Wrong Table 1461

Chapter 1461

Blake then said, “Your wife was kidnapped. My father and I tried to save her, but we ended up with a concussion and almost got cut into pieces… Look at the state I’m in!

But we still couldn’t save your wife. There was nothing we could do!”

Only then did everyone have the time to take a closer look at Blake. He was covered in bloodstains, and his clothes were torn. It seemed that he wasn’t lying.

Emmanuel could also infer that Blake must have clashed with Yosef but gained no advantage!

But that wasn’t the main point. The main point was his wife and the child in he Emmanuel quickly grabbed Blake and continued to press him, “Where did you see Mackenzie being kidnapped?”

“All right. Come with me!”

Blake was too lazy to dawdle with Emmanuel so he quickly led Emmanuel out of the villa.

“Hey, Emmanuel!”

“You must ensure Mackenzie’s safety!”

Roselynn and Alessandra hurriedly followed Emmanuel out of the villa, but they couldn’t catch up.

There was no way they could join the rescue mission to save Mackenzie.

Alessandra collapsed suddenly due to excessive worry and physical weakness.

Fortunately, Roselynn acted swiftly and caught her!

Beatrix’s mind was in a whirl when she saw this scene. Her sister was pregnant and was kidnapped again? Blake failed to save her sister too? Why was there so much information?

Oh well… She should call the police first!

“Mom! Mom, pull yourself together!”

Roselynn was also in a state of turmoil. If something happened to Mackenzie and Mackenzie’s unborn child, Emmanuel and Alessandra wouldn’t be able to bear such a mental blow!

Everyone suddenly ran out, leaving only Ryder sitting in a wheelchair, looking bewildered and confused.

He had heard clearly just now that Blake claimed to be Tommy's father. Was Blake just talking nonsense or had he been cheated for many years?

However, no one cared about his feelings at this moment!

Tia also rushed out as she was worried about Mackenzie's safety, just like Emmanuel.

61 It's Really You!

Inside a mysterious building on the other end

Upon learning that Aidan had sent someone to kidnap Mackenzie, Yasmine immediately slammed the table and stood up

"Is that guy crazy? Doesn't he know how noble Mackenzie's identity is?! If he harms the child in Mackenzie's belly, it won't be enough for him to die even if he has nine lives!"

Yasmine was very angry. Although she had a cooperative relationship with the Tanner family, she had to severely criticize Aidan. If anything happened to Mackenzie's child, she would definitely uproot the Tanner family!

She wanted to send someone to protect Mackenzie, but both she and the fighters from the Airspace Group were far from the beach in the south district. It was too late to send someone over now!

Furthermore, the people she had arranged to keep an eye on Aidan probably wouldn't have the ability to rescue Mackenzie from him.

Fortunately, she quickly came up with a solution and immediately ordered, "Quick! Get our people to inform Emmanuel proactively and help him find out where his wife is as soon as possible!"

"Yes, Ms. Morgan!"

At this moment, Mackenzie was rudely brought out of the car inside a building in the seaside area.

She looked quite pitiful with her shoes removed and her black hair slightly disheveled

At this moment, no one would associate her with the number one icy goddess of Yeringham!

However, even though she was in dire straits, her gaze remained cold, containing an extraordinary calmness and wisdom!

“Haha… Ms. Quillen, we meet again! I didn’t expect you to come voluntarily this time!”

Aidan sat in the brightly lit lobby while waiting for Mackenzie to arrive. He burst into laughter as soon as she entered.

Although Yasmine had already sent a message warning him not to mess with Mackenzie, how could this willful and reckless playboy ever listen?

Especially since he coveted Mackenzie’s beauty!

Mackenzie didn’t display her usual cold and aloof demeanor because she wasn’t alone now.

As the saying went, a woman might be weak, but a mother-to-be was strong!

She couldn’t afford to anger Aidan easily because she now had someone else to consider-her child.

“Young Master Tanner, I wonder why you invited me over this time?”

“Oh? Ms. Quillen, you don’t seem as aloof as the rumors say!”

Aidan also noticed something wrong with Mackenzie. He got up from his seat and walked toward Mackenzie step by step.
