

World Plot 1791

Chapter 1791: 24.52 Sixth Violet Star - Brother-in-law

When Vega's wife, Heri suddenly descended from his room despite being sickly, the elf wanted to reprimand him but had no heart to scold his wife. This is the wife he had chosen for himself, if he doesn't spoil it who would. Upon hearing his wife asking them to welcome the ones outside, Vega gestured to Xie Yun to open the door for him while he supported his wife to sit on the nearby sofa and let him rest.

Vega, the elf, said, "Xie Yun, help me open the door."

"Are you sure? That's a Beast King," said Xie Yun.

Heri spoke with a weak voice, "Believe me. They will not hurt you. In front of that being, we are nothing. He will not hurt us as we are family."

"Alright. I believe you, Saozi (Sister-in-law)," said Xie Yun as he opened the door.

However, when he opened the door, there was no one there. He was about to look around when he felt that someone had grabbed his pants. He looked down and saw two cubs looking up to him. As for Mo Minkong, he was buying some water at the nearby store seeing how much his cubs are eating. Well, he thought that no one would come out of the cafe no matter how much his cubs had knocked. Who would have thought that the ones inside would not ignore them and even opened the door.

Xie Yun saw the two dumplings, one holding cotton candy and the other holding fried potato fries.

"Cubs?" He mumbles.

Hei Anjing looked at his beloved and said, "Brother, this one doesn't look like a human."

"It is not a human being. It is a beast. A demonic beast," said Ye Xiajie.

The master of the Killer Pavilion felt like he was being stared at by two dangerous and powerful beings whose whole body froze under their stare. He was too terrified and was about to fling the two brats away before running back inside. However, before he could even touch the two cubs, his hands were grabbed by someone even more dangerous than the two cubs.

Mo Minkong mistook Xue Yun for a kidnapper. With a cold voice he asked, "What do I plan to do with my cubs? Are you seeking death?"

The pressure from Mo Minkong's aura suppressed Xie Yun so completely that his eyes rolled over, his mouth foam and fainted on the spot. This left Mo Minkong and the two cubs, Hei Anjing and Ye Xiajie looking at the man who lost consciousness on the ground. He was scared to death.

Hei Anjing used his other hand to poke at Xie Yun who fainted, "Is he dead?"

"I don't think so. The old man held back so much of his aura. He is just simply too weak," Ye Xiajie said.

The God of Destruction who is poking the fainted Xie Yun noticed something about him and said, "This is interesting. The body and the soul don't match. This is not his original body. But he seems to be expending his soul to keep the body alive. But why?"

Hei Anjing continued to observe the situation of Xie Yun in front of him and noticed the weak, fading soul at the depths of this being's soul.

"Aha! There's another soul inside of him! But... this one seems to be missing a part of it, that's why it doesn't wake up," said Hei Anjing.

Ye Xiajie asked, "Can you wake it up?"

"It's simple. Just..."

"Can you really!?" Xie Yun, the demonic beast, suddenly grabs Hei Anjing as he stops pretending to faint.

The Master of the Killer Pavilion had shook the young cub so much that the hand holding the cotton candy had loosen a grip.

"Ah, my cotton candy!"

Just when everyone thought it would fall, a tree branch had extended and caught before it fell on the ground. The tears pooling at the cub's eyes halted as he received the cotton candy from the tree branch.

"Oh~ Thank you, Mr. Tree!"

Xie Yun didn't expect such an event and felt that his life was in danger as they watched the cotton candy fall. But before he could sigh in relief, he was suddenly grabbed by the other cub who was glaring at him in anger.

"Don't bully my brother!"

The feeling of being grabbed and thrown by a cub was a unique experience. Xie Yun didn't expect such a powerful strength from a cub until he saw a pair of white round ears peaking twitching on the top of the angry cub.

"Beastman cub?" Xie Yun murmured.

Thankfully, he was thrown inside and no other humans on the street heard his voice. As for Ye Xiajie, he felt his ears and tail covered by hands. A pair of big hands landed on the top of his head while a pair of small hands grabbed his round tail.

Mo Minkong pushed the cubs inside the cafe and closed the door after. As for the Sovereign God of Void and Darkness whose tail was grabbed by his wife, completely morphed into his small, white bear cub now being hugged and carried by the God of Destruction. As for Xie Yun who had thrown in, he hit the walls of the cafe. The cub threw him with no mercy.

Xie Yun murmured, "It's only a cub... how can it be... so strong?"

Thud!

The elf, Vega, looked at his friend in disbelief. How can he not know how powerful a beastman is. Especially for cubs who couldn't control their strength due to their young age. Xie Yun appeared in front of the two cubs and pinched the ears of the cub who had thrown him overhead just now.

"It looks so cute like a teddy bear. How can it have monstrous strength?" Xie Yun said.

Tsk!

The annoyed God of Void had given him another bear punch and flew for the second time. The other adults looked at Xie Yun thinking why can't he learn not to tease a beastman cub too much. After ignoring Xie Yun who can't learn, everyone saw Hei Anjing run towards Heri with an excited look and grab his hand.

"Papa, look! This person looks so much like daddy!" Hei Anjing said.

Mo Minkong stared at Heri and averted his eyes. His stare didn't even last for ten seconds and fell in deep thoughts as if trying to recall something. Heri seeing his forgetful brother-in-law could only sigh and introduce himself once again.

"Hello, brother-in-law, I am Heri. Hezi's younger brother."

"He'er's younger brother. I don't remember you looking this sick. What happened to you? Didn't you know how much He'er had been looking for you since you left?"

Mo Minkong said as he recalled Heri as a teenager and not an adult sickly man he is at this moment.

"Is it because of this one?"

When his eyes landed on Vega, the elf, Mo Minkong's expression turned serious and his aura was suffocating only for this elf beside Heri. Before his suppressive aura fell on Vega, his senses told him incoming danger and created a barrier around him and his lover, Heri.

Crash!

"Brother-in-law, please don't kill him!" Heri said.

Hei Anjing said, "Uncle, it's okay. Papa will not kill him. He needs to be punished though. I heard that Daddy cried for three days when Uncle suddenly disappeared. So Papa is only getting back on this uncle for that reason."

"I...I..." Heri didn't expect to learn what happened after he left the village.

He and his brother were the last Ninetailed Fox Beastmen in existence. Their bloodline is too strong that their kind can hardly propagate. It's a miracle that he and his brother were born. But he fell in love early and didn't want to leave Vega's side. At that time, Vega still had responsibilities towards his kin and couldn't live in the ancient forest with him. So, he can only leave the village after leaving only a letter to his brother. Who would have thought he would harm his brother with his actions.

Vega tried to attack back. However, "That is useless against me," said Mo Minkong as his aura alone easily destroyed Vega's barrier and suffered an impact that caused the elf to fall on his knees.

Gasp!

Xie Yun was shocked that this unknown Beast King was able to easily suppress Vega, a high elf. He possessed a bit of divinity thanks to the God of Nature and can be said to have an equal strength to that of a beast king. Unfortunately, the man in front of him is not a beast king.

Ugh~

"You are not a beast king! Why is someone like you appearing in a human city? Beast God, please answer me!" Vega shouted.

"Beast God!" Heri and Xie Yun exclaimed.

They would have never expected that this man called Mo Minkong's identity is more divine than they thought.

Mo Minkong said, "My duties to the world are done. What is wrong with me living the rest of my life with my mate and cubs? On the other hand, you... had made my mate cry for three whole days. That is something I cannot easily forgive."

It seems that the beast god had made a decision to beat up Vega as there is no way to scold the younger one especially when he is this sickly and weakened.

Chapter 1792: 24.53 Sixth Violet Star - Foreseeing Future

Seeing his other half being beat up, Heri wanted to stand up but was suddenly unable to. Hei Anjing sat on his lap. It wasn't that heavy, but it prevented Heri from standing up from his chair. If he wanted to stand up, he would need to carry two cubs which is impossible for his current state. Seeing the cubs act like this even Xie Yun, the Killer Pavilion's master, was stunned.

Xie Yun said, "Heri, these cubs seem to want to see your partner beaten up."

"Uncle, don't worry. Papa will not kill him," said the God of Destruction. "Your body is not good. You should return to the village with us. Your current state is not good for you to be emotional. Take a deep breath and calm down."

The smile on the Hei Anjing and the pair of innocent eyes falling on him, Maybe Heri instinctively calmed down. In front of the cubs, all beastmen would hold back their beastly side. He unconsciously followed the words of the cub and calmed down. He saw that his brother-in-law was only beating his lover with superficial wounds that can easily be healed. Well Vega looks like he was beaten so badly, especially the black eye, making him look like a panda.

"Wife, save me~" Vega said.

When Mo Minkong was done with him, Vega looked groggy as he walked with a huge black eye on his face, making his elven beauty be forgotten. He went to his wife to complain but he couldn't even hug him with two cubs staring at him like doe deers.

Xie Yun commented, "Give up, bro. You can't even beat the cubs."

"W-Wife?" Vega, called by Hei Anjing, blocked with Ye Xiajie in his bear cub form.

The stupid elf stares at the teddy bear in front of him. He didn't even recognize that the teddy bear is a beastman cub in his animal form.

