finally closed his eyes and faded before Ye Xiajie's eyes. He saw his wife's soul return to his vessel.

The soul had returned, and the heart of his wife's original vessel began to beat once more. The faint sounds of breathing and heartbeat are now audible in the core area. Ye Xiajie relaxed at this steady sound. However, his eyes took in the surrounding wreckage with a startling brutality and hardness.

He positioned every creature that exists in the dark to defend the Core Region of the Nether System with their life, submerging it entirely within the Void.

"Protect my wife with everything. Until I come back, all other visitors or trespassers must be killed on the spot. This is regardless of who they are."

Monster voices reacted to Ye Xiajie's command practically incessantly as his cold, low, and gruff voice resounded throughout the chasm. This demonstrates how many dark beings reside in the chasm and how many lives were devoted to serving the God of Void.

Chapter 1344: Vearth - A Warden's Responsibility

Tun Shizhe peered at the movements of the Void that completely encased that place, which he could not invade, somewhere within the cosmos. He can actually defeat Mo Baojun because, unlike the God of Light, Shen Siwang, he is not a born sovereign.

But he restrained his murderous intent upon recognizing the recognizable features that resembled those of Hunluan, and Shen Siwang and the End nearly killed him.

"That bastard locked in Hunluan's vessel for himself again! He truly shouldn't exist!!" Tun Shizhe muttered in rage.

There was a long sword slash on his left arm that sent forth scorching effects. He finds it inconceivable that he might be harmed by a simple sovereign made by the beginning and the end. He is a product of chaos. Despite not having complete control over everything in this universe, he is nonetheless able to exert control over it.

It should not have hurt him so badly because light components had left such a large wound. His sole goal while entering Vearth covertly was to remove Hunluan's corpse.

He finally understood something was wrong when he failed to do so and wound up. At that moment, Hunluan died with them, and the majority of his Chaos Power had combined with everything—all living things, all galaxies, and the universe. All the gods who were born after their deaths fall into this category. The mere thought of these creatures robbing his beloved of her strength made him furious.

He was unable to murder them all, even if he wanted to.

First, his strength is insufficient just now. Even the worthless soul core of their former selves eluded him. In addition, he fears going insane and killing Hunluan a second time. Gluttony is a power that cannot be placed on one person since it drives people insane, just as it once did. However, he found Tun Shizhe's helplessness irritating.

"If only I am powerful enough that I can take Hunluan away. I need to eat more, the more I eat, the more of my power will return. Wait for me, Hunluan. I will make sure to wake you up." Tun Shizhe once again disappeared amid countless galaxies and universes.

On the other hand, the two Sovereigns, Mo Baojun, and Shen Siwang, were on their way back to the Mo Palace.

On their way home, they take a cloud ride. Shen Siwang saw that his spouse was unusually silent and introspective. He was clueless as to Mo Baojun's concerns. He would grow accustomed to his wife's longstanding prejudice against Hei Anjing. Hei Anjing, Mo Yue, and Hei Sian's parents left their son in their care since they were too preoccupied with their own research and jobs.

Shen Siwang asked, "Wifey, what are you thinking about? Don't worry about Xiao Jing'er; Xia is with him."

"That's not what I am worried about. Hubby, did you notice something about Jing'er?" Mo Baojun asked.

Bewildered for a moment, Shen Siwang responded, "Isn't he the same as always?"

"For me, he seems to be more polite towards that brat, or is it just me?" Mo Baojun mumbles.

Shen Siwang chuckles, "Isn't he always like that? Don't overthink. According to Xiao Jing'er, both the God of Void and the World Eater are truly dead. It's better to focus on retrieving Xiao Jing'er's soul fragments."

"I hope I am indeed just thinking too much," Mo Baojun said

Vearth, God City...

When Sea God Lanyu and the Eleven God Kyle Reen visited the Guidance Hall, Warden Yun Ming was taken aback to see a crowd of people assembling there. It appears that a notable and significant individual has come. In Vearth, Hei Anjing, the God of Destruction, is a highly revered deity who possesses great strength and beauty. However, because he is a member of the Mo Clan, he is an untouchable sort.

The other lesser gods can only bow their heads in his presence each time he makes it to the main city. Because most of the Mo Clan's members held positions that were foreign to everyone else, the majority of them were regarded in this manner. They are renowned because two of them are related to the two sovereigns that once controlled this region.

It is as if, by instinct, the lesser ones can only submit to the stronger ones; even though the hierarchy in this universe is not all that rigid, the existence of those who stood above all gods cannot be disputed. Because of this, most sovereigns shy away from public appearances since they do not want to be regarded with great respect by others.

They will not go to areas such as these unless absolutely essential. Consequently, the person in the crowd cannot be a member of the Mo Clan.

Ye Xiajie, the God of Void and Darkness, and Shen Siwang, the God of Creation and Light, would not show up in areas without their spouses. They are the epitome of the henpecked, clinging husband. These two sovereigns would not also materialize until Mo Baojun and Hei Anjing did.

The Hei Clan is also very well-liked, but unlike the other gods, they can teleport with ease, thus it is difficult to get a good look at them. They would teleport there, and others would already be fortunate to see them. Thus, the great gods that have quite high positions but low origins are the ones that these other gods can capture.

For example, Yun Ming, the former god of fate, is still considered by other gods to be a former good deity rather than an evil god born of birth, despite being a warden and holding a higher rank than before. Still, other gods would welcome Yun Ming along the route as a sign of reverence for his might.

Lou Wuye's presence is too strong for other gods to approach, despite the fact that some people worship him for his previous titles, such as War God of some Death Zone. Those who look up to him observe him from a distance, since he is also pretty attractive.

Along the way, the Elven God and Sea God observe people as they welcome Warden Yun Ming. Though they were astonished, they realized that in any given world, the weaker people would look up to the stronger ones as elite officers on Vearth, and celestial gods making appearances in the city would cause commotion.

Elven God Reen noticed the commotion at the entrance of the guidance hall. "The Guidance Hall today is a bit boisterous. Did another powerful god come into the city?"

They heard some goddesses shouting from a distance, not far from them.

"Ah! It's Lord God Cao Xinsheng and Demon War God Yao Xiewu! Ah! They are both hot!"

"I heard Lord God Cao is Sovereign God O's disciple. He is so amazing!"

"Demon Lord Yao is also powerful. I heard he executed a group of destroyers from his world and brought them all back here to be imprisoned in Nether Prison."

Elven Reen recognized the Lord God of God System and said, "So, it's the boss. No wonder. He has always been popular."

"He is your boss?" Sea God Lanyu asked. He actually doesn't know the hierarchy of power in this realm. All he knows is that the gods in Ye Jieye and Mo Xuejing's bodies are at the top of the class. "Is he more powerful than the Venerable Lords that brought us here?"

"No. The two Venerable Lords who brought us here are one of the leaders of this realm. They are the peak of power in Vearth. Sovereign God Ye and the God of Destruction, Lord Hei, are the rulers of neither system. The man with the monocle lens at the Throne Hall is called Lord God An Liang.

He is the Lord God of the Nether System, and he answers to the commands of Sovereign God Ye and Venerable Lord Hei," Elven God Reen said.

Warden Yun Ming added, "Meanwhile Lord God Cao Xinsheng is the Lord God of the God System. His position is similar to Lord God An Liang. The rulers of the God System are the brother of Lord Ye and the uncle of Lord Hei. They are the Sovereign God Shen Siwang and the Sovereign God Mo."

"How about you, Lord Warden Yun, and the Chief Warden?" Sea God Lanyu asked.

Warden Yun Ming answered, "Our position is equal to that of Lord God An, but he is like our superior in the Nether System if Milord is not around. Wuye and I are direct subordinates of Lord Ye and Lord Hei, so aside from them, no one can order us unless it's an emergency and none of the two are available. Only then can Lord God An command us."

All of a sudden, some gods noticed Yun Ming and even knew about his past before he became a warden.

"Is that the former God of Fate, Lord Yun!? He is still alive?"

"Shss! Watch your mouth. I heard he was pardoned for his sins, and Venerable Lord Hei accepted him under his tutelage. If you get punished, then it's thanks to your loose mouth."

"I heard he is the partner of Nether Prison's Chief Warden Lou. Isn't that amazing!? His position is equal to that of Lord God Cao!"

"Actually, didn't they say that his sin had something to do with Lord God Cao? He was stripped of his former title as the God of Fate and it had something to do with Lord God Cao."

"Chief Warden Lou vs Lord God Cao? I wonder who Lord Warden Yun will choose in the end."

When they noticed Yun Ming and the other two High Gods looking at them, this group of Lesser Gods was terrified, especially when the gentle smile on Warden Yun Ming disappeared.

Yun Ming asked with a menacing aura, "What did you say?"

Hic!

"We are sorry, Lord Warden Yun!!!"

These groups of lesser gods also wanted to kneel when they heard no response from Lord Warden Yun.

"It is indeed true that I used to be a prisoner and that a sin of mine had been erased after being punished in the Nether System. I've completed my trial, and I am also thankful to Lord Hei for accepting me. But... I hope you don't attach anyone with my name aside from Chief Warden Lou. I will get angry if you compare Wuye with someone else!" Yun Ming declared.

