

World Plot 1431

Chapter 1431 Second Red Star - Next time, hah?

Fighting for hours, Cid Warlock and Leng Jun looked tired and a bit haggard, yet their opponent's energy seemed limitless. They knew this was the effect of the chaotic energy in this mad god. Unlike him, their energy isn't limitless, and adding to that, thanks to this chaos energy, this Ice Elemental Snow God's strength is a level above theirs.

Even so, the two of them didn't back away, and they fought aggressively.

Leng Jun frowned. "This thing had gotten tougher after taking all the energy of the world." Then he noticed Cid Warlock frowning as he stared at the Ice Elemental Snow Emperor with confusion and disbelief on his face.

He finally asked, "What's wrong?"

"I didn't feel it before, but now that I am closer to this Mad God, I think I feel that this ice elemental qi in him seems extremely familiar. Though it is supposed to be impossible, why do I think that this God's powers are a bit similar to the Zerg Empress's ability?" said Zerg King Cid Warlock.

At this discovery, Leng Jun was stunned. "Is this true?" he asked.

Cid Warlock said, "If I am unsure, now I am. This feeling is definitely the Zerg Empress. I think I know where this power of ice comes from. During the last war, our Zerg Empress unleashed all his ability when the Heretic Zerg King and another man that seems to be from your human race angered him. Ice exploded in outer space and all the nearby planets were frozen under his aura.

What fell on this planet must be a fragment of that power. It is just that after that, your planet must have mutated due to it, and Ice Elementals were born, including this mad god before us."

"Doesn't that mean your Zerg Empress can save my world? Can we ask for help?" Leng Jun asked as anticipation appeared from within his eyes.

The two didn't even notice the sneak attack of the Ice Elemental Snow God; it used its former gigantic back to smash the two, who were caught off guard.

BOOOOM!!!

Cid Warlock, who had just finished initiating a call, had to bore the fist of the enraged Ice Elemental Snow Emperor with Leng Jun. They were thrown on the snow-covered ground with a slam. They could cough blood from the impact.

{Hahaha~ Finally caught you two~}

The Ice Elemental Snow God wanted to hit them again; after all, this time they couldn't move right away after the first attack! The two, trembling bodies from pain, glared at the huge paw of the snowman who wanted to crash them.

Tun Shizhe and Lord Chaos watch the events unfold before them as passersby. It's not like they haven't seen this kind of scene before. The beloved sons of the heavens in each world are considered invincible in their own world. But most of its blessings were given in a more passive way, and for an ending world like this, the Heavenly Laws would be more proactive.

"I can't believe he ascended to godhood this way. That's why the protagonist of each world is an unfair existence and also the most entertaining to destroy~" Lord Chaos commented.

Tun Shizhe glanced at him and said, "You call me crazy, but I think you are the crazy one. At least I won't play with bugs, but you like to slowly destroy them."

"Hmp! I don't! My main soul did all those. It is just that seeing him do it is quite a fun thing to watch. He especially likes torturing the protagonists that offend him," Lord Chaos said, as he himself couldn't count how many protagonists of each world had ended up dead or barely alive after the God of Destruction was done with them.

"By the way, how long are you going to watch? Didn't you say that you wanted to use the protagonist against your alter ego? If my main soul is with him, it might not be useful at all. He is overprotective."

"I already gave up on this world. I will try in the next one," Tun Shizhe said.

Suddenly, he heard a cold and indifferent voice from behind him. It is a voice that sends shivers through his soul.

"Next time, ha? There is no next time. Is the last lesson not enough? If so, then... I will just have to beat you up for the second time," said the Zerg Emperor, who suddenly appeared behind the two of them.

Tun Shizhe's reaction upon seeing this man he didn't want to see at all. "Fuck!"

Before the arrival of the couple on the Federation Star.

The Zerg Empress and the Zerg Emperor, upon arriving in outer space beyond the Federation Star, noticed the presence of Lord Chaos and Tun Shizhe. The God of Void was annoyed, as he couldn't believe this bastard had truly successfully escaped from his domain.

The Zerg Empress said, "Don't worry, there is nothing wrong with your domain. It's just that you two possessed similar abilities. It's not surprising that he can escape from the void. Looking at his aura, he had suffered enough."

"But what I want is his death," said the Zerg Emperor.

Sigh~

The God of Destruction said, "I will teleport you directly behind him so you can do as you wish."

"My baby truly loves me a lot!" said the God of Void with a proud smile on his handsome face.

After the couple exchanged hugs and kisses, the Zerg Emperor turned his head to look at the four subordinates that had come with them. The two wardens and two systems, after helping them isolate the whole star system, come to them to report on the situation with the Federation Star.

As they arrived at the star route where the Federation Star is located, the couple noticed the abnormalities on this little star. Not only a fragment of the Zerg Empress's eternal ice is found here, but a powerful source of chaos energy is also found.

Not only that, Tun Shizhe, who was almost beaten to death by the God of Void, as well as Lord Chaos, who had been unexpectedly quiet in this world, are also here.

The Zerg Empress spoke, "Something fun is happening on that little star right now. But it seems Little Cid is in a bit of danger. You guys save them."

"Yes, Lord Hei!" The two wardens responded.

The Zerg Emperor asked, "Baby, do you have anything in mind?"

"Nothing much. I will just take away my power and then refine the chaos energy in that world. This seems to be the most affected planet by the chaos energy in this star system. This world needs to be repaired. I can only destroy things. A'Ming, help me repair this world after A'Xia had enough fun~" responded the Zerg Empress.

The Zerg Emperor added, "Yue and Yang, try and help the domain lord of this planet to regain its strength. Once that big one is solved, then everything shall return to normal."

The four subordinates of the couple collectively responded, "As you wish!"

Back on the Federation Star...

Cid Warlock and Leng Jun, who were about to be crushed by the big fist of a huge snowman, watched the huge shadow falling above their heads with annoyed expressions on their faces. Meanwhile, the human race, elementals, and races included in the alliance shouted for them, as they couldn't bear their gods being defeated in such a way.

{A'JUN!} Chuchu screamed.

Jeremy shouted. "BROTHER!?"

The Zerg race, the Elementals, and the Alliance: "Your Majesty!"

Everyone thought they would see such a devastating ending for their gods when suddenly two shadows flew down from the sky and stood before them. Based on their humanoid appearance and insect wings on their backs, everyone knew that these two must be from the Zerg Race, and unlike the halflings, this is a high-level Zerg.

One of them wields red strings, which instantly wrap around Leng Jun and Cid Warlock. This thin, strong red thing looked fragile, yet it was capable of lifting two adult figures. Cid Warlock and Leng Jun were pulled out of danger and were thrown to where the mortals were. They were caught safely by the group, and Doctor Kian and the other healers started healing them.

Chuchu immediately threw himself into Leng Jun's embrace and wrapped around him, tears pooling in his eyes.

{A'Jun, you scared me!} Chuchu said.

Leng Jun gently pats Chuchu's head while twitching in pain. He tried to look back, just to see with his own eyes who had saved them. Cid Warlock laughed when he saw the red strings. He immediately knew how they had arrived and who had saved them.

Zerg King Cid Warlock said, "Haha~ We're saved! They are finally here. If my teachers left the Hive, that means my masters have also arrived."

Everyone watched as the two figures, one holding a red string and the other holding a golden spear, flew towards the hand the Ice Elemental Snow God had used to smash them. The thin golden spear looked as thin as a toothpick due to the difference in size between the two,, as if stabbed towards the incoming fist of the Mad God.

Even so, this golden spear halted the fall of the fist made of thick snow and stabbed through it.

The red string flew towards its arm, wrapping it like a long red snake. With a light pull from the gentle-looking man with queen bee wings on its back, the whole arm fragmented, as it was not only stabbed through but also cut into pieces by the combination attack of Marquess Silver and Colonel Bailey.

For the first time, the Ice Elemental Snow God screamed. No one knows if it is because of anger or pain as a piercing scream resounds in the whole area, though it is abruptly stopped by one word, which sounds cold and languid. For some reason, everyone heard his voice much more vividly than the scream.

{Silence!}

The scream instantly halted as if following the command; the voice had just spoken. The Ice Elemental Snow God held on to his throat as he couldn't speak a word, no matter how much he tried. Everyone looked around for the source of voice only to see a beautiful man with long silver hair and argent irises flying near the stunned Ice-Elemental Snow God.

His huge silver monarch wings were flapping on his back slowly as he looked down on everything that exists in this world.

The insect race and the alliance races recognized who that man with silver monarch wings was. Regardless of what race they come from, they all kneel on the cold, snow-covered ground with their heads collectively lowered. Among these men are Cid Warlock and his entourage. Even if he is a Zerg King, before this man, he was nothing but a bug.

"We humbly greet the Zerg Empress!"

Leng Jun, Chuchu, Jeremy, the human race, and the elementals looked in the sky in disbelief. They didn't know that such a gorgeous being existed in this world and that he was the Zerg Empress, who used to protect the Hive Star with his own strength. General Titania Ambrosia, the former Zerg Queen, is famous for his cold-heartedness and merciless execution of his enemies.

The guardian of the Hive Star.

The Zerg Empress Titania glanced at them and said, "You guys should gather in one place. Those two will start fighting now."

Everyone looked bewildered when they heard his words until the Zerg Emperor flashed before their fight against that cold-hearted god that kept on looking at them. For some reason, they felt that these two men had the same aura.

BOOOOM!

The cold-hearted god was punched to the ground by the Zerg Emperor. Unlike the silver wings on the Zerg Empress' back, his is a bit larger, and it's a real orange-shaded monarch butterfly wing. No one believed that the rumored weak former Zerg King Augustus would be a perfect man with highly proportioned muscle and a sculpted figure. It seems that rumors cannot be trusted.

The Zerg Race once again saluted Emperor Augustus.

"We humbly greet the Zerg Emperor!"

"AAHHH! LOOK OUT BEHIND YOU!"

But they immediately saw a purplish-black dragon diving down to bite the Zerg Emperor. Emperor Augustus nonchalantly glanced back and slapped the huge dragon effortlessly, which fell from the sky and fainted upon the impact of its fall. The huge crater showed how much strength the Zerg Emperor used with that one slap.

The Zerg Emperor snorted, "Hmp! A worm that doesn't know its place. If you are a pet of that retard, then it's normal for you to be brainless as well."

"Who the hell are you calling brainless!?" shouted Tun Shizhe.

Tun Shizhe, who flew back from his ugly fall because he was punched, immediately retaliated. The Zerg Emperor exchanged moves with Tun Shizhe until they instantly disappeared on the spot. The sounds of space exploding and cracking were much worse than when the Ice Elemental Snow God sucked all the world out of this world.

This seems to be a real world-ending scene, but the Zerg Empress just let out a helpless sigh.

Sigh~

The Zerg Empress mumbles, "They can even crack the space and create a space fissure with simple clashes of fists and kicks. I better teleport them to outer space."

Clap!

He utilized his space elements and teleported the two men who were fighting. With one clap of his hands, the sounds of destruction instantly disappeared as the two men were also gone. As for the space fissure around them, a wave of hand from the Zerg Empress mends it effortlessly, leaving everyone speechless except for the two wardens and Lord Chaos.

"Finally at peace~," said the Zerg Empress.

Chapter 1432 Second Red Star - Death of the Ice Elemental Snow God

The arrival of the Zerg Empress and the Zerg Emperor had brought light to the eyes of Cid Warlock, Leng Jun, and all others on the Federation Star. The Ice Elemental Snow God is too powerful. The two protagonists wouldn't easily die under its attack.

It can be said that with the invincibility the blessing of the world gave them, they can survive as long as their world exists, but the same thing cannot be said about the mortals under their protection.

Who would have thought that they would be caught off guard and both of them would land in a perilous situation? The impact of the Ice Elemental Snow God attack was heavy and broke a few bones in their bodies. God is capable of regeneration, but during that time, they would be in a paralyzed state. They were in a situation where they would be vulnerable to a second attack.

Leng Jun and Cid Warlock were about to bear the pain of being half dead or maybe death itself. Even so, they didn't remove their eyes from their opponent. Even if they were going to die, they would remember the one who killed them. So, under the cries of their family, lovers, friends, and other people, they choose to face whatever befalls them.

Just as they welcomed death with open arms, who would have thought that they would be saved in the end? Cid Warlock's eyes immediately glowed when he saw the red string that wrapped around their bodies as that familiar tall and proud back of the man who taught him war, battle tactics and fighting techniques. They were his teachers in physical training and world knowledge.

Moreover, these two teachers of his, who are supposed to be in the Hive Star, arrive here means that they were summoned by those two. The hidden guardians of the Hive Star and the Gods of their insect race. The Zerg Emperor, Augustus Kaiser, and the Zerg Empress, Titania Ambrosia. The two beings whom he deems as the strongest in his eyes, his masters and idols had finally arrived.