He asked, "What is this? A teddy bear? Are you giving it to me?"

The other adults in the area looked at him with varying expressions. The Beast God looks at him like a fool. Xie Yun's expression was half shock and disbelief as if asking him if he was for real. While Heri looked at him with helpless eyes as if he couldn't do anything about his partner's brain. Vega was bewildered by their expressions but his hand had already taken the teddy bear from the beautiful cub.

All of the sudden, a cute yet annoyed baby boy's voice linger in his ears. "Pointed eared uncle, let go of me!" Ye Xiajie had given him a bear cub punch.

Thus, making the black eye of the silly elf symmetrical.

OUCH!

"Damn, this is a beastmen cub as well? Not a stuffed toy!?" Elf Vega exclaimed while covering the other eyes which now have another black eye.

Finally, the beast god who was hesitating to speak a word said, "Heri, you and this silly thing should move to the ancient forest. The situation between humans and beastmen is not good right now. It can explode anytime. Moreover, your state is not good. For you to stay in the human city where humans are now discriminating against beastmen, you might get attacked. The fact that this cafe is closed is for the same reason isn't it?"

Vega and Heri lowered their heads. The words of Mo Minkong are right. It is because Heri is a beastmen that those who had lost their families in the last conflict between humans and beastmen started targeting him. He wasn't the only one. There were some other beastmen who were forced to return from the human city to an ancient forest for the same reason. However this event just intensified the hatred between races.

Heri can return to the ancient forest anytime. But will his husband and daughter be able to return to the human city once they leave. They might be taken as deserters and their outcome will be no different from a traitor.

Hei Anjing said, "Uncle, you are going to die if you stay here. Not only that, this silly pointy eared uncle as well and your daughter will be orphaned."

"How did you know that we have a daughter?" Heri asked.

The God of Destruction used his ability to peek in the future to know what kind of ending this man will have. As expected, according to the plot one will know that he is beastmen hiding in the human city and would be attacked by those who hate beastmen. Heri will be killed and Vega will go insane killing everyone until he is put down by the current marshal, Long Tian. Their daughter, Haerin, becomes an orphan adopted by the Long Clan due to their connection to her father, Vega.

Haerin knew that her father was killed by Long Tian. Her hatred for him had gone deeper enough for her to target Long Juedi. Unfortunately, Long Juedi had truly loved her and cared for her. That's why despite of Haerin dragging him down, he never complained even if he was riddled with countless of wounds. In Haerin's eyes, Long Juedi's love was simply a way to repay what his father had done. In her heart, she believes that Long Juedi never truly loves him, that's why she can be hurt regardless of anything.

It was only that one time that she was on the verge of death that Long Juedi was willing to sacrifice his life to save him. Even when Long Juedi was dying all he asked of her was if she was okay. It was at that moment that Haerin truly believed that this man truly had her in his heart. Her ice cold heart starts to melt. Before Long Juedi dies, Haerin awakens the blessing of nature she got from her bloodline as an elf from Vega and also the ability to peek in the future from his other father, Hezi.

Long Juedi was saved and the relationship between them had become as it was destined. To love one another and fight for the sake of the world they are in.

Hei Anjing, asked by Heri, said, "Why ask such an uncle? You are my uncle and my daddy's biological brother. Do you think that foreseeing the future is exclusive for you~?"

All of a sudden, Hei Anjing transformed into his ninetailed fox form. Born with three tails with a fur that is the shade of the night. The silver fox eyes were staring slyly at them. As he turns into his beast form, Ye Xiajie returns to his human form. This time it was he who was carrying his beloved in his beast cub form.

Heri and the others were stunned.

"You can peek in the future?!" Xie Yun exclaimed. "But I hear only unique ones within the ninetail fox bloodline can do so."

"I also heard that there will only be one prophet in every generation?" Vega said.

Hei Anjing said, "Just because history says only one doesn't mean that the future will only give the same outcome. The future had many possibilities. The fact that we appeared here right now meant that your future had changed as well."

"Just how far can you see in the future?" Heri asked.

The God of Destruction said, "Enough to make changes and get the future I wanted."

"If your strength alone isn't enough," asked Heri.

Ye Xiajie said, "I am here to help him. Not only me, everybody does. That's why you should ask those who are beside you for help. Just you alone will never be enough."

It was only at this moment that Heri understood. A prophet might bear the fact of knowing the future events and the responsibility that comes from knowing it. However, if his power is not enough, asking help towards those whom he loves doesn't seem to be unfair.

Heri couldn't help but look at his husband and his tears fell as he hugged him, "Vega, I'm sorry. I was wrong."

"What is happening?" Vega was frowning as he couldn't understand why his wife was apologizing at this moment.

"He wants to stay as he wants to die. Only by dying will his daughter get the ending she is destined to do so. However... In the process you have to die with him. He didn't tell you and... You don't mind, do you?" Hei Anjing said. "He chose not to fight the destined ending. For your daughter to reach her happy ending, the two of you need to die. At least that is what he thought."

Everyone, except Ye Xiajie who doesn't care about the other side of his wife, were shocked with what they had just heard.

Mo Minkong, who knew about the existence of the Heavenly Laws, frowned. Though he didn't expect that his youngest cub had the ability to foresee the future, he wasn't that surprised. The Ninetailed Fox Beast is a mythical beast closest to divinity. They had the ability to foresee calamities and all.

"Jing'er, is this happy ending something the heavens had decided?" Mo Minkong asked.

The God of Destruction looked at his father and answered, "Yes. However, to break the destined fate is not impossible. It was just that it was very hard to do so. There are only two ways to do it. First is to cut off your karma in this world making the heavens unable to control you. This path is called ascension to godhood."

"What about the second way?" Xie Yun asked.

Hei Anjing asked, "Ask help for a god that is from the outside of this world. Only powerful gods can descend in the lower realm worlds and suppressed the Heavenly Laws."

Chapter 1793: 24.54 Sixth Violet Star - Heri's Decision

The two ways to break through the control of the world plot: first is to become a god yourself or second is to find a god from the beyond and ask for help. Heri didn't expect to hear this from a cub. Everyone also couldn't understand why such a young one knew about the rules of the world and the way around it. Now Heri believes that this cub of his elder brother is capable of seeing the future like himself. Not only because he knew the name of her daughter, but the fact that they had seen the same thing.

Xue Yun didn't know that ninetailed fox descendants were born with nine tails as a fox. Their tails only increase as they get stronger. Among those who were born with this bloodline, only Hezi had reached ninetails while his younger brother, Heri only reached seven. That's why this master of Killer Pavilion was dumbfounded when he heard the conversation ongoing before him and looked at the young fox with three tails.

"Three tailed fox? You are the youngest descendant of your kind!? But aren't tailed foxes supposed to have seven tails to nine tails?" asked Xie Yun in confusion.

Mo Minkong spoke out when he heard the questioning tone of this demonic beast pretending to be human. However, seeing that he is connected to his brother-in-law, Heri, he didn't get involved with him. It was only when he questioned his youngest bloodline that he spoke up.

"Ninetails foxes were born as ordinary foxes when young. They would be considered talented if they were born with more than one tail. As they grow and get stronger their tail increases. How dare you question the lineage of my youngest cub!?" Mo Minkong said while staring at Xie Yun with a cold gaze.

Hic!

"I'm sorry! I didn't know!" The master of the Killer Pavillion, Xie Yun, said.

Mo Minkong ignores the rude demonic beast and looks at his brother-in-law. He once again asks him to return to the ancient forest with them.

He said, "You will be waiting to die staying in this place. Return with us to see Hezi."

Heri is extremely hesitant when he is asked to come back with them. However, learning about the two ways to escape the ending they wanted to avoid, getting help from Mo Minkong is the greatest choice. Vega left the choice to her husband and held his hand into a grip showing his support.

Vega smiled and said, "I will accept your choice, wife. Even if I have to die with you in the end, I am willing to do so."

Upon hearing these words, Heri, who couldn't decide, can control his desires to pick a future where he and Vega are alive and their daughter is safe.

The God of Destruction said, "I do not think your daughter would choose a good life in exchange for the lives of her parents."

"She doesn't need to know. Hardin only needs to live a good life in the future and our sacrifice she doesn't need to know," said Heri.

Mo Minkong said, "Those who left don't know the feelings of those who were left behind. If I had a choice I would have chosen to live and die with Hezi than live and wait for him to reincarnate. Do you know the suffering of those who were left behind?"

"You live with the memories of those you love. However, a memory is nothing but a memory. Being with them in flesh and being is a wonderful feeling. Suddenly losing it just for my sake alone? I would go insane instead of living my life alone."

Vega said, "That may be true. However, isn't it better for one to live in a happy ending than the unknown?"

"But why should you make a decision for another?" The Sovereign God of Void and Darkness.

"But this is for her own good! Haerin only needs to..."

"I do not want that!!"

Heri and Vega wanted to say more. But their words were cut off by someone who secretly arrived. Everyone heard a female voice and they all turned their heads to look at the direction where the voice was coming. They saw a teenage girl with tears strolling down her face. Heri and Vega immediately recognized her.

"Haerin!?" The couple called.

Haerin runs to hug her parents as her tears fall like a waterfall.