From a distance, the other parties, including Cao Xinsheng and Yao Xiewu, were drawn to their side's disturbance. Yun Ming was in the group, as Lord God Cao witnessed. Though he heard what Yun Ming had to say, he did not give it any thought. Although they were buddies as children, Cao Xinsheng saw Yun Ming more as a younger brother.

He therefore felt that he had wronged Yun Ming when he learned that Yun Ming had turned himself in to the Nether Prison. Unbeknownst to him, Yun Ming considered him more of a sibling.

Cao Xinsheng said, "A'Ming? You are back. How's Lord Hei?"

Yun Ming clasped his hand in greeting. "Yun Ming greets Brother Cao and Brother Yao."

"You have indeed grown up well. I heard you have become a warden. Congratulations!" Demon War God Yao Xiewu said. Even though he wasn't too close to Yun Ming when they were young, he treated this little brother of his friend as his brother as well.

"Thank you, Brother Yao," Yun Ming said as his smile returned. It was a bit awkward due to the situation, but he wasn't as expressionless as before they arrived. "Brother Cao, Lord Hei still needs to rest, so he has gone back with Lord Ye."

"That's also good. So what is happening here?" Lord God Cao Xinsheng asked; in reality, he already knew the cause of the chaos.

He did not think someone as close to them would have the audacity to discuss their superior's past. He had no idea why this bunch of gods had trouble keeping their tongues in their mouths. Did they believe the Chief Warden to be a benevolent god?

Now, the group of Lesser Gods had bowed down and begged for pardon. There is no way the Chief Warden would not know about it too, even if the Lord God got involved. No matter how mild the chief warden's punishment was, it would still result in unending bad luck. They did not want to be punished or lose their access to Vearth as a result of this error.

"Spare us! Please forgive us. We will never do it again!"

"We won't talk indiscriminately anymore. Please spare us, Lord Warden!"

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I have a loose tongue. Please forgive me!"

Abruptly, a phalanx of Lesser Gods began to bow down before Yun Ming. There are strong divine laws that must be obeyed on Vearth, despite the rigid hierarchy between the gods. Although a minor one, slandering one's superior is a sin as well. The least severe penalty is having their tongues extracted, and the most severe is being prohibited from ever setting foot on Vearth, the Highest Realm World.

Vearth is the last chance for gods, particularly those who have ascended after departing from their own worlds. The potential of eternal life can be realized as long as they can enter this domain. You can purchase anything in this place using points. Treasures and money are not really very helpful until they can be traded in for points.

These points can be accrued to purchase the resources required to improve one's cultivation, longevity, etc. Earth is the Sanctuary of God.

While everyone was looking at the people kneeling on the ground, a tall shadow appeared behind Yun Ming, looming over him and those who were kneeling on the ground. Everyone recognized who he was with just this full black armor that only the Chief Warden wore.

"In Vearth, there are no police to control the public. There are only Divine Laws. As the Chief Warden, it is my job to punish the doers. According to the system, it's your first offense and only a light punishment must be dealt."

Before the lesser gods below could react, a few black chains loomed out of the shadows under their feet, snagging them as they tried to run. The Chief Warden's inhumane, purple eyes gleamed beneath his armor, harsh and frigid from his confinement. He looked expressionless as he held a pair of black gloves in his hands and moved the gods' jaws. Then he took out their tongues.

AAAAAHHHH!!

"Punishment has been dealt with."

The dark cords that can bind all Gods vanished from the shadows as the Chief Warden completed his mission. Gently, he took off his gloves, which, after a session, turned to ash. The sight was so horrifying that it silenced them all. Now the identity of this cruel one was dealt to all the Gods and Goddesses once more. A strong deity dealt with any gods or goddesses who had transgressed.

This is true regardless of who they are or where they stand. If you disobey, you will be sent to Nether Prison, a kind of hell, by the Chief Warden of Netherworld's black chains.

Chapter 1345: Vearth - Entering the Next World

Despite the shocked looks from those around him, Chief Warden Lou Wuye maintained his composure. It was nothing new to him. No creatures of Vearth who have disobeyed the Divine Laws are not dealt with by the Nether Prison. They are also there to keep Vearth stable.

There are some people that hide in the shadows and maintain order in this world, despite the fact that they do not patrol like police do in the current world. They deal with law and order.

It's just that they are relentless with providing the punishment, and they will do it regardless of location, place, and time. That's why a lot of inhabitants in Vearth dreaded them. When the Chief Warden dealt with that group of slanderers, as was to be expected, nobody spoke up. Lou Wuye calmly kept his gaze on his sweetheart, purposefully disregarding Cao Xinsheng and the others.

The Eleven God Reen gave Wang Xingmo and Nameless some explanations after realizing that they were there for the same reason.

Chief Warden Lou said, "Let's go back and rest. Milord told us to rest until he called us back for the next mission."

Regardless of anyone's reaction, he stretched out and held Yun Ming's hand without hesitation, and his tone softened from icy to loving. taking everyone by surprise.

"Okay! But why are you wearing your armor when you're off duty? Let's remove it. You look stuffy with it on," Yun Ming said as he helped his lover remove his helmet that hid his face.

The reason the majority of gods in this universe were afraid of him was because of this terrifying helmet. As it turned out, he was even more handsome than Cao Xinsheng—a man revered as a god in Vearth. Everyone was waiting to see the Chief Warden's real face. Most of them hazard a guess as to what is hidden behind his black helmet.

Many gods think his damaged face makes him unsightly, so he wears the helmet to hide his identity. A minority feels that he is attractive and was only brought down by his notorious reputation, while some claim he is more ugly than orcs.

His long locks cascade behind his back the instant he removed his helmet. He bowed his head to let his sweetheart take off his helmet on his own, his back curled slightly. Everyone gasped in surprise as they saw the Chief Warden's face. His expression was neutral, but not expressionless. His features were not completely chilly.

Unlike the God of Void or the God of Destruction, he was not a gorgeous or seductive man, but rather a handsome one. The kind that, even if he stays silent, can not help but make you look twice and gain popularity.

Gasps!

"How can he look so... so... good-looking?!"

"He doesn't look like the infamous Chief Warden without his helmet!"

"I don't know if my words sound rude, but why do I see a large wolf purring towards Lord Warden Yun?"

"Ahem. I see it too. Don't worry, you are not alone."

The audience's response resembles a collective astonishment. However, the couple does not give a damn. They engage with each other without regard for the environment. After Lou Wuyue removed his helmet and stashed it away in his space storage, he let his sweetheart rearrange the loose hairs that were all over his face. He felt at ease under his lover's caresses, and his purple eyes squinted.

There was another gasp from the audience as a smile forced his lips to part.

Chief Warden Lou asked, "Are you done?"

"Hm. Yes, handsome. Let's go home," Yun Ming said, and this time he was the one who reached out to hold his lover's hand.

Only then did the two recall Cao Xinsheng and Yao Xiewu. Warden Yun Ming turned around and said this to the two of them.

"We are going ahead, Brother Cao, Brother Yao," Yun Ming said.

Yao Xiewu and Cao Xinsheng bow their heads in farewell. Eleven God Reen was given the remainder of the task to guide the new gods by Yun Ming. All he has to do is go to the guidance hall with the three people who were with him. Lou Wuye and Yun Ming walked out of the area together. It is clear that the Chief Warden despises Cao Xinsheng as he surreptitiously casts a warning glance at him.

Formerly serving as Prisoner Yun Ming's warden during his trials was Chief Warden Lou. He had witnessed the depth of his transgressions and how he broke the law before giving up. However, rather than receiving a stern look from the Chief Warden, Cao Xinsheng was taken aback by something else. It is his bluish purple eyes; in contrast to this man's eyes, his grayish lavender eyes seem to fade.

It seemed that Yun Ming was more taken by someone else whose eye color resembled his than with him, as if recognizing something.

Yao Xiewu and Lord God Cao observe the pair as they leave. There is seldom any harmony between people employed by the God System and those from the Nether System. The Nether System believed that the people from the God System were too virtuous, while the God System's citizens were terrified of them. They hardly ever get along.

Demon War God Yao Xiewu whispered, "You got glared at. This is because Xiao Yun liked you before."

"No. It's wrong. Maybe it's wrong from the start," Cao Xinsheng mumbled.

Bewildered, Yao Xiewu asked, "What do you mean?"

"Maybe I was the substitute in the first place, and he is the one A'Ming had been looking for. Don't you know that A'Ming likes to stare at my eyes before? But as soon as that man arrived, his eyes didn't land on me again after the Chief Warden arrived," Cao Xinsheng said.

Yao Xiewu understood that his friend's statements appeared to be true as he thought back to the happenings from just now. Abruptly moved by his friend's plight, he was grateful that he was not a romantic partner for Yun Ming.

"It's alright, Cao. Even though you're a single dog, you are a good dog," Yao Xiewu said while patting his friend's shoulder.

Cao Xinsheng retorted, "You are a dog. Your whole family is..." He suddenly held back his words as he remembered that this bastard's lover happened to be his master's eldest son. Calling this man a dog meant calling himself a dog as well.

The Demon War God grins as he sees Cao Xinsheng holding back his words. There is no way he can call his master a dog; that would be rude.

"Fuck! Scram to where you are supposed to go. You've finished your report with me!" Lord God Cao Xinsheng said.