As expected, just a single word from the Zerg Empress instantly made him take away the voice of the Ice Elemental Snow God. That one move alone showed the Ice Elemental Snow God the gap between the two of them. It's not a simple gap that he could see, like when facing Tun Shizhe and Lord Chaos. It's the difference between heaven and earth.

The Ice Elemental Snow God instantly knew the moment he saw the Zerg Empress that everything was under his control. This includes the fact that the power inside him is just a part of what this being in front of him possessed. When he accidentally ate the fragment of absolute ice, he saw its memories. What he loves the most is that pair of silver eyes, which is unique for this man alone.

A shade of moonlight glitters like it is full of stars, yet at its depths is a silent madness hidden behind a mischievous smile. That person was beautiful yet extremely terrifying.

Everyone noticed that the Ice Elemental Snow God turned quiet and obedient before the Zerg Empress, and he looked like he was terrified. The Zerg Empress raises an eyebrow at this scene. He looks at the little one, who doesn't dare to meet his eyes directly.

Empress Titania smiled mischievously and said, "It seems you know your place and that I am the source of your powers. What is it? Are you afraid of returning to a mere nobody? Hm~"

The Elemental Snow God trembles under these words. This is the truth that he could never change. When he was first born on this planet after the Frozen Apocalypse had begun, he was just one of the low-tier elements that didn't even have a leader.

Elementals born on this planet without a leader couldn't last long; first, they don't know what to do, and second, they do not have any protection compared to those who were born near the birthplaces of the Demigods (Elemental Kings).

Without a leader, these low-tier elements will have no form. They will continue to float around like the snow that keeps falling from the sky. Even if there are abundant elemental qi on this star, low-tier elementals do not know how to take it in; they don't have a leader, and there is no one to teach them. So, they can only weaken and slowly disappear.

The Elemental Snow God didn't want such a fate. So, he struggled for a change; coincidentally, he is a rare one among the low-tier elements. He was born with intelligence and knew to seek power. In the end, he found something in that old ruin zoo in the south region. It was a snowflake that was twirling and could be seen with the naked eye.

At first, he was terrified, as the aura this snowflake possessed was something extremely scary for it, but it knew that was also a chance for the change he wanted to achieve.

So he waited in the area, checking the effects of that snowflake within the surroundings. Wild beasts and other low-tier elements didn't dare approach it. As if they instinctively knew the danger this fragment of snow has. But to him, it was a chance he could never ignore.

He wanted to observe for a bit longer, but the news about this power had reached the ears of the Ice Elemental Penguin King of the South Region.

{NO! This power is mine! I will not give it to others! Even to an Elemental King!!!}

It didn't want to lose this power to others, so he unhesitatingly grabbed that alive snowflake, then ran as fast as it could. The farther he is, the more secure he will be and consume this power. In the end, he had only reached the center of the world before the fragment in his hand forcibly wanted to escape. In his desperation for power and change, it ate it.

He fell into a deep slumber; the energy in him exploded and helped him evolve. Who would have thought that the power in that piece of snowflake was enough for him to reach godhood? It was in an instant, and he felt uncontrollable power in his body. When he opened his eyes to look around, he noticed the clouds that were caressing his face and only a white scape, which he wouldn't have expected.

Upon closer inspection of his body, it seems he has gotten too big, and a single movement from him can cause disasters to appear. When it tried to move locations, an avalanche happened without his control. This is just a simple movement of twisting it's body slightly. Only then did he realize that he couldn't abruptly move. That was also the time the Heavenly Laws placed a restriction on him.

It was tied to the center of the world, preventing him from moving around. He felt like a prisoner exposed to the light, waiting for death.

This greatly angered him and made him want to get even stronger. But at that time, the Heavenly Laws were able to bind him to the center of the world, making him unable to leave the middle of this planet. So, he chose to enter meditation. He wanted to get stronger, so doing this is the only way to gather the ice elements and world qi on this planet.

It also tried to absorb the divinity within the golden chains that prevented him from moving.

To others, it looks like he was sleeping and didn't move at all. He was already so powerful that none of the other Ice Elemental Kings dared to approach him. Thus, he was able to slowly gather more power until the time he fully absorbed the divine powers within the golden chains that the heavenly laws had used to bound him with.

It was only at that time that he felt the next threshold of his strength.

He had awakened as an ice-elemental snow emperor (quasi-god). Just as he is about to seek more power, the king of the beast, Leonhart Reiner, sends himself to him. His sensitivity to power allowed him to see through the magnificent power bubbling inside of him. As soon as he saw King Leonhart, the only thing that entered his mind was to devour that power.

He was also lucky, as, for some reason, this Beast King wanted to fight against him. Most likely coveting the divinity in its body, like how he covets the power of chaos in this mortal's body.

But how can a mortal fight against him? The beast king was captured and was about to be eaten by him. He didn't expect this mortal to sacrifice its arm just to escape from him. He was also lucky enough that the chaos energy in that mortal's arm had amplified the strength of that fragment he had eaten before. That's why he chased after him, leading to the current situation he is in right now.

The Elemental Snow God didn't expect to meet the owner of the powers he had eaten. He is pretty sure that it wasn't only the power of ice in him that wanted to return to this exalted being, but also the chaos energy he got from the beast king, which was also from this venerable one. So, when he heard the words of the gorgeous being in front of him, he was horrified.

If there is someone that exists in this world capable of taking away his ability, it is him who can do so.

The Ice Elemental Snow God pleads, "N-No! Please don't... I don't want to become useless!"

He wanted to reach out to this venerable one, but who would have thought his hand, which was never affected by ice, would instantly turn to ice and melt into a mist?

{AAHHHH!!}

Despite his screams for pain and fear, the Ice Elemental Snow God looks up to the beautiful being before his eyes. The corners of his lips were upturned into a mischievous smile, yet when he looked at his exquisite silver irises, the depths of them were full of hidden madness, and for some reason, it was the calm madness no one could control.

But for this person, he can control such madness that no one would be able to do so. It was as if he were the origin and source of this madness itself.

{Please spare me. I don't want to disappear. I can be your servant. Your slave! Please don't kill me!}

Everyone watched as the proud mad god from before, which none of them could do against, was now begging to be spared. They were stunned and couldn't help but look at the Zerg Empress, who hadn't done anything yet and only spoke a few words. Now they couldn't help but wonder what kind of gap these two gods have for the crazed one to plead for his life.

What made this scene terrifying is that this Zerg Empress looked uninterested in his pleas and didn't seem to be going to kill the Ice Elemental Snow God before him. They watch as the Zerg Empress approaches the Ice Elemental Snow God with a gentle face and reaches out a hand as if going to comfort a child. Empress Titania lightly touched the young god's forehead and lightly tapped it.

BOOOOM!

AHH!!!

Under everyone's gaze, the human form and his original form exploded into nothing. Only a piece of snowflake and chaos energy remained of him. Just a simple touch. They didn't see any other movement aside from one tap from the Zerg Empress.

The Ice Elemental Snow God, which overwhelmed all of them, was instantly killed just like that, and they couldn't help but look at the figure in the sky in disbelief.

Now they finally realize what a real God is. An overwhelming strength that treats almost anything as an ant. Presence, which emits grace and otherworldliness. Exquisite beauty that made him not look like them. His existence alone is unique, and nothing could restrain him at all.

Chapter 1433 Second Red Star - Zerg Empress and Lord Chaos

The death of the Ice Elemental Snow God wasn't surprising, yet the scene of it was a sight one could hardly forget. There was no blood or flesh due to the explosion of his body. Nothing was left behind except for a white mist, which gave people a cooling feeling. Even his original body, which was towering and made of snow, crumbled under everyone's sight, leaving only those he had devoured alive.

As for those who were frozen, the Zerg Empress glanced at them once to know their situation.

Before descending, Empress Titania looked at Lord Chaos, who had approached her. This man is a part of himself, yet he didn't have the intention to merge with him. The God of Destruction didn't mind, as he knew that regardless of whether he wanted to merge with him or not, in the end he would still merge with him.

The Zerg Empress said, "Are you that bored that you would even spend time with that guy? Have you forgotten who you almost killed by one of his fragments before?"

Snort!

"You can even love the man who caused your death; why can't I do something similar?" retorted Lord Chaos.

Everyone expected the Zerg Empress to get angry, but he was nonchalant and did not even react much to Lord Chaos' words. Obviously, he didn't mind his words at all.

Empress Titania responded calmly. "That is also true. By the way, I saw what happened before. You save a mortal. That is so not like you. If you were a part of me, you would never have that kind of emotion.

Have you mutated in another way or... have you started gaining some feelings for... Heh~ I will only say this once. If you ended up falling in love with my man, the only way for you to stay by his side is to merge with me. After all, I am the only person he can love and no one else. What he feels towards you and my other soul fragments are guilt and regrets.

The care and love he shows you is because you are a part of me and not because of who you are. You should wake up in reality. Ye Xiajie can only be mine and mine alone!"

This declaration is strong and full of confidence. It can be said that the God of Destruction isn't wrong. The actions the God of Void has taken in the past few words can be said to be distant and observing. Unless he is one hundred percent sure that the person is a fragment of his wife, he would never show any other emotions than coldness and indifference.

As for the guilt and regret this God of Void shows from time to time, it was because of what happened to Snow.

Even though forgetting Snow in the Void wasn't 100 percent his fault and it's the problem caused by the God of End, the one who gave that immeasurable pain to Snow's heart is still him. The other soul fragments of the God of Destruction noticed this. Even though they feel that the God of Void has indeed loved them, it is still different from the love he gives to the God of Destruction.

That's why they agreed to merge with the God of Destruction. What they wanted wasn't a love full of guilt or regrets, but that kind of compassionate yet obsessive love between two people. A feeling of love that can last for eternity.

The Zerg Empress carefully watched Lord Chaos's reaction. After giving him a meaningful smile, Empress Titania seems to have seen something through him and finally ignored him. He descended to the ground to meet with the two wardens who are protecting the aborigines of this star system.

Lord Chaos remained expressionless at the words of the God of Destruction, but upon closer look, the hand hidden within the sleeves of his clothes was gripped strongly enough for him to bleed. How can the scent of blood escape the nose of the Zerg Empress? It was only right now that Lord Chaos felt turbulence within his heart that was about to get out of control.

Even so, he never regrets saving Leng Jun and Chuchu. He had never regretted any action he had taken. Like when they took their lives in the Void, maybe the real reason for that action wasn't out of hate. But for Lord Chaos, he was born with only that hate, which is why he can never get along with the God of Destruction, who was reincarnated with different kinds of feelings.

With his mood completely destroyed, Lord Chaos only glanced at the outer space where the two men were still fighting and opened a space door without looking back at the mortals. After all, in his eyes, more of his actions are whimsical, and he had no intention of getting further involved with these mortals. He took his leave without looking back.

Only Chuchu and Leng Jun watched the departure of Lord Chaos; after all, even though his actions were based on whims, he still saved them twice. They were grateful to him, but that didn't mean that they could repay him. After all, one is a god of unknown origin, while the other is just a newly born god and a demigod.

As the Zerg Empress approached the wardens, the crowd of living were about to kneel to him once again, but a single gesture of stop made them halt their actions. This is instinctive action; after all, most people in this place are soldiers who have all undergone beatings from this person, especially when he had nothing to do. So, they would never go against his will at all times.

Empress Titania spoke, "How are things?"

"Reporting to Lord Empress, the two protagonist sons are alive," said Marquess Silver.

Colonel Bailey said, "Please take back your power. I can't start the repair as I couldn't contend with it."

"Taking it back is not a problem, but... The Zerg Empress looked at the Elementals, who were staring at him innocently. "If I took it all back, these elements wouldn't have a place to live."

The Ice Elemental Penguin King was stunned when he heard that he would lose his home. For elements that have lost their place, they can only slowly weaken and disappear in the end.

{I... I don't want to die. I don't want to be separated from my dad! Boohoo~} said the Ice Elemental Penguin King, who started crying like a child at it and hugged his Zookeeper father, who was now carrying him in his arms.

The Zookeeper Uncle asked politely, "Venerable Lord, is there no other way for the Elementals to exist in this world once you take away your power?"

"There is. I can transfer most of the elements to certain areas where they can live. But... are you humans willing to share this planet with them?" asked the Zerg Empress.

The first to speak out was Jeremy. He knew that his brother wouldn't speak out for humans, as he was no longer one. As the current representative of the human race, he had the right to speak out for them.

"We are willing! Not only have they helped us fight and protected us at the last moment, they are beings who were also born on this planet. It will be unfair to have them disappear. Moreover, some of them are families with humans. So, we are willing to share this planet with them," Jeremy said.

