

Y. Goddess 132

Chapter 132 Join The Hunt Operation

Swiipp...

Swiipp...

The cape I was wearing shook violently when I was on top of Sia's body which was in her dragon form.

Sia's dragon wings spread wide in the air and seemed to have attracted several crowds of stealth slimes that had evolved. Their body shapes looked like a crowd of girls about to gang up on the Golden King Bear with their magic chants.

I didn't mind their angry condition because their King or Queen Slime had been killed by the Golden King Bear. However, they had to be more restrained after evolving which changed some of their weakened magic energy structure.

"Hey, can you all hold back your overflowing magic energy mixed with the desire to kill?" I asked the entire group of stealth slimes in the Soul Tame communication network.

Thanks to the Soul Tame magic chant, the connection between me and them was still maintained. Even though they had evolved, it seemed that the Soul Tame magic chant was still effective in controlling them, who were almost out of control.

"What's wrong, Lily-chan? Are they trying to do something that will trouble you?" Sia asked, apparently hearing my words while talking to the stealth slime herd.

I nodded my head to answer Sia's question.

"They seem impatient to cast the remaining magic energy on the Golden King Bear," I replied while observing the giant body of the Golden King Bear.

The view above the sky looking down made part of my body shiver. It didn't mean that I was afraid of heights, but I was scared that one of the Golden King Bear's tentacles would pull Sia's body until we were trapped inside such disgusting tentacles.

Speaking of tentacles... this seems like a deja vu.

I feel like I've experienced a situation like this in the past.

But what kind of situation could make me feel deja vu like this?

It made my body shiver and feel disgusted.

"Lily-chan, are you okay? I can feel that your body is shivering after being exposed to negative magic energy like the one we found a few years ago."

Sia's words reminded me of a few years ago when I was still five years old. After my first encounter with Ciel and Sia, some evil energy required their purification as Saintess and prevented the contamination of corrosive negative magical energy from spreading.

Was this the same situation as the one I had experienced before?

Standing on Sia's dragon's back, I could see the face of the Golden King Bear who seemed to have been drowned in evil magical energy, and also a cursed sword that caught my attention.

"I'm fine, Sia. Just stunned by this oppressive evil magical energy."

"Compared to the torturous pressure of this evil energy, I am more oppressed by the killing intent emitted by the crowd of evolved stealth slimes."

"They have just evolved but are still eager to take revenge on a monster that killed their King and Queen Slime."

In response to Sia's words filled with worry, I made a small joke involving the killing intent emitted by the group of stealth slimes.

When the evil magical energy and the emotional surge of killing intent came together, it created a terrifying atmosphere that could choke someone's neck just by standing around it.

"Sia, what about the request I gave you earlier?" I asked Sia suddenly.

"Ciel and Hana still working together to carry out the task. Even after I lower you into the hunting ground, I will rush to help those who seem to have many patients who are mentally attacked and drowning in the abyss of fear," Sia replied while flapping her dragon wings to stabilize her flying movements.

"Poor thing..." Sia muttered after seeing the damage caused by the Golden King Bear.

"Minimizing the number of casualties who drown in fear is a tough task. I will do anything to repay you for your services," I said while preparing myself to jump into the Golden King Bear hunting ground.

"Unn!! I was waiting for Lily-chan to say that sentence. Enjoying a relaxing day with my little sister who uses the form of a dragon girl would be fun!" Sia replied while moving her dragon tail and giving a small code for her request after all this trouble was over.

I nodded to agree to Sia's request then jumped off the back of her dragon that was flying in the air, "See you later, Sia..."

"Have a nice hunt, Lily-chan!" replied Sia who was now flying around to return to the main base of the Golden King Bear hunting operation.

Swwoopp...

Swiipp...

The night wind of the winter that had not yet ended felt like it was slapping my cheeks. This cold air that was difficult to get warm made my body want to take on a challenge to defeat the Golden King Bear without using magical energy and display the pure power of the sword technique given by Mio through the Linked Ritual.

Swoopp...

