Love at the Wrong Table Emmanuel Lowe Chapter 1396

Chapter 1396 Unveiling Hearts

Roselynn seemed to have caught on a bit!

Without waiting for her to ask, Julian clearly stated the answer. “Once I inherit the Summerton family, I will take over this business, but I don’t want war, let alone become a sinner aiding war traffickers.”

“No wonder your Summerton family owns factories like Hadley factory... and it’s no surprise that Hadley factory has declined...” Roselynn seemed to have figured out all the ins and outs.

It turns out that the young people of the Summerton family are unwilling to inherit this family fortune of several tens of billions because they do not want to become executioners of war, Roselynn realized, her mind racing as she processed this revelation.

After discussing this topic, the two fell into silence for a moment.

Roselynn could not help but carefully look at Julian for the first time.

He appeared a bit unruly and reckless, seemingly unreliable. But in fact, Roselynn found herself acknowledging Julian’s underlying depth, his own ideas, and principles.

Most importantly, Roselynn felt his gentle and kind heart that emitted a soft glow, making her feel very comfortable!

Roselynn lifted her glass. “Here, Julian, I toast to you! To a kind future business tycoon!” Julian was slightly taken aback, showing a hint of surprise, but he still raised his glass somewhat awkwardly.

This was the first time his crush had taken the initiative.

“In fact, inheriting the Summerton family’s business may not necessarily be a bad thing!” Roselynn took a sip of her wine after the toast, smiling as she spoke to him.

“If the Summerton family’s business is classified like this, even if you don’t inherit it, the people behind you will definitely let others take over, and they will continue to support armed conflicts and disrupt the world! But if you were in charge, maybe you could do something to prevent wars... My dad taught me this: ‘To stop wrongdoers, you need to be stronger than them, or at least have equal power!’ That is why you might have a chance to make a difference!” she continued.

After hearing her words, Julian, who had been feeling down, suddenly brightened up with a smile and reached out to tightly hold Roselynn's hand.

Roselynn trembled slightly at Julian's sudden action.

"Roselynn, you're absolutely right! But I am not very smart, and sometimes I am afraid I might forget this lesson. If you could always be by my side to remind me and encourage me, I am sure I can do even better!" he said.

This man is quite good at seizing the opportunity! Roselynn thought.

Although she was still a little afraid, she did not resist Julian as she did before. Seeing his expression now, and recalling what he had done for her, softened her heart, and she nodded in agreement.

"We're good friends, and I'm here for you whenever you need to talk! But just to be clear, let's keep our relationship strictly as friends. No crossing any lines, okay?" Roselynn explained.

Yes, we're making progress again. Julian thought excitedly, feeling a sense of progress in his heart, and nodded in agreement.

He understood that patience was key but having Roselynn's assurance meant a lot to him. Even if they could not take their relationship to the next level, simply being able to spend time together was enough to make him happy!

For now, he was content with how things were progressing!

On the other side, Beatrix sat in Lexi's car, smiling triumphantly after successfully setting up a solo date between Julian and Roselynn. She grinned and said, "Lexi, it seems like Julian and Roselynn hitting it off, don't you think?"

Lexi smiled as she gripped the steering wheel. "Yeah, I never thought Julian would agree to inherit the Summerton family just to impress Roselynn!"

14:38 Sat, Mar 30

u

at 66%1

This was the first time his crush had taken the initiative.

“In fact, inheriting the Summerton family’s business may not necessarily be a bad thing!” Roselynn took a sip of her wine after the toast, smiling as she spoke to him.

“If the Summerton family’s business is classified like this, even if you don’t inherit it, the people behind you will definitely let others take over, and they will continue to support armed conflicts and disrupt the world! But if you were in charge, maybe you could do something to prevent wars... My dad taught me this: ‘To stop wrongdoers, you need to be stronger than them, or at least have equal power!’ That is why you might have a chance to make a difference!” she continued.

