

Y. Goddess 158

Chapter 158 The Love Mark of a Dragon

After the morning, I got a surprise from a group of stealth slimes who were expecting to get their first assignment after becoming shadow soldiers working under my command. I felt a small annoying power that would soon keep me busy as I got older.

Becoming a Saintess... one of the Goddesses that is not generally known by mankind.

Becoming a Monarch of Holy Destruction.

And now becoming a Matriarch who controls the Marquess Rommel family.

All this power has made my head dizzy, especially with the group of stealth slimes who are currently acting as special forces under my command through the Soul Tame magic chant.

With my very busy condition like this, I began to divide the group of stealth slimes to carry out a noble task to infiltrate and carry out illegal spying on a noble family which is currently in my concern.

A family that seems to be spreading hostility but invites all the noble factions of the Aurora Kingdom Capital to celebrate the birthday of their twin son and daughter.

"This would be a tense noble party if I were to attend the party invitation," I muttered softly while looking at the sky that was slowly being illuminated by the sunlight that showed its beautiful blue color.

Accompanied by the sunlight that began to shine warmly hitting my body, I was now sitting relaxing in the gazebo with Hana, Ciel, and Sia.

Their duties as Saintess seemed to have been completed properly and correctly.

All the fatalities from the combined soldiers between Marquess Rommel and Earl Timoti had received their first aid without suffering any physical injuries that required serious special treatment.

The injuries suffered by our combined soldiers were only fatigued after waking up from the nightmare brought by the great magic outburst from the Golden King Bear.

"Is there a problem, Nee-sama?" asked Ciel while swinging her fox tail that was receiving a gentle caress from her hand.

On this cold morning, Ciel was a little troubled by her fox tail that had grown tall, spread out, and expanded like a lump of fat tail meat.

My mind that was flying thinking about an invitation to a noble party along with my responsibilities as the Matriarch of the Marquess Rommel noble family had brought me to a small murmur that caught Ciel's attention.

Her sensitive fox ears seemed to hear my small murmur clearly until all the attention of the Saintess girls who were enjoying their morning turned to me.

I just smiled and shook my head to quell their curiosity, but they keep pay close attention to me.

"It's okay, this is just a decision about me who has to make a decision to attend the noble party or not. Because my family's situation is now in a neutral condition without power from other factions. This will make my family's movements get full attention from various factions," while saying that, I looked like a woman who had not had time to rest from work for the past few days.

My physical body may look ordinary but the burden on my mind has been at its limit.

I feel like my head is ready to explode at any moment when I think about it.

"A noble party, huh? I think that's a good thing if you look at the actions of the noble himself," when my conversation had moved to something more serious, Hana replied by giving a soft smile on her face while her eyes seemed to be observing the movement of my lips.

Seeing her attitude, I felt a bad feeling and a good feeling at the same time.

The smile given by Hana seemed to indicate that she was targeting something related to my lips.

"Seeing the actions of the noble does sound good, I will convey this to the stealth slime group who are on duty to dig up information from the noble," I replied while looking at Hana with my warm smile to dampen the bad feeling that I was feeling.

"Lily, if I may ask. Which noble is trying to invite the Marquess Rommel family to attend their party?" asked Hana who looked like she was looking for information about the party invitation that my family received.

"I don't know the details but it's related to a noble family who had twin boys and girls," I replied while watching Hana's facial expression which now changed as if she was planning something.

"That noble family again? Aren't they a bit famous lately..." Through Hana's lip movements that were saying something through her small murmur, I unconsciously read her lip movements.

It seemed like there was too much information that I had to dig up after being isolated and on family vacation for too long.

Seeing Hana's response, it seemed like she knew about this noble family.

"It seems like that noble family is famous lately, is that true, Hana?" I asked while giving Hana a gentle smile and sneaking a conversation that stole information about the noble family.

"That's true, Lily..." replied Hana who didn't seem to realize that I was trying to direct the conversation to dig up information about the noble family.

"I can't even stand the behavior of that disgusting young man who always charms every girl he meets. Seeing his behavior like a cat eager to mate makes me feel disgusted to be approach by him..." Hana looked like she was angry about something with her hands clenched and hitting the gazebo table.

Buukk..

Buukkk...

The small impact made the gazebo table vibrate and showed Hana's facial expression which looked disturbed after talking about the young man who was my main topic.

"A young man who spreads charm to attract girls? If it was a male dragon who had just been born from a dragon egg, then he would get a traditional punishment to appreciate the behavior as a good and noble dragon race," said Sia who seemed to want to join in this conversation.

I didn't understand Sia's words a little but by looking at her facial expression which was filled with annoyance, it seemed that it was a racial behavior that should not be done.

