

Y. Goddess 142

Chapter 142 The Monarch Marks

My confident words had activated one of the blessings given by the Goddess Aurora.

The blessing that made me the leader of this stealth slime herd felt very awkward and embarrassed. If only my face were full of expressions, maybe right now I would be smiling shyly in front of Earl Timoti.

Earl Timoti who was paying his respects to me slowly got up after my hand signaled him to finish his respects to me.

"I hope they don't start a movement that will put the Aurora Kingdom in trouble," I said while drinking my cup of tea until it was finished.

I refilled the cup of warm tea by placing it near Sebastian who was standing not far from me.

With an authoritative attitude and full of politeness as a Butler, Sebastian seemed to know my intentions and goals when I handed him the empty cup.

"Does Lily-sama want to get tea with the same sugar concoction as Marquess Rommel?" asked Sebastian while accepting my empty cup.

"No need, I prefer the original taste of tea like the one served by Mio. Adding sugar or honey to the tea will ruin the natural flavor of the tea leaves," I replied to Sebastian.

Pyyuurrr...

Sebastian nodded and poured tea into my glass cup.

The movements made by Sebastian looked very dignified with his sturdy posture and old age that made him worthy of being a professional Butler based on the experience he had gained.

Speaking of experience, I immediately glanced at Earl Timoti and my father.

Compared to them, Sebastian looked much older than my father and Earl Timoti.

And that made me curious about one thing.

"Sebastian, I'm a little curious about one thing. Have you worked for the Marquess Rommel family since you were young?" I asked Sebastian who was pouring tea into my glass cup.

Pyyuurrr...

Hearing my question, Sebastian looked calm and smiled.

"I worked for Marquess Rommel from the generation before Lily-sama's father inherited his Marquess peerage. If we compare Lily-sama and Mio with myself and Lily-sama's father, then it can be said that Mio has the same working age range as me as one of the subjects working in the Marquess Rommel family. Even to understand Marquess Rommel's needs and learn what he liked when he was a teenager, it had given me a headache every time at that time, Lily-sama."

"Hey, I didn't cause problems all the time with my tastes changing now and then," replied my father who seemed to want to correct Sebastian's answer.

"Same as Mio? Does that mean Sebastian worked as my father's Exclusive Butler at that time?" I asked further.

"Yes, Lily-sama. At first, I was an Exclusive Butler who worked to fulfill the needs and carry out orders that Lily-sama's father wanted. Although every order and need of his felt very strange as a teenage boy at that time."

"I told you, I wasn't that weird in the past!" By giving a small touch to his fist that almost hit the table, my father seemed to be holding himself back from losing control after his strange youth was said by Sebastian.

Earl Timoti who had returned to his chair also looked awkward when my father was having difficulty controlling his emotions from the story of the past that Sebastian said in order to answer my curiosity.

I laughed after hearing this.

"You can tell me the details later, Sebastian," I said to save Sebastian from my father who was trying to cover up information about him in the past.

"Speaking of the past, was Earl Timoti also this close to my father before?" by throwing that question to Earl Timoti, I had done a service in saving Sebastian who was the target of my father's small anger.

"I only admire the greatness of Marquess Rommel in the past, more precisely admire his ferocity when fighting the royal family who at that time were still stubborn in their very old-fashioned stance in making a decision."

"Huh? What happened in the past?" I instantly managed to trigger one of the stories in the past that started to catch my attention.

"It can be said that Marquess Rommel and the royal family almost declared a territorial war to prove a truth that your father had said, Lily-sama."

I suddenly broke out in a cold sweat when I heard this and glared at my father.

"Father, you gave Sebastian a hard time in the past," I said to my father after hearing Earl Timoti's statement about my father almost going to war against the royal family.

"Lily, at that time, the royal family was degrading a woman who would later become the mother who gave birth to you. What man would remain silent when one of his beloved women was being degraded by the royal family!" my father shouted while clenching his fists and hitting the table that contained a topographic map and warm tea that warmed his body on a cold winter night.

Baamm!!

The loud bang made several wooden blocks on the topographic map fall.

"One of my beloved women, huh? That means there are still other women besides my mother," I replied while sipping a cup of warm tea that Sebastian had refilled.

"L-Lily... I-I just said something wrong. Not one of my beloved women but the only woman who is my heart's adorer!" my father denied further to correct his words.

"The only woman I love? I now feel sorry for Mama Amagi who seems to have lost her love confession from my father."

"Kuuhhrnn..." My father suddenly fell silent when he heard that comment from me.

"Why does it seem like I'm the wrong one? That's just a story from the past, Lily!" My father began to give up with his head down dejectedly after losing in this word game.

"It seems like you two are talking about something interesting," right behind my body, Mama and my twin step-sisters were standing. I had felt their presence but Earl Timoti's words made me forget about their presence who were walking closer.

"Welcome Mama, we were talking about Father's youth which seemed to be filled with endless problems," I said to greet Mama's arrival and put down the cup of tea that I was enjoying with every sip.