After hearing her words, Julian, who had been feeling down, suddenly brightened up with a smile and reached out to tightly hold Roselynn’s hand.

Roselynn trembled slightly at Julian’s sudden action.

“Roselynn, you’re absolutely right! But I am not very smart, and sometimes I am afraid I might forget this lesson. If you could always be by my side to remind me and encourage me, I am sure I can do even better!” he said.

This man is quite good at seizing the opportunity! Roselynn thought.

Although she was still a little afraid, she did not resist Julian as she did before. Seeing his expression now, and recalling what he had done for her, softened her heart, and she nodded in agreement.

“We’re good friends, and I’m here for you whenever you need to talk! But just to be clear, let’s keep our relationship strictly as friends. No crossing any lines, okay?” Roselynn explained.

Yes, we’re making progress again. Julian thought excitedly, feeling a sense of progress in his heart, and nodded in agreement.

He understood that patience was key but having Roselynn’s assurance meant a lot to him. Even if they could not take their relationship to the next level, simply being able to spend time together was enough to make him happy!

For now, he was content with how things were progressing!

On the other side, Beatrix sat in Lexi’s car, smiling triumphantly after successfully setting up a solo date between Julian and Roselynn. She grinned and said, “Lexi, it seems like Julian and Roselynn hitting it off, don’t you think?”

Lexi smiled as she gripped the steering wheel. “Yeah, I never thought Julian would agree to inherit the Summerton family just to impress Roselynn!”

“Hey, what are you talking about? And what is with that expression of yours?” Beatrix could not help but mutter and complain, “It’s like inheriting a multi-billion-dollar fortune is some kind of pain. So many people hope for it but cannot get it. If you go out there showing off like this, you might get beaten up in no time!”

Lexi just chuckled casually. It is understandable since Beatrix might not know much about the Summerton family.

“Alright, Lexi, you can let me off here,” Beatrix suddenly requested as she prepared to exit the car.

Lexi was slightly taken aback, noticing they were in an upscale residential area. Unable to resist, she asked, “Beatrix, are you planning to buy a house here?”

As Beatrix stepped out of the car and nodded, adding, “Yes, I am concerned about disrupting Mackenzie and Emmanuel’s marital bliss. If my sister still has not conceived, I fear Grandpa might blame me for being careless when he returns!”

Is Mackenzie expecting a baby? Lexi wondered, chuckling softly to herself.

First Unlock 5 Chapters(After Login)

PREVIOUS

Bonus Reached

NEXT

5 Bonus

38 Sat, Mar 30

Love at the Wrong Table Emmanuel Lowe Chapter 1397

Chapter 1397 Beatrix’s Perilous Rivalry

Goodness, I don’t dare to imagine such a scene! Lexi thought to herself, quickly returning to reality.

Without dwelling on it, Lexi bid farewell to Beatrix, saying, “Take care of yourself!”

She had confidence in the current safety standards of Chanaea society and had to return home to discuss the day's events with her father.

Beatrix did not think much about it either. She had often wandered around on her own before, never bothering with bodyguards. After all, she was not the head of the Quillen family. Who would even bother to kidnap her?

But unexpectedly, before she could even reach the sales office of the residential area, three cars suddenly stopped around her

What is going on? Beatrix was startled.

The next moment, a group of burly men poured out of the cars and ran toward her.

"What do you want? Help-"

Before she could finish the word "help," her head was violently struck from behind by something, causing her vision to blur, and she collapsed to the ground.

Meanwhile, Frederick rode on Shane's bicycle, with Shane sitting behind him, as they made their way back together to their rented house in Onza. The two of them kept chatting all the way!

Shane said to Frederick, "I advise you to give up on Ms. Beatrix! She is into me, and I really do not want you to get too involved and end up heartbroken later!"

"Nonsense! Ms. Beatrix likes you? How many wild mushrooms did you eat to hallucinate like this? Even if Ms. Beatrix has eyes for someone, it would not be you, right?" Frederick immediately retorted.