Demon War God Yao Xiewu said, "You're married to your job. That's why you are still single until now. Even Lord God An is already married with a daughter; when are you going to give me a nephew?"

"If you take over my job, I'll get you a sister-in-law. Are you up for it?" Cao Xinsheng asked with narrowed eyes.

Yao Xiewu was aware that it would not be difficult to assign his work to someone else even if his friend mentioned these things. For it to occur, he requires his master's approval. The eldest son of the Sovereign God Mo, Mo Wanyi, is one among the contenders for it. He can inherit the God System just by virtue of his family. Sadly, his sweetie is really indolent.

He loves to snooze and will not move until absolutely required. He eventually turned into the God of Dreams for this reason.

"Did you say something? I will go now as I still need to pick my sweetheart up at his place. I will go ahead."

"You bastard! Wait for me! I need to go to the Mo Palace to report to my master!"

A few local deities were left in disbelief when these two vanished as well. They were surprised to find that those in positions of authority were not all that dissimilar from them. They have their own obligations and jobs as well. Their cultivation power is the only distinction.

The God of Void fortified the defenses in the central area where his spouse's vessel is concealed. He had made sure that only he was permitted to visit his wife because of Tun Shizhe's attempt to have her taken away. Hei Anjing can only be visited by the others—regardless of their identities—while he is within the Nether System.

If not, nobody will be permitted to enter the chasm, and anyone found trespassing will be immediately executed.

The Mo and Hei Clan members did not become too enraged. It is a known fact that not even Mo Baojun could kill the man with the gluttony ability. Shen Siwang was able to stop the man, but he could not stay in the Nether System for too long because he was the other realm owner and had many duties.

When Ye Xiajie was still in Vearth, he spent more time with the kids. Because it had such an impact on the last star that it was forced to grow into a D-grade one, it was agreed that he would not be visiting the lower-tier worlds for the time being. Strong influences also come from Tun Shizhe and other items he carried with him.

This makes his Jing'er suffer and brings some karma to bear on his wife's soul piece.

He was only in Vearth for a single year. A year is hardly more than a few days in the eyes of Gods. When the two systems, Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang, were finally called in from their vacation, it was Chief Warden Lou Wuye and Warden Yun Ming who were called in. He left their eldest son, Ye Qinjing, in charge of the children.

Knowing that their father would have to go once more in search of their father's soul fragments made the cubs a little depressed.

Once the kids had left, Ye Xiajie, the two wardens, and the two systems were the only ones left in the Nether System's core area, keeping an eye on his wife's ship.

Zhi Yue, this Moon God, asked, "Master, are we going to leave now?"

"Yes. The faster I gather Jing'er's soul, the less danger he is in. You can randomly choose a star to enter, but not in the lowest realm world as it might get affected by outsiders to the point of errors occurring," the God of Void said.

Zhi Yue pursed his lips and said, "Master, I don't dare to choose. I made roulette for it in case the Master doesn't want to choose a world for himself. Please press the button for it to start spinning."

Lord Hei's soul fragments were reincarnated in the following stars, and a roulette was divided into those stars and assigned to each one in the circle. Though Zhi Yue fears his master's misfortune in such matters, the SS and S-grade worlds were purposefully made smaller.

Tsk!

Ye Xiajie observed his foolish system's efforts as well. "I wanted to avoid the low-tier worlds, and you made it huge enough to be chosen regardless of the spin," he scowled at the idea. With a chilly hum, he pushed the button in front of him. With the exception of him, who had already lost interest in it, everyone's eyes and attention were fixed on the roulette when it began spinning quickly.

Zhi Yue was mumbling while clasping his hands in a prayer. "Not the S-grade worlds. Please, not those darn deadly worlds! Oh God, please bless me!"

Sigh~

"Yue'er, you're a god yourself. Why ask for a blessing from another god?" Zhi Yang said as he looked helplessly at his silly alter ego.

Yun Ming looked worriedly at the slowly spinning roulette and frowned. "We wouldn't get the S-grade worlds?"

"Don't jinx it, honey," Chief Warden Lou said.

AAAH!!

Suddenly, they heard Zhi Yue cry, as though he were unhappy with his life. If it were not for the fact that Hei Anjing was unconscious and did not hear Zhi Yue's cries, the God of Destruction would have given him a severe thrashing.

"No way, I can't believe it. Not getting an S-grade is good, right? But there is no need to give us a red star, which is an A-grade world! Master how unlucky you can be!" Zhi Yue complained while grabbing his hair in denial.

Compared to his foolish system's response, the God of Void was ecstatic. Ultimately, the stronger the incarnation of his wife, the higher the rating. In this manner, Jing'er can heal more quickly when the soul fragment combines with the main soul.

"This one is better. Yue immediately began the transfer to this red star," the God of Void commanded.

Even in despair, Zhi Yue continued to work. Before allowing the three hosts to assume control of the spacecraft, he establishes a connection to the red star and randomly selects it, and then he opens a space node. The avatar forms of the two systems had been restored.

System Yang took over the transfer and said, [Initiating Soul Transfer.]

[The connection to the Red Star had been established!]

[Red Star coordinates had been found.]

[Creating connection with the world's Heavenly Laws.]

[The Transfer request had been approved.]

System Yue said to the God of Void, [Master, please grab the red star.]

System Yang said, [Soul Transfer will begin soon. Hosts, please get ready!]

Following instructions, Ye Xiajie took hold of the red star. There was a strong air of cosmic components all around. The Soul was on its way. Ye Xiajie, Yun Ming, Lou Wuye, and the two systems were drawn into the red star, which was glowing brightly red. They must now finish a lifetime in this new environment they are entering.

[Ding! Soul Transfer to the Red Star is complete.]

Chapter 1346: Second Red Star - Zerg Planet

The Red Star the group has chosen is not an ordinary world. It is a world ruled by humanoid Zergs, not humans, with rules and ways of life entirely apart from those of the outside world. Hive is the name of the world. where most Zergs reside, particularly those with high ranks. Prominent zergs are able to proliferate because they can communicate while in human form.

In Hive, there is a hierarchical structure. The queen is the strongest, but the king is the one with the most power. Males and females are the only two genders, yet it is merely the gender determined by how they seem on the outside; they are all men.

The legend that has been passed down through the Zerg Race's bloodlines states that there once lived an Emperor and an Empress. It is reported that the emperor is the only male zerg who possesses beautiful wings on his back. He was able to command every zerg in the universe, and he only had love for one, whom he treated as the Empress. There is a female empress.

His strength and combat prowess surpass those of any female; the emperor is the greatest among them.

Regretfully, the human race, which repeatedly sought to exterminate the Zerg race, had ended this bloodline. Their lineage was severed upon the demise of the Zerg Emperor and Zerg Empress. Over time, the emperor's bloodline becomes thinner, but it has also become tainted.

Now, every female is weaker than every male, and because of their mental degradation, females are most likely to become insane. A female mental riot can only end in death unless a guy intervenes to mend it. These females are dependent on males for survival, even if they are the strongest.

The Zerg Emperor's lineage had become extremely sparse, and no other male was born with fully developed wings. Even the royal family of today has little wings that pale in comparison to those of the females. The guys began mistreating and torturing the females for amusement due to their inferior mentality toward them and their power over them. This persisted up to the present day.

Augustus Kaiser, the current Zerg Race King, is a notorious monarch who enjoys hosting all the attractive females in his harem. He is a jerk who enjoys abusing women for amusement and uses these kinds of charades to demonstrate his dominance. Being a S+ Zerg male at birth, he is also the most fertile guy in the universe.

However, out of all the female Zerg Race members, the current Queen is the strongest. For his king, he had protected the Hive throughout the years. All he asked for was assistance with his mental breakdown and a cub, but the scumbag king disregarded his obligations as a man and even cast him inside the frigid palace, where he would slowly perish from mental illness.

Queen Titania Ambrosia, devoid of love and care from her male, blackened and mutated as the only female who was reborn as the strongest in the world and no longer had mental healing as his mind had been broken from the start. He desired to exact revenge on the idiot who transformed him into this hideous alter ego.

In Hive, the higher the class of a male, the more fertile he is and the more powerful his mental ability is. For females who need the mental abilities of males, he yearns for the strongest male who can help them cure their mental disorders and help them give birth to cubs. Cubs in hives are scarce, and all females wanted them.

The males are further envious of the females since they were born with stunning wings. Even though they were very strong fighters, they were nevertheless powerless to challenge the males' authority and allowed themselves to be mistreated and tortured. Following the demise of the Zerg Emperor and Zerg Empress, this perverse combination of male and female zergs persisted.

That is exactly the reverse of what the zergs did all those thousands of years ago. Ladies and gentlemen were equals, at least in that period. It is also true that couples love one another. Not in this day and age where men are considered superior to women as masters.

In the Imperial Palace, Cold Palace...

Once more, Queen Titania was treated worse in her own house than by servants. The Cold Palace's interiors appeared dismal and impoverished as the male attendants, who loomed above him, robbed us of food and essentials. The unexpected breakage of items within his palace had a negative effect on the recently mutated queen. Trembling, he collapsed to the chilly ground as his strength failed him.

Red blood trails from the corners of his lips.

"Useless Queen! You can't even give the King a cub! What's the use of keeping you since you are useless? Then you don't need to eat today!?"