"I don't want a future without daddy and papa!" Haerin shouted while crying. "Who cares about the future? I only wanted you to be by my side. I can live in the ancient forest with you. Between friends and parents, there is no choice. I will choose my parents above everything! Boohoo~" said Haerin.

Heri and Vega, who were hugging each other, were stunned. However, they can only hug their daughter who appeared out of nowhere. They finally realized that deciding one's future without the other's consent is simply too unfair to the other. This is the first time they had seen their daughter cry their eyes out.

"Daddy, Papa! Don't leave me alone! I don't want to leave alone!

Wuwu~" Haerin said.

Only then did the family understand how their daughter would have reacted if she had truly lost them. While the other family is having their moment, the two cubs approach the loner, Xie Yun.

The God of Destruction said, "You also come with us. What you need I know about it." These words were whispered and only heard by Xie Yun and the cubs.

The master of the Killer Pavilion was shocked and looked at the two children in disbelief. He only nodded his head in agreement with a serious expression and said no more. It was only when the cafe they were in was suddenly attacked that things had taken a turn.

It was unknown how people knew that there were beastmen inside the cafe aside from Heri and thought that they had gathered planning something worse in the city, making this group of beast masters surrounding the place and attacking them.

The sudden demolition of the cafe surprised Vega and his family. When they all ran out to safety, they realized that humans had surrounded them. These are people who bear hatred towards the beastmen race.

"Beastmen! You gathered here trying to do something sinister again!"

"Kill them all! This damn merciless race!"

"Surround them! Don't let them escape!"

"Enough! There were children in there!"

"To prevent future trouble, kill them all together!"

"Are you insane? You want to kill the children as well!?"

Among these humans is one who bears extreme hatred towards the beastmen. She is a human who had not only lost her soldier husband but also lost her child due to miscarriage when she heard the devastating news about her husband's death. Losing not only her man but also her baby, made her hate the beastmen race with everything. She is not even willing to spare the cubs.

Summoning her beasts, the woman commanded, "Attack! Kill them all!"

"Since you killed my husband and caused me to lose my baby, I will feel what it is like to lose a child yourself!"

The beast targeted the ones who looked the weakest and those were children. Hei Anjing, Ye Xiajie and Haerin. The beast all targets them. The adults move to protect them. Vega was still kind enough to just make the beasts faint. However, Mo Minkong isn't that forgiving. His punch blasted the whole body of the beast. A death through explosive strength. Contracts with the beast, especially low level ones, cause backlash after the beast was killed. The contract this lady has with her beast is a forced one.

After her beast was killed by Mo Minkong who picked up his cubs looked around coldly.

"Humans, don't overstep your boundaries!" Mo Minkong said as he released a pressure from his aura suppressing every human and beast in the area.

Ugh~

Argh!

I can't breathe!

M-Monster!

Run! Run! This man is not an easy opponent!

Heri immediately hugs his daughter while Vega protects his wife and daughter. For the first time, Vega looked like a legit high elf who looks down on everything under his feet. Like a majestic being loved by the God of Nature.

"You dare to make a move on my family! I dare you to do so!" Vega said as the demolished store suddenly grew some branches flinging away those who are surrounding them.

Xie Yun asked, "What should we do?"

"Head to the ancient forest," Heri said.

Vega looked at his wife and said, "Have you decided?"

The younger brother of the Beastmen Race's Leader, Heri nods his head. He made a decision not to leave their daughter to fend off on her own. Even as a half elf, the discrimination she suffered from cannot be easily ignored. Haerin was bullied at school but she kept this a secret from her beloved family. She didn't want to upset them. They might blame themselves if they learned about it.

"Let's go... to the ancient forest!" Heri said.

Chapter 1794: 24.55 Sixth Violet Star - A Beautiful Beast

"Let's go... to the Ancient Forest!"

Heri finally made a decision to bring his whole family back to his family who lives in the ancient forest. However, would it be that easy to bring them all back to their current situation where they are surrounded from all sides and all humans want to kill them.

When they overheard their conversation about going to the ancient forest, those who were holding back their anger had finally exploded. Returning to Ancient Forest? Doesn't that mean they are truly beastmen who side with those who killed their loved ones and family. That is no different than being their greatest enemy.

"These bastards are truly from the side of those murderers!"

"No need for mercy! Kill even the children!"

"My kindness is fed to dogs! Spits!"

"Don't let them escape!"

Vega controlled the world tree in the cafe and tried to capture these humans who had not only surrounded them but also planned to kill them.

"Do not touch my family! You do not have that right!" Vega said.

This time he didn't hesitate to fight back. However, even though he was attacking , he didn't take anyone's life. It was against his principle to take the lives of his race's allies. Unless his family members were truly harmed, he will hold back as much as they can.

Haerin couldn't believe what she was seeing. Some of these people were familiar faces and they used to be regulars in their family's cafe. How come they suddenly wanted to kill them just because her dad is a beastman and she herself has half of that bloodline. Moreover, they had nothing to do with those beastmen who killed their loved ones.

What she didn't know is that the one who gave the order of war declaration and commanded the massacre is none other than the uncle she never met before. Her dad's elder brother, Hezi, who is also the leader of the beastmen race. Right now she is so confused and terrified of the situation they are in. She can truly feel that these people wanted to kill them for real.

"Why? Why are they treating us like this? We have nothing to do with the deaths of your family! How can you blame us like this!?" She shouted in grievance.

However, the answer she got was something she would never expect to hear.

"It's because of your bloodline. Your dad is a beastman and a part of that race that killed my brother. You... who possessed half of their blood is nothing but a monster who is from the same side of those bastards who killed my family!"

"Die! Just die! All beastmen should die!"

Haerin was stunned. She couldn't believe that these humans are so unreasonable. Just because they are a beastman and she has half of that bloodline they all deserve to die? Are humans this unfair!?

Heri was sorry to his daughter. She is still too young but already is exposed to such a dark side of the human race. He covered his daughter's ears and hugged her.

"A'Rin, don't listen to them. We are not wrong. You are not a monster!"

However it was already too late, she already heard something that made her question the humans.

"There are too many of them! Vega, I will call Long Tian and explain the situation. If it's the Long Clan they don't truly hate the beastmen race!" Xie Yun whispered as his existence was hidden in the shadow of his friend.

Xie Yun secretly helped his friend and his family. Vega doesn't know if Xie Yun is telling the truth, but this is the only way to solve the crisis they are in.

Vega said, "Go. I can at least give us some time."

As for Mo Minkong and the two cubs in his embrace, they are so calm even when surrounded.

"These three might be beastmen as well."

"But they don't have ears or tails like Heri."

"Heri's daughter didn't have it either. Her elf father's bloodline is stronger, making her look like a half-elf instead."

"Should we kill them too?"

"But those are two babies?"

"Are you insane? You can't kill a cub that young no matter how much your hatred is!?"

"Do you not have any conscience!?"

"Let's capture them instead!"

The humans surrounding Mo Minkong and the two cubs summoned their beasts. However, under the calm gaze of the Beast Gods, all their beasts prostrated before Mo Minkong ignoring their master's orders.

"What are you doing? I told you to bite the big one!"

Whimpers~

"Fuck! Did you just wet yourself!"

"What the hell is happening?!"

Meanwhile at the Long Clan...

Xie Yun ignores all the patrolling guards in the Marshal's palace and heads to where Long Tian is. Coincidentally, most senior members of the Long Clan are having a family meeting. He arrived in the room forcing his way in and three pairs of eyes landed on him.

Long Huang, the old marshal, asked calmly, "Xiao Xie, you've come to visit?"

"Why are you here again?" Long Tian said.

His brother asked, "Did he just trespass in our house?"

"It's urgent. Some humans who hate beastmen had gathered and surrounded High elf Vega's family wanting to do a witch hunt!" The master of the Killer pavilion said.

"What did you say?!" All Long family members exclaimed.

Back to the marketplace...

Mo Minkong ignored the humans and summoned beasts all together. Since the beasts didn't dare to go against their deity, the humans were all bewildered and felt the hidden danger coming from this calm man who looks like a human in form. However, would their beasts be afraid of a human? No, most beasts only react instinctively. One reason for them to be extremely afraid is when someone even more powerful than they are, stood before them. But for them to lower their heads is no simple thing. It was as if they were meeting their king or something above all race.

"Move. Move!"

"Dammit! Why aren't you listening to me!?"

"I told you to fucking move!"

A human beast master lost his patient and was about to hit his beast when suddenly they heard a cuddly voice making the humans and beasts as well as everyone else dumbfounded.

"Are you willing to be hit by someone who doesn't deserve your trust? If I told you I can sever the contract you have with your humans, are you willing to fight for freedom?"

The one who spoke was the God of Destruction. He spoke in the language of the beast but also made it so others can understand it as well. His questions made those beasts who were abused.

Mo Minkong didn't expect his youngest cub to speak to the beasts fearlessly. His words were enough as revelation to say what side he came from.

"What are you talking about?"

"This cub is talking... to the summoned beasts?"

"Why do I feel that they can understand his words?"

"Is this baby... No, is this cub not human nor is it a beastman?!"

The God of Destruction speaks once again, "Answer me! What is your choice?"