Frederick was not narcissistic, but compared to Shane, he could not help but feel superior in terms of looks and height as he was 1.76 meters tall, a whole head taller than Shane!

The two argued for a while, but in the end, neither could convince the other.

Shane suggested, brimming with confidence, "Alright! Since you insist on competing with me for Ms. Beatrix, let us make an agreement. We will both do our best, and no matter who Ms. Beatrix chooses in the end, the other one cannot cry or ruin the friendship between us!"

Ms. Beatrix has even kissed me. What does Frederick have to compete with? Shane asserted confidently in his mind.

Frederick exuded confidence as he warned Shane, "That's exactly what I wanted! I was worried you would go back crying, claiming I stole your thunder!"

Frederick reassured himself. Although Ms. Beatrix does not write any love letters to me, her attitude toward me is obviously very good. If I put in some effort, I might end up like Emmanuel, marrying a rich young lady.

After agreeing, they both returned to their rooms and quickly dialed Beatrix's number. Despite their shared nervousness about how to foster romantic feelings with Beatrix, the realization that they were now rivals spurred them into action.

They became increasingly anxious, their minds racing with various scenarios, especially given that Beatrix's phone was completely unreachable. Both of them worried whether Beatrix might be talking to one of them on the phone.

On the other side, Beatrix slowly opened her eyes, feeling the brightness of the light. But in the next instant, she widened her eyes in panic! She found herself sitting on a chair in a small room, bound and gagged.

She was tied up!

Beatrix struggled hard, but she could not break free!

In the next moment, the door of the room suddenly opened, and a sinister man accompanied by two henchmen walked in. his

14:38 Sat, Mar 30

The two argued for a while, but in the end, neither could convince the other.

a+ 66%1

Shane suggested, brimming with confidence, "Alright! Since you insist on competing with me for Ms. Beatrix, let us make an agreement. We will both do our best, and no matter who Ms. Beatrix chooses in the end, the other one cannot cry or ruin the friendship between us!"

Ms. Beatrix has even kissed me. What does Frederick have to compete with? Shane asserted confidently in his mind.

Frederick exuded confidence as he warned Shane, "That's exactly what I wanted! I was worried you would go back crying, claiming I stole your thunder!"

Frederick reassured himself. Although Ms. Beatrix does not write any love letters to me, her attitude toward me is obviously very good. If I put in some effort, I might end up like Emmanuel, marrying a rich young lady.

After agreeing, they both returned to their rooms and quickly dialed Beatrix's number. Despite their shared nervousness about how to foster romantic feelings with Beatrix, the realization that they were now rivals spurred them into action.

They became increasingly anxious, their minds racing with various scenarios, especially given that Beatrix's phone was completely unreachable. Both of them worried whether Beatrix might be talking to one of them on the phone.

On the other side, Beatrix slowly opened her eyes, feeling the brightness of the light. But in the next instant, she widened her eyes in panic! She found herself sitting on a chair in a small room, bound and gagged.

She was tied up!

Beatrix struggled hard, but she could not break free!

In the next moment, the door of the room suddenly opened, and a sinister man accompanied by two henchmen walked in, his face bearing a familiar and detested smirk. Beatrix recognized the man in front of her, and he reached out and removed the cloth gagging her mouth.

"Aidan, you b*stard! How dare you kidnap me? Release me now, or I will make sure you regret it! I will ensure you rot in jail!" Beatrix immediately began to angrily curse.

"Oh, I can't wait for you to make me regret it! Haha..."Aidan taunted Beatrix with a laugh.

As the pawn of the Tanner family in Zovince, what wouldn't he dare to do? And what hasn't he done?

Aidan was completely fearless!

He would not hesitate to kidnap, let alone forcefully take advantage of a beautiful woman or resort to violence if needed! Despite having several lives on his hands, he was living the high life and completely free from consequences.

