

Y. Goddess 159

Chapter 159 The Feeling of Being Fox Girls in Winter

Sia gave me a look of herself who couldn't stop her attitude that was marking my dragon's tail with a kiss that came from her soft lips.

Even though the tip of my tail received a soft kiss from her lips right above the tip of my hard dragon's tail scales, it couldn't free me from the strange and funny feeling.

Sia seemed not to care about the looks given by other people, especially to fellow Saintesses who gave her a look that wanted to separate me from her immediately.

It's just that...

That couldn't be done after Sia's dragon tail was tightly attached to my dragon's tail as if they were locking each other tightly.

"S-Sia..." I moan softly while calling Sia's name who was busy giving a soft kiss on her lips right at the tip of my dragon's tail.

"D-Do it slowly..." I said in a soft tone while holding back the sound of a moan that slowly came out loud from inside my mouth.

"I-I feel like my body won't be able to withstand the soft touch of your lips that are giving a sign of your love to the tip of my dragon's tail."

With my mouth starting to babble incoherently and holding back the moans that slowly leaked out of my mouth, I enjoyed every kiss until Sia's tongue licked the tip of my tail gently.

Without looking at a mirror to see my current condition, I could feel that this was a very embarrassing act that made my entire face covered in red.

The kisses and licks given by Sia lasted so long until they were stopped by Ciel who seemed unable to bear seeing me receive such embarrassing mental pressure.

"Sia, it seems like you've given enough of your affection to Nee-sama," said Ciel who now seemed to be separating my dragon tail from Sia's dragon tail which was tightly tied.

With a gentle touch from her warm hands, my dragon tail could be easily released from Sia's dragon tail which was tightly wrapped like a bundle of thread.

"Eehh... even though I still haven't given her a lick of my tongue that will make Lily-chan fly with pleasure and feel the funny tickles that will make her addicted," said Sia with a small protest while showing her pouting face after her dragon tail was separated from mine.

"That will put Nee-sama in trouble. Isn't that right, Nee-sama?" asked Ciel with a soft smile towards me.

I tried to calm my small breath which made a soft moan sound. In every small breath filled with shame, I could feel that my body felt something strange and funny at the same time.

The funny thing made my lower part feel wet until it made my underwear wet as if it was hit by the liquid coming from inside my underwear.

"T-This feels so funny and makes me feel embarrassed at the same time," I muttered a little while suppressing the embarrassment that was visible in my facial expression.

Ciel who had separated my dragon tail from Sia's dragon tail began to move her fox tail closer to my face which was filled with a blush and unbearable shame.

The small moan that came from my small breath was now slowly covered by my attitude which returned to normal.

"That was my first experience as a dragon girl who felt the bond of love from another dragon girl," I commented in a flat tone without showing my facial expression which had just felt a huge surge of shame.

"Really? Isn't that similar to what we did in the past?" replied Ciel while tilting her face.

"In the past?" now Hana began to enter the flow of conversation which sounded quite perverted and naughty.

"Did Lily do this too in the past?" with a nervous tone and as if wanting to get an answer that matched her expectations, Hana began to step forward approaching me who was having a small talk with Ciel.

Hana's expression on her face which looked flat and her radiant smile triggering my danger detection skill which suddenly activated. This dangerous feeling was directed at Hana who seemed to be flashing a flat smile and her pupils seemed to have lost their light.

"Ah, that was quite a long time ago for a human. For our race who is not bound by human age calculations. It seemed like a few years ago when Nee-sama was still a little girl who didn't know anything," Ciel said with her gaze starting to focus on me.

"Speaking of human lifespan... wouldn't it be better if Nee-sama turned into a fox girl so that I can give my love for my beloved Nee-sama that I respect..." Ciel began to approach my body with her breathless breath. Her pupils seemed to be filled with small winks and her breaths began to increase made me confused after facing her who looked like she wanted to hug on me.

"Nee-sama... quickly turn into a fox girl so that I can give my love to Nee-sama's fox tail too," with her breaths that were sighing like a fox girl who couldn't hold herself back anymore, Ciel seemed to be holding herself back from immediately pressing on me who was currently right in front of her eyes.

Ciel's actions made Hana also stare at my body with her dead pupils. Hana looked like a woman who had just lost her purpose in life and was currently in a state of chaotic thought.

Faced with a difficult choice like this, the time that passed around me felt like it slowed down.

I want to run away as much as possible from the situation that makes my body feel a constant danger.

What should I do with this?

Face Ciel, who is excited to give a sign of her love first, or calm Hana who looks like a girl who has lost her love?