The area was silent at the beginning but all of the people in the area can see that the beasts are all looking at the cub's eyes. The humans thought that no beasts would dare to go against the contract as some of the contracts they had signed with these beasts were unfair for the beasts. It can be said that some of them were forced.

"Ha-Haha~ you stupid brat. Just what the hell are you talking about?"

"No beast would betray their master once they had signed a contract!"

The God of Destruction said, "If you humans can break your promise or use force to make the beasts sign a contract, how can you be sure that there isn't a way to sever the contract between a beast master and his summoned beasts?"

"All contracts not bound by life and death can be severed. One had to cut the rotten part to save the rest. I am more surprised as to why you think the contracts can't be cut off?"

"Papa, let me down," said Hei Anjing.

Mo Minkong didn't let go of him right away, "Jing'er, what do you plan to do? You are too young to use any of your inherent abilities."

"Papa, I am like you. The moment I am born, I am already a young adult," said Hei Anjing as he jumped out of his father's arms.

Before he completely landed on the ground he returned to his real form as a ninetailed beast king. A huge black fox with ninetails appeared in the area, shocking everyone in the area. Hei Anjing looks magnificent with his fur dark as the night and glistens under the sun as if he is shining, his fox eyes narrowed mischievously as he looked down on everyone in the area. There is a golden crown shape on his forehead signifying his identity as the king, a young beast king.

Haerin was stunned like everyone. But she isn't terrified, instead she mumbles, "How can a beast be so beautiful~?"

Chapter 1795: 24.56 Sixth Violet Star - Severing Contracts

A huge yet beautiful black fox with ninetails appeared in the center of the human city. His fur is like an obsidian, like a carpet of pure darkness, yet it had a tint of golden glow under the light. Those pair of fox eyes were narrowly staring at everything in the area as if staring mischievously at his targets with mirth at the depths of his silvery irises.

The God of Destruction spoke, "Beasts who want to sever the contract walk towards me."

This ethereal yet cold voice resounds in the whole area. Humans wanted to move but were too dazed to even react. As for the beasts, those who wanted to remove their contracts with the humans stood up and ran towards the huge ninetailed fox.

At first, everyone was mesmerized but what comes next blows their mind out. They watch as this huge wolf suddenly transforms into his beastman form. An otherworldly, beautiful teenager with black fox ears on his head, with nine foxtails moving from behind, wearing a white robe and holding a crimson color death scythe in his hand. His phoenix-shaped eyes move on the living with a mischievous smile, he said.

"It will be over soon. Don't move," said the God of Destruction.

Before anyone could react the crimson scythe enlarged and swung at everyone in the vicinity. They had seen how they were cut abruptly by the God of Destruction. The feeling of being cut and seeing it with their eyes made those who had experienced it question life. They didn't even have time to scream.

Others were waiting for their deaths but felt that nothing was wrong with them after waiting for a long time.

Vega commented, "Was it a fake blade?"

"Fake blade? See for yourself," said Mo Minkong as he threw a branch of wood towards the scythe blade and it was instantly cut cleanly into half. There isn't even a sound of it hitting anything. It was like it just passed through the blade and was cut to half.

HISS!

"But... There is no wound?" Haerin asked while looking at the gorgeous fox man smiling at him.

Hei Anjing said, "My blade only cuts what I desire to cut. I have no intention of killing anyone. Why would there be deaths?~"

"It only cuts what you desire... then is what you had cut the contract between humans and beasts?" Heri asked.

When these words were spoken everyone looked at the beast masters and summoned beasts who were forced into contract. As expected the chains of contract between them had materialized.

"Huh? Just as I thought you are... Fake..."

"Ah! Look at the chains between the beast masters and the beasts!"

Clangs~

As chains that hang and connect the beast masters and his summon beast were cut into half and fell on the ground until the contract itself was no more. The first one to feel it were the forced beasts. They started howling in happiness while the humans suffered a backlash of suffering weakening temporarily.

Howls~

Caws~

"W-What is this?! My body... feels numb!"

"M-Me too."

"I can't move... What is happening?!"

Haerin asked in surprise, "What is wrong with them?"

"Illegal contracts usually target the beasts even after they are severed. How come the beast masters were the ones suffering?" Long Tian mumbled.

Then they recalled something and looked at the ninetail fox in his human form. As expected they saw him smiling.

"Do you expect me to watch the beast I just freed be captured again? Let them suffer for a few hours, they would be able to move an hour later," said Hei Anjing. He is obviously saying these words to the human marshal.

Then he looked at the beasts and smiled at his father, Mo Minkong, who understood what he wanted him to do.

"Go back to the Barren Lands."

It was a command from the beast god which none of these beasts can defy. After kowtowing before the beast king, the Ninetailed Fox, the freed beasts all run towards the barren lands. There were some beast masters who wanted to catch them. However, the playful voice of the Ninetailed Beast King once again resounded in the area and even a few words deprived them of their movements.

"Do not move~"

"Like I said, my ones who are bestowed with freedom, cannot be moved in my presence. I suggest for you not to move. This time I will kill anyone who chases after those little ones~" The God of Destruction said.

WHOOSH!

THUD!

He slashed down his scythe and a clean and wide cut appeared on the cemented and enhanced road. They watch as the mischievous ninetailed fox stood nonchalantly at the handle of his death scythe.

The threat in his word cannot be ignored despite his playful demeanor. Now all humans were terrified of them. There are those who were overwhelmed by fear. But thankfully they were stopped and taken away by their friend before offending the being in front of them.

In the end, Long Tian, the current marshal, took the lead in the conversation and stepped in to stand before the mischievous beast king and beast god.

Marshal Long Tian asked, "May I ask the esteemed Beast King why you have appeared in the city of humans?"

"Me? I only come here with my gege and papa to tour the human city. Well, I can say that your food is quite a variety. I like it~"

"Also, it's an unexpected gain. You can add the reason for bringing home my uncle, Heri. With how the situation between the beastmen and the humans are, uncle and his family can no longer stay in this human city. You've seen it for yourself. Humans who have hatred for the massacre half a year ago caused them to bear some hatred in their hearts."

"But, they weren't the only ones. All the beastmen who lost their beastmen eggs and cubs that day bear the same hatred. So, neither can be truly blamed for this outcome. But... I hope you don't forget. The first ones who had crossed the line are you humans. It's always been you. Isn't the war against the beast race also caused or initiated by you as well?"

The words of the young beast king were like daggers stabbing the hearts of the humans in the area, especially the ones from the upper echelons of the human race.

After all, the real reason why the beast race had started a war against the humans is because one of the noble clan's descendants wanted to catch a beast king's cub and ended up killing it. It was because humans are greedy that they are suffering for it.

Silence~

Seeing the humans speechless, Hei Anjing lost interest in them and returned to his cub form yawning. He was caught by Ye Xiajie who immediately hugged him. The Sovereign God of Void and Darkness only has his eyes for his beloved. The Marshal stared at the other cub who didn't make a move all alone and appeared out of nowhere without him noticing anything.

He heard him murmuring, "Sigh~ too reckless. Your body isn't completely adult yet and you're using your inherent skills without care. Is there even a need to protect the beasts? The weak are meant to die. Jing'er, you are simply too kind."

The current marshal shivered when he heard from a cub that is a bare one year old speaking death with such indifference. But he can truly feel that this cub doesn't care about the weak. He is much more dangerous than the smiling one from before.

Long Tian's thoughts: 'If I can kill them here, dying would be worth it.'

However, before he could even move he saw the silver haired cub looking at him with silver eyes flashing with crimson. A surge of darkness appeared from under his feet. This darkness is like shadows that had gained life. It feels surreal and extremely dangerous. But for some reason it instantly disappeared and saw the cub snort at him. Long Tian instinctively took a step back by meeting those eyes.

"If you had made a move all of you aside from our side would have died. Be thankful to the seniors who are willing to speak up for you."

The Sovereign God of Void and Darkness didn't attack and just attempted it. In reality, he was about to but stopped at the last moment. He walks towards their father, Mo Minkong who picked up his cubs and looked at Vega and his family.

Mo Minkong said, "It's time to go home."

"Home? Where are we going, uncle?" Haerin asked.

Mo Minkong lightly pats the head of the young lady and says, "Ancient Forest."

"Come. Dad's brother should be waiting for us," said Heri with a smile and held his daughter's hand.

Mo Minkong walks towards the direction of the ancient forest. But to reach that place, they need to once again walk through the market place. This time the usually boisterous street of the market had turned quiet and all humans avoided them. With the beast god in the lead no one dares to block their path. Heri, Vega and Haerin closely followed after them.

Chapter 1796: 24.57 Sixth Violet Star - Mercy

On their way back to the ancient forest, the group had walked past the marketplace which led directly to it. For some reason, the stall owner of the cotton candy store brought almost everything in his stall and gave it to Mo Minkong.

The cotton candy seller, despite trembling in fear, kneels down and offers all his products.

"Please allow me to enter the Ancient forest once. Just a day will do. My children need a beast egg but for a low grade beast master like me I won't be able to enter the barren lands nor can I afford the expensive prices at the auction hall. This is all I can offer. Exalted one, please... I am begging you. Just one... One day."