A female servant bravely stood in the way of the male servant who was about to kick the queen once more. Because female bodies are stronger than male ones, the male servant was the one who felt agony when the kick hit.

"Ahh! Stupid bitch! You are hurting me!!" The male servant complained. Without any hesitation, he took a whip from his coworkers and whipped the female servant.

The female servant knelt down and covered his face, even though it hurt. He gave in to the whipping of the male servant. Though technically speaking he could have killed the bastard right then and there, females are not supposed to injure males, thus this agony was seen as a penalty. The world treats female zergs so unfairly.

His attendants prevented the queen from killing the female servant just when she was about to lose control.

"Queen, please don't!"

"If the King hears of this, you will be punished again!"

"Master, you can't get hurt further."

When Queen Titania saw the men beating up the benevolent female servant who had just saved his life, her eyes went bloodshot. The limitations of this world, even the dominance of men over women, were taken away from him as if something inside of him had broken. He overcame the limitations of his heredity and developed into a fully realized individual who is neither male nor female.

It is just a destroyer, nothing can stop it.

Feeling the enormous strength that emanates from his spirit, Queen Titania lets out a deranged chuckle. The cuts he had sustained from the fallout of his failed isolation quickly began to heal. He killed every male zerg by starting a slaughter in the Cold Palace. Queen Titania approaches the staircase leading to the King's chamber while drenched in blood.

There, he witnessed a group of women assembled in a chamber where King Augustus Kaiser beat every harem member with a whip. It is an inhumane sight. The male zergs' dominance was the sole reason behind the denigration of the female zergs, who took great pride in their skills.

Augustus Kaiser doesn't seem surprised at his Queen's arrival and even gives him a smile that looks crazy and distorted.

"My Queen, it's rare for your visit. Did you come to join them? Hm~"

"You lunatic! I'm going to end you!"

Wanting to kill King Augustus, Queen Titania leaped into his arms, but he just had to gesture for all the women in the region to stand in her way. This was the extent of the men's total dominance over the women.

Since he is a descendent of the deceased Zerg Emperor, the king of Zerg should be able to rule even males; sadly, his bloodline had been so severely depleted that only dominion over females remained.

"Move away! I'm going to kill that bastard! Didn't you want to be free? As long as that bastard King is dead, we should be free!" Queen Titania shouted.

Unfortunately, their bloodline is what gives them power over the females; even if they wanted to revolt like Queen Titania, their blood would not let them. They can only attack their queen against their will and gaze at her with tears in their eyes. All of them said they were pleading with him.

"Q-Queen, please, please kill us."

"No more. I can't bear it. Such humiliation. I don't want..."

"Free us, Queen Titania. Please free us. We are so very tired."

His spirit screams louder the more Queen Titania hears. He could not resist glancing at the perpetrator of this scene as he saw other female zergs who looked at him pleading to be slain. Standing at the top of the assembly, King Augustus Kaiser gave them a witty glance.

It was only at that point that Queen Titania realized something else had replaced his previous partner, rather than him having changed. Ultimately, he remains aware of the depths of those lifeless, grayish-red eyes, which seem to be pleading with him to depart.

The trembling lips of King Augustus moved against his will. "Kill... the que... K-Kill me... Titania!" Another soul took over and seems to know the queen himself.

Queen Titania made her move and avoided all the female zergs that wanted to attack him. He appeared in front of King Augustus, and just as he was about to stab the king's heart, that strange soul once again took over and grinned at Titania.

"My dear queen, are you going to kill me again?" King Augustus whispered.

For a moment, Queen Titania was surprised by these comments, but that moment was all it took for the guy to kill Titania before him. Naturally, once Titania suffered serious injuries, the world intervened. Everything in the universe stopped abruptly, with the exception of Augustus and Titania.

King Augustus looked irritated, as he already knew this would happen.

"As expected, it is not possible to kill the beloved son of the world. I was wondering how long the heavens can hold on. Once it flutters, I can finally eat you. My most beloved and most hated you~"

The time of the world had reversed and even Titania could only watch as Augustus watched him go away. He was on the verge of unconsciousness when he saw only confused scenes. When Augustus Kaiser looked up and noticed that the heavens had suddenly become completely dark, he became frightened.

He saw a man's figure, as if the galaxy had dropped, and all he could see were those deep, crimson, monstrous eyes, shining brightly, locked with his silvery gaze.

Before Queen Titania completely submerged in the darkness, he heard Augustus shouting, "Why the hell are you here!?"

He lost consciousness because he was unable to hear what was going on. Suddenly, everything in his world went dark, and he lost the ability to move or see. It was as though he was drifting off to sleep.

Everything in the red star had stopped, and the God of Void and his entourage, who had just entered, saw that the Heavenly Laws were in effect. Although they are gods and are unaffected by this circumstance, they have observed that one individual who is similar to them is not.

Yun Ming frowned and asked, "Who is that? How is he unaffected by the laws of this world?"

"His soul is mixed—something of this world and something else," Chief Warden Lou Wuye said.

System Yue said, [Milord, that is supposed to be your vessel. If something weird is in it, will it put the Lord Jesus in danger?]

[I will find another suitable vessel for Lord Ye.] System Yang said.

The God of Void's eyes narrowed dangerously at Augustus and arrogantly looked down on him. He said, "No need to change. If something like that can control me, then there is no need for me to exist." The arrogance of the strong was emitted in his every word and gesture.

The Heavens had suddenly spoken, {I pleadeth the sov'reign I'd to prithee saveth mine own belov'd issue and this world.}

Translation: [I plead the Sovereign Lord to please save my beloved child and this world.]

The God of Void responded, "Do as you must. I shall do what I desire. Even so, I keep your pleas in mind."

System Yang and System Yue issue the order to seize control of the three hosts' selected vessels. The heavens and earth had turned back time before everything was destroyed by that terrible entity inside Augustus Kaiser's body, and the God of Void had entered the room body of his vessel.

The world reverted to the chronology shortly after Titania Ambrosia was originally taken to the Cold Palace by King Augustus, following the completion of the Time Reversal by the laws of heaven.

Chapter 1347: Second Red Star - The Strongest Male in the World yet also the Weakest body in existence.

At the Imperial Palace...

In Queen Titania's residence, the Cold Palace. Three days have passed since his adored monarch banished him to the chilly palace. He sighed as he opened his eyes and felt a weight in his brain. He glanced at his room's minimal furnishings, realizing that he did not need any additional bedding—his bed was covered just by a thin comforter. His eyelids were puffy, and he felt tired all over.

Only when one sobs all night can one get this kind of puffy eye, but he remembered dying at the hands of that bastard monarch. His brain began to hurt when he attempted to remember more, particularly about the man who had come down from the sky, carrying the dark galaxies with him.

Ugh!

Holding his pounding head, Queen Titania for the anguish to subside. After all, he is an SS+ female. A simple headache would not affect him in the slightest. His headache subsided as predicted after a few minutes, and he got up to examine his eyes. He looked in the mirror and was startled to see a younger version of himself. This is the fifty-year-old 'him'.

When he was sixty-three years old, he mutated. One long-living race is the Bug Race. The strongest have a maximum millennium of longevity, while the worst only have 300.

While touching his face, Titania Ambrosia looked stunned. "This face... don't tell me."

He called for one of the female attendants, who catered to him, and inquired as to the time. Naturally, the response caught him off guard. He had really returned from the moment Augustus Kaiser had just banished him to the Cold Palace. Queen Titania appeared to have temporarily lost his mind as he sent the female servant away.

He had a crazy smile on his gorgeous face and was stout but full of incredulity.

Queen Titania mumbled with a painful smile on her face. "Do you have to suffer everything all over again? Why are you doing this to me?! I already had enough pain!"

While Queen Titania is going insane from her abrupt rebirth into the past with memories from his prior existence, his heart is filled with a rage-filled sense of insanity. Nevertheless, King Augustus Kaiser also awoke in the King's Chamber. However, in contrast to Queen Titania's situation, the person who previously inhabited this body is entirely different.

It has three souls now instead of the original two.

The first is a malevolent being, the second is a mortal, and the third is a god—the God of Void. The vessel was under strain from the three souls' overwhelming presence, which made it even more brittle than it should have been.

The three souls within Augustus Kaiser's body faced each other; it was more like the god's and the evil's souls staring at each other, while the actual Augustus was a shrimp among the battling whales.

The God of Void spoke, "The scent of gluttony coming from your soul. You might be another fragment of the World Eater, but one that is both crazy and sane. How interesting~ did you gain sentience for eating too much and entering an endless cycle of rebirth?"

"You damn! How can you come here?! Someone like you isn't supposed to be here!" The evil soul said.

The God of Void says, "It seems you know about me. Even so, I can't let you exist."

With the ability to regulate gluttony, he was able to use this power to consume the depraved soul. He was immediately consumed by the God of Void's gluttony under the groans and curses of the wicked monster.

"Agh! I won't die like this! I will curse you never to be able to wield your divinity in this body and lock your soul in this vessel forever. Haha~"

"What the---"

It took the Evil creature some resistance to vanish. He instilled a terrible curse in Augustus Kaiser's ship. The instant the caster's soul vanished, the curse came into effect. Ye Xiajie's spirit was bound to his body by a strong curse, preventing him from ever leaving it. All of his godly abilities were likewise sealed. The God of Void was not prepared for such an unforeseen circumstance.