Swiipp...

As my gaze got closer to the ground, I immediately turned my body and let the cape I was wearing flutter as if pushed by the heavy wind that hit my body.

Huupp...

Baaamm...

My body which was spinning in the air immediately stopped and gently planted my feet on the ground that was destroyed by the explosion of the Golden King Bear's evil magical energy.

After my body landed on the ground, several stealth slime girls greeted me with a salute by raising their fists to their breasts and staring at me.

"Commander! I didn't expect the Commander to personally come with us! I'm honored to be able to fight with you!"

"Welcome to our hunt, Commander! I promise I won't be a burden like my immature self when I was a little slimeball!"

"I will present the head of the Golden King Bear to you, Commander!"

Since they all seemed to want to talk at length with me and give me an unimportant salute, I immediately stopped them by holding my hand in the air.

"Enough! We don't have time for small talk like this," I said coldly to them.

Upon hearing my cold words that seemed to not care about the respect they gave me, I then drew my katana and prepared to attack.

Swiingg!!

Swiishh!!

"We'll make small talk after this matter is over!" while swinging my sharp katana and releasing a ringing wind blade, I made them aware of my goal of ending the great problem that plagued Marquess Rommel's territory.

The swing of my katana seemed to have attracted the attention of several adventurer parties hiding around me. Although they were not visible to my eyes, I could feel that their gazes were watching me as I prepared to fight the Golden King Bear.

"GROOOARRR!!" the roar of the Golden King Bear had attracted my attention and the group of stealth slimes around me.

"It seems that our opponents can't wait to be at each other's strengths."

Thudd...

Sraakk...

With a small movement, I stuck the handle of my katana into the ground and put my katana back into its sheath.

"I give you all permission to avenge your passionate revenge with that irresistible killing lust," I said to the group of stealth slimes who looked very happy after hearing my words.

"Thank you for the opportunity given by you, our esteemed Supreme Commander!" by saying that short sentence, several stealth slimes standing in front of me immediately turned around and issued threats with their killing intent that did not hesitate to appear until my naked eye could see their overflowing magic energy.

In this short scene, I could feel that the killing intent from the stealth slime swarm looked quite dangerous if not controlled by the Soul Tame magic chant.

"If I didn't control them with the Soul Tame magic chant, what would happen?" I asked in a small voice without expecting an answer.

In front of my eyes, I could see several stealth slimes jumping while releasing their slime that seemed to still exist after their bodies became human form.

Swiirrpp...

Pllloopp...

The Golden King Bear's body was covered in slime that stretched and locked its movements.

"GOOOAARRRR!!" with a roar that could shake the ground I was standing on, I could see the movement of that large body that was agile in swinging bear arms.

Baamm!!

The attack given by the stealth slime was not too strong in locking the movement of the Golden King Bear until the slime looked like an ordinary liquid that did not cause any restraint movement.

Spllaassh...

Swiipp...

Baang!!

A magic formation in the form of Water Cut was seen crossing the head of the Golden King Bear but was pushed aside by a loud sound that sounded like a hard object that was able to break the Water Cut magic attack from one of the stealth slimes.

"Aaahh... seriously! An attack like that doesn't work?" shouted one of the stealth slimes in annoyance after the attack that targeted the Golden King Bear's head failed to split its head.

"Hey! Don't use such a weak attack to cut off its head! Use all your remaining magic energy!" shouted one of the stealth slimes while gathering its magic energy to form a water ball with a sharp tip that aimed at the Golden King Bear's head.

"Feel every drop of my magic energy, you bastard Golden King Bear!"

"Water Lance!"

Swooosshhh...

Kaboommm...

With a scream filled with the fire of passion to kill its enemy, I could see one of the stealth slimes using all its remaining magic energy to cast a water magic that seemed to have a high level of destructive power.

Baamm!!

The shock from the Water Lance magic cast hit the Golden King Bear's head with pinpoint accuracy.

However... that still didn't make the Golden King Bear's head come off.

The Golden King Bear was still standing strong without any injuries.