No one expected that someone would dare to kneel before these dangerous individuals, especially the one in front carrying two monstrous cubs. Even though this man hadn't made a move and only spoke a few words, as the father of these two cubs shows his capabilities. Moreover, one of the cubs is a ninetailed fox, meaning this man's mate is most likely the leader of the beastman race who is the only adult ninetailed fox beastman in existence, Hezi.

Mo Minkong was used to this kind of servile action. However, in most cases it would be beast kowtowing to him. But this time, a human appeared and did it. Though he doesn't hate humans, he feels a bit uncomfortable towards them. Among the other races, the human race is the most easily affected by chaos energy and would usually be the cause of war.

With him being born in chaos, in his eyes humans are the weakest and the one with the most greed. Making him want to eliminate them to prevent the possibility of chaos spreading.

Mo Minkong's face turned cold and looked down on the human, "Move."

The human stall owner trembles at first but his determination overrides his fear and starts kowtowing.

"Please, exalted one. Please grant mercy to this humble being."

"Why do you think I would grant you mercy, mortal?" The Beast God, Minkong asked.

The moment everyone heard that Mo Minkong called humans a mortal they shiver. The only being that calls all other beings as mortal is only one kind of existence. A divine being, a God.

Marshal Long Tian's thoughts, 'This man is indeed extraordinary. He might be a Beast God just as I thought and those cubs of his. They gave me the same feeling as meeting the seniors from the detached manor.'

The stall owner of the cotton candy said, "Divine one, you are also a father. For the sake of their safety and future alone, I am sure you are also willing to sacrifice everything for them. Just the fact when you are surrounded by beings that may put them in danger, the divine one keeping your cubs in your arms, shows you are a loving father."

"All I want is to give my children a better future because my strength isn't enough. I can only sell a little sugar to sustain their livelihood. However, for their future alone, I am willing to put my life in line. Please divine one have mercy on this weak one. I shall serve you for eternity in exchange if you willed me to!"

The sudden declaration of giving away his lifetime freedom just for a chance for him to get better beast eggs for his children this cotton candy seller is willing to give away anything.

Silence fell in the area as Mo Minkong stares at the human kowtowing to him without stopping that his forehead split and is now bleeding. Even in pain this human father isn't willing to waste this opportunity he has right now.

It can be said that anyone would be moved at this scene. But as a Beast God that had lived for almost a thousand of years. What is it that Mo Minkong hadn't seen? Unsure if this human is telling the truth, he hesitated and didn't even notice that his youngest cub who was napping just now had once again woken up.

Hei Anjing's adorable voice breaks the silence. "Papa, I want to eat cotton candy. I want to bring one for daddy, the other cubs in the villages to the uncles and aunts as well. Can we take this uncle's cotton candy?"

"Jing'er cub, you truly want it?" asked Mo Minkong.

Seeing his youngest cub nodding his head happily, Mo Minkong made a decision. He took the cotton candies extended to their direction which caused the humans to be shocked.

"Follow us. You only have until dawn to get what you desire. No help from others, you alone must take what you wish. You must leave the ancient forest before the sun rises. Until then no beast or beastmen will kill you in the forest. Consider this as payment for this product of yours,"

Mo Minkong said.

As for the cotton candy seller, he was stunned at first and finally tears of joy had started falling on his face. Ye Xiajie glanced at him expressionlessly but still waved his hand to heal his forehead.

The Sovereign God of Void and Darkness said, "Make your preparations. You must follow right away before we enter the ancient forest."

Everyone didn't expect that the cub who can control the darkness had the capability to heal as well. The cotton candy seller immediately stood up and bowed his head towards the father and sons, as he ran back to his home to get his weapons for protection and things to hold a beast egg.

There were some humans who wanted to copy the cotton candy seller. However, Mo Minkong and the other two gods' kindness are those only for that one that is worthy. Only that candy seller was willing to step in. Despite the possibility of dying in offending the powerful, he put his life on line just for this opportunity. That's why even the indifferent Evil God, Ye Xiajie, made a move to heal his wounds because his courage and determination is worth giving him a chance.

As for the fools who only want to copy what the cotton candy seller did, the rest of them aren't fools. Mo Minkong spread his aura and pushed away those who dared to come near them. This time his stance is clear. Stay away from us!

This time Mo Minkong no longer stopped as the road was devoid of other beings. Those who dared to approach them were now forced to kneel as long as their intention was to approach or touch him. Marshal Long Tian and his subordinates followed them while keeping on guard. Their intention was to watch over these powerful beings and see to themselves that they would leave their city with their own eyes.

Some soldiers didn't expect that the Beast God was unexpectedly human-like. When it comes to family even this beast is like a loving father towards his children.

"Marshal, I didn't expect that the beastmen and the Beast God were like this. They are a bit too..."

"Too human-like?"

The marshal completed his subordinate's sentence with the correct words. Actually, he himself was shocked. He thought that the only reason why the seniors in his house were human-like was because they are unique. The beast god just now, his two cubs acted like they stood above the rest only because of their strength and standing. However, they don't trample on the weak regardless of their race.

Long Tian said, "Maybe the human race had only seen what they wanted to see. We have never looked at the other race and see that they also have this kind of side." The soldiers with him were all silenced as they also couldn't believe what they had just witnessed if not for the fact that they had seen it with their own eyes.

Those beasts who were treated badly, a young beast king was willing to expose himself to save them. The other cub was willing to kill to protect his brother and this Beast God was willing to listen to a human plea just because of his cubs' existence. There is also Vega, a high elf and former king of the elfen race, who is willing to give up his position for his beastman wife.

There is also his wife who is willing to sell his present in exchange for their daughter's future. Finally, this immature young lady, despite being given an opportunity for a better future, she gave it all up just for the sake of her parents.

A beast, a beastman, an elf, a mixed breed and young cubs. Each and one of them are not from the human race. How come they act more as human than a real human.

Humans are selfish. They are greedy and will do everything to get what they want. Only a few were willing to give up for the better of their loved ones. Even he had tried to kill a young cub from the other race just because of the overwhelming strength he possessed. Thinking about it now, the current marshal, Long Tian, was embarrassed and disappointed in his own heart.

Long Tian mumbles, "In the end, I am no different from other humans. Judging them by their race and not for who they are."

Chapter 1797: 24.58 Sixth Violet Star - Back to the Ancient Forest

Mo Minkong and the rest of them finally reached the wooden walls which toweringly separates the human lands and the ancient forest. Vega, Heri, Haerin and the cotton candy stall owner all stare at the colossal wall that appeared before their eyes.

The Elf, Vega, commented, "This wall is taller than I expected. There is a powerful elemental energy in this wall. The type that no matter how many times you destroy it, it would recover on its own."

"Beastmen Shaman cannot control beasts or possess inhuman strength. But their compatibility with world energy is unparalleled," said Heri.

Haerin asked, "But if there is a wall, how can we go inside?"

"It's alright little one. My brother can make a hole in it!" The God of Destruction said.

He even shared his cotton candy to the young girl, Haerin. "Here. Eat with me~"

"Thank you, beautiful little brother!" Haerin said.

Mo Minkong looked at his eldest cub who nodded at him and another small black flame appeared above his palms. The moment this obsidian flame appeared, Vega, an elf who is sensitive in nature, abruptly jumped in front of his partner and daughter. He felt extreme danger coming from the black flame.

"What kind of flames is that? How come... It feels too dangerous!?" Vega exclaimed.

The God of Destruction said, "Brother, wrong fire again. We can't use that."

"Oh? I forgot. I'm used to using it. I can use an ordinary flame instead. You don't need to use ice to prevent the fire from spreading. I will use a cold flame," said the Sovereign God of Void and Darkness. The black flames above his hand had turned white.

This white flame doesn't look dangerous and seems to emit a cold qi. However, even if one isn't touching it, they still know that this is another type of fire. Mo Minkong recognized it and so did Hei Anjing.

Mo Minkong said, "Ice Flames. Xiao Ye can you use all types of flames?"

"Isn't that normal?"

Ye Xiajie.

The adults in the crowd were speechless. There are lots of them who control the element of fire, but they couldn't change its type and only use one kind of flame their whole life.

They collectively thought of the same thing: 'No! That's not normal!'

"I'm going to open a hole now," said the Sovereign God of Void and Darkness.

However, before Ye Xiajie threw the fire towards the wooden wall, the towering wall, especially the part in front of them, shrunk at a very fast pace. Once a small part of the wooden wall had collapsed, a small path towards the ancient forest was exposed. Before them stood a row of Beastmen Shaman and the one who stepped forward to welcome them in was none other than the beastmen race's leader, Hezi.

The humans who are watching from a distance were amazed by such an event. A gorgeous beastman with white ninetail fox stood before Mo Minkong and others. He looks so similar to how Heri looks just a bit more mature and colder in sense.

The two cubs immediately called, "Dad (Daddy)!"

The God of Destruction reached out his hand towards Hezi and was finally picked by his daddy. Ye Xiajie wanted to leap in his dad's arms as well but his father stopped him.

Mo Minkong said to his eldest cub, "Your dad can carry you two together. You've grown bigger than before."

Ye Xiajie glares at his father and snorts. In reality, he is pouting but didn't push through to his wants. He had indeed gotten heavier.

