

Y. Goddess 127

Chapter 127 An Unknown Cult

[Stealth slime perspective number forty-seven.]

Kraauuukkk...

Crasshhh...

Krraakk...

Right before my eyes, I saw a monster created with full of evil energy that could be felt by all my senses.

The figure of a monster that so boldly and recklessly attacked the cave that was my residence together with my other extended slime family.

I didn't mind if they wanted to share a residence as fellow monsters and the position of my extended slime family, which had built several cave walls intended to support the life of slimes that were energy efficient in managing the food resources that grew in the forest around us.

However, that was just my misunderstanding because the monster in front of me was a terrible monster that I had to always monitor and report periodically to the Supreme Commander who replaced the Slime King and Queen.

The bodies of the Slime King and Queen, who symbolized the leaders of the slime herd, had long died. They die and their body left behind a large magic core that was being eaten by the terrible monster.

That monster had a body shape looks like a bear monster with golden horns on top.

Despite its large and terrifying body size, its face shape is even more terrifying because it is filled with a terrifying energy aura shaped like a slimy black mist. Unlike my body's mucus, which purely comes from my body components, which are slime races, it looks like a rotting black pus wound.

The condition of its face looks like it has been stabbed by something and if you look closely it is a sword that emits evil magic energy that makes my body not dare to approach it.

The fear that possessed my body made me live in the abyss of death that was ready to pounce on me at any time if my slimy body disguise was discovered.

I remembered the words of my Supreme Commander who said that stealth slime should be a monster that is difficult to detect by senses or magic detection. Just by thinking about that, now I realize that the talent that a stealth slime must have is disguise and infiltration.

Tappp ...

Taappp ...

My body which was spreading as one of the rock walls suddenly felt a vibration of the ground flowing into my body. By making my body look like a rock and harden without shaking amid the strong shaking vibrations, I could feel some footsteps approaching with the magic light reflecting in the deepest part of this cave.

Tapp...

Tapp...

The sound of footsteps that were getting closer made my body adopt a natural attitude to be alert while reducing the use of my magic in disguise and blurring my presence so that it was difficult to detect.

My body which was too sensitive to every vibration of the ground had predicted that there were seven people walking towards the terrifying monster.

Just like that evil vibe terrifying monster, I could feel that their bodies radiated evil magic energy that made my body have to hold back the fear of shaking and almost removing my disguise.

The seven people wearing black robes looked very suspicious and scary. The stench that smelled on their bodies showed how dirty they were to come to the cave where the slime lived and pollute the air in the cave with the stench of their bodies.

If only my Slime King and Queen were still alive, they might have been in the slime punishment zone and cleaned the deepest part of the cave until the polluted air became fresh again.

"Kuhahaha!! I didn't expect this experiment to be a huge success. But it would be a shame if Marquess Rommel found out that this terrible monster was in his territory. The surprise plan to force him to return from his family vacation has failed."

The terrifying laughter made my body move slightly and almost destroyed my disguise as a cave rock again.

"Wouldn't it be more interesting if this experiment gave a definite result to our Lord? Just think if his grudge against Marquess Rommel could be paid with the destruction of the city in his territory."

"Haaah?! Destroy the city? Even this monster can do more than that, idiot!"

Staabb...

Pliirrk...

I could see that those suspicious and terrible people were doing something else to the monster who was enjoying the magic core of the Slime King and Queen.

"Eat and grow bigger, my sweet cute bear.... I expect you to be more than just a stupid monster who can manipulate the magical energy of our proud cursed sword!"

Sllaahhh...

"KIIHHHKKK!!"

The sound came from the terrifying monster after the sword that was stuck above its head was pulled out forcefully, causing some blood to spurt out of its head.

Wiingg...

Brrtt...

This scary-looking sword emitted a large amount of magical energy and made the ground I was standing on rumble loudly.

"Ohooohh!! This is the end!! A new masterpiece created by a monster that has evolved its body to be able to absorb the power of the cursed sword!"

"Praise our Goddess who will awaken in the darkness of the night sky!"

"Oh, Goddess! Thank you for blessing this beautiful world with your cursed sword!"