Unfortunately, he couldn't remove it immediately; curses match his soul well, as he is the darkness itself and the source of all negativity in existence. The God of Void saw the chains on his soul but couldn't directly destroy it as it affected the vessel he was in. If he forcibly destroyed it, his current vessel would also be destroyed.

Tsk!

"That wasn't his real soul. It's just a mere fragment. Damn, this vessel! I can't destroy it. If I lost this vessel, I wouldn't be able to find Jing'er in this world and would be forced to leave." The God of Void was annoyed by the curse on him but he couldn't remove it right now due to the fragility of his current vessel.

"Why does my wife always say I'm careless? If he learned about me being cursed, he wouldn't definitely get angry. At least I didn't get hurt this time."

He glares at the soul of Augustus Kaiser and complains, "Just how weak your body is?! So useless!"

"I'm a male zerg. Except for the power of authority, I am weaker than any female zerg in this world. I can't even protect my queen from that bastard. Even so, I was happy to see him for the last time. I heard that when a god takes over one's soul, they grant the owner's wish. If that's true, then...

My wish is to protect Titania Ambrosia from everything, including this world itself," Augustus Kaiser said.

The God of Void said, "Very well, this wish this lord shall fulfill it. Go ahead and to your next reincarnation. Leave the rest to me."

The spirit of Augustus Kaiser gradually dims when his request is granted. Actually, after being slowly consumed by that terrible creature and barely managing to retain possession of the body, his soul was significantly damaged.

He did not finally conquer the creature that made him the target of the hatred of every female zerg in the planet, not even his queen, who he loved and revered the greatest, until the very end of its existence.

"Please make my queen happy. If not, give him freedom." Augustus Kaiser completely disappeared after saying these words, and the vessel was now given to the God of Void. Except for the curse he had received that restrained most of his ability as a god, Ye Xiajie wasn't afraid, as he was strong enough even without his divinity.

The God of Void will now be called King Augustus Kaiser in this world.

Gradually, despite his physical agony, Augustus awoke drenched in blood. The three spirits' struggle over possession of this vessel had a profound effect on Augustus Kaiser's feeble and frail body.

Looking around, Augustus Kaiser discovered that the entire space was furnished with opulent furniture and lavish bedding, which he buried his body in. However, the bed is sticking to his body now that it is coated in blood, which makes his current condition quite uncomfortable.

Ugh!

"This weak body is a pain. Yue, Yang, come out and dig me out of this bed!" Augustus Kaiser commanded, his hoarse voice echoing in the room.

The moment the two systems were called upon, they manifested instantly. They assist Augustus Kaiser in escaping his present situation in their humanoid forms. Zhi Yue's peculiar expression caught the attention of the God of Void, and even Zhi Yang's expressionless visage quivered when she saw him.

He was baffled as to why the two were reacting as he was, especially the foolish Moon, who appeared to have witnessed something repulsive and wanted to laugh aloud.

Augustus Kaiser, with a frown, asked, "Why are you looking like that? Do you want to get beaten?"

"Master, at your current state, beating me seems a bit... um, impossible?" Zhi Yue said as he hid behind Zhi Yang.

The dumb moon looked like he wanted to laugh aloud but was trying so hard not to laugh that his face turned crimson from lack of oxygen that Augustus Kaiser sat up and gave it a piercing glance. He was about to give this silly moon a hard time when he got up and discovered something strange. Standing next to Zhi Yang made him appear somewhat smaller for some reason.

At most 170 meters tall, he appears to be the same height as Zhi Yue. Augustus was uneasy because, now that he was in the same line of sight as him, he was the smallest member of their group.

As though sensing his master's thoughts, Zhi Yang removed a mirror from the room in front of Augustus Kaiser. The God of Void, once standing nearly two meters tall, deformed into a person just one hundred and seventy meters tall.

Although his torso, legs, and arms are somewhat lean, it still gives the impression that he is frail, and the fact that his features are fragile rather than handsome caused his face to become white with shock.

Augustus Kaiser pointed at his own reflection in the mirror and asked, "Who is this scrawny guy in front of me?"

"Pfft! This person is no other than yourself, my lord," Zhi Yue said as he almost laughed out loud in front of his master's delicate self.

The two systems watch as the god of void pinches his thin arms, lifts his clothes, and looks at his flat tummy and soft chest, as well as glares at his delicate features and height.

"Yue! What kind of vessel did you prepare for this lord!? How can you give me this? This weak-looking, delicate, thin body! I don't look like a man at all!" Augustus Kaiser shouted in rage.

Zhi Yang, who faced the God of Void like a huge wall, was where Zhi Yue had long since buried himself. The haughty Sovereign of the Darkness feels so little for the first time in his life. It unnerves him, this frail version of himself.

Zerg King appeared to be a crazy little beauty when you saw the murderous scowl on his delicate features.

"Come here, you stupid moon. Don't worry, I won't make it hurt. I'm just going to squeeze you like a stress ball!" Augustus Kaiser said while emitting a murderous intent.

Zhi Yue said, "Please let me explain. This subordinate had chosen the strongest vessel for the lord in this world. That body possessed the bloodline of the Zerg Emperor, who is said to be the strongest Male Zerg in existence. It's not like the Lord will like the body of the female zerg. Even if those females look like men, they can give birth. Does the Lord want to possess a body that can give birth!?"

"What the hell are you talking about? Yang, explain it to me properly. What's wrong with this vessel?!" King Augustus Kaiser asked with a throbbing head. He was so angry that he felt like suffering from a migraine.

Zhi Yang saluted politely before beginning his explanation. "Yes, Lord Ye. In this world there is only a male body but two genders: male and female bugs. The insect race, or Zergs, has a strict hierarchy between two genders. The ones at the top are the males and live with authority over female zergs.

They have control over female zergs because of their capabilities of healing mental disorders the females suffer from. Their bloodline is also stronger, which is why the female zergs follow their commands like masters."

"Female Zergs are born with strong bodies and combat abilities. They protect their male master from everything like a slave. They are also fertile but are prone to mental riots. That's the reason for their attachment to male zergs, as they couldn't live for long without their healing. The only downside of the male zergs is that they were born with weak bodies and beautiful features.

The Higher the grade of a male zerg, the weaker and higher the grade of a male zerg, the weaker and higher the grade of a male zerg, the weaker and higher the grade of a male zerg, the weaker and more good-looking they are. The more authority they have among females as they are very fertile.

Augustus Kaiser, the current vessel of the lord, is the strongest male zerg but also the weakest physically among everyone in this world."

In Augustus Kaiser's vessel, the God of Void appeared stunned, as though he had lost a soul. He is turned into the world's weakest person, but also its strongest male zerg. For an instant, he doubted his own existence.

"How can this world be this absurd!?" Augustus Kaiser shouted in despair.

Chapter 1348: Second Red Star - Chief Warden's Change

The God of Void ultimately accepted his weakest vessel in all of his existence after moping in anguish about his corporeal vessel. He lost his eight-pack abs in addition to his height and strength.

Now, he resembles a delicate flower that, in other worlds, would be considered the most delicate blossom; nevertheless, in this world, this face also happens to have the most authority and cerebral capacity. He had no idea how his wife might appear in this new world if they ever got together.

System Yang spoke, [Sovereign Lord Ye, I will now pass the World Plot of this red star directly to your head. Please accept it.]

[World Plot: Human Sentinel Cid Warlock, an undercover who sneaks into the Planet of the Zergs, Hive Palace, to sneakily assassinate the King of Zergs, Augustus Kaiser, due to the prophecy of Zerg Emperor Reborn. The Zerg Emperor is a great menace to the human race and they would allow that dangerous being to be revived.

Sentinel Cid Warlock had incited the Zerg Queen, who was treated badly by the Zerg King, to rebel and use his cold palace as a hideout while sending information to his planet. Queen Titania, abused and tortured by King Augustus, agreed to his plans. It's just he didn't know that after the Zerg King had died, his whole Insect Race was ravaged by the human race and was exterminated for good.

After the death of the Zerg King, the Zerg Queen Titania tried to protect the Hive alone; unfortunately, even after mutation, his broken Spiritual Domain cannot be repaired and fell in the battle.]

The face of the God of Void darkens at the thought of his destined death under the hands of a mortal. It just pissed him off more.

"I remembered this body not dying under the hands of the Zerg Queen. How come the original world plot is for me to die? Moreover, how did that human blend with the zergs?" Augustus Kaiser asked.

System Yang answered, [Due to the constant failure of the world plot, this world's Heavenly Laws reverse the time multiple times. Now that the Lord had eliminated the evil soul in your current vessel, the world plot had once again been put into action.]

Regarding how humans can coexist peacefully with the Zergs for an extended period of time, it appears that humans on this planet have the ability to merge with their soul beasts. The protagonist's soul beast is a Hercules beetle, and once he does so, his human scent will momentarily vanish. When he broke free from his soul beast, he would return to some devastated place.

System Yue said, [No one apprehended him at all, with Queen Titania supporting him.]

"Too much work to do. I'm only here to find my wife though! Yue, Yang, go and split up. One will find the wardens and the other will try to find traces of my wife's soul," the God of Void commanded.