"You b*stard! What exactly do you want to do?" Seeing how utterly fearless he appeared, Beatrix found herself besomis frightened.

What is he going to do to me? she wondered anxiously, the worry swirling within her heart.

"What good things should I do to you?" With a wicked grin on his face, Aidan walked up to Beatrix and gently lifted her with his hand.

Honestly, as the heir of the Tanner family, with loads of money and power, I have been with plenty of women, he admitted to himself.

First Unlock 5 Chapters (After Login)

PREVIOUS

Bonus Reached

NEXT

Love at the Wrong Table Emmanuel Lowe Chapter 1398

Chapter 1398 Blind Date Gone Wrong

Beatrix, despite her innocent appearance, was not Aidan's type at all!

He only enjoyed manipulating women, seeing them all as replaceable. He didn't genuinely desire Beatrix Quillen.

He brought her back only to teach her a lesson and vent his anger!

"You scoundrel, let me go! How dare you touch me! Mackenzie and Emmanuel will make you pay!" Beatrix exclaimed, struggling to break free and even spitting at him.

"F*ck!"

66%

Aidan wiped his face and then delivered a harsh slap across Beatrix's face. "I warned you not to scream! Mackenzie and Emmanuel? What a joke! Do you think I, Mr. Summerton of the Tanner Family, fear them?"

Stunned by the slap, Beatrix glared at him fiercely, her face half-numb and blood trickling from her mouth.

"Hehe, but since you mentioned Mackenzie and Emmanuel, I have an interesting proposition for you." Aidan pondered how to play with Beatrix when a brilliant idea hit him. He snapped his fingers.

"Your Quillen family also signed up for the Nuthana Grand Martial Showdown, right? Tomorrow night is the weekend carnival free-for-all. Do you think Emmanuel will come to your aid? Or will he step in on stage?"

Upon hearing this, Beatrix immediately felt a sense of dread, trembling as she asked, “W-What do you want?”

“Hehe, just a little game! Haven’t I lost to you twice already? This time, you’ll lose, and you’ll be at my beck and call, crawling when I say crawl, and fetching when I say fetch, haha...”

Aidan laughed, his face contorted like a crazed demon, unsettling Beatrix.

What a lunatic. I can’t predict his next move; he’s completely irrational.

Terence Group’s Onza branch.

At seven o’clock in the evening, Mackenzie rubbed her eyes and left the office, looking tired.

As the door swung open, she was momentarily surprised!

“Mackenzie!”

Emmanuel had been waiting by the door for a while. Knowing that Mackenzie had told Wally to drive her home, he had to catch her at the CEO’s office!

“What’s up?” Mackenzie saw Emmanuel and deliberately gave him a cold glance.

Which woman wouldn’t be upset to find out her husband had lied and was driving another woman home late at night?

Even if she was strong, she was still a woman!

“Well, I need to talk to you!” Emmanuel nodded. “I’ve made a reservation at a restaurant, and I’m taking you out for dinner!”

“Hmph, why would I eat with you? I’m perfectly capable of managing on my own!”

Mackenzie haughtily walked past him.

“Mackenzie!”

Emmanuel was no longer the naive man who had never experienced love. He quickly grabbed her wrist, refusing to let her go.

“Please don’t be mad at me. I didn’t deceive you or mean to hurt you. Can’t you trust me?”

Emmanuel pleaded earnestly

14:39 Sat, Mar 30

As the door swung open, she was momentarily surprised!

“Mackenzie!”

Fit 66%

Emmanuel had been waiting by the door for a while. Knowing that Mackenzie had told Wally to drive her home, he had to catch her at the CEO’s office!

“What’s up?” Mackenzie saw Emmanuel and deliberately gave him a cold glance.

Which woman wouldn’t be upset to find out her husband had lied and was driving another woman home late at night?

Even if she was strong, she was still a woman!

“Well, I need to talk to you!” Emmanuel nodded. “I’ve made a reservation at a restaurant, and I’m taking you out for dinner!”