As soon as Jeremy voiced his intentions, the humans, who were a bit scared of making a mess in the presence of such a powerful being, finally spoke out as well. They were also protected by the elements when their gods were fighting that mad one. They had long accepted their existence as a friendly neighborhood.

"That's right. They haven't done anything wrong."

"The Fox King rarely goes down the ice mountains, and this little guy even protected the humans in the south region."

"We are grateful for them. They protected us when we were weaker than they were."

"At least they are different from that scary Wolf God."

Leng Jun finally spoke up and said, "Please just give them the south pole and ice mountain regions. I hope you help us, Venerable Lord Empress."

The Zerg Empress stared at Leng Jun as if scrutinizing him, which made the couple a bit uncomfortable, but they didn't voice their discomfort.

"Okay. Then I shall move most of the elemental qi to those two places. Since you accept them, then this world will no longer be owned by the human race alone. You must have some kind of treaty with the spiritual race to keep the world in balance," Empress Titania said.

"Also, when my husband comes, you should ask him to remove the power of gluttony in you. That power isn't something you can control. You are already on the verge of going out of control."

Leng Jun smiled helplessly when he heard that. He himself knew how hard he had tried to stop his urges to eat something, and the helpless feeling of hunger that could never be satisfied made him extremely uncomfortable.

"I want to thank the Venerable Lord for the help," said Leng Jun as he bowed his head.

The Zerg Empress nodded his head and flicked a bit of divinity to put the power of chaos inside Leng Jun in a slumber state. At the very least, he wouldn't suddenly go out of control, as the chaos energy in him can suppress this power that devours everything.

"When my husband returns, you can tell him he will definitely help you. After all, that power was rightfully his," said the Zerg Empress as he made a move to summon the eternal ice after moving away from the crowd.

Leng Jun mumbled in shock, "Eh? But isn't this power from that other person the Zerg Emperor is fighting against?"

Colonel Bailey patiently explained, "The Zerg Emperor and that man from before came from the same origin, thus they possessed similar strength. It is impossible for Lord Tun Shizhe to help you as he hates mortals. Even if you are a god now, you still used to be one. He will not help you remove that power in your body even if you beg.

Our Milord is also capable of wielding, so there is no need for you to worry about."

"Leng Jun, these are my teachers. This is Teacher Bailey. He is a colonel and the wife of my other teacher. This is my other teacher, Marquess Silver." Cid Warlock introduced his teachers to this new friend of his.

Leng Jun politely greets them, "It's a pleasure to meet you. Can I ask a few more questions if you don't mind?"

"Go ahead," said Colonel Bailey with his usual business smile.

Leng Jun asked, "This power of gluttony. Why does it drive people's minds? Why was it suddenly under control after mixing with that other power, the Chaos Energy, that can cause madness?"

"This is because gluttony was born from chaos. Both powers can cause madness to their hosts; unless it was the one who was born with this power, all others who got this power will go mad in the end. Chaos is much more powerful than gluttony; this is why it could restrain it, but that itself is temporary." Colonel Bailey responded.

Leng Jun said, "I see. But would the Zerg Emperor be alright after taking this power?"

"Milord will be alright. He has his wife's blessing. Because of this, he will never lose control over this power and be able to wield it as his own." The one who answered the second question was Marquess Silver, who stood beside Colonel Bailey.

Suddenly the land rumbles, and everyone can't help but look at the Zerg Empress, who moves away from their group to do something. Under everyone's eyes, the icy mountain range was removed from the west region and thrown towards the north area. The scene of mountains floating in the sky left everyone dumbfounded.

Cid Warlock and Leng Jun, who were also gods, were stunned by the scene and whispered to one another.

"Do you think we can do the same thing in the future?" asked Zerg King Cid Warlock.

Leng Jun retorted, "Stop dreaming!"

Chapter 1434 Second Red Star - Beast King Leonhart's Ending.

The Zerg Empress, after he had moved the mountains, finally returned to the group and said, "The north and south pole will be the territories of the Elemental race. I will melt the snow next. By the way, those mortals were frozen in thick ice. They are still alive, but after being frozen for too long, their bodies lost their normal body temperature. You should make some bonfires to keep them warm."

The Eternal Ice morphed into the form of a transparent ice spider lily beside the Zerg Empress. It happily floated around his master like a delighted child who was finally let out to play. Under everyone's eyes, Empress Titania opened her hand, revealing a piece of snowflake that had a vivid shape.

After all, snowflakes aren't seen with a human's naked eyes. This spider lily flower on the Zerg Empress's hand enlarges as it floats above them. All the snow and ice in the world had been absorbed by this flower until the whole world returned to its original state, which was full of greenery and water. Only the north and south poles remained covered in ice.

In an instant, the world that was covered in snow was gone, and those who were frozen in ice slowly woke up after being enclosed within the ice for months. Jeremy, Shiva, and the other humans watch as the humans who come out of the ice have all woken up. Among these people are the parents of Shiva and the father of Cen Fanyu.

They are the first ones to run towards their loved ones with tears on their faces.

Shiva screamed, "Mother!? Father!?"

"Dad! (Uncle!)" Cen Fanyu and Zerg Soldier Zion call.

There are also a lot of humans who followed after them after finding their own families among those who had awakened with the ice. Cid Warlock and the other alliance leaders had all made a move to help these humans regain their body temperature and energy. Now the scene of delight and tears were unfolding before their eyes.

Only Leng Jun and Chuchu remained at the side, watching like Marquess Silver and the rest, as if they weren't involved.

Marquess Silver glanced at the two and asked, "You aren't going to join them? Maybe your parents are also within that crowd?"

"No need. I'm an orphan. My foster father died fighting the Ice Elemental Wolf King. He isn't among those people who broke out from the ice," Leng Jun said.

Chuchu wrapped himself around him in comfort. {A'Jun, I'm still here with you.}

The usually expressionless Leng Jun would sprout a smile before his Chuchu and gently rub the snake around him. "I know. We will stay together for a very long time."

The two wardens and the Zerg Empress looked at them with a knowing gaze. It is no wonder that normally cold-hearted Lord Chaos chose to interfere and save this couple. It was because, in some way, they are similar to Lord Hei and Lord Ye.

The Zerg Empress doesn't seem to be too interested in this couple and looked in the direction where the burned ice forest is located, which is now replaced with stone formations after the battle. He walks in the direction, followed by the two wardens, Chuchu and Leng Jun, as well as Cid Warlock, who notice them walking away.

Upon arriving at the said location, they saw the half-dead Beast King Leonhart on the ground, half-alive, and most of his body was ripped apart by the mad beast affected by the chaos energy.

He tried to kill as many as he could, but he is alone. He was about to be devoured by these beasts when suddenly their actions halted and they started trembling. King Leonhart knew that someone terrifying for them must have arrived. He tried to turn his head and saw the gorgeous man at the front of the group.

When he saw the huge silver monarch butterfly wing on this person's back, he instantly recognized which race he was from.

With blood bubbling out of his mouth, he mumbles, "Zerg! Zerg! Cough! Empe! Error?"

"Wrong. I am the Zerg Empress," said Titania Ambrosia.

Cid Warlock and Leng Jun wanted to save him, but were stopped by the two wardens and shook their heads. They gestured to look at the Zerg Empress, implying to leave the rest to Empress Titania. The two of them waited at the side with the two wardens.

The Zerg Empress looked down at the dying man and said, "You are the first carrier of Chaos energy and an adaptor to its power. You remained sane despite not becoming a real chaos creature. You could have survived, but you chose to block these beasts who had gone mad due to chaos. You could have regained the opportunity to ascend and ask for help, but chose not to do so. Is this the choice you made?"

Empress Titania stopped his bleeding, but his whole being is in a dying state. Removing the pain is just a short solace before he leaves.

Cough! Cough.

"I am a King. I brought disaster to my race. I got them all killed and there is no other way to repay my sins. Since you are here, that means that Mad God had been defeated. You must be strong. If my situation is not like this, I would have sought you for a spar.

Haha~".

The King of Beast noticed the newly born low-tier gods: Cid Warlock and Leng Jun. He looked at them with a bit of envy, but that is all. After all, he knew that his death was destined to come.

"You two look good. You are also quite powerful yourself. If there is a next life... ah~ that fox did say that I can't reincarnate. How sad. This place has just gotten more interesting." The Beast King Leonhart

Reiner is about to close his eyes and slowly accept death when suddenly he hears the voice of the Zerg Empress.

"You welcomed your death then. What will your little cub do without you?" asked Empress Titania.

"How did you!?" He exclaims.

King Leonhart opened his eyes in disbelief. He didn't expect this Zerg Empress to know about his cub. He can still recall that he ignored his mate's cries to stop them from leaving and left behind a cub he loved the most. At that time, his mind wasn't that clear and must have been affected by the chaotic energy.

Zerg Empress Titania said, "The source of chaos. We found it in your Beast Star. I've actually already removed it, and your world has regained its original state. It is just that your sins were burdened by your cub. He lost his mother, and your tribe would abuse him due to your sins. I warned them to stop, but with the hatred in their hearts, I doubt the cub will survive with your protection."

"So, how about becoming my subordinate? No, become the subordinate of A'Ming. Your task... Let's see. How about going around the world and universe and helping me find the source of chaos energy, especially those that failed to merge with the world they fell into?"

"If you agree, I can make you and your cub quasi-chaos beings. You are to serve the Mo Clan of the upper realm."

Zerg King Cid Warlock, Leng Jun, Chuchu, and especially Beast King Leonhart were dumbfounded by the words the Zerg Empress had said. Just these words alone signify that these people had a direct connection with the upper realm. The two new-born gods were already given knowledge about Vearth after becoming gods.

While the Beast King heard it from the star diviner, the Ice Elemental Nine-Tailed Fox King.

Zerg King Cid Warlock was stunned but still asked, "M-Master, this... are you, no... are you, Master Augustus and my teachers from the upper realm? But that's impossible; you were in the Hive Star for so long; how can that... Ah? This!

Are they your avatars?"

"Quite smart, but you are wrong. Conrad and my body as well as the Zerg Emperor, these are not real bodies. This is a sacrificial vessel the original had given to us in exchange for providing their wish." Colonel Bailey explained and turned his head to look at the man beside him. "My vessel's wish is to live a happy and ordinary life with his beloved husband."

Marquess Silver smiled at his lover and said, "This vessel's wish is to protect his wife from discrimination and love him until the end."

Others tried to ignore the dog food thrown on their faces.

Colonel Bailey also explained the situation of the Zerg Empress and the Zerg Emperor. "As for the Zerg Emperor, he also has a wish, but only our lord knows about this. We had descended on the hive star looking for our lord's other half's soul fragment."

"That soul fragment is Titania Ambrosia. After merging with his soul, this body had become one of my mortal bodies. Once those wishes are fulfilled, we will also take our leave, and this vessel shall become empty. We are gods from the upper realm," said Empress Titania.

At this point, the four younglings in front of them were stunned and looked at the three before with a look of incredulity. Among them, the most excited ones are Leng Jun and Chuchu.

Leng Jun said, "Sir, is it true that in the upper realm one can recreate a body?"

"Are you talking about a body for this little one?" asked Colonel Bailey.

"Yes!" answered Leng Jun.

Colonel Bailey said, "His soul is already powerful enough. You can indeed buy materials to create his physical body but... wouldn't it be faster to help your elemental become a god. Becoming a God means construction of his divine vessel, that is more powerful than creating a body."

"This little one is missing his primordial soul. So, even if he is a demigod and has the qualifications to become a god, he can't. Kid, did someone touch your soul before or have you been badly injured once?" asked Marquess Silver.

Leng Jun recalled the day he first summoned Chuchu and saw him battered and half-dead. "He did! When I first summoned him, he was so badly injured that only the contract could save him."

"Then someone from the Spirit World must have taken that Primordial Soul of his. You must take it back as soon as possible. Without it, he can't become a god. Not becoming a god meant his lifespan was limited. Elementals are said to live for as long as they wanted, but that was limited. Elementals are said to live for as long as they wanted, but that is only the case for those with complete souls.

Your Elemental is missing a quarter; he couldn't even be reincarnated after death. Despite that, he chose to help you transcend and his soul was injured. If not for the divine energy that was injected in the soul as a support, he would never wake up," Marquess Silver said.

Leng Jun looked terrified as he heard about these facts; even Chuchu was shocked. He didn't know that his situation was that dire.

Colonel Bailey spoke up. "How about this? With this hybrid child, you can ascend anytime, and with your compatibility with the power of gluttony, you are more suitable to work with us. After being affiliated with us, you will gain permission to enter all lower worlds, including the Spirit World. We from the Nether System will help you get back his soul.