System Yue and System Yang collectively responded, [Yes, Milord! They also flew out of the window to do their tasks.].

On the other hand, Augustus Kaiser sat on his bed with an expressionless face, as if he had given up the world, when suddenly someone knocked on his door.

"Your Majesty, it's time for the court meeting. I will send in the female servants to change your clothes."

As the door opened and a group of female zerg servants were about to enter the palace, King Augustus, whose ill disposition had lessened because of his present vessel, became irritated at the person who had sent a group of female zerg servants in for such a pointless purpose.

Tsk!

Slashed!

King Augustus Kaiser waves his hand, drawing a line one meter in front of the door, his aura ominous. The moment the line formed, the female zerg servants and the male zerg official stopped moving because they sensed a very frightening power emanating from it. They had the impression that they would be divided in half the instant they crossed the boundary.

King Augustus Kaiser said, "I'm not in a good mood. If you want to live, wait outside for me like good boys. Cross that line and die if you wish. I no longer have much patience for today."

His comments added to his aura of murder, but half of his fierceness was offset by his little stature and delicate face. Still, the female zergs were powerless to defy a male zerg's orders, and the male zerg official appeared to be afraid. The latter is a male zerg similar to King Augustus, however, in comparison to the lovely version of the king, he appears manly because of his inadequate level.

He is physically weaker than female zergs, as are all male zergs.

The male official fainted after being hit by King Augustus' murderous aura and is now foaming in his mouth. The God of Void looked disgusted at the scene.

With a disdainful look on his face, King Augustus' command was, "Disgusting! Dare that shit outside. The rest wait outside as well."

Having said these things, the door was slammed shut because Augustus Kaiser still needed to strengthen his deteriorating vessel until it was hardly functional. He unlocked the Mall of the Nether System. This was an option he had never used since his resurrection. His wife used to take things out of it, but eventually she became tired of it.

Only cultivators tier lower than Celestials can benefit from the resources found in the mall. It would need the ideal occasion to become an immortal god.

After calling the system mall into existence mentally, Augustus Kaiser was confronted by a holographic screen. He quickly went through the things and selected the most useful one for him. A tablet that may purge his body of pollutants and make it stronger.

With a black pill in his palm, Augustus Kaiser displays a dissatisfied expression. The taste of tablets is inherently repulsive; the stronger the herb, the less pleasant the taste.

He mumbles with an indifferent expression on his face, "I wouldn't have to eat this shit if not for the curse. Tsk!" He ate the pill and walked towards the bathroom. He knew the efficacy of the pill and how smelly it would be to expel the impurities in a mortal's vessel

There was a large, spring-like pool with warm water in the king's bathroom. King Augustus Kaiser entered the spring and made his way to the center, when he dipped below, at which point the crystal-clear water gradually turned muddy. A little while later, the pool was entirely filled with greenish contaminants, and then King Augustus, who was a little mature and taller, emerged from the middle.

His features became slightly more mature, and his black hair grew longer. At least he no longer had the appearance of an immature young guy with delicate features and a frail frame. It went from being an androgynous version to one that was airy and little macho.

With a flick of his fingers, the filthy pool turned into a mist that vanished in an instant, replacing the water with fresh. King Augustus Kaiser eventually changed into new clothing and left the bathroom after taking yet another bath. But his rage increased when he saw what was inside the wardrobe in his room—a wealth of regal attire complete with frills and ribbons.

Snap!

The entire room, including the wardrobe, was destroyed by a black flame; nothing remained but ash. He can only move in the direction of the door and search for the staff wearing his bathrobe because he has no other option. His abrupt transformation startled all the servants, but his old features did not entirely disappear or get better, so they could all still identify him.

"Call someone to rearrange my room. Change everything with a black and red motif, as well as bring me a change of clothing. Nothing in this room is useful at all." Augustus Kaiser complained as he went to the next room, waiting for his bedroom to be renovated.

He was in the room, choosing what to wear, when a large set of clothes was pushed into it. Once more, the frills and ribbon showed up, and this time, he burned them down without hesitation.

"Get me something plain with no frills, ribbons, or whatever!"

According to King Augustus Kaiser, there is pandemonium among the servants there. They would have believed that someone had assaulted the king's residence if they had seen him set fire to his room, wardrobe, and old clothing. Zergs are not able to control elements or other supernatural talents. All in the palace were startled by this unexpected display of might.

When King Augustus was presented with a sophisticated yet understated black royal attire, his temper soured. This outfit appears more refined than his previous one, which had frills at the neck and sleeve ends. It gives the monarch a more adult appearance than one that is frail and delicate.

After discovering the boats of Chief Warden Lou and Warden Yun Ming, System Yue had just returned. The Chief Warden found himself in a similar predicament as anticipated. His appearance is peerless and slim, just like himself, making him the second most gorgeous male zerg after him.

However, in contrast to him, he was merely attractive and lacked the delicate quality of his features. Rather, he appears to be a quiet, handsome young guy with uninteresting eyes. He is the Marquess of the Conrad Family, Conrad Silver, who was reportedly a S+ Zerg Male. He is married to Cyril Bailey, a S+ Female Zerg.

In lieu of Cyril Bailey, Warden Yun Ming is a Colonel in the military who is in charge of the Third Brigade. Although Colonel Cyril is the one who leads them into war, Conrad Silver is the official name of the Third Brigade General.

System Yue materialized out of thin air, circling Kung Augustus in the guise of his diminutive moon avatar. He can only be seen in this form by an outsider. This world's aborigines have no ability to see him.

[Master, I found the Chief Warden and Warden Yun's Vessel. They are now waiting outside to meet you.]

As expected, an announcement from outside the door was heard.

"Your Majesty, Brigadier General of the Third Brigade, Lord Conrad Silver and his wife, Colonel Cyril Bailey, ask for an audience."

"Send them in!" Augustus Kaiser commanded.

Two figures emerge from the room he is currently in as the door opens. A pair walked into the room holding hands. The man leading the group is small in stature but mature, with purple eyes and blonde hair. He is holding the hand of another man who is a head taller than him and has strong muscles covered up by his military uniform. The latter had the build of a disciplined soldier.

His emerald eyes radiated fierceness, and his short dark brown hair matched.

"We greet the monarch who leads the insect race, King Augustus!"

When comparing the two, one appears to be a quiet beauty cosplaying as a soldier while the other appears to be a real soldier on duty. When the soldier was being pulled over, he appeared to be both timid and well-trained. The two immediately bow down to the man who is seated in the middle of the space. However, as soon as the door shut.

King Augustus looked at the pair, bewildered. He didn't know which was the chief warden. He sent the other servants and officials into the room and erected a noise isolation barrier.

"Stand up, both of you."

With a similar expression of shock, the insect king fixed the two people staring at him. He looked away from the quiet, small beauty, and he believed that he was Yun Ming. He rarely gave orders to Yun Ming as his wife's immediate subordinate; instead, he would always look for the Chief Warden, who is his own direct subordinate, first.

He looked at the man in the military and asked, "Are you my Chief Warden?"

System Yue, who had been silently observing the incident, burst out laughing and let off a hearty chuckle in response to this query.

Hahahaha~

The man in the military uniform responded expressionlessly. "My Lord, this subordinate is Yun Ming."

While the silent beauty with a slender figure saluted King Augustus and said, "Milord, this one is Lou Wuye."

Hahaha~

System Yue's laughter continued to this point.

[Master, I've already told you all the male Zergs in this world are small and weak-looking. The more delicate they look, the stronger their mental ability is. The master is currently the most beautiful male Zerg!]

Sigh!

The enraged king on his seat slapped away the small moon. Not only is his condition annoying enough, but this reality has made even his right-hand man weaker. How on earth is he able to give orders to people with this kind of body? Squeezing the moon like a stress ball, King Augustus eventually hurled it out.

Chapter 1349: Second Red Star - In the Throne Hall

King Augustus Kaiser first met with the Chief Warden and Warden Yun Ming before calling the officials and nobles to court. These people only assembled when summoned by their king since they had become accustomed to him being late. Even Queen Titania and the harem residents were called this time, although they could not meet the king until after the court session.

The Male Zergs led most of the officials and nobles. They were slim but not very beautiful, in contrast to the delicacy of King Augustus and Conrad Silver. When the king arrived, they bowed their heads. However, observing the distinction between King Augustus and Conrad Silver, the other male zergs, is like comparing a gorgeous rosebud to a bean sprout.

The rose represents King Augustus Kaiser and Marquess Conrad Silver, while the bean sprout represents the other male zergs.

In front of the King of Zergs, the female militants were all kneeling on one knee. The position of female zergs differs greatly from that of males. When it came to the stark disparity in treatment between the sexes, Queen Titania was forced to grit her teeth in silence.

Colonel Cyril Bailey, the wife of the Marquess, opened the door to allow King Augustus Kaiser to enter the throne hall. Chief Warden Marquess Conrad Silver should normally be in charge, but as he attempted to push the door, it remained in place, causing King Augustus, Colonel Cyril, and the concealed System Yue to chuckle quietly.

As a result, Colonel Cyril was ultimately responsible for opening the door, which is morally just in this universe.