“Hmph, why would I eat with you? I’m perfectly capable of managing on my own!”

Mackenzie haughtily walked past him.

“Mackenzie!”

Emmanuel was no longer the naive man who had never experienced love. He quickly grabbed her wrist, refusing to let her go.

“Please don’t be mad at me. I didn’t deceive you or mean to hurt you. Can’t you trust me?”

Emmanuel pleaded earnestly.

Seeing him like this, Mackenzie felt a twinge of relief. Thinking how Emmanuel used to be so full of energy during our whirlwind marriage, maybe it’s time for him to figure out how to make his wife happy. Considering how robust and confident he had been throughout their whirlwind marriage, maybe it was about time he grasped the art of satisfying his wife.

Despite her silence, Emmanuel sighed and said, “Can I apologize? I’ll never let another woman ride in your car!”

Mackenzie felt a flicker of emotion, but quickly composed herself to keep this fool from realizing she had already softened!

How could she not soften?

Her husband's enthusiasm was commendable, but now that she carried his child, could they keep arguing like this?

Mackenzie wasn't that foolish!

"Do you admit your mistake?" she asked coldly.

They had been married for six months, and this stubborn man had never softened towards her, especially during the challenging early days of their marriage! Now, she also wanted to assert her power as a wife and have her husband admit his error.

"Well, I guess so," Emmanuel agreed. While he had yet to make a major mistake in principle, allowing a woman to without Mackenzie's permission and leaving behind a car filled with the scent of perfume was a slight misstep.

Of course, Rhea also reminded him to admit his mistake.

Rhea also said that a true man was brave enough to apologize to his wife first during a disagreement! Those obstinate men who refuse to admit their faults were foolish and don't deserve to be with a woman!

First Unlock 5 Chapters(After Login)

PREVIOUS

Bonus Reached

NEXT

Love at the Wrong Table Emmanuel Lowe Chapter 1399

Chapter 1399 Searching for Beatrix!

at 62%1

“What do you mean by ‘sort of? Your attitude is insincere!” Mackenzie was genuinely annoyed by this guy’s behavior, and on the brink of walking away.

“Mackenzie, I admit I messed up this time, so I’m taking you out for dinner. Please don’t be mad, okay? I’m worried you might skip meals again and end up with stomach issues!” Emmanuel reached for her hand quickly.

Mackenzie paused, turned away, and chuckled before regaining her composure.

Considering this guy’s genuine concern for her well-being, she decided to let it slide this time.

“Mackenzie, what do you say?” Emmanuel eagerly asked.

She gave him a stern look and replied, “Fine, let’s go.”

Relieved, Emmanuel nodded and went downstairs to get the car.

Their silent treatment ended within a day, and both husband and wife felt relieved. Neither of them wanted to drag out the silent treatment.

Especially Mackenzie, who was carrying this guy’s child. Continuing the silent treatment was just causing her unnecessary stress. Thankfully, this guy knew how to make amends, or else she’d be lost.

As the couple wrapped up their dinner at a restaurant, nearing nine o’clock in the evening, Mackenzie’s tension began to ease. She had been contemplating sharing some good news with her companion when a call from Miss Lexi interrupted her thoughts.

“What? Beatrix is missing? She hasn’t contacted me all day!” Mackenzie’s expression turned to concern.

Seeing Mackenzie’s worried look, Emmanuel dialed Beatrix’s number.

As expected, the phone was off.

Mackenzie ended the call and heard Emmanuel’s phone notification. She said, “Let’s hurry home and see if she’s there!”

“Okay,” Emmanuel agreed, sensing the seriousness.

The couple rushed home. During the drive, Emmanuel learned about the situation. Beatrix had disappeared after acquiring the Hadley factory. If she wasn’t home, there was a good chance Aidan was involved.

Upon returning home, the couple's worries intensified upon seeing the house dark and deserted.