My husband is the Chief Warden; there is no way the domain lord of the Spirit World wouldn't give in to him."

"You can even have him replaced when his sins are put on trial," said Marquess Silver.

Chuchu and Leng Jun agreed to work for the Nether System.

Cid Warlock asked, "Nether System? Chief Warden? What are you guys talking about? How about me? Can't I work for the teachers too?"

"You... you need to stay in the Hive until you find your heir. You can't leave unless you find one to become the protagonist of the Hive," Marquess Silver said.

Colonel Bailey laughed and said, "You can only stay in the Hive for a few hundreds of years before you can go to the Upper realm." He made a perverted gesture with the meaning 'Get laid or lay on someone'. "Get a kid as soon as possible and train an heir. Once you arrive at the upper realm at some point, then you can find us."

"Master Bailey, that's so perverted," said Cid Warlock as he got hit on the back of his head by his other master.

Marquess Silver said, "Whose wife are you calling perverted?"

Hahahaha~ The others laugh at the interaction between this master and his disciple.

Chapter 1435 Second Red Star - Path [End]

As these guys were having a conversation on their own, the Zerg Empress once again asked the Beast King. "What is your choice? Remember, this is just one of my whims. Because your child is a good baby, I am going to give you a chance to survive."

"I am willing!" said the Beast King Leonhart.

The Zerg Empress reached out a hand and poured more chaos energy into the Beast King. He cried in pain, making those who were having a fun conversation turn around, and he saw a powerful energy of chaos wrapping around the beast king like a cocoon. Under the gaze of Cid Warlock, Leng Jun, Chuchu, and the two wardens, they saw the dying beast king undergoing evolution.

From a dying beastman to a quasi-chaos being. His black hair had turned pure white, yet his eyes remained golden and sharp like the lion he used to be. He had also become a bit younger, and his haggard appearance from before had completely disappeared.

As soon as his feet landed on the ground, he kneeled before the Zerg Empress and saluted him with his utmost respect. "This servant greets the Lord!"

"Hm. I have given you your task. But you first must ascend and get a new name registered under the Mo Clan in the upper realm. I can't attend to you in Vearth due to some circumstances. Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang will explain things to you there. For now, you are free to do as you wish before ascension." The Zerg Empress said then looked at the two wardens.

"I'm going to find my husband. Maybe they are done fighting." He disappeared on the spot.

Those who were left behind—some were dumbfounded, the others were used to it.

Cid Warlock couldn't help but comment, "Master, do you sometimes act a bit... abrupt?"

"That's normal. Master is the type to not care if it's no fun." Colonel Bailey turned and looked at the former beast king, who had officially become a quasi-chaos being. "In his case, he was saved by his son. Master loves children."

"Let's go back to your group and help them. There are now a lot of things to be done with how things are almost over from this side," Marquess Silver said as he led this small team to merge with the crowd from before.

At the open area, which is now filled with grasses, flowers and trees, tents and bonfires were built to secure and attend to the patients that came out of the ice they were imprisoned in. As soon as Cid Warlock and the rest returned to the group, they saw how busy the people were.

Former Beast King Leonhart had also come with them, but due to the changes on his appearance, no one had recognized him except for the Ice Elemental Nine-Tailed Fox King.

The Nine-Tailed Fox King glanced at them and said to the former beast king:. {This little friend here is quite lucky. To think you have found the Venerable Lord who would cure the chaos energy in your body. It's just that your race seems to have completely changed.}

Leonhart said, "It's a result I couldn't have asked for more."

Their small group was approached by Jeremy and others, and it seems that there are some patients whose body temperature didn't return to normal after being. Jeremy wanted to ask his brother's help, as he knew that, as a god, his flame must be more powerful than what fire elementals possessed and had better control over it.

Jeremy spoke, "Brother, please help me! There are some people dying as they couldn't regulate their temperature. What should I do if the bonfire doesn't seem to work on them?"

"Lead the way!" said Leng Jun.

Most of them followed Jeremy towards the center of the camp, where the largest bonfire is located. There were at least five people with pale faces surrounding the fire, and even so, their faces remained pale blue as if they would die anytime. Among them, Colonel Bailey noticed the situation of these people and even noticed the scent of alcohol.

Frowning at the severe case of Hypothermia, Colonel Bailey immediately made a move, His lover moved the patient and made them sit up. On the other hand, Colonel Bailey presses an acupuncture that makes them puke, forcing the alcohol feed to these patients out of their body system.

Cough. Cough.

Colonel Bailey said, "Don't feed the patients alcohol! They haven't eaten anything for months. Give them soup or hot chocolate instead. Their temperature is already below normal a patient with hypothermia should have. Their breathing is about to stop. Call people to use CPR!"

Most of the doctors with them didn't expect that these patients had drunk wine. They thought the wine was only used to wipe their skin to lower their temperature. It is no wonder they were fooled by the scent of wine. They should check through them properly.

Upon investigation, it was said that the family members of the patient were too anxious as the first batch of soup was gone and they had to wait for the other batch to be made. Their thoughts were to warm their families up; who would have expected that this had almost led their loved ones to death?

"We need to lower their temperature first," said Leng Jun, as a purplish black flame appeared above his palm just as he was about to spread his flames. Someone had grabbed his wrist and twisted it, preventing his flame from being instantly extinguished.

A magnetic, low voice reached Leng Jun's ears, saying, "Your flames would send them directly to hell. Flames mixed with the power of gluttony devour life energy."

When Leng Jun and the rest turned around, they saw the Zerg Emperor letting go of Leng Jun's wrist. Not far from them, the Zerg Empress had asked Eternal Ice to remove the remaining traces of ice elements in these mortals' bodies, making them wake up normally one by one.

Without the ice elements affecting their bodies, all of their bodies had returned to normal except for being hungry. They are almost the same as others. Just in case, the Zerg Emperor also completely cured them with his healing abilities, now all of these mortals are out of danger. The cheers of everyone in the crowd were heard in the area.

Marquess Silver and Colonel Bailey saluted the Zerg Emperor. The former even asked, "Milord, what happened to your opponent?"

This question just annoyed the God of Void more, but the hand of his beloved that held him instantly calmed him down.

The Zerg Emperor said, "Tsk! He was saved by Chaos. If not for him, I would be able to beat him up more. How lucky of him!" His wife beside him couldn't help but chuckle upon seeing his husband's pouting expression. He just thought that his beloved was so cute as he pouted.

Hahaha~

"Baby, don't laugh, please," said the Zerg Emperor.

Zerg Empress responded, "My love, you're so cute. You treated that man as if he were your annoying and bratty younger brother."

"Hmp! In reality, he might be. If not for that, Brother wouldn't have spared him for harming your uncle," said the God of Void.

It seems that the last time Tun Shizhe sneaked into the Nether System wanting to take Hei Anjing's vessel, he bumped into Mo Baojun and fought against him. As the latter was protecting his nephew's body, he must have injured his hand in their clash. Upon seeing his wife hurt, this caused the God of Light and Creation to enrage and take away one of Tun Shizhe's arms.

The fact that only an arm was taken away shows the last mercy Shen Siwang could give to Tun Shizhe, who gave him the same feeling as Ye Xiajie.

The Zerg Empress said, "He indeed gives away a feeling very similar to you. His aura is completely different to those corrupted ones who came from the same origin. Is there another reason why he looks so similar to you?"

"That... I don't know. After my revival, I haven't stayed that long in Vearth as I am worried about your soul fragments," said the Zerg Emperor.

Empress Titania said, "We can only ask Uncles about it when we go back. For now, help that child. The power of gluttony in him would devour even his soul if it continued to stay in its body. I noticed that it was getting stronger inside of him."

The couple looked at Leng Jun and Chuchu; they knew that the one they were talking about was Leng Jun, who was almost used by Tun Shizhe as a tool to be used against this God of Void.

Emperor Augustus said, "Kid, come over."

Leng Jun hesitated, as he could feel that this man had a completely different aura than the Zerg Empress. His presence alone was overbearing, and he could feel how weak he was before this person's eyes. Only when Cid Warlock patted him on the back did his suffocating feeling slowly fade.

Cid Warlock said, "Calm down and don't be too sensitive with the aura coming from them. The more you try to see, the more it will come back to you as pressure."

Leng Jun tried to lower his vigilance and approached the Zerg Emperor. Like Cid Warlock had said, as long as he didn't probe into this person, that suffocating aura wouldn't be felt by him.

He lowered his head and said politely, "Thank you for your help, Venerable Zerg Emperor."

"I'm only helping you because my wife told me so," said the Zerg Emperor with an indifferent tone. He tapped his forehead and used his ability to devour the same power within Leng Jun.

All of a sudden, Leng Jun felt that terrifying power of gluttony, which is a lot more powerful than his. This power not only prevented him from moving, but it also made him feel like something was being sucked out of his body and soul. He was in great pain and didn't even notice that his purplish-red hair slowly returned to a darker shade of red with gold linings.

The negative energy eating him from the inside was taken away. Under everyone's eyes, his formerly long purplish-red hair had changed from red to gold, and even his deep crimson eyes had changed completely to gold as well. Now his aura is very similar to what Chuchu possessed without that hint of power that can devour almost everything.

Chuchu was the most delighted of them all. He wrapped his body around Leng Jun's neck and tightly hugged him. He was even excitedly saying, {A'Jun! You're back to normal! You look so similar to me now!}

The Zerg Emperor's mood had turned from worse to better, as if he had eaten something delicious. He is in a better mood now than before. "I only took away the power of gluttony, which was slowly eating away your divinity. You should be able to transcend without problems now. Anyway, our part is now done. You guys can handle the rest."

He turned his head, pulled his wife closer to himself, and revealed a smile as he looked at his empress. "Baby, since we are done here, where do you want to go next? Since the children have grown up, how about we go around this star system and have a vacation?" said the Zerg Empress.

The Zerg Emperor laughed happily and said, "I will accompany you anywhere, my wife."

The Zerg Empress and the Zerg Emperor once again took their leave. They didn't even care about the reactions of those who were left behind. Most of them look at the figure of the leaving couple with dumbfounded expressions on their faces.

Cid Warlock said, "They look just like that. Who would handle the things here?"

"Isn't there you? You are the Zerg King of the Hive Star and the leader of the Interstellar Alliance, aren't you?" retorted Marquess Silver.

Cid Warlock said, "Master, can't you help me?"

"The Mad God had been extinguished. The Frozen Apocalypse on this planet is over and most of the survivors are alive. You have all the people who can help you by your side. What help do you still need from us? Those beside you can help you with the rest," Marquess Silver said. "We need to go back to the Hive and protect it while you are away."

"Ah, right. Cid, you know about Zhi Yang and Zhi Yue, right? They would be coming over here with this world's Heavenly Consciousness so you can talk to him about the rest and your plans for the future," Colonel Bailey said, then turned his head to look at the former beast King, "As for you, we will accompany you to your planet. You can stay there or somewhere else for a while."

When it's time for us to return to the upper realm, you must come with us to register your name. Until then, you are free to do so as you wish."

The former beast king saluted and said, "Yes, sir."

Without the involvement of the Zerg Empress and Zerg Emperor with the problems in this star system, Cid Warlock had officially created an Alliance within this star system. This is a big and powerful alliance that involves most races found in this universe. He had become one of the most powerful figures in the whole interstellar system and most of the races knew about his existence.

He had become the most powerful Zerg King in the history of the insect race.

The human race had slowly but carefully started to build up everything they had lost during the times of the apocalypse and everything that had happened on their planet. Jeremy, as the representative of the humans, signed a treaty with the Elementals, headed by the Ice Elemental Penguin King, which led to the coexistence of the two races.

As for the former beast king, after returning to his planet, the whole beast race had hated him as he was the only one who returned alive. After taking away his son, he went to the hive and sought his master. They waited in the Hive for the time the Immortals would return to the Upper Realm, where he would also go.

While waiting, he helps his son evolve to demigod, at least so his entrance to Vearth will not be hindered.

At the Origin Nest within the Imperial Palace...

After another 500 years, the mortal vessel of Empress Titania had finally reached the end of its lifespan. His body slowly weakened as he aged. On his deathbed, his husband laid down with him wearing the same aged face as his. Marquess Silver and Colonel Bailey, who were not different from them, stood side by side as their bodies were dying as well.

The whole Hive Star was saddened by the news of this event. They all kneel regardless where they are, as they knew that it was about time for their guardians to leave the world.

This time, only Zerg King Cid Warlock was there to see them off. The former beast king, Leonhart, and his son were also staying by the side. They also knew that it was time to leave this place.

Zerg Empress said, "This world is also quite fun. But I miss my children more."

The Zerg King kissed the forehead of his dying wife and said, "No worries. We can see them soon. Jing'er, it's time to go home."