Due to his innocent nature, this official treated the first Augustus Kaiser like a puppet ruler. He went back in time to a moment before the wicked one commandeered the vessel. In the initial plan, the evil one was supposed to demonstrate his authority at this court session by lowering the status of the female zergs and suppressing all other male zergs as subjects of his will.

Only momentarily did the others' presence in the royal hall become less apparent due to the wicked one's atmosphere of impending danger.

However, King Augustus Kaiser's current owner is a sovereign god who, by his very existence, has subdued everyone. Silent but deadly, this poisonous aura will be greatly felt by those with sensitive senses and completely muffled by those with dense senses.

As was to be expected, the entire royal hall fell silent as soon as the door opened and King Augustus stepped forward. The only sound in the quiet hall is his leisurely footsteps. Sadly, their bodies were immobile, and they were unable to greet the king as they would have liked. With this Zerg King in their midst, all they can do is keep their heads down.

Queen Titania, who was among the audience and had memories of his former existence, was perplexed by this drastic departure from King Augustus Kaiser. In his past life, he had seen the hall go silent for a split second as that evil one used the king's vessel to appear at the court hearing.

Stay tuned to NovelBin.Côm

He had prepared to murder Augustus Kaiser and whoever the one inside him was, but he never imagined that he would be rendered helpless against this bastard King and repressed like the rest.

Queen Titania's thoughts: 'How the hell can he suppress me!? Did that evil thing get stronger? If so, I can keep this king alive for any longer!'

At this moment, Queen Titania made a decision to kill King Augustus Kaiser as soon as he got the opportunity to do so.

No one was able to raise their heads until King Augustus sat on his throne with an indifferent and bored look on his face. Marquess Conrad Silver and Colonel Cyril Bailey stood on each of his sides, which shows their high standing in the heart of the king.

"You may raise your heads," King Augustus Kaiser said.

That voice was so calm and collected that everyone had to follow it. The sight of a small, half grown King Augustus occupying the throne astounded them. Everyone shivers reflexively, seeing those red eyes staring down at them. They were unable to comprehend why the feeble-willed king had transformed so drastically after only a minor maturation.

Their throats were constricting the words they wanted to utter. Those sharp, deep, crimson eyes glowed with contempt when they met.

People who wished to be critical of his changes were forced to remain silent. Their gut tells them to stay away. They said they would die right then and there, but they said the incorrect thing. Good instincts are highly intelligent. They choose to remain silent and watch.

Regarding the dumb ones, Count Kolo, a fat, idiotic nobleman, made a statement. Like he often did, he seemed to have forgotten the aura that had just completely subdued him and made a demand of King Augustus.

Count Kolo spoke, "Your Majesty, what's wrong? You are not like this before. How can you suppress us, your loyal retainers like this? Also, why allow a female Zerg to stand beside you? It's so unbecoming of you as a King."

The words of this count were heard by everyone in the throne hall. Those who are smart made a clear distance from this fool. While those who liked Count Kolo gathered together, wanting to put pressure on the king,.

"That's right, Your Majesty! Even though Colonel Bailey is Marquess Conrad's wife, standing beside the king as a female zerg is not something to be done. It would make other male zergs belittle the king!"

"Marquess Conrad Silver, don't you know the laws of the Hive? Female Zergs aren't allowed to stand on the same side as their male masters."

"The Colonel must be punished!"

"We demand justice."

The antifemale gang continued to spew rubbish, oblivious to the menacing glimmer in Marquess Conrad Silver's purple eyes. Conrad Silver's background indicates that he is one of the male zergs who genuinely looks out for their female zergs. He rejected the concubines and female zerg servants the palace had previously given him because he genuinely loves Cyril Bailey.

He has the lowest standing in the Male Zergs Association as a result of this, and the Noble Male Zergs despise him as well. He is also one of the nobility that the first Augustus Kaiser elevated to the rank of Marquess in return for keeping Queen Titania safe in secret.

For their own selfish gain, a gang of nobility never stops talking gibberish. Among the Hive's most attractive female zergs is Colonel Cyril Bailey. He may not have as much power as Queen Titania, but he is still a tasty meal when compared to the other male zergs. Grateful male zergs also pursue the most attractive and strong female zergs.

Ultimately, the greater a female zerg's strength, the greater the thrill of defeating them. These are the harmful genes that male zergs inherit.

When Marquess Conrad Silver sees the lust for his wife in the eyes of the nobles led by Count Kolo, his eyes gradually turn deadly. These men are really repulsive, but he knew he could not move without his master's consent. The aristocrats standing silently on the side gasp in shock as his glare grows more and more icy. They were baffled as to how Marquess Conrad Silver became so powerful.

Similar to the extent of King Augustus Kaiser's alterations, Marquess Conrad Silver's rise to prominence also took them by surprise. These astute ones could not but regard the Count Kolo-led gang as if it were a body waiting to be uncovered.

As predicted, as they shift their positions and steal a glimpse of the monarch seated on the throne, he observes that he is staring scornfully at Count Kolo and the other members of his company, perhaps questioning why this thing is still alive. Despite his seeming indifference, there is no mistaking the disgust on his face.

"Belittle? Demand? I heard bugs chattering endless nonsense in my ears. It's irritating. Since when did you... mere little bugs can demand something from this king?"

I hate it when people threaten me!"

Controlling his mental powers, King Augustus Kaiser sent a dreadful feeling over the entire castle. If the original Augustus Kaiser was limited to a S+ ability, then the God of Void's takeover unlocked all of his potential. He is currently the only person with the SSS Mental Ability—a power that the mythical Zerg Emperor held.

The man, led by Count Kolo, found himself encircled by a transparent barrier that resembled a bubble, and they shook wildly because they were unable to breathe inside it. They can gradually feel an unseen force squeezing their bodies. All were in disbelief at such a tremendous mental aptitude.

They observe the king on the throne grinning wickedly at this spectacle; it appears that Augustus Kaiser's hands control the mental abilities of the barrier enclosing Count Kolo and the others. The power behind the barrier struck whatever was within the pool of blood the instant he clasped his hand. Blood rain burst forth into the throne hall, showering the other patrons.

It did not effect anyone other than the three men in the throne area.

King Augustus Kaiser declared, "I don't care what you want to do or what you plan to achieve. Anyone who goes against me will end up like that. If you want to rebel, get ready to be exterminated. You can leave and send the harem in."

"Yes, Your Majesty!"

All of the militants in the hall, together with the officials and aristocrats, departed. They were frightened by what the King had just stated. The apex of Hive's might had shifted as a result of the methods Augustus Kaiser had just demonstrated. Queen Titania, who was rumored to have SS+ class potential, was overpowered by King Augustus's might.

He demonstrated his strength by being able to kill with only his thinking faculties. They could not help but try to think back on all they had kept concealed behind their backs and wanted to clear everything up before the king discovered them, now that the monarch had declared his might.

After a while, the hall was occupied only by Titania Ambrosia. As the queen, he rules over the harem. Given that female zergs are naturally stronger than male zergs, he should be the strongest member of the Hive rather than the King. However, he was astounded at King Augustus's might. If this man feels like it, he is more than capable of eradicating an entire race.

System Yue quickly examined the main character in front of him to see if he was Lord Hei's soul fragment. Sadly, it is difficult for him to determine whether or not this man is a soul fragment. The pieces of Lord Hei's soul have been trying to blend in lately.

They would not have believed that Mo Xuejing was the soul piece of Lord Hei in the previous realm if he had not visited the small world following that brief attempt.

King Augustus Kaiser asked in his mind, 'How is it, Yue? Is it him?'

System Yue responded, [Master, Lord Hei's soul fragments are hiding all their traces to the point they even sealed their own memories. This one doesn't have a trace, but... He fits the bill if I am to choose a vessel for Lord Hei's soul in this world. But he is a protagonist. Is it possible for Lord Hei's soul fragment to be the protagonist of the world?]

Queen Titania, in the opinion of Augustus Kaiser, was a suitable fit for his wife's soul. However, he is still unable to sense anything from him. If his link to the small world was broken, he wanted to use it, but for some reason he couldn't. That one he cannot use to verify if these are shards of his wife's soul or not. There is an alternative, but unless he was forced to, he did not want to take it.

Skinship is the method. He can sense them more strongly the closer his soul is to this wife's soul fragment.

"I don't want to touch others unless it's necessary," is the God of Void's thought at the moment.

He is so focused on his conversation with System Yue that he hasn't even noticed that Queen Titania is also watching him closely.

Queen Titania's thought was, 'Something is wrong. Augustus would never possess such strength. Also, he didn't have that disgusting aura that an evil entity emits. Who the hell is this man?'

Chapter 1350: Second Red Star - Confrontation

Having no choice but to see through his wife's soul fragments except for skinship, King Augustus, despite his dislike for such close contact with strangers, is willing to give in to find his beloved among the millions of bugs. He wanted to gather all his wife's soul fragments and live with his Jing'er for eternity.

The obnoxious group of male insects that King Augustus Kaiser had just exterminated came to mind.

"Ah, Conrad, bring Cyril with you and visit the home of those nobles I killed just now. Confiscate their titles if someone stops you, kill on the spot. I will send a Royal Decree to your terminal. Go ahead, I don't care if you kill them all."

At such words, Queen Titania shuddered. He could tell that King Augustus was being serious when he said these things because of his expression. This Augustus Kaiser of today is a really frightening individual because of his callous disregard for life or death.