"Beatrix! Are you here?" Mackenzie called out, realizing she wasn't there, she looked to Emmanuel for answers.

Emmanuel understood her silent question and called Ashton.

After hearing about the situation, Ashton was pleased. "Emmanuel is increasingly relying to me." Ashton thinks to herself.

First, he could repay the favor of helping her solve cases before.

Second, she could legitimately request martial arts training from him.

"It's not been 24 hours of disappearance, we can't file a case procedural case yet. But I'll investigate Aidan privately. Please be patient," Ashton said before she took action.

Emmanuel hung up, feeling a mix of emotions. While he appreciated Ashton's help, his main concern was Beatrix's safety.

At the same time, he had to reassure his wife." Mackenzie, try not to worry too much. Beatrix is a Quillen and no one would dare hurt her."

He refrained from making threats, knowing it'd only worry his wife more.

14:47 Sat, Mar 30 Muu

As the couple wrapped up their dinner at a restaurant, nearing nine o'clock in the evening, Mackenzie's tension began to ease. She had been contemplating sharing some good news with her companion when a call from Miss Lexi interrupted her thoughts.

"What? Beatrix is missing? She hasn't contacted me all day!" Mackenzie's expression turned to concern.

Seeing Mackenzie's worried look, Emmanuel dialed Beatrix's number.

As expected, the phone was off.

Mackenzie ended the call and heard Emmanuel's phone notification. She said, "Let's hurry home and see if she's there!"

"Okay," Emmanuel agreed, sensing the seriousness.

The couple rushed home. During the drive, Emmanuel learned about the situation. Beatrix had disappeared after acquiring the Hadley factory. If she wasn't home, there was a good chance Aidan was involved.

Upon returning home, the couple's worries intensified upon seeing the house dark and deserted.

"Beatrix! Are you here?" Mackenzie called out, realizing she wasn't there, she looked to Emmanuel for answers.

Emmanuel understood her silent question and called Ashton.

After hearing about the situation, Ashton was pleased. "Emmanuel is increasingly relying to me." Ashton thinks to herself.

First, he could repay the favor of helping her solve cases before.

Second, she could legitimately request martial arts training from him.

"It's not been 24 hours of disappearance, we can't file a case procedural case yet. But I'll investigate Aidan privately. Please be patient," Ashton said before she took action.

Emmanuel hung up, feeling a mix of emotions. While he appreciated Ashton's help, his main concern was Beatrix's safety.

At the same time, he had to reassure his wife." Mackenzie, try not to worry too much. Beatrix is a Quillen and no one would/dare hurt her."

He refrained from making threats, knowing it'd only worry his wife more.

Unaware of Mackenzie's pregnancy, he couldn't bear to see her distressed again, especially when Mackenzie looked so tired.

Mackenzie nodded, now she could only do three things:

First, wait for Ashton's response.

Second, mobilize underlings to search for Beatrix.

Third, stay home and wait for her sister to return or contact her.

Emmanuel stayed by Mackenzie's side, and noticed a distinct change in his wife's demeanor, sensing she needed his care more than ever. Every moment away from her left him with an unsettling feeling in his heart.

Finally, just before midnight, Ashton called. “Emmanuel, Beatrix’s disappearance is almost certainly connected to someone named Tang,” she said. “He denies all allegations but claims that if you want Beatrix to return home safely, it’s up to you!”

Bonus Reached

TOP-UP 1 Time (Daily)

PREVIOUS

NEXT

Love at the Wrong Table Emmanuel Lowe Chapter 1400

Chapter 1400 Everything Gone Complicated

“What’s going on?” Emmanuelasked immediately.

Pit 020

Beside him, Mackenzie clenched her fist. If anyone dared to harm her Quillen family, it meant war, and she wasn’t about to let that slide!

“I’m not entirely sure, but he said to attend the Nuthana Grand Martial Showdown tomorrow and everything will become clear. He also mentioned it’s the free-for-all tournament tomorrow!” Ashton relayed the message.