Snorts!

Hezi chuckles as he pats his eldest cub's head and says to his mate. "I think you have played enough in the human city. I've felt your aura, did you fight?"

"Not really. Just a few blind ants dare to bite. Your brother was almost killed," said Mo Minkong as he kissed his wife's cheeks.

They look like such a loving couple from a distance. No one would have believed these two were such a power couple if not for experiencing the massacre a few months ago or that overbearing aura that suppressed them just now.

Heri stepped forwards after his brother-in-law had mentioned him. He still showed fear towards this elder brother of his, especially that cold face of his.

He calls, "Big brother... I..."

Before he could complete his words his forehead suddenly flicked and the sounds seemed too painful.

Flick!

Heri said, "Ah! Hurts!!!"

"You finally know how to come back. We will talk later at home. Follow us home," said Hezi.

Heri was delighted that his brother isn't treating him strange after all these years. In the first place, Hezi never placed the humans in the area in his eyes. He was ignoring them. Though it was quite hard to ignore that the old marshal's son, Long Tian was also around and that his family wasn't attacked by them.

He didn't worry at all that his family was out in the human city. With the strength of his mate this small city can be easily destroyed by him in his real form. He isn't the Beast God for no reason. His power and divinity can back him up for everything.

Mo Minkong said, "Wife, I had chosen one human with a good heart to enter the ancient forest for hunting. He is just one person. He said he is doing it for the sake of his children and put his life on line just for one mercy from me. I gave it."

Hezi's eyes wandered and found the only human among the group. The cotton candy stall owner shivers under the beastman leader's gaze and immediately kneels down. However, what he didn't know was that the split second he met Hezi's eyes his past was read through by him. Thankfully, he was telling the truth and also declined all the other humans' pleas to help them get a beast egg for them as well.

Hezi spoke, "He is telling the truth."

"You've seen it?" Mo Minkong said.

Hezi nodded his head and said, "He even ignored the words of the other humans asking him to look for a beast egg for them. You've chosen well enough. He is indeed a loving father of three children."

"So, what is his payment?" He asked.

When this question was asked, Mo Minking averted his eyes and looked at the youngest in his mate's embrace. He was wordlessly staring at the cotton candies in Hei Anjing's hand.

Hezi instantly understood what happened and his face turned dark. Before Mo Minkong could escape his ears were pinched by his wife.

Hiss!

"Are you kidding me?! The payment is for cotton candies?! Even if Jing'er likes it you can't make such a losing deal,"

Hezi said.

Mo Minkong hissed in pain and said, "But Jing'er and the cubs like it. I couldn't help it. Moreover, it's just one time!"

"Hmp! Fine!" Hezi said as he finally looked at the cotton candy seller and said, "Only until dawn and you aren't allowed to destroy the forest at the center of the forest. Before the sun rises, you will be automatically sent out. Your life and death depends on you alone. Do you have a problem with this?"

"N-No. Thank you very much!" The cotton candy seller said.

Hezi said, "Follow inside. We need to raise the walls again!"

"Yes. Yes!"

They were all about to leave when the silent Marshal spoke up unexpectedly.

Long Tian was speaking politely to the Beastman Leader, Hezi. He said, "Please wait. Give me a moment!"

The moment the beastmen heard his words, they all glared at the human marshal. Their intention is obvious, if this human marshal tries to harm their leader then they will go berserk and do everything to kill him. Just as the warriors were about to surround their leader and his family for protection, Hezi made a gesture for them to calm down.

Hezi spoke up, "What is it that you need, Human marshal?"

"I would like to propose a ceasefire between our two races," said Marshal Long Tian.

At the subject of the ceasefire, Hezi finally turned around to look at the human marshal. Such a sensitive subject, he couldn't understand why this human marshal is proposing such a thing. Even though the humans and the beastmen had no direct conflict like with the beast race at this moment, the relationship between the two races cannot be considered peaceful as well.

Hezi narrowed his fox eyes making the humans feel a bit of coercion. With some soldiers on guard around the marshal but they didn't dare to attack. In the first place, there is a beast god on the other side. Not only that, there are also two young beast kings as well. Unless they are seeking death, attacking is not possible.

Hezi asked, "Why do you think I will agree to such things?"

"Cubs. Three mixed ones. Your niece is also half elf, she will be in the right age to go to school next year. They need proper education. Only the human race has a systematic educational program to teach them to become literate. Also children need playmates," Marshal Long Tian said.

He added, "You cubs might not need it but your niece needs it."

Heri, who knew about the distant future, grabbed his elder brother's sleeves. Even though he didn't say a word, as Hezi's younger brother his ability of future foreseeing is well known in the beastmen race. His title as a prophet is not a joke. The fact that he had never been wrong before meant his ability is legit. Even the elders who wanted to retort shut up when they saw the prophet make a move.

Hezi said, "Before the year end, arranged a meeting at the boundaries of two lands."

After saying these words the wooden walls that shrunk had once again grown covering the area where the group of Mo Minkong had passed through and the towering wall was once again flawless.

Chapter 1798: 24.59 Sixth Violet Star - You almost died.

Once the towering wall had returned, the gap in which Mo Minkong and his group had entered had once again disappeared. Marshal Long Tian watches as the colossal wall made of wood shoots up towards the sky completely covering the other side. The other humans were also dazed for a while and they immediately spread the news of what happened. The events at that abandoned cafe until the scene of the wall separating two lands opening a gap.

There is also a fact that they learned today. The Ancient Forest's leader, Hezi, the Ninetailed Fox Beastman had a mate and this mate is a Beast God that doesn't live in the barren land but with the beastmen race. They also have two cubs and these cubs at such a young age are already Beast King level. Both were mixed breed cubs between the couple. There is also the hidden identity of Heri.

Who would have expected that the weak beastman who is married to a high elf was the biological younger brother of the beastman leader, Hezi. Upon seeing protection from his brother, he and his family were welcomed to the beastman village.

Vega was expecting some discrimination as someone from another race. However, maybe because he is married to a prophet and was not a human, the beastmen welcomed them happily. Haerin was the one who was welcomed like an important guest. The Beastmen race love cubs, Haerin, who is not even yet a young adult was treated so important in the village. Almost all adults in the area had given her a welcoming gift.

Hezi had settled them in a cave just beside his. This cave was cleaned up everyday with basic necessities. It was originally arranged for the friends of his cubs who would usually appear out of nowhere.

"Heri, you and your family can stay here for tonight. Tomorrow you can pick any land in the forest and let your mate make a house for you. I will send the cubs to accompany you around," Hezi said to his younger brother after seeing his paleness and sickly figure.

"Thank you, big brother," Heri said.

Hezi said, "You don't look good. I will send a witch doctor to check on you. How can you get so sick like this? Before you left the village you were as strong as an orc."

"I'm sorry. It was my fault. He was poisoned by my enemies. I still haven't found an antidote to cure it," Vega said as he lowered his head before Hezi.

Without any hesitation, Hezi hit Vega on the head and said, "Though I don't applaud your uselessness for failing to protect Heri from this poison, all this time you had protected him and your daughter. Even losing your position as your tribe's leader, that enough shows you care for Heri. It would have been better if you guys had come home earlier."

"Yes. I was afraid that..."

"Do you, I will ignore you?! Even if this brat turned bald, I will recognize him! It's not like you do not know how the beastmen treat their family!"

Scolded Hezi.

Vega lowered his head as he was too embarrassed to meet his brother-in-law's face. He actually didn't believe that the beastmen would choose family over everything. Only when those two cubs from this village placed themselves in danger by exposing their identity amidst their enemies territory just for the sake of keeping them alive, he would have thought that his wife's family still hated him.

Mo Minkong said, "Alright don't get angry anymore. The Witch doctor had arrived. Let him treat your brother first. I will ask the village to serve the dinner feast you had prepared."

The darkness on Hezi's face faded as he sat down to meet the little girl, Haerin's line of sight and smiled at her.

"What is your name, little girl? I am your uncle, your father's brother. You can call me Uncle Hezi. Take this as my gift. This is a support type beast egg and it's the most suitable for you," Hezi said.

A beast egg of an auxiliary type was given away as a gift to Haerin. Heri, who noticed what kind of beast egg it was, was stunned. This is a support type beast egg that not only can heal but also create a powerful barrier. A pixie type beast. A beast that can use nature spells.

Heri was stunned. "Brother, no! This is a pixie type beast egg you prepare for your cub. Haerin can't accept it."

"What stupid thing are you thinking again? I heard from my mate what those two cubs of mine did in the human city. One is a born beast king, and the other is a beastman with the ability to wield elemental qi. Do you think they still need beasts?" Hezi retorted.

Only then did Heri and Vega recall the death scythe and that black flame, the God of Destruction and the Sovereign God of Void and Darkness had used before. They gave up returning the beast egg. As for why no one is asking about the strength shown by the two cubs, Hezi believes it's because they had inherited a bit of divinity from their Beast God father and were born with special abilities.

Hezi said, "Alright. Settle yourselves first. Let the witch doctor check on you and I will have someone to call you over for dinner." Only then did he leave them alone to help supervise the arrangement for dinner.