"You're already back, Lily? I guess this is much faster than I expected, considering the overflow of magical energy from that disgusting Golden King Bear. Did the hunt this time go smoothly thanks to the adventurers from the Capital of the Aurora Kingdom?" asked my mother while creating a chair for her to sit on from one of the object creation magics often used by the Great Heroes.

Swiirrlll ...

Paaamm ...

Ctaaakkk ...

By swinging one of her fingers until it made a snapping sound, my mother had created a simple chair made of soil for herself and my twin step-sister.

My mother's skill in casting fast and efficient magic was proven by my eyes which were unable to catch the remains of her magic formation that immediately disappeared into the air.

"Sebastian ..." I immediately glanced at Sebastian and let out a small glance containing a small message to prepare additional cups and glasses for my mother and my twin step-sister.

Sebastian immediately rushed off to get some additional cups and warm snacks that were suitable for the Marquess Rommel family then Earl Timoti and their personal troops who were still on duty guiding the adventurers out of the forest that was the hunting ground for the Golden King Bear.

After my mother and my twin step-sister sat on one of the chairs created by my mother. Their gazes never stopped on my head I was emitting a magic crown that indicated me as the leader in charge of the stealth slime herd.

Their intense gazes made my body feel uncomfortable.

To distract them, I removing the blessing given by the Goddess Aurora.

[The Blessing of the King of Stealth Slime has been deactivated!]

The magic crown that surrounded my head like an angel's halo disappeared. The golden yellow magic rays that disappeared made the atmosphere in the Golden King Bear hunting command center feel dim.

"Ahhh!!" My mother and my twin step-sister sister said the same thing at the same time.

Whether it was their curiosity that was the same or they were still connected by the same flesh and blood, their sad and disappointed facial expressions were visible in the same time.

"Lily, you like teasing Mama in this way. Does it feel that fun when you tease your Mama's curiosity like this?" said my mother with an expression filled with sadness and disappointment after the blessing given by the Goddess Aurora disappeared.

"I don't know what Mama talking about," I just put on a blank expression and acted as if I didn't understand what Mom was talking about.

"Hmmm... Lily..." Slowly, my mom got up from her seat and approached me. That made Alice and Alyssa also approach me with their facial expressions that matched perfectly.

"W-What? Ehh... why are you approaching me like this?" I started to have a bad feeling about this.

The facial expressions that looked like they wanted to prey on me because of their curiosity were very clear.

"M-Mom?"

"Alice?"

"Alyssa?"

I called the three of them while preparing to receive their attacks that would happen simultaneously.

"W-What are you all going to do?" I started to feel this bad feeling getting worse.

Squuiisshh...

Pooommm...

Paaamm...

"Huh? Alice... Alyssa??" I saw Alice and Alyssa locking my body movements with a light lock like a tight hug.

Meanwhile, my mother looked like she was moving her wavy fingers as if she wanted to tickle my body.

"D-Don't tell me you girls have colluded with Mama because of that one unimportant thing!" I shouted when I received a small attack given by my mother.

Gururuu...

Guuuuuuuuu...

"Ahhh!! Hahaha!! That's so ticklish, Mama!"

I accepted the attack given by my Mama. The movement of my Mama's fingers had made my body feel tortured and filled with laughter because of holding back the ticklish feeling from the movement of my Mama's hand that began to slowly rise to my breasts.

"W-Wait, Mama! You don't want to do it that far, do you?" I asked Mama with my eyes starting to fill with tears.

"If only Lily hadn't teased Mama, maybe the punishment wouldn't have come to this," with a small smile given by my Mama, I began to feel the small movement of my Mama's hand that began to explore the cleavage of my breasts.

"Haauuu..." I unconsciously let out a small moan and felt that what my Mama was doing was a sexual punishment that made me feel embarrassed in public.

"Ara~ Lily can moan with such a cute voice. So cute..."

With both my arms locked by Alice and Alyssa, I could only express my surrender to their persistent attitude.

"I-I surrender... So please let me go, Mama..." with my cleavage still getting a gentle touch from my Mama's fingers, I am surrender to Mama.

Without looking in a mirror, I could see myself who had a red blush all over my face.

Chuupp...

Chuupp...

By saying that I had surrendered, Alice and Alyssa released my arm lock from their embrace.

Alice and Alyssa kissed my cheeks as an apology because they were also curious about the blessing given by the Goddess Aurora to me.

In this embarrassment, I immediately used the blessing given by the Goddess Aurora to show it to Mama and my twin step-sisters.

[The Blessing of the King of Stealth Slime has been activated!]

[The Blessing of the Queen of Stealth Slime has been activated!]

Using these two blessings together, I have succeeded in satisfying the curiosity of Mama and my twin step-sisters.

[The Blessing of the Monarch of Holy Destruction has been activated and has succeeded in devouring the blessing of the 'King of Stealth Slime'!]

[The Monarch of Holy Destruction's blessing has been activated and successfully devoured the 'Queen of Stealth Slime' blessing!]

At that moment the notification appeared before my eyes, suddenly, I felt a huge surge of magical energy explode above my head and form a new magical crown.