"Umm? Does the entire dragon race have to be polite to every woman and not spread charm like this young nobleman?" asked Hana while tilting her head filled with curiosity.

"Yes, as a male dragon race. They are required to follow the dignity and code of ethics of the dragon race which must not bring down the dignity of the dragon race itself. Spreading charm is a despicable act that can get him expelled from the dragon race's residence," Sia answered while moving her dragon tail which seemed annoyed with something.

"Even though the old regulation that kills them is much better than expelling them. It's much better than seeing a half-dragon race that is combined with another race. It makes me feel sorry after they grow up without knowing that their dragon blood will have a big responsibility in the future," Sia said while adding important information that made my body shiver.

"Could it be... I also have to bear the same responsibility as that too?" I asked Sia.

My question seemed to have invited all eyes to look at me.

Hana, Ciel, and Sia seemed to give a look that seemed to be waiting for the continuation of my words which made them curious.

"What does that mean, Nee-sama?" asked Ciel who seemed very curious about the responsibility for the dragon race.

Sraagg...

I immediately stood up from one of the gazebo chairs and changed my appearance to become a dragon girl.

This sudden change made my head feel heavy after my head was decorated with black dragon horns that looked threatening.

My butt also felt ticklish after adding a small weight from my dragon tail that grew dangling with its hard scales.

Paamm... Paamm...

With this sudden change in my body, I almost tore my cosplay uniform and made my body look like a naughty girl who liked to show off my skin.

The dragon horns and tail that came out of my sudden body change, made Sia chuckle after seeing it.

"Ah, hasn't this cute Lily-chan carried out her responsibilities the same as us?" said Sia with her small laugh that invited Hana and Ciel's curiosity.

"The responsibility that Lily-chan bears is heavier than the responsibility that the dragon race has to guard... for example, guarding one of the cursed swords after she received a blessing from the Goddess of Destruction, wouldn't it be fair if Lily-chan at least shared the responsibility with me as a good... cute... lovely... little sister?" while saying that, Sia started to walk closer to me who was adjusting to my dragon girl transformation.

My body size which seemed to have changed drastically was triggered by my cosplay uniform that looked tight with the appearance of my fat dragon tail like this.

On this cold morning, I suddenly felt another warmth after my body was covered by hard dragon scales.

Sia began to circle my dragon tail together with her dragon tail, the friction of our scales touching each other looked like two dragon girls doing lewd touches on the sensitive parts of our dragon tails.

My dragon tail should have been protected from the touch that made my tail feel very strange and funny.

It felt like my dragon scales received a soft touch that made me feel a ticklish sensation that began to cover my entire body.

"Haaaaa ..." I accidentally let out a small moan that made Sia smile at me.

"It seems like you enjoy the soft touch of my dragon scales, Lily-chan," with a smile that looked like childish mischief, Sia let out a smile on her face that couldn't wait to tease me further.

Squishh ...

Squuiishh ...

Even though my dragon scales felt hard and collided with Sia's hard dragon scales too, it made my dragon skin feel more sensitive than before.

The friction of our dragon scales was like a soft sensitive skin that couldn't keep my mouth silent to hold back the strange and funny sound that slipped out from between my lips.

"Hnn... S-Sia..." I tried to whisper to Sia who started hugging my body and making her dragon horns touch my dragon horns.

Thudd...

Sruugg...

When our dragon horns touched each other, I could feel a vibration of sensual stimulation that made my lower body scream.

"Huumm... S-Sia..." My mouth started to tremble after feeling a funny ticklish sensation that filled my lower body.

Unlike the touch given by human skin between human skins, the touch of hard dragon skin made me enjoy the sensual touch on my sensitive dragon girl body like this even more.

"Lily-chan..."

I could hear a small whisper from Sia with her face position starting to get close to my lips.

"I want to ask Lily-chan."

"Does Lily-chan know how a dragon girl leaves a love mark on their mating partner?"

In my immobile position, my dragon tail and body were locked by Sia, I could only let out a small breath along with the sound of my moans starting to subside.

Twicchh...

"Uuhh... I-I don't know..." I replied while holding back the sound of my moans that looked like a perverted and naughty dragon girl.

When Sia's dragon tail's touch started to pull my dragon tail that was touching her dragon tail, I had a bad feeling about this.

"This is what an adult dragon girl should do to mark her love partner."

Choompp...

"Haaauukkk!!"

Without giving any signs of her sudden attack, I could feel a small bite coming from the tip of my very sensitive dragon tail.

Along with that small bite, I let out a moan that attracted all the attention in an open place like this.