"Hm, let's go home."

The Zerg Empress slowly closed his eyes, and his mortal body crumbled under everyone's eyes until only a few piles of ashes remained. A silver soul in Hei Anjing's real form remains asleep on the bed. His long, light brown hair spreads on the bed like brown silk. His exquisite phoenix-shaped eyes were close as he slept so deeply. He is wearing a pure white ancient robe.

Hovering over this robe are black snowflakes, vividly moving around as if they were alive. His appearance is a lot more beautiful than his face as Empress Titania.

Cid Warlock and the other two watched as the bodies of the Zerg Emperor, Marquess Silver, and Colonel Bailey also turned to ashes, revealing their true forms. What replaced the appearance of the Zerg Emperor was a man wearing pure black robes; his black hair was tied up with a red crown, and his features were manly with hints of dangerous vibes.

Yet those crimson eyes that seemed inhuman were full of tenderness as he looked at the man in white robes within his embrace.

Not far from them are the two wardens. Marquess Silver was replaced with a man wearing a charcoal gray robe with black armor and a golden spear in his hand. Standing beside him is a gentle-looking man wearing similar-looking robes with more hints of scholarly vibes. On his hand were red strings that seemed to be a part of his body hanging on him like an accessory.

They also saw a small moon and a small sun hovering around the couple on the bed and heard them speaking.

System Yang said, [The space tunnel connected to the Vearth had been verified.]

[It will open soon. I've already transferred Leng Jun and Chuchu on the tunnel. They are waiting for us there,] System Yue said.

The God of Void carefully lifted his wife's soul from the bed. Without a vessel to protect it, it can only sleep as his soul is still incomplete. A door appeared in the garden out of nowhere without Cid Warlock noticing. The two wardens held the door each for their lords.

Before leaving, the God of Void looked at Cid Warlock and said, "Once we leave, this world will definitely point you out as the new Zerg Emperor. Only once you cut off your karma to this world will you be able to ascend. The rest is now in your hands."

"Yes, Master," Cid Warlock bowed his head as he kneeled down. He showed his last respect to his masters and teachers.

He watched as the door opened and the scene of an unknown universe or space appeared beyond the door. Cid Warlock was stunned at the scene of countless worlds flashing within that place and a tunnel connected to a large star with gold and black shade can be seen. He was amazed by such a mystical scene that cannot be even compared to the star system he is in right now.

Leng Jun and Chuchu waved their hands towards him in farewell and the former beast king carrying his son had also bid their farewell.

Once the God of Void walks towards the door, a step is enough to venture a hundred meters. In just a few steps, he was already away from the door and can be found walking in the long tunnel in space. Cid Warlock watches them take their leave as the space door slowly closes before him.

He mumbles, "I will also walk this path in the future."

Chapter 1436 Vearth - Return to the Nether System

Space Tunnel connected to Vearth.

Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang had contacted the people of Vearth to create a space tunnel to temporarily connect the world they are in and to Vearth. This is a special technique only the Hei Clan is capable of. Under the command of the God of Space, Hei Jue, this space tunnel was made to welcome the group.

Normally, they would only use a direct teleportation door which instantly leads to the one in the Nether System.

But per request of the God of Destruction, Hei Anjing, to his cousin, Hei Jue, this special tunnel was made. The reason for this is for the former King of Beast to remember the routes that will bring him back to Vearth. After all, he is a field agent that will most likely live outside looking for traces of chaos energy all over the universe.

It would be safer for him to know the path and danger in the space he would have to tackle in the future.

Warden Yun Ming was explaining the routes and danger to the newly ascended gods. Unlike the ones brought in before, these guys would most likely work for the Nether System like them. Maybe, even becoming warden which depends on their choices.

"You should be careful and remember the paths. There are more than a thousand paths which lead to the upper realm: Vearth. But there are more routes that lead to countless low, mid and high-tier worlds. If you got lost it might take you a long time to be able to return. But as a god, Time is all we have.

Unless you got your soul completely destroyed you can still be reincarnated through the God System provided that you have bought a reincarnation ticket before death," said Warden Yun Ming.

Leng Jun asked, "Lord Yun, are the materials for creating a temporary vessel expensive?"

"A temporary vessel doesn't cause much. You will be working as an intern warden and we will provide you an allowance of 500 points a month. As for the temporary body, it can be exchanged for 1000 which is the cheapest and 5000 which is more in quality. But these vessels wouldn't allow your partner to fight. It can only give him a temporary body.

It is still better to gather enough points to buy resources to increase the cultivation of you two."

"Moreover, with your partner only at Demigod, he can't stay for too long inside Vearth, and you guys have to live outside for a while. With how thick the divine qi is in Vearth, he might explode from overexposure. Don't worry, there are dormitories, apartments, and houses at the outer ring.

Only when you guys at least reach High God cultivation will you be able to live in the inner ring," explained Warden Yun Ming.

The former beast king, Leonhart, is now calling himself Leone and his son, Lev. He asked, "How long can a demigod and a god stay in the inner ring without their lives being in danger?"

"A god can stay inside for a month. Demigod's vessels can only withstand the pressure for a week. You should keep it in mind and not die stupidly," the chief warden said.

His cold tone is unfriendly, and adding his words makes it seem like he is asking for a beating, but Leng Jun and Leone didn't mind it as they knew that they couldn't defeat this person at all. After all, this is one of the strongest immortal gods in Vearth.

Baby Lev asked innocently, "Why wouldn't they leave? Aren't they afraid of exploding?"

"They are afraid. It is just that being able to live in the inner ring where the divine qi is the thickest allowed their cultivation to soar faster. Those who got addicted would not want to leave even at the risk of their lives. Stupid idiots who couldn't control their greed leading them to their own. They deserve it so no one stops them. It's just a pain to clean up," the Chief Warden said.

His voice didn't soften even when talking to the cub, but for some reason, Cub Lev wasn't afraid of him at all. "So, kid, inside you can only stay for a week, then come out to train. After resting for another week, you can go inside again."

"I understand, Uncle Chief Warden!" responded Cub Lev.

When they finally reached the end of the tunnel, the God of Void turned around and looked at the two wardens. He said, "Send a word to Mo and our children about our return. You can take care of the rest. I will call upon you when it is time to leave again."

Then the darkness under his feet opened up, disappearing on the spot with Lord Hei's soul within his embrace. He clearly returned to his domain, where the core of the Nether System is located. That is where his wife's vessel rests.

Once the God of Void returned to his domain, the Chief Warden and Warden Yun Ming were welcomed by countless eyes falling on them. After all, gods from the Nether System rarely come out, especially the Chief Warden; he only comes out when there is a prisoner who has escaped by taking in a new batch of sinners to the Netherworld.

He is an infamous figure, and every time he comes out, it's only for capturing, punishing, or killing someone.

Leng Jun, Chuchu, Leone, and Lev noticed the other people's eyes on them. Upon observing clearly, they notice that everyone in this place is a god. Most of them are much more powerful than him.

Leng Jun mumbles, "All of them are gods, and the weakest is at least a deity."

"The land of gods. Indeed, the fox had said it right," Leone mumbled.

The Chief Warden, after using his name to vouch for the guys that come with them, called for them to enter. A row of gods at the registration center were bowing their heads as Chief Warden Lou and Warden Yun walked forward. Leng Jun, Chuchu, Leone, and Lev noticed that everyone was looking at them as if they were the top of the gossip. They finally overheard some on their way.

"Isn't that the Chief Warden and Warden Yun Ming? Why are they entering the normal way? Don't they have their own exclusion door back to the Nether System?"

"Are those two behind them the new prisoners? They don't look that strong."

"Look closely. There aren't any handcuffs on them. They might be new recruits."

"But isn't the requirement for working in the Nether System stricter than in the God System? Only elites are able to work there. The lowest requirement is to have an executioner license and be within the top 100."

"Idiot! That's for the warden position. I heard they are hiring for new positions like administrative staff and support staff. The nicest position after the warden is the field warden position. Those are able to descend to the lower realm and find prisoners. I heard even the information is enough for you to receive a few 100K points."

"With hundred 100K Points I would be able to buy resources for me to reach Highgod."

"Stop dreaming! That's the Netherworld where most heinous gods were imprisoned. If you are too weak you die in there without a corpse."

"But that place is also the highest paying job in Vearth."

"That is also true."

Leng Jun, Chuchu, and Leone were stunned with what they heard. They didn't expect that these two men before them were famous individuals for their strengths. No wonder most people would bow their heads in the presence of the two wardens. If these two are this famous how about the two who left ahead before them. They are obviously more powerful than the two wardens before them.

They followed the pair to the other side of the world. Their journey is short as there are teleportation portals all over the central city. Only when they saw the towering gate that leads to the Netherworld that these aborigines from the lower realm were stunned. The gate is big and tall. It can even fit a giant and allow it to pass through this door without a problem.

The guards were also titans that were born from the void of their lord. As soon as these gods saw the two wardens they immediately kneeled on one knee and bowed their heads.

"Chief Warden. Warden Yun. Welcome back!"

"Let us open the gates for you!"

The Chief lightly nodded his head while Warden Yun smiled and said as they passed the opened gates.

"Continue the good work."

"Yes, sir!" the two titans responded.

Leng Jun, Chuchu, and Leone noticed that even the strength of these guards was something they couldn't see through. They were actually a bit confused about the cultivation stages in the Upper Realm. As if nothing of their thoughts mattered, Warden Yun kindly explained things to them.

"Those two are from the Void Titan race. They are born from the power of the Sovereign that rules the Nether System. You've met our lords already. The Zerg Emperor is the Ruler of the Nether System. He is also the Sovereign God of Darkness and Void. He is Lord Ye Xiajie.

He is also the chief warden's master. My master is Lord Ye's wife. In the last world, he is the Zerg Empress. He is also the God of Destruction and Chaos, someone from the Mo Clan. His name is Lord Hei Anjing."

"Before we enter Vearth, you've seen it right? The world of light and darkness. Vearth has four sovereign rulers. The land of light, Sanctuary, which is where he had entered just now, is under the control of the God System. That area is where most good gods and goddesses live.

It is the region led by the Sovereign of Light and Creation, Sovereign Lord Shen Siwang, and his wife, the Sovereign of Life and Death, Sovereign Lord Mo Baojun."

"As for the land of darkness, the Netherworld, not many can live in this area as this is mostly the land of imprisonment. Beings of the Upper Realms who have gone against the Divine Laws will be locked in here. Those sinners are called prisoners, and we, the wardens, are tasked with watching over them and preventing them from escaping.

That's why the gods that work for the Nether System must be powerful—at least powerful enough to restrain these prisoners if something happens. Don't worry, your task isn't to handle prisoners," Warden Yun Ming said.

The Chief Warden added, "Even if you wouldn't handle prisoners, you still need to be trained."

Warden Yun Ming said, "Well, it seems that training isn't something you can't escape since the chief warden has spoken."

They ventured to the Netherworld and saw the scene of some prisoners being punished in the area. Leone covered the eyes of his son, Lev, as such scenes seem to be traumatic for a young child like him. But Leone didn't know; Lev had changed a lot after his race was changed to that of a quasi-chaos being. These kinds of creatures are normally fearless, as they are beings born from chaos itself.

"Dad, don't cover my eyes! I just saw children like me over there!" said Lev as he pointed somewhere near the ancient castle before their eyes.

Like Lev had said, there are three children playing with one handsome young man and one beautiful young lady looking after them. One of the three children looks like he is in high school, and the two who look like twin girls and boys are children looking like they are in elementary school. They were all wearing ancient cultivation clothes, looking handsome, adorable, and pretty.

Upon seeing these children, the Chief Warden and Warden Yun suddenly bowed their heads and saluted.

"We greet Young Lord Qinjing, Young Lord Jingxia, Young Lord Jingmo, Princess Anxia, and Lady An Juehua!"

These people are the children of the sovereign Lord Ye and Lord Hei Anjing, while An Juehua is the daughter of Lord An Liang and Lord Hei Jue. Unexpectedly, they would bump on them here on their way back to the Nether Castle.

Chapter 1437 Vearth - Interns

Bumping into the children of their future masters and superiors, Leng Jun, Chuchu, and Leone were stunned and speechless. They didn't know what to do and just lowered their heads, copying the two wardens before them. The group of children were delighted to see the Chief Warden and Warden Yun Ming. Because this means that with these two going back to Vearth, so are their parents.

Ye Jingxia and the twins hugged the two wardens, while Ye Qinjing and An Juehua had also come over with a smile.

Ye Jingxia said, "Uncle Lou! Uncle Yun! If you two are back, does that mean Dad and Father are also back?"

"Yes, Young Lord Jingxia. The Masters had told you to come meet them in that place," said Warden Yun Ming.