She had almost gotten into it with someone named Mr. Tanner earlier, but without evidence, and considering she was investigating in a personal capacity, she refrained from confronting Aidan. Given the Tanner family’s influence and prominence, if she dared to act against Aidan impulsively, she could risk losing her position afterwards. So, she could only be held back from resorting to violence!

After hanging up, Emmanuel wanted to rush to the Tanner family and deal with the issue immediately. “How can we wait until the next day? Who knew how Aidan would treat Beatrix?”

But just as Emmanuel started to rise and plan to find the Tanner family, Mackenzie suddenly felt dizzy!

Emmanuel had to abandon his plans and quickly support Mackenzie, asking with concern, “Mackenzie, are you okay?”

“I... I’ll be fine. Mackenzie said softly, but she looked unwell.

“Let me check your pulse,” Emmanuel suggested, feeling a strange suspicion.

Besides some stomach problems, Mackenzie had always been healthy. Suddenly feeling dizzy was new since their marriage!

“Could she be pregnant?” Emmanuel thought in his mind.

“No need,” Mackenzie declined firmly. “Maybe I just need some rest. I’ll go lie down and I should be okay.”

She also didn’t know why she didn’t want Emmanuel to know about her current condition even in this tense situation.

At the same time, she hoped he would rescue Beatrix now instead of worrying about Mackenzie!

But how could Emmanuel not worry?

With Chloe’s health concerns, he could only stay home and have Eve send someone to find Beatrix.

But there was no update all night.

The next day, with Beatrix still missing, despite it being the weekend, Mackenzie had to oversee the Hadley factory’s reconstruction herself, managing things on site. The Titan Group’s project was crucial to the Quillen family, no room for mistakes!

Emmanuel stayed with Mackenzie, waiting for news from Eve and Wally.

And without evidence that Beatrix was in danger, they had to wait 24 hours before investigating!

By evening, neither Eve nor Wally had received any news. Onza was so vast, and they were not police officers. Finding someone in such circumstances was too difficult.

After Emmanuel and Mackenzie reported the case to the authorities, they had no choice but to go to tonight’s free-for-all tournament at the boxing ring, as per Aidan’s instructions!

The Quillen family was also participating in the Grand Martial Showdown. Because of their tarnished reputation and not being members of the chamber of commerce, they didn't have the same privileges as the Silverbane family and Chapman family according to unwritten rules.

Emmanuel and Mackenzie guessed that the competition to advance to the next round would be intense at the beginning and end of the preliminary rounds. So, they decided to register for the 17th day of the preliminaries based on their instincts.

T

14:47 Sat, Mar 30 Mu

"No need," Mackenzie declined firmly. "Maybe I just need some rest. I'll go lie down and I should be okay."

She also didn't know why she didn't want Emmanuel to know about her current condition even in this tense situation.

At the same time, she hoped he would rescue Beatrix now instead of worrying about Mackenzie!

But how could Emmanuel not worry?

With Chloe's health concerns, he could only stay home and have Eve send someone to find Beatrix.

But there was no update all night.

The next day, with Beatrix still missing, despite it being the weekend, Mackenzie had to oversee the Hadley factory's reconstruction herself, managing things on site. The Titan Group's project was crucial to the Quillen family, no room for mistakes!

Emmanuel stayed with Mackenzie, waiting for news from Eve and Wally.

And without evidence that Beatrix was in danger, they had to wait 24 hours before investigating!

By evening, neither Eve nor Wally had received any news. Onza was so vast, and they were not police officers. Finding someone in such circumstances was too difficult.

After Emmanuel and Mackenzie reported the case to the authorities, they had no choice but to go to tonight's free-for-all tournament at the boxing ring, as per Aidan's instructions!

The Quillen family was also participating in the Grand Martial Showdown. Because of their tarnished reputation and not being members of the chamber of commerce, they didn't have the same privileges as the Silverbane family and Chapman family according to unwritten rules.