With his purplish eyes tinged with malice, Marquess Conrad Silver, who had been silently incensed by those aristocrats staring at his Cyril, now grinned coolly. Their family, who have disdain for his Cyril, ought to suffer consequences as well, as his lord slaughtered those obnoxious lords. They would never, ever renounce their inherited nobility, after all.

He would like to kill bugs, and they would undoubtedly struggle.

Colonel Cyril Bailey and Marquess Conrad Silver saluted and, without further ado, they departed. The Queen, a general herself, receives a soft nod from the colonel. The closest bond the female zergs had previously, however, vanished when Warden Yun Ming assumed control of Cyril's body.

Queen Titania narrowed his eyes in confusion and didn't see King Augustus' eyes on him, obstructing him silently.

System Yue said, [Does the Lord want to try to see if Queen Titania is Lord Hei's soul fragment?]

'No, my wife, regardless of or without memories, wouldn't have any relationship with others unless that other person is his family in this world,' the God of Void said. 'So Queen Titania, who had a relationship with the original King Augustus, cannot be my wife's soul fragment.'

King Augustus spoke, which finally caught Queen Titania's attention. "You... you choose to remain. Is there something you wish to say, Titania?"

When his name was announced, Queen Titania Ambrosia was taken aback, but all he felt was frost wash over his head as he met the gorgeous king's eyes. The being that lives in this body is no longer his family, regardless of his regression or even if the evil entity in King Augustus Kaiser's body has vanished. There is no longer a real Augustus Kaiser.

Queen Titania was momentarily stunned and his heart grew cold as he considered this.

King Augustus and System Yue could clearly see his mood swings, and for some reason, the God of Void was irritated and tickled. However, he will grant his wish because he made a promise to the actual Augustus Kaiser.

King Augustus Kaiser said, "Titania Ambrosia, if you wish to return to your old mansion or stay in the cold palace, you may do so. You can also leave the palace if you wish."

"What are you talking about?" Queen Titania asked in disbelief.

Wearing the vessel of King Augustus Kaiser, the God of Void said, "Augustus asked me to save you and give you what you wanted. In the first place, I am not interested in this throne. It is just that I can't leave."

Now that darkness has descended upon the sky, thunderclaps and lightning strikes resound above the imperial palace, and the God of Void continues to proclaim the universal truth. Most people in the castle are terrified by this display of impending calamity.

The heavens intended to punish the one who was disseminating the truth about the earth, but since this man is the only one alive who has the ability to preserve this star, the celestial laws are powerless to punish him.

RUMBLES~

Titania Ambrosia stood up and looked at the King at the throne with an incredulity imprinted on his face, "Who the hell are you?"

However, as Queen Titania listened to Augustus Kaiser speak, she was astounded. He knew that the person inside Augustus's body was no longer that evil entity or his king, but he pretended not to notice his changes because he did not know who was inside the ling's vessel. Who would have imagined that a man such as this would approach him?

"I can't leave because the heavens want me to help this world and you. You are far more important than Augustus in this world thus it was always biased toward your choices. So even if you wanted the throne, I can't give it to you yet. Aside from that, you are free to do as you want. I will not stop you," King Augustus Kaiser said.

Queen Titania Ambrosia finally calmed down, and his demeanor turned a bit cold and menacing, "You will not stop me if I want to exterminate all the males in this world."

RUMBLES~ CRIKS~

A smirk appeared on King Augustus' face, an indifferent smile with aloofness all over him. "I don't mind but your world might stop you if that's your plan."

"What do you---"

BOOM! BOOM! RUMBLES~

A few lightning strikes appeared to be displaying the wrath of the sky close to the Imperial Palace. In the broad field, a few trees caught fire. Queen Titania was taken aback by the lightning's proximity, but she eventually grasped the man's meaning.

King Augustus said, "As I said if the extermination of the male Zergs is what you want, 'It' won't agree. After all, the moment the balance in the world is destroyed, the star itself would die. So what's the point if everything is going to die in the end?"

"So as long as not all male zergs didn't die, you and the heavens wouldn't care?" Queen Titania asked.

King Augustus Kaiser turns away from him and gives him a nod. He had an empty look on his face as he peered out the window. Like I was missing someone and had absolutely no luck finding them. This man was very depressed and full of longing because of that.

Queen Titania asked, "Do you down on female zergs like the other male zergs?"

Looking at him, King Augustus turned his head. A scornful sneer traced the corner of his lips, and his stare was vacant as if there were a chasm inside those eyes.

The King of Insect Zergs said, "This deity looks down on everything in this world except one person. So your question is useless to me!"

"Last question. Who are you looking for?" Queen Titania Ambrosia asked curiously.

The king on the throne paused as if he didn't want to answer his question but in the end, he still gave him the answer he wanted to hear.

"My wife's soul fragment was reincarnated in this world. I descended into this world to look for him. That's why you don't have to worry about me harming any female Zergs in this world, as I am unsure which among you is his incarnation. You heard what you want to hear. You should take your leave," King Augustus commanded.

After bowing his head as a farewell, Queen Titania took his leave. Before he got out of the throne hall, he caught a glimpse of the lonely king on the throne.

Queen Titania mumbles, "Find his wife among the millions of female zergs in this world. I never knew that gods are loyal to their loved ones. How enviable."

He sent the Harem members into the hall and turned to leave. It goes without saying that the king will not hurt these female Zergs and he will let him meet them now that he knows the monarch plans to find his wife's incarnation.

It did not take the harem members long to exit the throne hall. Their expressions were sorrowful, after entering. Some of them were even sobbing uncontrollably as if they were distraught. As she waited for them to emerge, Queen Titania heard what had occurred within. King Augustus gazed at them while letting each of them hold his hand. Enjoy new chapters from NovelBin.Côm

Both those who shied away from staring into his eyes and those who hesitated to do so were asked to leave. However, the king saw an abyss that instinctively terrified them to their very core. King Augustus Kaiser appeared to be looking at them gently, but his eyes were so frightening that everyone avoided staring into them and all they heard was the king's tired sigh.

The Imperial consorts and concubines said,

"King Augustus' eyes are full of gentleness, but the depths of his eyes are full of darkness. It was too terrifying; we can only avert our eyes. Then we heard the King mumble, 'He is not among you', then told us we are free. We can stay in the palace until we find a person we love. The responsibilities of the harem must be forgotten. He will support us until we choose to leave the palace on our own."

"Your highness, is the King... Is that King Augustus? Though sometimes the King would be kind, he is usually abusive. Not like the current one at all. Compared to before, we like this king instead. Unfortunately, the heart of the current king is closed off to everyone."

None of us can open it up."

"He looks so sad. I don't know what happened to the king. Your Highness, the Queen, do you know what is happening?"

Queen Titania said, "My situation is the same as the rest of you. I don't know how long he can remain in this state, but if you want to leave, I can arrange things for you. Just tell me. I will stay here until all of you have left, just in case his decision changes."

"Queen, isn't it not you? The one the king is looking for?"

"It's not me. He didn't even hold my hands or stare at me like he did with you, so he must be sure that it wasn't me who he was looking for. I only choose to stay to take care of you; once all of you are free, I will also take my leave," Queen Titania said.

Meanwhile, inside the throne hall...

After examining every individual in the harem, King Augustus discovered that not a single one of them contained a fragment of his wife's soul. This time, he has chosen a simple skinship: holding hands. Naturally, this was insufficient, which is why he gave them a straight-faced look. His wife loves his eyes and all his incarnations do as well.

His wife would never be frightened to look him in the eyes, yet all of Harem shied away from him and displayed fear. Therefore, they cannot be the pieces of his wife's soul.

System Yue said, [Master, this way will take too much time. There are at least a few millions of female zergs in this star and their population is greater than that of male zergs' population.]

"I have all the time I need in this world. Plus, My wife's soul fragment wouldn't choose to marry someone unless that other half of his is a fragment of my soul or power, like Mo Xuejing and Ye Jieye's case," King Augustus Kaiser said.

System Yue said, [But Master...]

"So noisy! Go help Yang find traces of my wife instead of irritating me here. Go!"

King Augustus employed teleportation to swiftly vanish from the scene. Apart from his locked divinity, he possesses all other talents that do not require the use of Divine Powers. Additionally, he can use his wife's particular powers in addition to his own thanks to the sharing talent bestowed upon him by the Marriage Imprint.

System Yue, this disobedient system that carried over the obstinate nature of his previous owner, pouted at being abandoned. Zhi Yue was created using the God of Destruction's powers to defend Lord Ye, in contrast to Zhi Yang, who was primarily made using the God of Void's capacity to protect Lord Hei. As a result, at times, he would exhibit traits similar to those of Hei Anjing.

One is being playful, childlike, and defiant.

[Hmp! Why doesn't the Lord check on Queen Titania's soul!? For me, he looks the closest to Lord Hei's vessel. There is a possibility that he might be the incarnation of Lord Hei. This can't be... I need to check on him myself.]

Rather than remaining in the throne hall, the small moon chose to keep watch over Queen Titania. Like Hei Anjing, who would just do as he pleased and show no concern for others, he made the decision to disobey his Lord's orders and go about his business. The God of Destruction shares the same stubbornness and immature temperament as this person.