Wrong Table 1488

Chapter 1488

“It seems you still don’t want to give up. I’ll have to make you suffer a bit more,

Haha…”

Suddenly, Everett threw a punch.

Ashton’s right arm snapped!

then.

Yet, this resilient woman refused to utter a sound. Her eyes turned red, but she refused to admit defeat!

“Ash… Ash!”

Tears welled up in Althea’s eyes.

Although she had been in a fierce dispute with Ashton recently, Ashton was still her biological daughter!

Seeing her daughter suffering like this, she felt heartbroken.

Zaiden couldn’t help but shout, “Quickly admit defeat, Ash!”

He cared more for his daughter than Althea did, so he felt even more distressed.

Moreover, he knew very well that Ashton didn't admit defeat because she was the last hope for the Summerton family.

If she lost, the Summerton family would be done for!

"Hehe… Still not admitting defeat? Don't blame me for being ruthless and destroyi beauty then!"

Everett threw another punch at Ashton's left leg this time.

"Ah…"

She finally couldn't help but let out a muffled groan.

Emmanuel couldn't bear to watch anymore. Ashton had completely lost hope of winning, so why didn't she admit defeat?

Mackenzie watched Ashton at this moment with both sympathy and admiration.

Ashton was truly a tough woman!

"Ash, admit defeat!"

Sage finally couldn't help but speak up. "Where there's life, there's hope. Don't dv much on temporary gains and losses!”

Hearing Sage’s words, Ashton finally tapped the platform three times with her left han signaling her surrender!

Unexpectedly, Everett slapped her thigh again. Although this blow didn’t cause much damage, it made Ashton feel extremely humiliated!

This b*stard was deliberately taking advantage of her!

“Hahaha, sorry! I didn’t know you had surrendered! Luckily, I didn’t hurt you, so it doesn’t count as a foul, right?”

Everett let go of Ashton while laughing triumphantly on the stage. He looked quite lecherous.

“Damn it!”

Sage couldn’t bear it anymore. He wanted to jump onto the stage and teach Everet lesson to avenge Ashton.

Unexpectedly, Emmanuel, who was usually calm and composed, didn’t say a word but had already left the audience seats and jumped onto the stage!

The people below were still lamenting Ashton's failure, but the next moment, they saw Emmanuel appear in front of Everett.

"What… what do you want to do?"

Everett saw Emmanuel and was afraid. The look in Emmanuel's eyes was terrifying, like the gaze of the Grim Reaper!

"I want to beat you up!!"

Emmanuel said as his face darkened. He used the Dragon Hold Technique to pull Everett over.

He rarely lost control due to anger.

But seeing Ashton being tortured like this, he couldn't remain indifferent!

Tonight, Nathan, who had been quietly observing from below, became extremely excited when he saw this scene!

Emmanuel had taught him this move, but he had never been able to use it. Now, seeing Emmanuel use it, he felt excited and applauded!

Crack!

Emmanuel directly broke Everett's left arm, and the extent of the injury was definitely not like his right arm, which would still be able to move in the future.

"Ah! Ah!"

Everett, unlike Ashton, lacked such strong willpower and screamed on the spot.

But it wasn't over yet. Emmanuel moved his right leg and directly broke Everett's right leg bone!

"Ah! Ah!"

Everett's screams!

as loud as thunder!

The more he screamed, the louder the cheers from the audience below, forming a perfect correlation!

"Referee! Organizer! Save me! I'm a qualifying contestant. You have to protect the contestant!!"

Everett wasn't stupid. He quickly shouted for help.

The next moment, security from the organizers rushed onto the stage.

"You again?"

Joe, as the manager of the entire venue, also quickly stepped onto the stage.

He recognized Emmanuel and asked coldly, "Why did you assault the winning contestant tonight?"

"I don't like him!"

Emmanuel didn't bother to come up with any pretentious excuses. He just said those words coldly.

Joe was dumbfounded. Did this guy not even bother to conceal his motives? Could he just beat people up because he didn't like them?

Nathan was also stunned for a moment, then burst into laughter while secretly admiring Emmanuel's prowess! Emmanuel was awesome, indeed!

"Damn it! This is outrageous!"

Everett lay on the stage and shouted, "What kind of reason is this? Mr. Wallace, this guy assaulted me for no reason. You must give me justice!”

Before Joe could respond, the audience below erupted completely!