I don't know what those humans were thinking, but the dangerous sword gave my body a warning to immediately avoid those crazy-looking humans.

Their laughter which sounded terrifying and filled with satisfaction had made the monster swallow the magic core of the Slime King and Queen.

Baaamm!!

Kaboommm!!

The explosion of magical energy that came out of the monster gave a bad sign. The figure of a bear monster with pure evil energy with a gaze that seemed to be looking for something.

"GAAOOOOO!!" the roar from the monster's scream gave a big shock to my body that almost removed my disguise as a rock.

"It seems that the monster realized that the cursed sword had disappeared from its body. What should we do next?" asked one of the mysterious and dangerous humans.

"Isn't that obvious? Perform a ritual for the resurrection of our Goddess!"

The mysterious and frightening human figure immediately pulled the cursed sword that was originally stuck in the monster's head to his neck.

"For the glory and honor of our Goddess!" shouted the mysterious human while pulling the cursed sword until it cut off his head.

Slaaassshhh

Paannggg ...

When the cursed sword cut off his head, a black cloud covered his body and disappeared as if devoured by the cursed sword.

I watched this horrific scene together with our Supreme Commander who silently watched their every action without giving any orders to evacuate myself to a safe place.

The information I gave seemed to have my Supreme Commander very interested in this.

"For the glory and honor of our Goddess! Curse this world!!"

Sllaashh...

Paaanngg...

"For the glory and honor of our Goddess! This world deserves to be destroyed by the wrath of our Goddess of Destruction!"

Slllaahhh...

Paaanngg...

"Ohh, my Goddess, accept my sacred sacrifice that sacrifices myself!"

Slaasshh...

Paaanngg...

"My Goddess... I will come to your hell..."

Slaasshh...

Panggg...

"For the destruction of this world!"

Sllaashhh...

Panngg...

One by one the strange humans cut off their heads until the cursed sword absorbed their bodies like sacrificial offerings.

The horrific scene was immediately spread widely and was seen by my other slime family through the Soul Tame communication network.

"GAAAOOOKKK!!" the roar of the monster who was looking for the cursed sword finally managed to find it.

The cursed sword that had finished devouring the bodies of the mysterious humans suddenly flew up and shot towards the monster's chest.

Stabbb...

Slaahhh...

Kabaaamm!!

A large explosion occurred again after the monster was stabbed by the cursed magic sword.

The overflow of pure evil magic energy slowly made my instincts scream and want to run away from the task of watching over the terrible monster.

I realized that from the start this was a difficult task given by the Supreme Commander and my stubborn behavior flared up to be able to take revenge on the herd that destroyed the house where my slime family lived.

That terrifying pure power made my body lose control and my consciousness faded.

[Stealth slime number forty-seven, good job on surviving such a massive magical energy exposure.]

[Because of your actions... I decided to intervene after this Golden King Bear truly became one level above Calamity Disaster.]

[With your sacrifice, I can confirm that it was an action that made you deserve to live in humiliation by my side.]

Swwiirrlll...

Swiishhhh...

Paaamm...

My vision was suddenly filled with a warm magic circle and made my body feel a winter breeze that brought my consciousness back.

The figure of a human girl sitting on one of the chairs with her glowing red eyes made me immediately come to my full consciousness and pay my respects to her.

Pooiinggg...

"C-Commander!"

Pooiinggg...

"Stealth slime number forty-seven will report back to duty on the hunting grounds!"

I immediately saluted by adjusting my slime posture to be rounder than usual.

"You don't need to return to the hunting grounds after witnessing such a horrific thing," my Supreme Commander replied with her piercing red gaze staring at me.

Different from the gaze filled with intimidation, it was a cold gaze that made me feel comfortable because I was under the control of her every command.

Aahhh... that gaze...

Somehow this makes me want to live in humiliation by my own Supreme Commander's side.

If only I could evolve to stay by her side without using a body that disgusted my Supreme Commander, I would want to live in humiliation for my Supreme Commander.

The feeling of wanting to serve in this humiliation.

Am I worthy of such a position?

Ah, if only the Goddess would hear me.

Please let me evolve to the point where I can be by my Supreme Commander's side.