The feast that was arranged by Hezi was to welcome his mate to the village. Now that Heri and his family have returned, the feast must increase from its original content.

After Hezi and his family left, Heri, Vega and Haerin finally entered the cave. The place was looking quite empty except for the bedroom and kitchen with basic furniture. Living in a cave was a unique experience for Haerin. But for elves who live in treehouses, this cave felt a bit uncomfortable for Vega.

Heri noticed that and said, "Bear with it for tonight, husband. Tomorrow we can build a treehouse to live in."

"Don't worry I am alright. This is the first time I don't have to keep on guard with the surroundings as I no longer fear that some humans would sneak into our place and harm you," Vega said as he sat at a stone chair and his stiff shoulders finally relaxed.

"Let me massage you," said Heri.

Heri helped him massage his sore shoulders while Haerin sat on the stone bed covered in soft mattress staring at the egg his Uncle Hezi had given her. She can feel a pulse coming from inside the egg making her interested and delighted. Haerin knew about the beast eggs. Even though both her parents don't use a beast to fight, she, who is destined to stand beside Long Juedi the protagonist of this world, had to live like a beastmaster.

Vega spoke, "I've never expected that your brother-in-law's mate is a Beast God. Did you know?"

"It is not possible for me to see through a god. However, I know that he truly loves my brother. The Ancient forest was something brother-in-law had found for him as a gift. That's why the beastmen were able to live a life without getting involved with the humans and the beasts," Heri said. "Also I don't know if it's true or not. Brother-in-law had warned all beast kings in the Barren Land that they are forbidden to step foot in the ancient forest. Maybe because of this rare type of beasts choose to live here."

"Indeed. As long as they don't harm any beastmen, living here is no different than having a beast god's protection," Vega said.

He then recalled the conversation between Marshal Long Tian and Hezi before they reached the village. The appointment meeting to talk about cease fire between the two races, humans and beastmen.

Vega asked, "That Cease fire meeting? Do you think it would happen?"

"It would. I have seen it happen when I've glimpsed the future just now. That's the turning point for our daughter's destiny," Heri said. "Either way, there is still a few months before that. It's better to find a way to make our daughter stronger before that day."

"I will handle it. Don't worry, wife." Vega said.

Meanwhile, at the Marshal's Palace...

Marshal Long Tian had finally returned. The situation was resolved even without his interference. Seeing that his father had gone to the detached manor to check on the seniors, he had also come over and politely greeted them. He actually wanted to ask about the beast god and his family.

The old marshal, Long Huang said, "You are finally back. Go, the seniors have been waiting for your return."

As soon as Long Tian arrived before the elders, he greeted the two seniors who were sitting in the living room with his grandfather.

"Long Tian greets the seniors!"

The Ancient God of Chaos, Hunlun and the World Eater, An Shizhe, were in their human form. They rarely remain in their real forms whenever there are visitors.

The World Eater, An Shizhe said, "Stupid brat! You almost died. Did you know that?"

Hahaha~

Long Huang and Long Tian didn't expect that Senior An's first sentence would be this. The former didn't know what happened but he knows that his son left to prevent the chaos in the city which involves the beastman. As for Long Tian, he was confused at first but recalled the young beastmen cub's words about him being spared for a reason. Now it seems this had something to do with the seniors in front of him.

The old marshal asked, "What does it mean?"

"He tried to kill two cubs and these two cubs just happened to be descendants of the Beast God. A sneak attack on others had a 50-50 possibility. But against those two you cannot kill them even if they stood without moving before you. You also pissed off the heartless one between the two," Hunluan said.

The World Eater said, "If I didn't stop that brat on time you would be standing here before us right now."

Hunluan's voice suddenly turned cold and anger was eminent within his tone. "He wouldn't have cared much if you just targeted him. Why target a cub who lost consciousness?"

Long Tian and Long Huang shivered under this man's murderous aura. At first they couldn't understand the anger of this ancient god. But Long Tian's eyes wander around and spot Xie Yun who is pretending to be mute just so not to get involved and recalled something that involves this man.

'The youngest ninetailed fox... Lord Hunluan's son.' The more Long Tian realized the more his face turned white.

He immediately prostrated himself before the two ancient gods and apologized.

"I am sorry!"

Chapter 1799: 24.60 Sixth Violet Star - Reason for Betrayal

Long Clan's Territory. Detached Manor.

The current Marshal, Long Tian, upon realizing that he had almost killed the son of the seniors staying at the clan and how he was almost killed and even affecting his clan showed fear on his face. It was not only surprising but also horror as if he had done something he shouldn't have. Even the old marshal didn't expect for his son to do such a thing and flared in anger.

Long Huang hit the back of his son and bellowed, "You bastard! How can you target a young life! Even if they are from an enemy race, you shouldn't have done such a thing!"

"Father, it was just instinct. They are too powerful and already beast kings at such a young age. I-I forgot their age when I thought of danger," said Long Tian.

Long Huang kicked his butt and said, "Don't give me excuses!"

"It's alright. He stopped at the right moment. It's good that he did. That disciple of mine is overprotective of our son. If your attack had landed then... The Long Clan would have perished~" The World Eater, An Shizhe said with a teasing tone.

However, Long Huang and Long Tian knew that he wasn't kidding around when he said those words. Clearly, that young cub who can control the darkness was someone so ruthless and vengeful. Exterminating a clan for harming the person he cares the most for is simply seeking death. That's what Long Tian had tried to do.

The Ancient God of Chaos, Hunluan, had spoken. "There shouldn't be anything from the beastmen's side after this. You can focus on that human child from Pei until the end of the year. Then you can make preparations for the appointment you made with the beastmen race."

"We will go with you when you send a team with that silly demonic beast from before. It would be better if we can bring Long Juedi with us when the time comes. Don't worry about his safety. Unless it's something powerful enough to destroy the world, nothing would affect us," The World Eater, An Shizhe said.

Hunluan pointed at the old marshal and said, "You can go as well. Leave your son to supervise this place. You are about to breakthrough to another realm as well and need another beast to reach that stage."

"But if I leave the house, those enemies will know that I am cured," Long Huang said.

The World Eater suggested, "Is it that hard? Spread the news that you are bedridden and sick. That should do the work."

"It would be better for someone else other than the Long Clan to spread the news. That young one from the Mercenary Tower would do. Tell him that in exchange I will treat his father's injuries. You do not want to cure that boy's father don't you?" Hunluan asked.

Long Tian showed a pissed expression when the man that betrayed his father was mentioned.

"He is a traitor! That old thing!"

"It is true that he had betrayed you. However, you know the reason for it," the Ancient God of Chaos said.

He narrowed his eyes at the old marshal whose expression turned serious under this question. There is no way for him not to know. After the betrayal of his most trusted aide, he investigates all those who had betrayed him. He realized that most of them had no choice while the others were truly traitors.

"Father, what does this mean? Is there something I don't know?" The current marshal, Long Tian said.

The current marshal looked uncomfortable with a frown. He didn't believe that his father had hidden something about this problem. Those who had abandoned them at their lowest, he remembered every single of them. He had never given them a good face since then.

Long Huang looked at his son and said, "Regardless of reason, the fact that they have betrayed us is real. The trust we have from them before can never return. However... Will I be more understanding? Rationally, I think I should. But... I decided that there is no need to understand them. The choice had been chosen after all."

"There is only one reason for my aides to suddenly betray me at my lowest. The scum ones are bought with money while the others... Their families are in danger. Faced with a choice between your own family and your boss. Of course, they had chosen the former."

Long Tian instantly understood his father's reaction. Forced to choose between the two where only one side would survive, they had all chosen their families and abandoned him. Even though he understood, the feeling of being in mud only to be kicked deeper into it made the old marshal's heart turn to stone.

The current marshal turned silent at his father's words. "..."

The world eater looked bored and leaned to his wife while feeding the latter some fruits.

He commented, "You were betrayed. Alright you are no longer friends. How come you are not willing to use them anymore? Since you can no longer treat them as friends then treat them as tools. As long as they are useful, as long as you make proper preparation, there is no need to fear being betrayed again. The perks of having a disposable tool doesn't involve feeling anymore."

Long Tian knew that Senior An was not a good person. Now hearing his cold hearted words, he felt that his man is a heartless monster. As if sensing the emotions in Long Tian, the world eater sneered.

"I am indeed heartless. My kindness is only for my wife, my son, my disciple and my grandchildren. As for the others, I do not care whether they live or die. It would be better if I didn't offend you. I am merciless towards my enemies~" said An Shizhe.

The arrogant smirk at the corner of thin lips and his dangerously narrowed eyes staring at them. His eyes were murky with indifference and madness. No one had noticed this kind of danger coming from this senior. Long Tian unconsciously swallowed his saliva in nervousness.

Gulps

The old marshal on the other hand felt that this suggestion is the most rational of them all.

"Senior An's words... sounds right. I should just use them for their worth and in exchange I will give them what they want. Senior Hunluan, is there a way to slowly yet fully heal one's missing limb?" Long Huang asked.

Long Tian felt nervous that even his father was acting this coldly. "Father!?"

"Shut up. I have decided!" The old marshal said.