"Really!? Then we will go ahead then!" said Ye Jingxia as he ran back to their eldest brother, Ye Qinjing. The same goes for the twins, and they instantly disappeared on the spot as Ye Jingxia used teleportation to leave the place.

This scene left Leng Jun, Chuchu, Leone, and Lev speechless and dazed.

Lev commented, "Wow~ that big brother is amazing! They all disappeared!" He was even clapping his small hands as what he saw was magical.

An Juehua, who was entertained by the little cub, rubs his head with a smile and says, "They had just teleported. You can also do it when your father buys you the teleportation bracelet."

"Really! Big sister!" said Lev with an excited gaze as he looked at the young lady with round eyes.

An Juehua responded, "Of course!" Then she raised her head and looked at the two wardens.

"Lord Chief Warden, Lord Warden Yun, my Father wishes to meet you," she said.

After the reinstatement of the God of Void as the Sovereign of the Nether System, his friend, Lord An Liang, had taken over the empty seat as the Lord God.

Normally, this position would be given to Chief Warden, who is the right-hand man of the God of Void, but since it was decided that the Chief Warden and Warden Yun Ming are to act as guards of the God of Void in the lower realm, the position of the Lord God was given to An Liang.

Lord And Liang is the only friend of Ye Xiajie in Vearth. Though it can be said that he trusted him 100 percent, their relationship is quite good and only second to the brotherhood of Shen Siwang and Ye Xiajie.

But after his betrayal during the trial of resurrection for the God of Void, which caused Hei Anjing's death in the mortal realm, he, who was supposed to die as a result, was pardoned due to the forgiveness of the God of Destruction himself.

It is more likely that the reason for his betrayal was because his and Hei Jue's daughter were used as a bargain for this betrayal, and he never gave away the most important information, like the current situation of the God of Void at that time.

Though all the hardship was borne by Hei Anjing, he didn't hate this cousin-in-law of his that much; after all, he is the other half of his cousin, Hei Jue, and it was to protect his niece, An Juehua.

So, when An Juehua was saved when Lord An Liang broke down and was about to offer his life for his sins, even the God of Void was enraged that he wanted to kill his friend on the spot, and Lord Hei Anjing chose to forgive him. After all, if he were in his position, he might have done the same thing. Though not as foolish as how An Liang had done so,.

So, for his punishment, An Liang's soul is now connected to the Nether System. Once the Nether System is destroyed in the future, so will his soul. This is the last mercy the sovereign God of Void and Darkness could give him.

Hei Jue, who never went along with Ye Xiajie, chose to work for the Nether System to support his husband. Juehua, who heard the whole story, was so sorry for the family of Lord Hei and Lord Ye. Full of guilt, she also chose to work for the Nether System as well. She had become the first female warden in the Nether Prison and was well-known as the ruthless queen.

The two wardens bid An Juehua farewell. Though the little girl is young, her strength is already at a God-King level.

"Then Lady An, please continue your patrol. We shall go ahead," said Warden Yun Ming. "Also, the current state of your parents, you shouldn't mind it too much. If you want to know about the real relationship between your parents and the lords, you can always seek their audience. You are from the Hei family after all."

An Juehua was stunned only for a moment and understood the hidden meaning within the words Warden Yun Ming had mentioned. She clasped her hands, lowered her hand, and bid her farewell.

"Thank you for the advice. I will keep it in mind," said An Juehua before taking her leave. She even smiled and waved her hand towards the little cub, Lev, who was also waving her chubby hands towards her, and then she finally resumed her patrolling duties.

After Warden An Juehua had taken her leave, their small group walked forward towards the castle. Even though the others are a bit curious about the conversation between Lady An and the other two wardens, they didn't dare to openly ask for it. As it might involve a serious subject that even involves their Lords.

Warden Yun noticed the tension and silence among the ones following behind them and said, "Don't worry about Lady An. Since it involves their family, only their family can solve it as well. Follow us and meet your superior. I and the Chief Warden have a mission to follow the Sovereigns to the lower realms, so we wouldn't be able to look after you all the time.

We rarely come back to Vearth as we are busy with some missions."

"Your superior will be Lady An's father, Lord God An Liang. He is also a good friend of Milord and handles everything about the Nether System. Don't worry, he is a friend, man, unless you broke the rules," Chief Warden Lou said. "Though if you broke the rules, he is more ruthless than Milord, so you should keep that in mind."

The group finally entered the castles and went to the office of the Lord God. There is a throne hall, but that place wasn't used recently as Ye Xiajie is always away and Hei Anjing is always asleep. Normally, the Lord God is also allowed to use the throne hall, but Lord An Liang never did so.

Not only doesn't he see himself as one of the leaders of this place, he also has guilt in his heart, making it hard for him to do the regular things. In Lord An Liang's mind, his current situation is not different from the prisoners in the Nether Prison. Even if Ye Xiajie and Hei Anjing forgive him, he can't forgive himself.

At the Lord's Office...

The office was half the size of the throne hall, yet there are lots of literary gods working on paper, which run the whole Nether System. These Gods and Goddesses possessed cultivation of the god king to Mythical God stages. This shows that despite working on paper, their cultivations are enough to defend the Nether Prison if something happens.

Among them is the Lord God, who sat at the largest table and was surrounded by piles of papers as if they were endless.

Lord God An Liang, who was reading through the paper in his hand, shouted. "Who made this damn report? This prisoner had more sins than his merits. If he wanted to be bailed, his merits alone aren't enough. Throw him in the detention hall and have him work for the rest of the merits he needs. If he didn't wish to do so, just throw him to the Lava Spring and start his torture!"

"Yes, Lord God!" A few gods under his command were kneeling, asking to be pardoned.

The Nether System has been having some issues, especially after some special-grade prisoners escaped from the Nether Prison. Though most of them had been taken back in, there are some who had successfully escaped from Vearth, though under heavy sacrifices.

There is also the return of the God of Darkness and Void, but there is still no news about him returning to his throne as the Sovereign, and a lot of sinners wanted to take on this situation as an opportunity to do some more things that might lead to another prison break. Thankfully, An Liang, holding the fort of the Nether Prison, would truly lose their reputation.

"Lord God, there are some issues with the prisoners at the lower level! No one knows where they got the information that the sovereign God isn't in the netherworld right now and wants to revolt!"

"Hmp! Double... no, triple! Their punishment. As long as they suffer more torture, those bastards will shut the hell up!" said Lord God An Liang.

It was at this moment that the Chief Warden and the rest of his group, who had just arrived, spoke up to let the others know about their presence.

Chief Warden Lou Wuye spoke, "Lord An, since there is a problem with the lower hell, I will go ahead and restrain them. Ming'er will explain the rest."

"Chief Warden!?"

"It's the Chief Warden! This issue can be solved!"

"Those bastards are out of luck now."

The Chief Warden used his authority in the Nether System and immediately opened a space door that leads to the Lower Hell. He wore his trademark pure black, full-plated armor and walked into the door. Yun Ming sees him off until the space door slowly fades. Before the space door completely disappeared, everyone in the office heard the terrified cries of the prisoners from Lower Hell.

"Ack! It's the Chief Warden!"

"Fuck! Why did this person come back?"

"Free up those wardens we captured! We are truly going to die if he sees it!"

"It's too late. I saw it already." The cold voice of the Chief Warden resounds in the darkness, and the loud screams of the prisoners in the Lower Hell scream in agony. Only then did the space door he passed through completely disappear.

Silence descended within the Lord God's office for a moment before every god in the room resumed their duties as if nothing happened at all. It was only at this time that the haggard Lord God An Liang listed his head from the papers on the table to Warden Yun Ming.

Lord God, An Liang spoke with dark circles under his eyes. "Xiao Ming? If you guys are back, so is Xiao Ye. You've returned at the right time. Are those guys behind you the new recruits?"

"Only two of them are. This father and son are Quasi-chaos beings. They are servants of my Master. They will work for the Mo Clan and Nether System simultaneously as field wardens. They are here for registration," Warden Yun Ming said.

Lord God An Liang looked up and observed the four who were beside Warden Yun Ming. He noticed that among the four, one is a soul, the small one is a child, and only the other two are fit to work. His eyes lingered at the father and son and he noticed the special aura in them. It was similar to that group of chaos creatures that was registered under the Mo Family.

Chaos Beings: It's been recently known that the Mo Clan's race is not that of a god but divine beings born from Chaos itself. It can be said that they are the children born from the power of the God of Chaos, who died a long time ago.

An Liang mumbled, "It's no wonder that no one had noticed the Mo Clan for a long time because the chaos creatures are able to change their aura and blend with the aura of other beings. Okay, I will have them registered."

Chapter 1438 Vearth - Feels like home

Lord God An looked at Leng Jun and Chuchu, who were certified to work for the Nether System as interns. Since their cultivation still hasn't reached the minimum requirement as a High God, they can only work as an intern until they reach this stage of cultivation and become a full-time employee.

"That kid there, so you want to borrow a puppet vessel for your partner. It would be a bit dangerous for him to stay in his soul form, if he worked in such a state. I can give you a high end puppet vessel, but for half a year your intern allowances shall be halved. Your original internship allowance was 500 points each with less 250 points monthly you have 250 points for each of you.

500 points should be enough for you two to live through every month. Interns will be provided a dormitory until you become a full-time employee, but still if you want your partner to ascend as a real god then you will have to save some points to buy some cultivation resources.

You can exchange from the Nether System Mall, but don't forget to eat as your partner cannot not eat as a Demigod." Lord God An Liang said.

Leng Jun and Chuchu knew that these benefits were provided by their superior before them. Ordinary interns don't have such a big allowance, but it seems that the Nether System is quite good to their employees.

"Thank you, Lord God An Liang!" said Leng Jun and Chuchu.

Lord God An Liang said, "No worries. Just do your task. Don't forget to train and get stronger as soon as you can. Our Netherworld is in need of workers; it's just that it's hard to recruit as the requirements are strict. It would be different like your case, which is a recommendation from the two sovereigns that rule this Netherworld."

He then looked at the father and son. "As for you two, you have the option of leaving your son in our care, and we will provide him education, protection, and training while you are out of Vearth working as a Field Warden. Your situation is different from these pairs as your master is Xiao An instead of Xiao Ye. Chaos beings can only serve the Mo Clan.

Even though you are only a quasi-chaos being, your life is under the control of the Mo family."

"I don't know much of the benefits the Mo clan gave to their familiars, but I heard some information from the first batch of Chaos beings that come through me before you. You will be provided a house within the territory of the Mo Clan and this is within the inner ring.

Because your son is only a demigod you can only temporarily stay at the outer ring when he reaches godhood then you can live in the house provided for you."

"You can live with these children in the same dormitory for free as well. As for your allowance as intern field warden, 1000 points a month. 500 points for your own use and another 500 for buying necessary resources in the System Mall before you leave Vearth. Don't take lower realm worlds for granted.

Sometimes prisoners with higher cultivation that escaped from the Nether System would be found in the lower realm. Half of your points are for you to buy items for protective measures. It will only be accessible when you are about to leave the upper realm."

"I suggest that you go with Warden Yun Ming and report to the Mo Clan first. You will be given the benefits for someone who serves the Mo Clan," said Lord God An.

He then once again looked at Leng Jun and Chuchu. With a wave of his hand a wooden puppet that looks life-like except for it, not having a face made it seem like a real humanoid being.

"I've completed your registration. This is your nether system's uniform. You must wear it when you go to work. This is your space terminal which also records your points. It can also be used for spatial teleportation within Vearth."

"The space portal directly to the Nether System you guys had been given access to. This will also be used for your identification. I've also opened the access for the System Mall of the Nether System. If you want to check the System Mall of the God System you will have to approach a staff from the Central City and temporarily have access to it. It needs points though.

I've also availed 100 years free spatial teleportation within Vearth for you, except for private properties and forbidden regions you can use this teleport anywhere in Vearth for 100 years. Well after hundred years you will have to pay with points for it to the Hei Clan for maintenance and extension of use for spatial transfer within Vearth.

Well, you can only choose not to use teleportation and just fly or walk around. It just took time. If you're in a hurry then just use this Spatial Teleportation Portal."

"Your points for this month have been transferred. I will send someone to show you the way to the dormitory at the outer ring and within Vearth," said Lord God An Liang.

Warden Yun Ming spoke, "Lord An, Wuye and I will send them the way. We are about to rest and go home after he is done with his current task."

"Oh, right. You guys are on vacation until the next mission. They can start working after three days so they can adjust to this world. I still have a lot of work to do. You guys may go now," said Lord God An Liang as they were sent out of the office and appeared in the wide hallway of the castle.

In the hallway of the castles, which is usually ever-changing, their small group appeared.