I don't know which is more important!

Someone... help me!

"Nee-sama... can I see Nee-sama's form as a fox girl now?" Ciel asked while holding my palm tightly which began to feel the soft touch of her hand.

Ciel's fox tail expected me to turn into a fox girl immediately curled along with her tearful gaze.

"Nee-sama..." With her cheating that began to call me in a soft and affectionate tone, it made me have to fulfill Ciel's request no matter what happened even though there were obstacles that limited it.

"Tch!" right behind Ciel's body who was moving her fox tail that was curling and her eyes that were pleading with me. Hana looked like she had just let out a rude click of the tongue that a Saintess shouldn't have done.

Hana and Ciel's contradictory behavior made my danger detection ability scream even more, it was like a time bomb that was going to explode at any moment.

"Hey, don't be too obvious about showing your little jealousy. As Saintess, we must be able to control our jealousy and happiness as holy girls who were directly chosen by the Goddess we believe in," Sia whispered softly into my ear to control Hana's behavior that was about to explode, conveying her discomfort that began to be seen from the tremors of her small body.

Whether this was help given by Sia or luck was present in my life, I felt like I had just avoided a major conflict that occurred between Saintesses.

"Didn't we agree not to dominate our love for my cute little sister?"

"Can I assume that the agreement was just nonsense that had been agreed upon beforehand?"

With her small whisper that slipped the magic energy from her big dragon girl's magic core, it seemed that I heard information that I shouldn't have heard.

The overflow of magic energy that came from Sia's body looked like the overflow of the magic core of an adult dragon that could destroy a Royal Capital with just a dragon's roar and the breath of dragon fire that came out of its mouth.

Just by feeling the overflow of her magic energy that slipped out, I could feel that Sia's whisper was directed at Hana to obey the agreement that was made previously.

I don't know the agreement they made clearly, but if it was related to world peace that involved harmony between Saintesses. At least that could make me feel comfortable for a moment in living in this world.

Uhh... it felt like I was watching an adult dragon that almost destroyed Marquess Rommel's territory with her dragon's breath of fire.

Luckily, that didn't happen and Marquess Rommel's territory still stood tall.

"Nee-sama..."

When my thoughts were diverted to Sia and Hana who were suppressing something related to jealousy and the agreement between them, I was surprised by the appearance of Ciel's face that suddenly filled my entire view.

"Y-Yes, is there any problem, Ciel?" I asked her a stupid question. A question that didn't need an answer at all after her fox tail was wagging in my face.

Ciel's facial expression that was close to me suddenly changed into a frown quickly.

"Nee-sama..."

"Could it be that Nee-sama doesn't like her fox girl form anymore?" with a frowning facial expression like that, I felt a pain that penetrated my chest.

A pain that hurt the feelings of a Saintess and a fox girl who had given me a chance to enjoy the holy blessings of being a fox girl.

This made my heart feel the same pain.

It was like I felt a cruel rejection of my small request.

"Please don't make me look like that, Ciel," I replied with a small movement that showed my dragon horns that were changing into soft fox ears.

Twitch...

Twitch...

The movement of my fox ears which twitched and gave small movements like that got a positive response from Ciel.

Her gloomy face smiled again until it was radiant as if facing spring filled with happiness.

Speaking of the coming spring, it seems that I have to push my body to work even harder in dealing with every problem that is happening to my family.

Like fixing the damage to the main mansion until it becomes a decent place to live.

Looking again at the furniture that have been damaged because they were left neglected during the family vacation.

Even arranging the layout of the mansion with new suitable furniture.

That will make me look like a very busy girl.

"Huft ..." with my small mutter that shows my fatigue that is starting to pile up as a burden on my mind, I try to enjoy small moments of relaxed togetherness like this as my free time to rest.

Slowly, my body which was originally a dragon girl has now changed into a fox girl who has just woken up in this winter.

My thick fox tail and fox ears feel very heavy when they come into contact with the strange winter air.

"Ciel, is it just my feeling or does my fox tail feel strange," I said while moving my fox tail which felt strange and heavy when it came into contact with the winter air in the morning.

"Nee-sama, that's what I feel every winter. The winter air always makes the fox girl's body feel strange and uncomfortable. But that's also what keeps Nee-sama's body warm too, right?" Ciel replied with a soft smile on her face.

"Just think of Nee-sama wearing a very thick warm coat in winter," Ciel continued with a smile on her face that started to get closer until she licked my face.

Slurrpp...

"Nee-sama..."

Through those soft words, I felt that Ciel would do something perverted and naughty like what Sia did.