The Ancient God of Chaos threw diluted regeneration pills towards the old marshal. "Eat once every day and a few inches of flesh will grow on its own. After a whole month a limb will be regenerated."

"Thank you, Seniors!" Long Huang said. "It's already getting late. Please excuse us for taking too much of your time."

"Hm. Inform your youngest about the plan. This is to find the right main beast for him. He needs to be around to get the most compatible one," said Hunluan.

Long Huang and Long Tian promise to do so before taking their leave. On their way to the mansion. The current marshal was sneaking glances at his father about what happened before. The old marshal noticed his son's gaze and sighed.

"Speak. What is it that you wanted to say?" The old marshal, Long Huang said.

Long Tian asked, "Father, were your words before serious?"

"Yes, I am serious," Long Huang answered.

The current marshal couldn't accept his father's response and said, "Father, Uncle Mu had been your aide for a long time. Just one mistake you are not willing to forgive him?!"

"This one mistake has almost ruined your life, your brothers and your descendants! You want me to forgive him!? No way in hell!"

"I've left your safety with him and when I returned crippled he threatened me with your lives! This is all just to force me to abdicate!"

"Do you know how I feel when he uses the beasts I gave to him to threaten your lives?! I feel too sick! I gave him a powerful beast because I thought I could trust him with your lives. What the hell did he do!?"

The words of his father made Long Tian speechless. He never knew the details of how Uncle Mu and others betrayed them. He thought they only sided with the opposite faction to force father to abdicate, but who would have thought that their lives were in danger.

Long Tian said, "Father, I..."

"You now know. Stop acting like you are willing to forgive them as there is now relationship between us that can be repaired!" Long Huang said as he walk ahead in rage.

They were near the mansion when the Old marshal lost it. Long Tian stood outside in shock until his brother, Long Kian come out from behind the pillar and pats his shoulder.

Long Kian said, "Father's temper, you already know. Don't make the fire bigger."

"Brother, that wasn't my intention at all," said Long Tian.

Sigh~

"I know. However, you need to accept the fact that the original relationship between the Long and the Mu Clan is no more. Now you know why Mu Patriarch felt awkward when you treated him amiably."

"He had long accepted that the old man would not forgive him and here you are still treating a good uncle when he betrayed us. He felt embarrassed coming to the meeting because of this reason," Long Kian said.

The current marshal grips his hand with strong emotions and said, "I understand everything now. I know what to do next, brother."

Chapter 1800: 24.61 Sixth Violet Star - Beast Kings

As the current marshal learned the truth behind his father's forced abdication, Long Tian felt his father's anger wasn't unjust. It is just that, it is hard to say who is truly the wrong one as both sides only had chosen the best course to save their loved one. It is just that because of this choice, the truth which was built up for years was wasted just like that. They are no different from enemies.

That night to learn the specific details of what happened in the past Long Tian sent his people to investigate. After all, information was gathered, the current marshal felt a bit overwhelmed. It is no wonder after his father had abdicated that things between him and his friend were suddenly gone for good.

The uncles who would visit the house even without invitations were now blocked at the gates and even the letters they sent were thrown to the fireplace by the old marshal without reading. It was only now that he understood how much that betrayal had harmed his father's heart.

Long Tian lit a cigarette and said to his brother, Long Kian, who was reading the information with him.

"Brother, I feel stupid trying to mend the relationship between them?"

Sigh~

"Something that had been done cannot be easily undone. Just treat them as strangers next time," said Long Kian.

In his mind, he already planned to cut off all other connections with the people listed in this information. Those who had exploited their father at his lowest even making him choose over curing his feet to the lives of them his children, Long Kian is not a good person but this kind of actions was beyond him.

Long Tian said, "I will. Brother, let A'Teng go with Jue'er and father when they head to the Barren Land. Isn't he about to break through to mid-stage Bronze Beastmaster?"

"If the seniors don't mind, then I will send him out as well. Before that the two must be trained how to escape properly if danger looms over them. You are busy with work, I will do it personally. A month should suffice," Long Kian said.

Long Tian said, "Then... I will leave it to you, brother." Though his brother loves to fight for family authority with him, his ability as a beastmaster was only second to him. What made him untouchable is his various ways of escaping danger.

Meanwhile the events that unfolds in the city plaza had finally reached the ears of Pei Jin, the young master and the behind the scene mastermind behind the Pei Clan. He is at the underground facility where his black egg is staying. Now the whole area has been renovated. With a blood pool used as a nest for the black egg, a lot of living people died with him. They were drained of their blood making them pale and ill.

"Other variables keep appearing. Now even Long Juedi's destined wife wasn't going to grow up with him and no childhood sweetheart troupe would play in the future," Pei Jin mumbles.

He stared at his main beast egg which was about to hatch. The more he thought that the future had changed due to his schemes. He couldn't wait for his powerful beast to come out.

"Nightmare, come out soon~. I will feed you a lot of blood and flesh when you do. Become a power that controls the whole world." Pei Jin said. "For it is better to weaken the other factions."

"The first one should be the master of the Killing Pavilion."

Barren Land near the core region...

The two wardens and two systems had to watch over the garden of gorgeous silver little flower buds. The garden had been quiet ever since they took over in guarding. Though countless scouts from the other beast kings would be sent in this place trying to gauge the strength of the new occupant of the core region.

They didn't dare to attack the Beast God, Mo Minkong, because of his strength and size. But it is a different story for these guys who choose to live in this area in a humanoid form. Thus a daily delivery of enemy knocks at the door occurred in this place.

Someone tried to destroy the defensive barrier around the mansion. But maybe the barrier looks a bit thin. Most beasts would try to break through this glass-like barrier. However, they had never once succeeded. Their strongest attacks were blocked by the barrier, only leaving a loud explosive sound every time the place was attacked.

BOOM!

The two wardens were napping when a loud sound was heard from outside. Unexpectedly, though, none of those inside the mansion was threatened by the loud sound. System Yue was in his deep sleep when he started talking in his sleep.

In the room where Zhi Yue and Zhi Yang were sleeping. The loud explosive sound causes Zhi Yang to open his eyes and check on the one beside him. He sighed in relief seeing that the silly moon god was in deep sleep.

He even heard him murmuring, "Cola chicken wings. Braised pork. Egg custard. Milkshake."

Pfft~

"Alright. I will make all of those later," whispered Zhi Yang and pulled the silly e within his arm and once again closed his eyes.

The reason why Zhi Yang returned to sleep was because he noticed that the Chief Warden next door had woken up. He is the one in clean up duty today. Warden Yun Ming, still feeling sleepy, said to his other half.

"Be careful out there. Don't anything destroy the Chaos Garden," said Warden Yun Ming who turned to sleep after sending his lover out.

Just outside the barrier of the mansion, the chief warden who came out was welcomed by the scene of two vultures flying above their mansion while ferociously attacking the barrier around it. These are the two beast lords under one of the beast kings in this barren land.

These two huge cultures were as big as a small jet in the modern world having wingspans that leave a huge shadowy figure as they fly above the place. Lou Wuye just glanced at the two shadows above his head. With a wave of his hand, a golden spear appeared in his hand. With a simple flick of his fingers the spear flew in a speed of light instantly killing one of the beast lords.

Shrieks!!

The golden spear reappeared in the chief warden's hands after the first target was killed while the other vulture was shrieking in anger towards Lou Wuye.

Tsk!

"So noisy. You will wake up my lover. He had been working on something since last night. Go disappear!" The Chief Warden, Lou Wuye said as he also killed the other beast lord.

Those who were hiding in the distance had witnessed this scene multiple times. At first they only sent a normal scout but was insta-killed before he did his mission. The next one were scouts coming in numbers but the Chief Warden had to swiftly rip them all before they could react. Now a beast lord was sent out but it was still no use and they were killed in seconds.

"Boring~" whispered the Chief Warden before returning inside the mansion. He ignores the beast kings watching from the distance.

Somewhere in the Barren Land

The Beast Kings had gathered for a meeting. These are beasts who ruled the north, south, east and west regions in this barren land. Only the core region was untouched as the Beast God was watching over it. However, the core region is where the most fertile land is located. It's like an oasis in deserts. The only paradise like region in this Barren Land

The beast king that rules the northern cold region of the barren land is a flood dragon. Even though it hasn't completely gained the purest bloodline of the dragon as long as he ascended, attaining it wasn't a dream.

On the other hand, the watery south region was ruled by black turtles in the myth. A huge turtle with a snake as its tail, he looked too sturdy and his defenses were top notch.

The one in the east of a kingkong beast king. It leads to the only stony area. Its fist, the back and some other parts of its body were covered in rock, making him look like he was born from a rock and grew up like this. This is the beast king known for its wisdom.

The last beast king is the lazy one in the west. Black jaguar that lives in the darkest area of the barren land. It's the most dangerous existence after the sun sets. He is not only covered in poison, but also deadly. With extreme speed and even strength. A silent killer among all beast kings.

It was this Black Jagua beast king that tried to kill Mo Minkong before but was beaten up so badly that it almost became a cripple. After all, it even dares to steal a chaos flower making the beast god extremely angry.

After this show of strength, no one dares to fight against the Beast God. However, now that the beast god is no longer in the barren land, these Beast Kings started to covet the core region once again.