Warden Yun Ming was used to it, but the ones with him aren't. He looked a bit entertained at the shocked faces of the people beside him.

He said, "This is a space shift. The space within this castle walls is all everchanging. I will have you start memorizing the space shift in the place or you will get lost, especially when you aren't able to use teleportation on your own. The reason for this is because prisoners like to run away. This space shift exists to hinder their escape route.

This always changes, and since there are lots of patterns, you will have to work hard a bit."

Warden Yun Ming passed the current set of safe routes during space shifts in the Nether Castle. He passed the knowledge directly to their heads, and there is no need to remember it at all. It would be recorded in their memories, though this would fade at night; they would have to get the new routes the next morning.

"Okay, for now we will go to the territory of the Mo Clan. In Vearth there are lots of family clans, and all of them are gods, as you know. There is hierarchy between these clans; the strongest family in Vearth is the Mo Clan, followed by the Hei Clan, and so on and so forth. By the way, the Mo Clan is Lord Hei's maternal family, while the Hei Clan is his paternal family."

"As for the creators of Vearth, it's the Sovereign of Creation and Light, Sovereign Shen Siwang, who rules the God System, and the Sovereign of Void and Darkness, Sovereign Ye Xiajie, who rules the Nether System. These lords are brothers. As for their other half, in short, their wives, Lord Shen Siwang's wife, is the youngest son of Lord Mo, Lord Mo Baojun.

As for Lord Ye Xiajie, his wife, is Lord Hei Anjing, whom you both met. Lord Hei Anjing's father is the elder brother of Lord Mo Baojun."

Leng Jun and the others were bewildered by this explanation and asked, "But the two sovereigns are brothers; is incest allowed in this world?"

"Ah? Oh, you got it wrong. Even though Lord Shen and Lord Ye are said to be brothers, they weren't connected by blood. Unlike other gods and goddesses whose origin is mortal, these two Venerable lords aren't. They are born gods from light and darkness. When they exit, they are already both gods born from the universe itself.

The reason they are brothers is because they were gods born at the same time. The two of them treated each other as brothers for such a reason," Warden Yun Ming explained.

This is the first time they heard that Gods can also be born as God from the beginning. Though this situation is rare itself, Leng Jun and the others had accepted it well.

They left the Nether Prison and once again passed through that towering gates from before. Now they had enough time to look at the world before them. It is a different world from theirs, as if the land were split into multiple types of world compressed into one.

There is a style of futuristic design that uses spaceships as a means of transportation. There is also fantasy style which uses unicorns as mounts as well as elven wings to fly. Also, a cultivation-style mode of transportation like riding a sword or something. There are also normal cars, carriage pulled by horses, hover cars, etc. It's like a mixed-genre world where everything is possible.

Leng Jun and the others were surprised by this kind of world.

Warden Yun Ming said, "You guys can fly, right? Let's go. This time I will show you the way towards the central market at the inner ring and show you the way towards the outer ring. Let's go to the Mo Clan first."

Beings who reach godhood can fly. It's proof of heaven's acceptance to their ascension. Likewise, deities who are only god in name and not in body cannot fly, as they are still mortals in reality. As for Demigods, their divinity is limited. They can fly, but only for a short period of time. The first location the group headed to is the Mo Clan's Territory.

Mo Clan's Territory

This is the only private territory of a god that looks like a small village instead of a majestic place for Gods to live. Within such a large span of land, what exists at the center is just an ordinary mansion that can be found anywhere. Not far from it are various mansions that aren't much different than the one at the center.

Unlike the other territory of God, where huge ancient castles or palaces were built, this area was simple and minimalist, looking like an ordinary neighborhood.

Leng Jun, Chuchu, Leone and Lev were stunned upon arriving at the Mo Clan's Territory. Similar to their home before, they were welcomed by rows of houses and numerous people walking around the street. There were some who were playing musical instruments, some holding hoe and farming at the side, and there were also people holding fishing rods.

It was as if they returned to an ordinary mortal world where life is simple and ordinary.

Leng Jun said, "What is this place? It's like..."

"Like the lower realm worlds?" said Warden Yun Ming.

{Yes! The feeling is so similar when we are in the Federation Star or in the Spirit world.}

"That's normal. The Mo Clan is the only clan in Vearth which wasn't so obsessed with the meaning of God. They only wanted to leave an ordinary life and thus, their territory is quite similar to the ordinary lives of those from the Mortal Realm. Let's go to the Mo family's mansion first."

On their way, a lot of the people living in this area greet Warden Yun Ming. They treated him not as a powerful god but as a young man who just returned from work. There are lots of elders and children in this location and they are freely able to do anything they want.

"Xiao Yun! You are back! Where is your lover?"

"He still has some work left. He will be back a bit later," Warden Yun Ming responded.

"Yunyun, you are here. Come with grandma. The persimmons in my garden have ripened. You are on your way to the Mo family, aren't you? Can you please send some to the masters for me?"

"Of course, Grandma Chi," said Warden Yun Ming as he received a basket of ripe persimmons. He gave one to the four who were following after him, ate one for himself and saved one for his lover.

Leng Jun, Chuchu, Leone and Lev look around, feeling that familiar sense of home. It was as if they didn't leave their home and were not in the Upper Realm, where everything is huge, majestic and terrifying. In this territory, they feel like they are home and their anxiety slowly fades. They walked towards the center of the village and walked through ordinary cemented roads.

They can see families spending time together, full of happiness. There are even some who are sweeping leaves in front of their houses.

Warden Yun Ming noticed their liking to this place and said, "Leone and Lev had no problems as they already have a house in this place. You can also save some points to buy a house here, but you will need permission from Lord Mo if you want to live in this place. Don't worry, Lord Mo is a friendly person."

"I also wanted to, but... I still need to give Chuchu a real body first," said Leng Jun.

Warden Yun Ming patted his shoulder and said, "You can take your time. As a God, time is all we have."

Chapter 1439 Vearth - Not Descending

The group led by Warden Yun Ming finally reached the mansion at the center of the territory of the Mo Clan. This mansion had few floors, but still didn't look as majestic as the other God residences within Vearth. They just look like an ordinary mansion in a mortal world. They even bump into a couple who was on their way out. This couple is Mo Baojun and Shen Siwang. They are wearing modern clothes.

A pair of pants and long sleeves which is only different in color and style. This is clearly a couple of clothing the two intentionally wore.

Warden Yun Ming immediately greets the two Sovereigns. "Yun Ming greets Sovereign Lord Shen and Sovereign Lord Mo."

Leng Jun and the others were stunned at first but also immediately bow their heads towards this young couple who didn't look like sovereigns at all. Moreover, as sovereign they still reside with the Mo family. Sovereign Shen Siwang greeted them with a smile, but as usual Sovereign Mo Baojun possessed a cold yet lazy expression on his face.

"It's you, Yun Ming. If you're here then that means, but brother is back," Sovereign Shen Siwang said.

Yun Ming responded, "Yes, Lord Ye and Lord Hei are at the usual place."

"That's good. We should go and visit them on the way," said Shen Siwang.

Mo Baojun asked, "Anything unusual happened in the lower realm?"

"Except for the unexpected chaos energy Lord Hei had found, everything is as usual," replied Yun Ming.

Mo Baojun spoke, "It is weird enough that chaos energy which had longed merged with everything in existence to be found in such a state. Either way, that energy is dangerous to exist as it can give birth to another world eater if left alone. I will send more people down there to look for traces of it. Tell that retard to just focus on gathering my nephew's soul fragments and forget everything else."

"Yes, Sovereign Lord Mo," responded Yun Ming.

Shen Siwang pats his shoulder and says, "You and Lou Wuye have done well. Take your time to rest and we leave them to you as usual."

"We are just doing our duties," said Yun Ming.

Shen Siwang smiled as he understood his words while Mo Baojun noticed that the father and son behind Yun Ming were quasi-chaos beings. Most like one that had successfully adapted to the chaos energy that entered his body and was transformed by someone from the Mo Clan to become their familiar.

Mo Baojun spoke, "Quasi-Chaos Being. I see, you are here to register your name under the Mo family."

Leone and Lev suddenly feel like kneeling before Mo Baojun. The feeling was not because he is a Sovereign, but because of something else. After kneeling before Mo Baojun, Leone and Lev salute before him.

"Yes, master." Leone said as he didn't know where he got his courage to call a Sovereign his master.

Mo Baojun said, "Don't worry as someone born from chaos energy, I who was born from the Mo Clan is indeed your master. That's an instinctive reaction for those who were born to become our familiar. I will register you and your son. Also... received this as a welcoming gift."

With a wave of his hand, Mo Baojun gave the father and son an orb filled with chaos energy. For Chaos creatures, this energy helps them get stronger faster than normal cultivation resources. This refined chaos energy was made from Mo Baojun's origin as someone from Chaos.

"You can use this to increase your child's cultivation. This is more useful than other cultivation resources in the system mall." Mo Baojun said as he passed the orb to Leone and took his leave with his husband. "We are going to see Xiao Jing'er. You can do as you wish."

Yun Ming and the others bow their heads and watch the two Sovereigns who didn't look like gods in their current attire leave the village with most of the residents bowing their heads as the couple passes by. There are also some who kneel down, but these guys are new residents who haven't gotten used to seeing these two sovereigns.

Once they got used to it, upon seeing these big shots again, a slight bow would be enough. The Mo family isn't that fond of formalities after all unless they are working.

After the couple disappeared from their sight, Yun Ming looked at the four stunned people behind him. Those who didn't know the four sovereigns would think they exist above all gods. The type that must be respected anytime and one they could never simply approach.

Only those who knew them closely would know that these Sovereign Gods also wanted an ordinary life and never really demanded reverence like how others think of them.

Yun Ming said, "Surprised?"

"Yes! I heard a lot of praises and rumors about the Sovereign Gods and thought we, ordinary gods, would never be granted such close contact with such beings," Leone said.

Yun Ming said, "Maybe the other high-tier Gods like reverence towards them, but the Mo family and their other halves are down to earth. So unless they are offended, they are easy to get along with. Moreover, don't be scared of Sovereign Mo Baojun's cold face. To their family, that kind of expression is normal. My master, Lord Hei, is a bit special.

He is used to wearing a mischievous smile on his lips, but before he met Sovereign Lord Ye, he was also like Sovereign Mo Baojun, expressionless all the time."

"Since you are registered, there is no need to bother the Mo Family. There are usually only Seniors staying in the mansion and most of their children are out working. I will show you the central city and show you the routes to the dormitories at the outer ring."

Meanwhile, as Warden Yun Ming is showing the intern the routes in Vearth, our main couple had successfully returned to the core region of the Nether System. They actually entered the Void, as Ye Xiajie enclosed this region within his domain to protect his wife's original body.

In the Void, Nether System's Core Region...

Their four children, upon hearing the news from their uncles, immediately looked for their parents. They have had a family bonding since they came to see their Father and Dad. This time, Hei Anjing gave his children refined chaos energy, except for Ye Qinjing.

Their three biological children were born with bodies suitable for chaos energy and they are adaptable to this energy as children of Hei Anjing. But Ye Qinjing is not born from him and chaos energy would most likely drive him into madness, like how the Beast Race ended up in the last world.

While Ye Jingxia, Ye Jingmo and Ye Anxia were meditating to absorb the refined chaos energy from their Dad, Ye Qinjing can only watch at the side. Even though he didn't look envious of his siblings, Hei Anjing still feels that it's a bit unfair for this adopted son of his.

Hei Anjing held his eldest son's hand and said, "Xiao Qin, how about you enter the lower realm world with your Father. Not in the next world where I might not be able to wake up, but in the next, next world when I am sure to wake up. How about you change your vessel? Dad doesn't mind giving birth to you and becoming Dad's blood child."

"Your Dad is right? Aren't those annoying people in this world always calling you adopted? If so, then just get reincarnated as our real son in the lower realm," Ye Xiajie said.

Hei Anjing said, "Once I give birth to you, then no one would dare to say anything. I will talk to the God of Reincarnation and make sure that you keep your cultivation and memories you have. Don't worry about feeling weak at that time. Dad and your father will protect you with everything I got. So Xiao Qin, what do you think about this plan?"

Ye Qinjing didn't expect his parents to do such a thing. Though reincarnation and such is possible in Vearth, it means returning to the state of being a mortal and no one dares to do it unless they have someone to protect them at their weakest state. But his adoptive parents are willing to bear all those hardships just to give him a new body.

One that will allow him to confidently call himself a Ye and a child of the God of Void and the God of Destruction.

Even though the Mo, Hei and Ye families all treated him no different from his siblings, those who are strangers would always point out that he is only an adopted child of his parents. His parents were both famous individuals in Vearth and his Dad was even more popular than his father. They would always compare him to his siblings.