Emmanuel and Mackenzie guessed that the competition to advance to the next round would be intense at the beginning and end of the preliminary rounds. So, they decided to register for the 17th day of the preliminaries based on their instincts.

Emmanuel had already been registered for the 17th day by the organizers, so even if there was open registration tonight, hẹ wouldn't have a chance to compete!

Of course, Emmanuel wasn't there to compete tonight. They were there to watch Aidan's moves!

"Emmanuel, Mackenzie!"

"Ms. Quillen!"

As they approached, they heard Shane and Frederick calling from behind.

"We've been waiting for you! What's up with Beatrix?"

"Yeah, we gotta make sure the safety of Ms. Beatrix. If anything happens to her, we can't let Mr. Tanner off the hook!"

Shane and Frederick knew about Beatrix because Emmanuel had told them. That's why they'd been waiting at the arena's entrance early in the morning, unable to go in but waiting for Emmanuel and Mackenzie to show up.

Seeing their worried faces, Mackenzie was surprised. "Did they really care so much about Beatrix? Did Beatrix have such a close relationship with them?" Mackenzie felt curious. "Why did it seem like they both acted like Beatrix's significant others?"

TOP-UP 1 Time (Daily)

PREVIOUS

Bonus Reached

NEXT

50 Bonus

Love at the Wrong Table Emmanuel Lowe Chapter 1401

Chapter 1401 Attack Enemy's Domain

"I'm not sure what's going on, but let's go in and figure it out!"

Emmanuel was speechless. Beatrix had been missing for a day, and if Aidan was up to no good, she could be in serious trouble!

If that were the case, Emmanuel would stop at nothing to bring justice for Beatrix and tear the Tanner family apart!

Suddenly, Aidan's voice interrupted their thoughts from behind. "Looks like someone said they won't let me go?" Everyone from Hero's Village turned around in shock. "What's going on? Yosef is hanging out with this troublemaker?"

Yosef also locks eyes with the three of them, expressionless, before finally settling his gaze on Emmanuel and Mackenzie.

"B*stard! Hand over Beatrix now!"

Shane charged towards Aidan, acting on impulse as usual. He didn't have time for pleasantries when his girlfriend was in danger.

Frederick joined the scuffle without hesitation, even though he wasn't very skilled.

"Stop! Stop it now!"

Arena security rushed in.

Mackenzie allowed Shane's impulsive actions, hoping for a chance to confront Aidan herself.

Shane didn't disappoint. He took down Aidan's bodyguards and charged at Aidan, ignoring the regular security personnel.

Aidan was surprised, realizing Shane's recklessness could have consequences.

Thankfully, Yosef intervened just in time, effortlessly knocking Shane to the ground.

Mackenzie admired Yosef's skill and composure, finding him mysterious yet impressive.

"Yosef! What are you doing? Attacking me?!"

Shane stared at Yosef in disbelief.

In Shane's mind, Yosef was like an older brother, someone he respected deeply.

"Sorry, I'm with the Tanner family now," Yosef said calmly.

"What?!"

Shane and Frederick were shocked.

Emmanuel was also surprised. He thought he knew Yosef well, but associating with Aidan seemed out of character.

Aidan smirked, pleased with their reactions. He revealed a contract signed by Beatrix, claiming she willingly participated in tonight's match as the prize for the winner.

"Impossible!" Mackenzie protested. "Beatrix would never agree to such a thing!"

Shane backed her up, declaring Beatrix loved him and wouldn't seek another man.

Yosef warned Shane not to push him, hinting at the consequences if Shane persisted.

"Hahaha... I can't wait to see you in the ring," Aidan taunted as he walked away. "Shane, do you have a soft spot for the Quillen family's pipsqueak? Let's see if you can win her over, or she might end up in another man's arms tonight. The thought is exhilarating, haha..."

09:19 Mon, Apr 1

31%