Saying that there is truly a difference between a foster child and a biological one. His siblings would get angry at those people when they heard them speak such words.

Even though he says that he doesn't mind the words of those strangers, deep inside his heart he knows that he is truly different from his siblings. If not for him getting absolute control over Time elements, those people would treat him even worse than they are now. Now that his parents wanted to let him become their real child that his tears couldn't be controlled.

Seeing Ye Qinjing shed his tears, Hei Anjing and Ye Xiajie pulled him in a hug. They comforted this child whom they failed to accompany in his adulthood in the lower realm and even failed to properly protect him as he found them in Vearth. Because of Hei Anjing's incomplete soul state, he cannot remain awake for long periods of time.

But from time to time when he peeks outside the Nether System, he would pick up some issues like this which involve their eldest son.

Even though he punished whoever possessed those loose mouths, he couldn't stop all of the Gods from talking about it. He is willing to kill all of them for his child, but his state forbids him from being away from his body and he would feel extremely sleepy once he used up his strength. That's why he felt so much guilt towards Ye Qinjing.

On the other hand, his husband can barely stay for so long in Vearth as he is in a hurry to gather all those missing soul fragments of his.

Ye Qinjing finally calmed down and said, "I will listen to Dad and Father's arrangement."

"Good. We will call upon you when it's time for you to come with me to descend in the mortal realm. Until then, I will leave your brothers in your care alright?" Ye Xiajie said.

Ye Qinjing smiled and said, "Please leave them to me, Father, Dad!"

The family spent time like this for a month this time, and they hardly left the Nether System's core region until Hei Anjing started feeling sleepy once again. Within that whole month, the parents and children spent a lot of time together. Even though they couldn't go home at the moment, just spending time as a family made them extremely happy and satisfied.

Before Hei Anjing once again fell into slumber, Ye Xiajie sent home their children and immediately came back to see his wife. As expected, he is still worried about Hei Anjing's words about not being able to wake up in the next world.

The God of Void asked, "Baby, are you not able to descend into the next world?"

"The chaos energy I refined must be purified further before I can absorb it. With an incomplete soul, it's too fragile to bear the overbearing qi the chaos energy possessed. This is also the reason why I didn't completely absorb it after taking it away," Hei Anjing responded. "I want you to be even more careful in the next world.

A'Xia, not all of my soul fragments accepted the memories I have passed down to them, and like Chaos, they only have hatred in their hearts. This hatred will be amplified, especially if the life they had in their current world is crueler than it is supposed to be. My love, the only thing that is the most painful for me to see is seeing you get killed by me.

So, please, can you take care of yourself better?"

Seeing such a sad expression on his beloved's face, Ye Xiajie couldn't help but pull him to his lap and hug him. He finally promised and said, "Okay, I promise you. I will not intentionally get myself killed under their hands."

Hei Anjing stared at his husband for a long time and finally reached out his hands to hug Ye Xiajie's neck, and they shared a long, yearning kiss.

Once their kiss ended, Hei Anjing whispered, "In the next world, I will give you my immortality."

Chapter 1440 Vearth - A Black Star

The immortality of the Mo Clan is unparalleled. They can never die under anyone's circumstances, and the only one who can kill them is the person they love. Still, this weakness was cleared after the couple got the imprint of marriage to remove all weaknesses in their constitutions. This includes the Mo Clan's weakness of dying under the hands of his beloved.

This immortality isn't like the one he shared with his husband before, where he experiences death after death and then gets revived.

With Hei Anjing giving him immortality, Ye Xiajie no longer possessed the ability to die. He is immortal unless he wishes to die. Though this immortality physique is immature for newly born Mo descendants, a mature god is completely different. At least their own lives and deaths are under their control.

It is like when Snow from a thousand years ago chooses to destroy himself, it's the choice of the owner of this immortality that made him accept death. All he needed to do was control it.

After giving immortality to Ye Xiajie, he had no control over it. It was still under the control of the original owner of this physique, Hei Anjing, who was in control. So, unless the God of Destruction approves Ye Xiajie's death, he will never die in the next world, no matter what. This is the protection Hei Anjing gave to his husband, as he couldn't accompany him in the next world.

There is a downside to giving away this immortal physique to someone else. Because this means that the current Hei Anjing's physique is no different from that of a mortal, and that means he can easily be killed. The God of Void wasn't informed of this fact. If someone with bad ideas wanted to kill Hei Anjing at this moment, his death would be permanent, as his soul is incomplete.

Even so, to keep Ye Xiajie away from harm, he is willing to accept this risk.

After giving away his immortality to his other half, Hei Anjing had once again fallen into slumber. If not for the powerful chaos energy surrounding him, Ye Xiajie would have thought he had returned to that state of deep sleep, as if he were dead yet still alive. He feels relief in his heart as he feels the chaos energy within the core region.

Suddenly, the two wardens, Lou Wuye and Yun Ming, arrived together with the two systems, Zhi Yang and Zhi Yue. Unexpectedly, Lord God An Liang had also appeared. Ye Xiajie glanced at him.

He asked, "Liang, have you found those trash?"

He was talking about his cousin from the Ye Gui race and that lover of his from the Hei Clan. They are among the prisoners who had escaped successfully when he was angry and accidentally destroyed the restrictions in the Nether System when his Void domain merged with the Nether System.

Even though he had killed that foster father (Uncle) of his, there were still some Ye Gui Race who had successfully escaped his wrath, and they were also the ones who saved his cousin, who had caused multiple harm to his wife in the lower realm. This sin alone is enough for Ye Xiajie to want this bastard dead.

The only reason he didn't kill him was because he seemed to have a connection with some unknown bastard and even helped him remove the Nether Chains on him. That chain isn't easily removed, as it was made from Jing'er and his blood. Only someone who is directly connected to their blood can unleash it.

This would mean someone directly connected to them is their enemy. It's just that there are no traces left after that cousin of his disappeared and he successfully escaped from Vearth even though he had spread his domain to surround the whole planet.

Lord God An Liang responded, "We found his traces just that."

"What is it?" asked Ye Xiajie.

Lord God An Liang said, "The way the traces were found and how they were reported anonymously, it is more likely a trap to lure you there intentionally."

"I don't care. Tell me where they are hiding!?" said Ye Xiajie, obviously trying to hold back the anger in his heart. After all, the deaths his beloved had experienced just to resurrect him were all like nails in his heart he could never remove.

Lord God An Liang sighed and said, "It is one of the black stars that possessed Xiao An's soul fragment. The Ancient-Cultivation World, S-class Black Star. Argh! Your wife is going to get angry and my wife is going to scold me again. Tsk! I will send as much support to you just in case.

Can you be careful with your life at least?"

"You guys keep on saying that. I am not suicidal at least!" retorted Ye Xiajie.

Lord God An Liang looked at him in disbelief and said, "Are you seriously asking that? Forget it, you never listen to me anyway. You should just listen to your wife."

As expected when the God of Destruction, Hei Anjing's name, was mentioned this arrogant God of Void turned mute. Adding the fact that no matter how much he promised his baby, the latter no longer believes that he will be careful with his life. It is just that he had gotten used to being an absolute existence that isn't afraid of anything so that this carelessness of his doesn't disappear at all.

It was almost a habit.

Lord An Liang noticed his strange quietness and said, "You got warned again didn't you?"

"Tsk! As if you don't get warned by your wife," retorted Ye Xiajie as he pulled out two black stars among the rest of the ones in his keeping. "Which of these two was the star you are talking about?"

The two gods looked at the two black stars floating around them as if this star were not a planet but a toy under their complete control. Well, it was indeed under their control, as these stars in the possession of Ye Xiajie are all registered in the Nether System's database, and he can do as he wishes.

As long as he didn't mindlessly destroy it, causing the divine laws to punish him, everything can be done.

Lord God, An Liang, grabbed the black star he was talking about and gave it to his friend. "This is the world I am talking about. An anonymous report said that your cousin, Ye Yan, and his lover, Hei Suyu, were hiding from this place. They would have never expected that the world they are in would possess the soul fragment of Xiao An and would most likely suffer in it right now."

"You can't be sure of that. Jing'er said that the rest of his soul fragments would most likely hate me to death—the kind of hate where they couldn't wait but crush me into nothing." Ye Xiajie said.

Lord God An Liang pat Ye Xiajie's shoulder and said, "Bear with it. Even though you are also a victim at that time, he was indeed left behind in the void alone and suffered the tainting of darkness with his soul for a very long time. Even if it wasn't your fault, the pain and agony he had suffered is real. It was even more surprising that Xiao An could love you so deeply after that event."

"I know. It's my fault. That time I yearned for the world outside the Void too much. It's because of this that the God of End had successfully done as he wanted," said Ye Xiajie as his face turned ugly at the mention of that Ancient God who made his life hell.

As if recalling something, Lord God An Liang said, "Speaking of that Ancient God, the God of End, he went ahead and visited that only SS-Class world with Xiao An's Soul Fragment. Until now, there has been no news about him. Do you think something happened to him?"

"What can happen to him? Did Ancient God even die? Unless they choose to end themselves, their lifespan is eternal," Ye Xiajie said as he hid the unchosen black star and only held the one An Liang had given him.

"That's also true. If there is someone who can harm those Ancient Gods, it can only be another Ancient God. There are only two of them left, and they are a couple. I guess they wouldn't kill each other. Are you going now?" Lord God An Liang asked.

Ye Xiajie nodded his head as he looked at his wife. His eyes remained the same, full of passionate love, yearning, and guilt. His wife had sacrificed for him too much, this time it's his turn to save him. He held his sleeping wife's hand and kissed it reverently.

He whispered, "Baby, I will be back soon. Just a little bit more, and everything will return to normal soon."

Then he looked at his friend and said, "The Nether System is in your hands."

"Leave it to me!" Lord God An Liang responded.

After a while, Ye Xiajie bid farewell to his friend as he sent him out. He planned to keep his wife safe in the Void, which he made sure that only he could enter. After making sure that the core region of the Nether System had entered the Void, he looked at the two quiet wardens and two systems who were waiting for the lord to notice them.

Ye Xiajie said, "Get ready. The next world has been chosen."

The two wardens, Yun Ming and Lou Wuye, as well as the two systems, Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang, looked at the black star in their lord's hand and felt a bad premonition coming from it. They had overheard the conversation between their Sovereign Lord and the Lord God, that this world would most likely be a trap.

The Chief Warden spoke, "Milord, are you sure about this?"

"Yes. Ye Yan and Hei Suyu might be in this world. I need to know who helped them escape and who was the person supporting the Ye Gui race all this time. After all, even if my foster father was a greedy man, he doesn't have the courage to do anything against my mother, but in the end, he did.

How could he not know that my father is alive, they are twins, and they can feel whether the other is alive or not? Someone or something must be behind all these things that are happening right now." The God of Void said.

The rest of them didn't expect that there was still an unknown enemy behind all this.

Warden Yun Ming, who understood what the sovereign lord was trying to say, contemplated for a moment and said, "If that's the case, then Lord Ye's second was a plan of someone, but because Master intervened, he wanted to kill him? Is that why in the past few worlds, when Lord Ye was awakening his soul, the danger Master had to undergo had sharply increased?

In fact, he died multiple times under the involvement of the Ye Gui race and the traitor group from the Hei Clan."

"No wonder there are too many destroyers entering the world we are in. So, was it because they wanted to hinder the resurrection of Milord? But why would they do that?" said the Chief Warden.

Warden Yun Ming took a guess: "Maybe whoever the mastermind is, he might be truly connected to Lord Ye or something in him. His power? The Void? But that is something Lord Ye is born with."

"It's the power of gluttony," said Ye Xiajie with a dark face. "It seems that there are more fanatic believers of the original World Eater who want to revive him. To do that, all the former fragments of the original World Eater who are now independent must all die as a sacrifice to bring their Lord back?"

"Would killing Milord bring back the World Eater?" Zhi Yue asked.

The God of Void said, "Jing'er said that by gathering enough power of Chaos, the possibility of a new World Eater being born exists. The power of gluttony in me is one of the strongest fragments that exist. It's the same as Tun Shizhe. If they gathered all of our powers, they might use all of it to give birth to a new world eater. So, to take it away, it would be better if I am dead.

But my body was hidden by An Liang in the Nether System, and no one aside from him knows about it. Even after his daughter was taken as hostage, he had never told them about my location. It's because of this that I choose to forgive him."

Silence had descended in the void. They didn't expect that Lord God An Liang, who was said to have betrayed their lord, would have done such a thing. Maybe he had only betrayed the Lord when his daughter's life was in a life-threatening position and Lord God An Liang had no other choice but to give up Lord Hei in the end.

Though he still made sure to protect the safety of the God of Void, even if it meant that his friend would get angry at him for giving up the man he loves for his sake.